A certain Collegiate principal we know, is wont to say, when solicited for news by reporters, that he has no news, and is glad of it — adding, that when everything is running smoothly and satisfactorily in his school, there is nothing in the shape of news—nothing for publication. The Canadian West, taking Winnipeg as a standard, according to this theory, is getting on well. There is no burning question engaging the attention of the newspapers. The resident western editor of the Globe, Mr. Acland, in his last article, given from Winnipeg, calls attention to this condition. Taking one day's issues of the newspapers of the occidental capital, he points out that their leading articles deal with extraneous questions, such as an article on China, the New York elections, etc.—comparatively trivial matters to the hustling westerners. Therefore, it is argued, that there is nothing to disturb the serenity of the west. It is busy making money, or making a living, or selling its wheat. The returns for this year's wheat crop are coming in handsomely, and the Winnipeg banks are busy collecting and distributing the cash equivalent of the wheat crop, to the stimulation of the various froms of commercial activity from one end to another of the great west. The wheat crop of this year amounts to between eighty and ninety millions of bushels, somewhat below some of the optimistic estimates — that of Premier Roblin, who placed the quantity available for export this year at one hundred and twenty-five millions. It is asserted that a rash estimate like this from a man occupying a supposed position to mark his estimate respected, has resulted in a depreciation of prices, which will represent a loss of several cents per bushel to each Manitoba farmer.

IT IS NEEDED

One of the often-repeated charges brought against the Liberal administration of Canada is that it has increased the public expenditure in a somewhat reckless and, of course unnecessary manner. It is true that the national expenditure has increased, but that it has been increased in greater ratio than the growing needs of this growing country demanded is not so self-vident. If the expenditure has been increased to legitimately meet the requirements of the country, no fault can be found. In the past ten or a dozen years Canada has grown with unprecedented activity. Necessarily the national interests demanded that the national expenditure should be advanced to meet the conditions. The increase in the civic expenditure of Peterborough has greatly increased in the past few years simply because the city has grown, and its needs proportionately. Those who criticise the growing expenditure of the Dominion might be invited to consider the fact that the increase in national expenditure in the United States has increased five times more than a similar expenditure in Canada. For the year ending June, 1907, the expenditure of the United States will be sixty millions greater than last year. There seems to be no cause for alarm. Canada is growing in development, revenue and expenditure, the last, naturally and properly, to the end that the growth in development of our immense national resources may not be checked. So long as the increase of the national expenditure is made to have a reasonable ratio to the demands of the country, it is quite justifiable and defensible.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Municipal ownership and municipal control of public utilities can only succeed with municipal ownership and control of municipal officers. Exploitation of franchises to the undue profit of individuals or corporations would be no greater evil than reckless management and "graft" by municipal officers.

We are not apt to regard the great Thunderer — the London Times — to be, in the argot of the day, very much "up-to-date," but it shows a knowledge of conditions in the United States, which is perhaps greater than would be expected at the distance. Referring to the rabid reign of plutocratic conditions, and their danger, the Times says:—"It is the monstrous and ostentatious employment of money as an engine of oppression and wrong among a people who are intelligent and devoted to freedom which alone made the career of Hearst possible, and which assuredly will make the career of him, or another of his kind, one day successful, unless the unmitigated sway and flagrant worship of the dollar be checked."

Conservative journals made much of the charge that Mr. Lamont, a Liberal member of the Saskatchewan Legislature, holds his seat by a technicality, inasmuch as the suit entered against his return was voided by the Supreme Court on the grounds that the provisions of the controverted election ordinances of the old Northwest Territories are not in effect. Now, Mr. Haultain himself is resorting to a similar plea. He submits that the court should not unseat him, because the court has no jurisdiction. If it is wrong, as urged by the Conservatives, for Mr. Lamont to hold his seat by a technicality, is it not also wrong for Mr. Haultain to set up a plea of immunity from unseating upon a like technicality?

Halifax Soldier's Re-inforcement

Takes an Interest in an Old Soldier.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—On reading your valuable paper, I was sorry to read of the destitute circumstances of an old soldier. I noticed as I read that he had 27 years service. Now, if his service has been continuous, what has become of his pension? Now no matter what his rank may have been, the least he should get drawing is 1 shilling and 4 pence per diem. Moreover, if he put himself in communication with the pension commissioners, at Cheelsea, England, he would find out, that all old pensioners unable to earn a livelihood through old age or infirmities, receive an increase of pension. The increase came under the latest pay warrant allowance.

Hoping these few words may be helpful to an old soldier, I remain,

Yours,
J. Mackness, Sergt.,

GOT A PAIN IN YOUR BACK?

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. You perhaps pay no attention to it. Backache is caused by imperfect action of the kidneys, in fact, is the first sign of kidney trouble to follow.

The kidneys, proper, are composed of a close network of fibrous tissue, interlaced with tiny elastic fibres. Their object is the excretion of the uric acid, and other poisonous matter composing the urine, from the blood.

They are continuously at work to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of kidney trouble, but do not suspect it.

Some of the symptoms are: A feeling of weakness in the small of the back, sharp pains in back, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the feet and ankles, urinary troubles such as supressed urination, excessive urination, cloudy, thick or highly colored urine, etc.

Mr. J. L. Whiting, Osnabruck Centre, Ont., writes: "I suffered for two years with kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back, hips and legs. I could not sleep and had a poor appetite. I took four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the pains left me, my appetite returned and I now sleep well. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Complicated Derangements

OF LIVER AND KIDNEYS BROUGHT THIS MAN ALMOST ENDLESS SUFFERING, BUT CURE CAME WITH USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

By following the advice of Mr. Wilson, the writer of this letter, many a man and many a woman has been saved from suffering, and the dreadful fatality of diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Mr. John Wilson, a retired carpenter, who has lived in Welland, Ont., for thirty years, writes: — "Some years ago I was attacked with kidney trouble and I became so run down and emaciated that my entire appearance was suggestive of physical decline. As time went on the complaint grew worse and became complicated with liver trouble. I had had pains across the back and up the spinal column, had bad spells with my heart, pain under the right shoulder, bilious headache about half the time, indigestion, fever and restlessness at night, and depression of spirits.

"At times I was incapacitated for work and had spent probably one hundred dollars in different medicines, with no perceivable results. Doctors' advice proved likewise of no avail.

Finally on the advice of a friend I began taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and in a short time the bad symptoms began to disappear and by the time I had used five or six boxes I was enjoying better health than I had in many years, all of which is due to the virtues of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills.

"Since my recovery I have advised others to profit by my experience. Some have done so and are well, while others did not and have succumbed to this dreadful disease. I am a living witness to the value of this great medicine, and I am full of enthusiasm in imparting the good news to others who are afflicted as I was."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure the most complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys because of their direct and combined action on these filtering organs. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Judge Colter Clears Character of Mr. W. F. Hepburn.

THE CASE'S PECULIARITIES

Orwell Hotelkeeper's Appeal Dismissed With Costs—Trial Delayed Till After Nomination for Political Effect —Apparent Collusion to Besmirch Hepburn's Reputation —Judge Says It Was a Plot.

St. Thomas, Nov. 9.—David Butler, hotelkeeper Orwell, came before Judge Colte. at the Court House Wednesday afternoon. It will be remembered that the defendant, Butler, was charged with violation of the liquor license act, the offence alleged having been committed on August 12th last. The trial took place in Aylmer on September 29th before County Police Magistrate Hunt, who, after hearing the evidence, found Mr. Butler guilty of keeping a disorderly house and fined him $50 and costs and ordered his license to be cancelled.

Messrs. J. Haverson, K.C., of Toronto, and E. C. Sanders appeared for the appellant; W. K. Cameron for Inspector Andrews and the Police Magistrate.

After hearing argument the Judge called Inspector Andrews and asked him a number of questions. The inspector said he received the information about August 15th, and subpoenaed Mr. Hepburn when he was coming out of the rink at Aylmer, the day of the nomination. He had tried to summon Mrs. Gilroy and Mrs. Stringer, the women in the case, but had not seen either.

The Judgment.

Judge Colter said the case was a very peculair one; he had never heard anything like it or heard anything to approach it in all his experience. "On the evening in question," said the Judge, "W. F. Hepburn, the Liberal candidate for East Elgin, arrived at Butler's hotel about 6.30, got his supper, and asked for and got a room for the night, retiring, as he claimed, about 9 p.m. During the day he had been canvassing around Orwell and organizing that district of the county, and when night came he decided to stop at Butler's. Hepburn claimed that he never saw Mrs. Stringer, and only saw Mrs. Gilroy once and denies emphatically being guilty of any immoral conduct. The next morning he saw through his bedroom window two women going away from the hotel, and that is all he knew of them until approached by Butler, who said that he was in trouble, as two disorderly women had stopped at his hotel and he was to be summoned."

Evidence Reviewed.

The Judge went over the evidence, which showed that Mr. Hepburn had told Butler to go to Mr. Boughner, a leading Conservative, which he did, making a statement as to what had occurred that night, implicating Mr Hepburn with the two women, and saying that unless Hepburn gave him $500 he would connect Hepburn's name with the two women. The Judge pointed out that at this time there was a charge pending against Butler for keeping a disorderly house, and that he had no doubt the women were in the hotel that night, but without Hepburn's knowledge. The Judge said that it was a most unusual thing for a man like Butler to make such a statement as he did to Mr. Boughner as to disorderly women being in his hotel, thus convicting himself on his own evidence. The whole story, said the Judge, was aimed at Hepburn, and every allegation rested on Butler's evidence; "only in this case," said the Judge, "these injurious assertions, which were made by Butler, against Hepburn, if they rested on the evidence of the two people alone, and if the two people were equally credible, I would be bound to hold that Butler's assertions were not proved; but as a matter of fact Hepburn's position was evidently a much better one than Butler's, one of much responsibility and much more honor, and one in which much more honor is reposed, and I am bound to find as a fact that these assertions which implicated Hepburn in these transactions are not proved."

Butler Paid By Someone.

The Judge went on to say that he did not believe Butler made the statement he did without financial remuneration. He believed he was paid by some persons of very low condition. Butler connected the names of Mr. Marshall and Mr. Brower with the transaction simply to bluff Hepburn into paying him $500, and that payment was to be used as an evidence against him.

"I am further of the opinion that these two women were brought to that hotel that night at the instance of Butler himself, and in furtherance of the plot. The home of Mrs. Stringer is in Aylmer, less than three miles from Butler's hotel. It is highly improbable that she would leave her home at 9 o'clock at night and come with Mrs. Gilroy to Butler's unless she was sent for. I believe that these women were brought there that night for immoral purposes, but that no immorality took place between them and Hepburn. If this case had been investigated promptly, as it should have been, we might have had a great deal of light thrown upon this point. There was no valid excuse for delay, except to procure the retaining of the story for political effect, and the timing of the trial between nomination and election, when it would be likely to do Hepburn the most injury, was wholly unjustifiable.

Appeal Dismissed With Costs.

"The police magistrate has found that the defendant was a licensed hotelkeeper and kept a disorderly house. I shall not disturb that finding, though my conclusion is arrived at somewhat differently. I find that the defendant permitted drunkenness on his premises, and was instrumental in bringing there women of dissolute character for immoral purposes, and that he, therefore, kept a disorderly house. I, therefore, affirm the conviction, with costs.

"I put these grounds forth, and they are the only grounds, in order that in the event of an appeal the court above may know whether my grounds are sufficient or not. If my grounds are not sufficient, then I want him to have the full benefit of the finding in that respect."

Counsel for defendant have decided to appeal to the Divisional Court against Judge Colter's decision.

MR. HYMAN'S INTENTION.

Report of His Resignation Officially Denied—Friends Favor an Appeal to the Electors of London.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—(Globe Special.)—An official denial was given last night to a report that Hon. C. S. Hyman had resigned.

The report thus denied was credited by those making the inquiries to The HON. CHARLES HYMAN.

Globe. What this paper said, however, was that Mr. Hyman would shortly according to current rumor, resign his seat.

So far Mr. Hyman has not resigned from the Government nor given up his seat in the House. His friends favor his taking the latter course, so that he may go back to the electors of London for endorsation in a fair and honest fight.

Mr. Hyman returned from New York at mid-day.

Hon. Mr. Fielding Present.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Bankers' Association was held yesterday in the Bank of Commerce, and was attended by from twenty to thirty general managers. The president, E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, was in the chair. Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, was present and addressed the gathering. There was a discussion of certain changes desired in the Banking Act, and many points on the matter were laid before the Minister of Finance. It is understood that the association will shortly have a conference at Ottawa. Mr. Fielding said during the day that his presence at the meeting of the association was to do honor to J. M. Courtney, the recently retired deputy Minister of Finance.

SURPRISE
A PURE HARD SOAP

SOME PEOPLE WASH FLANNELS with common laundry soap. The rubbing and boiling to get the dirt out makes all the wool fibres contract, and the flannel shrinks until much smaller each way.

When you use "SURPRISE" Soap it isn't necessary to boil or rub hard. "SURPRISE" loosens up the dirt so that it drops right out. The flannel doesn't have any excuse for shrinking.

Everybody who dreads washday should try "SURPRISE" Soap. It doesn't cost any more than common soap.

Teacher Training Class To Be Established Here

A Result of Sunday School Association Held Last Night

Reports of Ontario Convention at Kingston Were Presented—Some New Departures in Sunday School Work.

Reports from the Peterborough delegates to the Ontario Provincial Sunday school convention, held at Kingston last month, were presented last night in the Y. M. C. A. parlours. The meeting was fairly well attended by an interested audience, composed principally of Sunday school superintendents, and teachers from various schools in the city, and was a successful gathering in every respect.

The delegates from the city to Kingston, were Rev. A. Bright, and Mr. William Madill, and from the county, Mr. Richard Lees, P.S.I.

The various reports given showed gratifying results in Sunday school work all over the continent. The chief subject discussed at the large convention was the duties of the teacher towards their pupils. An important decision arrived at was the appointment of a secretary over the missionary work in the Northwest, and for this purpose the convention subscribed a considerable sum of money.

Last night's meeting was attended by good results, the Sunday school association approving of the organization of a Teachers' Training Class in the city, and appointing a committee to superintend the organization.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Richard Lees, and after devotional exercises conducted by the chairman and Rev. A. Bright, Mr. Madill was called upon to give his report of the addresses of a number of the speakers at the convention in Kingston.

Mr. Madill's report stated that the convention met on October 23rd, 24th and 25th. The first session opened on Tuesday afternoon, with devotional exercises by Rev. W. Frizzell. In the course of the president's remarks, he said "The children of to-day are the men and women of to-morrow." Never was the time so opportune for evangelistic work in the Sunday school, as to-day, and individual dealing with the pupil, and more definiteness in teaching, should be the object of every teacher. The teacher should look not so much for the good they do as the evil they prevent, was another remark of the president.

At this session the new teacher training secretary, Mr. H. W. Brown, B.A., was introduced to the convention. Mr. Brown is a successor to Mr. E. A. Hardy, B.A., who filled the position for three years.

The last half of the session was taken up with the address of Rev. W. C. Merritt, International Field Worker, Tacoma, Washington, on the "Sunday school teacher's vision." He dealt with four topics, "What do we see in Christ?" "What do we see in the Bible?" thirdly, "What do we see in the Boy?" and advocated that every boy and girl should have his or her own Bible in the Sunday school. "Too often," the speaker had remarked, "we see nothing in the boy but one thousand nerves to keep him moving, and not one to keep him quiet."

Another question dealt with, was, "What do you see in work for yourself?"

At the evening session an address of welcome was given by Mr. T. F. Harrison of Kingston. He referred to the unique fact that fifty years ago, October 25th, some Christian workers had gathered together in Kingston, and had organized the Sunday school Association, on the same spot as the convention was then being held. He also stated that a number present at the inauguration were also present that night.

An address was then given by Miss Mary Foster Bryner, International Field Worker, of Peoria, Ill., on "The Child we Teach." She divided the boy's life from birth to when he became a man, into three sections—1 to 7, 7 to 14, and 14 to 21.

The executive committee strongly recommended the extension of the work for the coming year, viz., Placing on the field a paid Primary Secretary for this province, and to honour a very urgent appeal from the Provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, to do some missionary work by placing a travelling secretary in the field to cover these new provinces, for the organization and development of Sunday school work in the great Northwest. The convention adopted the recommendation and there was immediately subscribed some $1600. Altogether $4000 is needed, and it was urged that every school assist the Provincial Association to aid in this good work.

On Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa, gave an address on "The Child in the Midst." "Every Sunday school teacher," he said, "should study the Bible and how to teach and study the child. This is the greatest work the teacher could do, and it should be carefully attended to."

Rev. Canon Greene of Orillia, then spoke of "The Promotion of Bible Study in the Homes of the People," and stated that this practice was very sadly neglected,' and the Bible was not given its proper place in the home. The world was leading the church into ways that were doubtful, and the need of the family altar was never greater than it was to-day. He made a strong appeal to the taching of the Bible in the public schools, and said it should be placed there as one of the text books.

On Thursday evening at the closing session Rev. Dr. Potts gave a most interesting address on "The Twentieth Century Sunday School Ideals." He said the Sunday School must keep time to the music of the twentieth century. Never was the Sunday School better organized for successful work than at present. He believed, however, that the missionary spirit should be cultivated more fully in the schools. He advocated that all monies contributed by the school should go to missions, and that the congregation pay all running expenses. He also stated that the superintendent officers and teachers should be total abstainers, and that temperance should be frequently taught.

There was a strong sentiment frequently expressed in the convention that the life and conduct of the teacher in every-day life had a powerful influence over the child. "The pupil reads clearly the life of the teacher and is influenced thereby."

Scarcity of Pastors

Mr. Lees followed next with an address on the general work of the convention. He would have been glad to see a larger representation from Peterborough at the convention. He referred, before proceeding, to the scarcity of ministers at the meeting last night, and considered it was just as much their duty to attend as it was for them to be present in their pulpits on Sunday.

It was discovered at the convention that the work of the Sunday School was more important than the preaching from the pulpit, and stated as proof that more than 80 per cent. of the ministers of the gospel were brought to Christ before they were 16 years of age.

He referred to the addresses at Kingston of Rev. Dr. Schoudler, of New York, a famous Sunday School worker of America. One of his talks was upon "What to Teach." During his remarks the doctor held up the Bible as the first and important thing to teach. Our study of the Bible under the present conditions was microscopic and he believed that the whole book should be taught so that the pupils would get a broader view of it.

By black-board illustrations, Mr. Lees vividly reproduced Dr. Schauffler's system of locating the time of the important incidents of Biblical history by dividing the history into periods marked by the lives of the great and prominent men of the early ages.

In referring to the question, "How to Teach," Dr. Schauffler had advocated the use of black-board or paper in the teaching of the smaller pupils. Their attention is immediately commanded, he had remarked, as soon as the teacher began to make marks on a board or paper.

Dr. Schauffler next spoke on "Who to Teach." Our privileges and our work were the greatest which had fallen to the lot of anyone, and great care should be taken in the moulding of the plastic minds of the children. They are imaginative and resourceful. All children are affectionate, and it was a good thing to appeal to their affections and lead them to love their teachers and the opinions which they hold.

Teacher-Training Problem

Mr. Lees also referred to the teacher training movement which is gradually expanding throughout the country. He believed that in each Sunday School a teacher training class should be organized, and advocated the organization of some scheme in the city to propagate this idea.

Pastor and Sunday School

Rev. A. Bright was the last speaker, and based his remarks principally on the relation of the pastor to the Sunday School. Mr. Bright considered that the pastor should be present at the Sunday School if possible, but did not believe he should have a special class to teach. He thought that the pastor could not do better work for the Master than to come in contact with all the young people of the Sunday School, which is the proper place for him and pupil to come together. By acting as a substitute teacher, he meets with all the young people of the church, and believed there was a great lack of sociability in the church to-day which might be remedied if the pastor took a greater interest in the work of the Sunday School. He thought that the pastor should take part in the opening and closing of the school and assist in the questioning, etc., of the scholars. It was the duty of the pastor, he said, to bring out before the church the great necessity of the assistance of the latter in the work of the Sunday School. He should also take an interest in the teacher training problem and gain by experience a knowledge of the work which is being conducted. He should assist the work, too, by systematic advertising, in placing before the congregation the Sunday School question. Sometimes the pastor could come in touch with the young people by inviting them to his home and thus show the interest taken in their welfare.

Training Class Organized

Some discussion followed of the lines of the teacher training class, and a motion was made by Mr. Madill that the meeting approve of the organization of a Central Teachers' Training Class. Rev. J. G. Potter believed that the forming of the class would be to the best interests of the work, and seconded Mr. Madill's motion. Sheriff Hall also spoke upon the advisability of forming the class. The motion carried, and a committee, consisting of the following, was appointed to look after the organization of the class: Mr. R. J. Kidd, Mr. R. Lees, Sheriff Hall and Mr. Riddon.

Mr. T. Robinson was elected as the new secretary of the Sunday School Association of the city.

Haliburton Has A Rich Mineral Deposit

Iron Ore Found There In Snowden Township—Near the Irondale and Bancroft Railway.

That the County of Haliburton contained mineral deposits is a fact known to many Peterborough men, but the outside world is now apprised of its existence. The Toronto Globe to-day contains the following article:

A new discovery of iron ore has been made in Snowden township, in the Haliburton district. The ore is maguitite, and the body is 150 feet wide. It is only about three-quarters of a mile from the Irondale & Bancroft Railway, so that there will be very little difficulty in shipping the ore once mining operations are commenced. There are a number of working iron mines in the Haliburton district, but the new find is the largest body of ore yet discovered there.

Mr. Wm. Robinson, of Bobcaygeon, who was at the Parliament buildings yesterday, has staked the claim and put in a formal application for a mining lease of the property which was originally taken up as agricultural land.

WEDDING BELLS

DAFOE—WALSH

The George Street Methodist parsonage was the scene of a pretty wedding last night, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Lila Walsh, formerly of Fereleigh Falls, was united in marriage to Mr. Homer Dafoe, son of the late Mr. Dafoe, of Norwood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Crothers in the presence of a few friends of the bride and groom. Miss Maggie Dafoe, a sister of the groom, attended the bride, while Mr. Kirk assisted the groom. The bride's costume was of lady's cloth, with hat to match, and the bridesmaid wore white cashmere. Many beautiful presents to the young couple testified to their popularity.

They left last night on the 9 o'clock train for Toronto. They will return this evening and be given a reception at the home of Mr. T. A. Sinclair, Bolivar street, where they will make their future home. Among the guests from out of the city at the reception will be Messrs. Reginald and Wilfrid McMullen, of Dunsford, cousins of the bride.

Dear Sir,—In last night's issue of your paper, I noticed a letter regarding the Dan Spence Ambulance. Now, would it not be better to have same kept, either at the Hospital or fire hall, I do not think the undertakers are the proper people to handle it. Should there ever be any sickness in my house necessitating the use of the ambuulance, the undertakers are the last people I wish to see there.

Informal Farewell At Club Rooms To Dr. Coughlin

Conservatives Said Good-bye to the Doctor on His Departure for Belleville, Where He Will Soon Be Installed.

Last evening a large number of Conservatives gathered in their Club Rooms to say farewell to Dr. Coughlin, one of their stauncnest members. Dr. Coughlin has been placed in charge of the Belleville Deaf Mute Asylum which position he will assume in a short time. That the doctor is well liked by local Conservatives was evidenced by the good feelings displayed on all sides and by the hearty applause that followed the various speeches. Mr. Bradburn, M. P.P., Mr. Kendry, Mr. Burnham and in fact all the officers of the local Club were present. Mr. Burnham, president of the Club opened the meeting. He referred to the good work done by Dr. Coughlin during his long political career. On two occasions he had represented the Conservative party, in an election contest, and although unsuccessful still he had put up a plucky fight and had surpassed even the most sanguine hopes of the optimistic Conservatives in that riding. While in Peterborough he had increased his popularity and made many new friends. Mr. Whitney had spoken strongly in the doctor's favour as a friend and as a fellow partizan. The main purpose of the local Conservative Club was to promote kinship and friendship among the members, and this was a splendid opportunity of fulfilling those ends. Mr. Burnham expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity of congratulating Dr. Coughlin on his appointment, but was sorry to see him leave the city. Mr. Bradburn endorsed Mr. Burnham's statements. Mr. Jas. Kendry also referred to Dr. Coughlin's departure. That this riding would feel his loss was an undoubted fact. However, he felt sure that the general public would be the gainer by his ability. He was confident that he would be a credit to the institution and keep it apace with the times. Col. Miller likewise referred to Dr. Coughlin's staunch support on many occasions, how he had remained steadfast in the cause when the Conservative party was floundering along in a very weak condition. He was sorry to hear of the doctor's departure, but it was for his own interest.

Mr. Doble of the Review, and Mr. John Lynch were both heard from. Mr. VanBlaricom also spoke of the good work that the doctor had done in the west, and of the great sacrifices which he had made in the Conservative cause.

Mr. Edgar reiterated the sentiments of his fellow politicians. It was then moved by Mr. T. Wilson and seconded by Mr. Edgar, that the Club endorse the appointment by Premier Whitney of Dr. Coughlin to his new position. This was carried.

Dr. Coughlin, who was warmly received, modestly expressed his deep appreciation of all the kind words that his co-politicians had said of him and for him throughout the province. Like the old Greek he was running the risk of being overcome by kindnesses. He said that if he had been rewarded for his services to the party he had always acted honestly. However, the little he had done was not deserving of such praises as had been said of him. He said he intended to strive to show Mr. Whitney that his confidence had not been misplaced. He was hopeful that he could capably fill the position and the time would come when he would show all adverse critics that their opinions had been groundless. He was fairly equipped from an educational standpoint to take the position and he intended to give satisfaction. He was down and out now as far as an active interest in politics was concerned, however, he still had his vote. He hoped to see old friends at his home when any of them chance on a visit to Belleville. He thanked all again for their thoughtfulness and kindness and assured them he would not soon forget them.

Mr. Coleman sang two comic songs during the evening and Mr. Runnet recited. Both were well received. Mr. Chas. Peters pleased the audience with a song entitled "Dot Leetle German Band."

The evening was brought to a close by all singing the National Anthem.

Local Branch Home Circle Hold Delightful Concert

Foresters' Hall was Overcrowded —Mr. Foster, Supreme Secretary Home Circles, Gave an Address.

The concert held last night in the Foresters' Hall, under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, was an unqualified success. The entertainment consisted of a musical and literary programme, and was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present, which necessitated the enlargement of the seating capacity.

The feature of the evening was the address of Mr. J. M. Foster, of Toronto, Supreme Secretary of Canadian Order Home Circles. He gave a very interesting talk in connection with the work of the Order, which demonstrated that the work was progressing steadily. He gave assurance of still greater results for the future and complimented the local branch on their successful labours.

Mr. Foster is a speaker of good presence, fluent and impressive, and his presence was greatly appreciated.

The chair was occupied by Sergeant-Major Brittain, treasurer of the local branch, and he introduced the following programme by a few suitable remarks:

Dialogue — "Three Smart Girls." Miss Kitney and friends.
Song—Mr. Campbell.
Recitation—Mr. Runnett.
Song—Mrs. Rehill.
Reading—Mrs. Thomas.
Song—Mr. Campbell.
Dialogue—"Hon. Mrs. Juskell Didn't Have a Look," Mrs. Thomas and friends.
Address—Bro. Foster, S. S.
"God Save the King."

At the conclusion of this programme refreshments were served by the ladies, after which the delightful evening was brought to a close.

OBITUARY

ZELLA MARIE GRAHAM

The death occurred yesterday of Zella Marie, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Graham, aged ten days. The funeral was held today, at 4 o'clock, from the family home, 95 Westcott street, to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

WILLIAM RITCHIE

Mr. Martin Connors left Peterborough this evening at 5.10 for Brookings, South Dakota, where his brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Ritchie, passed away on Wednesday. Mr. Ritchie was well known in Peterborough and was visiting his sister, Mrs. Connors here two weeks ago. Mrs. Connors accompanied her brother to Brookings on a visit. He took suddenly ill on Monday night just after arriving home and grew steadily worse until his death took place.

Mr. J. J. Jeffries, B.A., To Teach In Toronto Institute

Has Accepted Position on Staff of Jarvis St. Collegiate Institute.

The Examiner some time ago made mention of a position proferred to Mr. J. J. Jeffries, B. A., of the local Collegiate Institute. The position is that of English Master in the Jarvis street Collegiate institute, and is a very important one.

To-day Mr. Jeffries announced that he has accepted it, and at the end of the present term will go to Toronto to assume the position.

The Examiner wishes to congratulate Mr. Jeffries on his promotion, for it is, in every sense, a promotion for him. The school is one of the largest and best equipped Collegiates in the Dominion, and requires for every branch of teaching only the most educated men, and the most successful teachers. In his long experience of seventeen years, in this city, Mr. Jeffries has given sufficient evidence of his general ability in school work, to procure for him this position. A good school is determined by good teachers, and Mr. Jeffries is one of those who has helped make the local Collegiate renowned throughout the province for the excellent work it has done. Mr. Jeffries has always taken a deep interest in the pupils' welfare, and it may be said that it was he who instituted and fostered the Philomatean Society, which has done so much in promoting oratory and literary culture among the pupils. He was also instrumental in elevating the moral element of the Institute. Mr. Jeffries is, moreover, what might be termed, a general utility man—one who may be depended upon to fill a vacancy at any moment. The Jarvis street school is about to receive a teacher whose place will be hard to fill on the local staff.

Mr. Jeffries will have a greater field for self-education and it is expected he will make his mark in the Queen city, as he has done here.

Many societies are indebted to him for lectures given at various times on literary subjects, and one and all will unite in wishing him a successful career in the City of Colleges.—Toronto.

DRASTIC REBATING MEASURE

Free Hand Regarding Investments Asked For—Commissions to Agents Freely Discussed — How Rebating Has Grown—Publicity of Commission's Doings Has Had Effect of Increasing the Evil.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Recommendations looking to the cure of the insurance ills that afflict Canada were submitted to the Royal Commission on Insurance by members of the Life Insurance Underwriters' Association yesterday. These include:

Drastic measure to suppress rebating.

Publicity.

That insurance agents be certificated.

That legislation be not passed to restrict the volume of business.

Backing up these recommendations were H. C. Cox and W. S. Milne of Toronto; A. S. McGregor of London; J. W. Reid, T. J. Parks and J. H. Simpson of Montreal, and R. H. Haycock of Ottawa.

Commissions.

H. C. Cox of Toronto was called in the afternoon, the aim being to establish the average amount of commission received by the average agent. Mr. Cox is general agent of the Canada Life in Ontario, east of Toronto.

The witness stated that $800 a year, as stated before the Armstrong committee, was about the average income of an agent. A man who wrote $100,000 yearly was a fair man. Unless an agent wrote more than $50,000 he could not devote all his time to the business.

The agent pays all expenses for private telephones, postage, telegrams, cars and railways, hotels and sundries. The $800 was the average net income, although he would get $1,500 by writing $100,000.

Rebates.

Mr. Tilley: How much of this commission does the ordinary agent have to give in rebates?

"Roughly speaking, a third."

Mr. Kent: And if the rebating is not stopped I suppose he will soon have to give away all his commission?

"It's getting worse all the time."

Mr. Langmuir: Do not your agents get commissions on renewals?

"Yes."

"How much is this?"

From 2 1-2 to 5 per cent."

Mr. Tilley: What volume in that way would an agent get on his books in a period of say ten years?

"Anywhere from $1,000 to $30,000 or $40,000."

Mr. Langmuir: If agents bring in mortgages for investment, I suppose they get a commission?

"I think so. That comes under the investment department."

Fruitful Source of Rebating.

T. J. Parks of Montreal explained that when an agent was in a district he could not definitely increase his new business annually. He had to roll up an increasing renewal income in order to increase his yearly salary.

Mr. Kent. And I suppose that the desire to roll up this renewal income is a fruitful source of rebating.

Mr. Reid said that an impetus had been given to rebating through the recent revelations, as now everybody knows about the practice.

Mr. Tilley queried Mr. Parks further as to the methods suggested of making rebating a crime, and making the penalty a condition of the contract.

"And what would become of the policyholders?" asked Ald. Geary of Toronto, junior Ontario counsel. "Would you put a condition in every policy to this effect?"

Mr. Parks suggested that, for the first offence, the policyholder should be fined the amount of the rebate; for the second offence, twice the amount of the rebate. He would under no conditions cancel the policy.

Publicity Sufficient Check.

The discussion turned to investments. J. M. Reid of Montreal contending that the public demand and that publicity would be a sufficient check. Mr. Kent made some caustic remarks as to the agents' carelessness as to the accuracy of estimates, to which Mr. Reid rejoined that there were agents and agents. Mr. Kent's reply was that he should have liked to have present a few of the bad agents who had rebated recklessly, lied to prospective policyholders, and committed the other sins of agents.

Mr. Tilley announced that it had been decided not to take up the Managers' Association yesterday. He said that he did not know what the program would be, but suggested adjournment until to-day.

Suggestion Not to Print School Books By Contract.

TO GIVE EVERYONE A SHOW

Mr. D. A. Rose Would Have Government Own the Plates and Give All Publishers a Chance, But Would Insist on Standard Being Maintained—Mr. W. F. Brainerd's Expert Testimony.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—With the receiving of suggestions from W. F. Brainerd of New York City, an expert on the manufacturing of school books, the text book commission adjourned yesterday afternoon for a couple of weeks. On looking over the Government's agreement, Mr. Brainerd advised that its terms were not sufficiently stringent, nor specific. Without actually violating the stipulations, a poor book could be foisted upon the department, and the terms of the agreement might at the same time be lived up to. The straw-board cover of the reader was poor, and the cheapest in use; embossing the back was not only an uncalled for expense, but it materially weakened the book. The cloth would be fairly good. The requirement of "good" paper might convey anything.

The Difference in Paper.

Several books were submitted for the expert's scrutiny, Mr. Staunton telling him that he was to examine them and reject or commend them, as he would in an actual business transaction. Comparing the "Beginners' History of the United States," and the "History of the Canadian People," Mr. Brainerd said the latter was made of the better stock. Its paper had the required long-fibre which would prevent "dog-earing." It would be about a cent a pound dearer. He favored in all cases a comparatively heavy long-fibred paper, and he advocated large clear type. One fault with most of the text books submitted to his inspection was the "jumbled" pages. In this respect he preferred the Heath Reader, printed in the old style of type, which was better for the eye.

The type employed in the various primers was acceptable, but in all cases there was too much matter on every page.

Mr. Staunton produced an estimate which had been figured and sworn to by H. N. Grantham of Morang & Co. for witness' criticism, which Mr. Brainerd opined as being pretty close to the mark in places; but he would like to take the whole contract back to the States with him at that figure. The estimated sale price rather favored the buyer, but the whole series of Public School Readers, for which the Government had paid $18,000, should easily be procurable, with good profit to the publisher, for $10,000.

Mr. Brainerd strongly condemned the three-color tone process of illustrating, as employed in the primer, as raw and glaring, with not the first attempt at nature.

Favors Competition.

Daniel A. Rose of the Canadian Book Co. in the morning stated that a better and cheaper service would be secured if the Government made its own plates for text books, and permitted all publishers to compete in manufacturing them up to a certified standard. Mr. Rose estimated that under existing circumstances the publishers made at least 50 per cent. profit on school readers. He thought 10 or 15 per cent. a fair profit. The Canadian Book Co. had published one authorized book, namely, the Public School Geography. He had never attempted to secure a contract for readers as he was aware that other firms held the copyrights.

Witness examined some American text books, which he pronounced "a hundred per cent. better than the Ontario readers."

ECZEMA AND SKIN DISEASES

Eczema is a disease of the skin which does not allow the outer layer to mature, thus causing the watery portion of the blood to exude and form scabs or running sores. Zam-Buk cures eczema, because it is a skin food. It stimulates the skin, gives it tone, and this ends the painful and disfiguring disease finally.

Mr. John Millett Harris, a well-known Methodist preacher, of Lyng (Norfolk), gives his testimony to the value of this great herbal balm. "Eczema started on my arm," he says, "and eventually spread over my whole body in patches. The sores were very painful and at night they itched terribly. At other times they seemed to burn like fire. Zinc ointments, salves and internal remedies alike proved useless and my state was one of agony and misery. When Zam-Buk was introduced I feared that it would prove like the other things I had tried, but I was pleasantly surprised. The first few applications gave me ease, and right from that time the improvement set in. My skin is now quite cleared of all trace of eczema. I am cured completely and I owe it to Zam-Buk."

BABY'S SORE CURED

Mrs. Elliff, of St. John's West, Welland County, says:—"My baby had a rash—quite a number of small red spots and pimples which itched and became sore. I tried Zam-Buk and was delighted with the result. My husband also used it for a cut which it healed splendidly."

HEALED SEVERE CUT IN 3 DAYS

Mrs. Wm. Scott, of Portland, Ont., says:—"I cannot speak too highly of Zam-Buk. I have used it in the house for some time, and found it a splendid healing balm. My little boy got a severe cut on his forehead. I applied Zam-Buk and in three days the wound was healed up. Zam-Buk takes the soreness out of wounds almost as soon as it is applied, and heals them up in quick time. You can publish this if you wish, as there is no doubt Zam-Buk is an excellent remedy."

BALLOT-MARKING EXPERT.

Mysterious Stranger In the White-Comstock Election—He Told How To Do the Trick.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The bribery investigation is nearing a close. At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon an adjournment was taken to next Wednesday, when the last witnesses for the Crown will be called.

Several witnesses from Brockville were called with a view to showing that there had been a conspiracy to corrupt the White-Comstock election. James Robertson of Brockville declared that an unknown man had undertaken to teach him to switch ballots. He had refused to lend himself to the plan. John Connerty had noticed a stranger in Kitely township during this same election. He decided to become the Sherlock Holmes of Kitely. He secured on introduction to the stranger through Mr. Ward of Irish Creek. The stranger later introduced the switching method, which he learned, but refused to utilize. Mr. F. A. Bates also told of a similar experience in Brockville.

Joseph Campbell of London told of finding an enveloped $5 bill in his pocket.

Frank Hutchison of London received $10 from Jerry Collins.

VICTIM OF ASSAULT.

Two Unknown Men Get Into House by Subterfuge.

Woodstock, Nov. 9.—Mrs. J. D. Caster, a widow, was the victim of a brutal assault at her home Wednesday night. The perpetrators of the outrage, of whom there were two, were apparently familiar with the locality. Two well-known characters are suspected.

Mrs. J. D. Caster has lived alone in her house since the death of her husband last February. The marauders succeeded in getting Mrs. Caster out of bed by telling her that one of the neighbor's children was ill, and her services were requested. When she got down stairs they burst the door in, knocking the lamp out of her hand. One of them knocked her down and held her while the other ransacked the house, securing some money. They afterwards committed an assault on her.

Both Balked.

London, Nov. 9.—Elmer Vrooman of Dorchester appeared before Squire Chittick yesterday afternoon on the charge of attempting rape on the 12-year-old daughter of Stationmaster Cuson of Dorchester, and was bailed in $1,200 to appear in December.

Dr. Bateman of Strathroy also appeared on a charge of attempting rape on Miss Adamson, and was bailed in $2,000 to appear for trial at the first Assizes.

Explosion Wrecks Building.

Brantford, Nov. 9.—A serious explosion occurred yesterday at the old Liberal committee-rooms, which were being fitted up for the Victoria Club. Benzine came into contact with a gas-heater and was ignited. The place was completely wrecked. No one was hurt. The fire department was called out to extinguish the fire. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 9.—The stock market was irregular to-day under the influence of the money market which was strong both for time and call funds and the professional element took advantage of this to sell the list down, only to find, upon attempting to regain stocks, that the liquidation forced was very small and the offerings indicated an over-sold condition. The bank statement to-morrow is not likely to be favourable, but it has been discounted to a large extent, and we are of the belief that when the money market looks bad and the stock market responds with a ragged edge, good stocks should be bought confidently for an advance.

The bulk of stocks are in strong hands and there is now nothing in sight to induce them to try to sell out on each other. Call money loaned at 15 per cent. in the late trading, but the market held up and closed firm.

BEAT HEARST ONLY.

Chanler Wins Lieutenant-Governorship For Democrats Over Bruce.

New York, Nov. 9.—With the official vote of but three counties missing last night, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler apparently is elected lieutenant-governor on the Democratic-Independence League ticket by a plurality approximately of 1,700 votes over M. Linn Bruce, Republican. The full returns are likely to increase rather than reduce his lead.

It appears last night that all the other candidates on the Democratic state ticket are elected by small, but safe pluralities. Hearst, the head of the Democratic ticket, is the only one beaten.

THE COMING PLEBISCITE.

Union of Manitoba Municipalities Endorses Government's 'Phone Policy.

Portage La Prairie, Man., Nov. 9.—By a vote of 89 to 16, the Union of Manitoba Municipalities yesterday endorsed the Government's policy for municipal telephones and advised the electors of the province to vote yes at the coming plebiscite on the subject.

An amendment to give no advice on how to vote was lost by a vote of 82 to 36. The resolution was passed amid great enthusiasm.

A committee was appointed to consult with Attorney-General Campbell on the subject.

CONSTIPATION CLOGS THE BOWELS

No other cause produces so much sickness as constipation, and therefore it is dangerous to allow the bowels to become clogged up. Bad blood, dyspepsia, headaches, biliousness, boils, pimples, and piles, are all caused by constipation.

Avoid all of these troubles by the use of nature's remedy for all diseases of the stomach, bowels and blood. It acts on the bowels and promotes their free and regular action, curing constipation and all troubles which arise from it. It has been on the market for over thirty years so you are not using a new and untried remedy. B.B.B. has cured thousands of others and will cure you. Mr. B. Woodcock, Nashwaak Bridge, N.S., writes: "For over two years my wife was troubled with constipation. She tried several physicians but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was completely cured and is to-day in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of B.B.B.

"Get an advance, skin the shoes, or lose money!" This was the slogan of the American shoe manufacturer at the opening of the season.

Canadians who buy imported shoes pay one dollar duty, a quarter of a dollar more in higher wages, or $1.25 in all for their lack of perception. They fine themselves 33⅓ per cent and get shoes which the made-in-Canada shoe can defeat on even terms in foreign markets.

Then the imported shoe may have been "skinned" of value to partly meet that handicap of $1.25.

Follow the shoe market, and you will find that the honest United States shoe manufacturer has either withdrawn from the Canadian shoe market or raised his price too high.

Money cannot buy, nor can artisan devise a better shoe than that upon which are stamp this "Seal of Certainty"—

Ambulance Question Will Come Up To-night

Fire, Water and Light Committee Have Several Important Matters to Consider—Something Must be Done in Reference to Fire Alarm System.

A meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council is called for to-night when a number of important matters will have to be settled. In the first place steps will have to be taken in connection with the new fire alarm system. The letting of the contract for the care of the Dan Spence Ambulance will also have to be considered, the clause appointing Mr. Belleghem as caretaker having been referred back to the committee at the Council meeting to-night. There will also be the questions of the terms of the agreement between the City and the Peterborough Light and Power Company in connection with the proposal of the latter to change the present street lighting system. Since the committee had decided on the terms, they have gained fresh information which makes it desirable that the agreement should be reconsidered.

Annual Tea And Concert At All Saints' Was Success

Affair Proved Most Enjoyable and Was Very Largely Attended—Sacred Concert Was Given in the Church.

Fully up to and even surpassing the standard of success established in the past was the annual high tea and concert of the Women's Guild of All Saints' Church last night. The ladies of All Saints' have acquired a well deserved reputation in connection with events of this kind, a fact which was demonstrated by the very large numbers who were present last evening. The attendance was by no means confined to the people of All Saints. Members of other churches were present to enjoy the hospitality of the Women's Guild. The success of the affair must have indeed been a source of gratification to those who laboured so zealously in its preparation.

The needs of the inner man were attended to in the basement of the church where inviting looking tables were laid. The repast which was of a most sumptuous nature left nothing to be desired From 5.30 until nearly 8 o'clock the willing workers of this department were left busy attending to the numbers which kept pouring in. The room was tastefully adorned with flags and bunting.

The following ladies, assisted by a large and efficient staff, were in charge of the tables:—Mrs. Cottrell, Miss Cotton, Miss Melville, Miss Comstock, Miss Wells, Mrs. Hooper, Miss Hutchinson, Mrs. Firth, Mrs. Metheral, Mrs. Davis Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Sheffield.

The entertainment held afterwards was of a sacred nature and took place in the church, the rector, Rev. Wm. Major, acting as chairman. The programme was exceedingly well rendered and proved most enjoyable to the large audience which crowded the church to the doors. The singing of the choir was the subject of much favourable comment. They were heard to great advantage in several anthems and a carol in all of which their work was finished and excellent. Great advance is being made by the choir, judging from their singing last night.

Miss Hoyle, of Cannington, a pupil of Dr. Ham, contributed several solos in a manner which proved her to be a vocalist of considerable ability. She is the possessor of a magnificent well trained voice over which she has complete control and which even in the high registers, is remarkable for its clearness and sweetness. Mr. J. E. Firth's singing was also greatly enjoyed. Mr. Firth's voice is a good one and he displayed it to its fullest advantage last night.

Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's, both addressed the egathering, congratulating the members of the Women's Guild and of the people of All Saints, on the great success of the entertainment and expressing their pleasure at being present.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt gave a talk on success in life, which was most interesting. The keynote of his remarks was that the secret of success in life lies in one doing his best.

The complete programme was as follows:—

Address ... ...Rev. Canon Davidson
Solo .... Miss Hoyle
Anthem, "Come unto Me" ... the Choir

Daily Grind At Police Court

Two Men Who Were Drunk Yesterday Were Sent Out of Town

At the police court this morning two unfortunates appeared on the old charge of being drunk. Day after day the baleful results of intemperance are painfully evident at the police court. The civil law takes the place of the man's moral law and imposes punishment fitting the offence. Yet, as Raymond Hichcock sang "The World goes on just the same." Men drink to excess, and trouble generally ensues and the same old story is repeated again and again.

Henry Patterson, whose home is in Ottawa, pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place. He said he was suffering from Asthma and was on his way to Toronto where he was going to make an application for admittance to the General Hospital. City Clerk Armstrong allowed him to go provided that he left this city as soon as possible.

A young Englishman was charged with vagrancy but was also permitted to escape if he returned to work in the country.

The choir of the George Street Methodist Church have arranged for a concert to be held in the church on Friday, November 30. They have secured the services of the Sherlock Male Quartette, of Toronto, and also an entertainer from the same city. This quartette has been heard in Peterborough before, and its efficiency is well known.

Hall's Bridge Intelligence

Toronto Hunters Successful in Getting Deer.

Examiner Special.

Hall's Bridge, Nov. 9. -- Mr. MacNamara's party of three from Toronto secured four deer on Thursday and Friday. Among others, many local sportsmen are out, so we look for more than humble pie this season.

The party who were taking measurements here, preparatory to building new locks and a new bridge next year, have completed their work.

Church re-opened in the True Blue Hall last Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Edamnson will preach again next Sunday, after which the regular minister will take charge.

We regret that our teacher, Mr. Graham, contemplates leaving here after so successful a year. May he have the same success in his prospective field of labour at No. 7, Smith.

Miss Lottie Purser has returned, also another, a little favourite, is in our midst again. The return from Peterborough on November 4 of Miss Gladys Pearson was as welcome as it was unexpected. Great credit is due to Dr. Brown for bringing her through her severe illness and for her speedy recovery.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE MOUNTAINEERS.

For the fourth time this week The Ernie Marks Dramatic Company were greeted with an enthusiastic bumper house last night. "The Mountaineers," a play dealing with the illicit still in the Kentucky mountains proved a great success, both by reason of the superb acting of the company and the fine scenic effects introduced. As one person was heard to remark at the close of the show: "It's surprising what a magnet the name of 'Marks' is." And it is easy to see why, when one takes in one of their concerts. Of those who took part last evening, Ernie Marks, as Lige, the sleepy negro, made a hit. Miss Alice Pamplin, as Mammy Liza, Miss Ada Rivers, as Daisy, and Miss Kittie Marks, as Tatters, played their parts with a grace and abandon that made the scenes almost true to life; Jos. N. Maohan, as Tom, the leader of the Moonshiners, played the part of villain in his own inimitable manner; B. H. Howe was the ever-resourceful and daring revenue officer; F. A. Ruff proved the friend in need, and G. H. Rooney and H. J. Pamplin, in their characteristic costumes, made two typical moonshiners. The dancing and singing of Miss Rossie Mactan was a feature.

The play announced to be given by the Marks Bros. Dramatic Company to-night, at the Grand, is entitled "The Country Kid." Mr. Marks will take the role of the "Kid." The play is said to be one that will amuse everyone.

Archdeacon Warren Given Appointment

Is Missionary Secretary in Succession to Canon Dixon.

The Toronto Globe of to-day says: The Missionary Committee of the Anglican Synod appointed Ven. The Bishop presided, and there was a very large attendance of members of the board.

Heavy Freightage On Midland Line

Lumber and Grain Being Conveyed from West to Eastern Cities

This is the busy season for all the railways. The heavy harvest of the Northwest farms is demanding the attention of the shipping companies. Grain and lumber are the principal articles of export. The G.T.R. Midland branch, which passes through this city, is feeling the effects of the increased trade. Since yesterday noon five long trains, each drawn by two engines, passed through here. The most of them were going east, while two went west. The cargoes were comprised of grain from Midland and lumber from Waubaushene. They were for eastern ports.

Flags Flying For King's Birthday

On Many Public and Private Buildings.

Flags are flying over the public buildings of the city to-day in honour of the King's birthday, and several places also did honour to the occasion by throwing the grand old Union Jack to the November breeze. J. J. Turner and Sons, with their usual public-mindedness, had their factory decorated with flags and bunting, while a banner, stretching across the street, with a portrait of His Majesty in the centre, bore the inscriptions, "God Save the King" and "Long May He Reign."

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

Stolen Gate Brought Back

Ad. in Examiner Column Had the Desired Effect.

The advantages of the Examiner ad. column are again set forth in the following letter from a man who lost his gate on Hallowe'en. He inserted an ad. in the Examiner, and one day's appearance brought the desired results.

His letter is as follows:

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Just a word to add my testimony to the efficiency of the Examiner as an advertising medium. In my case I would say that one insertion in the lost column of your paper brought the desired result, as the article enquired for was brought back, and in its position, in less than 24 hours from the appearance of the ad. in your paper. Enough said.

Yours respectfully,
ROBERT INNES,

The Port Hope Boys' Morals Are Said To Be In a State of Danger

Presence of an Undesirable Sunday Resort Causing Alarm to Ladies' Auxiliary of Y. M. C. A.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., at Port Hope are concerned over the presence of an undesirable resort in that town. In an address given by Rev. Mr. Nelles before the Ladies' Auxiliary, he stated that there was, or had been lately a room over a store which was open not only on week days but even on Sundays. Card playing was indulged in, and the company included young men who would be ashamed to have their names mentioned. The man having control of the room was a nominal member of one of the churches. Mr. Nelles expressed the opinion that such organizations were a curse to our boys and the Y.M.C.A. must do all it can to overcome such schemes. A few months ago the number was sixteen. Another matter was mentioned where a number of young men were seen on a Sunday coming out of an establishment supposed to be closed.

FUNERAL STOPPED WITH HEARSE AT DOOR.

Wife of John Kearing Opposes Burial of Her Husband Who had Committed Suicide.

(Examiner Special.)

Detroit, Nov. 10.—With the hearse and hack outside, and the drivers of the hearse and hack willing to act as pall-bearers to carry the remains of John Kearing, who committed suicide at the door of the resort at 60 Bonabier street, on Friday morning, where his wife was an inmate, to the grave, Mrs. Kearing stopped the funeral.

When undertaker J. W. Maney was about to close the coffin, the wife began to cry pitifully, and said she would not have her husband's remains buried in the potter's field. She asked to have the remains held until Tuesday afternoon, when she would have enough money collected to give him a private burial and a minister to say a few kind words.

There were relatives present from Mt. Clemens and Jackson to attend the funeral, who were disappointed and had to return home.

MURDERER DEVELOPS INTO AN EXPERT RAT CATCHER

Was to Have Been Executed but was Twice Reprieved by Governor.

(Examiner Special.)

Newcastle, Pa., Nov. 10.—Murderer Frank Johnson, twice reprieved by Governor Pennypacker just before he was to have been executed, is now the official rat catcher of the county jail here, where he has been confined for 21 months. Johnson has been complaining that the rats kept him from sleeping. He was provided with a rat trap and now occupies himself capturing and killing the rodents. He hopes to prove a champion. In this, Johnson's case will come before the State Pardon Board to-morrow for the third time for a commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment.

GIRLS CRAZED BY A STRANGE SECT IN PORTLAND

Respectable Young Women Leave Their Home to Join the Camp of the Holy Ghost Order.

HAD MADE A SPECIAL STUDY OF BIBLE

(Examiner Special.)

Portland, Me., Nov. 10.—Mrs. Alice Phelps, of Kansas City, consulted attorneys in an effort to have the law remove her daughter from the Holy Ghost and Us sect of worshippers at Shiloh. The Rev. Frank Sandford is the head of the colony and styles himself its Elijah.

Six years ago May and Bessie Phelps were respected young women of Kansas City. They were well educated and had made a special study of Biblical literature. Thus they fell easy victims to the arguments of one of Sandford's missionaries and eventually went to Shiloh.

The methods of the strange sect undermined the reason of the younger girl, Bessie, who became insane and is now in the State Hospital in a cataleptic state. Mrs. Phelps heard recently that her other daughter's reason was being unhinged and tried to induce her to return home, but to no avail.

She was shivering, being clad only in a calico wrapper. Her food allowance is said to be very meagre. A cupful of parched grain, or less, with a little skim milk comprised her day's nourishment. It is further alleged that she slept on the coldest nights in an old shed, through which wind and rain swept. The young woman claimed this to be the true life.

Mrs. Phelps saw many others in a similar state. Sandford is cruising in his palatial yacht on the Mediterranean with all the funds.

As the young woman is of age the Aattorneys say that Mrs. Phelps cannot compel her daughter to leave Shiloh.

Old World Mail News Of The Week

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM ACROSS THE SEA.

ENGLAND

An almost incredible degree of gullibility was disclosed in an extraordinary fortune-telling case heard at Willenhall, Staffordshire, recently. A married woman named Harriet Hampton, fell ill, and believing that two gipsies had cast a spell upon her, she took the advice of friends, and consulted an old man named Price. He told her solemnly that there was indeed a spell upon her, which he could remove, but it would take a long time. The woman believed it, and became a regular visitor for over six months—at first at the rate of once a fortnight, then weekly, and finally twice a week. Defendant consulted cards, and told her that no doctor on earth could cure her, and she would either go mad or die unless she obeyed his instructions. She was given gin and then ordered to undress, which she did, and the old man made signs of crosses upon her. Price had a lot of money from her, but she felt no better, and eventually told her husband, who accompanied her to the defendant's house. There Price, after threatening to cast a worse spell upon her husband, left the house to fetch a "young man he had cured" as proof of his abilities, but he did not return.

All the elements of a romantic mystery were contained in the statements made recently at an inquest in London on a woman who was only known as "Madame." Mrs. Jane Benthorn, in whose house she lodged, said that the woman was only known to her as "Madame," and that all her letters were so addressed. Mrs. Benthorn said that her lodger had told her that her Christian names were Francesca Letitia Rosetta De C., but she would not tell her surname. She had also said that her father was an Italian count, and that her mother was presented at Queen Victoria's Court. She also told Mrs. Benthorn that some of her ancestors were burned. She was a woman of superior education, and had a large library, chiefly of Greek and Italian books. A magazine, dated 1797, was found among her effects, on the margin of which was written in pencil: "Francesca Letitia Colonna was a high-born princess, barnalian, of dark olive complexion, and very great. Count De Le Mond Da Costa, many of the family burned."

Only the self-possession of a lady at the Brompton Oratory, London, recently, averted a terrible crime. While kneeling for the confessional, the lady observed a woman standing a few yards away, evidently in a most excited state of mind. She was gesticulating wildly, and pointing in the direction of the priest to whom the lady was confessing. Presently the lunatic—for so she proved to be—produced a yataghan, a deadly Turkish dagger, two feet long, with a razor edge, which she brandished in the air. Without betraying the slightest sign that this extraordinary action had been observed, and in the same low voice in which she was confessing, the lady warned her confessor of his danger. The priest leaped to his feet, and the maniac at the same time sprang towards him, waving the weapon wildly. Pursued by the maniac, the priest ran for the door, by which time the situation had been grasped by all those in the Oratory. Help was immediately forthcoming, and, after a short struggle, the would-be murderer was disarmed and secured.

An old woman named Margaret Maitland, who is 73 years of age, heroically rescued three children from a fire which broke out in a house in Yarmouth a few days ago. Mrs. Maitland belongs to Aberdeen, and is one of the Scotch "girls" who are now at Yarmouth for the herring season. She and other women were sleeping in the house, when they were awakened by a fire which broke out in a bedroom occupied by three children, whose parents were away at work. The old woman at once made her way to the bedroom, which was on the floor above, and, in spite of the great heat and the dense smoke, succeeded in rescuing the children. She took them down a narrow and awkward staircase into the lower room, opened the window and handed the little ones out one by one to the people below. During all this time the old woman, whose hair was badly singed, displayed remarkable coolness, and seemed to regard the rescue as a very ordinary incident.

The famous ruins of Glastonbury Abbey, Somerset, will soon come into the market. An offer has already been received for them from America and refused. The suggestion has been made that the precedent set in the case of Tintern Abbey should be followed, and the ruins of the most splendid monastic buildings in the country should be acquired for the nation. Glastonbury is the traditional burial place of St. Joseph of Arimathea, whose staff is declared to have grown into the holly thorn which still blooms at Christmas. The abbey is also inseparably connected with the legend of the Sangreal, for it stands in King Arthur's Avalon, and is the mythical burial place of the King and his consort Guinevere. St. Dunstan, St. David, Gildas the historian, and Kings Edmund and Elder, Edgar the Peaceable, and Edmund Ironside also found their last resting place in the abbey.

The King's Norton (Worcestershire) Board of Guardians have under consideration the application of an old married couple, named Stratton, to live together in the workhouse. Stratton, who has been married three times, is the father of 33 children. His first child was born two months after Queen Victoria came to the throne. His youngest child is 24; so that there is a difference between his oldest and youngest of 45 years. He was married for the second time when between 35 and 40 years of age; and, questioned as to which of his three families was the most numerous, the old man seemed amused. "Bless you," he said, "I should want a head to reckon that up as much as I could manage." He could not form the least idea how many of his children were still alive.

Mr. Thomas Holmes, a well-known London police court missionary, recently announced that he was in negotiations for the building of extensive almshouses for women in London, and if the scheme were successful, the philanthropist who was financing the scheme was prepared

WOMAN WAS CRUELLY MURDERED BY HUSBAND

Neighbours in New York Find Mrs. Gordon Dead on Her Bed.

WOMAN FOUGHT HARD FOR HER LIFE

(Examiner Special.)

New York, Nov. 9. — Neighbors to-night found the body of Mrs. Maggie Gordon, 22 years of age, in her East Side home, where apparently she had been strangled to death.

This was the view of her death taken by the coroner, and the woman's husband, Alex. Gordon, was later taken into custody.

A lamp was burning in a bedroom where the body, fully dressed, was stretched across a bed. "It was a case of murder, pure and simple," said Coroner Harburger, "I examined the woman's neck, and the imprint of a man's hand is plainly visible.

"The woman was strangled to death in a most brutal manner, and from the looks of the room it is evident that she fought desperately for her life. The person that killed her evidently seized her from behind while she was standing near the bureau in the room, and did not relax his grip, but pushed her over to the bed and held her there until she died."

Alex. Gordon said that he had been married to Mrs. Gordon for two years. He said that both were natives of Pittsburg, and came to New York soon after they were married. The police say that Gordon admits having been with the woman half an hour before the body was found.

Mrs. Gordon was well known in her neighbourhood because of her practice of nursing the sick who were financially unable to secure other medical treatment.

STEAMER ENGINEER MET WITH A HORRIBLE DEATH

Waving Good-bye to Sisters His Head is Torn From Body.

(Examiner Special.)

Chicago, Nov. 10.—To wave a good-bye to his sisters on the wharf, C. H. Dyke, an engineer on the lake steamship Mack, thrust his head through a porthole to-day and was instantly killed as the vessel veered into the abutments of the Ninety-second street bridge. His head was completely torn from his body and tumbled into the river as his body fell back into the engine room.

Poetry on the Prairie

Red Deer Advocate.

THIS is the end of the summer, and the glory of the fall is spread like a garment of exquisite workmanship and dazzling colour over the land. He who is not moved by the rustling, quivering beauty in copse, wood and undulating prairie must be dense and and unresponsive indeed. A thousand beauties of colouring shades inspire the mind with the beauty of life, even when it stands to die. hTe fall has a fleeting glory of unsurpassed colour, which seems to prepare the mind and fill it with glorious recollections, for comparisons when the universal whiteness lies covering the earth in sparkling purity.

His Name

IN SOME country districts of Ireland it is not unusual to see the owners' names simply chalked on carts and other vehicles, in order to comply with legal regulations.

Unfortunately, this custom lends itself to the playing of pranks on the part of "boys" maliciously inclined, who sometimes rub off the lettering, and thereby get the cart-owner into trouble with the police.

A case of this kind having occurred, a constabulary sergeant accosted a countryman whose name had been thus wiped out, unknown to him.

"Is this cart yours, my good man?"

"Of course it is," was the reply. "Do you see anything the matter wid it?"

"I obsarve," said the pompous policeman, "that yer name is obliterated."

"Then ye're wrong," quoth the countryman, who had never come across the long dictionary word before, "for me name's O'Reilly, an' I don't care who knows it."

It is only him!

Him! One of those days he will be gone. Then they will miss him.

They will miss the foot-steps on the back stairs; they will miss him who loved them and went away.

The girls scatter, the woman flee, when they hear his footstep.

But they sit in their evil-places and—What's the matter with you? It's only him!

nice for a man of his distinguished position to be detected in an act suspiciously like vulgar burglary. Still, there must be some plausible way out of the difficulty if he could only think of it. Only this girl with the quaint, pretty face and spectacles did not look in the least like a fool. He would have to try what blandishments would do.

"Are you aware who I am?" he asked, blandly.

"What does it matter? I've got the other one, and no doubt he will be identified by the police. If he doesn't say too much he may get off with a light sentence. It is quite easy to see that you are the greater scoundrel of the two."

"My dear young lady, do you actually take me for a burglar?"

There was a note of deep pain in Henson's voice. He had dropped into a chair again, with a feeling of utter weakness upon him. The girl's resolute mien and the familiar way in which she handled her revolver filled him with the deepest apprehension.

"I am a very old friend and relative of Lord Littimer's," he said.

"Oh, indeed. And is the other man a relative of Lord Littimer's also?"

"Oh, why, confound it, yes. The other man, as you call him, is Lord Littimer's only son."

Christabel glanced at Henson, not without admiration.

"Well; you are certainly a cool hand,' she said. "You are two clever thieves who have come here for the express purpose of robbing Lord Littimer of one of his art treasures. I happen to catch one, and he immediately becomes the son of the owner of the place. I am so fortunate as to bag the other bird, and he resolves himself into a relative of my host's. And you really expect me to believe a Hans Andersen fairy story like that!"

"I admit that appearances are against me," Henson said, humbly. "But I am speaking the truth."

"Oh, indeed. Then why didn't you come in through the front door? The violent exercise you were taking just now must be dangerous to a man of your build!"

"I am afraid I shall have to make a clean breast of it," Henson said, with what he fondly imagined to be an engaging smile. "You may, perhaps, be aware that yonder Rembrandt has a history. It was stolen from its present owner once, and I have always said that it will be stolen again. Many a time have I urged Lord Littimer to make it secure."

"How grateful you should be to me for having done so!"

"Ah, you are cynical still, which is a bad thing for one so young and—er—charming. I came down here to see my very noble relative, and his son accompanied me. I came to try and make peace between father and son. But that is a family matter which, forgive me, I cannot discuss with a stranger. Our train was late, or we should have been here long ago. On reaching the castle it struck me as a good idea to give Lord Littimer a lesson as to his carelessness. My idea was to climb through the window, abstract the Rembrandt, and slip quietly into my usual bedroom here. Then in the morning, after the picture had been missed, I was going to tell the whole story. That is why Mr. Littimer entered this way and why I followed when I found that he had failed to return. It was a foolish thing to do, and the denouement has been most humiliating. I assure you that is all."

"Not quite," Christabel drawled. "There is something else."

"And what may that be, my dear young lady?"

"To tell your story to Lord Littimer before you sleep. That kind of romance may do for Great Britain, but it wouldn't make good family reading in the States."

"But, my dear young lady, I beg of you, implore you—"

"Come off the grass! I'm to let you go quietly to bed and retire myself, so that when morning arrives you will be missing together with as much plunder as you can carry away. No, sir."

Henson advanced angrily. His prudence had gone for the time. As he came down upon Christabel she raised her revolver and fired two shots in quick succession over Henson's shoulder. The noise went echoing and reverberating along the corridor like a crackling of thunder. A door came open with a click, then a voice demanded to know what was wrong.

"Now I guess the fat is in the fire," Christabel said.

Henson dropped into a chair and groaned. Lord Littimer, elegantly attired in a suit of silk pyjamas and carrying a revolver in his hand, came coolly down the corridor. A curious servant or two would have followed, but he waved them back crisply.

"Miss Lee," he said, with a faint, sarcastic emphasis, "and my dear friend and relative, Reginald Henson—Reginald, the future owner of Littimer Castle!"

"So he told me, but I wouldn't believe him," said Christabel.

"It is a cynical age," Littimer remarked. "Reginald, what does this mean?"

Henson shook his head uneasily.

"The young lady persisted in taking me for a burglar," he groaned.

"And why not?" Christabel demanded. "I was just going to bed when I heard voices in the forecourt below and footsteps creeping along. I came into the corridor with my revolver. Presently one of the men climbed up the ivy and got into the corridor. I covered him with my revolver and fairly drove him into a bedroom and locked him in."

"So you killed with both barrels?" Littimer cried, with infinite enjoyment.

"Then the other one came. He came to steal the Rembrandt."

"Nothing of the kind," the wretched Henson cried. "I came to give you a lesson, Lord Littimer. My idea was to get in through the window, steal the Rembrandt, and when you had missed it, confess the whole story. My character is safe."

"Giddy," Littimer said, reproachfully. "You are so young, so boyish, so buoyant, Reginald. What would your future constituents have said had they seen you creeping up the ivy? They are a grave people who take themselves seriously. Egad, this would be a lovely story for one of those prying society papers. 'The Philanthropist and the Picture.' I've a good mind to send it to the Press myself."

Littimer sat down and laughed with pure enjoyment.

"And where is the other partridge?" he asked, presently.

Christabel seemed to hesitate for a moment, her sense of humor of the situation had departed. Her hand shook as she turned the key in the door.

"I am afraid you are going to have an unpleasant surprise," Henson said.

Littimer glanced keenly at the speaker. All the laughter died out of his eyes; his face grew set and stern as Frank Littimer emerged into the light.

"And what are you doing here?" he asked, hoarsely. "What do you expect to gain by taking part in a fool's trick like this? Did I not tell you never to show your face here again?"

The young man said nothing. He stood there looking down, dogged, quiet, like one tongue-tied. Littimer thundered out his question again. He crossed over, laying his hands on his son's shoulders and shaking him as a terrier might shake a rat.

"Did you come for anything?" he demanded. "Did you expect any mercy from——"

Frank Littimer shook off his grasp gently. He looked up for the first time.

"I expected nothing," he said. "I—I did not come of my own free will. I am silent now for the sake of myself and others. But the time may come—God knows it has been long delayed. For the present, I am bound in honor to hold my tongue."

[illegible] at [illegible] son, a long, angry glance. Littimer looked from one to the other in hesitation for a moment. The hard lines between his brows softened.

"Perhaps I am wrong," he muttered. "Perhaps there has been a mistake somewhere. And if ever I find out I have——pshaw, I am talking like a sentimental schoolgirl. Have I not had evidence strong as proof of Holy Writ that . . . Get out of my sight, your presence angers me. Go, and never let me see you again. Reginald, you were a fool to bring that boy here to-night. See him off the premises and fasten the door again."

"Surely," Christabel interfered, "surely at this time of the night——"

"You should be in bed," Littimer said, tartly. "My dear young lady, if you and I are to remain friends I must ask you to mind your own business. It is a dreadfully difficult thing for a woman to do, but you must try. You understand?"

Christabel was evidently putting a strong constraint on her tongue, for she merely bowed and said nothing. She had her own good reasons for the diplomacy of silence. Henson and Frank Littimer were disappearing in the direction of the staircase.

"I say nothing," Christabel said. "But at the same time I don't fancy I shall care very much for your distinguished friend Reginald Henson."

Littimer smiled. All his good humor seemed to have returned to him. Only the dark lines under his eyes were more accentuated.

"A slimy, fawning hound," he whispered. "A mean fellow. And the best of it is that he imagines that I hold the highest regard for him. Good-night."

Free Treatment for Sick Kidneys

WRITE FOR GIN PILLS

If you have suffered for years with kidney trouble—if you know your Kidneys are sick, but have not been able to find anything that will help you—or if you suspect that you have kidney disease, write for a sample of GIN PILLS, the pills that cure. We don't ask you to spend a single penny, or promise to spend any. Simply take the box of pills which we send you free of charge. We leave it to you whether or not you will take any more after the sample box is gone.

RAT PORTAGE, October, 1905

I was troubled for about two years with kidney trouble, so common among railway men. I doctored in the regular way and took a great deal of medicine, but received no benefit. My fireman recommended Gin Pills, and I am pleased to state that after taking the first box I got relief, and while I am not taking them regularly, if I feel any indications of a return of the trouble, a few doses puts me all right again.

CHAS. SIMMONS, C.P.R. Engineer

This letter is the experience of hundreds. They try doctors and drugs without belief, but they find the cure for their trouble in GIN PILLS. Take advantage of our generous offer. Mention in what paper you saw this, with your name and address, and we will send you, absolutely free of charge, a sample box of GIN PILLS. They are sold by all druggists at 50c a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

A little later, and Christabel sat before her looking-glass with her lovely hair about her shoulders. The glasses were gone and her magnificent eyes gleamed and sparkled.

"Good night's work," she said to her smiling reflection. "Now the danger is passed and now that I am away from that dreadful house I feel a different being. Strange what a difference a few hours has made! And I hardly need my disguise—even at this moment I believe that Enid would not recognize me. She will be pleased to know that her telegram came in so usefully. Well, here I am, and I don't fancy that anybody will recognize Christabel Lee and Chris Henson for one and the same person.

She sat there brushing her hair and letting her thoughts drift along idly over the events of the evening. Reginald Henson would have felt less easy in his mind had he known what these thoughts were. Up to now that oily scoundrel hugged himself with the delusion that nobody besides Frank Littimer and himself knew that the second copy of "The Crimson Blind" had passed into Bell's possession.

But Chris was quite aware of the fact. And Chris as Chris was supposed by Henson to be dead and buried, and was, therefore, in a position to play her cards as she pleased. Up to now it seemed to her that she had played them very well indeed. A cipher telegram from Longdean had warned her that Henson was coming there, had given her more than a passing hint what Henson required, and her native wit had told her why Henson was after the Rembrandt.

Precisely why he wanted the picture she had not discovered yet. But she knew that she would before long. And she knew also that Henson would try and obtain the print without making his presence at Littimer Castle obvious. He was bringing Frank Littimer with him, and was therefore going to use the younger man in some cunning way.

That Henson would try and get into the castle surreptitiously Chris had felt from the first. Once he did so the rest would be easy, as he knew exactly where to lay his hand on the picture. Therefore he could have no better time than the dead of night. If his presence were betrayed he could turn the matter aside as a joke and trust to his native wit later on. If he had obtained the picture by stealth he would have discreetly disappeared, covering his tracks as he retreated.

Still, it had all fallen out very fortunately. Henson had been made to look ridiculous; he had been forced to admit that he was giving Littimer a lesson over the Rembrandt, and though the thing appeared innocent enough on the surface, Chris was sanguine that later on she could bring this up in evidence against him.

"So far so good," she told herself. "Watch, watch, watch, and act when the time comes. But it was hard to meet Frank to-night and be able to say nothing. And how abjectly miserable he looked! Well, let us hope that the good time is coming."

Chris was up betimes in the morning and out on the terrace. She felt no further uneasiness on the score of the disguise now. Henson was certain to be inquisitive, it was part of his nature, but he was not going to learn anything. Chris smiled as she saw Henson lumbering towards her. He seemed all the better for his night's rest.

"The rose blooms early here," he said, gallantly. "Let me express the hope that you have quite forgiven me for the fright I gave you last night."

"I guess I don't recollect the fright," Chris drawled. "And if there was any fright I calculate it was on the other side. And how are you this morning? You look as if you had been in the wars. Got some trouble with your throat, or what?"

"A slight operation," Henson said, airly. "I have been speaking too much in public lately and a little something had to be removed. I am much better."

The ready lie tripped off his tongue. Chris smiled slightly.

"Do you know, you remind me very much of somebody," he went on. "And yet I don't know why, because you are quite different. Lord Littimer tells me you are an American."

"The Stars and Stripes," Chris laughed. "I guess our nation is the first on earth. Now, if you happen to know anything about Boston——"

"I never was in Boston in my life," Henson replied, hastily. The name seemed to render him uneasy. "Have you been in England very long?"

Chris replied that she was enjoying England for the first time. But she was not there to answer questions, her role was to ask them. But she was dealing with a past-master in the art of gleaming information, and Henson was getting on her nerves. She gave a little cry of pleasure as a magnificent specimen of a bloodhound came trotting down the terrace and paused in friendly fashion before her.

"What a lovely dog," she exclaimed. "Do you like dogs, Mr. Henson?"

She looked up beamingly into his face as she spoke; she saw the heavy features darken and the eyes grow small with anger.

"I loathe them, and they loathe me," Henson growled. "Look at him!"

He pointed to the dog, who showed his teeth with an angry growl. And yet the great sleek head lay against the girl's knee in perfect confidence. Henson looked on uneasily and backed a little way. The dog marked his every movement.

"See how the brute shows his teeth at me," he said. "Please send him away, Miss Lee. I am certain he is getting ready for a spring."

Henson's face was white and hot and wet, his lips trembled. He was horribly afraid. Chris patted the silky head and dismissed the dog with a curt command. He went off instantly with a wistful, backward look in his eye.

"We are going to be great friends, that doggie and I," Chris said, gaily. "And I don't like you any the better, Mr. Henson, because you don't like dogs and they don't like you. Dogs are far better judges of character than you imagine. Dr. Bell says——"

"What Dr. Bell?" Henson demanded swiftly.

Chris had paused just in time; perhaps her successful disguise had made her a trifle reckless.

"Dr. Hatherly Bell," she said. "He used to be a famous man before he fell into disgrace over something or another. I heard him lecture on the animal instinct in Boston once, and he said—but as you don't care for dogs it doesn't matter what he said."

"Do you happen to know anything about him?" Henson asked.

Ethical Training in Public Schools.

The Religious Education Association of the United States has been studying through its special commissioner, Mr. Clifford W. Barnes, the methods of moral training in use in the public schools as measured by juvenile lawlessness and crime. In the London Tribune he says that he is returning to America with the assurance that Europe generally recognizes the necessity of ethical instruction in public schools. Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Switzerland and Italy are a unit in regard to the need, however much they differ as to method, and he believes we have something to learn from them in this regard. He has a good word to say for the old English board school system as represented by the London County Council syllabus, in which he finds "the dynamic quality of our religion." The French system is broader, more systematic, but lacks the fervor and power that the English system draws from its freer use of the Bible. Hence, as may be supposed, he is a hearty advocate of Mr. Birrell's bill. In France he found that while the religious quality was lacking the moral lessons were "varied and specific and pressed upon the pupil with vigor and sincerity." German educators expressed to him their dissatisfaction with the too dogmatic form of religious education there. None of them wished abolition of religious instruction, however. In Austria the state, he found, paid the various religious bodies for teaching the pupils of their faith through special instructors. The teaching was compulsory. His objection to this was that it perpetuates social groups, but, as he shrewdly observes, "Austria-Hungary is a long way from viewing as we view methods inimical to a purely democratic organization of society." The full report of Mr. Barnes' observations will be awaited with great interest on his return to this country.—The Churchman.

Preaching in Wall Street.

A service held in old Trinity, September 14, marked the close of the evangelistic work on Wall street, conducted this summer by the Rev. Wm. Wilkinson, of Minneapolis. This is the second year Mr. Wilkinson has preached at the Wall street meetings, and his success has been quite remarkable, as day after day crowds gathered during the noon hour to hear him preach from the steps of the old custom house. Trinity was filled to the doors at his farewell service, every sitting being occupied, and the supply of camp chairs for those still unaccommodated proving all too small for the demand. The congregation was a remarkable one. Clerks, stenographers, and all the varied types of manhood and womanhood, making up the army of employees in the street, were there, and scattered through the crowd also were others, young and old, who were evidently men of affairs and people of importance in financial circles. Here and there, too, were men in rough working clothes and lime-stained shoes, evidently workmen from the high buildings in course of erection in the neighbourhood. The service lasted nearly the full hour. The Rev. J. Nevett Steele, vicar of Trinity, read the prayers, and Mr. Wilkinson preached on practical christianity. He urged all who were not church members to become identified with some christian body. There will never be purity in politics, he said, while forty millions of our people neglect christian worship. Mr. Wilkinson was also one of the speakers at the "converts' rally", held in Carnegie hall last Monday evening to mark the close of the summer campaign.

The Chief Thing in Public Worship.

"If the whole church be come together into one place and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad? But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one learned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all." 1 Cor. 14:23-24. Applied to our conditions, this would mean The clear word of doctrine, the word of instruction, the explanation of Scripture, the intelligible sermon, the catechismal instruction—is the chief thing in public worship. With it the congregation also best carries on mission work, for the Word of God can enter also the heart and conscience of the unbelievers, who appear in the church, and make them mend their ways. All other things, such as fine singing, liturgy, etc., beautiful as these embellishments may be, are only of secondary importance. In Germany, liturgy is now the chief topic of all discussions at pastoral conferences and synods. Men say: "The people will have more than the mere doctrine, the dry sermon; a beautiful liturgy, a responsive service, and the like enliven the worship, and kindles a new fire." But this is the very opposite of what the apostle says. The chief thing, the one thing needful, is and ever shall be: Preach the pure Word of God—not in high-sounding words which the unlearned cannot grasp and understand—but thoroughly and intelligibly.—Rev. Prof. G. Stoeckhardt, D. D., in the Eighth Iowa Lutheran Synodical Report; p. 40.

Annual Supplement to the Decalogue.

Our social organization has developed to a stage where the old righteousness is not enough. We need an annual supplement to the decalogue. The growth of credit institutions, the spread of fiduciary relations, the enmeshing of industry in law, the interlacing of government and business, the multiplication of boards and inspectors—beneficent as they all are, they invite to sin. What gateways they open to greed! What fresh parasites they let in on us! How idle in our new situation to intone the old litaniest The reality of this close-knit life is not to be seen and touched; it must be thought. The sins it opens the door to are to be discerned by knitting the brows rather than by opening the eyes. It takes imagination to see that bogus medical diploma, lying advertisement and fake testimonial are death-dealing instruments. It takes imagination to see that savings bank wrecker, loan shark and investment swindler in taking livelihoods take lives. It takes imagination to see that the business of debauching voters, firing juries, seducing lawmakers, and corrupting public servants is like sawing through the props of a crowded grandstand.—E. A. Ross, in the Atlantic.

Remarkable Cure of St. Vitus' Dance

ANOTHER ILLUSTRATION OF THE GREAT RESTORATIVE POWER OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Mrs. Phillips is a widow who keeps a grocery store at 597 Gerrard street east, Toronto, and her daughter Susie, 14 years of age, is accustomed to deliver parcels when not at school. About a year and a half ago Mrs. Phillips noticed that Susie had difficulty in controlling her feet when walking, and would stray from sidewalk to boulevard and back again.

As she got worse she would helplessly drop parcels on the street and would fall prostrate on the floor, as though all nerve force had left her. The nerves and muscles of her face would twitch so that other children thought she was making faces at them.

"One day when Susie came from school," continued Mr. Phillips, "she said she had only written two words of dictation because she could not control her pencil, and then it was that I realized the seriousness of her condition. A friend told me that she had St. Vitus' dance, and described a similar case of a boy in Winnipeg who was cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"I immediately got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before my daughter began to improve under this treatment. We kept up the use of this medicine for eighteen months, until Susie was entirely cured and was herself again. This statement is given with the idea of helping some poor sufferer from similar diseases of the nerves."

Because of its mild and gentle action and extraordinary restorative influence, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially suited as a treatment for children who are pale, weak and puny, or whose nervous systems have become run down.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 10

To-morrow In City's Churches

In the majority of the local churches to-morrow the pulpits will be occupied by the regular pastors or rectors, an exception being in the case of St. Luke's in which Rev. Mr. Armstrong, of Orillia, will preach in the absence of the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, in Brantford. Young men's problems will be discussed in at least four of the local churches to-morrow night. In All Saints' the rector will continue his series of special sermons to young men, while in Mark street church, Rev. J. G. Lowis will preach on the subject, "Young Men, their Place and Plane", and in Murray Street a special sermon will also be preached on this subject, Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's, will also preach to young men. In the Charlotte Street church the evening service will partake the nature of an evangelistic service in view of the fact that special services of this character are being conducted in that church. The dedication festival services will be continued in St. John's Church, where sermons will be preached by Rev. Prof. Wrong, of the Toronto University. To-morrow will be the 22nd Sunday after Trinity.

Voodoo Worship.

A writer in Chambers' Journal states that the belief in obi, or, as the followers of this fetichism call themselves, obeah, is as rife among the negroes of the West Indies as ever. Though the negro in the Antilles is removed many generations from the original African, it seems that obeah cannot be eradicated. In former days there was such a constant use of poison by those who were of the obeah that the English government in Jamaica did its best to suppress it, but its practices were not discontinued, only concealed. Obeah is pure fetichism, and the rites are at their revolting climax in Dahomey. In Sierra Leone all the old customs and superstitions, despite English influence, hold the natives fast. Voodoo worship, still existing among the Louisiana natives, is the obeah, only with another name, and even the white man will put faith in an absurd rabbit foot. There is with negro conservatism dread of the man or woman who can work obeah. When the colored race has been left to itself, as in Haiti, voodoo worship flourishes. It is by no means a harmless belief, because the obeah hag is skilled in the making of poisons and lives by the sale of them. If the poison administered to a victim causes death it is not murder, according to the negro, but only the influence of a magical spell.

Talks on Orange Meat

(THE PURE FOOD)

Oven Perfection.

If you are a woman, you would revel in the huge ovens that cook Orange Meat. Much of the crisp deliciousness of Orange Meat is due to their matchless baking.

After the wheat has been cleaned, steam cooked, malted and flaked—the moist flakes are conveyed by automatic carriers to the ovens.

Endless steel screens carry the flakes back and forth, toasting each flake to a rich, golden brown—the final stage in our peerless process of converting a grain of wheat into the most perfect food known to science.

As the major part of every meal for thin people—dyspeptics—"bloodless" folk—those whose systems are "all run down"—and especially for children—Orange Meat has a place that nothing else can satisfy.

A lady in Walkerton says:—"Orange Meat is very wholesome. My brother at 81 years old, has taken a great liking to it, and I am glad as it seems such a light wholesome food. I would recommend to those afflicted with stomach trouble."

At all grocers in 15c. and 25c. packages. Every 15c. package contains a coupon, good for premiums. 25c. or "Jumbo" package contains 2½ times the quantity of 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston," for new premium catalogue.

SANDWICH FILLINGS.

Several Good Varieties That Are Worth Trying.

Every housewife is more or less interested in sandwich fillings. Here are several good ones worth trying:

Use walnuts, pecans, almonds or a mixture of the three. The addition of a few black walnuts gives a piquant flavor of which many people are fond. Brown or graham bread is nice for these sandwiches. The nuts are chopped quite fine. The bread is cut very thin, and on each slice is laid a lettuce leaf. A teaspoonful of rich mayonnaise dressing is spread over the lettuce, and this is sprinkled thickly with the chopped nuts. The top slice of the sandwich, after being lightly spread with butter, has also a spreading of mayonnaise dressing. Some people like a grating of Parmesan cheese with the nuts, and this can be used or not as desired. The garnishing of this dish should be leaves of delicate green lettuce and set in each a shelled half walnut.

The remains of cold fowl and of cold ham or tongue can be used up, the mixture being especially tasty. The meat in equal portions is put through a chopping machine until it is fine enough to be almost paste. Pepper and salt and a very tiny pinch of ground nutmeg are used for seasoning. The mixture should be wet with some strong chicken stock. If no stock is handy it should be well mixed with some good melted butter, sufficient to make it soft enough to spread easily. White bread, lightly buttered, is used for these sandwiches, which are cut in squares or diamond shapes.

Use the remains of cooked poultry, game or shellfish, cutting them into small, neat pieces. Lay the meat on thin slices of buttered toast. Spread with a thick sauce. For poultry or fish mayonnaise is preferable, while for game a thick white sauce is best. Garnish the tops of the sandwiches with white of egg and pickles chopped fine.

PARISIAN LAMP SHADE.

It Shows a Hand Painted Design on Silk, With Ribbon Bows.

The prety lamp shade shown in the illustration was designed in Paris and is presented because it is so easy of reproduction in home manufacture. This shade, which illustrates the vogue of hand painted decoration on candle and lamp screens, is made of plain pink silk, on which are painted graceful branches of dry wood. A deep ruche of pink silk trims the bottom of the shade, while the top is bordered with little green ribbon leaves matching the painted foliage. A new feature of the shade is the arrangement of ribbon. A bow of pink ribbon at the top of the shade has one long end, which is carried down to the lower edge and there fastened in a bow with fairly long ends.—Washington Star.

Laundry Irons.

Many people have been annoyed at finding their irons quite rusty after they have been put away for a few days. The way to prevent this happening is before you put them away to rub a little warm grease over them and then wrap them up in brown paper. When you take them out to use dip them in hot water that has had a small piece of soda dissolved in it, rub dry, and then put them to heat in the usual way. When they are ready to be used on the ironing board have a piece of brown paper with a little powdered bath brick on it and rub the surface of your irons with this. It seems rather a lengthy process, but it really does not take long to do it, and housewives will be rewarded for the trouble they have taken by finding the irons delightfully smooth and easy to use, and when they are like this the ironing can be done twice as quickly.

Homemade Cough Candy.

An excellent cough candy is made of slippery elm, flaxseed and sugar. Soak a gill of whole flaxseed in a cupful of boiling water. In another cup put broken bits of slippery elm bark until it is full. Cover this also with half a pint of boiling water and let it stand for two hours. Strain the flaxseed and slippery elm through a thin cloth and save the liquid. Add a pound and a half of granulated sugar to it. Boil this sirup for ten minutes. Add juice of lemons and boil until it forms candy. Test it from time to time by dropping a little in cold water. The moment it is done pour it on white paper, spread on biscuit tins and let it harden. As soon as it begins to cool, before it hardens, crease it with a knife so that it may easily be broken into lozenge shaped candles.

Use ordinary burlap to cover a screen and you will get a pretty effect if you first have the stuff dyed some appropriate color. When fastened to a frame the burlap will look as artistic as a more expensive material.

Books with delicate bindings, which have become soiled through much handling, can be satisfactorily cleaned by rubbing with chamois skin dipped in powdered pumice stone.

The one who wishes to gain flesh can never do so if she worries, is harassed or permits her nerves to get the better of her.

Milk changed from a cool atmosphere to a hot kitchen will sour in a very few minutes.

WOMAN'S WORLD

DR. E. M. ANDERSON.

Head of Women's Insane Department, Philadelphia Hospital.

Dr. E. M. Anderson is a woman with a high medical reputation in Philadelphia, where she holds a responsible and trying position under the municipal government.

Perhaps of all the positions the city can offer to women none calls forth the need of the womanly qualities of patience, tenderness and tact to such a degree as those dealing with the poor and unfortunate in the almshouse and the municipal hospital.

In these two places woman has found her sphere, and it is that of an angel of mercy and compassion. As every one knows, the berths in these institutions are not sinecures—the poor pay, the long hours, the disagreeable incidentals which are inseparable from such work, make them tests of sincerity and nobility of character.

No woman who is not deeply in earnest and attached to her calling for its own sake could endure the ordeal which Dr. Anderson, as chief physician in the woman's insane department at Blockley, has undergone for nearly ten years. Dr. Anderson graduated from the Woman's college in Philadelphia in 1893, and since then has devoted all her time to the study of lunacy in Philadelphia and in New York institutions.

She is ably assisted in her work by Dr. Elizabeth B. Brickner, who passed an examination qualifying her to hold the position as second physician in this department.

These two women, with Miss M. I. Clements, supervisor of the woman's insane wards, who has seventy-five nurses under her direction and nearly a thousand patients in various stages of insanity, have the entire care of this department, under the supervision of one of the heads of the institution.—Philadelphia North American.

You Can Cultivate a Pretty Foot.

All feet may not be naturally small, but all can be made to look small. All feet are not naturally slender, but all can be made to look slender. And all insteps can be made to look arched.

The woman who wants to make her foot look small should try to wear the high heel. At first it will make her muscles ache, but after a few days they will adjust themselves to the new state of affairs, and the high heel will be more comfortable than the low. It will support the instep better.

There are women who cannot wear high heels, and for them there is not very much hope. The feet will never look very small unless, indeed, they be naturally little.

If you want your feet to look small you must buy your shoes very carefully. Shoes ill bought will look big and ugly no matter how small they may be. The woman who wears a No. 4 shoe can, if she buys her shoes correctly, make her feet look as though they were clad in No. 2's. And the woman who wears a No. 3 can make her foot positively tiny. There is even hope for the woman with the No. 6.

"Don't settle down to a state of big feet even if yours happen to be large," says a dealer. "Select shoes with low vamps; wear your heels high and broad and don't forget that pointed toes are always good."

Crossing the knees is never permissible unless one be of the very petite type. The little girl of five feet one or two, slender as a reed bird and graceful as a little swan, can cross her knees and look pretty, but the tall girl cannot do this.

Crossing the feet is apt to be pretty if one does it prettily. It is a graceful thing to stretch out one's feet so as to show the line of the skirt and to cross the feet. This gives a very pretty pose, and one that makes the feet seem smaller.

Feet placed close together always look smaller than feet that are stretched wide apart. Feet placed at right angles to each other look smaller than feet that are placed side by side. Feet prettily posed in any position look smaller than feet carelessly posed or awkwardly placed.—Boston Traveler.

Her One Regret.

Some years ago there passed away one of those lovely souls whom we call "saints on earth." Her whole life had been one of inspiration and help to all around her, and her end was not less triumphant. One by one her friends were summoned to her bedside to receive her farewell blessing, and each felt as she left her that she had been on hallowed ground. One day her niece, who cared for her, said, "Oh, aunt, what a wonderful thing it is that you can look back over your long life and find that there is absolutely nothing you have ever done that could cause you regret!" The feeble old lady smiled a little sadly and said:

"But there are things I regret."

"You, aunt!" cried her niece, incredulous. "What could you find to regret?"

"I regret," she replied, "the good times I might have had and did not!"

There is a deep lesson in this. The conscientious housewife is apt to be a Martha, "cumbered with much serving," and in her absorption in her daily routine she lets the opportunities for change and recreation slip by her. This is a wrong to her household as well as to herself. She owes her family the cheering atmosphere that can only come from a happy, well balanced nature. To keep at her best the homemaker must have an outside stimulus, so begin the domestic year with the resolution that you will not let imaginary obstacles stand in the way of your enjoyment.—Harper's Bazar.

Dining Room Chairs.

Unless a dining room be finished in Gothic style, with massive sideboards to match, there is no reason for buying high backed dining room chairs. The present way of serving by having things passed at the left while the plate is withdrawn from the right is unhandy enough for both servant and person at table without a high backed chair to provide additional chances for trouble. People do not lean back at formal dinners, and low backed chairs that do not reach the shoulder are correct. In the simple home the prestige of larger chairs may be given to the father and mother at table, while if there be an invalid or aged person the stay at table should be made as comfortable as is possible by the use of cushions and shoulder rests.

Buttermilk a Beautifier.

Good buttermilk, the country cousin of the sophisticated, city dairy variety, is a sure charm to capture beauty. It should be welcomed both internally and externally, and its continued use will make beauty more than skin deep. A true milk peptone is the real buttermilk and is very easily digested. It is also a decided laxative, and for kidney trouble, diabetes and dyspepsia it has no rival in the drug store. Rheumatism flees before it and gall stones lose their sting if enough of it is taken. With one's "works" in good order the complexion naturally clears up, but even more swift is the return of rosy cheeks if the buttermilk is also applied externally.

Glass Candlesticks.

Glass candlesticks are much in demand. The pressed glass can be had at remarkably low prices, while the cut glass is not prohibitive in price. Many persons object to touching any brass object and also dislike the labor of cleaning brass. Glass is more desirable on this account and looks very pretty upon the dining table, either with or without shades. It is growing to be more and more a glass age. Glass shelves are used in cabinets and china closets, and in up to date bathrooms even the tub is of heavy glass.

Cleaning Knives.

After the knives have been washed and wiped moisten a little ordinary knife powder with water. Then take a clean cork, dip it in the mixture and rub each blade quickly up and down on both sides several times. Every stain will disappear, and the blades will be brighter than if rubbed on the board in the usual way. They will want another rinse in water and a final polish with a cloth. If the knives do not seem quite sharp enough by this plan, a weekly rub on the steel will do all that is required.

For Baby's Cot.

A very nice quilt may be made for baby's cot from some old shawls. Cut all worn parts away, join the pieces together flat, and cover both sides with cretonne. Then put tapes to each corner to tie to sides of cot, and you will have a very warm and exceedingly light quilt.

IN A CLASS BY ITSELF

There are many emulsions of Cod Liver Oil, all more or less good, no doubt, and all very much alike, the principal difference being in the quantity and quality of the oil that enters into their composition, and perhaps something in the method of manufacture.

FERROL

on the other hand, while it is an emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, occupies a place entirely above and beyond the ordinary preparations above referred to.

The reason is, that FERROL combines with the oil Iron and Phosphorus, which all other emulsions lack, and without which no emulsion is anywhere near perfect.

In FERROL the well-known virtues of Cod Liver Oil as a flesh and weight producer, the unparalleled qualities of Iron as a blood builder and purifier, as well as the undoubted advantages of Phosphorus as a Nerve and Brain tonic, are all not only combined and retained, but wonderfully enhanced by the process of amalgamation.

No argument is necessary to prove the inestimable value of such a preparation as FERROL in the treatment of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup and all Bronchial or Lung Troubles.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in the prominent Hospitals, Sanatoriums, etc.

SOME DISCLOSURES IN THE M'GILL INQUIRY YESTERDAY

Mr. Langton Left Bank Because of False Returns.

TELLS HOW IT CAME ABOUT

Became Suspicious Over Notice Posted In Directors' Book In 1903 Ordering That All Purchases and Sales of Securities Reported to Board —Mr. Ames Tells of Managers Speculating In Margins.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The somewhat startling declaration was made in the Police Court yesterday morning that it was not unusual for bank managers to buy stock on margin.

Mr. A. E. Ames, who was the only witness called in the McGill enquete, and whose examination consumed the entire morning, made the statement.

Thereat Magistrate Denison pricked up his ears and sought for additional information. But Mr. Ames qualified his position by adding that under exceptional conditions a manager might be justified in so doing. He left it to be inferred that the practice was not as widespread as he had at first intimated.

A Telling Tabular Statement.

Figures were produced by Crown Attorney Corley indicating just how Mr. McGill's alleged peculations occurred. The tabular statement showed each of the so-called investments and the investments and the amount swallowed up in each.

Mr. Ames again made it clear that on Aug. 10, when the $136.000 his firm was supposed to owe McGill was written off, his firm was under no such obligation, although he refused to affirm in precise terms the magistrate's view that McGill knew his statement in this connection to be false. At the date mentioned McGill owed the firm $37,861.91.

Cleaned Up $49,000; Lost $19,000.

The Ontario Bank, in its own name, entered into a large syndicate in 1903 for the purchase of Twin City Rapid Transit Co., cleaning up $49,000. The bank also worked in a syndicate in Consolidated Lake Superior, losing $19,000.

Transfer Clerk Chenoweth stated he had been instructed, on Sept. 10 last, to mark off as a loss $125,000 entered as a purchase of Long Island Railway bonds, which, Mr. Ames says, are of "substantial value."

McGill also gave instructions to wipe off $229,000, invested in United States Railway bonds, and $15,000 in Minneapolis and St. Louis, preferred, which, up to Sept. 10, had been carried as good assets.

Mr. Langton Suspicious.

"I don't know how much or how little the directors know. I had my own suspicions."

It was J. W. Langton, formerly an accountant in the Ontario Bank, who delivered himself as above at the afternoon proceedings.

Mr. Langton entered the service of the Ontario Bank in 1889, and continued in it for some years under the McGill regime. He was aware of the margin stock speculations of the manager, but kept his own counsel on this, as on other disturbing matters, up to the hour of his appearing on the stand yesterday.

As accountant he had a share in the preparation of the Government reports from month to month. Like Chenoweth he acted under instructions from McGill in the transfer of large amounts to the current loans column. He did so with growing uneasiness, for he suspected that he was being made use of to cover up that which the world did not know and which might have caused a run on the bank.

Refused to Obey.

In May of 1903 he was called upon by McGill to shift an amount of $597,780 from the railway debentures account to current loans. He knew the transfer was a piece of juggling, but McGill undertook to assume the responsibility if the occasion arose. Then came the last straw a little later, in the form of a request from McGill for Langton's signature to a transfer of funds to a New York stock-broking firm. He declined, and his resignation soon followed.

Dalton Gladman, receiving teller and M. J. Quigley, paying teller, at the Yonge street branch of the Ontario Bank, told of cheques for $2,300, $1,500 and $1,000, drawn by A. E. Ames & Co., having been cashed by McGill.

Thamesford, Nov. 10.—Robert Knox, a young retired farmer, yesterday morning was leading a horse, which bolted, dragging him off his feet and through the orchard. When found he was unconscious, having received severe wounds about the head, only regaining consciousness a short time before death.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 10.—Captain Griffin of the wrecked steamer Princess Victoria was acquitted by Judge Henderson yesterday of the charge of manslaughter in connection with the Chehalis disaster.

COMING WONDER OF THE WORLD A FIGHTING MACHINE

Nations' View of Armaments In More Civilized Days.

MILLIONS FOR FIGHTING

Britain Must Maintain Efficient Armaments, Although War Secretary Haldane Regards the Conditions Which Create the Necessity Relic of Barbarity — Duty of Christian Nation Limited.

London, Nov. 10.—Sir William Treloar's term of office as Lord Mayor of London was inaugurated yesterday with the time-honored pageant, but the usual symbolical care were eliminated from the procession, which was representative of the civic history of London for the past seven centuries, each century being represented by a figure depicting the most famous lord mayor of the period, surrounded by his retinue, garbed in the dress of the period.

Britain's Defence Force.

At the lord mayor's banquet last night in the Guild Hall, responding to the toast, "The Imperial Services," War Secretary Haldane said that he and the first lord of the admiralty, Lord Tweedmouth, realized it was a solemn duty on their part not to diminish the country's fighting force by one whit.

It was the duty of a Christian people, the speaker continued, to set an example by reducing the expenditures for armaments, but unless they had a response from other nations, this was impossible.

The speaker hoped the time would come when nations would look back upon these days as a period of barbarism, and wonder why they had spent millions in this manner.

Great Britain's Duty.

But until that time arrived, it was in the interest of peace itself that no nation let down its strength, and it was the duty of Great Britain to maintain its fighting efficiency.

The Marquis of Ripon, replied to the toast, "His Majesty's Ministers." He expressed the Government's satisfaction that it had been able to continue the foreign policy of Lord Lansdowne, and said he was glad to be able to declare, after consultation with Sir Edward Grey, that at the present, all indications pointed toward peace.

"We wish to be, and we believe we are," said the Marquis of Ripon, "on friendly terms with all nations."

AMBUSHED TEXAS RANGERS.

Body of Armed Mexicans Attacking Come to Grief Thereby.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 10.—A despatch from Laredo, Texas, says:

Four Texas Rangers sent to Rio Grande City to quiet turbulent political conditions there and investigate the assassination of District Judge Welch, which occurred the night before the election, were ambushed by a body of armed Mexicans between Fordyce and Rio Grande City late Thursday night.

The Rangers were asleep in camp when awakened by a volley of shots from the darkness. A pitched battle ensued and four of the attacking party were killed, one fatally wounded and two captured. The Rangers escaped unscathed.

There are reports here of continued rioting at Rio Grande City, the extent of which is not now known.

FLED FROM THEIR HOMES.

Five Fires In New York Which Were Very Disastrous.

New York, Nov. 10.—One woman is dead, a man is in a hospital suffering from severe burns, 2,000 fled from their homes in panic and thousands more passed a sleepless night as a result of a series of incendiary fires in the two blocks bounded by Sixtieth and Sixty-First streets and Columbus and West End avenues early yesterday.

Scores of persons whose lives were endangered by flames or choking smoke were rescued by firemen. Many of the rescues were of a highly sensational character.

In all there were five fires, every one of them incendiary, between midnight and 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The loss was about $20,000.

Jail Governor Relieved.

Sandwich, Nov. 10.—William Sparks, governor of the county jail, has been notified by Sheriff Iler of his removal from office to take effect Nov. 30. Governor Sparks' dismissal is the direct result of the suicide in the jail of Chris Spindleman, who was awaiting examination for murdering his wife last July. Spindleman strangled himself in his cell with his shoe laces. John Harmon, of Windsor, is the man selected to succeed Governor Sparks.

SURRENDER TOO LARGE TO SUIT MORTIMER DURAND

Modus Vivendi May Have Caused Durand's Resignation.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

Conceivable That Liberal Government Did Not See Eye to Eye With Britain's Ambassador to U. S.—Does Not Feel Like Signing the Final Agreement — What Premier Deakin Hopes Yet To See.

London, Nov. 10.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Post, seeking reasons for Sir Mortimer Durand's unexpected retirement, says, as a man of wide imperial spirit, who, during the last three years, has made a special point of cultivating Canada and Newfoundland and impressing upon them that he is as much their representative as England's, it is conceivable that Newfoundland's modus vivendi struck him as surrendering too much, and that he did not feel able to put his signature to the final agreement on those lines.

In other words, there may have been considerable difference of opinion between himself and the Liberal Government over a matter of real political moment.

What Deakin Hopes to See.

At Melbourne, Premier Deakin said Australia did not accept any responsibility for the New Hebrides agreement, but would carry it out loyally and completely. At the same time he hoped when the Panama Canal was completed the Union Jack would float over all available points in the Pacific.

Wrecked On Goodwin's Sands.

The schooner Island, from Cardiff for Newfoundland with coal, was wrecked on the Goodwin's Sands. The captain twice essayed to cross the Atlantic; then went back to Norway for repairs; on the third attempt he was wrecked.

Leaves Million to Boys' Homes.

C. E. Fulford of Brockville, Ont., who died at Sydney, New South Wales, Aug. 26, left an estate in England of £67,187. He has left 20 per cent. of his interest in Bile Beans and Pink Pills, supposed to be at least £100,000, to Dr. Barnardo's homes.

Takes Durand's Place.

London, Nov. 10.—Esme William Howard, British consul-general in the Island of Crete, has been appointed to the recently created post of councillor of the British embassy at Washington, and will be acting ambassador during the interim pending the appointment of a successor to Sir Mortimer Durand.

Closing of Erie Canal.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The Erie, Champlain, Oswego, Cayuga and Seneca and Black River canals will be officially closed to navigation at 12 o'clock midnight of Wednesday, Nov. 28. This is the date on which the canals were closed last year.

Galt's Semi-Centennial.

"SAVINGS"

In Harvest time the farmer gather the fruits of his labours and lays by a portion for the winter—the time when all is going out and nothing coming in. This suggests the opportunity to all wage-earners and others of taking advantage of their "harvest time" (that is their earning period) to lay by a portion of their income for "life's winter" when the earning power ceases and expenses continue.

to find a million of money for like objects. Mr. Holmes is negotiating for the purchase of 17 acres of land at Totteridge, whereon to erect homes — a kind of almshouses — for occupation of broken down, poor women who had been employed in match-box making and other like arduous forms of city labour. It was hoped that there would eventually arise a small Garden City for the benefit of these poor folk, who would be thus enabled to spend the closing years of their lives of struggle in peace and comfort amid cheerful surroundings.

SCOTLAND

While two Ardnamurchan (Argyllshire) fishermen, James Cameron, Oddie, and his son, were returning recently from the fishing grounds, the stern of the rowing boat was struck suddenly by a denizen of the deep. The sea was broken into foam and the men fancied at first that they had fouled an unknown rock. Before the vessel, which was well laden with fish, had quite regained its equilibrium the monster had forged ahead and made its appearance alongside in the angle made by the starboard oar and the gunwale. Raising its ungainly form to a height of about four feet above the water it made a leisurely survey of the haddocks and other fish which the boat contained. It loomed dark, repulsive and formidable in the pale light of the moon. As it seemed prepared to attack the frail craft, Cameron jumped in horror to his feet and incontinently shipped his oar. This action seemed to alarm the unwelcome intruder. With a plunge and a huge splash it vanished beneath the surface and was seen no more. The aggressive brute is believed to have been a specimen of the Greenland shark which occasionally strays to British waters.

Towards the end of the year 1904 the steamer Nat was wrecked on the Morayshire coast, and among the seamen drowned was one supposed to be a man belonging to a burgh near Glasgow. Some six or eight weeks prior to this event a man residing in the burgh suddenly disappeared from his home, leaving his wife and friends to lament his absence. Vigorous search was made for the discovery of his whereabouts, but all to no purpose. His wife concluded that the drowned seaman was her husband, and her suspicions were confirmed on examination of a pair of socks found on the body which were similar to those worn by her husband. Recently she became acquainted with a respectable tradesman, who, believing her to be a widow, proposed marriage and was accepted. The wedding took place. Four days afterwards the missing husband appeared on the scene, and the poor woman's consternation may well be imagined. On hearing of his wife's recent marriage she remarked that—"It is all right; I will have nothing more to do with her," and so saying he once more mysteriously disappeared, giving no explanation of his former desertion.

One of Scotland's well known inventors died recently in the person of Mr. James Judge, who was born in Glasgow, in 1850. Mr. Judge was an inventor of some ingenious mechanical devices—18 in all—amongst them being a fog-signalling apparatus which is used very extensively in railway work, and an electrical quick-firing gun, which, whilst advanced well towards completion, yet remains unfinished, owing to his indifferent health during the last few years. Mr. Judge invented, also, an apparatus by which, in consequence of the pressure of air, the watertight doors in a vessel's bulkheads were automatically closed on the inrush of water through the sides or bottom. He had great hopes for his quick-firing gun, in which the impetus was given not by an explosive, but by the momentum imparted from a rapidly revolving wheel, which threw out a continual stream of projectiles at the speed at which the circumference of the wheel was rotating.

A sensation was caused recently by the sudden appearance of the police on the stage of the Queen's Theatre, a popular music hall in the centre of Glasgow. Several artists had appeared, and the performance was in full swing when the deputy chief constable walked on the stage, while simultaneously a small body of policemen took possession of the auditorium. Consternation ensued among the audience, the band ceased playing, and amid silence the deputy chief constable gravely announced that he was armed with a warrent to clear the theatre at once. He further stated that the management had no license with which to conduct a music hall, and it was his duty to remove every one from its precincts. Considerable uproar occurred among the audience, many of whom clamoured for the return of their admission money.

A wife shot dead in bed and the seemingly demented husband parading the countryside are the chief facts of a melancholy affair that alarmed the villagers at Auchonoairn, near Castle-Douglas, Kirkcudbrightshire, a few days ago. John Graham said to a boy, "I have shot my wife; for God's sake, come and shoot me." The boy fled and raised an alarm, but Graham, who was in a highly excited state, walked into the village and called at one of the inns. He said his wife had committed suicide. From the inn he proceeded towards the police office, and was arrested on the way. Mrs. Graham was found lying dead in bed. The left side of her head was completely blown away. The walls were splashed with blood, and a splinter of a bone from the woman's skull was found on a chair.

The great thrift of the Scottish nation is exemplified by recent savings banks returns. With practically only one-seventh of the population of England and Wales, Scotland has more than one-third the number of the trustee savings banks in existence south of the Tweed. England and Wales have 151 banks, with £31,378,000 owing to depositors; Scotland 59, with £18,212,000 owing to depositors; Ireland, 12, with £2,488,000 owing. The figures for Ireland are very significant. With a population equal to that of Scotland, one has only one-fifth of the number of trustee savings banks, and less than one-seventh of depositors' savings.

IRELAND

A strange kidnapping case in Dublin has had a sequel which enhances the singularity of the story. A little girl named Ogilvie, was carrying her 14-months old brother home, accompanied by another brother aged two, when a fashionably dressed lady gave the two elder children money to buy some sweets with, and while they ran with it to the sweet shop, she disappeared with the baby. The affair created considerable excitement and elaborate inquiries entirely failed to trace either kidnapper or kidnapped. A few days ago another member of the Ogilvie family, a boy of 14, was standing in a street, when a fashionably dressed lady carrying a beautifully attired child, stopped before him, and having got him to call a cab, pushed him into it, handed him the child, with the injunction to be very careful with it, and told him to leave it at the address to which the cabman would drive. The lady then paid the cabby, and having told him to drive to the address of the Ogilvies, she disappeared. The beautifully-dressed child turned out to be the missing baby Ogilvie, into the charge of whose brother, by an extraordinary coincidence, it had been handed over by the mysterious lady.

An amusing strike, essentially Irish in character, on the part of fifteen drapery assistants, occurred recently at Messrs. Boyers and Company, drapers, Dublin. Some three weeks ago it is alleged, one of the firm's employees, falsified returns in stock-taking in order to get another man dismissed. This action was discovered, and he himself had to leave. Two days afterwards twenty-one of the members of the staff, presented a petition to the firm, demanding the immediate reinstatement of the man, and threatening to go out on strike unless this were done. On the head of the firm refusing their request, the assistants apologized and consented that a certain number of them should be dismissed. Two days later an assistant was dismissed for insubordination, and on the following day fifteen of his colleagues presented another petition demanding his reinstatement, otherwise they would go out on strike. As their demand was refused, the fifteen assistants promptly struck.

A sensation has been created in Belfast by the action of the city council in appointing an ex-councillor as medical officer of health. This gentleman is a local medical practitioner, without any practical experience in the work of his new office, and only got the diploma of public health on the eve of his retirement from the council in order to become a candidate. Although his appointment was a foregone conclusion the council went through the farce of advertising the vacancy and bringing candidates over from England and Scotland. It is notorious that Belfast especially needs to have as the head of its sanitary administration a thoroughly well-qualified and experienced man.

Remarkable statements were recently made by Mr. Walker before the Royal Commission into the condition of the congested districts of Ireland. Mr. Walker said that the people could not possibly be educated when they were hired as herds almost as soon as they could talk. All the education the children received was that snatched in the winter months when the cows were indoors. Children had been taken from their homes and hired at a distant part of Donegal when they were only six years of age. He had known them to be sent out even when they were four years old.

THE COLONIES

A remarkable instance of native superstition recently occurred in Burma, India. Near Moulmein, where there is a large lake, the villagers have been greatly alarmed at an outbreak of fever. One day as some of them were going to their work they saw the trail of an unusually large snake. They followed the trail and eventually found themselves in front of a certain house, on the roof of which the reptile lay coiled. They attacked the snake and broke its back. It was an unusually large snake, its body being at least a foot in circumference. Then, it is said, something wonderful happened. The calm waters of the lake began to bubble up and turn green, blue, red and yellow. The whole village witnessed the occurrence in fear and trembling. At length one of the onlookers became possessed by a spirit, and told the villagers that they had beaten and offended the snake, which was sent to destroy the cause of the fever. The good people were promptly convinced that the snake was of supernatural origin, and that by killing it they had alienated the good will of the spirits. Tenderly and lovingly they took up the reptile and placed it in the jungle. Every house performed a propitiatory ceremony, and the smoke moved away. Then the agitated waters became calm and assumed their wonted colour, the patients suffering from the fever became well, and the outbreak was stayed.

A murder case recalls a page from a sensational romance was recently committed on the Grand Trunk Road, near Cawnpore, India. The victim was a police inspector attached to an outlying station on the road, and was himself the instigator of the crime. His death was due to a mistake made by two fellow conspirators. A traveller arrived at the place and having sought lodgings with the inspector confided to him that he was anxious about the safety of a large sum of money which he had with him. Some days afterwards he observed two men digging near the house, and overheard a remark which aroused his suspicions and led him to suspect the excavation was intended for his grave. He was unable to obtain help on the spot, and abandoning his bags he left the house, and after travelling some distance along the road hid himself in the branches of a tree. It appeared that the inspector who had drunk considerably during the day, lay down on the bed which had been provided for the traveller and fell asleep. The conspirators entered the station late at night and not finding the inspector, decided to execute the murder in his absence. They went to the inspector's quarters and having obtained his sword entered the bedroom, where, in the darkness they hacked the sleeping man to pieces. When they discovered their mistake they hurriedly buried the murdered man in the prepared grave, and removed the traces of the crime. Next morning 5 European officers accompanied by a few men, passed down the road on a visit to the station, and the traveller descending from his siding place disclosed what had happened. The conspirators were placed under arrest.

With Eastern pomp and circumstance the Ameer to Afghanistan will make a tour of Northern India during the coming winter in order to demonstrate his friendship with England. A gorgeous retinue of 1500 persons will accompany the Ameer, who has never before left his own country. The Indian Government will provide a military escort of two thousand men, consisting of horse, foot and artillery. The tour will include the chief towns of Northern India, as well as Bombay and Calcutta. In Nepaul, the finest big-game country in India, the Affhan monarch will have some exciting sport. In each province through which the Ameer passes the principal chiefs will join his suite, adding their picturesque personalities. The whole affair will make a spectacle of splendour which is only possible in the east.

Especially For Women

FRUIT-A-TIVES are the finest medicine in the world for women.

As a mild and gentle laxative—as a positive and speedy cure for Constipation and Biliousness—as the only cure for weak and irritated kidneys and especially for "that pain in the back"—as a positive cure for headaches—and as a general tonic to build up and invigorate the whole system — FRUIT-A-TIVES stand supreme.

In cases of irritated Ovaries, Ovarian Pains, Vaginal Catarrh, Excessive and Scanty Menstruation, Ulcerations, Bearing Down Pains—and all those troubles peculiar to women—have the most remarkable effect.

Fruit-a-tives

Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of Female Troubles are due to neglect. Bowels become constipated — kidneys irregular — skin neglected — and the poisons of the body, which should be carried off by these important organs, are taken up by the blood carried to the female organs and poison them, thus starting up a train of female troubles.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are made from fruits and by their remarkable action on bowels, kidneys and skin, rid the system of poisons, purify the blood, and restore the delicate organs of generation to new vigor and health.

No woman, who suffers, should ever be without them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, at your druggist's or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED - OTTAWA.

THE PRISONER CONVICTED BY HIS SPELLING

His Consistency in Making Mistakes in Spelling Proves the Undoing of a Perjurer in Scranton.

(Examiner Special.)

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 10. — H. P. Schloss was convicted of perjury in the United States court here to-day by his bad spelling. Schloss is charged with bankruptcy, which he denies. A letter which was offered in evidence proved him guilty, but he denied that he had written it. He was directed to write as dictated. In the letter, of which Schloss denied the authorship, the words "probably" and "truly" appeared, but they were spelled "probly" and "truely." These words were in the article dictated to him, and were misspelled in exactly the same way. Later, in the proceedings, counsel for Schloss admitted that his client had written the letter.

A TWO MINUTE WOOING ENDED IN A WEDDING

Introduced and Engaged in Almost the Same Breath in Braddock, Pa.

(Examiner Special.)

Braddock, Pa., Nov. 10.—Randolph Weinhofer, a young merchant of this city, and Miss Anna Mosier, 23 years old, met last night, and two minutes after they were introduced Weinhofer asked the girl to marry him. They were so fascinated with each other that they took a stroll, and long after everybody had gone home Weinhofer and Miss Mosier walked the streets, blissfully unconscious of time. A cold-hearted policeman met them at 4 o'clock and took them to the police station.

Mayor Edgar J. Little heard their story and discharged them, and at daybreak they went to the residence of a rabbi and were married.

These Turkeys Cost Dearly

Hunters Who Did Not Confine Shooting to Wild Fowl.

A couple of weeks ago a raffle was held near Tweed and, as might be expected, a good many came home without any game. There were however, four young men whose luck was against them who were not satisfied to go home empty handed so they proceeded to a neighbouring farmer's poultry shed where they secured two very good turkeys and also shot a couple more. Evidently they thought the joke so good that they could not keep it to themselves and the owner of the turkeys soon learned the names of those who had made a midnight visit to his chicken coop. He at once interviewed the young men who were so badly frightened that they put up nine dollars for their two turkeys. It is just possible that the turkeys might be seen around the powder works, at any rate further information may be obtained from some of the employees there.—Tweed News.

York

Sparkling Water ("SPARKS") is ideally pure spring water charged with purified carbonic gas. Its constant use as a beverage will surely give you a better digestion, a stronger stomach, and healthier blood. No water you ever drank is quite so refreshing, so zestful, so wholesome.

York Sparks quite lacks the salty taste common to imported charged waters; it does not change flavor in the slightest when mixed with spirits, but improves their taste while diluting their strength.

Bottled At The Springs For Surety of Purity

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

FRED. GELINAS,

Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, November 2, 1906.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department will not be paid for it. 1907.

PETERBOROUGH SATURDAY NOVEMBER 10 1906

NEARLY HALF MILLION DOLLARS FOR CHEESE THIS SEASON

This is the Unprecedented Record for the Peterborough Cheese Board for the Season of 1906.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY

Some Interesting Facts Concerning Season Just Closed — 1,919 Tons of Cheese Manufactured.

Twelve sales held during the season of 1906.

Number of boxes sold amounted to 45,389.

Averaging 85 pounds to the box, this amounts to 3,839,807 pounds, or over 1,919 tons.

The opening price was 11 5-8 cents and the closing, 12 1-2 cents. The lowest price for the season was 10 11-16, and the highest, 13 1-8 cents.

The amount of money (estimated) paid to patrons of the factories in this district for the season was no less than $464,300.51.

During the past season the patrons of the cheese factories represented on the Peterborough Cheese Board received no less a sum then $464,300.51 for the product sold on this board. This is, by a considerable margin, the largest amount ever received for cheese during any one season by factory patrons on this board, and is a striking evidence of the fact that the dairy industry is making great strides not only in the province as a whole, but in this county, in which, after all, the people of this city are more deeply interested, and with a very good reason, because the more money the farmers receive for their product, the more they are likely to leave in the city.

An Important Industry.

Peterborough, therefore has a very practical interest in the prosperity of the dairy industry, and the Examiner predicts that few articles will be read with deeper interest by those who are trying to build up the city along industrial lines than this short review of the past season, so far as it relates to the cheese industry, in the district covered by the Peterborough Cheese Board.

The past season, as those who have had to buy cheese know—to their sorrow—and as those who had it to sell, knew—and the knowledge was pleasant—has been a most successful one from the standpoint of the factory owner and the patron. Never before in the history of Canada has there been such a demand at such good prices, for the Canadian made cheese. Commencing right at the beginning of the season, the price went to a good figure, 11 5-8 cents being the ruling price for the opening sale, and until the last meeting of the board, when 12 1-2 cents per pound was paid, the price has been higher than in any preceding year. The quantity of cheese sold, however, has not been as great, due, chiefly to the fact that the dry summer, particularly towards the latter end, made pasture difficult to secure and as a result the flow of milk was affected.

Some Figures.

A review of the records of the cheese board meetings gives some decidedly interesting information. In the twelve meetings held during the last season, 45,389 boxes were boarded, and the greater number were sold on the board, in only a few cases cheese being sold after the meeting closed. Assuming that each box weighed 85 pounds, which is the average weight, the total number of pounds of cheese sold amounted to 3,839,807, or, expressed in tons, it was over 1,919. Taking the ruling price at the twelve board meetings for the season the quantity of cheese would bring to the patrons of this district no less a sum than $464,300.51, or nearly half a million dollars, which was divided among the progressive farmers in this section.

A Good Reputation.

The Peterborough Cheese Board has a good reputation in dairy circles, and there is always a sharp competition among the buyers for the cheese sold on the local board, which may be taken as an indication that the exporters have few complaints on the quality of the product manufactured by local factories.

Local Buyer.

This season, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of this city was a new buyer on the board, taking the place of Mr. G. W.

A $30 Pasture Field Develops Into Rich Mine

A Romance Connected With the Edarado Copper Mine in North Hastings County.

Land Was Once in Dispute and Was Sold for $30—$15,000 Has Been Refused.

(Examiner Special.)

Bancroft, Nov. 10. — Highly satisfactory reports continue to be received from the North Hastings mining region. The smelter at the Eldorado copper mine, iis running steadily on 12 per cent. ore, and three cars of matte, valued at $18,000, were shipped to New York a few weeks ago.

A Romance.

This mine, which is now a most profitable producer, and the vein in which is increasing in width, has a romantic history. During the gold excitement, two neighbours who lived near the spot where the mine was discovered, had a quarrel, and the lot being sold for taxes one of the two bought it in order to prevent his enemy from pasturing his cow on it, as he had been doing for some time. The price paid was $30.

Iron and Copper.

There is a deposit of hematite ore on an eminence on the lot, and as there were indications of copper at the foot of the hill, a company was formed to mine for that material, but gave it up in disgust after a shaft had been dug and a lot of money dropped.

Almost Struck Rich.

It now proves, through the discovery of this old working by the present working that had the operators of forty years ago gone only three feet deeper, they would have struck it richer, as the bottom of their working was within a yard of the vein. The original purchaser sold to Mr. A. W. Coe of Madoc for $300, and Mr. Coe who worked out the hematite deposits, refused $15,000 for the lot.

ROYAL BANK OPENS TO PUBLIC ON MONDAY

A Strong Financial Institution Will be Located in This City.

OFFICES IN SODEN'S FORMER STORE

The Royal Bank of Canada, the latest of Peterborough's banking institutions will throw open its doors to the public on Monday in the premises recently occupied by R. J. Soden. Mr. J. W. Fulton, who has been here for two weeks making arrangements for the opening, will be manager temporarily. With him will be Mr. F. W. Simpson, of Peterborough, who will act as ledger keeper. Mr. Graham Ferguson, formerly of Peterborough, who has been a member of the staff of the Ottawa Bank at Hawkesbury, and Mr. R. Muirhead, of Montreal. The arrangement of the bank fittings is only temporary as it is the intention to employ both the premises vacated by Mr. Soden and the other store, which has been used as a barber shop.

The Royal Bank is one of the strongest banking institutions of Canada, and as the stability of a bank is reflected in the confidence of its depositors, the growth of the Royal deposits since its incorporation, is shown by the following figures:—

1875	870,000
1880	1,230,000
1885	1,750,000
1890	3,240,000
1895	6,760,000
1900	12,000,000
1905	26,500,000
1906	28,000,000

NONE COULD BE BETTER.

NO. 36.

On Hallowe'en, boys in jovial state,
Ran up Rubidge street and took a gate,
Next morning the owner, very mad
Rushed to the Exam. and put in an ad.
In twenty-four hours or while you say Dennis,
The gate was returned to Robert Ennis,
"An Exam. ad.", none could be better,
Was proven by Robert Ennis' letter.

MR. G. A. GILLESPIE
the New Buyer on the Peterborough Cheese Board this season. He has bought the greater part of the cheese offered at the local Board.

PRACTICAL EVIDENCES OF ITS EFFICIENCY

The last few days have been great days for the Examiner want ad. columns, fresh evidence having been furnished of the efficiency of this column as an advertising medium. This morning a telephone message was received from a lady who had lost a fur muff of considerable value, but who took the right course to secure its return—advertised in the Examiner—asking this office to discontinue the advertisement, there was no further need for it, the muff having been returned. She also wished to express her pleasure and satisfaction over the result of her first experience with this column's use. This is, however, by no means the only evidence of its value furnished during the last few days. A valuable grey fur ruff was lost—its return was also secured through the Examiner. A collie pup strayed away from home, and the owner recorded its loss in the paper. It is now temporarily domiciled at 83 Aylmer street, where the owner may have it. At 553 Rogers street there is a goat coat which was lost and is found—the finding process having been effected through the use of the Examiner want column. At this address the owner will find it.

WANT WELLER TAKEN TO HIS NATIVE LAND

Home-Sick Swain, It is Feared, May Do Some Damage If He Remains Here.

Tom Weller, the romantic personage, who figured in the hold up in Douro last week, and who was sentenced to thirty days in jail for his misconduct, will probably be deported back to England. The people in Douro and in Otonabee whom he frightened almost to death, are still in a state of fear that he should escape jail to carry out some of his threats. It is therefore quite probable that he may be sent back to England as soon as his term in prison has expired.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY GAVE ENJOYABLE TEA

At the Residence of Mrs. Frank Pakenham Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of St. Andrew's church, held a most enjoyable at home at the residence of Mrs. Frank Packenham, 264 Rubidge. Mrs. Packenham is a member and an active worker in the society and her kindness in giving her home for the use of the society in this connection, was appreciated.

Tea was served from 4 to 6 o'clock to the large number of ladies, who in spite of the disagreeable weather accepted the invitation of the society.

During the afternoon Mrs. Charles McClelland and Miss Ethel Hunter gave enjoyable musical numbers.

Peterborough Man In A Rich Cobalt Property

Mr. G. G. Gladman is Vice President of Huronian-Cobalt Silver Mining Company—A Great Mine.

Was Offered Big Figure for the Property but the Company Considered It Was Good Enough to Keep.

Mr. G. G. Gladman, a former resident of this city where he is still well known, and where he is at present spending a few days has been successful in his work as a silver mining promoter. He is now vice-president of the Huronian-Cobalt Silver Mining Company, a new company with a valuable mining property located in Coleman township, in the now famous Cobalt region. The company is capitalized at $500,000, but at the present time only $30,000 worth of stock is being issued. During Mr. Gladman's visit to Peterborough he will dispose of some of this stock. He will be a guest at the National Hotel.

Mr. Gladman is naturally very enthusiastic over not only the prospects for his mine, but for the whole of the Cobalt district, which he says is very rich, and, he believes, destined to be one of the greatest mining districts on the globe. He is convinced that investments in good properties there will result in most satisfactory returns.

Associated with Mr. Gladman in the Huronian-Cobalt mine are Messrs. C. A. Philips, President of the Company and A. B. Begg, treasurer. These gentlemen are regarded in the Parry Sound district, where they are well known, as shrewd business men, and their word is implicitely trusted.

The company was, a few days ago, offered a handsome figure for a controlling interest in the property, which was promptly refused, the company preferring to hold it and develop it themselves. It is probable that Mr. Gladman will interest a number of Peterborough capitalists in his company, the stock in which will be sold on the instalment basis.

A few days ago a report was received from the superintendent of the mine, and this report is said to have been of a very encouraging nature.

LIFT LOCK CLOSED A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

To-day the Last Lockages of the Busiest Season Are Made.

NO DELAY TO NAVIGATION DURING SEASON

To-day the Peterborough Lift Lock is experiencing its last day's business for the season of 1906, and to-night the lock will be closed to navigation until next spring. The present season, as has already been stated in these columns, has been an extremely satisfactory one, so far as the operation of the lock is concerned. Since it was opened in the spring it has not been found necessary to close it once for repairs to the lock. The volume of traffic, too, passing over the lock this season is considerably in excess of that of any of the three seasons since it has been in commission.

Traffic Increases.

There has been a steady increase during these years, and, it is confidently expected that with the opening of the canal to Lake Simcoe next season, the traffic will still continue to grow. The freight traffic is, of course, the principal business of the canal, and during the latter part of this season there has been a considerable increase from this source, the cement shipments from Lakefield to this city forming a large proportion of the volume of business.

A Busy week.

The last week has been a particularly busy one for the staff of the lock, the steamboat owners evidencing a desire to get all their business finished before the close of navigation. Some very large shipments of wood have been coming from the north country to this city, and these will, it is expected, relieve what might have developed into a wood famine.

Inhabitants from the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, in the St. Lawrence, are locating in the Temiskaming district.

Late Mrs. Dunsford's Will Makes Provision for Husband's Relatives

Some of the Provisions of a Will Which Gives Evidence of Deceased Lady's Generosity.

TWO SISTERS GET ANNUITIES

$200 Given to Canon Davidson for Charity — Estate Worth More Than $38,000.

The will of the late Clara Dunsford, relict of the late George Dunsford, of this city, who died at Llandudno, Wales, on Sept. 21st, 1906, has been probated in the Surrogate Court of the county and contains some interesting provisions. The property of deceased is valued at $38,253.39, divided as follows: household goods and implements, $400; cash on hand $111.35; cash in bank, $522.04; silver, etc., $70; real estate $37,150.

The Bequests.

The property is bequeathed as follows: Margaret Ellis, sister, Peterborough, one-half household furniture and clothing and annuity of $600.

Mary Roseborough, sister, Canajoharie, N.Y., one-half of household furniture and clothing and annuity of $425, should husband predecease her.

William Harris Dunsford, no relation, silverware with Dunsford initials or same, and one-ninth share of rents and income.

Bev. Boyd, no relation, Toronto, silverware with Crowdy crest on same and one-ninth share of rents and income.

Ellen Langton, no relation, Toronto, one-ninth share of rents and income.

Mary McEwan, no relation, Toronto, one-ninth share of rents and income.

Amy Jane Dunsford, no relation, Montreal, one-ninth share of rents and income.

Unmarried daughters of late Jas. W. Dunsford, one-ninth share of rents and income.

Children of brother, Daniel Gamble, Ocara, Fla., all interest of deceased in estate of late John Gamble.

Charitable Purposes

Rev. John C. Davidson, Peterborough, legacy $200.

To the executors is given $200 to be invested and the interest used to keep the plots in the Little Lake cemetery, in which the late husband of the deceased and his father and mother are buried, in good order, or the executors may pay this sum to the Little Lake Cemetery Company provided that the company undertake to keep the plots in good repair.

The executors are also empowered to expend $350 in the purchase and erection of a monument on the plot to the memory of the late husband of deceased, the monument to be of grey granite, in the shape of a Celtic cross.

To Rev. John C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church, is given $200, to be used for such purposes as he shall think fit.

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation are the executors of the will, and to them are given in trust the property, the income and rents which are to be divided, or in the case of the property being sold, the division is to be made on the same basis among the following persons, and the survivors or survivor of them, namely, Mary Roseborough, Margaret Gamble, William Harris Dunsford, Henry John Wickham, Ellen Langton, Mary McEwan, Ben. Boyd, Amy Jane Dunsford, wife of Mary Dunsford, also Carrie Baumfelder and the unmarried daughters of the late Jas. W. Dunsford.

The will states, "and I direct my said trustees upon the death of all the said beneficiaries who are entitled to share in such rents and income, to convey, transfer and hand over the trust property then held by them to the oldest son of the said William Harris Dunsford, and in case there should be no person answering that description, to convey, transfer and hand over the same to the then oldest son of Hartley Boucher Dunsford, and in case there should be no person answering that description, then to the oldest son of John Dunsford, son of Hartley Dunsford.

A codicil to the will, signed June 14th, 1906, enacts as follows:

I hereby revoke the directions to the trustees of the said will to pay a share of the rents and income of my residuary estate to my sister, Margaret Gamble, nee Margaret Ellis and to Carrie Baumfelder, and I direct the said trustees to pay out of said rents and income to my said sister, Margaret Ellis, the annual sum of $600 during her lifetime and subject to the provisions made in my said will for my sister Mary Roseborough, on the death of her husband; the balance of the said rents and income only is during the lifetime of my said sister Margaret Ellis to be divided among the other beneficiaries mentioned in the clause in said will dealing with my residuary estate or the survivors or survivor of them.

Charles Welsh Passed Forged Cheques At Local Stores

Secured Goods and Money, But Cheques He Gave Were Refused Payment At Banks When Presented

A PLAUSIBLE STORY WHICH RESULTED IN A SWINDLE

An embezzler whose schooling in the art has been almost perfect was in the city on Thursday and by a "slick" game played on unsuspecting citizens, got $19.00 and gave no value for the money. His game is an old one but so plausible that two business men of the city fell in line and assisted in the contest.

A Jewellery Traveller.

The perpetrator was a young man of about 28 years of age, about 5 ft. 8 in. in height and of medium complexion. His name according to his own statements was Chas. Welsh, and he was supposed to be a traveller for the Henry J. Turner & Co., wholesale jewellers, of Toronto. He called at Comstock's undertaking establishment, the McDonald Lumber Company's office, and at Mr. F. S. Schneider the jeweller.

At the former place he looked at a desk which he purchased for $15.00. In payment he gave a cheque signed by Henry J. Turner & Co., of Toronto and made out to Chas Welsh. He explained that his business as a commercial man was mostly east and he and his mother had just come to Peterborough to reside. He had taken a house at 195 Charlotte street and ordered that the desk be sent there the following day. He also stated that he and his mother would be back again in the evening to get some more furniture and priced other articles.

Cheque Reused.

Mr. Comstock accepted the cheque which was drawn for $25.00 on the Bank of Nova Scotia and paid the man his change, $10.00. He did not return that evening, however, but Mr. Comstock thought no more of the matter. The cheque which he accepted was sent to the bank yesterday in which he does his business. It was then taken to the Bank of Nova Scotia, but as there was no account there in favour of Chas. Welsh it was not honured.

The same gentleman on the same afternoon went to Mr. Schneider's jewellry store, but the proprietor had no dealings with him.

At McDonald's lumber mill he bought $16 worth of lumber which was also taken to Mr. Wolfenholm's at 195 Charlotte street. It was then found that no lumber was ordered and the embezzler was richer by the amount of $9.00 on that deal.

Silver Tongued Orator.

This cheque when presented at the Bank of Nova Scotia was also dishonoured as he had no account with that bank. Where he got the forms to fill out is not known, but it was thought he obtained them on the table inside the bank. The writing on both sides the cheque were by the same man so that he evidently forged the name of Henry J. Turner & Co., of Toronto. He had a pleasing disposition, and a silver tongue which was probably accountable for his successful inroads into other people's pockets.

It is rumoured that a man answering his description called at one of the local hotels and presented a cheque in payment for a drink, but it was not accepted.

He probably left the city on Thursday afternoon as he has not been seen around since.

Several hunting parties returned to the city last night and they all report having had the best of luck and a pleasant outing.

Eagle Lake Club's Luck.

A portion of the Eagle Lake Hunt Club arrived from the North last night, and report that the camp was the best of any years, in all respect, except in the number of trophies of the chase obtained.

The returned members are Messrs George T. Mitchell, of Montreal, D. W. Dumble and R. Sheehy. Before they left the camp was adorned with seven deer, all fine specimens. The hunt was just then beginning to get interesting when they left, as the deer previously had been rather scarce. On Thursday the hounds flushed four, two of which were captured by the hunters.

Mr. Mitchell, the veteran Montreal huntsman, was most enthusiastic over the time spent at Eagle Lake. He predicted a good finish for the club, as he stated the deer were just beginning to arrive in that vicinity. The last day he spent with the party he had the satisfaction of killing a large buck, and he came home quite happy. He left on the noon train to-day for his home.

On Wednesday night on account of the departure of some of the party, the King's birthday was celebrated in royal style. Songs, speeches,

NEW JOINT SCHOOL FOR HIAWATHA CHILDREN

A Building to Cost $750 Under Course of Construction in That Village Now.

A new school building is under course of construction at Hiawatha, to replace that used for this purpose for a number of years, and which the school trustees have decided is not up to the required standard for the children of Hiawatha to attend.

The new building is being paid for by the white ratepayers of the section, and a condition of its erection was that the Indians should increase grant of $100 to $150 a year, which they agreed to do. The school, which is being built by Mr. McManus, of Keene is of frame construction, with steel roof, and will cost in the neighbourhood of $750. It will be a credit to the section, due to the enterprise of which it is being erected. Outside of the interior fittings the school is now practically completed, and inside of a few weeks it will be ready for occupancy. It is being built considerably east of the former school building, but it will be central, and both the Indians and white residents of the section are pleased not only with the school itself, but with its location, as well.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY HAS 822 SUBSCRIBERS

This Number Shown by the New Directory Recently Issued by Company.

The local subscribers of the Bell Telephone Company are receiving the latest official directory of that telephone. Each subscriber should see that he receives one, as many additions have been made as well as certain changes. It is important that the new directory should be used, because there have been many changes in the numbers of some phones. There are at present 822 Bell phones in use in Peterborough, showing that the Company is in a very flourishing condition. This is an increase of 47 since last April when the last directory was printed. This is an average of over 11 per month.

SATURDAY, NOV. 10, 1906.

BLOWING HOT AND COLD.

Our esteemed evening contemporary comes out strong on high moral questions. The other day it quoted Mr. Borden's demand for "clean elections," and yesterday it quoted Dr. Coughlin's "utterance of a sound principle," when he stated "that he believed no civil servant or officer of the Government should take an active part in politics." Dr. Coughlin is to be commended for taking a position whose soundness is generally admitted, at least, in theory. Even as great a man as Mr. Whitney subscribes to this doctrine — when a "strit" office-holder is to be disciplined, but calmly ignores it when a member of his own party is concerned. It is fresh in every memory that Mr. Ashley, of Hastings county, an office holder, was dismissed from an office under the Provincial Government, his offence being charged as that of partizanship. This partizanship consisted in his having, at one time, years ago, and before his appointment to office, been a Liberal candidate. After he became an official he abstained entirely from participation in politics. Mr. Whitney was anxious to avoid the very appearance of evil, where a "Grit" was concerned. His anxiety in this direction disappeared when he wished to make an appointment of superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville. Dr. Coughlin was selected. There is no fault to be found with the personnel of the appointment. Dr. Coughlin possesses the qualifications that should make him a good official. But Mr. Whitney conveniently forgot that, like Mr. Ashley, Dr. Coughlin in one of the Wellingtons, was a Conservative candidate—when Mr. Whitney could get nobody else to take the risk — and equally open to the charge of being a partizan. If Mr. Ashley's being a Liberal candidate years ago, was a good reason for dismissing him on the grounds of partizanship, isn't the fact of Dr. Coughlin years ago having been a Conservative candidate, equally good proof of partizanship, such as would forbid his appointment? Mr. Whitney has taken considerable pains to deny the charge that he appointed Dr. Coughlin, on account of his religious faith, which by itself should be neither bar nor a recommendation. He was justified, no doubt in such denial for it is well known that apart from his fitness for the position, Dr. Coughlin was rewarded for his political services to Mr. Whitney, as was stated at the farewell gathering of the local Conservative Club. There is no particular objection to this. It is, under our system, proper that the party in power should appoint to office members of its own political faith. Where the inconsistency and humbug lie is in the theory, or rather practice, that the fact of a man having been at one time a Liberal candidate, furnishes ground for his dismissal, while the fact of a man having been at one time a Conservative candidate, is urged as a ground for his being appointed to office. Mr. Whitney has never been troubled with want of wind, but in this matter he has developed an unusual ability in blowing hot and cold.

PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive, certain and guaranteed cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding, and protruding piles. DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

THE WORST YET.

Our good Conservative friends have recently developed a great deal of righteous zeal regarding the purity of political methods, that is, so long as investigation is not directed towards a revelation of the corrupt methods of their own party. Political impurity does not consist alone in the vulgar purchase of marketable votes; anything that is done, resulting in the prevention of a fair test of the merits of candidates, in relation to the franchise of the electorate, is to be deemed a corrupt proceeding. Thus, conspiracy to injure the reputation of a candidate, and so influence electoral opinion against him, is essentially a corrupt act. The address of Judge Coulter, in dismissing the appeal against the conviction of Butler, an East Elgin hotelkeeper, shows pretty conclusively this sort of thing. The action connecting Mr. Hepburn, a Liberal candidate, with the breach of the law, for which Butler was convicted, and lost his license, is declared by Judge Coulter, according to his conviction, to have been a conspiracy between Butler and Mr. Hepburn's political opponents, for the purpose of injuring Mr. Hepburn's reputation as a Liberal candidate. The charge against Mr. Hepburn, of immoral conduct with two abandoned women, at the hotel in question, was unsupported by a tittle of reliable evidence, and Judge Coulter believes that in conjunction with certain of Mr. Hepburn's political opponents, these women were brought to the hotel on the same night in which Mr. Hepburn, in the course of his political canvas stayed there, for the very purpose of supporting a false charge of immoral conduct, with the object of injuring his reputation, and impairing his chances as a candidate. Judge Coulter pointed out that Butler had gone to a leading Conservative, and made a statement implicating Mr. Hepburn in respect of his relations to the two lewd women, whom Butler had brought to the hotel for a purpose, and with whom it was certain Mr. Hepburn had no relations, evil or otherwise. Butler told the prominent Conservative that unless Hepburn gave him $500, he would connect his name with the two women. His name was connected, and the inference of conspiracy is inevitable. At the trial of the charge against Butler, both Butler and the prosecution made special effort to incriminate Mr. Hepburn, though, by so doing, the former contributed to proof of his own guilt, his fellow conspirators evidently undertaking to make it worth Butler's while to incriminate himself, if only Mr. Hepburn could be made to appear guilty of immoral conduct. The charge against Butler was held back for trial sufficiently long to bring it close to the date of the elections, in order to most effectively associatiate Mr. Hepburn with it. The conspirators were successful to this extent, that Mr. Hepburn, feeling that there was no time before the date of the elections to disprove the slanderous and damaging charges, retired from the contest. At the last moment, another candidate was nominated, and entered the contest at the eleventh hour, with the result, if not consequence, that the Liberals were unsuccessful in the contest. Thus, to this extent, the plot was successful. This deliberate attempt to weaken a political opponent by blackening his character by false charges, involving subornation to perjury, is a reckless, and heartless form of corrupt practice, fortunately rare in this civilized country. Heartless, because it involved wrecking the honour of the man falsely accused. There is nothing in the revelations of London election methods to equal in cold-blooded heartlessness, the East Elgin slander, in which a man honoured in the community was, as is fairly deducible from evidence, falsely, and with knowledge of falsity, charged with an offence that tended to ruin his political career, his esteem as a citizen, to wreck his home, ruin his social relations, and make his wife and children the scorn of their neighbours. Except on the word of a judge, who knew all the facts, and who spoke with all the responsibility of his office, it would be difficult to believe that such a crime could be committed.

This is an offence which demands the most rigid and searching investigation. It seems to be incumbent upon the Conservative Government of Ontario, to see whether the "prosecutor," whose connection with the case, Judge Coulter said, created in his mind a "conviction that the defendant and the prosecutor did all in their power to pervert the case, and make it an instrument of malice to cruelly injure an innocent man," —whether he should, or should not, be severely punished, according as he may be found guilty or innocent. If the official of a Government, in collusion with others, uses his position to rob reputable citizens of their good name, nobody's reputation is safe.

If local option carries in Mono, the Rosemount hotel has only to move across the road into Adjala to save its business.

MEN'S SUNDAY MEETING WILL BE INTERESTING

Rev. A. H. Brace Will be Speaker at Y. M. C. A. at To-morrow's Meeting.

"Men who Dream and Men who Act" will be the subject of the address to be given by Rev. A. H. Brace at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4 o'clock. Special efforts are being made to make this one of the best meetings yet held. The orchestra will be present. There will also be a selection by the male quartette. The Torrey-Alexander songs will be used. Mr. J. T. Thornton will lead the song service.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS FOR CHEESE THIS YEAR

Fitzgerald, who, unfortunately was unable to act as buyer for Hodgson Brothers, of Montreal, on account of illness. Mr. Gillespie, however, was not unaccustomed to the cheese industry, and, as the other buyers soon discovered, he was a shrewd buyer. He was one of the largest—perhaps the largest—purchaser on the local board, and invariably secured the first selections of cheese, thus ensuring to his form the pick of the cheese offered.

Good Officers.

Not only is the cheese of a good quality, but the method of conducting the business of the board is of such a nature that the buyers and salesmen, alike, feel a confidence in doing business on it, knowing that justice will be done every interest. Mr. T. D. Young, the President of the board is eminently fair in his rulings, and no one has any fault to find, and only words of praise for the manner in which he conducts the business of the board.

Nearly Half a Million Dollars.

Mr. John Riddell, the faithful and energetic secretary of the board, has prepared a statement, showing the number of boxes of cheese boarded at each meeting, the price paid at each and the total amount received during the season. The table, giving this interesting information is given below, and will be read with interest by those who, up to the present time, doubtless, have not fully appreciated the importance of the dairy industry, in its relation to the progress and prosperity of the city. It can, however, be readily seen that with nearly half a million dollars paid out for cheese during one season, in this city, a considerable amount, the greater part, in fact will remain right in Peterborough, and everyone reaps a share of the benefit.

Season in Detail.

Mr. Riddell's statement is as follows:—

MRS. HUNTER'S STOR

Says She and Her Husband Agree Perfectly—Both Quite Well Again.

MRS. I. HUNTER

Mrs. I. Hunter, of 111 Raglan Road, Kingston, Ont., has written for publication a statement of her case as follows:

"I have suffered with kidney and liver trouble and chronic constipation for some time. I was subject to dizziness, bilious headache, nervousness drowsiness, pains in the back and side, and a tired, weary feeling nearly the time.

"I tried almost every remedy, was treated by doctors and druggists with little or no benefit.

"Finally, a friend advised me to try Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and the results have been truly wonderful.

"My husband has used Anti-Pill for rheumatism and was benefitted greatly We agree that Anti-Pill is a most wonderful medicine and heartily recommended."

This is a very strong recommendation. Anti-Pill is undoubtedly the greatest of family remedies. All druggists, or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 504

Talented Soloist, St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, London, Ont., writes of the New Scale Williams Piano

It gives me great pleasure to express to you my high appreciation of the excellent qualities of your New Scale Williams Piano. The evenness of scale throughout impresses me strongly, and its beautiful, mellow, sustaining tone is especially adapted to supporting the voice. I can unhesitatingly say that those who buy one of your pianos will get one of the very best instruments on the Canadian market, and in my opinion it has few equals.

Most sincerely yours,

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,

Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 10.—Stocks were dull and heavy to-day. The only issue to move at all was Reading, which was ran down, up and finally down again, fosing a point on the day. The others sagged off slowly from the opening to the close. London prices were 1-4 to 1-2 lower and the bank statement was unfavourable, the loss in cash especially being bad. It looks like pretty stiff rates for money next week and some liquidation may ensue, although the market will be well supported if any decline of importance threatens. The close was weak at about the low of the day.

Your Doctor

Can cure your Cough or Cold, no question about that, but—why go to all the trouble and inconvenience of looking him up, and then of having his prescription filled, when you can step into any drug store in Canada and obtain a bottle of SHILOH'S CURE for a quarter.

Why pay two to five dollars when a twenty-five cent bottle of SHILOH will cure you as quickly?

Why not do as hundreds of thousands of Canadians have done for the past thirty-four years: let SHILOH be your doctor whenever a Cough or Cold appears.

SHILOH will cure you, and all druggists back up this statement with a positive guarantee.

The next time you have a Cough or Cold cure it with CAUGHT BY THE GRIP. RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

"The world of medicine recognizes Grip as epidemic catarrh."—Medical Talk.

LA GRIPPE is epidemic catarrh. It spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? Grip is well named. The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy American to read "grip." Without intending to do so a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful GRIP had clutched us in its fatal clasp. Men, women, children, whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of a terrible monster.

The following letters speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Peruna in cases of la grippe or its after effects.

After Effects of La Grippe Eradicated by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Fred Weinberger, Westerlo, Albany County, N. Y., writes:

"Several years ago I had an attack of la grippe which left my nerves in a prostrated condition. Then I had another attack of la grippe which left me worse. I had tried three good physicians but all in vain. I gave Peruna a trial. In a short time I was feeling better and now I am as well as anyone."—Mrs. Fred Weinberger.

Hon. James R. Guill of Omaha.

Hon. James R. Guill is one of the oldest and most esteemed men of Omaha, Neb. He has done much to make it what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peruna in the following words:

"I am 68 years old, am hale and hearty, and Peruna has helped me attain it. Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peruna saved me."—J. R. Guill.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Silas S. Lincoln, who resides at 913 I. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peruna, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease. I can now do as much work at my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Pe-ru-na Not Only Cured La Grippe but Benefited the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Dressler, 1313 N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured but the bad after effects remained through the summer and somehow I did not get strong as I was before. One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me to try Peruna and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh but restored me to perfect health, built up the entire system and brought a happy feeling of buoyancy which I had not known for years."—Alice M. Dressler.

An Actress' Testimonial.

Miss Jean Cowgill, Griswold Opera House, Troy, N. Y., is the leading lady with the Aubrey Stock Co. She writes the following:

"During the past winter of 1901, I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grippe, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

"Some one suggested Peruna. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowgill.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grippe, which left me with systemic catarrh. A friend advised me to try your Peruna which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Goss.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES IN PARK STREET CHURCH

Special Services Will be Conducted There To-morrow by Pastor.

To-morrow will be the Harvest Home adn church anniversary of the Park street Baptist church. The church will be decorated with fruits and flowers, huge specimens of vegetables being in evidence. Special thanksgiving offerings will be presented and in this respect the services are sure to be a success. The goal set for to-morrow is to raise the balance due on the building, of one thousand dollars, and the probabilities are that it will be reached. The sermons at both services will be preached by the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace, whose morning subject will be, "The Land of the Maple Leaf," and at the evening service, "The Music of the Spheres."

Special music will be given at both services by the choir, the members of which have been practising for some time for the services of the anniversary.

A report from Edmundston, N. B., near the head of the St. John river, tells of fifty cases of diphtheria in the village of St. Basil, five miles from that town. There has been one death but the cases are reported mild and are confined to St. Basile hospital and convent, where there are 150 pupils.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. H. A. Misener, Port Williams, N.S., says: "My son had a dreadful cough. It started in the fall and lasted all through the winter.

At last we became very much alarmed about it and started to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and before he had used one bottle his cold was completely cured."

Price 25 cents per bottle. Put up in a yellow wrapper. Three pine trees the trade mark.

Refuse substitutes. Dr. Wood's is the genuine.

ARRANGED SUPPLY FOR THREE CHURCH PULPITS

At Omemee yesterday Rev. J. G. Potter held a conference with representatives of the Presbyterian Churches at Omemee, Mount Pleasant and Lakevale, with respect to the question of supply of preachers. Arrangements were made for the next five weeks for these three churches and at the close of this arrangement another meeting of the joint congregations will be held when a pastor will be selected.

It was also decided yesterday to instal a telephone at the manse in Omemee for the use of the pastor.

November Nuptials Of Much Interest

A pretty autum wedding of more than usual interest was celebrated this afternoon at 308 Aylmer street, when one of Peterborough's popular young ladies became the bride of the son of probably the best known man in the city. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Ella Pennington, daughter of the late Edward Cookson to Mr. John Mellville Roszel, principal of the large public school at Jarvis, Ont., and son of Chief Geo. I. Roszel, of this city. The interesting ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Canon Davidson in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives of the bridal party. Leaning on the arm of her eldest brother, Mr. E. J. Cookson the bride entered the parlour to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mr. Geo. Schneider, organist of the Murray street Baptist church, and was then given away by her mother.

Artistically arranged about the interior of the house were floral decorations of palms, yellow and white chrysanthemums, and red and white carnations producing most pleasing and beautiful effect. The bride was attired in a costume of white silk, embroidered with silk and adorned with lace trimmings. She wore orange blossoms and a veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. A unique circumstance in connection with her costume was the fact that she wore the same bridal waist as that in which her mother was attired on her wedding day. Her travelling costume was of navy blue lady's cloth with hat to match.

The bride was attended by Miss Mabel Sutton of Lindsay as bridesmaid and Miss Velma Marie Martin, of Toronto, a cousin, as maid of honour, while the groom was assisted by Mr. W. B. Cookson, of Toronto, a brother of the bride. The bridesmaid was dressed in point d'esprit over cream silk, trimmed with fover's knots of Duchess baby ribbon and carried pink roses. The maid of honour's dress was of pale blue silk mulle over white taffeta silk and she also carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony the maid of honour, Miss Martin, sang very effectively, "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy."

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome brooch of wishbone design set with pearls and to each of the bridesmaids he gave gold necklaces with lockets attached. The presents to the bridal couple were numerous and beautiful, many coming from out of town friends. Among the gifts was a handsome gold watch and chain presented to the bride by Mr. and Mrs. Roszel, parents of the groom.

After partaking of the post-nuptial dejeuner Mr. and Mrs. Roszel left on the 5.10 evening C.P.R. train for Toronto. Their wedding tour will embrace Detroit and Buffalo before returning to Jarvis where they will reside. Among the out-of-town guests besides those assisting in the wedding contract was Mrs. Robert Martin, sister of the bride's mother.

Reference Back Caused A Reverse Of Decision

Fire, Water and Light Committee Now to Recommend Aaron Comstock for Dan Spence Ambulance.

AN INTERESTING MEETING OF COMMITTEE HELD LAST NIGHT

The Fire, Water and Light Committee decided last night to let the contract for the care of the Dan Spence ambulance to Mr. A. Comstock. This was consequent of complaints made by Ald. Duncan that Mr. D. Belleghem had violated the contract by improperly charging for the use of the ambulance. Some documentary evidence was put in by Ald. Duncan, the most important of which was a communication signed by Mr. Harry Gray, which stated that Mr. Belleghem had been paid $1 for taking a niece of Mr. Gray's to St. Joseph's hospital from Water street.

It will be remembered that the committee recommended that Mr. Belleghem be awarded the contract again this year. On Monday night, when the report of the committee was read at the council meeting, Ald. Duncan objected for the reason stated above and the clause was referred back to the committee.

There were present last night Ald. Adams, chairman, Ald. Mason, Elliott, Duncan, Ball and Graham.

Ald. Adams read over the contract in connection with the care of the ambulance, showing that the contractor was not allowed to take the ambulance more than one mile from the city limits.

Ald. Elliott asked wherein Mr. Belleghem had broken this contract.

Ald. Ball asked if the ambulance could be kept at the new fire hall.

Ald. Duncan said that no undertaker should have charge of the ambulance.

Ald. Duncan asked if Mr. Belleghem had any right to go out of the city. He said that Mr. Belleghem had gone four miles. The city had no right to go into business in opposition to any dealer. Mr. Belleghem had nothing but a coffin waggon for a private ambulance.

Ald. Adams said that he did not see why the committee in drafting the contract had allowed the ambulance to go out of town even one mile.

Ald. Duncan had some affidavits and documentary evidence showing that the ambulance had been out of the city. He related a case where Mr. Belleghem had been paid $1 for taking a child from Water street to St. Joseph's hospital. This latter was supported by a letter from Harry Gray, which stated that $1 had been paid for taking Mr. Gray's niece to the hospital.

Ald. Duncan said that he did not think any undertaker should take the ambulance. The city had no right to run in opposition against those in business. He thought that the terms of the contract should be amended so as to keep the ambulance as a free ambulance. This would be cutting off the moderate fee which he was allowed to charge for going a mile outside the city limits.

Ald. Ball thought that this price should be fixed.

Ald. Elliott moved that Mr. Belleghem's tender be accepted. He did not see that an offence of any serious character had been committed.

Ald. Mason moved in amendment that the contract be awarded to A. Comstock, on the ground that complaints had been made and that to accept Mr. Belleghem's contract would be to approve of the things complained of. There was no reason why the contract should always go to the same party, especially where the tenders were the same.

Ald. Graham seconded the motion which was carried by the following vote:

Yeas—Ald. Ball, Graham, Duncan.
Nay—Ald. Elliott.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE COUNTRY KID.

The closing entertainment of the series of five, given last evening at the Grand by the Ernie Marks Dramatic Company, was another success. "The Country Kid," was the play put on and from the frequent applause the large audience present must have enjoyed it immensely. Ernie Marks as the Kid, "caught on" with all present, while Kittie Marks ably upheld her difficult role and finally triumphed over the machinations of the plotters. Little Miss Rosa Machan again received a welcome, while to Ray Dee on the slack wire and Bedard and Bedard in their acrobatic stunts, a well merited share of applause was given.

The attraction for this evening at the Grand is "The Bonnie Brier Bush," and a full house is assured if the large advance sale of tickets is a criterion.

WEAK HEART
SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN

When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing its owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their heart.

To all such sufferers

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

can give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. F. Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie, West, Ont., says: "I have been troubled for four or five years with weakness, and run down system. My feet were always cold and I felt almost dead. My heart was weak and I was so nervous I could hardly walk across the street. I started taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using three boxes I felt much better. I continued their use until I had taken twelve boxes and I am now well."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PETERBORO'S EXPERIENCE WAS NOT SATISFACTORY

Methodist Churches Report Against Pew Renting System to Lindsay Church.

The experience of the Methodist churches in Peterborough, with the system of pew renting, according to information supplied the officials of the Cambridge street Methodist church, in Lindsay, has not been entirely satisfactory.

That church was considering the adoption of the system, and, according to the Post, of that town, requests were sent out for information which would lead them to a decision. At a meeting recently held for the purpose of considering the matter, Dr. Clarke is represented as having reported that he had received favourable replies from all his inquiries, except from Peterborough, where the system was apparently not meeting with entire success. In spite, however, of the experience of Peterborough, this church decided to adopt the system of renting pews, and on January first next year this method will be placed into effect.

THE AMBULANCE IS AGAIN SUBJECT OF LETTER

Mr. D. Belleghem Writes to Answer Ald. Duncan's Statements.

EXPLAINS CIRCUMSTANCES IN QUESTION

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I see Mr. Duncan is again to the fore with statements which are not true. His first grievance is that I charged $2.00 for conveying a patient from the station to the hospital. That is admitted. I went to the midnight train with two assistants and removed a stranger to the Nicholls Hospital, and got back home about two o'cloke. The contract provides for may making a moderate charge in such cases. Was $2.00 immoderate?

He alleges that I went five miles in the country and charged $3.00. I went a distance of less than three miles, but was not aware of the distance until I was on the way.

These two cases are mentioned in former letter. I never moved Mrs. Edward Cooney, or any other Mrs. Cooney, from the hospital, nor from any place else, and this statement is utterly false. Let Mr. Duncan produce his affidavit. Probably young Mr. Comstock's visit to Mrs. Cooney this morning will enlighten Mr. Duncan on this point. He should, however, be sure of his facts before making charges which go to the public.

I hope to appear before the Council at their next meeting and explain fully the facts in regard to this question. I have not yet had a hearing before the Council, or before any Committee, and I think it is only fair that I be heard before being condemned.

Thanking you for space, I am,

Yours sincerely,
D. BELLEGHEM.

Peterborough, Nov. 10, 1906.

THE FAITHFUL WORKERS MADE MANY SALES

Held Concert and Disposed of Handkerchiefs to Assist the Missionary Cause.

The Faithful Workers of St. Paul's Mission Band, held a successful concert in the Sunday school hall last night. It was accompanied by a sale of handkerchiefs made by the ladies to provide funds for the missionary work, and from the display they had provided for sale they certainly deserve the name of Faithful Workers. The selling was brisk and a large sum was realized.

At the conclusion of the programme, which was a particularly delightful one, of a musical character, refreshments were served.

The following was the programme as presented by Rev. Dr. Torrance, who presided:

Duet, Miss G. Crane and Miss M. Robertson.
Vocal solo, Miss Lilian Moore.
Piano solo, Miss Jean Hill.
Vocal solo, Miss Davies.
Violin duet, "Ave Maria," Miss Lenore Sanderson and Miss Eva Irwin.
Piano solo, Miss L. Davidson.
Quartette, Mr. Nelson and friends.
Piano solo, Miss Jean Hill.
Vocal solo, Miss Davies.
God save the King.

EVERYBODY DELIGHTED.

BIG NEWSPAPER VALUE IS OFFERED EXAMINER READERS

The Family Herald and Weekly Star Good Value at $1 a Year.

The biggest dollar's worth in the newspaper line to-day is the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. Other large city weeklies make feeble attempts to follow the big Montreal weekly, but they fall far short of it. The Family Herald and Weekly Star spares no expense to give its readers the best to be had, and the result is their subscription list is growing larger every year. The beautiful premium picture given this year with the Family Herald and Weekly Star, is entitled "A Tug of War," and is certainly a gem. It is one of those pictures you see in the art stores, with a price of generally two or three dollars on it.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star deserve the first place in every home in Canada and combined with the Examiner it is about all you require. If you are not a reader of the big Montreal weekly try it for 1907, and you will never regret it.

To all new subscribers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star and Weekly Examiner, a special rate of $1.65 for both papers is given. The Examiner, 419 George street.

TEACHERS' RESIGNATIONS TO BE CONSIDERED SOON

At Regular Meeting of Board of Education on Monday Matter Will Come Up.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education, will be held in the office of the secretary, Mr. W. G. Morr[illegible] Monday night next at 7.45, when the ordinary business of the board will be transacted. It is expected that at this meeting the resignation of Mr. J. J. Jeffries will be considered, and some action taken regarding it. Mr. Jeffries will leave the city to take his new position after the Christmas holidays, so that it will be necessary to select his successor in the near future. It is probable that at the meeting on Monday night, the resignations of some teachers on the staff of the public schools will be received. At least one of the lady teachers will leave Peterborough to accept a position on the public school staff of Toronto.

PETERBOROUGH MAN SHOT BIG OWL AT MANVERS

Extended, Its Wings Measured 4 Feet 8 Inches—Will Have It Mounted.

Mr. Bert Vennato, of this city, shot the other day, what he claims is one of the largest owls ever taken in this section. It measured from tip to tip of the wings, four feet eight inches, and stood twenty inches high.

This bird was secured near Manvers station on the C. P. R., while Mr. Vennato was after partridge. It is his intention to have it mounted, and placed on exhibition in the window of Mr. W. J. O'Brien, George street. If anyone has a larger owl than this to produce Mr. Vennato will be glad to take second place, but until it is produced he thinks that his record will stand.

Dr. Samuel Johnston's Description of Himself.

"A hardened and shameless tea drinker, who for years has diluted his meals with only the infusion of this fascinating bomb; whose kettle has had hardly time to cool; who with tea has amused the evening, with tea solaced the midnight, and with tea welcomed the morning." And then, tea in Dr. Johnston's time was a most expensive drink, and he was not a rich man. The most delicious tea can be gotten in the sealed lead packets of the "Salada" Tea Company, at most reasonable prices.

Beautiful Ste. Anne de Beaupre's Shrine Described

An Interesting Meeting of Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S. Held Last Night.

MISS COLEMEN'S EXCELLENT PAPER ON AN INTERESTING SUBJECT

An essay of great interest and of a high degree of literary excellence, and an excellent musical programme combined to make the third regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S., held last evening, a most successful one.

Miss L. L. Coleman read the paper of the evening, the subject being "The Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre." The essay first pictured vividly the quaint and beautiful setting of this famous shrine, the village of Beaupre, on the northern bank of the St. Lawrence, with the mighty river in the foreground and overshadowing it, Mount St. Ann, extending its purple height nearly three thousand feet cloudward. The origin of the shrine dates back almost to the earliest times of French colonization in Canada. The first settlers in this district came from Normandy and Brittany, where St. Anne has always been honoured as the patron saint. Amid the difficulties and dangers of the new world the devotion to her was fostered and grew apace.

According to a well-authenticated tradition the first little chapel was built by a few Breton mariners in fulfilment of a promise. These mariners, in the year 1650, were overtaken by a violent storm and in great danger of being driven on the rocks. They invoked the beloved patroness of their native land, promising, if saved, to erect in her honour a chapel on the very spot on which they might land. When morning dawned they found themselves on the north bank of the St. Lawrence, within easy distance of Quebec.

True to their promise the first first little wooden chapel rose in the wilderness. This was the beginning of the pilgrimages to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. As years gathered into centuries the numbers of pilgrims steadily increased.

Good Ste. Anne showed early in the history of this place that she had chosen this blessed spot to manifest to the eyes of man her power and goodness. As far back as 1662 marvellous cures were obtained and many favours granted.

The essay next dealt with the relics which enrich the shrine and which have been obtained either directly or indirectly from the famous shrine of Apt in France.

Hundreds of thousands of pilgrims now visit this shrine every year, and the authenticated miracles which take place every summer, are innumerable. Only then the complete history of the Shrine shall have been written, will the public have any idea of the thousands of "infirm made whole," who have trodden the soil of Beaupre since the first miracle in the 17th century.

Sceptics may sneer and scoffers smile, but they can offer no explanation. Let them exclaim that cures proceed from nervous exaltation and straightway, the infant in arms is the subject of a cure. Let them say that the cures are more imaginary than real and they are answered by the voice of the deaf mute for the first time breaking silence.

The essay contained much information presented in an attractive way.

The following programme was also given:—

Piano duet—Misses M. and K. Merrell.

Reading—"The Cure of Calumette," Miss F. Holmes.

Violin solo—Miss E. Doris.

The next meeting of the Society will be held on Friday evening, Nov. 23rd, when a paper on "The Shrine of Lourdes" will be read by Miss M. Derocher.

J. J. Turner & Sons Receive Notice of Medal—Diploma Awarded at Toronto Fair.

To-day Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons received a letter from the secretary of the Toronto Industrial Fair, informing them that they had been again awarded a diploma and first prize on their exhibit at the fair this year. This is the second successive year that the goods of this company have received this recognition of quality, at the hands of the exhibition judges, and it is naturally gratifying to them. The letter states that the diploma will be forwarded in a short time, some little delay having been caused by reason of the fact that a new design is being made this year.

and stories of the chase composed the lengthy programme, and it was a late hour when the merry company retired for the night. The next morning Captain Gunsolus accompanied the party across the lake, and bade them a fond farewell.

Gull Lake Hunt Club.

Another successful hunting party returned last night from Gull Lake, after one of the most pleasant outings in their history. It consisted of Mr. T. W. Brightman, John Brightman, Robert Neill, Dr. Amys, Dr. McKercher and Cyril Lech.

Perfect weather favoured the hunters during their whole trip. Day after day the sun smiled through the bare limbs of the giants of the forest and the hunters warmed by the November sun, had, as they say, the time of their lives. They found the deer fairly plentiful and are proud to say they bagged ten of them, and are to-day relating the stories of the chase to the "dears" at home. The only distasteful feature of the trip was the home-coming, a disagreeable rain accompanying the sportsmen on their return to the city; but no complaint was made as Old Sol had been friendly to them while they were watching the many runways at the scene of their hunting.

Ketchecum Hunt Club.

The forests and hills of the North are evidently resounding with the ring of the rifle shots of the Ketchecum Hunt Club at Ketchecum Lake. A section of the party returned home last night and report that when they bade farewell to the rest of the party yesterday morning they had corailed eleven of the best antlered monarchs of the northern forests.

The returned members are Messrs V. Eastwood, H. LeBrun, H. Dennis, Dr. McClelland and George Hatton. They report the deer more scarce than usual, and have secured almost everything that came their way.

The Ketchecum Hunt Club each year celebrate the King's Birthday in royal style and last night the camp was dressed in its gayest garb. Friends from all the resident houses within a radius of many miles were invited and good cheer reigned supreme.

The party were lucky in securing the services of Mr. Archie Jackson as cook, who has had a rather difficult time in feeding the company.

Capt. Geo. Bennett secured a magnificent buck which was the object of admiration by the whole camp.

Those who have returned report that the Lacroix party were having good luck, a large bear being one of the trophies.

Messrs. Michael O'Brien and Gus Cochrane, who were hunting at Ketcheum Lake, also secured a large Buck. They returned to the city last night. They report that the Winch party had ten deer on Thursday night.

AGED METHODIST PASTOR PASSED AWAY FRIDAY

Rev. F. B. Stratton was Well Known Here as Promotor of 1,000 Islands Excursion.

Rev. F. B. Stratton, who was quite well known in this city in recent years, chiefly by his annual excursion to the Thousand Islands, a trip which was taken yearly by many Peterborough persons, is dead. The story of his death is told in the following despatch from Kingston:

Rev. F. B. Stratton, aged 68, ill with an internal disease for almost eight weeks, died at his home last night. He was a superannuated minister, having spent forty-eight years in the work. He was born near Napanee, and his last sermon was delivered in the church of his boyhood, the Western Methodist, of Napanee. He spent many years in the former M. E. church, and was a prominent figure in the union deliberations. He was stationed at Trenton, Salem, Orono, Selby, Little Britain and other places. He had been chairman of Tamworth district, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and delegate to all the Methodist General Conferences, save the recent one. A widow and two daughters survive, two of whom are too ill to attend the funeral.

Y.M.C.A. in South America.

The largest single gift to a Christian undertaking in the Argentine Republic is said to be that of $10,000 to the Y. M.C.A. as a result of the visit of John R. Mott, who has just returned from a tour of South Africa and South America. It is reported also that $30,000 has been offered to start a building canvass at Buenos Ayres. At Rio de Janeiro is the only headquarters building owned by the Y.M.C.A. in any of the Latin American republics. The association now has buildings in every capital city in Asia, including Japan, Korea and China, most of which have been erected by Americans.

Will Continue The Same Course In Future As In The Past

Mr. Richard Hall, Trustee of Nicholls Estate, Makes Important Announcement Concerning the Hospital.

It is not the intention of the trustees of the Nicholl Hospital to ask the city to make up any difference between receipts and expenditures, which may arise in the future, His Worship Mayor Best yesterday afternoon informed the Examiner that he had learned from Mr. Rich. Hall that the trustees had decided to continue the same course in respect to the hospital as in the past. During the conference referred to His Worship asked Mr. Hall if it was the intention of the trustees to call upon the city to make up any deficits which might occur in the future.

Mr. Hall replied that it was not the intention to do so. He said that on Thursday night he had a conversation over the telephone with Mr. Chas. McGill, the other trustee of the Nicholls estate, in regard to the matter. They talked the matter over at some length, with the result that they considered it best that the Nicholls estate should continue to issue cheques to meet any deficits which might occur in the future.

Mr. Hall further said that the income of the hospital from paying patients had considerably increased lately, and he did not think that the amount required to be paid out of the funds of the estate would be nearly so great as in the past.

"That information, said the Mayor, "should be good news to the ratepayors, not so much because they will not have to pay money out of their own pockets, as to know that the hospital is becoming more self-sustaining.

Card Manufacturing Company Machinery Has Now Arrived

And Company Will Commence Work in a Short Time—Only Concern in Canada of Its Kind.

The German Card Manufacturing Company, who occupy a portion of the Peterborough Show Case Company's factory, on Dublin street, will soon be in a position to begin operations. Yesterday they received a big shipment of special machinery from the Karl Krause Company, of Leipsic, Germany. This was shipped direct from Germany to the local manufacturers, and will be installed next week by the J. L. Morrison Company, of Toronto, who are the Canadian agents for the German firm. When the machinery is set up the company will be ready to proceed.

Some machinery purchased in Canada has already been installed, including the big hydraulic press, which has a pressure of eighty tons. All the machinery, with the exception of a cutting machine, will be operated by electric power, and it is probable that the latter will be replaced by another capable of being operated by electric power.

The German Card Manufacturing Company will manufacture all varieties of fancy card board, mounting boards, photograph mounts, ph to albums, etc. There is at the present time no company in Canada devoting itself to the manufacture of these articles, so it would seem that the field before the local concern is a fruitful one. The company has a secret process of manufacture which has never been used before, but which is said to be superior to all other systems in point of excellence.

It is probable that in a few weeks time the company will commence their manufacturing.

Want Some Concessions Before Change In Street Lighting

Application of Peterborough Light and Power Company Was Considered by Committee Last Night.

SOME OF THE ALDERMEN WANT SOME REDUCTION IN PRICE

The question of on what terms the city will agree to allow the Peterborough Light and Power Co., to change the present system of street lighting from an open to a closed arc lamp, was wrestled over by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night. The report of the committee at Monday night's council meeting recommended as follows:—

That, provided the Peterborough Light and Power Company, will hang the street lights in the centre of the streets where directed to do so by this committee, will furnish lighting for the municipal offices, police station and fire hall, up to the number of 150 16 c.p. incandescent lamps, free of charge, and agree to keep the street lamps turned on until one o'clock a.m., on nights when there is not clear, unclouded light from the moon, in addition to the 300 full nights mentioned in their present agreement with the city, this committee recommend that the council approve of the substitution of 7.5 ampere enclosed arc lamps of a pattern approved by the committee, for the lamps now used for street lighting.

This committee, however, asked that they be allowed to reconsider on account of having received further information which made it desirable to do so.

After much discussion last night no decision was arrived at. Ald. Mason, Adams and Elliott thought [illegible] of the advantages to be gained from the new system that the [illegible] as just drawn up was all [illegible] could be expected. Ald. Ball, Graham and Duncan thought more [illegible] should be obtained from the company in view of the [illegible] of the new lamps.

A motion to adhere to the report [illegible] above was declared lost [illegible] vote, and the matter will be [illegible] until to-morrow night.

Ald. Adams read a letter from the committee which visited Detroit and Chatham concerning electric light. The electric lighting plant in Detroit had been a municipal enterprise for eleven years. The original cost of the plant when aquired by the city was $650,000 and there were only 469 arc lights. The net costs year by year were compared showing that in ten years the net cost per lamp had been reduced from $68.52 in 1896 to $33.18 in 1906 and the gross cost from $80.72 to $54.39.

There were very few poles on the street. In the centre there were only trolly poles and electric light poles, the wires to which came from underground. An eighteen foot mast arm was the system most used in the placing of the lights.

The population of Detroit was 28 times that of Peterborough, while the number of arc lights was only 20 times as many as that of this city.

Ald. Elliott thought the report on the lighting system was more important than that on the heating system.

Ald. Graham asked what was the use of worrying over the question. The company should do some of the worrying and should bear their proportion of the cost.

Ald. Ball thought that the city should get a reduction of $600, or $5 per lamp for the change in the system.

Ald. Graham said that he had seen no town better lit than Peterborough.

Ald. Adams said that there was no reason why the city should not be better lit if the lights were placed where they should be.

Ald. Ball reiterated that the city should have a reduction of $600 for the change.

Ald. Adams said that they would have to take what the company would [illegible] $500 or else leave the lights [illegible] are. He pointed out that the city was getting the new system and [illegible] lights in the new buildings free of charge.

Some of the committee [illegible] that the arcs would be $5 per [illegible] and that the wiring and [illegible] the new lamps would be [illegible] Ald. Adams [illegible] to Ald. Mason, [illegible] be left as it was with the exception of [illegible] and that the lights [illegible] and [illegible] service [illegible]

EACH MEAL AN AGONY.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure Obstinate Indigestion After Other Medicines Fail.

"When I was first troubled with indigestion I did not bother with it, I thought it would pass away naturally. But instead of doing so it developed into a painful chronic affection, which in spite of all I did grew worse and worse until I had abondoned all hopes of ever getting relief." These words of Mrs. Chas. McKay, of Norwood, N. S., should serve as a warning to all who suffer distress after meals, with palpitation, drowsiness and loss of appeteite—early warning of more serious trouble to follow.

"I used to rise in the morning," said Mrs. McKay, "feeling no better for a night's rest. I rapidly lost flesh and after even the most frugal meal I always suffered severe pains in my stomach. I cut my meals down to a few mouthfuls, but even then every morsel of food caused agony. My digestion was so weak. Some days I could scarcely drag myself about the house, and I was never free from sharp piercing pains in the back and chest. I grew so bad that I had to limit my diet to milk and soda water, and even this caused severe suffering. In vain I sought relief—all medicines I took seemed useless. But in the darkest hour of my suffering help came. While reading a newspaper I came across a cure that was quite similar to my own case, wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I thought if another person had been cured by these pills of such suffering as I was experiencing, surely there was hope for me, and I at once sent to the druggist for a supply of these pills. The first indication that the pills were helping me was the disappearance of the feeling of oppression. Then I began to take solid food with but little feeling of distress. I still continued taking the pills with an improvement every day, until I could digest all kinds of food without the least trouble or distress. I am in splendid health to-day and all the credit is due to Dr. Williams Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go right to the root of indigestion and other troubles by making rich, red blood which tones and strengthens every organ of the body. That is why they cure anaemia, with all its headaches and backaches and sideaches, rheumatism and neuralgia and the special ailments of growing girls and women of all ages. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Not Very Comforting News For Householders Who Buy Them.

SOME INTERESTING GOSSIP ON MARKETS

The people generally like to know what they should pay for articles they are continually buying, and particularly is this true of the housekeeper. This article is intended to let them know what the retailers are paying for groceries and provisions and thus allowing the grocer his share of profit they may know what they should pay him for different things. A general outline of the different markets is given herewith.

Quebec Market.

Fall trade is being done in groceries. There is more or less buying being done in all lines, but existing conditions are not conducive to special interest in one particular line. Sugar is rather quiet under the recent decline, although in some quarters there is talk of an advance before another decline occurs. The late deliveries of canned goods are now being made. There has been an advance in Ceylon green teas, but otherwise the market is practically unchanged since a week ago. The feature of interest in dried fruits is the fact that the second direct steamer, the "Jacoma," from Patras and Malaga is due in Montreal. Sultana raisins are very high in price, Valencias are easier, Californian seeded have again advanced. Currants are also higher. Butter, cheese, eggs and general provisions are rather firm.

Ontario Markets.

The canned fruit situation is the one that is demanding the most attention in Ontario. Strawberries and plums are already very scarce, and it is claimed peaches, pears and raspberries will soon be in the same category. The sugar market is described as being very weak. Redpath's granulated sugar is listed for the retailer at $4.38 per cwt. Sultana raisins range from 10 to 18c. per lb., according to the quality, and selected Valencias are from 9 to 10c; currants are from 7 to 9 1-2c. per lb. Prunes are about the same. The Christmas trade will soon be in full swing and owing to the increased demand there is likely to be increased prices. It would be a good idea to procure all necessities early, before such a circumstance could happen. The cheese market shows considerable increase during the past week, whatever the cause may be. But the price is going to increase still more before next spring. Nearly all of this year's cheese has been taken from the country, and consequently before long there is going to be a scarcity felt. Butter is still in a state of doubt, as far as future prices are concerned. It all depends on the supply and demand. Lard has not been changed and all lines of fresh meats have receded. Considering everything the markets are rather firm and the prices of almost everything have not changed much.

Christmas Turkeys Promise To Be Very Scarce This Year

Farmers Say There Will Be None—Some Reasons Assigned for This Condition—Market Prices for To-day.

The farmers were out in large numbers this morning in attendance at the Saturday market. In spite of the gloomy weather there was a large number of buyers on hand. Apples, potatoes, butter and eggs were firm. Chickens, ducks, and geese were likewise, but turkeys showed a marked advance, the general price $1.00 and $1.75. The question of moment now is what is going to happen at Christmas. The farmers say that there will be practically no turkeys for Christmas. The reasons for this are that buyers have gone through the country and have bought them up on all sides. Another is that peas which is the staple food for turkeys, have advanced so much in price that it is unprofitable to keep them until the end of December. Thus the outlook is that a very high price will have to be paid for this, the greatest delicacy of the Christmas dinner. However, that is more than a month off and there is no telling what will happen in that time. There was an advance in the price of spring lamb this morning. Of course, the reason for this is that the farmers are asking a high price for them. One buyer remarked that you cannot look at a lamb without having a fiver ($5) for it. Pork also has increased somewhat while beef has decreased. Otherwise the market was firm with a good supply of everything. The following is the list of the prices:—

Potatoes, per bag		to	1 00
Apples, per bag	80	to	1 15
Onions, per peck	25
Beets, per peck	15
Cabbage, per head	5
Parsnips, per peck	15
Butter, per lb	27
Eggs, per doz	25
Ducks, per pair	1 00
Chickens, per pair	65	to	80
Geese, each	1 00	to	1 10
Hay, per ton	14 00
Lamb, per lb	10	to	12½
Pork, per lb	9	to	11
Beef	44	to	55
Turkeys, each	1 50	to	1 75

Precepts and Warnings For Those Would

Dye Well

Let thy faith be fixed in the wonderful transforming powers of DIAMOND DYES; the results they give will cheer thine heart.

Never allow any interested or wily dealer to recommend for thy use some inferior or imitation make of dye. If thou will hearken to his words he will rejoice at thy simplicity of character and will delight himself over thy wrath and bitter disappointment.

If thou wouldst avoid handling poisonous ingredients, use only the DIAMOND DYES for thy home-dyeing work; they are the only harmless and pure dyes.

When times are hard and money scarce thine heart often craves for new and stylish colours and garments. By the use of the magic DIAMOND DYES thy wishes can be fully realized, because DIAMOND DYES recreate old dresses, and make them to look like new.

If thou wouldst have a smiling face a happy heart and an easy mind, do thy colouring at all seasons of the year with the DIAMOND DYES; they never cause worry or grief to those who make use of them.

Send to Wells, Richardson & Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, Que., for valuable Dye Book, and card of Dyed Samples; free to any address.

CENSURE FOR THE EARL.

Lord's Day Alliance Doesn't Approve of Sunday Hunting Preparations.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The conduct of His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, in his disregard of the Sabbath in preparing on Sunday for a shooting expedition, met with censure at the annual meeting of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance yesterday afternoon, when the committee on resolutions reported that an expression of loyal and regard should be expressed towards His Excellency in recognition of the fact that yesterday was the King's Birthday.

The reading of the resolution brought forth a protest from Rev. Mr. Scott, who stated that he had read in the newspapers a report of hunting expeditions that the Governor-General had planned for on a Sunday. He was sure that he was correct and in view of this fact thought it would be ridiculous to have such a resolution go on the records of the association.

Other dissenting voices were heard, and upon the suggestion of J. K. Macdonald, president of the association, it was decided to leave the name of Lord Grey out of the resolution.

A resolution of loyalty to King Edward was carried and the dozen or so delegates present sang "God Save the King."

Election of Officers.

The election of officers in the afternoon resulted:

President, J. K. Macdonald.

Vice-presidents, Rev. A. Carman, Rt. Rev. W. L. Mills, Rev. S. D. Chown, Rev. L. N. Tucker, Hon. S. C. Biggs, Chancellor A. C. MacKay, Rev. A. D. Rutherford.

Secretary, Rev. T. Albert Moore; assistant secretary, Rev. J. G. Shearer; treasurer, Charles J. Copp, M. D.; auditors, Robert Rae, A. J. Crompie.

A number of resolutions were adopted.

GOVERNOR M'INNES BANQUETED.

His Yukon Administration Satisfactory to All Parties.

Dawson, Y. T., Nov. 10.—W. W. B. McInnes, Governor of the Yukon, left Thursday for Ottawa. He was tendered a mammoth banquet in the Arctic Brotherhood Hall. The members of all political parties gathered and paid a harmonious tribute to the splendid administration by Mr. McInnes of Yukon affairs during the last two years. Justice MacAulay presided.

Representatives of the commercial, mining, press and other interests all contributed complimentary addresses to the actions of Mr. McInnes, and painted a glowing picture of the future of the Yukon. Many predict it will become one of the most populous districts of Canada, when the mineral resources, which the outside world is seizing, become fully exploited.

There has been a new era in the prosperity of the Yukon since Governor McInnes came here two years ago. The banquet was the biggest in the history of the Yukon.

THE BOTTLING OF BEER.

Request Made to the Government by a Labor Deputation.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The Toronto District Trades and Labor Council was represented by a deputation before Hon. W. J. Hanna yesterday.

They requested the Government to introduce an amendment to the liquor license law providing that no persons under 21 years of age shall be permitted to engage in the manufacture, distribution or sale of malt or spirituous liquors.

Special stress was laid upon the bottling industry, in which it was considered inadvisable to allow minors to engage. Consideration was promised.

Revolutionists Rob Train.

Rogow, Russian Poland, Nov. 10.—The Cossacks have thus far been unsuccessful in their pursuit of the revolutionist train robbers, numbering a hundred well-armed men, who surrounded this station Thursday night, threw a bomb at the mail car of a train, derailed it, killing or wounding several soldiers of the escort, and fled with a sum of money now said to amount to $650,000. The robbery occurred at 9 p. m., while the train was changing engines.

Bomb In a Kiev Cell.

Kiev, Nov. 10.—A powerful bomb was found Thursday night in the cell of a man named Eudenko, accused of attempting to kill Col. Spiridovich, chief of the secret police. The bomb was concealed in the prisoner's mattress, and was to have been thrown at the judges during the trial. Eudenko's trial has been transferred to a drumhead court-martial.

Belleville Man Killed.

Belleville, Nov. 10.—News has been received in this city of the death of Wills MacKay, formerly of Belleville, but for some time a journalist in New York. He was killed in an accident, the particulars of which have not yet been received. Deceased was a son of Mrs. C. MacKay of this city and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. H. Corby of Belleville.

Dead of B. C. Hindus.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 10.—Unable to secure permission from the Canadian officials to cremate their dead, according to their religious beliefs, the Hindu residents of Western Canada are sending their dead to Seattle, Wash., for cremation. After cremating, the dust is scattered over the sea.

Asphyxiated.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Benjamin Wheatley, about 30 years of age, who came out from Scotland three months ago, was found dead in bed at 351 Bathurst street yesterday morning. The room was full of gas.

Dies From Burns.

Stratford, Nov. 10.—Minnie Smith, the domestic, who was frightfully burned Thursday night through falling with a lighted lamp, died at 5 o'clock yesterday morning in the hospital.

British Steamer Ashore.

Cuxhaven, Germany, Nov. 10.—The British steamer Madawask, from Galveston, is ashore on the eastern coast of Nordernri Island. Several tugs have gone to her assistance.

St. Joseph's, the Remin Catholic hospital at Sudbury, which now has 35 rooms, with accommodation for 60 patients, will be enlarged next year to 60 compartments, at a cost of $40,000.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO., OF CANADA

RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION.

The Severe Probing But Revealed Greater Strength—$3,000,000 Better Off Than It Claimed to be—Investments Absolutely Secure and Highly Profitably—Mr. Kent's Remarks.

Now, that the chaff of trifling details has blown away, the management of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada desire to draw attention to the really important facts which the investigation by the Royal Commission has brought out.

Large Profits on Investments.

The most striking feature of the evidence was unquestionably the immensely profitable character of the investments. During the past few years the company has realized a net profit, after deducting all losses, not only of principal, but of interest, and after liberally writing down any securities at all doubtful, of over $1,000,000 in hard cash. In addition, the present market value of the securities still owned, is about $1,050,000 in excess of their ledger value. Still further, the company has a contingent fund, consisting chiefly of stocks obtained in years gone by as bonuses in connection with bond purchases, which, though held in the company's books at a nominal value of $1 for each block, have an approximate value of $3,050,000, and that value is iincreasing steadily. The Company's policy is to hold these securities as a contingent fund, and to only include them in the published list as each block becomes interest bearing, or is sold. In the meantime policy holders have the advantage of the immense additional security thus provided, and may also reasonably expect to have their profits much increased from this source in years to come.

Safety the First Consideration.

Although the Company has thus made enormous profits, these profits have not been made from speculative securities. The Company carefully avoids such. The profits are the result of a policy of not waiting for investments to come to the Company, but of deliberately looking around and selecting those that are safest and best, and then making use of the company's ability to purchase large blocks (its assets are now $24,000,000) to obtain inside terms, thus cutting out the middle men. Absolute safety is always the first consideration, and profit is essentially secondary. Actual illustrations are, however, more convincing than general statements, and as some attention was given to our investments in the Illinois Traction Company, these may be taken as examples.

The Illinois Traction Company.

The first investment of the Company in Illinois Traction securities was the purchase of two thirds of the bonds of the Danville, Urbana & Champaign Railway. These were secured by first mortage on a new interurban line connecting Danville with the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign, and by a further lien on the public utilities of the three cities, comprising the street railways, electric light and gas plants of each. Were these bonds absolutely safe? The audited net earnings fo the previous year of the properties by which they were secured, after deducting every charge of every kind that would rank ahead of the interest on the new bonds, was $136,700. The total interest charge of the new bonds, including amount required to complete the interurban, was $54,000. The existing net earnings were therefore already more than two and a half times the interest charge upon the new bonds. This was without any addition from natural increase, or from the new line. The replacement value of the property was moreover estimated at $1,500,000 in excess of all bonds. Was there any risk in making such a purchase? Although no increase in earnings was needed to make the bonds abundantly safe, the new interurban line has in reality proved higly profitable, and the earnings of the city properties have also steadily increased, so that the surplus, which was two and a half times the interest charge when the bonds were purchased, is now about $370,000, or seven times the interest charge. The bonds were shortly afterwards sold at an advance in price, without any stock bonus, to an American banking firm who, in turn, retailed them at a still higher price to the public, among the purchasers being two of the largest and best American Insurance Companies, which each took a block of $100,000. The security for these bonds is absolute. Better cannot be obtained. Did the fact that the Sun Company make a bargain by which it obtained some bonus stock, which would ordinarily have gone to other parties, in any way lessen that security?

Decatur Railway and Light Company.

The second purchase of Illinois Traction securities consisted of the bonds of the Decatur Railway & Light Company, which carried a mortgage upon the street railway, electric light and gas proprties of the city of Decatur. The audited available net earnings of these properties, without any addition for normal increase or earnings on new property, were over $62,000, to cover an interest charge of $30,000 on the new bonds, or more than $2 for each $1 required. In addition there was the guarantee of the Illinois Traction Company, whose surplus earnings from other properties already amounted to $130,000, or a further guarantee equal to the entire interest charge on the new bonds. Where can safer or better bonds be obtained? Was there anything speculative about them? These, too, have since all been sold at an advance in price, the Sun Company retaining the stock bonus.

Illinois Central Traction Company.

This was the third purchase. These bonds were secured by first mortgage upon a new interurban line between Decatur and Springfield, the capital of the state. Connecting two such cities the success of the line was assured from the start. The bonds were, however, also guaranteed by the Illinois Traction Company, which then had a surplus of $102,000 available from its other properties for the payment of this interest. As the entire interest charge upon the new road when finished would be only $65,000, the interest was already assured two and a half times over, even if the new line earned nothing. It did, however, earn its own entire interest charges in the first eight months of its first year of complete operation, so that instead of having to call upon the guarantee of the parent company, it earned a surplus of fifty per cent. These bonds, too, were all purchased shortly afterwards by a firm of bankers at an advance in price, without any stock bonus.

Further illustrations could be given but these cases, which were specially investigated, are enough to show the very high quality of the bonds in which the Sun Life has invested.

The value of the guarantee of the Illinois Traction Co. to any bond may be judged from the fact that its annual gross revenue now exceeds $3,000,000, and that it has a surplus of $700,000 above the total interest charges upon all the bonds of the system. After paying six per cent. dividends upon its preferred stock, it is earning about nine per cent. on its common stock, that nine per cent., however, not being paid in cash, but being used for extensions and other capital expenditure, which increase the value of the property. There are over seven hundred shareholders, and the market value of the preferred and common stock is about $7,000,000. While the first issue of this preferred stock had some water in it, large amounts have since been issued at 87 1-2 and 95 for cash, so that about $1,000,000 of actual cash has been paid in upon the preferred stock, and about $1,200,000 more of value has been put into it in the form of surplus earnings used for extensions. The stock, therefore, has a very solid, cash basis. The franchises are long and favourable, and are perpetual for more than two-thirds of the mileage.

The question was asked how long it would take to dispose of the Illinois Traction securities. The company's entire holdings could easily be disposed of at a handsome profit within two days. Any person, however, who observes the phenomenal growth of the earnings must realize that the common stock at least will not attain its full value for years, and to sell now would merely be to divert it to the pockets of brokers immense amounts which would otherwise go to the policyholders.

Benefit to Policyholders.

The large profits have enabled the company to forestall the requirements of the law and at once place the reserves upon all its policies upon a 3 1-2 per cent. basis, a step calling for about $1,200,000. Even by this severe standard it had at 31st December last a surplus over all liabilities and capital stock of $1,735,608.59. This sum has since been largely increased. This does not include the continzent fund of over $3,000,000. The company has also been enabled to increase the rate of profit paid to policyholders year after year, and it expects to still further increase it.

Writing Down Securities.

The company has been criticized for writing down its securities before losses actually happened, simply because it feared that loss might perhaps arise. The management claim, however, that this is the only proper course, and that any other would be highly objectionable. If the manager of a bank or loan company were to refrain from writing down securities because he chose to say that loss had yet actually materialized, he would be condemned as issuing misleading statements. The management consider that they deserve credit instead of censure for the course they took. As regards the so-called writing up, the facts are merely that when some large blocks of Illinois Traction preferred and other securities were sufficiently ripe to be transferred from the contingent account to the active list, the management had to face the question whether the entire value of these stocks should be added to the surplus, or whether they should be used in part to write down other securities not quite so good. It was decided to substitute these new securities in part for some others, that while not bad, were not entirely satisfactory. Had not this been done, the nominal surplus of the company would have been increased by about $300,000. In the opinion of the management this course was conservative and proper.

Incidentally, most of the securities then written down have since so improved that comparatively little loss is now expected. The actual losses incurred by the company have in fact been very trifling when compared with the profits, thus affording a further testimony to the high quality of the securities.

Directors Have Not Profited.

No director has ever obtained any financial profit or advantage of any kind out of the company, by means of sales, loans or any such arrangement of any kind whatever, directly or indirectly. The charter prohibits directors and officers from borrowing from the company, and this has been literally lived up to. Directors have been permitted to purchase securities for themselves on precisely the same terms as they were purchasing them for the company, but that did not injure the policyholders, and it is ever desirable that directors should show their faith in the investments into which they put the company's money by taking some of the same for themselves. When this has been done, however, they have paid for such investments absolutely with their own money, and the company has not assisted them in financing in any way.

Estimates and Results.

Over 700 preferred profit policies have matured, and in thirty-four per cent. of the cases the amount originally estimated as likely to be received at the end of the term, has been realized or exceeded. On all the cases combined the average amount paid has been about ninety-seven per cent. of the estimate. The management may be pardoned for being proud of this record. The estimates now in use are lower than the former ones, and premiums are higher, so that present estimates should certainly be realized. Statements were filed showing that $108 is on hand for every $100 required to pay the amounts called for by the present estimates for every deferred profit policy on the books.

Stockholders.

The directors have reduced the proportion of profits accruing to shareholders, from 20 per cent. which was the original ratio, and is still usual with British companies, to only 5 per cent. When the capital was increased in 1897, the new stock was issued at 300 per cent. of the paid-up value, and the dividends of 15 per cent., which have since been paid, therefore yield the stockholders only 5 per cent. upon the amount paid into the company. As the money earned more than 5 per cent. this new capital has cost the policyholders nothing.

Commissioner Kent's Appreciation.

The management gratefully acknowledges Mr. Kent's appreciative remarks at the closing session, in which he stated in connection with his suggestion that voting power might be given to policyholders that "it seems to me that in the conduct "of the Sun Life business there is "nothing to be desired as far as the "present generation is concerned. If "you were immortal I would not say "anything further about it. If, by "sound judgment, hard work and "just discrimination you have put "the Sun Life on the pinnacle of a "successful company, another management with other attributes "might just as easily squander it "..... The directors have done their "duty nobly; there is no complaint "to be made against them, or any "one of them. Who can say whether "the future management will continue the present high standard of "your company?"

While the directors and management deeply regret that they do not see the question of voting by policyholders in the same light as Mr. Kent, nevertheless such remarks, coming from one of the Commissioners, are intensely appreciated.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS WITH AN ACCIDENT

Patrick Kelly Almost Lost His Life by Accidental Discharge of His Snider Rifle.

The Bancroft Times of this week says: On Thursday last, the first day of the deer hunting season, Mr. Patrick Kelly of Dungannon, came very near losing his life by the accidental discharge of his gun. It appears that the unfortunate young man was stepping over a log, and had hold of his rifle by the muzzle, when the hammer struck the log and discharged the gun. The ball went through his right wrist and struck him in the side, but glanced, and thus saved his life. Part of the ball was found in his sock. His wrist was badly mangled, the rifle being a Snider, and he may possibly have to have the hand amputated.

MR. M'GILL MAKES STATEMENT RE HOSPITAL

One of Executors of Nicholls Estate Explains Their Policy Regarding The Hospital.

THE CITY NOT ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE

A representative of the Examiner, owing to a paragraph which appeared in Tuesday evening's edition, saw Mr. Chas McGill and asked him if it was correct, as has been intimated that in future the city would have to provide for any shortage that there might be in connection with the maintenance of the Nicholls Hospital. In connection therewith Mr. McGill stated that it was the intention of the executors of the estate that in addition to some expenditures which were to be made on the parks and some in connection with the Y.M.C.A. the balance of the fund in the estate would be utilized solely for any deficit that there might be in connection with the operations of the Nicholls Hospital, and that it was never the intention of the executors to ask the city for any money to pay any of the expenses in connection with the hospital while there were any funds left in the estate, and that the amount available should be sufficient to provide anything that might be necessary for the maintenance of the hospital for many years to come.

This corroborates the statement made in Saturday's Examiner by Mayor Beat, as coming from the other executor, Mr. Richard Hall.

Both of the executors inform the Examiner that it never was the intention of the estate to solicit from the ratepayers any assistance while the funds of the estate were available for this purpose.

At the time of the last monthly meeting of the Nicholls Hospital Board a suggestion was made that in future should there be any deficit on account of maintenance of the hospital, the city treasury should be called upon to contribute towards liquidating it, and that in this way the ratepayers, who up to the present time have not had to provide for this charity, would feel a practical interest in the institution. When the matter was brought to the attention and had been given consideration by the executors, they decided that, while appreciating the interest which the suggestion displayed, the policy which had been pursued in the past would be continued, in view of the fact that the late Mrs. Nicholls, whose funds they were administering, was perhaps more deeply interested during her lifetime in the work of caring for the sick than in any other of her numerous charities, and they felt certain that her wish would be that her money now should be devoted to this purpose.

TAKING INSPECTION TRIP TO STONEY LAKE

Cottagers Going Up On Steamer Sovereign To-day to See Wharves.

This morning a party of gentlemen who own islands at Stony Lake left for Lakefield, where they took the steamer Sovereign for a trip around the lake, for the purpose of making an inspection of the work which the Government has been doing during the summer in connection with raising the wharves of the cottagers, who claimed that the high water had affected their property. For some time now a gang of men under the charge of Mr. S. Clegg have been at work raising these wharves, and a large number have been completed. It was for the purpose of inspecting these that the trip was made to-day.

ARMED FREEBOOTERS JOIN RAIDING BOERS

A Serious Situation Arising In South Africa—Mounted Police to the Rescue

Examiner Special.

Capetown, Nov. 12th. — Parties of armed freebooters from the Germany African possessions, are crossing the frontier, to join the raiding Boer bands, under Ferriera. A flying column of mounted police and bands of armed burghers are on their way to head of Ferriera, and an engagement is imminent.

PETERBOROUGH MAN IS GIVEN HIGH HONOURS

Mr. W. McIlroy Elected President of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association on Saturday.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN MOBILE.

Peterborough men are taking high honours in the transportation business of the country. Mr. William Bunton of this city, was last year Ticket Agents' Association, and at the annual meeting of the association held in Mobile, Florida, last week, Mr. W. McIlroy, also of this city, was elected as his successor in that office, and will continue in it during this year. A despatch from Mobile to-day says in referring to the meeting:

The annual convention of the Canadian Ticket Agents Association was called to order at Mobile, Ala., on Saturday, with 158 delegates present. President Wm. Bunton, of Peterborough, Ont., delivered his annual address. The feature of the session was the reading of a paper on "Railway Development in Canada," by H. J. Pettypiece, Forest, Ont. These officers were chosen: W. McIlroy, president, Peterborough; C. R. Coleman, first vice-president, Truro, N. S.; R. J. Craig, second vice-president, Cobourg; H. J. Hanley, third vice-president, Kingston; E. De la Hooke, secretary-treasurer, London; F. R. Rogers, auditor, Clinton.

Y. W. C. A. DAY SALE WAS PRODUCTIVE OF RESULTS

$151.15 Was Realized for the Y. W. C. A.—This Was One-tenth of Day's Cash Receipts.

It was Y. W. C. A. day at Cressman's on Saturday, and, as a result Mr. A. W. Cressman was able to send the local Y.W.C.A. a cheque for $151.15, which that body will gratefully and thankfully receive.

Mr. Cressman had very kindly offered to donate to the Y.W.C.A. one tenth of the total cash sales on Saturday, and that amount is represented by the above mentioned cheque. The weather conditions and the season of the year were against the sale, but yet the amount realized is a most creditable one.

KINMOUNT RAILWAY OPEN THIRTY YEARS ON FRIDAY

Nearly a Third of a Century Since the North Section Was Given Railway Connection.

The Victoria Railway was opened from Lindsay to Kinmount on November 9, 1876, thirty years ago. The grand opening of this railway was the occasion of mute joy in Lindsay, and the event was highly honoured and celebrated in a most loyal style. It was in '76 also that what is known as "the Whitby extension" was built through Ops and Mariposa to Port Perry and Whitby.—Lindsay Post.

A BRIGHT LANDLORD

How He Met the Emergency With a Backward Tenant.

A Montreal landlord developed an ingenious idea for getting the rent out of a backward tenant. The tenant, the man did not pay his rent was because he had'nt the money. The reason he hadn't the money was because he was down on his luck.

The landlord took his tenant down to McLean & Campbell's Semi-ready Warehouse, bought him a new suit of clothes, and made him feel like a new man with the courage to go out and find a job. And a few days ago the tenant had paid up all his back rent. That is the kind of a landlord to have.

Cressman's have all the new Semi ready styles, and the exclusive agency for Peterborough and district.

GEORGE ST. STORE DOMINION BANK OFFICES.

Report That Negotiations are in Progress for the China Hall Location.

CHANGE PROBABLE AFTER NEW YEAR

The Examiner is informed that the Dominion Bank will, in all probability, after the first of the year, be located in the building at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, which for a number of years has been known as China Hall, negotiations having been in progress between the owners of the property and the bank officials for a lease of the corner property. It has been known that the Dominion Bank had simply taken the present premises temporarily, and that the intention was as soon as possible to secure premises which could be used permanently, and apparently this has been done. It is reported that as soon as possible after January first, when the necessary alterations have been made, the bank will be located in the George street building, which would make an excellent location for a bank.

Mr. Macfarlane Wilson has conducted business in this store for a number of years and China Hall has become well known among the business places in the city.

RESPECTED LADY DIED AT 97 YEARS OF AGE

Late Mrs. Phoebe Taylor Had Reached Almost the Century Mark

The inevitable summons of death came to Mrs. Phoebe Taylor, the wife of the late Henry Taylor, when her span of life had almost reached five score years. The deceased, whose death occurred yesterday was born 97 years ago in Abbeyville in the county of Tipperary, Ireland. She was married in her native village about 60 years ago to the late Henry Taylor who predeceased her 47 years ago. She came to Canada in 1861 and has lived in this county ever since. Till about 13 years ago she lived in Cavan, later moving to Peterborough, where she has lived ever since with her daughter Mrs. Annie Goodfellow, at 187 Brock street. The only living child is a daughter, Mrs. Goodfellow, while there are also six grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Tuesday) at 1 o'clock to the Fraserville Cemetery, where interement will take place.

BISHOP WILL ADMINISTER RITE OF CONFERMATION

To Large Number of Candidates in St. John's and All Saints' Churches.

His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto, will pay an official visit to Peterborough this week, and will administer the rite of confirmation at St. John's and All Saints' churches, in the former church on Friday night, and in All Saints" church on Sunday evening. In each of these churches there is a large number of candidates for confirmation, and it is expected that as a result of the Bishop's visit, the membership of the two Anglican churches mentioned will be very materially increased.

On this visit His Lordship will not hold confirmation services at St. Luke's, this rite having been observed in that church on His Lordship's last visit to the city.

SUBJECTS OF MEETINGS FOR THE INSTITUTE

Directors of Farmers' Institute Met Saturday and Selected Them.

A meeting of the directors of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held on Saturday afternoon, when the subjects for the winter meetings of the Institute were decided on. It is expected that the meetings this year will be of a more than usually interesting character. The subjects selected are all of a nature which will ensure general interest, and the speakers who have been secured are recognized as the best in their particular line. In a few days bills will be issued giving the names of the speakers, dates of meetings, and the list of subjects which will be dealt with at the various meetings by the speakers. Mr. Collins, the energetic secretary of the Institute, is working hard for the success of the meetings, and if they are not successful it will not be for any lack of enterprise or failure to attend to any detail on the part of Mr. Collins.

Has Taken a Thousand

Zutoo

Always Cured Headache. Never Affected her Heart.

Here is a testimonial from the wife of Doctor W. L. Shurtleff, K.C., of Coaticook, Que., who has taken a thousand Zutoo Tablets (the Japanese Vegetable Headache remedy.)

It should convince any doubting one, that while the tablets cure headache, they do not, like the drug cures, affect the heart, nerves or stomach. No one would or could take such a number if they were not perfectly harmless. Mrs. Shurtleff herself had to discard the drug cures.

Here is what she says:

I have always been a great sufferer from headache, and have taken a great many headache cures. I found that after taking them for a time they caused palpitation of the heart. Three years ago I began using Zutoo. I have likely taken over a thousand tablets. I have never yet felt the least ill-effect from using them and they cure my headaches as quickly as any remedy I ever took.

They are Harmless as Soda.

NEW DISTRICT NEEDS.

Dr. Goodwin, of Kingston, incidental to his report of his work done in the interests of the Bureau of Mines in Northern Ontario, speaks of the alarming illiteracy of the people in the settled districts of the northern parts of the Province. Here is an opportunity for the Education Department to do good work. In newly-settled districts the inhabitants must make up their minds to do without many conveniences and advantages which are to be found where conditions are more advanced. Among these are religious influences and educational advantages. It will be the people no permanent injury to live roughly for a while, so far as material things are concerned, but there is danger of lasting evil resulting from the absence of the two advantages mentioned. If the morals and minds of these new people are deprived of the benefit of advantages for improvement the consequences will be disastrous. It becomes the Provincial Government to take prompt steps to remedy the existing conditions. While it is commendable to expend money to make roads, bridges and other transportation improvements for the new settlers, their educational needs should by no means be neglected. The churches are charged with the responsibility of providing means to meet the spiritual needs of these new people. Public sentiment is very strong in Canada against any connection between Church and State, but the problem of good citizenship, so intimately the interest and business of the State, is so important a matter in relation to new districts, that it is worth while to inquire if it might not be permissible for the State to go further than a mere formal attitude towards the work of the Church as a whole. It is suggested, and only suggested, as a matter perhaps worthy of consideration, whether, under exceptional conditions, such as referred to, it would not be permissible for the Government to take exceptional measures. Might it not be worth while to consider whether the construction, in new districts, by the Government, of buildings to be used by all denominations for religious purposes would be, under the circumstances, a very objectionable violation of the principle of the divorce of Church and State?

MANUFACTURERS TO STAY EAST

Ottawa Free Press.

Apparently hopeful of results from the visit of the manufacturers to the West this autumn, the Western people are calling aloud with a greater persistency than ever before for the establishing of manufacturing plants beyond the great lakes. It is contended that it would be good business for the people of Eastern Canada to take a more active share in the development of the West than they have hitherto done. Whether they do so or not, it is claimed there can be no check to the growth of the West, and that much of its growth in the immediate future will be along industrial lines. Industries it will have, and, it is held, the question which must be answered is whether their industries will be established by Eastern firms now supplying the Western trade, or be started with foreign capital.

Handicapped as the Eastern mills are by a thousand-mile haul, it is maintained that they must go out of business in the markets of the far West as regards any commodities which can be successfully produced on the spot. Therefore, it is thought to be folly for Eastern manufacturers to go on extending their plants and increasing the facilities of their Eastern establishments for the purpose of handling their Western business, which may soon be cut off by new industries established in the West by United States and English capital.

This argument may seem very plausible from the Western point of view, but Eastern manufacturers in the present day of speedy transportation see no bogey in the two-thousand-mile haul. Neither are they likely to establish their main industries in the West when they would be obliged to bring the bulk of their raw material from the East. Rather will they maintain their industries in the East and ship West the finished product. The West will go on raising grain, but without the raw material for manufacturing purposes close by it must look to the East for the manufactured goods it requires.

THE UNCLOUDED "SUN."

While the searching investigation into insurance methods, revealed more or less undesirable conditions in respect of some insurance corporations, the Sun Life Assurance Company's record came out of the ordeal with undiminished brightness. In an article in these columns on Saturday a plain and unsophisticated statement was presented, showing the excellent standing of this company as revealed at the investigation, especially in the matter of the safety of its investments, associated with their profitable character. The reader interested in the safest and most profitable form of life assurance, is invited to read the article on the last page of the Examiner of Saturday and he will receive information that will be of especial interest and value. The statement of one of the commissioners at the conclusion of the investigation into the Sun Life record and methods is extremely significant—"It seems to me that in the conduct of the Sun Life business there is nothing to be desired."

The reliability of the Sun Life is reflected in its local representative Mr. W. H. Hill, who has for many years looked after its city and district interests in a manner to win a large degree of public confidence.

WILL HE RESIGN?

Our suspiciously virtuous Conservative friends, are protesting much in their demand for the resignation of Mr. Hyman, on account of the revelations in the London election. Whatever force there may be on the merits in such a demand, it is impaired in the matter of the respective responsibility of the parties, by the more than suspicion, that equally grave, if not graver, corruption, was practiced by Mr. Hyman's political opponents. If the skirts of the Conservatives were clean, they would take a less pharisaic stand. Now, it is pertinent, to inquire, if Mr. Marshall, the Conservative member-elect for East Elgin, will resign, on the head of the revelations in connection with the Orwell hotel prosecution. People object to the breach of the election law by the hiring of teams to convey voters, and very properly. People object to the employment of money to purchase voters, who do not appreciate the value of their franchise, on higher grounds, and properly; but what can be said of the party which knowingly accepts the results of a cold-blooded, heartless conspiracy to blacken the name of an opposing candidate, and win their candidate's election by such foul means? There is little reason to doubt that the election of Mr. Marshall is due to the fact that his opponent entered the field at the last moment, Mr. Hepburn the candidate who had canvassed the riding, having been driven out of the field by an act of political corruption of a heinousness never paralleled in our political history. There are many criminals undergoing punishment in the Kingston penitentiary, who have a reason to feel that they are harshly dealt with, in comparison with the act of the persons who conspired to wreck the reputation of an estimable citizen, to hold up him, and his family, and family connections, to public scorn, for the sake of a party advantage. That the plot succeeded, that through it the Conservative candidate was elected, does not deprive it of any of its iniquity. What is the Conservative member-elect going to do? Will he and his party friends accept the price of unparalleled political criminality? If ever a man elected by odiously improper influences should resign, it should be Mr. Marshall, the member-elect for East Elgin.

MONTREAL LIBERALS WILL HONOUR FINANCE MINISTER

Will Tender Banquet to Hon. W. S. Fielding on November 20th at Windsor Hall.

The reform Club, of Montreal, will tender a dinner to the Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance in the Dominion Cabinet, at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, on Tuesday, November 20, and it is anticipated that a number of Ontario Liberals will take advantage of this opportunity of doing honour to one of the most conspicuous figures in Canadian politics to-day. Tickets may be obtained at the Montreal Reform Club, 30 University street, Montreal, or they can be reserved on application, by wire or letter, to the secretary, at the club rooms. The joint secretaries of the club are Messrs. Louis Gosselin and W. G. Mitchell.

"AUTOMATIC VAUDEVILLE" DID A GOOD BUSINESS

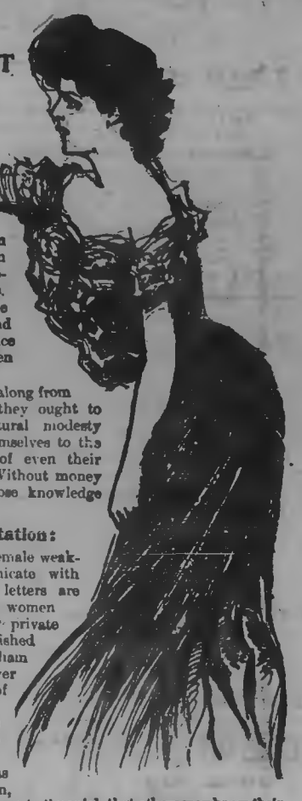
First Week of Penny Arcade Highly Satisfactory to the Management—New Pictures.

The "Automatic Vaudeville," after one week's business, was crowded on Saturday night, and the managers express themselves as highly pleased with the result of the first week's business. There seems to be no doubt of the popularity of this form of amusement, the arcade being filled on Saturday night until near midnight, and one had frequently to wait one's turn at the machines, the athletic exercises being particularly popular with the young men, while the picture machines attract the ladies and children, the views showing nothing humourous, nothing of anything but a refined character being allowed in the arcade.

This week a change of pictures will be made, and in future they will be changed frequently.

STOP, WOMEN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT



That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have a severe female trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and E. Capitol Sts., Washington, D. C.

Second letter

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me.

"As you know, I wrote you that my doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I then wrote you, telling you my ailments. I followed your advice and am entirely well. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I owe my life to you and to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wish every suffering woman would read this testimonial and realize the value of writing to you and your remedy."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and E. Capitol Streets, Washington, D.C.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE WELL CONDUCTED

By the Representatives of the Canadian Sales Company.

It is a satisfaction to be able to refer to the straightforward manner in which the sale at Miss Moyes' bankrupt store, George street, last week, was conducted by Mr. George J. Weber, manager of the Canadian Sale Co., Toronto. Not only did the results prove financially satisfactory to Miss Moyes by the converting of a large amount of goods into cash, but the methods and dealings of the Sales Co. reflected credit on Mr. Weber. A similar sale is at present being conducted by this company at the store of Mr. Craig, Havelock, and another is being arranged for today in Port Hope.

Council Will Have To Deal With Isolation Hospital

Board of Health Passes Over the Plans and Likewise the Responsibility to That Body.

THE DOTIES OF THE SANITARY INSPECTOR WERE DEFINED

The Isolation Hospital question, as far as the Board of Health is concerned is over, and at a meeting of the Board this morning the responsibility was shifted over to the Council. It was decided to submit the plans and specifications to the latter body and to ask them to see that the hospital is built. The Board and Council have been playing tag with the hospital problem, and it now looks as if the Council were "it."

A report was read from Architect Blackwell, showing the nature and cost of the building. It would be a plain building, 32x54, three storeys high, with brick walls, pine floors, flat, gravel roof, and as plain as possible. The cost of erection was placed at $5,800, and for steam heating, etc., at $1,200, making a total cost of $7,000.

On motion, it was decided that the plans should be sent to the City Council, with a request that the hospital be built.

Milk Inspection.

Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, presented a report on the inspection of ten samples of milk which had been found to be very good, and there were no bad samples. The report, in detail, will be published later.

Compulsory Sewers.

A communication was received from City Solicitor Hall in reference to the Board's asking that a bylaw be passed making it compulsory for certain sewers to be built. Mr. Hall stated that the Board had no authority to say that certain terraces and houses should be connected with the sewer. They must define the area drained by the sewers.

It was decided to send the communication to the Council.

Private Drain.

Mr. Hall also reported in reference to the private drain east of George street and north of Hunter street, about which complaints had been received. He advised the Board to notify the people using it to see that conditions were remedied, and in case they refused, to lay information against them.

Dr. Bingham stated that the drain had been flushed out, and that there had been no complaints recently in connection with the matter.

Another inspection of the drain will be made.

Report on Water.

The following report was read from the Provincial Bacteriologist, Dr. Amyot, re samples of water sent from wells.

Elliott well; no bacteria; chlorine in parts, per million, 22.

Ivey well; no bacteria; chlorine in parts, per million, 24.

Both of these waters show chemical pollution, probably from seepage, but neither of them are injected with harmful bacteria. They are probably safe drinking waters.

Dr. Amyot also reported concerning samples of water taken from the taps in the police station and City Clerk's office. The latter showed signs of intestinal bacteria.

Dr. Bingham stated that he had sent samples of water taken from the well in the yard of the Albion Hotel. He was instructed to see that the well was closed in and the report was not favourable.

Duties of Sanitary Inspector.

The Board had been asked by the Council to define the duties of a sanitary inspector. They did so this morning, and, judging from the following motion, this official will be like King Bunn in The Gingerbread Man. He will "have a thousand things to think of":

That the duties of the sanitary inspector be the enforcement of the law in regard to pollution of water above waterworks intake; inspection under the bylaw regarding the licensing and regulating of milk vendours; inspection of bakeries; examination of yards and premises; examination of wells, slaughter houses, etc.; reporting on the necessity for sewer connection; existence of cesspools, privy vaults, etc., and to perform all the duties of a sanitary inspector under the Public Health Act and all bylaws of the Council and regulations of the Board and such other duties as he may be directed to perform by the Council or Board of Health or Medical Health Officer. —Carried.

There were present Mr. Wm. Eyres, in the chair; Mr. R. Neill, Dr. Burnham, Dr. McNulty, and Dr. Bingham, M. H. O.

Peterborough Pastors Preached Many Sermons To Young Men

In Response To Request of Y. M. C. A. Problems Affecting Young Men Were Dealt With In Pulpits

"MONEY AND THEATRE-GOING" THE SUBJECT AT ALL SAINTS'

Young Men's Problems received consideration in a number of the city pulpits last night, when special sermons were preached, at the request of the general committee of the Y.M.C.A., on the question of young men. In response to this request the majority of the ministers last night made special reference to the work of the Association, and spoke of the problem of the young man in his relation to the church.

As a consequence of these special sermons being announced the churches were well filled with young men, who evidently appreciated the interest shown in their welfare.

Self Conceit Condemned.

At St. Andrew's church last night the pastor gave the young men of his congregation some good advice, which, if heeded will, no doubt, result beneficially. He advised them not "to think too highly of themselves but to think soberly." The proper use of all the gifts and powers of manhood was counselled, and the lesson was illustrated by the case of the master of a steamer, the general of an army and the head of a large business, all of whom required to possess an absolutely correct estimate of their own capacity for doing things. Self conceit was condemned, as likely to lead to mischief, and, eventually to failure.

Young Men's Difficulties.

The story of the rich young ruler formed the basis for the sermon preached by Rev. F. J. Scott in the Murray street church last night to young men. The idea that young men of to-day were not susceptible to religious influences was, the speaker said, quite prevelant, but, for his part, he did not believe this to be the case, though as a matter of fact, they were harder to influence than young women, proof of which fact was furnished last night, when, out of four baptisms, three were young women and one was a young man. In the United States, Mr. Scott said, the young men were taking a prominent part in church work, several millions being identified with the churches. Some of the difficulties in the way of young men taking active part in church work were referred to by the speaker.

Money and Theatre-going.

The practice of young men who spend their money going to the theatre and neglect to pay their board bills was condemned strongly last night by Rev. Wm. Major in his sermon to young men. His subject last night was Money and Theatre-going," and in the course of his sermon he gave some straight, pointed facts for the consideration of the young men, who were present in large numbers.

Speaking on the question of money, Mr. Major advised the young men to save their earnings and not get into debt. He also counselled them to acquire the habit of giving, which was one of the most desirable virtues.

He expressed his opinion that the presence of an opera house in the city was not an unmixed good. Young men spend their money going to a place of amusement, when they should be paying their board bills. Speaking of the lives of actors and actresses, he said the life on the stage had a degrading influence upon them, the fact that they had to enter into the feelings of the persons whose parts they were playing, and that, as a general rule, those parts appealed to the lower instincts of men, giving their work the effect of lowering their standard of morals.

Lessons From Samson.

The bitter experience of Samson, who was punished for his disobedience to God, formed the subject of the sermon to young men preached in the George street church last night, by Rev. Dr. Crothers. His text was, "He wist not that the Lord had departed from him," and the speaker drew many lessons which which should be helpful to young men, from the life of Samson.

Value of a Clean Life.

"I have tried—I have lived a clean life." In these words Rev. J. G. Lewis gave the closing statement of the late Wm. J. Hambidge, in his sermon to young men last night at the Mark street church, and from it he drew some lessons which could not help being beneficial to the young men who were listening to the sermon, and the statement of one whom many knew well. The text, from which the sermon was preached was, "Let no man despise thy youth." The speaker gave some reasons why it should not be despised, one of which was because it was a stage which all has passed through. Another reason why it should not be despised was because the records made by young men in business, in science and in discovery did not justify it. Youth was a crucial time, because it was a time of great choices, choices of business, life-partner, life standards and moral status. It was also a time of temptation.

The fact that young men needs help was referred to, and the statement was made that the church should supply this help. It was the duty of the church to give interest, sympathy and counsel. In conclusion three essentials in life were mentioned; purity, truth and reverence.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH.

"The Bonnie Brier Bush," that beautiful portrayal of life among the Scottish hills, was the attraction at the Grand Opera House Saturday night, when a crowded house greeted the well-balanced company presenting the piece. And everyone was thoroughly pleased, and the only regret was that there would not be another opportunity of seeing the play again, perhaps, for another season. "The Bonnie Brier Bush" is one of those plays that are, unfortunately, too few in number, from which one comes away better for having seen it. It was as good as a sermon, wholesome as the air of the hills where the plot of the story is laid, and at the same time permeated with a fund of comedy that drives away care and compels the onlooker to give way to heartiest laughter. The story of "The Bonnie Brier Bush" is too well known to be enlarged upon here. The love of Lord Hay, the son of the affluent Earl Kilspindie, for Flora Campbell, daughter of the humble shepherd, Lachlan Campbell, the opposition of the parents of both parties, their secret marriage, as a result of which Flora is cast out of her father's house; the transformation of Lachlan Campbell and the happy ending for all concerned, are the component features of a play that is full of interest from beginning to end.

The part of Archibald McKitrick, known as "Posty," whose love for the bottle is only surpassed by his drollery and homely witticisms, was well portrayed by Chas. E. Bloomer. His acting could not well be improved upon. The part of Lachlan Campbell was splendidly taken by David Davies, whose strong presentation of this difficult role won unstinted applause. Miss Ormilla Ricards as Flora Campbell, was one of the best in the company, her portrayal of the part being most realistic and effective. The other members of the cast were equally strong in their respective roles, particularly the Bennett children, as Jennie and Geordie. A male quartette added greatly to the production by the beautiful rendition of old Scotch songs.

Altogether, "The Bonnie Brier was one of the strongest attractions here this season, and thoroughly delighted a large audience.

PAINTING THE TOWN.

The new three act musical burrah "Painting the Town" presented by the Charles H. Yale Amusement Company, is announced as the attraction at the Grand, for Sat. Nov. 17th. The play is said to be an unusually bright and clever one, and the story being of the bright side of city life, full of hustle, bustle and go, constructed for laughing purposes only, has met with success in every city where it has been presented. The music by Herman Perlet is new, striking and original, while the scenery and costumes are of the most elaborate description with many new and striking mechanical effects.

The company, headed by those very funny Irish comedians, Halliday and Leonard, includes such well known artists as Miss Mazie King, Miss Edith Lowe, Miss Louise Sanford, The Trans-Atlantic Four — Bohannon, Pooley, Norman and Allyn; Mr. Almon Knowles, Mr. Claude Lightner, and a chorus, it is said, of forty people.

Mr. Chas. H. Yale for the past 25 years has given his entire attention to the presentation of large scenic and costume productions, notably "The Sea King," "The Evil Eye," "The Devil's Auction," "The Twelve Temptations" and other attractions, all of which can, without exaggeration, be claimed to have won not only the entire confidence of the theatre-going public, but to have scored more than usual success.

In presenting "Painting the Town" Mr. Yale assures the public that the play is an unusual and enjoyable one, interspersed with tuneful melodies and musical novelties, interpreted by clever artists with sumptuous accessories in brilliant costuming and scenic surroundings, and to this end nothing has been left undone that liberal outlay and ability could insure.

THE PORT HOPE DEALERS CHARGE HIGH

Belief That Coal is Too Dear in That Town—Comparisons Made.

The people of Port Hope are considerably agitated over the price of coal in that town, the general impression prevailing that the dealers are charging more than they should for this necessary heat-producing product. In order to establish this claim those interested are writing to different towns and cities making inquiries as the price of coal in them. Peterborough prices are being obtained, with a view of making a comparison, with the prices charged in that town, the belief being that coal here, in spite of the fact that freight rates are higher, is sold cheaper than it is in the lake town, with ambitions along the line of the Trent Canal outlet.

HIBERNIANS CANED THEIR PHYSICIAN DR. COUGHLIN

Members of Division No. 1 Said Farewell to Him on Saturday Night

MANY SPEAKERS EXPRESSED REGRETS

On Saturday night the members of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held a special meeting in their room on Hunter street, to say farewell to Dr. C. B. Coughlin, the divisional physician, who leaves on Wednesday, to take up his duties at Belleville.

During the evening Dr. Coughlin was presented with a very handsome gold headed cane, and an address. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. Lynch, and Mr. Jos. Maher made the presentation, while Mr. James Drain, County President, read the following address:

C. B. Coughlin, M.D.,
Medical Supervisor A. O. H.

Dear Sir and Bro. — We the members of Division No. 1, A. O. H., of Peterborough, having learned of your intended removal from our midst, and your appointment to the responsible position of superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, at Belleville, desire to convey to you the esteem and appreciation in which we have held you since you became a member of our Division, and, more especially, since you were appointed Divisional Physician. Recognizing in you the true qualities which constitute a good and desirable member, we have at different times elected you to the office of Division Physician.

These excellent qualities which you possess, and which constitute a true and noble character, we are pleased to know have been recognized by other members of the Order, when you were elected our Provincial Medical Supervisor in 1904, and re-elected when our convention was held here in August of this year.

In both positions you have acted in a manner most creditable to yourself, and profitable to the Hibernians, as well as to the Order in the province.

You have been instrumental in improving our Death Benefit System, as well as putting into effect many other improvements that will result in placing our Order on even a firmer basis than ever before. We have valued your friendship, and have greatly appreciated the interest you have at all times taken in Division meetings.

The news of your departure from amongst us was received with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret. We derive pleasure from the fact that you are appointed to one of the most responsible positions at the disposal of the local government.

Your excellent professional qualities, business knowledge and executive abilities have been recognized in placing you at the head of an institution so worthy of the support of all classes of a country. We regret that by your going away we are losing not only our Division Physician but an adviser and friend, in adversity as well as prosperity.

As a slight token of our appreciation we ask you to accept this cane, expressing the wish that for many years to come you may have no other use for it than occasionally to look at it with not unkind recollections.

In conclusion we assure you that you take with you our best wishes for your future prosperity, and that of your estimable wife, Mrs. Coughlin.

Should your official duties permit you to pay us an occasional visit, you will find in the hearts of the members of Division No. 1, A.O.H., Peterborough, you will find a place second only to that of the "Soy-garth Aroom," and we will be more than pleased to greet you with our banner bearing the motto Caed Mile Failte.

Signed on behalf of Division No. 1, A. O. H.:

JAMES DRAIN,
JOS. MAHER,
DAVID HOLLAND,
JAS. HICKEY,
R. W. CARSON,
WM. LYNCH,
CHAS. MURTY,

Peterborough, Nov. 8, 1906.

Dr. Coughlin replied in feeling terms, referring to his enjoyable associations with the Hibernians, and expressing his regrets at having to sever his connection from them.

Speeches referring to Dr. Coughlin in eulogistic terms, were made by J. Drain, Jos. Maher, J. J. Lynch, J. P. Bryson, R. W. Carson, J. Hickey, and others, all expressing regret that he was to leave Peterborough.

THE ANNIVERSARY SERVICES WERE A SUCCESS

$320 Was Raised As Result of Services in Park Street Church

BUILDING FUND RECEIVES DONATIONS

Records were broken yesterday at the Park street Baptist church when the annual Harvest Home and Anniversary services were held. In spite of the disagreeable weather there were large congregations at both services and the financial results were most satisfactory, $320 being realized as a result of the day's services.

The interior of the church had been transformed, by busy hands, into a scene of beauty, flowers and vegetables being everywhere in evidence. Bunches of grain were also strung across the church and added to the picturesque effect. The work of the choir in the services yesterday was a revelation to those who heard it, Miss Pilling's solo at the evening service being much commented upon. The sermons, which were preached by the pastor, were in harmony with the spirit of the day, the text at the morning service being "It is good to give thanks unto the Lord and to sing praise unto Thy name, O most high." His evening sermon was preached from the text, "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise."

One pleasing feature in connection with these services is the increased liberality manifest in the large number of $10 offerings, about 15 in all.

The pastor and deacons wish to thank all those who loaned flowers and vegetables, the presence of which materially assisted in making the event the success that it was. It will be gratifying to the friends of the church to learn that the mark set, that of $700, was reached.

NINE BOYS ADMINTED TO THE JUNIOR BROTHERHOOD

Interesting Ceremony Took Place at St John's Last Night — Members Were Congratulated

A good number of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's members attended the 8.30 a.m. corporate celebration, Jude's setting of "Jesus Calls Us" being sung by them during the offertory.

At Matins, the service was in chant form, with hymns 242, 379, 395 and 274, having special connection with the dedication festival. During the offertory the anthem, "Holy Art Thou," set to Handel's stately "Largo," was tastefully sung by the choir.

Evensong, in chant form, proved a bright, hearty service, joined heartily in by about a hundred men and boys, who marched in directly from the tea in the schoolroom, given to strangers, under the care of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The choir turned out stronger than ever, in spite of the wet evening, and their splendid work during the day was most helpful. The crowded choir stalls bear eloquent testimony to a thorough interest in their part of the great work. Hymns 166, "All People That on Earth Do Dwell"; 379, "Now Thank We All Our Lord"; 403, "St. Andrew's," during the service, and No. 30, "Our Day of Praise," concluded the dedication festival.

WEDDING BELLS

ASHTON--BYERS.

St. Augustine's church, on Parliament street, Toronto, was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding, when, on Wednesday, Nov. 7th, Miss Ella Blanche Byers, of this city, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Mr. Arthur H. S. Ashton, also of this city. Rev. F. G. Plummer officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Maude Byers, Mr. Chas. E. Faulkner, acting as best man. After the ceremony the bridal couple adjourned to the home of the bride's mother, where a dainty repast was served. The bride and groom left on the International limited to visit the groom's family and other relatives. On their return they will reside at 170 George street.

SULLIVAN--WARD.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic church, Toronto Junction, on Wednesday last, at 7.30 o'clock, when Mary, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ward was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Sullivan, of Lakefield, Ont., Rev. E. Gallagher officiating.

The bride who was given away by her father, was attired in cream embroidered crepe de chene over taffeta, and Gainsborough hat to match, and carried mother of pearl rosaries, the gift of Mr. W. E. Blake, Toronto. Miss Maggie Ward, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and also wore crepe de chene over taffeta, and Gainsborough hat. Mr. George Sullivan, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony the wedding party of about 80 guests, went to the home of the bride, 270 Maria street, where the wedding breakfast was served. Among those present were Dr G W Clendenman, Major Tracey, Minesing; Mr and Mrs R Tiernejey, Detroit, Mich.; Mr and Mrs. J Stevenson, Port Burwell; Mr and Miss Sullivan, Lakefield; Mrs and Miss Blake, Miss Teresa Doyle, Mr and Mrs Geo Schwalm, Miss M Keating, Mrs R O'Farrell, Misses M and E. MacDonald, Mr Geo McConachie, and Miss M Sullivan, all of Toronto; Mr D O'Brien, Mr and Mrs A Warren, Mr and Mrs W G White, Mr and Mrs A L Reid, Mr and Mrs J Harrison, Mr and Mrs Stoneman, Mr J Collins and others.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for New York. The bride's travelling suit was grey trimmed with green, and hat to match.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT MEN'S MEETING

Interesting Subject Was Discussed at the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday.

The continual downpour of rain yesterday afternoon had no adverse effect on the evangelistic meeting for men held in the Y.M.C.A. hall, in fact there was an increased attendance over the preceding Sunday.

The large audience of men listened with deep attention to the inspiring address given by Rev. A. H. Brace, on the subject "Men who Dream, and Men who Act." Many were impressed with the straightforward Gospel address.

The Male Quartette, composed of Messrs. C. Thurston, Callendar, Hill and Gardiner, sang with good effect. Mr. William Shea sang a solo at the close of the address. The orchestra was present and added much to the hearty song service which marks each meeting.

The chairman made reference to the Week of Prayer, and in the opening devotional exercises the topic card for the week was made use of.

The Men's Meetings increase in interest with each succeeding Sunday.

Nimrod Members of Fourth Estate Have Laugh on Brother Knights of Pencil.

The local newspaper men are enjoying a capital joke on some of their fellow members of the fourth estate. The two in question took a day off last week to go duck-shooting, and arrangements had been made between them and their brother knights of the pencil to have a wild duck supper on Saturday night, they to supply the ducks and the others to pay for their preparation, etc. Needless to say, the doughty nimrods, who are more at home with a pencil than a gun, got no ducks, but it is equally unnecessary to state that they had no intention of announcing the fact on their return.

Going to a caterer, they informed him that the other members of the newspaper profession would be on hand to order a supper, and instructed the caterer to buy a pair of ducks and say nothing about it to the others. The arrangement was carried out, the supper came off as scheduled at Long's Palm Parlours, and the non-hunters of the party had to pay for everything, ducks included, and to make matters worse, the birds had never seen a rice-bed in their quickly-terminated lives.

GENEROUS RESPONSE TO THE LADIES' AID APPEAL

More Than $100 Realized from the Thanksgiving Offering in Charlotte Street Church.

At the Charlotte street church yesterday the pastor announced that the ladies' Aid Society had reported that the result of their appeal on behalf of a Thanksgiving offering had been most satisfactory. Over $100 had been realized by the ladies and on their behalf he conveyed to the members of the congregation their thanks for the generosity, which had found expression in this practical manner.

EDUCATIONAL SERMONS AT GEORGE ST. CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Reynor Will Preach Them There Next Sunday at Both Services.

Next Sunday, at the George street Methodist church, sermons will be preached in the interests of the Educational work of the Methodist church, by Rev. Dr. Reynar, of Victoria University. He will occupy the pulpit at both services next Sunday, and his sermons will, no doubt, be very interesting, since he is one of the best informed men on educational matters of any preacher in the church.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that its position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

William Jordan Given A Hearing This Morning

Magistrate Dumble Heard Evidence In Assault And Robbery Case of Last Monday—Hugh Gibbs Fined Five Dollars

JORDAN WILL COME UP FOR TRIAL AT THE NEXT ASSIZES

With the return of Magistrate Dumble, a case of unusual interest was heard. As a preliminary Hugh Gibbs pleaded guilty to the charge of being found on Sunday in a public place. A Sunday "tout" is a shade dearer than an ordinary everyday drunk; so the prisoner was fined $5 to be paid in 10 days.

Wm. Jordan was charged with having stolen from Edward Walsh, a silver watch and sixty dollars. He elected to be tried by a jury pleading not guilty. His preliminary, hearing, however, was held this morning. Mr. Ed. Walsh was the first witness heard. He said his home was in Lindsay, but that he has been working for Mr. Thos. McIver, a farmer on the second line of Smith. He came to Peterborough on Monday the 5th of November and received $71.50, his wages, being all in $5 Bank of Commerce bills from his employer. He made several purchases during the afternoon, $8.50 for drygoods, $4.00 for jewelry and $1.50 for a horse and buggy from a local livery. Up to the time he hired the rig he had had 10 or 12 drinks, but was feeling sober enough. He hired the rig at 7.30 p. m. and drove out to his employer's place with a man from this city. He had a bottle of whiskey with him which was disposed of and when he arrived at his destination they turned the rig about and returned to Peterborough. After that Mr. Walsh remembered nothing. While driving he had his money and watch but when he recovered consciousness in the police station they were gone and he was very badly bruised about the face. A watch was produced in court which he recognized as his. He bought it from Schneider some time ago.

P. C. Newhall next took the stand and stated that on last Monday night about eleven o'clock he found Welsh behind Alex. Elliot's store. He was intoxicated or rather dead drunk. His face was cut in several places and he was in a helpless condition. He had some difficulty in arousing him and took him to the police station. Dr. Bingham was called in and laved and dressed his wounds after which Welsh showed signs of recovery. He stated to Mr. Newhall the next morning that his money and watch were gone and Newhall reported this to Chief Roszel. On Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clockk witness went with the Chief to Mr. Dunnett's residence on the corner of Park and McDonel streets. He asked to see Mr. Jordan and was shown to a bedroom, where the object of their visit was lying on a bed. P. C. Newhall told Jordan that he had come to arrest him for robbing a man on the previous night of $60 and a watch. Jordan denied all knowledge of the affair. However, he was handcuffed and searched. No money was found on him but the watch produced in court was taken from his vest pocket. Witness than demanded Dunnet to produce the money that Jordan had given him. After a little hesitation, he handed over 5 Bank of Commerce five dollar bills, a one dollar bill and some silver. Jordan was taken to the police station and put in a cell. Welsh called about 7.00 p. m. that evening and when he saw the prisoner, he said that he was the man who asked him to have a drink in the C.P.R. hotel on Monday night. Jordan said later to the Chief in the presence of witness that he found the money and watch on the sidewalk.

William Dunnett was next called and stated that Jordan had been boarding with him. He paid his bills regularly, but on this Monday night in question Jordan owed him $5.25. He asked him for the money once before and on Monday night again asked him. Jordan said that on that night, he was going to get $10 that was owed him for working on a sewer and would then pay his bill. He did not return till Tuesday morning, when he entered the house at breakfast time about 7 o'clock. He was rather intoxicated. Later the witness asked him about the money and he said he had got some of it. He gave witness four one dollar bills. After breakfast he went down town and on the way he received his remaining $1.25. They had quite a number of drinks at several hotels, winding up at the Little Windsor where Jordan got good and drunk. He took him home about dinner time. While in the last named hotel witness saw Jordan place 25 or 30 dollars on the bar, which the proprietor offered to take charge of till Jordan was sober, but the later would not stand for that and witness took it. Witness also stated that Jordan had said that Welsh told him to keep his watch till he sobered up.

Mr. Schneider, the jeweller, was next called and said he remembered selling the watch in question to Mr. Welsh. He recognized it by its numbers. It did not look as if it had fallen on the pavement. He had received $10 for it.

Arthur J. Johnston, proprietor of the Little Windsor Hotel was next called. He said Jordan had owed a bar bill, amounting to $3.50. The latter had come into his hotel on the night of Monday the 5th of November. He corroborated Mr. Dunnet's statements regarding the thirty dollars on the bar. He also saw the watch and made some remark about it. Prisoner said he had just received it from a jewellry store where it had been for some time undergoing repairs.

Jordan was the next to take his place in the witness box to make his statements. On the Monday night in question he was in the C.P.R. hotel about nine o'clock. He was with a number of Englishmen and all had six drinks each. The Englishman went home and prisoner went into a little ante-room. Here his nose began to bleed and he went to the lavatory and washed his face.

For two weeks before the 5th inst. he had $11 about him. On that night he went to the Little Windsor and paid his bill. He intended going to his boarding house, but a friend invited him to spend the night with him. He paid several debts he owed. Prisoner stated that Welsh was not lacerated about the face when he placed him in the shed.

R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, cross-examined the prisoner about his money dealings before and after the fifth of this month.

Police Maggistrate Dumble after considering all the facts of the case committed the prisoner for trial at the next assizes.

CONDEMNS THE MAD RUSH FOR PLACE AND WEALTH

Rev. Prof. Wrong Preached Timely Sermons At St. John's Yesterday

BLESSING OF WORK EVENING SUBJECT

Continuing the dedication services in St. John's church yesterday Rev. Prof. Wrong, teacher of History, in the University of Toronto, preached at both the morning and evening services, the congregations being very large and the addresses of the visiting divine were much appreciated. Rev. Aubrey Sutcliffe, of Kingston, Jamaica, was present and assisted at both services.

The subject of the morning sermon was Humility, and the speaker characterized this as an age of materialism, in which there was such a mad rush for place and position, and wealth, that the higher elements were crowded into an insignificant place.

He compared this life with what religion had to offer, a simple quiet life of humility, which was the only sound foundation for happiness.

An interesting ceremony took place at the end of the evening service at St. John's yesterday, when nine boys were admitted into the membership of the Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Each boy had to recite his pledge, and was then formally admitted.

The rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, congratulated the boys on the work done and also added his congratulations to Mr. Jos. Bell, and other officers of the Order.

The Evening Service.

At the evening service there was again a large congregation. The service was taken by the Rector assisted by Rev. Aubrey Sutcliffe of Kingston, Jamaica, and the serm n was preached by Rev. Prof. Wrong, and an excellent sermon it was, full of thought, and instruction, and expressed in the effective simplicity of language, capable of employment only by an educated speaker. His sermon was founded upon the passage in Proverbs —"The rest of the labouring man is sweet." Work was to be commended because it brought health and health conduced to sweet sleep. In connection with a general commendation of the blessing and duty of work, the speaker stated, that this city scarcely realized the importance of the work in the direction of Christian co-operation, that was being done in Peterborough, where was being laid a foundation of work that is pleasing to the Lord Jesus Christ. Work was described as not only the best physical blessing, but the best moral safeguard. A man's best day's were his busiest days. We must come to realize in connection with the duty of work—its necessity—that the moral order of the universe was arranged by a knowledge deeper than ours. In connection with our work we were not to be afraid to accept responsibility, not to be afraid to stand alone in working for what was right and good. A tribute was paid to the important work of the young men as exemplified in St. Andrew's Brotherhood, in confirmation of the reference to the same subject by the Rector.

Peterborough Lost Last Game Of Season To Toronto Argos

Locals Were Defeated on Saturday After a Desperately Fought Contest by a Score of 12-4.

PETERBOROUGH FINISHED WITH FOUR MEN OUT OF THE GAME

The rugby season of 1906, as far as the Peterborough Club is concerned is over. The local team played their last game in Toronto on Saturday, losing to the Argonauts, after a desperately fought contest by 12—4. The showing made against the Argos who had practically the same team which held the Tigers down to 10—8, is very creditable. The team gave the sailors one of the hardest games in their career. The game was a rough one, no less than three Peterborough men having to retire, Meagher with a broken toe and Ford and Gillespie with twisted limbs. Peterborough finished the game with eight men, Gilbert having been ruled off in the third quarter for scrapping. It was anybody's game until the last whistle blew and the Argos had a very uncomfortable afternoon. A Toronto despatch says:—

Argonauts and Peterborough played the last senior O.R.F.U. game of the season on Saturday on Varsity Athletic Field. The score at half-time stood 4—2 in favour of the Argonauts, and at full time 12—4, favour Argos.

It was hard to believe that it was the same Argos of a week ago that were playing. The team lacked the snap displayed in the Tiger game. This may be accounted for to some extent by the players' belief that Peterborough were easy. Anyway, the small crowd of spectators present witnessed, not a Rugby game but a burlesque.

Three Peterborough players were hurt, and in the last quarter Peterborough played eight men. A few fights were thrown in, one between Flett and Gilbert being a dandy, while it lasted. Gilberrt kicked Hewitt behind the ear just after Artie had returned a punt. Flett took the quarterback's part, and after a few hasty words had been spoken, blows were struck. It was even up when the players separated them.

Hurtubise and Banty Russell had a great afternoon, with the odds in favour of the Argo man. Artie Hewitt, at quarterback played the best game on the filed. His tackling was good, and when Flett and Clarke were both on he did good work at half. The tackling of both teams was very bad, and altogether it was a decided difference from last week.

Argos kicked off, but Peterborough forced the play, Argos being unable to hold the ball when they did get it. With Peterborough in possession of the ball, 20 yards out, Easton kicked, and Flett was forced to rouge. A minute later Clarke was forced to rouge. Argos got busy, and, aided by Gillespie's muff, got the ball, 10 yards from Peterborough's line. Russell kicked along the ground on the first down, and Cooke overran the ball, missing an easy try. Gillespie was forced to rouge on the play. Hewitt returned the kick, and Ford had to rouge. Argos secured the ball on the kick-off, and, on first down, Flett failed to drop, a rouge resulting. The quarter-time whistle blew, 3—2 in favour of the Argos.

It was seen that Peterborough knew Flett to be the dangerous man, and Ford made himself conspicuous by coming through and trying to jump on him every time. On one of his trips he twisted his knee, the game being delayed. Hurtubise got two minutes for kicking Flett, but was on when Argos had possession of the ball on Peterborough's 15-yard line. Argos gained three yards, and Banty Russell tried the same play which failed in the first quarter, but kicked instead to dead line. Argos were in possession of the ball 5 yards out when half-time whistle blew. Score 4—2 in favour of the Argos.

Argos forced the play in the third quarter. Ford and Sale mixed it up, but remained on. Gillespie wrenched his knee, and had to retire. George Mara, whose ankle had been bothering him, evened up. Sale got away from a 20-yard run, and, aided by Easton's muff, Argos got the ball on Peterborough's 5-yard line. Flett missed an easy drop, kicking instead to the dead line. Carmichael was laid out by a hard tackle, a delay occurring. Meagher had his toe broken. Crooks going off with him. Flett made a nice 30-yd. run, getting the ball within five yards of Peterborough line. On the first down a fight occurred between Clarke and McDonald, both being ruled off for the rest of the quarter. Peterborough had gained 30 yards, when Flett got away for a 20-yard run. Ford hurt his knee and had to quit, taking Sinclair off with him. Flett tried a drop, but failed, kicking to dead line. On kick-off Hewitt caught ball and returned, but was knocked out by Gilbert, who kicked him behind the ear. Flett went after Gilbert and the two mixed it up. Gilbert was put off for the rest of the game for his offence and Flett got five minutes. Three quarters was up, with the Argos ahead, 6—2.

When the players changed ends for the final quarter the spectators did not know whether to look for an Argo defeat or a victory, so loose had been the playing. Peterborough forced the play, getting ball to Argo 20-yard line. Crough showed his displeasure over a decision by kicking the ball away from centre and got two minutes on the fence for so doing. Greey hurt his hand, the game being delayed. Quinlan kicked over the line, Clarke being forced to rouge. Argos got the ball to Peterborough 10-yard line, Flett kicking over, forcing Carmichael to rouge. With four minutes to play Hewitt passed to Flett, who passed to Clarke, the latter making 10 yard-gain, but was nailed 5 yards out. On the first down Flett ran around the end for a try, which Grant failed to convert. Peterborough forced the play the remaining time and Crough tried a drop, but kicked instead to dead line, making the score 12—4 in favour of Argos. Hewitt was hurt as the whistle blew. The teams;

Peterborough (4) — Back, Carmichael; halves, Gillespie, Quinlan, Easton; quarter, Ford; snap, Hurtubise; wings, Craig, Gilbert, McDonald, Meagher, Dickson, Crough.

Argos (12) — Back, Sinclair; halves, Clarke, Flett, Sale; quarter, Hewitt; snap, Russell; wings, Crooks, Mara, Greey, Grant, Holman, A Clarkson.

Quakers Won Close Game From Bankers On Saturday

Exhibition Contest Resulted in One of the Closest and Fastest Games of the Year.

BANKERS WERE IN THE LEAD FOR GREATER PART OF GAME

The few spectators who braved the inclement weather on Saturday afternoon to attend the Quakers-Bankers game at Riverside Park saw one of the fastest, cleanest and hotly fought contests that has been played on that field this season. The Quakers won by 5-1 in a game that was considering the heavy going remarkably fast and open. The ball was always in sight both teams playing a running and kick game, that kept the play always fast and spectacular.

It was anybody's game until the last whistle blew. The Bankers considering the little practice they have had, made a splendid showing against the "smile" men and had the latter guessing throughout. During the first half they kept the ball almost continuously in the Quaker territory and even against the wind they worked the oval to the Quakers 10 yard line to lose it on an offside. The close nature of the game is shown by the fact that the ball only crossed the goal line twice. Once for a point for the Bankers and the second time for a try by the Quakers. The half time score was 1-0 in favour of the Bankers.

For the winners Moore on the back division played a good game, getting away with several runs that were decidedly dangerous. Walker's tackling was deadly and stopped many advances. Kelly caught and kicked well Sisson at quarter played his usual good game, his tackling being especially brilliant. The wing line all showed up well.

Watson played a splendid game at centre half for the Bankers, his kicking and running being splendid ground-gainers. Barber got in some pretty dashes around the end for long gains. Elliott at full back caught and ran splendidly. The wing line tackled and followed up in great shape. Rush especially distinguished himself in the former department.

The game was played in 20 minute halves. The officials, Messrs. Hendry and Cahill were satisfactory

The Bankers with the wind in their favour during the first half played a kicking game which kept the ball in Quaker territory. The Quaker back division was steady and sure, however, and the only one point scored was a kick over the dead line by Watson. The Bankers got over the line once, but were called back on an offside.

In the second half the Bankers still pressed, running the ball back until Quakers 10 yard line was reached. An offside lost them the ball and the game. Moore got around the end for 10 yard run which carried the ball into the Bankers' territory. The finance men played a stubborn game on the defence and it looked as if they were going to hold their one point lead. Only a couple of minutes were left to play when Kelly kicked over the line to Elliott. The full back attempted to relieve, but his punt went low to Sullivan who dropped on it for a try, leaving the score 5-1 in favour of the Quakers. The ball remained in centre field for the remainder of the game.

GROVE TEAM DEFEATED THE TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL

Annual Rugby Game in Lakefield Won by Home Team by a Score of 11-3.

Examiner Special.

The Grove, Lakefield, November 10. —Lakefield School defeated Trinity College School juniors by 11—3 in their annual game at Lakefield, Nov. 7th.

The T. C. S. boys seemed to be heavier but out of condition. In the first half T. C. S. boys scored two rouges from long punts by Matthewson, and this was the only scoring done, the play being generally about the centre of the field. Once T. C. S. got it nearly over, but the try was saved by a plucky dash by Nelles, Max.

At first Trinity gained ground frequently by combined rushes through the line, but Clarke finally realized that he was being trodden on, and woke up from that time. Trinity frequently failed to gain yards, their attacks being broken by Clarke, who was now playing a vigorous game.

The second half, Lakefield scored fries, one by Patterson, Max. After a very pretty run he secured the ball near half way, and corkscrewed through the whole of the T. C. S. team. This was converted by Nelles Max, and shortly after Arnds Glass, following up fast and aided by a fumble on the part of T. C. S. halves, dashed through for another try.

Trinity then bucked up, and scored a rouge, but their wing line could not stand the pace, and their halves got no protection.

The Lakefield team's line up was as follows:

Full back, Patterson I.
Right half, Nelles I.
Centre half, Nelles II.
Left, half, Lumsden II.
Wings — Clarke, Lumsden Max, Glass, Winslow, Russell Max, Orde Max, Patterson Major, Bradshaw.

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD.

PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?"

The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, which is not affected materially by other organs, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay. A few doses of taken in time, often saves years of suffering, and in many cases life itself.

They stimulate the action of the kidneys, enabling them to perform their duty perfectly.

Miss S. C. Pye, Econ Secum, N.S., writes: "For the past three years I have been troubled with a very bad pain in my back and kidneys. It was so bad it was impossible for me to stoop or bend. I had several doctors attend me, but found no relief until I picked up one of your Egyptian Dream Books, and found out about your remarkable remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured two boxes and their action surprised me, for they completely cured me. I don't think they have an equal for kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

GENTLEMEN SKATERS AT ROLLER RINK GET PRIZES

A Successful Competition For Gentlemen Skaters Was Held Friday Night

Friday night the roller skating rink on Charlotte street was crowded, due no doubt to the fact that a special event was to take place; namely, a gentleman's skating contest. Every pair of skates was engaged and the full band made the evening one of special enjoyment.

The judges, it may be said, had no little difficulty in making their decisions as there were many graceful skaters, most of them having learned since the rink was opened. There were three prizes the first being a watch fob won by Mr. Montague Shannon, the second prize being won by Mr. Melville Moore and the third by Mr. W. Warham. The judges were Messrs. Dr. Bradd, T. Boyd and Mr. Bernstein, of Chicago, whose decisions were favourably received by the crowd. These contests have proved to be very successful affairs and will no doubt be continued.

BUSINESS MAY BE TAKEN OVER BY MUNICIPALITY

Committee of Whole Council Will Consider Heating Company's Application for a Local Franchise.

A meeting of the whole council is called for to-night, when the application of the Dominion District Steam Heating Company, for a local franchise will be dealt with. It is probable that a motion may be introduced to have the business taken over as a municipal enterprise. The members of the Manufacturers' Committee, who visited some of the places in which the company is operating, have expressed themselves as being delighted with the system.

The meeting was decided upon by resolution of the council, and hence no notices have been sent out.

ANCIENT HISTORY OF COBOURG UNDER DISCUSSION

Difference of Opinion as to Date of Founding of the Town—Victoria College Also in the Controversy.

CORNER STONE LAID BY PRINCE OF WALES

Red hot was an argument the other day among a few of the local citizens on some ancient history of the town of Cobourg. The argument waxed warm over the time the town was founded, when Victoria College was established and when the town hall was erected.

Between two of them there was a ference of half a century, one gentleman stating that Victoria College was established over 100 years ago and another, that it was 50 years ago.

The Examiner took the matter in hand and has unearthed answers to the two latter questions and it is quite probable some "long green" will change hands this evening. The local citizens engaged in the argument are prominent political men, but it is evident from their opinions they were not very well acquainted with the history of their forefathers.

Smith's Canadian Gazette, compiled by Wm. H. Smith, which was shown by a legal man to the Examiner this morning, gives the following information on the establishment of the Victoria University:

"Victoria College was founded by the Wesleyan Conference; the institution was chartered in 1835 as an Academy, and by Act of Parliament in 1842 was constituted a College with power to confer degrees to the several arts and sciences."

In regard to the latter question the Examiner was speaking to Mr. Blodgett, of Antrim street and a local legal gentleman, both of whom came from Cobourg and learned that the corner stone of the town hall was laid by the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, on his visit to Canada in 1860. The college, however, at that time was almost built as a ball was held there on the same evening in which the Prince took part.

TO CURE DANDRUFF.

It is Necessary That the Dandruff Germ Be Eradicated.

"Destroy the germ you remove the effect." Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair will grow luxuriantly. Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destroying the dandruff germ, and none other claims to be for the simple reason that it is only recently that a destroyer of the germ has been discovered — Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation that actually kills dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for a sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

Stratford's progress is indicated by the fact that this year's building operations will total half a million dollars. Of 330 permits, 174 were for residences. This is a large increase over last year.

Face and Shoulders Covered With Sores

LITTLE GIRL SUFFERED GREATLY WITH ITCHING, STINGING, ECZEMA—CURE CAME WITH USE OF

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Baby eczema brings keen suffering to many a little one, and worry and anxiety to many a mother, who can find nothing to cope with it—nothing that will stop the dreadful itching and heal the raw, flaming skin.

Doctors fail internal medicines are at the best slow and uncertain, and often do more harm than good to young children. Dr. Chase's Ointment on the other hand, is applied direct to the diseased part and brings relief and cure.

Mrs. Rollie Narrie, Sinc, Hastings County, Ont., writes: "Our little girl had itching eczema over her face and shoulders, and we could get nothing to help her until we began the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. This Ointment healed up the sores rapidly, and six boxes made a complete cure. It is a pleasure to recommend a preparation which has proven of so great value."

Mr. J. A. Stevens, harnessmaker, Seaforth, Ont., writes: "At the age of three months my son Arnold was attacked by Baby Eczema on his face and in spite of all the doctors could do he kept getting worse, until his face was a mass of scabs, which would ulcerate when he would scrath. It was terrible to see him suffer but we tried everything until we were discouraged. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment we got a box and applied it. At once the child was relieved and went to sleep. The first box helped him so much that we got two more which completely cured him. At nine months his face was as well as could be. He is now 14 months old, has a fine clear skin, and not a trace of eczema."

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every confidence that the results will be entirely satisfactory. While thoroughly effective in the most severe cases of eczema and salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment will not injure the most delicate skin. 60 cents a box at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mr. Belleghem Again Writes On The Ambulance Question

He Explains the Situation in Connection With Charges Made by Ald. Duncan at Meeting of Committee.

MOVED SIX HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-EIGHT PATIENTS IN 3 YEARS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I just want to give you a few facts regarding Friday evening's meeting of the City Council. In the first place, I see by Saturday morning's Times where Ald. Duncan accused me of moving Mrs. Cooney and trying to collect a fee. In looking over my report I could not find her name, so she was interviewed by a member of my staff, and said she had never been in the hospital, therefore never had any occasion to use the Dan Spence ambulance. In addition to this fact, Ald. Duncan stated that Mr. Cooney came along and informed me that the said ambulance was free. Now, Mr. Editor, this is a false accusation, inasmuch that Mr. Cooney, the man charged with making the complaint, has been dead for over two years.

I am sorry to say the Examiner and the Review did not publish the whole proceedings of Friday night's meeting, the same as The Times did. Why was this? I am informed that young Mr. Comstock interviewed both the Exalmner and the Review and requested that the charge laid against me regarding Mrs. Cooney be kept out of print simply because it was false. Again the ambulance was called on Nov. 3rd, '04 to 510 Water street, to Mr. Harry Gray's residence to remove a child suffering from diphthera to St. Joseph's Hospital. These people were on a visit to Mr. Gray's at the time and were from across the border.

It is evident that Ald Duncan is not very well posted, when the specifications had to be read to him during the meeting, and by which he can see that I was perfectly justified in charging out of town patients.

During my term of three years I have moved six hundred and seventy-eight patients, during which time no complaint has ever been made to me, and moreover at different times people have come to me and offered to pay for the service, and not in one instance has it been accepted.

I am satisfied that the Mayor and Aldermen have been misinformed as to my charging residents of the city and my letter of the 9th inst. stated all the facts that I can gather from my records.

The statements of Ald. Duncan, will no doubt be carefully gone into by the City Council, and a thorough investigation made. This I am sure would place the matter in a proper light and would be most satisfactory to myself. In the meantime Ald. Duncan could have an opportunity of acquainting himself with the conditions of the contract for the care of the Dan Spence ambulance.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am,

Yours truly,

D. BELLEGHEM.

Regular Monthly Meeting Of The Public School Board

The Resignations of Mr. J. J. Jeffries, Miss Oulton and Miss Hamilton Were Received and Accepted.

REGULAR ROUTINE WORK—MISS K. MARTIN APPOINTED TEACHER

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last night. The following members were present: Messrs. D. W. Dumble, Wm. Pringle, B. F. Ackerman, R. Fair, Dr. Morrison, L. M. Hayes, Dr. Burnham and W. H. Hill. In the absence of the chairman, Mr. Fair was appointed chairman pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The following communications were received:

The Galt Art Metal Company, Limited, of Galt, Ont., wrote, asking that the incumbent of the architect with regard to the use of that metal for the ceilings, cornices, etc., in the building of the addition to the North Ward school, be conveyed to them. They are supply material and work to Messrs. Rutherford Bros., in the new South Ward school. —Referred to the North Ward school Committee.

Miss Llewella Oulton wrote, resigning her position as a teacher on the public school staff of the city, the same to take effect at the end of the present year.

Miss Margaret A. Hamilton also sent in her resignation as a public school teacher.

Miss Kathleen E. Martin of this city wrote asking for a position on the public school staff.

Moved by Mr. Hill, seconded by Mr. Pringle that Miss Kathleen Martin be appointed as successor to Miss Hamilton, on the local public school staff. The motion was carried.

On motion of Mr. Hill and Mr. Dumble teachers will be advertised for in the regular way for the other positions.

Mr. J. J. Jeffries, B. A., officially tendered his resignation as English Master of the Collegiate Institute, by a letter to the Board. He requested that his resignation take effect at the close of the present term. He expressed his gratitude to the members of the Board for many kindnesses shown towards him in the past. Mr. Jeffries has accepted a position on the staff of the Jarvis street Collegiate Institute, Toronto. Accepted.

Mr. L. M. Hayes moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that the Board place on record its appreciation of the services of Mr. Jeffries during his long experience in Peterborough. The members felt that they were losing a valuable teacher, but acceptance had been made by Mr. Jeffries, and the Board wish him future success in his new field.

Regarding the resignation of Mr. Jeffries from the Collegiate Institute, Mr. Dumble expressed his regret at seeing Mr. Jeffries leave the city, without some attempt being made to retain his services. He thought that when the principal made an application to the Board about the matter something should have been done in a regular manner. The matter, however, was not considered as a vote had been taken.

School Inspectors Visited The Schools Of Ennismore

With R. H. Crowley, Inspector for Continuation Classes—Mr. Lees Gave An Address to Pupils.

SOCIETY PASSED RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE TO MRS. MAHER

Ennismore, November 9th. — Last week the new inspector for continuation classes, Mr. R. H. Crowley, of Ottawa, visited Ennismore, accompanied by Inspectors Lees and Brown, of this county. A careful examination of the children was made in different branches by Mr. Crowley, and he expressed himself as highly pleased with the evidences of good work being done by Mr. O'Donoghue. Mr. Lees, who is perhaps one of the best scientists in Ontario, gave the class a lesson in experimental chemistry, and for one hour held pupils and visitors spell-bound as he beautifully illustrated the properties of different substances and the action of one upon another. The county of Peterbough has every reason to feel proud of their public school inspector, a man of long experience, in the teaching profession, in some of the best schools of the province, a profound scholar and a born educator. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick was present and enjoyed the lesson as nearly a quarter of a century ago he received his first instructions in chemistry from Mr. Lees. The school which is not yet two years old, is already equipped with a very fair library of standard reference books on Literature, History and Science, has a good chemical labratory, and all the physical apparatus necessary for ordinary High School work.

Condolences.

At the last meeting of the St. Martin's church Altar Society, Ennismore, held November 4th, the following resolution was passed:—"Moved by Mrs. Dan Crough, and seconded by Miss Kate Mahoney, that having learned of the death of the late Mrs. Michael Crough, sr., a member of the society and the mother of our esteemed treasurer, Mrs. M. Moher, we desire to express to her and the members of the family our deep sorrow at the great loss they have sustained in losing such a kind, exemplary and loving wife and mother. Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Moher, treasurer, and the Peterborough Examiner, for insertion.

"KATE MAHONEY,
"Secretary;
"MRS. DAN CROUGH,
"President."

His Lordship Bishop Sweatland visited the parish last week, and on Sunday after mass preached a very able sermon on the gospel of the day.

The cheese factory has just completed the best season it has had since it began some years ago, and the farmers are now wearing a pleasant smile, indicative of happiness and prosperity.

New Studies.

We are anxiously awaiting the new course of studies for public schools. Up to the present that course of studies has been a failure. When we remember that 95 per cent. of the boys attending rural school remain on the farm, we naturally expect that our rural schools and Separate schools should include in their studies something practical on farming. The proper feeding of stock, the rotation of crops, the noxious weeds so injurious to successful farming, the proper ventilation of our stables, etc., are subjects of vast importance to every young man who purposes remaining on the farm. When he leaves school at the age of 14 or 15 years, he should know these things — and he would know them if a suitable text book had been put in his hands, during his last two years at school. But what are the facts? The subject of farming is not referred to — it is not considered worthy of any consideration. Parsing may be useful, but a boy would want to know it really well before it would help him in feeding stock. Ab uno disce omnes. The one thing necessary has been neglected. Surely the farming community of this province has weight enough with the Education Department to oblige it to place among the books for use in rural schools, a good practical text book on the most improved methods of farming. They have already learned that High Schools and Collegiate Institutes cannot reach the people, and have therefore decided to encourage continuation classes where that is possible. This is a step in the right direction, but more is wanted. A work on farming can be made as simple, attractive and intelligible as a work on any other subject. We have listened to lectures at Farmers' Institutes with the greatest pleasure, and why? Because they were telling us something simple, useful and interesting. But we never heard a lecture beyond the comprehension of the ordinary country boy of 14 or 15 years. Our country boys are bright and intelligent, and already realize that farming is a science worthy of the closest attention; they are anxious to succeed on the farm, and are therefore anxious to study the best methods of farming that they may succeed. Farming is not regarded any longer as a low and degrading occupation, but rather in the sense of a profession. For this reason we want books written by professors at our agricultural colleges, and suitable for our rural schools.

BARNUM AND BAILEY'S NEW DEPARTURE.

Big Circus Will Travel by Auto Car Next Year Instead of by Rail Which Will Make a Big Saving.

New York, Sept. 10.—Barnum & Bailey's big circus will be carried about the country next year in automobiles. This was definitely announced here today and the decision was reached after considering a full report on a number of tests the past season as to the practicability of the plan.

The Barnum & Bailey people have ordered 125 large auto trucks of different sizes, each to be built and equipped for carrying special parts of the circus equipment. They say their average jump is only about 60 miles, which they can cover easily, and save a train bill of $1,000 a day.

MANAGING EDITOR W. A. BUCHANAN

Former Peterborough Man Now Occupies That Position With the Lethbridge Herald.

W. A. Buchanan, formerly of this city, and and more recently of Lethbridge, where he has been joint owner of the Herald, has assumed the managing editorship of that paper, upon the retirement of Mr. F. E. Simpson, who is to devote his entire time to his Cranbrook paper. Mr. Buchanan has made a success of the Herald since he joined Mr. Simpson, and with the latter's retirment the paper will not suffer in Mr. Buchanan's hands. He is a thorough newspaper man, and what is essential in the west is filled with enthusiasm in the future of that part of the Dominion, and particularly of that section of which Lethbridge is the centre.

HAVELOCK HUNTERS MET WITH EXCELLENT LUCK

The Havelock Hunt Club Returned After Successful Trip to Hawk and Trout Lakes.

The Hawk Lake Hunt Club returned last Saturday after spending nine days in the vicinity of Hawk Lake and Trout Lake. They reported deer fairly plentiful, although in some parts very scarce. The party had a splendid time, the weather being all that could be desired and the luck of the party not so bad, six deer being obtained, all of good size and in good condition. The party consisted of the following:—Messrs. T. Ashby, F. White, W. Bennett, W. Solmer, H. Millard, and F. Dyer, with Archie McKay, of Carnarvon, as guide.

THE PETERBOROUGH CHEESE GETS A HARD RAP

Lindsay Cheese Board Buyer Says It is Not as Good as the Victoria County Product.

REMARKS AT CHEESE BOARD MEETING

Peterborough cheese got some hard raps at the meeting of the Victoria Cheese Board yesterday, the statement being made there that the product made in this district had a flavour of turnips, and that during the whole season the price on the Lindsay Board had been higher than on the Peterborough Board.

The closing sale of the season was held yesterday and the price obtained was 12c, Mr. Gillespie, of this city, getting a considerable quantity of the 897 boxes boarded. In response to a suggestion by the president that since the cheese at the last Board meeting in Peterborough had sold at 12 1-2c, they would expect as much, a buyer remarked that although that price was offered on the Board, a smaller price was paid by the buyers when they went to take their cheese away from the factories. Peterborough cheese was not as good as the quality of the Victoria County product. It was turnipy, and buyers had been complaining all summer. Victoria cheese had been good all season.

Buyer Brown said that he had visited a Peterborough County factory the other day and was told that some of the farmers fed turnips, while others didn't, but it affected every portion and all lost money. He went on to say that the patrons were responsible for the turnipy cheese. The cheese-maker couldn't prevent it. In cold weather he can't detect the flavour on the milk until the milk is in the vat. Then the flavour would be noticeable.

The Pandora Thermometer

The thermometer on the Pandora range oven means precisely in accuracy to the cook what the square and compass mean to the draftsman. Without the square and compass the draftsman would have to work entirely by guess, just as you do without an accurate and reliable thermometer on your oven.

The Pandora thermometer reduces cooking to an exact science. You know precisely how much heat you have and what it will do in a given time. It is one of the small things which makes the Pandora so much different and better than common ranges.

GREAT NORTHERN'S HEAD WANTS TARIFF HURRIED IN U. S.

J. J. Hill Demands Reciprocity Between Canada and U. S.

CANADIAN DESIRE WANES

But Railway Magnate Believes Present Time More Favorable Than Can Ever Be Expected Again — Dominion's Tariff Walls Only Half as High as Neighbors, Causes Comment and Suggests Reprisals.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—James J. Hill was the guest of honor at the banquet of the Merchants' Club Saturday night, and delivered an extended address upon "Chicago's Interest in Reciprocity with Canada."

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Hill said:

"Canada no longer comes as a suppliant. There has been increasing irritation toward our attitude, and already the fact that our average tariff on dutiable articles coming from the Dominion to us is 49.83 per cent., while that levied by Canada on dutiable goods coming from the United States is 24.83 per cent., causes comment and suggests reprisals.

"Each year has seen lately a diminution in the Canadian desire for reciprocity. It is still possible, largely because of the downfall of the Chamberlain policy in Great Britain. Had that been ratified, had England really granted to the Colonies a preference in its markets for their products, based on reciprocal advantages, this country would have felt the double thrust in a decline of business with its greatest and its third greatest customers on two sides of the Atlantic.

"The defeat of the plan has not greatly disappointed the dependencies, but it has assured them that for the present they must seek commercial alliances elsewhere. It is, perhaps, the time when reciprocity with Canada may be considered with more favor than it ever can be again. For no man who understands industrial conditions in Great Britain will believe that the issue raised by Chamberlain is permanently settled or that unrest and distress there will not at some future time bring it again to the front with better prospect of success.

"The consummation most to be wished is the wiping out of custom houses along our northern frontier altogether, and the establishment there of absolute free trade. If the time be not ripe for that, the least that it demands is a policy and a measure of ample reciprocity."

ANNEXATION, BUT WHEN?

Goldwin Smith on Future of Canada and United States.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—In an interview with a North American correspondent in his home at Toronto, Goldwin Smith, said:

"The annexation of Canada to the United States will probably come, but none can say how soon or in just what way. Two countires so closely related by nature and so similarly populated can hardly forever remain apart. But great movements often progress unseen for a time you know, and so it is with this one.

"England has already withdrawn her military from the Dominion. And not long ago the Canadian Minister of Justice said in effect that Canada would be safe under the Monroe Doctrine. Suppose England were to go to war with some other nation, and that nation decided to attack Canada; could England defend it against the enemy? Would the United States defend it simply as a neighborly act, and, having done so, withdraw and hand it over to England again?"

"And do you consider the form of government of the United States the best for Canada?"

"I cannot say I consider your present form of government the best for yourselves. You are trying to run a Government without statesmen. Your President's Cabinet is made up of men selected at large, not men who are trained in the affairs they undertake to supervise. You have no trained statesmen."

Bonfire of 50,000 Tons of Coal.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The docks of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co., situated at 100th street and Commercial avenue, were destroyed by fire Saturday, causing a damage estimated by the officers of the company at $757,000. The fire originated in the basement of a coal house in which 50,000 tons of hard coal were stored. The coal is still burning and it is expected that it will be several days before the fire is entirely extinguished.

Rev. J. M. Auld Dead.

Palmerston, Nov. 12.—The death occurred Saturday morning of Rev. J. M. Auld, one of the best known Presbyterian divines in Ontario. He was for 24 years pastor of Knox Church here, and that day was the anniversary of his arrival in this town. He was 72 years of age and is survived by a widow and two grown-up daughters.

STEAMER MAKING WATER FAST AND IN A BAD CONDITION

Dominion Liner Kensington is Aground At Matane.

203 MILES BELOW QUEBEC

Snowstorm Responsible For the Mishap —She is Reported to Be Badly Damaged—Caspasian Took Off Her 540 Steerage and 75 Cabin Passengers at 2 o'Clock Sunday Afternoon and They Are Safe.

Quebec, Nov. 12.—The steamer Kensington of the Dominion Line, which was en routle from Liverpool for Quebec and Montreal went aground during a snowstorm about 5 o'clock yesterday morning at Matane, 203 miles below Quebec.

She is reported to be badly damaged and making water very fast.

She had on board 540 steerage passengers and 75 cabin and a general cargo for Quebec and Montreal. All the passengers are safe.

They were taken on board the steamer Caspasian at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and will arrive here to-day at noon.

RICKED UP AFTER THREE DAYS.

Crew of Marion C. Taken From Open Boat by Str. Farmand.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 12.—The Norwegian steamer Farmand of Bergen, Capt. J. Corneliussen, bound from New York to Miramichi, put into port Saturday to land a shipwrecked crew of eight men of the barkentine Marion C. of Halifax, abandoned at sea.

The barkentine was from Bridgewater, N. S., lumber laden, bound to New York, and was in a hurricane shortly after leaving port. Then the vessel sprung a leak, and after a day and a half at the pumps the captain and crew in a ship's boat went in search of assistance.

After 73 hours hardships in the open boat the crew were picked up 100 miles off Sable Island and brought to Halifax. Two of the men had to be removed to the hospital.

Cat Only Living Thing.

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 12.—The wrecked barque Adeona was reached by life-savers Saturday. There was nothing of life on board but a cat.

No doubt is felt about the fate of the eleven men who comprised the crew. They were all in a boat which left the ship on Monday last. Everything about the deck and cabin was found in good condition. Why the crew left the vessel and risked their lives in the terrible sea and breakers must always remain a mystery.

BARKER KILLS HODGINS.

Says Gun Accidentally Discharged While Resting on His Knee.

London, Nov. 12.—Charles Hodgins, a 16-year-old boy, is dead, as the result of a shooting accident on Saturday afternoon.

In company with a companion named Barker, he was hunting. He had shot a squirrel which fell on a brush heap, and, while searching for it, gave the gun over to Barker, who rested it across his knees, where it accidentally discharged and the bullet entered Hodgins' head, killing him instantly.

Barker claims that his finger was not on the trigger, and that the gun had discharged itself once before during the afternoon.

Accidentally Shot.

Port Carling, Nov. 12.—Gordon Butler, eldest son of C. B. Butler, postmaster of Point Kayé, went down to the wharf to meet the morning steamer. He had a loaded rifle in his hand, and in some way slipped on the wharf and striking the rifle on the planks it went off. The bullet entered his mouth and lodged in the back of his neck.

Felt Like One Paralysed

COULD NOT WORK OR SLEEP AND SUFFERED GREATLY WITH SCIATIC RHEUMATISM, BUT WAS CURED BY

For six long years the writer of this letter endured all the suffering resulting from a broken-down nervous system. The best doctors did all they could for him without avail, and he now gratefully attributes his complete restoration to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

From the verge of paralysis to good health is a long and difficult way, but by the persistent use of this great nerve restorative this remarkable cure was brought about. You can read the particulars for yourself.

Mr. Alex. Ethier, jr., Clarence Creek, Russell County, Ont., writes: "I am happy to be able to give a recommendation for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this preparation has done me a great amount of good. My nervous system was run down to such an extent that I suffered a great deal from weakness of the nerves and sciatic rheumatism, and at times was like one paralyzed. I could not work, was unable to sleep and had no appetite. This condition lasted for six years, and in the meantime I had treatment from the best physicians and tried all kinds of medicines.

"Nothing seemed to build up my nerves until I made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After having used about $12.00 worth of this medicine I feel like a new man. I can walk all right, do a great deal of work, have a good appetite, and, what is even better, I can sleep well every night.

"I consider that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been a great blessing to me, and no doubt it would be the same to anyone else under the same circumstances."

It is in extreme cases like this one that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food shows its extraordinary power of building up the nervous system and overcoming disease. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.—1.

Ontario's Suggestion For Extension of Boundaries

OPPOSES MANITOBA'S CLAIM

But Not Opposed to the Extension of the Boundary of That Province So Long as Ontario Gets Access to the Deep Sea at the Mouth of the Churchill River, the Middle of Which Should Be Boundary.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Premier Whitney, Hon. Mr. Foy, the Attorney-General, and Hon. Mr. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, will represent Ontario at the most important conference, so far as its relation to the future of this Province is concerned, which has been held in many years, and which commences at Ottawa this morning. The other parties to the conference are the Governments of the Provinces of Manitoba, Quebec and Saskatchewan, and the Dominion Government, and the point at issue is the extension of the boundaries of all the Provinces named by a personal division of the territory of Keewatin. The question was raised by the demand of Manitoba for an extension of its boundaries to Hudson's Bay, and, to say the least, the Government of that Province have not displayed any undue modesty as to what they think Manitoba is entitled to. In fact in a recent interview Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, is quoted as saying:—"We contest every claim. Ontario has none. It defined its own boundaries years ago. We cannot see how Saskatchewan can have say."

Opposed to Manitoba's Claims.

It is with the claims of Manitoba that Ontario, whose present northerly boundary is the Albany River, is more concerned than with those of any other Province. If Quebec is given all of Ungava there is no other Province to dispute her claim to it, and she will also thus obtain as much of the shore line of Hudson's Bay as should satisfy her for all time to come. Saskatchewan's ambitions in respect to expansion have no more than a sentimental interest for Ontario. With Manitoba it is different. Ontario recognizes and admits that the Manitoba boundaries should be extended, but her claims, if allowed as they stand, would not only deprive Ontario of a large slice of territory which for geographical reasons alone this Province has a right to expect should be made over to her, but would also bar this Province from any right in the nearest navigable harbor on Hudson's Bay, viz., that at the mouth of the Churchill River. Any part of the shore line of Hudson's Bay below that harbor would not give Ontario access to the deep sea. To be shut off from that would be a sorry ending to the dream of an Ontario railway, the Temiskaming & Northern, the Government-owned line, for instance, carrying its freight direct to vessels plying the shortest route between Canada and Liverpool, and to all the other material advantages which the Province might naturally expect to flow from part ownership of such a harbor, and full control of the territory between it and the northwest boundary of Ontario.

The Official Memoranda.

The official memorandum submitted by the Province of Ontario was given to the press by Premier Whitney before he left for Ottawa on Saturday. In part, it is as follows:

1. That in their opinion the boundaries of Manitoba should be extended northward so as to take in Fort Churchill.

2. That they do not care to discuss any question of the alteration of the boundaries of Saskatchewan.

3. That in order to carry out the suggestion in paragraph 1 the eastern boundary of Manitoba should be produced northward until it strikes the Churchill River; that the middle of the channel of the said river should then become the boundary until the river debouches into Hudson Bay.

4. That the remainder of the territory of Keewatin lying to the eastward of such boundary line be allotted to the Province of Ontario.

(Sgd.) J. P. Whitney,
J. J. Foy,
A. J. Matheson.

Toronto, 9th November, 1906.

A long recital of the facts and arguments in favor of the above is made by the three signatories in the official memoranda.

Store Dynamited In Texas.

Hillsboro, Texas, Nov. 12.—While attention was directed to two fires in the outskirts of the city yesterday morning, the hardware store of Smith & Thomas was dynamited and partly wrecked by robbers. After an exchange of shots, in which none was injured, Walter Jeffreys of Fort Worth was arrested in the building where the explosion occurred.

Haakon In England.

Portsmouth, Eng., Nov. 12.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Haakon of Norway, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf on board anchored off Spithead at a late hour last night. King Haakon and his family will be the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra sat Windsor Castle during their stay in England.

To Dig Up Herculaneum.

Rome, Nov. 12.—Prof. Chas. Waldstein, professor of fine arts in King's College, Cambridge, England, will arrive here shortly for the purpose of perfecting out of his project for the excavation of the ancient City of Herculaneum. The professor's plan to this end have been accepted by the Italian Government.

Wants to Know Why.

Sandwich, Nov. 12.—William Sparks who has been displaced as governor of the County Jail, is not satisfied with the way in which the Government dispensed with his services and intimates that he will resist being removed until the Government gives a reason for his discharge. He says none has been given him.

STEERED MIDDLE COURSE.

Fears of Religious Crisis in France Somewhat Dissipated.

Paris, Nov. 12.—Unless the Vatican authorities cause some radical changes in the situation the fears of a religious crisis resulting from the enforcement on Dec. 11 of the law providing for the separation of church and state, are regarded as dissipated in consequence of the middle course steered by the Clemenceau Cabinet.

The extreme radicals under Mm Coombes and Pelletan, who insisted that a policy of spoliation and persecution be inaugurated, have been appeased.

The speech of Minister of Public Worship Saturday, explaining the Government's intentions, was extremely conciliatory in tone, and especially designed to make it plain that the Government is not anti-religious, but only neutral.

Vatican Not Affected.

Rome, Nov. 12.—The speech of the French Minister of Public Instruction and Worship, M. Briand outlining his Government's policy toward the Catholic church in France, has not created much of an impression at the Vatican, as just such an attitude as outlined by M. Briand had been anticipated. It is stated that the church will not recede from the ground it has taken, but will leave the vindication of its rights to time and the wisdom of Frenchmen.

WOUND TWO TROOPERS.

Few Boers Get Together and Attack Police Camp in Cape Colony.

Capetown, Nov. 12.—A disturbance has occurred in the northwestern part of Cape Colony.

The official report of the affair says that several Boers, led by a man named Ferreira, recently employed in German Southwest Africa, entered the northwestern part of this colony a few days ago, and surprised a police camp in the vicinity of Witkop, wounding two troopers, seizing their arms and ammunition, and subsequently capturing a corporal of police.

At Abiquasaar, Ferreira gained some recruits and marched to Zwart Modder, about 25 miles from the frontier, where he is reported to be compelling farmers to join his forces, asserting that an uprising in the Transvaal is imminent.

SCRANTON'S BIG FIRE.

$450,000 Damage Done In Business Section—Seven Firemen Hurt.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 12.—Fire of unknown origin which started shortly after midnight Saturday destroyed the Carter and Kennedy six-storey building occupied by the Foote and Shear Hardware Co. and the J. Scott Inglis Carpet and Furniture Co., and the large two-storey building of J. D. Williams Brothers' Co., dealers in confectionery, toys and house furnishings, causing a loss on buildings and stock of about $450,000.

Seven firemen were injured by flying bricks and falling walls.

Vesuvius Again Busy.

Naples, Nov. 12.—At noon Saturday Mount Vesuvius and the surrounding villages were shaken up by a kind of earthquake, which was accompanied by detonations and followed by a considerable fall of ashes, especially over Ottajano, which was destroyed during the eruption of last April, and now is in course of reconstruction. This phenomenon caused great alarm. Investigation showed that part of the crater of the volcano had fallen in. During the afternoon there were three more slight shocks in the Vesuvian region, and a further discharge of ashes, which was blown in the direction of Pompeii and Ottajano.

Canal to Lake Champlain.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—A canal may be built between Lake Champlain and Montreal. C. F. S. Smith of New York, who is at the head of a syndicate, is petitioning the Canadian Waterways Commission for the endorsement of a plan for the building of the new canal. The plan is to eventually reach the Hudson River, and in that manner have a direct waterway from Montreal to New York.

The Meanest of Thefts.

New York, Nov. 12.—Probably the meanest and most despicable theft that has taken place about New York occurred Saturday night when the bronze tablet on the monument erected in Lutheran Cemetery on the outskirts of Brooklyn to the memory of the victims of the burning of the steamer General Slocum, was stolen. The cost of the tablet was about $450.

First Train Into Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—The first of the Canadian Northern trains to make the the journey between Parry Sound and Toronto steamed into Unioln Depot at 5.50 last night. A large crowd, anxious to see the first Canadian Northern train, quickly gathered on platform No 5. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, was the first to step from the "Atokokan," the first of the two coaches of which the train consisted. The road will soon be opened for passenger service.

Four-Year-Old Instantly Killed.

Canora, Sask., Nov. 12.—The four-year-old son of M. Raglun, section foreman, while playing with some other boys in a neighbor's house, was shot and almost instantly killed by a loaded gun, left in the corner of the room where they were playing with it. The contents entered the boy's stomach.

Jockey Sewell Dead.

New York, Nov. 12.—L. Sewell, one of the best-known jockeys on the American turf, died Saturday night at the home of his mother, Sheepshead Bay, as the result of injuries sustained in the sixth race at Aqueduct race track Friday.

Suicide At Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—For reasons unknown, a man by the name of Charlesworth committed suicide Saturday morning by jumping into the Assiniboine River at Armstrong's Point.

Admiral Beresford Now.

London, Nov. 12.—An Admiralty memorandum, issued Saturday, announced the promotion of Vice-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford to the rank of admiral.

Dr. Reaume's Health.

Windsor, Nov. 12.—Hon. Dr. Reaume on Saturday underwent a minor operation to the palate. Dr. Reaume will be out again in a week or 10 days.

"REDS" HAVE MACHINE GUN.

Another Exploit of the Revolutionists at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—The most recent exploit of the St. Petersburg revolutionists is the theft of a machine gun of the latest model, and a large supply of cartridges.

It is presumed that an expert gunner is involved, because all the necessary accessories were simultaneously abstracted from the armory.

The prefect of police has issued an order specially emphasizing the necessity of recapturing the gun.

Police Lured to Death.

Tiflis, Nov. 12.—A deafening bomb explosion occurred on Pethanski street at an early hour yesterday morning, while the police were making a search of an unoccupied house. The entire city was shaken. Three policemen were killed and four wounded. The police discovered some revolutionary proclamations under a bed in one of the rooms in this house. It is apparent that a snare had been arranged and the police lured into it. They received a tip to search this particular house.

Spy Turns "Red," Goes to Siberia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—The man named Schekter, who threw the bomb at Police Captain Samsonoff of Bialystok was convicted Saturday and sentenced to ten years at hard labor in Siberia. The prisoner, who is a mere youth, testified that he entered the terrorist organization as a spy, at the instance of the police, in 1904, and served the police faithfully for two years. But he became converted to the theories of the revolutionists and determined to expiate his treachery by killing Capt. Samsonoff.

THE STRIKE AT HAMILTON.

Company Has Done Its Best—Will Hire New Employes.

Hamilton, Nov. 12.—President Gibson of the Cataract Power Co. has handed out the company's side of the street railway strike. The statement declares that the strike was not brought on by the company in any true sense, that the company has been endeavoring in good faith to live up to the terms of the award, and that the men wanted the citizens to believe they had a grievance when they have no grievance. East from Port Arthur, with the exception of the Toronto Street Railway, men were receiving no higher wages than in Hamilton.

The statement concluded with the following: "The company has endeavored to show the Street Railway Union all possible consideration, but must refuse to allow the union to take full control of the company's affairs. Having voluntarily disconnected themselves from the company's service, the company now suggests that they find employment somewhere else, and that the company get a fair opportunity to serve the citizens and public."

Mayor Biggar is still trying to secure a settlement, and the Ontario railway and municipal board will be an the job this morning. The city is bringing the case before the board.

The company will not try to operate its cars to-day, but will probably do so early in the week. The company has a force of detectives guarding the power plant.

Mr. Cockburn a Witness.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—President Cockburn and the other directors of the Ontario Bank are to be subpoenaed to give evidence before Magistrate Denison. Their examination on the stand will probably begin this week.

Fatal Gun Accident.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 12.—A fatal gunning accident occurred here Saturday afternoon, when Harold Gunnlangson, aged 11 years, was instantly killed by his companion's rifle being discharged in his face.

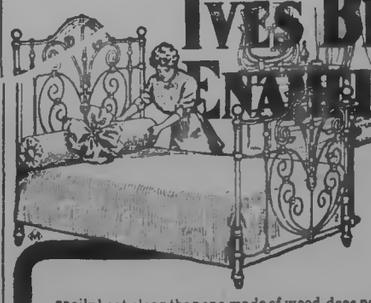
IVES BRASS AND ENAMELLED BEDS



A brass bed is always in keeping with any furniture for a cozy bedroom. It imparts an atmosphere of richness and luxury that can be equaled in a wooden bed only at great expense.

A brass bed is more easily kept clean than one made of wood, does not gather the dust, and, when necessary to sweep under, is so light that it rolls aside at almost a touch.

Rigidity, finish and the harmony of the lines in construction, have combined to make Ives Brass Beds famous.

PREMIER ROBLIN ISSUES PROTEST AGAINST ONTARIO

Resents the Intrusion of Ontario and Saskatchewan.

PROVINCIAL BOUNDARIES

Question Now in the Hands of Dominion—Conference at Ottawa Between Representatives of Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Federal Ministers—What Each Province Claim in the Partition.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The conference respecting the extension northwards of the boundaries of Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan was held yesterday morning and concluded shortly after noon. Representatives of the three provinces submitted their case in writing and Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that he and his colleagues present were a sub-committee of the Cabinet, to which they would report.

Premier Whitney, with Attorney-General Foy and Treasurer Matheson, represented Ontario.

Premier Roblin, Attorney-General Campbell and Hon. Robert Rogers represented Manitoba.

Hon. Walter Scott and Attorney-General Lamont are here for Saskatchewan.

These representatives were received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and Hon. Frank Oliver.

Ontario wants to annex what is now Keewatin, east of the present boundary line of Manitoba, when it is extended north until it reaches the Churchill River.

The Province of Manitoba, as stated in its published memorandum, wants all the territory of Keewatin, and gives a number of arguments in support of the same.

The representatives of Saskatchewan ask for everything north of the Nelson River and presented a memorandum to this effect.

Ontario's Approval.

Yesterday Manitoba presented a supplemental report. The report holds that in the Keewatin Act of 1876 the intention was to place the administration of affairs in Manitoba through the medium of the Lieutenant-Governor until the true boundaries of Ontario were ascertained. The memorial then notes the enlargement of the province in 1881, which caused the dispute with Ontario. In this dispute the Government and Legislature of Ontario expressly approved the inclusion of Keewatin within the boundaries of Manitoba. The Ontario Legislature passed a resolution on March 9, 1882, favoring this, and Sir Oliver Mowat on Sept. 29, 1883, endorsed this. The memorial sums up by saying:

"It is stoutly submitted that the foregoing shows conclusively, first, that the constitution of the formation of the district of Keewatin was for temporary purposes only and with a view of ultimately embracing a large area thereof within the Province of Manitoba.

"Second, that the Province of Ontario, up to the time of the communication to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on March 22, 1905, claiming consideration for Ontario in any division of the Keewatin territory, never made any claim to any part of the said territory, but, on the other hand, heartily approved and rejoiced in the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba in the undisputed areas of Keewatin.

Manitoba Restricted.

"It is noted that while Ontario and Quebec since confederation have doubled their areas, Manitoba is 80,000 square miles smaller than in 1881. It is added that if in 1881, when the population was 60,000, it was deemed just to extend the areas of Manitoba her claims now are proportionately greater."

The memorial quotes a number of official communications from the Ontario Government in 1882, 1884 and 1886, in which it was stated that the arrangement of 1884 would settle forever the western and northern boundaries of Ontario.

The memorial then points out that Keewatin was the only method of approach to Manitoba from the outside development and administration of the world for a long period and that the territory can be better secured by Manitoba than by Ontario or Saskatchewan. The vital interest of Manitoba in the proposed Hudson Bay Railway is mentioned.

With regard to Saskatchewan, the memorial states that the districts of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Athabaska, out of which the Province of Saskatchewan is formed, had no connection with the district of Keewatin.

Mr. Whitney After Subsidy.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Premier Whitney, the Hon. J. J. Foy and Col. Matheson saw the Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, yesterday, regarding the double subsidy of $6,400 per mile for the Ontario and Temiskaming Railway. Mr. Fielding promised to give the matter his consideration.

Dumont Flies.

Paris, Nov. 13.—Santos Dumont made another series of experiments with his aeroplane in the Bois de Boulogne yesterday. He made two flights of between five and six seconds, covering between 50 and 60 metres each time. In the afternoon he skimmed along at a height of 15 feet and at a speed of 30 miles per hour for a distance of 215 metres, when fear that his whirling propeller would strike the cheering people forced him to descend.

Attempts Suicide.

Owen Sound, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Robert Laylor, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place, attempted suicide shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning by cutting her throat. She has been in very poor health for over two years, and the rash act was doubtless committed while mentally deranged.

Dead at 106 Years.

Lindsay, Nov. 13.—The death occurred on Sunday of Thomas Lee of Janetville, one of the oldest pioneers of that district. He had reached the age of 106 years.

PURSUE FERREIRA'S RAIDERS.

"Insurrection" In Transvaal Will Not Amount to Much.

Cape Town, Nov. 13.—The colonial police force, which is pursuing the insurgent party under the Transvaal Boer, Ferreira, was within five miles of the raiders Sunday night, but the scarcity of water and the sandy country renders the chase difficult. The fugitives have gained several recruits.

Not Alarming.

London, Nov. 13.—The Boer raid in the northwestern part of Cape Colony occasion no anxiety in Government circles.

The Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office informed the House of Commons that the Cape Government was taking all the necessary steps, and it did not think the assistance of the regular forces would be necessary.

The governor of German Southwest Africa, he added, had been requested to capture the raiders if they returned to German territory with the view of their extradition on charges of murder and theft.

To Give Away Sage Millions.

New York, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Russell Sage will give away the bulk of the fortune of about $50,000,000 bequeathed to her by her husband, the financier, to individuals whom she considers worthy. It will not be given to endow churches, nor to those who write begging letters. "I shall keep only sufficient of the fortune left to me by my husband to live quietly and comfortably," Mrs. Sage said yesterday.

Swindler's Nervy Scheme.

Brantford, Nov. 13.—Carrol McCallum was arrested yesterday morning engaged in working upon local merchants, a nervy swindle. He solicits sums of money ranging from $6 to $10, being the sum required to make up the amount of his tuition fee at the local business college. When arrested he had $41 in his possession. McCallum carried one arm in a fake crippled condition.

ACCOUNTANT LANGTON MAKES CHARGES AGAINST PRESIDENT

Ex-Official Says Mr. Cockburn Used Bank Funds.

TO SPECULATE IN O. B. STOCKS

Evidence in the Charge Against Chas. McGill of Issuing False Statements Turns More in the Direction of the President of the Bank—Call Loan From a Branch Bank—Change In the Bail Bonds.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—The discovery that President Cockburn netted a personal profit of $4,239.50 through purchasing two blocks of Ontario Bank shares, and reselling the stock to the bank, was the somewhat startling disclosure of the proceedings yesterday afternoon in the enquiry into the charges against Manager McGill.

Hon. A. B. Morine brought out the information from Mr. Langton, who was in the box.

President Cockburn's Purchases.

In November of 1900, and again in May of the following year the Ontario Bank issued a new allotment of stock in the relation of one share of new to three of the old. President Cockburn bought of these shares, so also did Director A. S. Irving. Mr. Cockburn's total purchases were 278 shares, which, at 129, the issue price, represented $38,500. But, so Mr. Langton testified, no cash was paid, neither was there any security given. Instead, the deal was conveniently engineered through having a call loan put through the Yonge street branch of the bank. Nor was the president called upon to pay any interest, the dividends on the stock, it was arranged, should cover that item.

President Cockburn Sells.

Mr. Cockburn retained his holdings till 1903. Meanwhile they had appreciated in value. In March of that year he unloaded, not on the public, but on the institution of which he was the head, getting 134 3-4 for half his stock and a point higher for the other block. He received $37,999.50.

Mr. Langton assented to the suggestion of Mr. Morine that the president "ran no risk whatever," as the officers' guarantee fund would have, he said, made up any loss through depreciation in the stock. The magistrate professed himself unable to see the situation in this light.

Head Office Never Inspected.

Among the other incidents of the day's enquiry was the statement of Mr. Langton that the head office of the bank had never been inspected while he was with the bank, and that the report of the annual meeting of May, 1903, setting forth that there had been inspection, was, therefore, false. This was also elicited by Mr. Morine, who also laid particular stress upon the items of $143,000 and $50,000 that appeared in the statement given to the directors by Mr. McGill as representing sound securities, whereas, he claimed, the former stood for a speculative account, and the latter for a $50,000 debt to Denny & Co., the New York brokers.

Significant Cipher Message.

The production of a cipher message from McGill to Cuyler, Morgan & Co. which Langton had refused to sign, was an interesting feature.

Mr. Corley has reserved the right to call Mr. Langton, who will probably again be on the stand to-day. Charles Holland, general manager before Mr. McGill, will also be asked to give evidence.

There was some delay in adjourning owing to the readjustment of bail. It was arraigned that P. C. Larkin should go surety for $12,500, John McGill $5,000, and J. W. T. Fairweather $7,500 on both charges in each case. The enquiry resumes at 11 a. m. to-day.

COLIN CAMPBELL AND THE PREMIER GIVING EVIDENCE

Manitoba's Ministers Before the Insurance Commission.

DENY PRITCHARD'S STORY

Mr. Campbell Admits Receiving the $1,000 — Says It Was For Services Rendered to Pritchard—Mr. Roblin Did Not Know His Former Private Secretary Was Negotiating With Mr. Geo. E. Foster.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Hon. R. P. Roblin of Manitoba and the Hon. Colin Campbell, Attorney-General, were on the stand before the Insurance Commission yesterday afternoon. Mr. Roblin was asked to explain his connection with the Swan River deals and the Union Trust. He said he had nothing to amend in Mr. Whitlas' evidence, but did take exception to statements made under oath by the Winnipeg land broker, A. W. Pritchard.

Pritchard had said witness knew that Mr. Foster had bought 40,000 acres, the Carrol River lands, from him. This witness never knew until he read this same evidence in the newspapers.

Mr. Tilley: "Was there a suggestion that Pritchard should sell these lands for you?"

"None."

"Did you ever instruct him to come to Toronto?"

"Never."

"Tell the Commission how you came to sell the lands?"

"Pritchard was an accountant in the Department of Agriculture, as well as my private secretary, and he saw through my letters that I owned these lands. After I failed to make a sale in the United States through an agent, Mr. Farrell, who did not succeed because we could not find a registered title, having only an agreement, he was going on a holiday and he asked if there would be any objection to his making a sale if he could. I said no. I heard no more about it until he came into my office and told me he had sold them."

"Did you see the correspondence between Pritchard and Mr. Foster?"

"I did not."

Never Saw Agreement.

"But Mr. Whitlas produced this correspondence before the Commission."

"That may be. The lands were in his name. I never had any papers. Never had a word of correspondence with Mr. Foster or the Union Trust."

When shown the agreement with the Union Trust Co. for the purchase of the land Mr. Roblin betrayed some surprise. He never knew, he said, of the existence of any agreement. He thought all that was done was to make an assignment of the 40 sections and have the money paid over.

"Pritchard said he was authorized by you to offer Mr. Foster a substantial commission."

"I never knew he was dealing with Mr. Foster."

"Well to whoever was purchasing."

"I never authorized him to give a commission to anybody."

"Have you anything else to remark about the evidence of Pritchard?"

"I have. Pritchard said he left the service of the Department of Agriculture because he was not promoted. That is not true. I asked him to resign. He had been accountant for 22 years, and for over 12 there had been systematic stealing and embezzling in his department. When this was discovered by the auditor the guilty party had fled to the United States. Pritchard was called into my office and examined. When the offender was arrested, and Pritchard called to give evidence, he could not remember anything he had said before the arrest was made. So I told him if he could not remember better than that, he had better resign."

Contradicts Pritchard.

Hon. Colin Campbell then came to the stand. He is president of the Ontario, Manitoba and Western Land Co., of which Mr. Bettes, a former witness, before the Commission, is managing director. This company sold the so-called "Carrol River Lands," to the Union Trust, Pritchard also being implicated.

Mr. Campbell was asked what he had to say with regard to the Pritchard evidence, in which he figured extensively.

"Mr. Pritchard's statements in many particulars are untrue," said Mr. Campbell. "On August, 1903, my partner, Mr. Crawford, died suddenly. During September I was wholly in charge, and had a great deal of work. On Oct. 1 I fell ill, and was in bed the greater part of the month. As that was the time Pritchard spoke of our dealings, much of it could not have occurred."

Mr. Campbell testified that the statement that he had demanded $1,000 of Pritchard's commission was absolutely untrue. He admitted receiving that amount from Pritchard on account of adequate services, but insisted it was in no way paid him on account of commission or because he was Attorney-General or president of the company.

In the evening the insurance managers were examined on technical points.

Do Away With Food Adulteration

The People Have a Right to Know What They Are Eating.

Too great attention cannot be given to the food we eat. The health of our families depends on this food. Are we to submit to the atrocities of the food adulterators? No. We must have laws to protect us and those laws must be enforced.

It is of interest to note that there is at least one article of food about which we can know everything. This is Malta-Vita, popularly called "The Perfect Food," the pure, all-grain product, in which every element of food necessary to the proper nutrition of the human body is found.

In the manufacture of Malta-Vita the whole of the wheat is thoroughly cleaned, cooked in the purity of absolute cleanliness and then mixed with the finest malt extract, made from specially selected barley. The cooking and steaming of the wheat gelatinizes the starch, and the malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, converts this starch into Maltose, or malt sugar, in which Malta-Vita is very rich. Maltose is of great food value, sweetens the wheat sufficiently to make unnecessary the use of any foreign sweetening agent and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort. Rolled into wafer-like flakes and baked under intense heat, Malta-Vita comes from the ovens crisp and brown, positively the most delicious food in the world. All grocers. 10 cents.

RAN CARS TWO HOURS.

But They Are Stoned and Rotten-Egged—Large Number Wounded.

Hamilton, Nov. 13.—There was a great mob on the scene yesterday afternoon near the corner of King and James street during the two hours, from 3 to 5, that the street cars were operated. The police appeared to be utterly unable to cope with the situation, for, although the cars were stoned and rotten-egged, about all the police did was to take the names of two boys, Jack O'Brien, Bay and Cannon streets, and Archie Ralston, No. 255 North East avenue.

It is probable that the militia will be required. Though not serious, the list of casualties is very long. Chief Smith and Sergeant-Major Prentice were both hit by eggs, and there was hardly a policeman on duty who did not get a cut or a bruise. Windows in several cars were broken, with rotten eggs and rocks.

The York street car fared the worst. Every window in it was broken, and the motorman wa dragged out. One of the strikebre ers, who acted as a motorman, had his eye cut.

The cars will start out early this morning again and will be operated until 5 o'clock in the evening.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has been asked by Mayor Biggar to intervene, and the board promised to take up the question at the conclusion of its sessions here.

BANK OF MONTREAL LOSES.

Government Sues to Recover Money Lost Through Forgeries.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—In the Supreme Court yesterday the argument was begun in the case of the King vs. the Bank of Montreal.

The action was brought by the Government of Canada to recover from the Bank of Montreal the sum of $75,707, the aggregate of the sums paid by the bank upon cheques forged by Martineau, a clerk in the Militia Department, who was convicted of the forgeries of these cheques and sent to the penitentiary. All these cheques were paid by the several third party banks, in each of which Martineau kept an account—in the Quebec Bank in the name of Charles Cote; in the Sovereign Bank, Charles D. Cote; and in the Royal Bank in his own name.

The defence of the Bank of Montreal was that the loose system in the accountant's branch of the Militia Department gave the facilities to Martineau for the perpetration of the forgeries, and that the crown was therefore estopped by its own negligence. They also claimed relief over the third party banks in case they were liable to the crown. The trial judge and the Court of Appeal for Ontario held against the Bank of Montreal on both claims.

KILLED 47 IMMIGRANTS.

Another Eight Were Burned to Death and 38 Persons Injured In Wreck of An Immigrant Train.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—More than one-half of the passengers on an immigrant train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad were killed and injured in a collision yesterday between a passenger and a freight train near Woodville, Indiana.

One hundred and sixty-five passengers were on the train. Forty-seven were killed and another eight were burned to death in fire, which broke out in the wreckage immediately after the collision. The names of all the dead probably never will be known, as 45 of the bodies were consumed in the flames or were so badly burned that identification will be out of the question.

Thirty-eight persons were injured and several of these will die. Eighty others escaped unhurt, but lost nearly all their baggage and clothing.

The disaster was caused by a blunder of a railroad employe.

TRAIN WRECK IN CALIF.

Engine Boiler Blows Up and Several Lives Are Lost.

San Jose, Cal., Nov. 13.—Two men were killed and another fatally injured and many passengers more or less shaken up and out by broken glass by the explosion of the engine boiler Sunday night on the Southern Pacific Sunset Express, opposite the depot at Sargent's Station, 57 miles south of San Francisco.

It is also believed that four or five tramps riding on the platform or underneath the first car were killed.

The force of the explosion blew the depot to pieces, tore up the track for a hundred feet on both sides of the place, and turned over the first four cars of the train.

The sleeping cars remained on the track, and none of the passengers in the cars was hurt.

Runaway Engine Kills and Wounds.

Alien Labor In Belleville.

Belleville, Nov. 13.—Three informations were yesterday morning laid against the Corby Distillery Co., whose works are situated about five miles from this city, for alleged violation of alien labor law in importing employes from the United States. Three men are named, namely, Hiett, Cohen and Matthews. The case came up before Magistrate Flint yesterday morning, and was laid over till Thursday.

Mustered Out of Service.

El Reno, Okla., Nov. 13.—Members of companies B, G. and D, of the 25th Infantry (colored) recently dismissed by President Roosevelt, were formally disarmed Sunday. The soldiers had refused to give information concerning an attack by some of their number on the citizens of the town, in which one man was killed.

Women Martyrs

To Piles, Constipation Indigestion & Female Troubles

Bileans have been called "a woman's medicine" because they are so peculiarly fitted to the needs of the female system. They correct irregularities, cure constipation and piles, remove poisons from the blood which cause those terrible headaches, and which occasionally break out in pimples, unsightly eruptions, etc. Bileans make weak women strong; and give pale, sickly women the much-needed internal strength. Bileans are a vegetable tonic as well as a corrective. They help make new rich blood, they end digestive troubles and enable the system to utilize to the full the food you take. Doctors prescribe them, nurses recommend them. Write for free sample and test them for yourself!

AILING FOR YEARS—BUT NOT NOW.

Mrs. J. Witfield, of Swan Lake, Manitoba, says:—"I had been ailing for years when Bileans were brought to my notice. At that time I was so bad that I cannot properly describe my feelings. I could not eat, my liver was disordered. I had a pain in my side, and was unable to obtain any really refreshing sleep. My kidneys were also disordered, and I was quite jaded and run down. Three boxes of Bileans restored me and brought me to my present healthy state."

GOOD FOR CONSTIPATION

Mrs. W. Hall, of Dean Lake, says:—"I find Bileans very good for constipation from which I was suffering."

IF YOU SUFFER FROM indigestion, debility, liver chill or any liver disorder, wind pains or spasms, constipation, piles, debility, kidney troubles, rheumatism, headache, anemia, female ailments or irregularities—if you are run down and weakly, Bileans will restore you. Send for free sample box. All druggists sell, at 50c. box, or post free from the Bilean Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

FREE BOX Post this to Bilean Co., Toronto, with cent stamp and free sample will be sent you.

Committee Of Whole Adopts The Municipal Ownership Scheme

And Will Recommend to Council That Central Steam Heating Enterprise be Entered Into to Serve Centre of City.

J. N. M'KENDRY, OF STEAM HEATING CO. PRESENT AT MEETING

By Vote of 9-3 the Members of the Council Vote in Favour of Proposal—$50,000 Estimated Cost of Installing System.

Municipal ownership of the District Steam Heating Company's system was favoured by the Committee of the Whole Council last night.

A motion to that effect, moved by Ald. McWilliams and seconded by Ald. Hall, was carried by a vote of nine to three, the opposers being Ald. Elliott, Hicks and Tovey.

Mayor Best several times expressed the opinion that there are more important things than steam-heating to be taken up by the Council, and he was not in favour of going ahead with the work at present. Ald. Elliott was of the same opinion.

It is estimated that the cost of a plant and a mile of mains in Peterborough will be about $50,000. Officers of the company say that it will be a paying investment for the city.

Debate on the question gave rise to eloquent oratory on the part of Ald. Hall on the subject of municipal ownership. "Private ownership the worst possible service; public ownership the best possible service," said the alderman.

Representatives of the company supplied much information to the Council in regard to their system.

The district steam heating question furnished the Council with the means an interesting and, it is to be hoped, profitable evening last night, when Mr. J. N. McKendry, president of the Dominion District Heating Co., met the Committee of the Whole Council. He was accompanied by Mr. A. H. Brentnell, of the same company, and Mr. Grant, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. The result of the meeting, briefly summed up, is that the Council practically approved of municipal ownership in connection with the system, and if the further information to be supplied is satisfactory, the matter will be submitted to the people on that line. An interesting feature was an impromptu debate by Ald. Hall and His Worship the Mayor in reference to the question of municipal ownership. The matter of giving the franchise to a private company came up, but an amendment to take that step was defeated.

There were present, Mayor Best, Ald. Mason, Tovey, Hicks, McWilliams, Elliott, Dunoan, Wilson, Graham, Adams, Johnston, Hall and McIntyre.

Mayor Best briefly explained the object of the meeting, stating that the steam heating question would be taken up first.

Municipal Ownership.

Ald. McWilliams said that all the members thought it was well worth the Council considering the advisability of taking over the business as a municipal enterprise. They were sure that the system could be worked satisfactorily here. The committee would report favourably on granting a franchise to a private company in the event of the city not taking it over. Before doing this they should get more information in connection with the system. They would need information as to the cost, also reports from the engineers of the company, and also to get information from the people who would want to use the system. The Council would also need to deal with the company as to the terms on which the city would take over the business. If, of course, the municipality did not desire to take up the business they would not need this information.

Mayor Best remarked that the first thing to be considered was the cost of installation.

Cost of the System.

Ald. McWilliams stated that the cost of the Chatham system, the mains of which were not quite a mile in length, was $35,000. He thought that the cost of a mile of mains in Peterborough, and also of the plant would be about $50,000. This would include the entire system with the exception of the radiators, which were supplied by the consumer.

Mr. J. N. McKendry, of Toronto, president of the Dominion District Steam Heating Co., was, on motion, heard. He was asked by the Mayor as to the cost of the plant.

President Heard.

Mr. McKendry said that it was impossible to answer the question offhand. Before doing that it would be necessary to bring one of the company's engineers to see where the plant was to run, where the power house was to be situated, etc. Mr. Bradshaw had estimated the cost at $47,000 for power mains, etc.

Talking of the system, Mr. McKendry said that he had investigated it for two and one-half years before going into it and was thoroughly satisfied. The company had been convinced for the last sixteen years that the system had been perfect. He was certain that no one could pick a flaw in the system.

Mr. A. H. Brentnell said that Mr. Bradshaw, of his company, had figured on laying mains in the area bounded on the south by Charlotte street, east by Water street, north by Murray street and west by Aylmer street. This would cost, it was estimated, about $47,000.

Cost to Citizens.

Mayor Best asked if the system would cost the citizens more than by the old system.

Mr. McKendry replied that the system was so much of an improvement that there was no comparison between it and old methods. The investigation of the prices would show that the system per year would not amount to more than the coal bill under the old method.

Mayor Best asked what would be the cost for 1,000 feet of radiating surface.

Mr. McKendry remarked that his

PETERBOROUGH LADY IS MAKING CHARGES

Against Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville Are Now Being Dealt With.

A Belleville despatch, dated yesterday, says: A. J. Russell Snow, barrister, of Toronto, who has been appointed a commissioner by the Ontario Government to investigate conditions at the Deaf and Dumb Institute here, as well as any charges that may be made against officials and others connected with the Institute, opened the investigation today.

The meeting was held in the Principal's office, but nothing was done beyond looking over some books of the Institute. W. C. Mikel has charge of the investigation for the Government. After he has had an opportunity of perusing the books and documents of the Institute and the correspondence connected with a charge made by a lady living in Peterborough, the investigation will be continued. Mr. Mikel says that after this is completed he will take up any other charges, the facts of which are furnished to him.

THE CITY TREASURER RESIGNS POSITION WITH CITY

Mr. Felix Brownscombe to Leave the Services of the Municipality in Near Future.

HAS BEEN TREASURER AND COLLECTOR

It will come as a surprise to the citizens of Peterborough to learn that Mr. Felix Brownscombe, who for the last eleven years has been treasurer of the city, has resigned from that position, his resignation having been sent to the Mayor several days ago. Mr. Brownscombe, in addition to being city treasurer, has held a position of collector of monies for the Water Commissioners since the waterworks were taken over by the municipality. It is interesting to note that of the members of the Cancil of the year Mr. Brownscombe was appointed to the position of treasurer, only two, Mayor Best and Ald. Jas. Graham, are members of the present Council.

Mr. Brownscombe, when asked by The Examiner what his future course would be, stated that he preferred to say nothing concerning this subject. He was going to rest for a while, he said.

Mr. Brownscombe's resignation will take effect as soon as his successor is appointed. During his long term in office he has faithfully served the city by his careful handling of the finances, and his position is one that will be hard to fill.

The Larocque party, according to reports from the north, are enjoying great luck. On Saturday they had five fine bear as well as a large black bear. The fourth was shot by Mr. Louis Houdry, proprietor of the pet factory, and is said to be a monster. The party, who are occupying a lumber camp at Stony Lake, are hunting in the neighbourhood of Ketcheoum Lake.

The Ketcheeum party, some of the members of which have returned home, have also had great shooting.

CANADIAN PACIFIC TO FILL SPUR LINE TRESTLE

On Line From Station to the Quaker Oats Company's Mills, at Foot of Simcoe Street.

The C. P. R. has a gravel train at work, filling in the trestle on the spur line from the station to the Quaker Oats Company's mills. It will be remembered that the company some time ago filled in the trestle near Hunter street, leaving the short bridge at the foot of Simcoe street unfilled. This is now being filled with gravel, making a solid road bed for the track, over which an ever increasing quantity of freight is being carried.

OBITUARY

MRS. CHRISTOPHER QUINN.

The death occurred in Lakefield yesterday of Janet Shearer, wife of Mr. Christopher Quinn, after a three weeks' illness. Deceased, who was 72 years of age, had been a resident of Smith all her life, and was widely known and respected, not only by the residents of that township, but by the people of the district at large. She had been a resident of Lakefield for the past thirteen years.

Deceased is survived by her husband, four sons and five daughters. They are William and George Quinn, Peterborough; John Quinn, Douro; Archie, of Smith; Mrs. Curlis, Calgary; Mrs. Davidson, Winnipeg, but formerly of Smith; Mrs. Robert Duff, Lakefield, and the Misses Laura and Agnes, who reside at home. Mr. Geo. Cochrane, city, is a brother-in-law of deceased.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the family residence, Lakefield, to Ray's Cemetery.

LILLIAN MARY LUXTON.

The death occurred yesterday, at the family residence, 377 McDonel street, of Lillian May Luxton, at the age of seven years. The girl had been ill with diphtheria, which, in this case, proved fatal. She was born in England, and, with her parents, had not been long in Canada. The funeral took place this morning to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Brandon, Saskatchewan and Hudson Bay Railway, in other words the Great Northern, is at last an accomplished fact.

ANOTHER PRESENTATION TO DR. COUGHLIN

Peterborough Deaf Mute Association Said Farewell Last Night—A Congratulatory Address.

Last night the members of the Peterborough Deaf Mute Association, with a large number of their friends, gathered at the residence of Mr. William O'Rourke, 26 Bolivar street, to say farewell to Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Coughlin, who leave the city tomorrow for Belleville. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present. During the evening the Association presented Dr. Coughlin with a very handsome gold mounted fountain pen, suitably engraved. Mr. O'Rourke made the presentation, while Mr. Fred Derocher, who acted as interpreter during the evning, read the following address:—

Dear Mr. Coughlin,—

We, the Deaf Mute Association, assembled here to-night, for the purpose of tendering to you our heartiest congratulations on you appointment to the position of superintendent of the School for Deaf and Dumb, Belleville;

We are highly pleased to know that so capable a man has been appointed by the Whitney Government.

We feel quite confident that the officers, teachers and pupils at the institution will soon learn to appreciate your efforts on their behalf. Prior to your departure to undertake the responsibilities of office, we ask you to accept this fountain pen as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by the Peterborough Deaf Mute Association. Again we wish you every success and prosperity in your new work and hope the institution will prosper greatly under your administration.

Signed on behalf of deaf mute friends of Peterborough.

Wm. O'Rourke, J. E. Crough, William Hayes, M. Kirk, Daniel Sheehan, Mrs. W. O'Rourke, Miss G. Pilling.

Dr. Coughlin made a suitable reply, thanking the members of the associations for their kindness and gift.

The evening was enjoyably spent in card playing and other amusements, and refreshments were served.

"SANDY" HALL MANAGING BANK IN QUILL LAKE

Former Peterborough Boy Who is Making a Success of Banking Business in Canadian West.

The Examiner has received the first copy of The Quill, a newspaper published at Quill Lake, Sask. On the title page there is a large advertisement, the opening of a branch of the Bank of Toronto at that place, with Mr. S. R. Hall, son of Sheriff Hall, Peterborough, manager. Quill Lake is situated upon the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway. The town has a population, at present, of between two and three hundred, with three churches, the usual complement of hotels and general stores. Peterborough boys will wish Mr. Hall every success in the management of the branch of the bank with which he is associated.

PETERBOROUGH PEDAGOGUES POPULAR IN TORONTO

Another Said to Have Received Offer to Take Good Position in That City.

Peterborough school teachers seem to be in demand in Toronto. Two, whose resignations were accepted by the Board of Education last night are going to that city to accept positions, and it is reported that another teacher in the Collegiate Institute has received an offer from Toronto, to accept a position as supervisor of writing. Whether this offer will mean that he will leave Peterborough has not yet been learned, but it is stated on good authority that the offer has been made.

PLACER DIGGINGS ARE BETTER THAN IN ONTARIO

Report of a Great Find Made at Maidstone, Saskatchewan, in Last Few Days

PROSPECTORS RUSH TO NEW DIGGINGS

Examiner Special.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 13.—A Maidstone, Sask., despatch says: A man Anamed Joyce, an experienced miner, who has been prospecting between Maidstone and Birling arrived here yesterday and reported he had discovered placer diggings just east of this town. Great excitement prevails and the people are rushing here in great numbers. Many claims have been already staked and it is thought before the winter sets in many companies will be formed to operate their properties. Experienced miners who already have visited the place, state the findings and formation are as rich as those recently discovered in Northern Ontario.

A WRIT ISSUED FOR $5000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Miss Alice Porter Claims That Amount from John Roszel, Son of Chief Roszel

MR. ROSZEL MARRIED ON SATURDAY

A case which promises sensational developments and which is of great local interest looms into sight when it is known that Miss Alice Porter, of Peterborough, has issued a writ for $5,000 for breach of promise against John Melville Roszel, son of Chief Roszel, who was married on Saturday afternoon to Charlotte Ella Pennington, daughter of the late Ed. Cookson. The writ was filed on Saturday just before the wedding ceremony, by Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, who are the solicitors for the plaintiff.

LOCAL COTTAGE OWNERS ON INSPECTION TOUR

Visited Stony Lake Yesterday—Found Many New Wharves Constructed.

Yesterday a party of local gentlemen who own inlands at Stony Lake journeyed to Lakefield, and thence by the steamer Sovereign around the lake. It was not a pleasure trip on which they were bent, but one of business. They went up to inspect their cottages, "ter see that everything was all right," as the man on the stage said last winter. Besides, a gang of men have been steadily working at the many wharves raising them, on account of the high level of the water. A large number have been completed, and they wished to see what progress had been made. They expressed their pleasure with the work Mr. S. Clegg's men had done, for he is in charge of the work. The cottages, generally, had that forsaken appearance which the advancing winter casts over the scenes of the summer's enjoyment. They are all closed until next summer, when it is promised that no grumbling will be heard about the high water and covered wharves.

BISHOP DOWLING AND THE Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

The Toronto World, of to-day says that Bishop Dowling has placed a ban on the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. "BUSINESS MAN" AGAIN WRITES ON THE CENTRAL STEAM HEATING PROPOSAL

Points Out What He Considers Obstacles in the Way of This Scheme as a Municipal Enterprise--An Injunction Will be Applied For, He Says.

Editor Examiner.

The City Council, in my opinion, has not in its possession sufficient facts in connection with the proposition of steam heating to enable it to reach an intelligent conclusion in the matter, which, it seems to me, involves more than the majority of the members are aware of.

The proposal, I understand, in case the matter is taken up as a municipal enterprise, is to install a plant which will supply heat for a prescribed section in the centre of the city, bounded by Charlotte street on the south, Murray street on the north, Water street on the east, and Aylmer street on the west. This section is almost entirely a business district, and this fact, I think, is sufficient proof that the members of the Council who are so enthusiastic in its advocacy have not looked into the matter thoroughly, and I will give you my reason for thinking this.

Some Difficulties.

Have these aldermen figured out how many of the buildings in the area mentioned are occupied by their owners? I cannot speak positively on this question, but I am under the impression, and I think it is pretty nearly right, that not more than five per cent. of the stores on George street, between the two streets referred to, are owned by their occupants, and the majority of the latter are tenants with short leases. Has the Council assurance that the Toronto Savings & Loan Co., the concern which owns the greater number of these stores, will throw out the system of heating at present being in the stores and instal this system at a cost, which, to say the least, will not be small? I venture the assertion that this company has given no such assurance, but perhaps I am wrong, and, if so, maybe the aldermen who are promoting this scheme will enlighten me.

Some Problems.

If the owners of the property have not or will not agree to pay the cost of installing the system in their buildings, in order to secure it, the tenants will have to do it themselves. Will those who are holding their stores on short leases feel justified in incurring a large expenditure of this kind with the knowledge that it will only be a matter of a few years at the most before they may have to leave the expensive plaything behind?

Another point which, I think, will prove somewhat of an obstacle, is the fact that the great majority of the tenants of George street stores rent them on leases which includes heating. Will they be willing to continue to pay for the heat to the owners, and at the same time patronize the municipal steam heating system?

Ratepayers Object.

The section of the city proposed to be heated by this philanthropic method—for which the ratepayers, as a whole, will have to pay—is the most wealthy and most thickly populated district, and I imagine that the ratepayers in the districts which are not to be favoured(?) with this boon will object to the City Council embarking upon an enterprise to cost, as estimated, $50,000 at the start, for the sole purpose of giving the merchants on George street cheap heat. If it could be shown that it was to be an assured money-maker, it would not be so bad, but there is an element of experimentalism about the whole scheme, which, it seems to me, the city might well allow a private concern to work out—and run the risk.

Some Questions.

If it is going to be a profitable enterprise it seems strange that, after several weeks of work, the representative of the company has not succeeded in interesting a private company in it. If capitalists are unwilling to risk their money in it, is it good policy for the city to take it up as a municipal enterprise?

Is there nothing that the city needs as badly as a steam heating plant for the George street stores?

Is there no way in which the Council could invest $50,000 to better advantage to the citizens as a whole, than by the installation of a system of this nature?

These are some questions which I think the ratepayers will hold the aldermen to account for if this enterprise is embarked in.

An Injunction Promised.

Perhaps between now and the time the report of the Committee of the Whole, favouring the adoption of the scheme as a municipal investment, is presented to the Council, the aldermen will have changed their minds. Let us hope that, for the sake of their reputations as business men, they will have done so.

This proposal is plainly not in the public interest, and on this ground I shall apply to the courts for a injunction preventing the City Council from spending the ratepayers' money in what looks to me—and, I think, many others—like a foolish enterprise.

Yours truly,

BUSINESS MAN.

Sealed ends addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Additions to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

THE POSTOFFICE.

Complaint is frequently made, and with good reason, of the ineffective, and unsatisfactory, handling of mail matter by the staff of the Peterborough post office. Hardly a day passes that complaints in regard to the matter are not made to the Examiner, which can easily sympathise with them, for our own experience justifies them. This morning three letters for other addresses, came with our mail matter. If this were an isolated instance or a rare occurrence, it would not be surprising; but it happens so frequently that it cannot be put down to accident. If letters intended for others are improperly placed in our box, our own letters must be delivered to some person, who does not want them. This takes place repeatedly, and is not only a positive injury—important business letters of our own failing to come to hand, do not receive the prompt attention good business practice demands — but confidence is lost in the reliability of our postal machinery. Complaint is also made, not only of the careless, and wrongful delivery of letters, but of delay or failure to deliver them at all, within a reasonable time. There have been instances where persons have called at the post office daily, or several times a day, for letters which they knew had been addressed to them, and some posted by themselves in Toronto or other places, to be told that there were no letters for them; but persistent inquiry, with a little straight talking, has unearthed letters that had been lying in the post office for days, and refused to the persons to whom they were addressed. Instances are not infrequent of letters from Montreal, Toronto, and other places, remaining in the post office here, undelivered, for days, and even weeks. Such conditions are intolerable, and they indicate, on the part of the local post office staff reprehensible carelessness, or, what amounts to the same thing, lack of ability for the proper performance of their duty. This matter is regretfully mentioned, but the complaints made are of considerable long standing, and of such undesirable frequency, that failure of Improvement in conditions, have made it a duty to refer to the matter, which forms a very proper subject of investigation by the post office authorities.

The Peterborough post office is in a very unsatisfactory condition, and the sooner it is placed in a position to do business promptly and accurately, the better for all concerned. If the fault lies in an unsuitable staff, and unsatisfactory pay, the duty of the Post Office Department is to have the remedy applied. The public, in whose interest alone the post office is maintained, will not stand for incompetency or unsatisfactory service.

RECRIPROCITY.

Reciprocity between Canada and the United States has long been regarded as a "dead duck." And it is, so far as Canada is concerned. The United States has scorned friendly relations, and Sir Wilfrid announced that if the question of reciprocity were revived, the initiative must come from the United States. "Jim" Hill, the railway magnate, realizes the value of Canadian trade, as only a man interested in, and familiar with, transportation facilities, can do. Mr. Hill, speaking in Chicago, points out that Canada is no longer inclined to come to the United States as a "suppliant," no matter how much, or how little, the United States desires reciprocity. He regards Canada as a "neighbour to be taken not of." He says that it has land enough to feed every mouth in Europe. Canada has 19,000 miles of railway, a trade of five hundred millions a year, with four hundred millions invested in manufactures, and an output of four hundred and eighty millions. This growth, Mr. Hill points out, Canada has made "off its own bat" — without outside assistance, solely by virtue of energetic development of its resources. He says Canada is getting on well, is well satisfied with her position and prospects, and that if a proposition for reciprocity is to be made, it must come from the United States. Mr. Hill is in favour of absolute free trade, but will be satisfied with reciprocal exchange of natural commodities, and raw material. If Uncle Sam gets Canada interested in reciprocity, it must make the advances.

HASTEN GENTLY.

The city council, in deciding last night, by a vote of nine to three, in favour of operating the District Heating System, as a municipal enterprise, may have been acting in the interests of the citizens, or may have been unwarrantably optimistic. In any event, there is reason for the aldermen hastening slowly. In connection with municipal ownership, and operation of utilities, there are many fallacies abroad. While, under certain circumstances, it is indicated as desirable, and as promising satisfaction, there are limits to its successful application. Where articles or commodities, of general use and necessity — such as gas, electric light and water — are in question, the prospect of municipal ownership and operation, being successfully exercised, is not bad. In the matter of the District Heating System, the speculative element as to success seems to be present, and before the aldermen commit the city to the adoption, or even approval of the principle of municipal operation, the most exhaustive inquiry should be made. Information should be got to justify, or otherwise, the wisdom of risking the money of the ratepayers, in applying the system to a restricted area, exclusive of the great mass of the citizens. Full information should be available as to what extent the system will be used, by the business enterprises operating in the area bounded by Charlotte, Murray, Water and Aylmer streets. Sight should not be lost of the fact that the vast majority of the shops and business buildings in this area are owned, not by the occupants, but by a single private corporation, and consideration must be given the bearing of this fact upon the customers a municipal heating plant could obtain —whether tenants would generally adopt the system in premises owned by others, and install plants, which would be regarded as fixtures. While it would appear that the system is successfully worked in other places, that is no reason why our aldermen should rashly enter into a commercial enterprise, without giving the most exhaustive investigation to every phase of it. A private corporation may take risks, if it chooses, but the city should not be committed to an enterprise, in which the least element of doubt of a successful issue enters. There is a large difference between giving a franchise to a private company, and a municipal corporation entering into commercial enterprises. Private enterprises, in the public service, are, as a rule, operated upon business principles; but it is yet to be shown, judging by the management of general civic interests, that municipal operation will be marked by the business prudence and success which attend private operation. The idea of civic operation of a District Heating plant will stand a great deal of thinking over.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The province of Manitoba wants the earth. It will not be satisfied with a slice of Keewatin — it wants to go the whole hog. One would think the population was composed of Toronto emigrants.

St. Mary's last year, on its water works and electric light plants, lost about $4500. But it shows up the deficit honestly, and after providing for interest, sinking fund and depreciation. This shows that municipal ownership, without good business management, means loss of money to the ratepayers.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

I notice in your issue of yesterday an article referring to the Nicholls estate funds in connection with the hospital. I gather that of the money available for maintenance, the capital is being used to make up deficiencies, in the cost of running the hospital. Is his good business? Would it not be better to use the interest from that amount. If this interest is not enough for hospital maintenance have the city supply the balance. As a ratepayer I don't desire any increase of taxation, But I am looking to the future. I assume that the fund available, of the Nicholls' estate is not large enough to last forever, and from what anybody, but the trustees, knows, it may before long be exhausted and then the whole burden of supplying deficits in maintenance will fall upon the city. Is it not better to pay a little in perpetuity than to use up the capital, and, hereafter, pay the whole in perpetuity?

Yours truly,
TAXPAYER.

Editor Post Card Column:

What is the matter with the civic authorities? A little promenade along the sidewalk on the east side of the market square would lead one to believe that somebody had either gone to sleep on duty or had wilfully set a trap for the unwary.

Broken planks and rotten sills mean broken legs and law suits, and civic law suits mean higher taxation. Surely the authorities do not intend to leave his dangerous walk in its present condition all winter. Prompt action is needed.

Yours, etc.,
PEDESTRIAN.

Diamond Dyes

WILL COLOUR ANYTHING Any Colour

The most wonderful helpers in the home to economical dressers are the DIAMOND DYES. They are so easy to use that even a child can dye a rich and perfect colour with them. DIAMOND DYES make faded and dingy dresses, blouses, capes, jackets, stockings, scarfs, laces and draperies, look like new.

Beware of dyes that claim to colour cotton and wool with the same dye. It is impossible to get satisfactory results from dyes of that character. In DIAMOND DYES, there are special dyes for colouring all cotton and mixed goods, and special dyes are made for all wool goods. Each of the DIAMOND DYE colours is guaranteed to give full satisfaction, when used according to the directions.

Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, Que., for valuable dye book, and card of dyed samples; free to any address.

KETCHECUM LAKE PARTY WILL RETURN TO-MORROW

Have Been Successful in Securing 15 Deer—Some Splendid Photographs

Four rigs from Gibbs' livery left this afternoon to bring back to the city the Ketchecum Lake Hunt Club and their spoils of the chase, which, according to reports from the north, are very large. The party have been successful in securing fifteen fine deer, and may have a couple more before coming out to-morrow.

Mr. Fred Roy, who has been a visitor at the camp, has obtained some splendid and lifelike views of camp life and camp personages. Among the photographs are some of the familiar figure of Mr. H. C. Winch, with his two famous dogs, Ladysmith and Buller.

Mr. J. N. McKendry, of the Dominion, Estimating Cost of a Local Plant.

Mr. J. N. McKendry, president of the Dominion District Steam Heating Co., whose conference with the Council is published in another column, is in Peterborough to-day looking over the city with a view to arriving at an approximate estimate of the cost of the plant here and of the area which would be marked out. It is probable that engineers of the company will be sent here in the near future for the purpose of providing the City Council with the information for which they have asked in regard to the plant.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 13.—Extension of the rally occurred in the stock market to-day. The early trading was characterized by some indecision, but as the day wore on and money eased off, the list strengthened, with an appreciable improvement in the buying in the afternoon, following the retirement of short contracts by the professional element.

Money governs. If it betters, the market will be better. The other factors are small compared with it. A sensational rise of over five points in St. Paul in the afternoon was the big feature of the day. This strength rallied the entire list and closed the market active and strong.

SAYS SOME THINGS ABOUT THE CITY ENGINEER

Ald. Ball Calls the Dismissal of Sewer Inspector O'Brien an Injustice—"Something Wrong" He Says.

SNOW-PLOWING TENDERS TO BE CALLED

A meeting of the Board of Works Committee was held last night before the meeting of the whole council, when a number of important matters came up. It was decided to purchase the land necessary for opening George street from David Oliver for $450 and also to advertise for tenders for snow-ploughing. Jas. O'Brien's requuest to be re-instated as inspector on the Cedar street sewer furnished Ald. Ball with fuel enough to make a few heating remarks about the city engineer in general and Mr. O'Brien's charge in particular.

There were present Ald. Hicks, chairman, Mayor Best, Ald. Tovey, Wilson, Elliott, Johnston, McIntyre and Adams.

A report was read from the city engineer that the Brinton Carpet Company had connected with the sewer without making the usual application.

It was moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald. Wilson that the city engineer find out how the connection is made and inform the Brinton Company of the usual procedure in such cases.—Carried.

A report was read from the city engineer regarding the application of the Bell Telephone Company for permission to place poles on Victoria avenue, and recommending that it be granted.

It was moved by Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. Elliott that the part of lot No. 35, according to plan No. 41, for the City of Peterborough, required for opening George street, be purchased from David Oliver, for $450 and that the treasurer be authorized to issue a cheque for that sum to the city solicitor to pay for it.—Carried.

A discussion took place as to snow-ploughing and it was decided on motion of Ald. Tovey and McWilliams, that the city engineer be instructed to advertise for tenders.

A letter was read from Jas. O'Brien stating that he had been inspector on the Cedar street sewer for eight days, when he was discharged by the city engineer and Mr. Belcher, who had finished the inspection of the east city sewer work, had been put on in his place. Mr. O'Brien asked to be re-instated.

The city engineer stated that he had been tied up by a resolution of the board, which enacted that Mr. Belcher was to be appointed inspector and if another was needed Mr. O'Brien should be appointed.

The committee, although they felt that a mistake had been made, considered that the only course possible was to abide by the decision of the engineer.

Ald. Ball Criticizes.

At the meeting of the Council afterwards, Ald. Ball, who is not a member of the Board of Works, criticized the discharging of Mr. O'Brien. He said that it was an injustice to the man and there was something wrong somewhere. Mr. O'Brien was an old taxpayer, and was well and favourably known. Ald. Ball then passed on to refer to the gutter at the corner of Hunter and George streets, which, he said, had been filled in with gravel until it was above the level of the pavement. "If that is the kind of engineer we have," said the alderman, "it's time for a change." He went on to state that the work was a re-section on the city and referenced, "If that is the kind of bungling engineer we pay, its time we stepped down and out and let the engineer run the town and own it."

No action was taken in the matter.

Ald. Ball had also some things to say of the way in which snow-ploughing had been done in the past. In his ward, he stated, that if it snowed three days the snow-plough would not be out until the end of that time, and even then the work was not properly done. He advocated a return to the former system, by which the city carried on its own snow-ploughing.

WEDDING BELLS

GARVEY--HENNESY.

Examiner Special.

Ennismore, Nov. 13.—This morning, at nine o'clock, in St. Martin's church a pretty wedding took place, when, in the presence of a number of the friends of the popular bride and groom, Miss Lizzie Hennessy, daughter of Mrs. John Hennessy, of Ennismore was united in marriage to Mr. James Garvey, also of this township, the ceremony being performed by the Parish Priest, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The bride who was very tastefully attired in white, was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Katie Murray, of Ennismore, while the groomsman was Mr. Herbert Hennessy, brother of the bride. After the wedding the bridal party and guests drove to the home of the bride where the usual wedding festivities were enjoyed. The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome gifts, evidence of the fact that she is one of Ennismore's favourite daughters.

Mr. and Miss Garvey will reside in this township.

ONLY AN EXPERIMENT SO MR. DUMBLE THINKS

The City Should Attend to Actual Requirements—Leave Speculative Matters to Themselves.

HIS IDEAS OF THE HEATING SCHEME

Mr. D. W. Dumble, in conversation with an Examiner reporter this morning, referred to the district steam heating proposition that is being considered by the Council. It was a private enterprise, he said, for the sole purpose of making money for the stockholders. He knew of no municipal corporation that had ever made it a municipal affair, and he doubted if there was authority, under municipal law, for taking hold of the matter. Again, it was only serviceable, or rather, could only be used by a limited number of people. It was not a general utility. Why should a municipality, which has to look after its own civic interests, allow its streets to be dug up for this purpose? There is expense enough in providing for general wants and necessities without considering this matter.

Regarding heating, everyone can heat his house, or store, or whatever the case may be, in his own way, but everybody cannot use steam heating from such a system.

Again, all the ratepayers should not, and cannot, legally, be taxed for a system which is not like that of the telephone, telegraph, etc., which are general utilities. It is probable that the aldermen have met some people who have presented one phase of the matter. A more perfect consideration would present the matter in a better and truer light. Mr. Dumble considered that the city will be busily occupied looking after its drainage system, the sewers, gas, electric lights and street railway, without troubling itself in accommodating any speculation by permitting the streets to be used for that purpose. Why, he asked, should the municipality concern itself about a speculative problem? His advice in this matter is to go slow and consider everything thoroughly.

WILLIAM KELLY RECEIVED CUT WHILE DRUNK

Arrested at Noon To-day by P. C. Adams—Was Cut Over One of His Eyes.

P. C. Adams was called to the City Hotel to-day at noon to take into custody William Kelly, who had become very drunk. Kelly was sitting in a chair causing no disturbance but when he arose to walk around he fell forward and cut his forehead badly on an iron pillar. He received a severe cut over one of his eyes, which had to be dressed. He was afterwards locked up till he became sober.

VACCINATION AND DANDRUFF

There is as Sure Prevention of Baldness as There is of Smallpox.

It is now accepted that vaccination renders the vaccinated person exempt from smallpox; or at worst, he never has anything but the lightest kind of a case. Now, as sure a preventive and cure for dandruff, which causes falling hair and baldness, has been discovered—Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the dandruff germ. C. H. Reed, Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife have been troubled with dandruff and falling hair for several years. We tried remedies without effect, until we used Newbro's Herpicide, two bottles of which cured us." Hundreds of similar testimonials. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

ST. PETER'S T.A.S. WILL HOLD ANOTHER AT HOME NEXT WEEK

Similar in Nature to the Event on Thanksgiving Day Which was Most Successful

St. Peter's T. A. S. will hold another at home, similar to the Thanksgiving day affair, at their rooms, on Wednesday, November 21. There will be progressive euchre, dancing, and other amusements, and supper will be served.

These at homes have always proved most popular in the past, and as next week's event will be fully up to the standard of enjoyment of previous ones, it will no doubt be well attended.

TAX COLLECTIONS ARE COMING IN WELL

Second Installment Due on Thursday, Nov. 15th—Tax Collector Makes Suggestions.

Thursday, next is the last day for paying the second installment of taxes for the year 1906, and the tax collector wishes to notify those who have not paid their taxes yet that the time is short. During the last few days a considerable amount has been paid, and he expects that before Thursday night much more will have been paid in. At the present time it looks as it there will be as much paid in up to the 15th, as at a corresponding time last year.

After the 15th, there will be probably be about $10,000 unpaid, but a considerable amount of this is taxes on city property, while other portions are covered by remissions, so that in reality there will be comparatively little to collect after the date mentioned.

HELD FAREWELL SERVICE FOR MR. H. D. ROBERTSON

Morrisburg Honours One of Her Sons Who is Going to China as a Missionary

Morrisburg, Nov. 12. — The District Epworth League, tendered a farewell to Rev. R. B. McAmmond, as president, Mrs. Joliffe, (nee Miss Bigelow, of Cornwall,) its late secretary, and Harold D. Robertson, on Friday evening. Rev. Wm. Howett presided, and addresses were made by Rev. A. E. Runnells, Chesterville, Rev. Mr. McAmmond, Rev. Mr. Robertson and others.

This event was important to Matild District, as never before had such honour fallen to her lot, in the sending of missionaries to foreign lands. These, with some fifteen others, will sail for China, leaving Vancouver, November 26th.

In their new field of labour they are under engagement for seven years. The event was largely attended although the inclement weather prevented many from being present. Letters of regret were read from Rev. D. Winter, chairman of the district, and others, who were unable to be in attendance.

GENEROUS RESPONSE TO THE MISSIONARY APPEAL

Papers Read by Members of George St. Epworth League Dealing With the Work in China.

The lecture room of the George Street Methodist Church was filled last night with a large number of the Epworth League. The enthusiasm which has been revived and strengthened by the recent convention was a very pleasing feature. Four papers were read on missionary work and treated the subject very completely. They were interesting, and showed that the writers were well acquainted with their subject. The first paper was read by Mrs. Lewis on "Where our Missioners Are at Work." The second was by Miss Crafts, "Hospital Story." Mr. McCann read the third on "China's Need of a School," and the fourth was by Mr. G. Galley on "China's Need of a Hospital." After the reading, a collection was taken up to assist in the building of the new Methodist College in Sien-tu, China. A very liberal response was given, fully $20 being received.

MANY MEASURES ARE TO BE VOTED UPON

All the By-laws Will be Submitted on Municipal Election Day.

The question as to whether it would be advisable to have some of the bylaws which are to be submitted to the people, voted upon before the day of the municipal elections, in order to save crowding and confusion on that day, came up at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night.

Ald. McWilliams spoke of the large number of bylaws that were to come on the day of the municipal elections. For instance, there were the Collegiate Institute, Smith street bridge, Rapid Tool Company bylaws, etc., as well as the votes for mayor and aldermen. He advocated voting earlier on some of these bylaws.

Most of the aldermen were of the opition that if there were enough poll clerks and plenty of room there would be no trouble in taking the votes on all of these measures on municipal election day. They believed that a better vote could be secured on that day.

No action was taken in the matter, and all the bylaws will be voted on together.

ATTENDING CONVENTION OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

Mr. Chas. Reid, Representing St. John's Anglican Young People's Association at Galt.

Mr. Charles Reid, president of St. John's Anglican Young Peoples' Association, left this morning for Galt, where he will represent the association at the annual meeting of the Ontario Association, which opens there to-day and which will be in session for the next few days.

At this convention a number of matters of interest to the Anglican Young Peoples' Associations of the province, will be discussed.

The shareholders also decided to issue bonds to raise a fund for the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in constructing and equipping the company's railway and branches.

WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON LAW COURTS OF ONTARIO

Mr. W. S. Davidson Will Speak at St. Paul's Young Men's Guild To-night.

At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church to-night, an address will be given by Mr. W. S. Davidson, on "The Law Courts of Ontario." In addition to the address a good programme of music will be rendered by members of the Guild and others. A general invitation is extended to the young men of this church to attend this meeting, which promises to be an interesting one.

CURRICULUM DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Consider Overdue Attention Paid to Some Subjects—Too Much Homework.

Dr. Morrison brought up the subject of the shcool curriculum. He thought that there should be a radical change made in the teaching of several subjects, namely, physiology, history, spelling and writing. He thought that in the public school too much attention was given to physiology, that the present history was too comprehensive, that it should not deal with constitutional history, that more attention should be given to writing and that the spelling book now in use be reformed. He claimed that there was too much homework altogether to allow time for culture along other lines. Discussion was very general, nearly all expressing their views. Mr. Pringle read a resolution made some time ago with the assistance of the inspector, a copy of which had been sent to all the teachers. It dealt with the time limits for homework and seemed to cover the ground fairly well.

It was moved by Dr. Morrison, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that Messrs. Pringle, Hill, Dumble and Morrison form a committee to further look into the matter and to press its importance upon the Government.

ST. JOHN'S YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

A Description of Melbourne Was Given by Mr. Niele Lee—Other Featu es of the Programme.

At the regular meeting of St. John's Young People's Association held last night some minor business matters were disposed of, after which a literary programme, consisting of a reading by Mr. Hazlitt, a comic reading by Mr. Jos. Bell, a description of Melbourne, Australia, by Mr. Neile Lee, who also told of some of his travels on sea. It was followed by a few impromptu promonades. The next regular meeting will be held in two weeks, when a dramatic evening will be given, and two or three comic plays will constitute the programme.

Under the auspices of the Association Mrs. Leondias Hubbard will give a lecture in the school room on Tuesday, November 20th, on her trip to Labrador.

THE CITY'S MILK BEING OFFICIALLY EXAMINED

Dr. Bingham is Conducting the Work—A Result of the First Test—Sample Up to Standard.

The examination of the city's milk has now become a reality. Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, as examiner, is conducting the work. The following is the result of the first test:—

Specific gravity, 1029.

Re-action, neutral.

Tested for adulterations as follows: Starch, gives a blue colour with iodine. None found.

Gum or dextrine, gives a blue colour with iodine and acetic acid. None present.

Chalk, settles to the bottom and effervesces on the addition of an acid. None.

Soda, settles to the bottom and effervesces on the addition of an acid. None found. This also gives the blue re-action with red Litmus paper.

Fat, 3.9.

Cream, 8 per cent.

No Formaldehyde present. Hehner's test was used, which will show 1 part in 200,000 of milk. It is done as follows: Dilute a small quantity of the milk with an equal quantity of water. Add to a quantity of this in a test tube a little sulphuric acid of the density of 90 degrees. Add to this a trace of Ferric chloride. Let the acid run down the side of the tube so that it will form a layer underneath the milk. If Formaldehyde is present a bluish or violet ring will appear at the point of contact.

This sample is up to the standard accepted as good milk

MACCABEES HELD A MEETING AND BANQUET

Provincial Commander Trussler Was Present and Delivered an Able Address.

THE ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS LARGE

Peterborough Tent No. 69, Knights of the Maccabees, held a most enjoyable special meeting in the Y.M.C.A. hall last night, when there was a large attendance of members present. The feature of the meeting was the presence of Bro. S. W. Trussler, of Cambachie, Provincial Commander, and Bro. Chas. A. Yule, of Colborne, District Deputy. Both of the visitors gave interesting and able addresses upon the work of the Order, dicating its growth and its present satisfactory condition.

At the close of the meeting a number of the members adjourned to McCallum's restaurant where a most enjoyable supper was held. Bro. J. Titterson acted as toastmaster and there were present: R. Morrison, J. W. Greene, J. Watson, G. W. Singleton, F. Drake, E. Wicker, D. Minnicola, Dr. J. A. Morgan, O. S. Matchett, N. Smith, S. W. Trusler, H. Miller, W. L. Mitchell, C. A. Yule, G. M. Fletcher, Dr. Frederick, J. R. Bell.

After the needs of the inner man had received careful attention a short toast list was run off. The first toast was to the King, and was honoured in the usual way, the gathering singing the National Anthem.

"Our Guests" was the next toast honoured and was proposed by Bro. W. L. Mitchell, who extended a welcome to the visitors. The guests of the evening, Bro. Trusler and Bro. Yule, responding, expressing their pleasure at being present with the members of Peterborough Tent.

The last toast was that to the Ladies, Dr. Frederick championed the cause of the fair sex in an eloquent manner.

Short speeches were made by Bros. R. Morrison, O. S. Matchett, A. M. Fletcher and others.

Before the gathering dispersed a vote of thanks was moved by Bro. R. Morrison and seconded by Bro. O. S. Matchett to the visitors.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of 70 years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of Piles which had caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance but Dr. Chase's Ointment gave quick relief and I believe that the cure is lasting." — Rev. W. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

Committee Of Whole Adopts Municipal Ownership Scheme

company did not sell steam in that way and he could hardly answer that question. The meter system was the only one to be used, both from the standpoint of the consumer, and also of the company. The meter could not work against the consumer. If it went wrong it worked against the company. There was no use in installing a poor system. He was prepared to say that his company would not sell the material to anyone and allow them to construct the system themselves.

Ald. McWilliams asked whether the company would be willing to supply information as to the cost of the plant, provided the city decided to take over the business as a municipal enterprise. He explained that even if the Council decided to do so, the matter would have to be submitted to the people.

Will Supply Information

Mr. McKendry remarked that his company would be only too glad to supply information if the Council decided to embark in the business.

The Mayor asked if the company had a franchise in Hamilton.

Mr. McKendry replied that they had, and would commence work at once.

"How much did you pay for your Hamilton franchise?" asked the Mayor.

"Not a cent," replied the representative of the Heating Company, emphatically, "and we never will not for any franchise."

The Mayor said that the whole question was whether the people were willing to take it up as a municipal enterprise.

Ald. McWilliams was of the opinion that the Council should decide the question whether or not they were willing to go into the business. Then they could ask the company for figures.

Not Enough Information.

Mayor Best remarked that he did not think they had enough information to go ahead at once. There were matters of far greater importance to the people, such as the development of water power.

Mr. McKendry thought that the Council were safe in estimating the cost of the plant at $50,000.

Ald. Elliott inquired as to what dividend the city might expect from the enterprise.

Mr. Breadnell said that he had gone out for a short portion of three days in Peterborough and had subscribed $4,000 worth of steam.

Ald. Mason asked as to the cost of the operation of the plant. He thought that if the consumer were given the heat at about the same price as under old methods, and at the same time make a fair profit, it was sufficient from a municipal viewpoint.

Mr. McKendry said that his company were willing to provide the Council with information in regard to what the plant would cost, the cost of operation, the amount of steam that would have to be used, and the amount the city might expect to get for the steam, etc.

Discussion on Subject.

The representatives of the company then retired, and the Council discussed the matter.

Mayor Best remarked that he was not prepared to go ahead with the enterprise. There were more important matters.

Ald. Elliott expressed the same opinion. The water power question was of far more importance.

Ald. Hicks thought that the system did not compare with the waterworks system so far as municipal ownership was concerned. He was not opposed to it being taken up by a private company, but he would not favour municipal ownership.

Mayor Best said that the lighting question was one that the city would want to take up as a municipal proposition.

Ald. Elliott agreed with this statement. The city should be prepared to protect citizens from the greed of large companies.

Mayor Best remarked that the question would not scroll. It could be taken up any time.

Ald McWilliams' Views.

Ald. McWilliams was opposed to the preceding speaker. He was in favour of getting as much information as possible in regard to municipal ownership. He did not want to see the heating system taken up by a private company. There would be the same old trouble of bad streets, excessive charges, etc., while they might as well be making money for the city. Peterborough was behind the cities of the province in regard to municipal ownership. Guelph owned its own water, lights, gas and street railway, all of them making money. Port Arthur had reduced its tax rate nine mills by reason of municipal ownership. If the heating system could be made to pay as the water works has done it would be a good investment. The system had been proved most satisfactory by the members of the deputations. The Council should get further figures with a view of taking it over as a municipal enterprise and then submit the matter to the people.

The Council should say to the company that if the figures proved as satisfactory as they were represented to be they should submit a bylaw to the people for the purpose of taking it over as a municipal enterprise.

Ald. Adams thought there ought to be an expression of the opinion of the Council in reference to the matter.

Resolution Moved.

Ald. McWilliams moved the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald Ball:—

"That this committee is of opinion that further inquiries should be made as to the cost and service of a district system of steam heating with a view to the corporation taking up the system as a municipal enterprise and that the proposition of the Dominion Steam Heating Company to prepare plans and statements of cost for the central portion of the city be accepted.

Ald. Hicks moved in amendment that the matter of granting a franchise to a private company be taken up.

Ald. Johnston thought that Peterborough had enough experience of granting franchises to private companies.

Ald. Wilson concurred in this opinion.

Ald. Elliott re-iterated the opinion that there were far more important things to be taken up than the steam heating.

Municipal Ownership Oratory.

Ald. Ball supported Ald. McWilliams. There had been a great deal of contention in the city in regard to giving franchises to companies. The streets of Peterborough were disgraceful. Heat was just as necessary as water. He did not believe that the masses received any benefit from the growth of the city. It benefitted owners of real estate only. Business men received more opposition. The working man received no benefit. The producer of wealth had no protection. The increased population gave increased value to property. The sooner the question of Mayor, municipal ownership was taken up the better. He hoped if the matter were to be taken upit would be along the line of municipal ownership.

Mayor Best remarked that municipal ownership at present was in a very crude state.

Ald. Ball resented this statement and gave instances of where cities had benefitted.

Ald. Graham expressed himself in favour of municipal ownership.

Tammany Methods.

Mayor Best spoke of Glasgow which was supposed to be a model city. He said that Tammany methods and graft had seized upon the rulers of the city.

Ald. Ball was up in arms again on this statement and remarked that Glasgow was indeed a model city and its rulers were noble men.

Amendment Lost.

Ald. Elliott seconded Ald. Hicks' aemndment which was then put, and was defeated by the following vote:

Yeas—Ald. Hicks, Elliott, Tovey.—3.

Nays—Ald. Mason, McWilliams, Adams, Duncan, Wilson, Graham, McIntyre, Ball, Johnston.—9.

Ald. McWilliams motion was then put and carried by a vote of nine to three, Ald. Hicks, Elliott and Tovey voting against it. Ald. Ball greeted the vote with applause. "You haven't got anything yet," said the

A. W. MACPHERSON GETS RE-ELECTION

Peterborough Man Again Treasurer of the O. H. A.—Mr. Darroch is President for 1906-07.

Nominations for the officers of the Ontario Hockey Association closed on Saturday night. Four of the most important posts are filled by acclamation. The nominations:

President—D. L. Darroch, Collingwood.

First Vice-President—A. F. Webster, Toronto; J. C. Makins, Stratford; Dwight J. Turner, Toronto.

2nd Vice-President—L. Blake Duff, Welland.

Secretary—W. A. Hewitt, Toronto.

Treasurer—A. W. McPherson, Peterborough.

Executive Committee (4 to be elected)—H. B. Wettlaufer, Berlin; E. S. Gould, Midland; Bert Short, Toronto; R. J. Brenner, Owen Sound; A. B. Cunningham, Kingston; A. M. Edwards, Galt; R. J. Burns, Toronto.

Mr. Darroch did not seek the office, but those interested in the welfare of the association induced him to again fill the position which he so ably filled last year. The election of Mr. Duff and Mr. McPherson, without a contest, is another generous tribute to faithful and loyal officers of the association.

WILL REPRESENT THE PETERBOROUGH CLUB

Mr. A. W. MacPherson Will Act in This Capacity at Annual Meeting of the O. H. A.

The O. H. A. has done itself credit in again electing Mr. A. W. MacPherson to the office of treasurer, a position which he has filled most acceptably for a number of years. Mr. MacPherson is recognized in sporting circles as one of the squarest men occupying a position in Canadian sporting circles to-day, and the affairs of the branch of the O. H. A. over which he will have charge are in good hands, when he is at the helm, a fact which seems to have been demonstrated in the past, as evidenced by the general satisfaction with his services, in his re-election.

As in the past Mr. McPherson will again represent Peterborough at the annual meeting, on Saturday, together with another delegate who will be appointed this week. Mr. MacPherson is not sectional in his views, and while representing the Peterborough Club's interests, he will not lose sight of the general interest of the Association.

YOU FELLOWS who pay your good money for good clothes, have a look at ED. HUFF'S advertisement in another column. For a limited time, you can have a pair of $5.00 fine imported worsted trousers, made to your measure for $3.95, or a $6.00 pair for $5.00. Also a regular $22 fine Melton overcoat to order for $18. Suits to order, regular $20 or $21 for 17 and 18 dollars. Speak quick.

CURLING CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

At That Meeting Officers Will be Elected and Reports for the Past Year Presented.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club will be held in the curling club rooms, Charlotte street, on Monday night, Nov. 19th, at eight o'clock. At this meeting the election of officers will take place and the officers for the year will be chosen.

Curling promises to boom this season in Peterborough, and every member of the club, as well as those who may have an inclination to become members, are asked to attend the meeting on Monday night.

LINDSAY POST GIVES PETERBOROUGH CREDIT

For Having Given Argos a Close Run in the Game on Saturday in Toronto.

Listen to this from the Lindsay Post, a journal which in the past has persistently preached the doctrine, "Can any good thing come out of Peterborough?" It is refreshing to see the change of heart which has taken place in the sporting writer of that great publication: Peterborough didn't do so badly in their game with the Argonauts on Saturday, 12 to 4. Peterborough has won one game and lost five. The Toronto despatches claim that the Argos didn't show their form of a week ago. The Toronto papers were calling [illegible] Hamilton dupes for using the same excuse, Funny.

INSTITUTE LODGES IN NEW ONTARIO DISTRICTS

Mr. J. A. Tully and I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge Officers Leave on Extended Trip to North.

Mr. J. A. Tolly of this city, and travelling representative of the I.O.O.F. Relief Association, left this morning to meet the Grand Master of the Order, Mr. W. S. Johnston, and Mr. A. H. Blockaby, of Kingston, in Toronto, who will accompany him on a tour of inspection of the different lodges on the North Shore, including North Bay, Sudbury and the Canadian Soo, and before returning will institute a new lodge in Manitowaning on the Manitoulin Island.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE AT THE ARMY BARRACKS

Other Special Meetings Which Will be Held There in the Near Future—The Officers.

Staff Captain Hurd, Foreign Secretary of the Salvation Army, will give a special lecture in the Barracks here on Thursday evening next, on the subject, "Love and Sorrow." The lecture will be illustrated by sixty coloured stereopticon views. On Saturday and Sunday Col. Gaskit, General Secretary of the Army, and Brig. Hargraves, of Montreal, will conduct special meetings at the Barracks. More complete particulars will be furnished later in the week in reference to these meetings.

Thousands Are Securing their Winter Clothing at Less Than Manufacturer's Wholesale Cost.
We are informed that Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will positively be the last four days of the closing-out sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock in Peterborough. The National Salvage Company, of Toronto, who are now in charge of the S. J. Sheridan stock say that they do not wish to move a dollar's worth of the merchandise away from Peterborough on account of cost of shipping and drayage; that they have invoiced the entire stock at about 35 per cent. less than the original wholesale cost, which means a saving to the public of more than one-half of the usual selling price of the goods. The people of Peterborough and vicinity are benefitting greatly by this closing-out, quit-business sale, as never heretofore have our people had such an opportunity to save money on wearing apparel such as this salvage sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock is now affording the public. The underwear, shirts, hats and so forth, will long be remembered as the most gigantic four days' selling of merchandise ever attempted in Peterborough, Ont. Extra preparations have been made for the big crowds who will attend during the last four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and big Saturday, the last day of the sale, November the 17th. The National Company say they will keep the S. J. Sheridan store open the last day of the sale, Saturday, November the 17th, until mid-night in order to accommodate the vast crowds wishing to take advantage of this tremendous sacrifice. This is positively the last notification. Act quickly; but four days more to outfit in clothing, underwear, shirts and hats, caps, etc., for the next five years, at prices less than actual cost of the raw material. Come quickly and secure your share before the sale closes, Saturday night, Nov. 17th.

RESPECTED PIONEER OF SMITH PASSES AWAY

Late William Young, a Resident There for Over Sixty Years—Was Highly Respected.

One of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Smith Township passed away last Friday, in the person of Mr. William Young, who died at Young's Point, at the advanced age of 92 years, after a residence of more than sixty years, in the township, in which he was such a well known figure.

The late Mr. Young was born in Ireland, and at the age of about 30 years he came to Canada, settling in the township of Smith, which was then little better than a wilderness, and has lived there ever since.

Mr. Young leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Joseph, of Young's Point and John, of Peterborough, and one daughter, who lives in Denver, and who was with her father at the time of his death. The funeral, which took place on Sunday was one of the largest ever seen in this section, many of the friends of the deceased gathering to pay a tribute to his memory.

MR. LANGFELDT'S SERMONS WERE GREATLY ENJOYED

He Preached in Grace Church Last Sunday and Delighted Large Congregations.

The Brantford Expositor of yesterday had the following reference to the sermons preached in that city by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt on Sunday: Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, of Peterborough, officiated at both services in Grace Church yesterday and delivered two very effective gospel sermons. Mr. Langfeldt is a decidedly interesting speaker and his sermons yesterday were of an impressive nature. There was a large congregation at both services.

Eyes Worth Having
Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.
As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.
Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.
The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that its position does not exactly correspond with the other.
How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require glasses, that your glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

Eskimo Tribes Who Have Never Seen White Man's Face

This Race was Discovered a Few Months Ago on Lonely Island in Hudson's Bay.

THE EXPEDITION OF THE LATE LEONIDAS HUBBARD RECALLED

A Story which Parallels That of Famous Lost Colony of Horsemen of Six Centuries Ago.

Examiner Special

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 12.—The object of Leonidas Hubbard's ill-fated expedition to Labrador was to discover a reported tribe of Nascaupee Indians who had never looked upon the face of a white man. It was reported that no such tribe existed there, but a still stranger anthropological discovery has recently been reported further north in the same region. On a lonely island in Hudson Bay a lost tribe of Eskimos has been found who have been without intercourse with any other representatives of the human species for centuries and never saw a white man until a few months ago. They are still in the stone age, knowing of no metals, they grow no plants and their houses are built of the jaw-bones of whales.

The home of this strange tribe is on Southampton Island, a mass of land almost as large as the state of Maine, and situated in the northern part of Hudson Bay. Apparently these aboriginees have dwelt there since pre-Columbian times, and to-day they live and subsist in exactly the same way as they did then.

Life in Bone Houses.

The houses of these peculiar people are built by putting together the great bones of whales and covering them with seal skins sewn together. In the the middle of these primitive dwellings is an elevated place, on which stands a stone lamp, employed for lighting, heating, cooking, melting snow and drying clothes. It is nothing more than an open dish of whale oil or seal oil, wi a wick of dry moss soaked in fat. The grampus, or white whale, and its larger congener, the bowhead, or Greenland whale, form the chief means of subsistence of these strange people. They use the whalebone in a variety of surprising ways, making even their cups and buckets of it by bending it into round shapes and sewing on the bottoms. Many of their implements are of whalebone and from the same article they manufacture tobogganlike sleds for winter travel.

They make other sledges for the carriage of the game they kill, with walrus tusks for runners and deer antlers for cross-pieces, and it would be hard to find more daring hunters than they are—the seal, the walrus, the wary caribou and the sturdy muskox contributing to their game supply. The whole tribe comprises but fifty-eight individuals, about equally divided between the sexes, and its members speak a dialect peculiar to themselves, and quite unlike that employed by any other Eskimos. A strait some thirty miles broad separates Southampton Island from the western shore of Hudson Bay, along which are several other colonies of Eskimos, and once in a very long while this strait freezes over. This happened, it is said, nearly eighty years ago, and then a few of the most daring of the island natives crossed over to the mainland, where they were much surprised to encounter other human beings like themselves having doubtless imagined that they were the only people in existence. This is now a tradition with the natives of the mainland who say that the strangers brought two peculiar sledges with them, but went away again and never returned, and neither before nor since has there been any news of the lost tribe until recently.

The story of this isolated tribe of Eskimos parallels the traditions of the famous lost colony of Norsemen, which as recorded in the sagas and folklore was cut off in Greenland six centuries ago and utterly disappeared. There was a second portion of this Eskimo tribe in existence on another portion of Southampton Island until some ten years ago, when it perished entirely of some mysterious disease. A boat's crew from a whaler beset by a furious storm while fast to a big "fish," was first towed into unfrequented waters by the monster and later driven a long distance by the gale, being eventually flung ashore on a part of Southampton Island never previously visited, so far as is known by a white man. In their endeavour to make their way back along the coast to a point where they might signal a passing ship, they came upon an Eskimo village of about forty souls, all of whom were lying dead except two, who still retained enough vitality to inform the newcomers that some strange disease had annihilated their tribe and to express astonishment at the pale faces, of whom they had never seen the like before, and whom they took to be gods. They both died shortly after and the secret of their tribal history perished with them, but from the character of their belongings it has now become evident that they were identical with the tribe recently discovered, as the whalers appropriated their boat to ferry themselves south, and also many of their own possessions being lost with their own boat.

Priest Sued for Alimony.

REV. FRANCIS M. KEILTY, rector of the Church of the Holy Angels, St. Louis, a relative of Rev. Father Keilty, Douro, who died recently, was a good deal of a wit. Father Keilty began his sermon one Sunday morning by announcing, in a voice full of pathos, that he had a confession to make.

"I might as well make a clean breast of it. I've been sued for alimony, and you'll have to pay it," he said.

As the congregation gasped he waved in the air a document, signed and sealed to resemble an order of court.

"Yes, I mean it," he continued, as if to kill any lingering doubts, and then, pointing through one of the stained windows, continued:

"That alley out there has been paved, and the city has sued me for the alley money."

DURHAM COUNTY BOY'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Fell From Apple Tree and Spear Pierced His Brain—Seven-Year-Old Boy's Fatal Accident.

Newcastle, Nov. 12.—The seven-year-old son of Mr. David Rutherford of Newcastle is dead as the result of a peculiar injury. A week ago he was playing with an older brother in an orchard. A spear which they had used to knock off apples caught in a limb of a tree, and while the little fellow was beneath it picking up apples the spear became dislodged, the prong striking him in the back of the head, piercing the brain. The little boy lived a few days, but finally succumbed.

APPLETON IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife of Member of Well Known Publishing Firm Says He Has Abandoned Her

(Examiner Special.)

New York, Nov. 14.—D. Sidney Appleton, of the well-known book publishing firm of D. Appleton & Co., is being sued in the Supreme Court by his wife, Jessica Cuyler Appleton, for a limited divorce on the ground of abandonment. She also asks that Mr. Appleton be compelled to make ample provision for the support of herself and the maintenance of their children.

There have been rumours that there was trouble of some nature between D. Sidney Appleton and his wife. The matter was finally disclosed by the filing in the County Clerk's office yesterday of an order signed by Justice MacLean, of the Supreme Court, upon the application of Osborne, Hess & Churchill, counsel for Mrs. Appleton, directing the service of the summons in the action upon Mr. Appleton at his home, No. 69 Ennismor Garden, London, England, where he and his family resided for several years.

It is claimed by Mrs. Appleton that her husband has abandoned her and has gone to England to remain permanently. Mr. and Mrs. Appleton were married in Atlanta, Ga., April 30, 1890.

Thereafter they for a time lived at the Hotel Seville, in this city. Mrs. Appleton declares that on October 19 last D. Sidney Appleton informed her that he was about to leave her and would never return. He informed her that he was going to Europe.

Mrs. Appleton declares that she has not since seen her husband, and that she is informed that he sailed for Europe on the Carmania, October 23, arriving in England on October 31.

SOME INFORMATION ON COBOURG'S HISTORY

Mr. James Wason Says Town Hall Was Built in the Fifties—He Was There.

Some light is being thrown on the mystery surrounding the date of the erection of the Cobourg town hall, reference to which was made in the Examiner of yesterday. This morning the following letter was received at this office, which gives some information calculated to help those who are at present in darkness on the points in dispute:

"I was on the platform at the laying of the corner stone of the town hall, at Cobourg, by Sir Allen McNab, sometime in the fifties. The famous Mayor Weller, stage owner, was in office at the time, and a Mr. Leigh, was chief constable. He would not let us get on the platform, so the writer and Mr. Henry McCarthy pushed in the cellar window, and secured seats on the platform by this method."

The letter is signed by Jas. Wason.

THIS AGRICULTURAL MONSTROSITY A MYSTERY

Which the Editor of the Lindsay Post is Unable to Solve—Is it a Turnip or a Cabbage.

The agricultural editor of the Lindsay Post is up against something which he cannot solve. He tells about it in the following article in the Post of yesterday:—

"A novel curiosity was brought to this office this morning by Mr. Ed. Stephens, town. It is a vegetable, but of what kind it is hard to say. It's a cabbage, yet it's not a cabbage; it's a turnip, yet it's not a turnip, although it possesses the qualities of both—it's between the two, so to speak. It has the root of a cabbage, the top of a turnip, but not the body of a turnip, sprouting from its side were a few cabbage leaves, while from the top of the vegetable grew turnip leaves. It has the appearance of the stalk of a cabbage transformed into a turnip.

ROMANCE OF WHITBY GIRL WHO WEDS A DRUGGIST

Secretly Married to Avoid Jests of Her Friends is Her Statement in the Affair.

MISS WATSON A PRETTY WHITBY NURSE

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 13.—The Post-Standard says that Miss Georgina Kennedy Watson, of Whitby, Ont., a graduate of the Hospital of the Good Shepherd Training School for Nurses, and Allen Kellogg Hart, of Mexico, N.Y., were married on Friday afternoon, intending to keep the fact from their friends until they would be on their wedding journey.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick T. Henstridge, pastor of Cavalry Episcopal Church and formerly chaplain at the Hospital of the Good Shepherd, in the chapel of Calvary Church.

The reason for wanting to keep the marriagee a secret was that Miss Watson and Mr. Hart were to attend the dancing party at Women's Union Hall under the auspices of the Hospital of the Good Shepherd Nurses' Alumnae Association, of which the bride is a member, and they preferred to avoid the antics of jesting friends.

Miss Watson had just introduced Mr. Hart to a number of friends when a reporter called at the hall to verify a report of the wedding. Mrs. Hart was still being called Miss Watson.

She admitted that she and Mr. Hart had been married in the afternoon. She had previously told friends that the wedding was to take place on January 1st. Mr. Hart is a druggist at Mexico.

THE COAT PAR EXCELLENCE.

The Dress Coat Suitable for Any and Every Occasion.

No costume that is at present in general use by men presents more advantages than the frock coat. It shows off a good figure to advantage, while concealing the defects of a poor one.

Because they make 100 frock coats every week, the Semi-ready frock coat is better made than any custom tailor making 10 in a season can possibly make one. For $25 one can buy a Semi-ready frock coat, vest and trousers, made in fine black cheviots. Silk linings and facings make the suit cost a little more. Dress suits and Tuxedo jackets, made by the Semi-ready Company, are equally good and reasonable in price.

Creasman's have all the new Semi-ready styles, and the exclusive agency for Peterborough and district.

A CLEVER TRICK.

Getting a Coin Out of a Glass Without Touching It.

Get a conical shaped wineglass, whose greatest diameter is a little larger than a silver dollar. In the bottom of the glass place a silver quarter and above it a silver dollar. As the upper part of the glass is only a little larger than the dollar, the latter will go only a short distance down, where it will rest in a horizontal position, like a sort of inside lid.

Now say to those who are watching you that you intend to make the quarter jump out of the glass without your touching it. All you have to do is to blow your breath hard on the dollar, which will make it turn over into a vertical position, and the compression of the air at the bottom of the glass caused by your blowing will send the quarter flying out on the table.

In the accompanying cut A indicates the money placed in the glass and B and C the working out of the trick.

A FAITHFUL DOG.

His Story Has Passed Into History With the Athenians.

Many hundred years ago there lived at Athens a dog whose faithfulness has caused him to be mentioned in history, and in the Grecian city his story is often repeated. The dog guarded one of the heathen temples at Athens. One night a thief stole into this building and carried off some of the most valuable treasures. The dog vainly barked its loudest to frighten the thief and to rouse the keepers, so the man went off with the jewels. But the faithful dog did not mean to lose sight of the rascal, and all through the night he followed him. By daybreak the poor animal had become very weary, but still he kept the robber in sight. The latter tried to feed him, but the dog refused all food from him, and, as he made friends with passersby, he took it from them instead. Whenever the thief stopped to rest the dog remained near him, and soon a report went through the country of the animal's strange behavior. The keepers of the temple, hearing the story, went in search of the dog, and they found him still at the heels of the thief at a town called Cronyon. The robber was arrested, taken back to Athens and there punished. The judges were so well pleased with the dog's sagacity and faithfulness that they ordered him to be fed every day for the rest of his life at public expense.

Why Exercise Heats the Body.

A thinking boy asked the editor one day why running or any other violent exercise makes one hotter. Perhaps all the boys and girls would like to have the question answered for them. The reason is that it quickens the circulation of the blood, makes one breathe faster and thus brings more air (and oxygen) into the lungs. Animal heat is produced by slow combustion, and combustion is nothing more than a union of the oxygen of the air with the combustible body or with some of its elements. When we take air into the lungs by breathing, the oxygen of the air penetrates the delicate vessels and enters the blood, which carries it to the heart and thence to the different organs. Here it makes a chemical union with particles of carbon from the tissues, and that union makes heat. The faster you breathe, therefore, the more oxygen you take in and the more heat is generated.—Chicago News.

Jones' Hat or Jones's Hat.

It is not strange that boys and girls are sometimes bothered over the right way to use the sign of the possessive after a noun ending in s. Good usage is about equally divided in the matter so that either Jones' hat or Jones's hat may be considered correct. Literally speaking, however, Jones's hat is to be preferred, for the possessive form is nothing but a contraction of "his," the original form having been "Jones his hat," and most grammarians say that we should give recognition in the sound to the contracted pronoun. Goold Brown's grammar says, "To avoid a concurrence of hissing sounds the s is sometimes omitted, and the apostrophe alone retained to mark the possessive singular, as 'Moses' minister,' but the elision should be sparingly indulged. It is in general less agreeable than the regular form," and it illustrates the point by quoting "Hicks's" as preferable to "Hicks'."—Exchange.

A Kitchen Precaution.

A tea strainer formed the foundation for it—just one of the plain, ordinary ones of finely wove wires, but polished and shining as though made of some much finer metal. It was lined with the softest of silk and stuffed with a tiny bag of bran, which, in its turn, was neatly tucked away under a coverlet of silk. A bit of ribbon made a small bow on the handle, and at the same time furnished a loop to hang it up by. Then the wire part was thickly seeded with pins and the novel cushion put in place.

A WRONG START.

The Kind of Talk That Makes a Wife Grow Dissatisfied.

Many a girl is taught dissatisfaction from the moment she marries—not an ennobling spirit, but the contrary. She starts life from a false point of view. Marriage and the "happy ever after" give way to prospective pity. She is pitied for everything; pitied because "a woman has so much to go through;" pitied for having a baby to come and one to take care of afterward; pitied for having a house to look after when she has a baby, too, and for having the sewing on her hands and for being "tied down;" pitied because "her husband doesn't realize all she goes through"— though, goodness knows, it isn't because she doesn't tell him, and it's her right to tell him if she wants to. She is pitied because she can't go to parties and make calls and pitied for every ache and pain and limitation, as if that ache or pain or limitation were in itself an end of life, not something that in its very nature is fleeting and changeable—as if each cause for pity had not its root in some joy or some gain or some privilege. Sympathy helps, but the thing that makes this mistaken pity blight instead of restore is the fact that it accentuates unduly where it cannot alleviate. In spite of the pity of her world, the married girl has to keep up with the work and the responsibility and the pains and aches just the same; they are hers; no one can take them from her. —Mary Stewart Cutting in Harper's Bazar.

THE REFRIGERATOR.

Prevent Bad Odors, Do Not Have to Remove Them.

Occasionally I read the advice to put a bit of charcoal in the refrigerator or icebox to remove bad odors. This is a reprint of an old remedy for bad conditions which housekeepers ought to know better now than to heed.

With present knowledge of sanitation, we understand that it is far better to remove the cause than to conceal the effects and that absolute cleanliness is the only perfect condition for household utensils or storage places. Nothing is better than boiling hot water with some washing soda dissolved in it.

Once a week the refrigerator must have its interior washed in the solution, and the removable shelves taken out, washed and scalded; otherwise cleanly appearing refrigerators often have the waste pipe coated with slime and the underside of the shelf for the ice in a similar condition.

The weekly cleansing does not make it allowable for a drop of anything to be left when spilled on the shelves. A few drops of sour cream or meat juices will make the whole unpleasant and even dangerous.

BRAISING.

A Method of Cooking That Makes Tough Meat Tender.

Braising is a method of cooking which is something like both boiling and baking, but differs from either. It is a favorite French way of cooking and is regarded as both economical and good, for it converts inferior pieces of meat into tender, tasty dishes.

First of all, a pan having a tightly fitting cover is essential. In France a special cover is made in such shape that live coals can be spread over the top. This is necessary, because much of their cooking is done with charcoal. With our stoves we can use either metal or earthenware. The latter is preferable, because the heat is kept more uniform, but any kind of deep covered pan or kettle will do the work.

The meat which is to be cooked is arranged in the pan or kettle with or without eatables, according to the flavor desired; water, sauce stock or a savory sauce added. The dish is then tightly covered and placed in a slow oven to cook. From half an hour to one hour is allowed for each pound of meat, according to its toughness. The meat will brown some even while a part of the liquid is evaporating. When it is desired well browned the cover is removed half an hour before dishing.

OUR REMEDY

To dispose of the S. J. Sheridan stock, the National Salvage Company, of Toronto, wishes to save the trouble of packing the stock, hauling and railroad transportation and our remedy is to make a great sacrifice on the Sheridan stock of Clothing on profits direct to the public, and we are making it real and strong. Listen! Our prices are talking to you. They are telling you a straightforward story, of economy and actual saving on clothing, that has never been told, heretofore in Peterborough. We say again we don't wish to move any of the stock, as every article has been invoiced, and the entire stock marked in plain figures, cut down to the lowest limit. You will do yourself an injustice, unless you take advantage of this great sacrifice of the S. J. Sheridan stock before it is too late. This is our last notification to the public, as the sale will only last three more days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Store will remain open Saturday night until eleven o'clock to accommodate the public.

BECOMING HAIR.

Don't part the hair in the middle if you are round faced and chubby. This only emphasizes the disk-like appearance.

Don't wear flowers of any and every color. If the hair is like the raven's wing, wear soft, pink flowers, roses or geraniums.

Don't wear pink if the hair is burnished gold, sheeny yellow or Titian brown. Wear white roses, bride roses or some "moonlight flower."

Don't follow fashion blindly in regard to coiffure if you would have artistic proportions and bring out the best expressions of the face.

Don't hesitate to shape an ugly forehead to beauty with a fluff of soft waves or curls, crowned by a half wreath for dress up occasions.

Don't wear your hair always in the same style; a change of method is beneficial to the hair, and to let it fall loosely about the shoulders is an excellent plan at times.

Headache and Collars.

That high collars tend to produce nervous headaches among both men and women is the most recent discovery of a well known Vienna physician. Quite accidentally the doctor's attention was directed to the very high and very tight style of collar worn by a patient who was always complaining of headaches and giddiness. The collar was laid aside, thus removing the compression of the neck, and the patient's headache and giddiness disappeared. Struck by this result, the doctor paid particular attention to the kind of collars worn by his "headache patients," and in very many instances the change to lower and easier fitting collars brought immediate relief. In the case of a woman wearing high stiff neckbands it was found that doing away with these had a similarly beneficial result. The doctor declares that nobody with any tendency to headache should wear high collars.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Tight Corsets.

The great naturalist, Cuvier, was walking one day with a young woman, who was a victim of tight lacing, in a public garden in Paris. A lovely blossom upon an elegant plant drew from her an expression of admiration. Looking at her pale, thin face, Cuvier said: "You were like this flower once. Tomorrow it will be as you are now." The next day he led her to the same spot, and the beautiful flower was dying. She asked the cause. "This plant," replied Cuvier, "is the image of yourself. I will show you what is the matter with it." He pointed to a cord bound tightly around the stem and said, "You are fading away in exactly the same manner under the compression of your corset, and you are losing by degrees all of your youthful charms just because you have not the courage to resist this dangerous fashion."

To Brighten Up a Carpet.

A carpet looks much cleaner and brighter if just before sweeping some salt is thrown upon it, or if, after it has been swept, it is wiped over with a cloth or sponge wrung out of clean salt water. This quite removes the dusty look which so soon gathers upon carpets and will brighten the colors. A cupful of coarse salt to a basin of water is the right proportion.

The Use of Rouge.

If a suggestion of rouge makes you look younger and brighter there's no particular law against your using it. The only trouble with things of this sort is that after a time a woman becomes careless and uses her makeup too freely, after which she may expect all sorts of unkind criticisms from all beholders.—Exchange.

MANAGING THE BOY.

Give Him a Fair Chance to Develop His Personality.

A boy early develops a personality of his own, which, if properly encouraged and trained, proves of inestimable value to him throughout life. If that is crushed by harsh treatment and overbearing discipline the boy's spirit is broken so that he usually proves a failure. If improperly developed it gives to the boy an overbearing, pompous spirit, which makes him disliked by all.

The successful development of the boy's personality depends largely upon the home treatment he receives. It is something that must be cultivated and encouraged, and yet, paradoxical as it may seem, it must be constantly checked and curbed, or, rather, it must be directed.

A mother, as the most important home factor in the situation, must recognize the boy's rights as well as her own. The two should never conflict and overlap. A boy soon grows conscious of his natural inheritance of certain rights which other boys possess, and if these are constantly curtailed and disregarded he is apt to grow stubborn, deceitful and secretive. Toward mother in particular he shows this disposition. He may not break out in open rebellion toward her because of certain chivalrous tendencies, but he will secretly decide that he knows best.—Mother's Magazine.

Children's Clothes.

In making the sleeves in children's dresses make them quite full and long enough to turn a hem and gather at the wrist. Then when the sleeves are too short rip out the hem and gather into a cuff. Have a few tucks in the bottom of dresses. They improve the looks of a garment, and when it needs lengthening it is easier to rip out a tuck or two than let down a hem. When the children's stockings become thin on the knee run a patch of old stocking tops on the thin part, then cut the stocking off at the ankle, turn the patch to the back of the stocking and sew the top on the foot in a flat seam. They will wear as long as new ones.—Pittsburg Press.

Vegetable Soups.

Put one ounce of shredded suet into a frying pan. Cut into it one small onion, one carrot, a potato and a turnip. Stir until all the vegetables are slightly browned, then turn them into a soup kettle. Add two tablespoonfuls of rice, some celery seed and two quarts of cold water. Simmer gently one hour, then press the whole through a very fine sieve. Return to the soup kettle, add two level tablespoonfuls of corn flour moistened in a little cold water, stir continually until it boils, add a palatable seasoning of salt and pepper and serve. This soup should be about the consistency of cream. If too thick add a little hot water.

For the Mattress.

The daily turning over is not the only necessary attention for the proper treatment of a mattress. This operation itself is liable to strain the ticking and pull the stuffing out of shape in course of time. To avoid this handles may be sewn to the sides, so that the yielding surface of the mattress itself need not be grasped. These can be made from webbing or a crosspiece of ticking and sewn as firmly as possible to the sides.

Royalty Made No Difference.

King Haakon when he first joined the Danish navy was treated exactly like any other boy. The chief purser issued his mess gear, consisting of an iron knife and fork, a tin spoon, two tin plates and a zinc mug. On his way back to quarters the lad stumbled while going up a ladder, and all these things went flying over the deck, waking the chief gunner from a nap and bringing down on himself a volley of abuse. He then acted as mess boy for the other apprentices and had to fetch their soup, wash the plates and clean up generally.—Philadelphia Record.

Look Out For 1907.

A lama living at Lassa has issued a series of predictions for 1907. "The king of the year," he says, "is Saturn, under whose malign influence meritorious people will suffer and thieves will prosper. Great disorder will prevail. The rich will satisfy their hunger at the expense of the poor, and the earth will quake thrice."

WASHINGTON'S DEATH.

There Was Not Very Much of a "Mystery" About It.

Clement K. Shorter, an English writer of more or less distinction, surprised everybody recently by printing in a London newspaper an article in which he asserted there was a mystery surrounding the death of General George Washington about which Americans hesitated to talk. If there be a mystery we should like to know what it is.

George Washington caught cold when riding over his plantation at Mount Vernon on the afternoon of Dec. 12, 1799. Forty-eight hours later he died.

He was attended by three of the best physicians of that part of the country. He was bled no less than three times to relieve a sore throat, and he was dosed with calomel enough to deprive a healthy man of his life. But what is the mystery?

Enlightened physicians frequently assert that General Washington was killed—that he was bled to death and poisoned with calomel. Tobias Lear, his secretary, says that after the doctor had bled him to the extent of half a pint Washington interrupted with the remark: "The gash is not big enough. Make it wider." And the highly trained professional idiot proceeded to do so. "Does your throat feel any better?" asked the learned leech. "It's very sore," murmured Washington. When the second physician arrived Mrs. Washington tried to stay his murderous hand by protesting that "the general was too old a man to stand much bleeding." "Yes, yes," said the mighty doctor No. 2. "I'll be cautious in blood letting."

And then he proceeded straight to rob his country's father of a full pint of life's most precious fluid. When the third physician had come he rolled his eyes solemnly and said, "I will bleed him." "We both tried that," said the other doctors. "Yes, I know," announced the consulting sage, "but if blood letting does not relieve him I must increase the dose of calomel." After the third bleeding—in which we are not surprised to learn that Washington's arm yielded its life fluid more slowly than it had before—the sore throat continued in spite of the last consulting doctor, and when his wearied body failed to respond to a heroic overdose of calomel the two consulting physicians retired and left Washington to die. Is there any mystery in his death?—Utica Observer.

One Kitchen to a Block.

A co-operative kitchen in the middle of every block to serve all the residents of that block is the latest solution offered for the eternal problem that faces every housekeeper. The plan seems feasible in view of the fact that the new Art club studios have a kitchen in common for the use of a small army of students who occupy bachelor apartments. It has been suggested by economists that a large kitchen be established in every block and that the place be under the direction of a chef, with several assistants. The housewife could take her food there to be cooked, thus saving the price of fuel and keeping the house free from the odor of cookery and besides in many cases dispensing with the cost of dyspepsia tablets and pepsin.—New York Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

SKIN DISEASES

Salt Rheum, Pimples, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Shingles, Scald Head, Itching Sores.

All diseases of the skin are more or less directly caused by a bad state of the blood, which produces acrid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a clear, bright skin when the blood is in a disordered condition, and the stomach, liver and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

All the above skin diseases, in fact, any disease arising from a bad condition of the blood, are curable by through its wonderful cleansing, purifying powers on the blood, and its renovating action on the system.

Mr A. Squire, Dominion, N.S., tells how he was cured of Salt Rheum. He writes: "For years I suffered with Salt Rheum, and was unable to find a curable remedy out of all the medicines I took, and Physicians consulted. Finally I was urged by a friend to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after a very short space of time I was completely cured. I shall always recommend B.B.B. for such cases, as I consider it an indispensable remedy."

The Gentle Kidney Cure.

Don't think that Bu-Ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." The man, who talks most, does least. Kidney remedies that purge—and over-stimulate the kidneys—upset the stomach—are going to do you mighty little good.

Bu-Ju

goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine—except that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urination—and enables the diseased portions of the kidneys to heal and strengthen.

When the Liver is out of Order calomel, cascara, salts, strong liver pills and purging mineral waters won't do any permanent good.

When a person is bilious, the liver is not giving up enough bile to move the bowels regularly—and some of the bile is being absorbed by the blood. In other words, the liver is in a weakened, unhealthy condition.

Now, purgatives don't act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels, and afford only temporary relief. But FRUIT-A-TIVES are the one true LIVER TONIC. They act directly on the liver—strengthen and invigorate this vital organ—and put it in a normal, healthy condition.

FRUIT-A-TIVES also stimulate the glands of the skin—and regulate the kidneys and sweeten the stomach. When skin, liver and kidneys are normally healthy, there can be no biliousness, no constipation, no kidney trouble, no impure blood, no headaches.

No other medicine known to science is so reliable and so effective in curing Biliousness as these fruit liver tablets.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices with tonics added—and are free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. 50c. a box or 6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price, if your druggist does not handle them.

SELECTIONS

BOILING WATER.

The Process Said to Kill All Its Life Giving Qualities.

Charles H. Mason of Saratoga, discussing the typhoid fever situation, opposed the boiling of Potomac water as a preventive of the spread of this disease. To boil the water, he contends, is to take from it all its life giving qualities. "It appears that prior to the installation of your filtration plant," said Mr. Mason, "it was claimed by the authorities that filtration would reduce the danger of the fever to a minimum and guarantee to the people of Washington a clear and wholesome water at all times. The question of pure water and how to maintain it is a serious one for any city, and it probably is natural for the authorities to assert the belief that infection comes from some source other than the water now provided. Whatever may be the cause, it is a well known fact that all water loses two-thirds or more of its life giving properties when it is boiled. Still the authorities here are advocating the boiling of the water. Those who urge this remedy lose sight of the fact that water has life giving as well as life destroying germs. When you boil it you kill both germs and have a dead water. This applies to all bottled waters, mineral or otherwise, as every chemist knows the minute water is separated from earth it becomes stale. We drink water in bottles that has been corked up months at a time, and those who buy and use it think they are bettering themselves, but not one of them would think of drinking a glass of Potomac water that had stood over night. Yet the one is as good as the other so far as any life giving property is concerned. These bottled waters are charged with gas to make them sparkle, but nothing that can be done to them can keep them 'alive.' The typhoid fever germ may be in the Potomac water, and if it is boiled the germ probably will be killed, but drinking boiled water does the system absolutely no good, and what the system wants and craves is water that refreshes and revives."—Washington Post.

Quail Getting Scarce.

Quail starved to death by thousands in the winter of 1904-05, but last winter they had an easy time except in February and March. From Massachusetts to Indiana the quail are so scarce that restocking has become necessary. The birds for this purpose are hard to find. More than 100,000 have been captured in Alabama and the southwest, where they still occur in abundance, and have been shipped north for breeding. The quail is perhaps our most popular game bird, and a market will be found for all that can be produced. Complete success has been had in raising them on a small scale. Why should not some one go into the business on such a scale that he could turn out 100,000 quail per year?—Country Life In America.

The Pigtail In China.

The Chinese are advancing, but not too fast. The latest native papers from China say that the dowager empress was much enraged at the suggestion of the Duke Tsaitseh that the pigtail should be abolished. "Why should it be?" "Because it is inconvenient for military men." "But there are civilians as well as military, and besides even military men can coil the pigtails on the back of the head when on active service." As the duke persisted in advising the abolition of the pigtail the empress grew very angry, and all the efforts of Prince K'ing were necessary in order to mollify her.

Saving Tamagno's Voice.

Recently Tamagno, the Italian tenor and the greatest singer of the age, desiring to leave for his children some record of his genius, had made upon specially prepared plates for reproduction in the phonograph several records of his songs. Two of these records have been preserved in a museum in Paris. The plates were made with great care and are sealed in metal boxes, containing also chemical compounds for their preservation. The boxes are labeled and dated. One will be opened fifty years from now and the other at the end of a century.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you. Mrs. John Young, Harwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for so time and my back was so lame I could scarcely get around. After using two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I am completly cured. I find there is nothing like them for the cure of all kidney troubles."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Zam-Buk Wins Workers' Praise

Marvellous Cure of Burns.

Zam-Buk has been called "the worker's friend" because it brings such relief and healing to workers who suffer from cuts, burns, bruises or any skin injury or disease. Mr. Alf. J. Clark, of Cavendish street, London, Ont., tells how Zam-Buk cured him of severe burns. He says:—"I got my hands very severely burned with lime. The burns were so deep that as I plied my shovel the blood actually ran down the handle. The agony I suffered you may well imagine. I tried several different kinds of salves but the burns were too severe for these preparations to heal.

"I obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and the very first application gave me ease. This pleased me, you may guess, but as I applied the balm each day I was more and more pleased with the effect. The pain was relieved completely.

"I had often heard of Zam-Buk, but thought before I tried it that it was similar to the ordinary salves you see advertised. In a very short time Zam-Buk healed my burns completely, and my hands actually felt better—the muscles more firm and the skin in better condition than before I was burned."

Not only for burns, but for cuts, bruises, sprains, etc., Zam-Buk is the best and surest cure. It also cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, boils, eruptions, poisoned wounds, chapped or cracked hands, cold sores, chilblains, bad leg, piles, etc. All druggists sell at 50c. a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price; 6 boxes for $2.50.

WEALTH IN BRITAIN

GREAT IN AGGREGATE, BUT INDIVIDUAL ESTATES SMALL.

Some Modest Fortunes Owned by British—Receipts of Death Duties—During 1902 Reports Were Published of Estates Which Aggregated £58,045,142—Over One-Fourth of the Deceased Had Lived Over 80 Years.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer in his budget speech estimated the yield of the death duties for the financial year ending March 31, 1903, at a million less than in the year ended March 31, 1902, when the revenue from this source—the largest ever obtained—was £18,513,714. The amount received in the financial year 1900-1901 was £17,033,512, and to the extent of about £1,200,000 the excess in the following year was due to the payment of duty on Baron de Hirsch's shares in the Jewish Colonization Society—in respect of which there had been prolonged litigation—and to the arrangement which the Chancellor of the Exchequer explained that he had made "to clear up a good many outstanding arrears for the benefit not only of the Exchequer, but also of the parties concerned." This arrangement appears to be still in force. The receipts from the death duties up to the present time are nearly as much as in the corresponding period of last year; and it seems probable that instead of a decrease of a million, which the late Chancellor of the Exchequer estimated, his successor will have to report a gain on the estimate of three-quarters of a million, or perhaps even a million.

During that year reports have been published of estates over £100,000 each, with an aggregate gross value of £58,045,148, upon which death duties have been levied, including:

	No. of Estates.	Gross Value.
Over £1,000,000 each	5	£10,073,278
From £500,000 to £1,000,000 each	17	11,673,585
From £300,000 to £500,000 each	24	9,473,596
From £200,000 to £300,000 each	30	9,400,790
From £150,000 to £200,000 each	41	6,919,532
From £100,000 to £150,000 each	89	10,504,361
Total	206	£58,045,142

Wealth Slowly Gained.

For the most part this wealth has been slowly gained by people who were careful in their investments and lived long. Of fortunes quickly acquired by speculation little trace is to be found in the calendars of the probate registries. The average of the age at death of the persons who had at their disposition these fifty-eight millions is nearly seventy-three years. One-fourth of them had lived for eighty years and upward, and of these six had passed their ninetieth year.

Mr. Benjamin Buck Greene, a director of the Bank of England, was ninety-three; Mr. Benjamin Weir, formerly chairman of the Metropolitan Board of Works, who left the greater part of his wealth to found a hospital, was ninety-four; Mr. Thomas Kingston of Cambridge, ninety-six, and the Rev. Samuel Hopper Powell, of Sharon Lodge, Ripon, had lived for ninety-seven years; but no centenarian has been noted among the persons whose estates have been charged with duty on more than £100,000 each. The real age of such people is usually known.

Among the estates reported during the year 1902 have been those of:

Earl Fitz William, K. C., aged 77	£2,949,830
Panaghi Athanasius Vagliano, 87, Greek merchant	2,888,095
William Richard Sutton of Golden Lane, carrier	2,089,795
James Dick, 70, of Glasgow, rubber merchant	1,077,034
Stephen Augustus Ralli, 73, Greek merchant	1,068,524
Robert Arthington, 77, the Leeds recluse	993,565
Charles Gassiot, 76, of London and Oporto, wine shipper	813,210
Mrs. Emma Montefiore, 82, daughter of Sir Isaac Lyon Goldsmid, ex-M.P.,	813,258
John Corbett, 84, of Droitwich, sale merchant	768,833
Mrs. Anne Palmer, 82, of Liverpool, widow of Mr. Charles Turner, M. P.	633,305

The estate of Mr. J. W. Mackay, of the Commercial Cable Co., which was expected to be at least £2,500,000, was sworn for probate at £1,537 gross in the United Kingdom and £70, real and personal in the United States. The remainder of his estate was stated in his will to be the community property of Mrs. Mackay and himself. Mr. W. R. Sutton died in 1906, but his estate, then sworn at £8,675, was resworn in July last (and thus yields duty to the current financial year on more than £2,000,000). Additional duty has also been received during the year on the estates, which have been the subject of litigation, of Mr. Arthington, provisionally sworn at £430,358, and Mr. Corbett, sworn, under administration pendente lite, at £412,972.

Large Estates—1897-1901.

The estates of nearly or more than £2,000,000 each upon which the death duties have been levied in this country during the past fifteen years have been few in number, as will be seen by the following list of those who have been reported:

1887—Baron Hermann de Stern	3,544,978
1887—Hugh McCalmont, aged 76	3,121,951
1887—George Grenfell, second Baron Wolverton, 63	1,824,338
1889—John Rylands, 87, of Manchester	2,574,922
1890—Junius Spencer Morgan, 76,	2,022,054
1892—F. Clarke Hills, 85, of Deptford, chemist	1,941,715
1892—Right Hon. W. H. Smith, M. P., 66, newsvendor	1,764,460
1893—Sir Andrew Barclay Walker, Bart., 69, brewer	2,874,130
1893—Edward, Hy., 15th Earl of Derby, 67	1,802,204
1895—Andrew Montagu, 80, of Ingmanthorpe, Yorks	1,992,656
1896—Sir Charles Booth, 84, distiller	1,927,107
1897—William Louis Winans, 75,	2,403,587
1897—James Bibby, 83, of Liverpool, shipowner	1,776,432
1899—John Gretton, 66, of Bass & Co., brewers	2,714,042
1900—George Smith, 91, of Elgin and Chicago	5,000,000
1900—W. O. Foster, 85, ironmaster	2,587,831
1900—Baron A. C. de Rothschild, 77, Paris	2,257,979
1901—Marquis of Bute, K. T., 53,	1,864,310
	£43,994,477

The average is under two and a half millions each; it is to be borne in mind, however, that these are sworn valuations upon which duty has been levied and paid, and that the valuations do not usually include settled estates in which the deceased had only a life interest. Thus Sir Robert Loder, whose own estate was under £20,000, had power of appointment of £1,500,000, and the late Duke of Westminster's own estate was under a million, although the settled estate which passed on his death was probably worth ten or twelve times as much. We hear from time to time from the United States of persons whose wealth is "estimated" to be ten twenty, or fifty millions each. It is probable that there may be two or three very rich men in the United States who have the disposal of greater fortunes than any individual in this country has at his own absolute disposition. Trustworthy statistics of private wealth in America are not, however, easily accessible. Common report about other people's money is curiously untrustworthy. The credulity of people generally about stories of wealth is unbounded. So far as a careful student of wealth statistics can form an opinion, the number of people in the United States worth $500,000 each is not likely to be greater than the number of those in the United Kingdom worth £100,000 each. But an "estimate" of $500,000 on the other side often gets changed in £500,000 in the course of transmission to this country.—London Telegraph.

DRESSING FOR DINNER.

Change of Clothes Almost as Bracing as a Bath, Says Lancet.

The London Lancet advocates the custom of dressing for dinner, and, going even further, declares that every worker should change his clothes before the evening meal, even if he does not possess evening clothes.

"The bracing effect of a change of clothes is well known," says the Lancet. "Many a man feeling almost too fatigued after an arduous day's work to change his clothes finds himself considerably refreshed when the change is accomplished, and at the same time he experiences a feeling of cleanliness and preparedness for his dinner, and good digestion invariably waits on healthy appetite. The changing of clothes may even thus favorably affect nutrition.

"Nor need the changing of clothes be the exclusive luxury of the persons who dress for dinner. The hard-worked clerk, the shopkeeper, and the working man would all be better if they would cast off their work-a-day clothes and put on clean clothes for the evening meal after the day of toil is over.

"The effect of a change of clothes after a day's toil is in some respects similar to that of a bath, mildly stimulating, bracing, dispelling the feeling of tiredness and fatigue so commonly experienced.

"The explanation most likely is that the clothes after they have been worn all day get more or less clogged and lose temporarily their ventilating properties, so that the emanations of the body do not escape freely."

Imp.

Imp once meant a child. Shakespeare, speaking of the children in the Tower, calls them imps. Jeremy Taylor in one of his sermons speaks of "the beautiful imps that sang hosannas to the Saviour of the temple."

Pearl Fishing.

The Ceylon pearl fishing season lasts three to four weeks, but 22,000,000 oysters are brought to the surface in that time.

Drooping—Tired—Weary

You Feel Depressed, Dragged Out, and Sort of "All Gone"—Shake Off That Tired Feeling, Get Well and Strong, Fortify Your Nerves, Nourish Your Blood.

FERROZONE

You are getting pale and thin. You're dragged down with a "don't care" feeling that makes life most unhappy. Your strength is fleeting away, and weakness is creeping in. Every day your chances for cure becomes smaller.

Trouble is you don't assimilate your food, consequently the body is poorly nourished. The blood is thin, lacks those red corpuscles that denote health.

You can only prevent a total collapse by building up all the powers of the body with Ferrozone, which will surely make you well. Ferrozone creates tremendous appetite, increases the power of digestion, and insures perfect assimilation. Everything you eat is at once converted into nourishment.

FERROZONE makes rich, pure blood, a surplus of energy, new life for the nerves and all over-strained organs. Robust health will glow on the cheeks, jovial spirits, increased weight, and a clear, active brain will evidence a few of the benefits that follow Ferrozone.

GAINED 15 POUNDS.

Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 228 Vermont St. E., Indianapolis, Restored by Ferrozone.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.

(Signed) "H. A. THURSTON."

The effect of Ferrozone is instant, yet permanent. For upbuilding and invigorating the listless and depressed it has no equal. It's the concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone that makes it so beneficial. We guarantee it contains no opiates, no alcohol, nothing but the most strengthening qualities known in medicine. Won't you use Ferrozone; it will surely make you well.

BUILD UP WITH FERROZONE!

Ferrozone Makes the Weak Strong—the Sick Well.

CAUTION! Be on your guard against the substitutor who urges something "just as good." Get FERROZONE when you ask for it. Other tonics are not so good as FERROZONE, which is guaranteed to cure. Mr. David Eson spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. William Campbell, Jr., who has been ill with typhoid in Toronto, is, we are pleased to state, rapidly recovering and expects soon to be sufficiently convalescent to return home.

Rev. Mr. Macfarlane, of Warkworth exchanged pulpits with Rev. D. D. McDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Sunday.

Miss Lillian Campbell returned home from a visit to Toronto, Saturday.

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

A Clinical Preparation That Positively Kills the Dandruff Germ.

A most important discovery has been made after a year's patient laboratory work aimed in a certain direction—it is Newbro's Herpicide, a preparation that prevents falling hair, and speedily and permanently eradicates dandruff. These evils are caused by a germ or parasite that burrows into the scalp, throwing up dandruff, as it seeks to sap the life of the hair at the root. There's no baldness without falling or thin hair, no thin hair without dandruff, and no dandruff if the germ is destroyed. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that will do the work. "Destroy the cause, you will remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

FIRST NIGHT ON ROLLERS

Frequenters of the roller rink will be able to appreciate the humour in the situation as described in the Toronto Star, of two "first-nighters" at one of the Toronto rinks.

Of course, those who have attended the rink here have succeeded much better than the couple whose experiences are told in the narrative, which follows:—

Everybody said they were sure I should learn in a couple of rounds, and so flattered was I that when Mr. Flatt volunteered to teach me I thanked him very kindly, and we arranged to go next evening to the rink.

We arrived about 8.30, and Mr. Flatt secured two skate checks, and we both had skates strapped on, but, being a bit nervous, I asked Mr. Flatt to spin around once or twice until I saw how he went. He was agreeable to this, and I had the most pleasant face on imaginable for about five minutes after his departure, anticipating what an enjoyable evening we were going to spend—but—who is this whirlwind skater coming with coat-tails flying and hair dishevelled? Mercy me, it is Mr. Flatt! I had no idea he could go so fast. "He is down!" some one yelled, and behold—he had smashed into the railing. (He afterwards informed me that someone started him with a good shove, and mentioned something about shoving in some person's face.) Getting up was harder than getting down, and poor Mr. Flatt tried until the beads of perspiration came out on his forehead; it seemed the more effort he would make to arise the more the wheels would slip, slip, slip. Such a figure as he presented, manoeuvering around with filthy hands on all fours! However, he managed at last to pull himself up by the aid of a near-by post, and I did not set eyes on him for fully half an hour afterwards.

There were two girls sitting beside me, with whom I got into conversation and they pointed out the "instructor" to me, and as I knew I would be in danger if I ventured out with Mr. Flatt, I hailed the so-called "instructor", who came up with a broad grin.

"Are you the instructor?" I timidly asked.

"No, Miss I am not," he replied, "but if I can assist you I shall be only too happy to do so."

Thank you, you are very kind," I said, and stepped gingerly down off the platform.

I did better than I thought I would the only drawback being that my feet had a tendency to turn in. We had made our way around a few times when I noticed my "instructor" puffing.

"Am I heavy?" I asked.

A weak voice beside me murmured, "How much do you weigh?"

"155."

Mr. Instructor then asked me to excuse him, and escorted me to a seat.

During the course of the evening I saw Mr. Flatt being safely piloted around between two of the "fellows", and he seemed to be skating very nicely.

The last band came, and with it my original escort, and as we both went fairly well for beginners, we thought we would strike out together—but my! what a finish! First of all one of my skates flew off and I fell, dragging Mr. Flatt down with me, but crawled up by my foot minus the skate, and then assisted my partner to arise. On brushing the dust off my dress I discovered I now wore divided skirts, for in falling my skate had caught in my dress and had torn it about two feet straight up the back. I produced pins to remedy this, and we hurried to a bench to yank our skates off.

Neither of us spoke very much going home, as we were both sore in more senses than one, and I have no seen Mr. Flatt since. Myrth.

WOLVES WILL CHASE ONE DEER TO THE FINISH

Earnest Thompson Seaton Gives an Account of an Instance of the Kind.

When desperately hungry in regions where deer are not so plentiful, the wolves will stick to the one they start and follow to a finish. I have heard the accounts of many old Ontario hunters that entirely support this belief.

In my own journal I find an instance in point, related to me by Gordon Wright, of Carberry, Man. During the winter of 1865 he was shantying at Stungeon Lake, Ontario. One Sunday he and some companions strolled out on the ice of the lake to look at the logs there. They heard the hunting cry of wolves, then a deer darted from the woods to the open ice. Her sides were heaving, her tongue out and her legs cut with the slight crust on the snow. Evidently she was hard pressed and had run for some time. She was coming toward them, but one of the men gave a shout which caused her to sheer off. A minute later six timber wolves appeared, galloping on her trail, heads low, tails horizontal, and howling continuously. They were uttering their hunting cry, but as soon as they saw her they broke into a louder, different note, left the trail and made straight for their prey. Five of the wolves were abreast, and one that seemed much darker was behind. Within half a mile they overtook the deer and pulled her down; all seemed to seize her at once. For a few moments she bleated like a sheep in distress; after that the only sound was the snarling and crunching of the wolves as they feasted. Within 15 minutes nothing was left of the victim but hair and some of the larger bones, the wolves fighting among themselves for even these. Then they scattered, each going a mile or so, no two in the same direction, and those that remained in sight curled up, there on the open lake to sleep. This happened about 10 in the morning within 300 yards of several witnesses.—Ernest Thompson Seton, in Scribner's Magazine.

THE NEW KEENE BRIDGE ALMOST READY

Expectation That it Will be Ready for Traffic Next Week—Other Live Keene News.

(Examiner Special.)

Keene, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Fred English, Ottawa, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. Drummond.

Mr. W. Northway, Toronto, spent Sunday in Keene.

Mr. David Wallace arrived home Saturday after a week's deer hunting near Buckhorn.

The annual Bachelors' Ball was held in the town hall Friday evening, November 9. In spite of the bad weather there was a good attendance, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Messrs. Brown and Lees, County School Inspectors, and Mr. Cowan, Provincial Continuation Class Inspector, inspected Keene school on Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Cameron, Toronto, entertainer, has been engaged by the Village Improvement Society for a concert, to be held in the town hall Monday evening, November 26.

Mr. Patrick Doris visited friends in Keene Saturday.

The new bridge over the Indian River is nearing completion, and it is expected that it will be fit for traffic by the beginning of next week.

IMPORTANT MATTERS ARE TO BE CONSIDERED

Location of Fire Alarm, the Ambulance Contract, Treasurer's Resignation on the Bill.

A meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council will be held tomorrow night, when a number of important matters will be taken up. The Manufacturers' Association will confer with the Council in reference to the location of the new fire alarm boxes, in which, of course, the manufacturers are vitally interested. It is probable that the ambulance question may be re-opened, and if it is an interesting session may be looked for. The resignation of the City Treasurer, Mr. Felix Brownscombe, will also have to be considered, and it is likely that the Council will call for applications for the position.

NOTICE

All Parties having accounts are requested to call and settle same immediately.

A LECTURER FROM THE UNITED STATES

Rev. Dr. Mote, of Minneapolis, is Pleased with Peterborough—Will Lecture Here

Rev. Henry Mote, D. D., of Minneapolis, Minn., is in the city, on a visit with his brother-in-law, Dr. Marshall, and during his stay here, the length of which will be governed largely by circumstances, Dr. Mote will be open for engagements for lecturing and preaching. He has a number of lectures, chiefly upon humorous and popular subjects, which he has delivered with much acceptance, in the United States, and no doubt he will be asked to give some of them before he leaves Peterborough.

Among the subjects of his lectures are the following, "Queer Parsons," "Three Circuit Riders," "Dawn of Day," "Pygmalion," and others.

Dr. Mote is a member of the Congregational church in the United States. He is greatly pleased with Peterborough, which he saw for the first time to-day. It compares very favourably, he says, with cities of a much larger size in the United States, and has an air of progress and prosperity which is lacking in many places boasting a population considerably larger than that of this city.

The Municipal Steam Heating Proposal Is An Absurd One

One of the Aldermen Points Out the Difficulties in the Way of its Successful Operation as Municipal Enterprise.

NO COMPARISON WITH WATERWORKS

Proposition Not in the Interests of the Citizens as a Whole—Ratepayers Will Raise an Objection, is His Opinion.

One of the three aldermen, who on Monday night voted against the proposition of the municipal central steam heating enterprise, was interviewed by the Examiner on the question to-day, and gave some further reasons why, in his opinion, the city should not embark on any such a scheme, and conduct it from a municipally-owned standpoint.

Lockport's Experience.

He stated that the more he had thought about the matter since the meeting of Monday night, the more convinced he was that the course he had pursued at that meeting was the only one he could take if he had the best interests of the city at heart. It was stated by the representative of the company at that meeting that after the system had been in operation in Lockport for sixteen years, the number of consumers amounted to eight per cent. of the total number of buildings in the city.

Is it Worth While?

This fact in itself should put a quietus to the scheme as a municipal system. Will the ratepayers as a whole be willing to have the council bond the whole assessable property of the city for the purpose of installing a plant, which, after sixteen years, will be serving only eight per cent. of the citizens? Is it good business to make ninety-two per cent. of the people run the risk of a failure for the purpose of providing cheap heating (admitting that it is cheap) to the other eight per cent.?

Not a Physical Impossibility

As to the physical possibility of the scheme this alderman was inclined to think that it could be worked. There was no doubt that it had much to recommend it. The heat might be more satisfactory than the present systems employed, if undertaken by a private concern.

In spite of this fact, he ventured the assertion that Mr. McKendry would not undertake to form a company to put a plant in Peterborough, and if this were the case, if a man who knew the business better than anyone else in Canada, perhaps, would not be willing to risk his own money, and that of his business associates, in the proposition, he did not consider it wisdom on the part of the city in embarking upon the scheme.

A Comparison.

Advocates of the scheme who had when giving arguments for its adoption as a municipal enterprise, referred to the case of the waterworks, and the success which its municipal operation had met with; but there was no comparison between the two schemes. There were good reasons why, in the interests of the citizens, as a whole, the water works system should be taken over and operated by the city, one of which was the fact that almost every building in the city was being given fire protection by it it, while about sixty per cent. of the buildings were connected with the mains, and were using the service. It is a far cry from sixty per cent. to eight per cent., without consideration of the fact that, from the standpoint of fire protection alone the water works is an essentially public utility. There is practically nothing in common between the two enterprises.

A Few Difficulties.

Then, there are some difficulties in the way of a practical operation of the plant on an economical basis. In the first place, in the cities visited by the deputations fuel is very much cheaper than it is in Peterborough, and in view of this fact it is hardly fair to take the cost of heat, as supplied in these cities, and estimate that it can be supplied in Peterborough at the same price, because it cannot be done. All of the cities visited by the deputations are water ports, and, as a consequence, freight rates on coal are very much lower than they are in Peterborough; in Lockport the difference amounts to one dollar and sixty cents a ton, a difference which will have a material effect on the operation of the plant, whether undertaken by the municipality or by a private company.

Ratepayers Skeptical.

"But," concluded the alderman, "even admitting that it can be operated profitably, of which there is some doubt, there is no valid reason why it should be undertaken by the city, with the ratepayers' money, and the aldermen who are favouring it will find some difficulty in convincing the ratepayers that they are acting in the interests of the citizens as a whole."

WILL QUAKER OATS COM'Y ERECT BUILDINGS?

Presence of Number of Company Officials in the City Gives Rise to this Question—Mr. Stuart Here To-night.

CONSTRUCTION SUPERINTENDENT IN CITY

Belief That There will be Some Interesting Developments in Connection with Company's Operations Here.

The city is being visited to-day by a number of the officials of the Quaker Oats Company, whose presence in Peterborough may have some bearing upon the future policy of the company in respect to its operations in this city.

Its Probable Meaning.

Mr. John Stuart, son of Mr. Robert Stuart, who is the treasurer of the company, and Mr. O. C. Kirn, the chief of construction for the company, are here to-day, and Mr. Robt. Stuart will be here to-night, on his return from his hunting trip with the Ketchecumn Hunt Club. It is probable that other officials will be here to meet those mentioned, and, while nothing official has been given out for publication, it is regarded in some quarters as significant that these gentlemen should meet here at the same time, and it is taken as an indication that their visit may portend some important development in connection with the company's business here.

That it is in connection with an enlargement of the plant is considered probable by reason of the presence of Mr. Kirn, who has charge of that branch.

PETERBOROUGH IS ONTARIO'S BEST CITY AND EXAMINER A PAPER THAT ADVANCES

Peterborough is gaining a reputation in this Province which many older cities might well envy. The Bowmanville Statesman this week has the following kindly reference to Peterborough, its merchants, and—incidentally — The Examiner, which makes pleasant reading for all of us:

No newspaper in the Midland District has made such advances of late years as The Peterborough Examiner. It is certainly a live local newspaper, one that you can spend a whole evening with and be edified, entertained and profited. No event worth publishing seems to escape the eagle eyes of the reporters, and its editorial utterances are fair, frank, and fearless. That it is appreciated by Peterborough's business men there is positive evidence in the large number of well-displayed advertisements. Without exception, Peterborough merchants put out the best quality of advertising we see in any paper outside of Toronto. Peterborough is one of Ontario's baby cities, and its commercial and industrial progress is phenomenal, but it is paralleled by growth and importance of The Examiner.

THE ANGLICAN YOUNG PEOPLE MEET IN GALT

St. John's Association Represented at Gathering Being Held in that Town This Week--Opening Yesterday

OVER 200 DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE

Special to The Examiner

Galt, Nov. 13.—The convention of Anglican Young People's Societies of Ontario will open to-night in Trinity church, and will be continued on Wednesday. Over 200 delegates are expected to be present. They will come from Toronto, Hamilton, London, Peterborough and intermediate points. Most of them will arrive in Galt to-morrow and will be billetted in the homes of the parish.

At the opening session Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Bishop Williams, of London, Archdeacon Sweeney, of Toronto, Canon Brown and Rev. T. G. Wallace will be present. The vested choir will lead the music of this service.

Communion will be held in the church at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the other sessions of the convention will be held in the morning from 10 to 1 o'clock, and in the afternoon from 2.30 to 5.30 o'clock. Papers on practical subjects will be read.

Preparations are being made to provide luncheon and tea for the delegates in the school room.

OBITUARY

CHARLES WILMOT KETCHESON.

The Belleville Intelligencer has the following reference to the death and funeral of Mr. Charles Wilmot Ketcheson, a nephew of Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, of this city, who attended the funeral:—

The remains of Charles Wilmot Ketcheson, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. "Bert" Ketcheson, Henry street, took place yesterday afternoon and many sympathizing relatives and friends were in attendance. Services at the house were conducted by the Rev. R. C. Blagrave, rector of Christ Church. The bearers were Masters Sidney Hinch, Fred Morden, Adolphus Hinch and Raymond Reid. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, the contributors being as follows:—

Gates Ajar—Chas J Symons and Mr. and Mrs. C J Woodley.

Bouquets of chrysanthemums — Sergeants' Mess Fifteenth Regiment, Mr. and Mrs. W A Lane, Mr. and Mrs. A R Symons, Mr. and Mrs. W Harden, Mrs. H Boselly Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Hattie Holling, London; little Dorothy Ford and Mr. Walter Symons.

Bouquets of Roses — Olive and Myrtle Kennedy, Peterborough; Miss Clara Yeomans and Mrs. Irwin.

TREASURERSHIP OF THE CITY; MANY AFTER IT

Some of the Current Gossip in Connection with the Probable Successor to Mr. Felix Brownscombe

ALD. ADAMS OR MR. M.W. MATCHETT?

The question as to who will secure the position of City Treasurer is one which is occupying a prominent place in the minds of a number of persons to-day. It is understood that there are already some applicants for the vacant position, which is by no means an ill-paid one, the total remuneration being $1,600 a year, $850 as City Treasurer and $750 as collector for the Water Commissioners. Out of this, however, the occupant of the position has to pay his own help, two lady clerks being required at the present time to handle the business, in addition to the Treasurer himself. The work is rapidly increasing, and it may not be long before the salary may have to be increased.

Some names are being mentioned in connection with the office, one of them being that of Ald. Adams, and one of his brother legislators stated to The Examiner to-day that he felt certain that if he wished the position the Council would be inclined to give it to him. Mr. M. W. Matchett is also mentioned as an eligible applicant. It looks as if there would be no lack of names for the Council to make a selection from when the time comes to make the appointment.

A DOUBLE MURDER AND SUICIDE IN OWOSSO

Some Sensational Circumstances in Connection With Double Tragedy in Michigan.

Examiner Special.

Owosso, Mich., Nov. 14. — Bert Seely, aged 32, was the man who killed Edwin Edgar, aged 40, shooting him down with a double-barreled shotgun as he wended his way from a neighbour's toward his own home, lantern in hand, early last Wednesday night.

Another horror in New Haven township has rent aside the veil thinly covering the mystery of the murderer's identity. Bert Seely and his wife, who was 30 years of age, were found dead in bed this morning by Bert's brother, "Dewey," and on a table near by stood a glass of poison and two notes.

The coils of circumstantial evidence had been tightening around Bert Seely.

From the moment that the murderer fled back across the fields to his little cottage home, the meshes of his conscience began to tighten at a rate with the chain of circumstantial evidence.

Evidence gathered by Sheriff Jarad Sunday proved a feud had existed between Edwin Edgar and the Seelys for four years or more. Writing from California, where his two brothers live, Edgar told his mother to beware of the Seelys. Armed with this knowledge, the sheriff Sunday afternoon "sweated" Mrs. Bert Seely.

Mrs. Seely at first refused to talk to the sheriff about these matters. Finally she broke down and began to weep. Then she told him that Edgar, a long time ago, made a boastful imputation against her, but that fearing trouble she had never told her husband.

MOTHER SUICIDES ON SON'S WEDDING EVE

Examiner Special

New York, Nov. 13.—Conrad Weiss, who belongs to Fire Engine No. 65, talked long with his mother on Saturday night at their home, No. 230 East One Hundred and Twenty-first street, about his marriage, soon to take place, to Miss Anna Meyer, who lives at No. 301 in the same street. The mother was friendly with the bride-elect, and said she would be happy to see her son married and settled down, but—

Weiss and his fiance had arranged to take a flat at No. 448 East One Hundred and Twentieth street, and they expected Conrad's mother to live with them there.

"I cannot do it," she said to the neighbours. "I have lived here twenty-seven years. Here my husband died; here my son was born; here I want to die."

Her son, who was her only child, and devoted to her, went to his duty without thought that Mrs. Weiss was greatly disturbed by his plan for a home.

When he returned for breakfast yesterday morning Weiss found his mother dead in bed, with three gas jets turned on. She was alone in her flat and the physician called in said she must have prepared for death soon after her son had departed for his engine house. The woman had made careful preparations for death

CRUCIFIXION CASE SHOCKS PITTSBURG

Examiner Special

Pittsburg, Nov. 13th. — Pittsburg stands terrorized and likened to a mining camp or a frontier town.

With three murders, a number of robberies on the highway, accompanied by violence, and at attempt at crucifixion, in 24 hours, added to the large number that have occurred during the past two weeks, there has been a public demand for extra police.

The crucifixion case was brought to light by the screams of a woman in a tenement on Forbes street, near the Jones & Laughlin steel mills. Neighbours rushed in and found Mrs. Jean Mitchell, 19 years old, in the kitchen, huddled in a kneeling position on the floor, with both hands nailed to the draining board of the sink, with the blood running down her arms. Alongside the hand lay a hatchet, the weapon which had driven the two big nails, and which was then used to draw them out.

The woman was unconscious and was taken to the hospital. When she recovered consciousness she merely said that when she entered the flat that morning, something struck her on the back of the head, and she felt herself drawn towards the sink, her hands pressed down against the board and two nails driven in.

Raymond White, of Duquesne, was also found early yesterday badly bruised and with several ribs broken. He, too, had been robbed, but could give no description of his assailants.

PITTSBURG MAN WAS SHOT BY A BURGLAR

Examiner Special.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—Pittsburg, which seems teeming with murderous highwaymen, burglars and thugs of every description, received another blow at daybreak when Henry F. Smith, a prosperous young business man of the fashionable east end district, was shot to death in his own house in a duel to death with a burglar. The murderer and burglar, of course escaped.

Second Murder.

This is the second fearful murder in the fashionable part of Pittsburg within the last ten days. James M. McMillan, Pittsburg representative of a New York house, was held up by highwaymen ten days ago in sight of his own home, his brains battered out, his body being robbed and thrown to one side of the street.

Pittsburg residents are simply paralyzed at the present condition of affairs. The murder of yesterday was particularly atrocious. After a terrible hand-to-hand struggle with the burglar, during which each man emptied his revolver, Mr. Smith was killed in his home at North St. Clair street and Elgin avenue.

The Circumstances.

The killing occurred about 4.10 o'clock, a.m. yesterday. Joseph F. Smith, the young man's father, with whom he lived, and his wife, were awakened by the sounds of the shot and rushed down stairs to find their only son he might be free to devote his attentions to another young lady in Cortland.

MOST SENSATIONAL TRIAL IN NEW YORK

Will be That of Chester Gillete, Charged with Murder of his Sweetheart.

Examiner Special.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 13th. — An adjourned extraordinary term of the Supreme Court, was convened in the courthouse in Herkimer this forenoon for the purpose of trying Chester Gillette, of Cortland, who is charged with the murder of Grace Brown of South Otselic, Chenango county.

Gillette and the girl had been lovers. Both had been employed in the Gillette skirt factory at Cortland, which is conducted by the prisoner's uncle.

Last summer the girl went to her home on her vacation. During her vacation she talked over the telephone from South Otselic, with someone whom she accused of deceiving her. On Monday, July 9th she left home, and her parents supposed she had gone to Cortland to resume work in the factory. The next that was heard of her was when word came of her drowning at Big Moose in the Adirondacks, where she had gone with Gillette.

Her body was found in the lake beside an upturned boat, and two days later her lover was arrested at Inlet.

The body of Grace Brown was taken to a morgue in Frankfort, where an autopsy was performed. It showed among other things that the girl was in a delicate condition, and that her skull had been fractured by a blow, presumably inflicted by a club or other heavy instrument.

It is expected that the theory of the prosecution will be that Gillette murdered Grace Brown for the purpose of getting rid of her, that

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS
Secretary.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way:

She has been feeling "out of sorts"

Mme Josephine Rinville

for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Madame Josephine Rinville, Mastai, Que. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered for four years with female troubles—inflammation of the stomach and fallopian tubes which caused me violent pain and often torture, so much so that I could not walk at times and attend to my daily duties. Life was misery to me. I was so blue and despondent I did not know which way to turn for relief. I had tried the doctors but they did not help me. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I bought a bottle. I am glad that I did so, for I am well and strong to-day and the world looks bright, for I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

THE POSTOFFICE.

In yesterday's issue of The Examiner reference was made to the unsatisfactory delivery service provided by the local postoffice. This is a condition that should not be continued nor tolerated, in the public interest. It was suggested that the cause might be attributed to insufficiency of staff, either in numbers or efficiency. If the staff is incompetent, it should be made efficient. If the staff is too small, it should be enlarged. If the accommodation of the postoffice interior is inadequate, this should be dealt with. Since the postoffice was built between twenty and twenty-five years ago, the business has immensely increased—increased out of all proportion to the accommodation of the building. It may be that, with the very best efforts satisfactory service is difficult to give with the number of delivery wickets at the postoffice. If this is the cause of one phase of the trouble, it might be remedied, if improvement is practicable, by the provision of more wickets and more clerks, it should be looked after. A more radical remedy would be the inauguration of a city postal delivery. This would remove the congestion at the postoffice and give the people satisfactory service. This city is growing so rapidly, the outskirts are becoming so largely built up, that the one-sided situation of the postoffice building does not permit of the convenience of the public being adequately served. A city postal delivery would cost less than remodelling the postoffice building to meet the greatly-increased needs of the public in regard to the service demanded. This matter might well engage the immediate attention of those charged with the responsibility of seeing that the public convenience, the public interests, social as well as substantial, are met by the provision of an adequate and effective postal service.

A VISIONARY PROPOSITION.

Of all the schemes propounded in Peterborough during the past score or so of years, that of municipal operation of a district steam heating system, on a patch-work scale, seems to be the most visionary, and most strongly, and most universally condemned, by the public, and by thoughtful, substantial citizens. It would be difficult to find outside of the "nine worthies" of the city council, anybody in Peterborough, whose opinion carries weight, and whose interest in the city entitles him to express an opinion commanding respect, who does not unreservedly condemn the proposition as untimely, impracticable, extravagant, and, above all, unnecessary. The acute attack of municipal ownership, and operation, mania, suffered by the aldermen, seems to have seized the majority of our city fathers with inexplicable suddenness. How can we justify the zeal of a moribund council in the closing weeks of the year, plunging into an enterprise, the least hopeful to exploit as an experiment in municipal operation of public utilities? If the proposition could properly be classed as a public utility, the matter might be held to assume a different aspect. Can any of the aldermen assure us that there is a demand for such a wholesale heating plant as that proposed? Have the people asked for it? Will it be available for the mass of the people? Has anybody, but those interested in its installation, as a money-making enterprise, influenced the action of the aldermen, and inspired them with the sudden enthusiasm developed in favour of the adoption of municipal operation in relation to heating a circumscribed, and favoured, area of the city? The merit of the system of heating concerned in this matter does not enter into the question. It may do, and there is no little evidence to this end, perfectly the work it is claimed to do. The real question is, whether or not it will pay, that is, pay the city, to embark in the enterprise of providing heat for shops, or houses, in competition with citizens now concerned in the business in another form. Is the question so urgent that we must plunge into an expenditure of $50,000 for the installation of a plant, which under municipal management may easily cost us $75,000? The zeal of the nine aldermen may be commendable from their point of view. They may think, but can they get others to think, that they are solely animated by considerations of the public interests? If these enterprising aldermen had nothing else to engage their attention, if they had disposed of all the pressing civic demands upon their enterprise and energies, if, in this regard, they were looking for new worlds to conquer, their course might be intelligible. But when there are many more important and urgent matters to be dealt with, these aldermen would be better engaged in doing the duty that thrusts itself insistently upon their attention. If we have $50,000 or $75,000 to expend in hot air, without the existence of other pressing demands upon our financial resources, then we might consider the question of risking it in a commercial enterprise of problematical profit from a revenue point of view. There are many live civic problems with which our City Council might and should wrestle. For instance, instead of spending $50,000 or $75,000 in an experimental steam heating plant, would it not be better employed in building a filtering system, as an adjunct that would make our waterworks system practically perfect. The importance of an Isolation Hospital for contagious diseases cannot be over-estimated. It is a more pressing need than a steam heating system is a civic speculation. The Board of Health has approved of plans for such a building, modified at the request of the Council to meet their views in the matter of cost—$6,000—with steam heating to cost an additional $1,000. Will the aldermen, who want to make it hot for the taxpayers with a $50,000 heating dream, refuse to proceed with the Isolation Hospital because the steam heating addition brings the price beyond $3,000? If they are enthusiastic over steam heating, here is a chance to profitably adopt it. Then we want money for other urgent needs. The paving of George street is a live question. We need a system for disposing of domestic garbage. We need a building permit system, etc., etc. If our aldermen do their duty they will find plenty of employment aside from municipal ownership kite-flying. When one regards the wretched condition of our streets—especially those converted into quagmires, resulting from sewer construction—when we see how little comprehensive and practical aldermanic supervision is given our affairs, generally, we must conclude that it is more the duty of aldermen to attend to their business than be looking for trouble by plunging into speculative enterprises. The subject of hot air heating, as proposed, has many sides and will bear any amount of discussion. If a private corporation, can guarantee cent per cent profit by municipal operation of its heating system, why does it not undertake the work itself? Our nine worthies must have been temporarily asphyxiated with hot air and hypnotized by a hot air artist when they suddenly adopted the municipal operation idea.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In providing for the maintenance in the sanitorium at Gravenhurst of twenty-four patients, the Ottawa Anti-Tuberculosis Society is doing a good work, which should merit for the association further support from citizens of all classes. The stamping out of the white plague is a step which cannot be too aggressively undertaken in view of its alarming spread in this and other communities.

In view of the meeting of Dominion and Provincial Premiers to consider the readjustment of provincial boundaries, it may be of interest to give the areas of the several provinces as now constituted:—

	Square Miles.
British Columbia	372,630
Alberta	253,965
Saskatchewan	250,119

Ontario	260,862
Quebec.....	351,873
New Brunswick	27,985
Nova Scotia.....	21,428
Prince Edward Island	2,184

Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan want a slice each of Keewatin. The Federal Government is bound to be abused, no matter what partition it makes.

A Broad Statement.

The first package of Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid (the infallible Pile cure) that was put out, went to a small town in Nebraska.

It cured a case of Piles that was considered Hopeless.

The news spread, and although this was only two years ago, the demand prompted Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, of Lincoln, Neb., the discoverer, to prepare it for general use. Now it is going sent to all parts of the world.

It will cure any case of Piles. There is a month's treatment in each box.

Sold for $1.00, with absolute guarantee.

It is for sale by druggists, or by The Wilson-Fyfe Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.—4.

THANK OFFERING HELD BY MISSION BAND

St. Paul's Young Ladies Liberally Respond to Offering—Splendid Papers Read

Last evening the Mission Band of St. Paul's Church held a thanksgiving offering meeting. The young ladies had a very encouraging attendance, and an enjoyable time was spent. Miss Weir, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute staff, read a paper on "Women as Christians," and treated the subject in a thorough and intelligent manner. The paper was very interesting and was enjoyed by the members of the Band. Miss Florence Cameron read a paper on "Thanksgiving," and likewise did full justice to the subject and to her own talent. Miss Lilian Moore sang a very pleasing solo while the collection was being taken up. A hearty response was given to the collection, $25.10 being realized.

The Mission Band intends holding a bazaar on December 1, for which the young ladies are now preparing. The purpose is to increase the Band's funds.

Most Dreaded Form of Kidney Disease

URINARY TROUBLES AND STONE IN THE BLADDER--PAINS WERE EXCRUCIATING--CURED BY

To the person subject to derangements of the kidneys the outlook is indeed a gloomy one. On the one hand there is Bright's disease, which in its advanced stages is incurable; and, on the other, gravel or stone in the bladder, than which probably no ailment is accompanied by more agonizing pains.

Fortunately, both of these dreadful diseases are, in their earlier stages, positively cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; and we publish here the letter of a man who was on the verge of despair, when he heard of this great medicine and was cured.

Mr. Daniel Brown, English River, Ont., writes: "For three years I suffered from urinary troubles, partaking of the nature of stone in the bladder, or gravel, and the pain which I endured can scarcely be described. I was unable to do any work, and frequently discharged blood. Though I spent hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills I received no relief, and at last decided that I would never be able to work again.

"While in this condition I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and, though I had no faith in them or in anything else, I decided to give them a fair trial. After using one box I felt a decided change for the better, and after taking five boxes I feel like a new man. I am entirely out of pain, and have no more discharge of blood. I can honestly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any fellow-sufferer, and will cheerfully verify this statement to anyone writing me."

Mr. W. Bowen, Postmaster and Station Agent at English River, Ont., writes:—"I have interviewed Mr. Daniel Brown of this place in regard to his long illness and cure, and hereby certify that the testimonial as given by him is correct."

A Fountain Pen for 98c.

—A fountain pen fights half the battles of the business man. A fountain pen is the student's friend. You can buy one that is both handsome and practical, for very little money at Stratton's Bookstore. It is known as "Stratton's Special," and is selling like hot cakes at 98 cents, guaranteed in every respect. A. H. Stratton & Co.

Removed to Hospital.

—Mr. Bellegham's private ambulance conveyed Samuel Killen to St. Joseph's Hospital last night from Ennismore. Mr. Killen, who is the Reeve of that township, is sufferring from blood poisoning and it was thought necessary to bring him to the city in order that he might be conveniently visited. Dr. McGrath is attending him, and it is hoped the patient will soon have recuperated.

Inducments at Stratton's.

—Better news for the gift-buying season could scarcely be written, and more appropriate goods could not be shown that what is offered by the Peterborough Bookstore at sacrificing prices just now. If you are in doubt, come in, and, as you prove us, praise us. The inducements to buy early are much better now, than they will be a week or two later. There are only 30 odd shopping days before Christmas, and money can be saved by buying now at STRATTON'S.

SELECTS THIS CITY FOR RESIDENCE

Mr. McConnell, a Retired Indian Head Farmer, Coming Here to Live--Buys Turner Residence

Peterborough has gained a reputation as a business and industrial centre, and now it seems to have developed a similar reputation as a desirable residential city. Mr. McConnell, a farmer, who has spent the last eleven years in the Indian Head district, in Saskatchewan, has made his fortune out of the West, and, deciding to return to the East to live and to enjoy his well-earned rest, he selected Peterborough as the place to spend the remainder of his life. That his choice was a good one, few will be inclined to doubt, especially when it is known that in coming to Peterborough to live he bought the beautiful residence of Mr. J. J. Turner, 80 Gilmour street.

Mr. McConnell thinks that the West is a good place to live to make money in, but Peterborough suits him better for a city in which to live to enjoy his money.

WAS HONOURED BY SOME OF HIS FRIENDS

Mr. Jos. W. Tinker, who Leaves for England To-night was Presented with Gold Ring and an Address.

Last night about twenty-five friends of Mr. Jos. W. Tinker gathered at the Peterborough House to say farewell to him on the eve of his departure from this city. Mr. Tinker leaves to-night for England where he will reside in future, sailing on the 16th. A very enjoyable time was spent. During the evening Mr. George Grsitrex on behalf of the gathering presented Mr. Tinker with a very handsome gold ring while an eulogistic address by Mr. Brown, who acted as chairman. Mr. Tinker has been employed in the C.G.E. machine shop for the last three years, has become most favourably known to a large circle of friends who will learn with regret of his departure from Peterborough.

FRIENDS ADVISED USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Suffered Much—Catarrh Affected Throat and Nose—Pe-ru-na Proves Highly Satisfactory.

Mr. Raoul Pilon, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., writes:

"I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured.

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much.

"I was greatly discouraged.

"I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief.

"At the advice of friends I tried Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory.

"At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna will bring relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus save yourself both suffering and expense.

COUNTY WINS ITS APPEAL IN THE WILL CASE

Judgement Given Favourable To Contention of The County in Foley Will Case in Court of Appeal.

A SURPLUS AVAILABLE FOR CHARITY

The County of Peterborough won an important case in the Court of Appeal, judgment having been given by Chief Justice Mulock, and judges Clute and Anglin. It is in the case in connection with the will of the late Mrs. Foley. A judgment had been rendered some time ago, which the county held was not in accordance with the spirit or the letter of the will, and an appeal was entered with the result that the position taken by the County was sustained.

The situation, briefly is that Mrs. Foley, resident of this county, at her death left an estate valued at about $43,000, and in her will directed that the interest on this amount should be used to pay annuities to certain persons named in the will. This was done, and, upon the death of two or three of the annuitants there was a surplus of money available, which the County went to the court for direction to administer. The contention of the county was that as the annuitants died their portions should be used for charitable purposes as the committee appointed to administer the fund saw fit. Application was made to the court for this authority, but in the first place this request was refused, the decision being that as the annuitants died their share should be divided between the surviving annuitants, against which decision an appeal was entered, and yesterday the appeal was allowed, the court holding that the shares of those who have died shall be given to the committee to use for charitable purposes.

The effect of this judgment is that as the annuitants die the money will be available for charitable purposes, and in the end about $1,800 will be in the hands of the committee each year to be used in relieving the poor of the county.

The Toronto Globe, referring to the decision says:—

Re Foley. — Judgment (oral) on appeal by the committee appointed by the county council of Peterborough to manage the funds applicable under the will of Almira Grover Foley, deceased, to charity, from order of Falconbridge, C. J., 3 O. W. R. 141, declaring that upon the true construction of the will it was the intention of the testatrix that the payment of annuities should commence immediately after her decease, but as a matter of fact the annuitants received nothing for about three years, and have not, except during the last year or two, received the whole amount of their annuities; that it was not the intention of the testatrix; that the sum which represented the income or revenue which would have been paid to deceased annuitants should be applicable for charitable uses during the lifetime of any annuitant, claiming under the will who has suffered any deficiency, and that the amount therefore of $900 and any further sum which may accrue by reason of the death of annuitants, should be placed to capital account, and the income thereof applied to supplement pro rata the past shortage in annuities, until the last mortal annuitant shall have departed this life, or shall have received the full amount of his other arrears. The appellants contended that upon the death of any annuitant the poor were to receive the benefit of the sum released under the following clause in the will: "Sixth, I will and direct that any part of my estate not definitely disposed of shall be held in trust as part of my residuary estate by my executors, for the benefit of the sober and industrious but destitute or needy widows and orphans of the county of Peterborough, who must have been bona fide residents of the said county before becoming destitute or needy. Held, that the failure to pay the annuities at the sums named in any year was only because the income of the estate was insufficient. The codicil makes it quite clear, that the amounts are not absolute but variable. The will fixing the amounts of the annuities, qualified by the codicil, does not entitle the annuitants to any definite sums, but merely indicates the proportions in which the income is to be distributed amongst the annuitants. No annuitant benefits by survivorship. On the death of an annuitant the residuary legatee become entitled to the portion of the corpus which furnished the deceased annuity, but the corpus is not divisable at present; it must remain till all the mortal annuitants shall have died. It would be premature to do more now than to declare what are the annuitants' rights. Appeal allowed. Costs of all parties out of the estate. E. D. Armour, K. C., for the appellants: E. H. D. Hall, Peterborough, for the annuitants: J. B. Holden for the executors and trustees.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 14.—Developments this morning were a little more favourable generally, and an extension of the rally in the stock maket took place, with some realising during the afternoon, a perfectly natural sequence St. Paul kept right on climbing, making its gain over fourteen points since yesterday, while U. P., S. P., Copper and the other active issues made big gains.

Money ruled easier, and this was a big help to sentiment. It is said there will be rights worth from 15 to 20 dollars a share given on St. Paul. We regard U. P., S. P., A. C. P., L. N., and Steel as good, while there is a strong tip from a good source to buy Baltimore & Ohio. The market was furiously active in the last hour and closed strong, fairly boiling over.

HOGS ARE BEING SUCCESSFULLY RAISED IN QUEBEC

Many Conditions have Combined to Make the Raising of Hogs a Success in that Province

The hog-rearing industry has made rapid strides in the Province of Quebec during the past year. The campaign in the interests of the bacon hog that has been carried on through Farmers' institutes and other meetings conducted by the Department of Agriculture, together with the distribution at auction sales of improved swine of the bacon breeds, the high price of hogs that has prevailed during the season, and the bonus paid by the packers for animals of superior bacon type, have all tended to stir up the farmers to the possibilities of the industry.

What People You Know Say About Gin Pills

THE GREAT KIDNEY CURE

TORONTO, June 6th, 1905.

I take great satisfaction in writing to you and telling you of the splendid condition of health that I am now in, which was brought about entirely by taking your Gin Pills.

For years my kidneys have been my weak spot and kept me unhealthy, and although I knew the cause, I could not get relief. Six weeks ago I heard that Gin Pills were being widely sold in Ontario, and I concluded to try them, though I did not believe that they could entirely cure me, but they have, and I am now sure that my kidney trouble has disappeared.

I will always have some of the pills on hand, and will recommend them to my friends who are troubled with ailments due to the defective work of their kidneys.

Yours respectively,

F. R. BASKERVILLE.

TENDERED BANQUET BY KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Dr. C. B. Coughlin Presented with a Handsome Travelling Clock by the Members of the Order Last Night

MANY SPEAKERS EXPRESS REGRETS

Dr. C. B. Coughlin, who, with Mrs. Coughlin left to-day to take up his duties as superintendent at the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville, was the guest of the Knights of Columbus at a farewell banquet last night.

The affair, which was held in Long's palm parlours, was a most enjoyable event, although the fact that it indicated the removal from the city of one who was a universal favourite with his brother Knights threw a shadow over the festivities.

Grand Knight Connor occupied the chair, and seated on his right was the guest of the evening, Dr. Coughlin. Among those present were Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore, Rev. Father McGuire, Downeyville, and Rev. Father Bretherton, of Hastings.

After the sumptuous repast, provided in the usual efficient style of the palm parlours, a toast list, which was marked by witty and bright speeches, was run off.

The first was that to His Holiness Pope Pius X and King Edward VII., which was honoured in the usual way.

The next toast the Guest of the Evening, was most heartily honoured. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, in proposing this toast, made some humorous references to his boyhood relations with Dr. Coughlin, with whom, he said, he had gone through several classes together, and had even stolen apples together.

Bro. Knight Michael O'Brien also spoke, paying a graceful tribute to Dr. Coughlin, and expressing regret at his departure from the city.

At the conclusion of his remarks Bro. Knight G. H. Giroux presented Dr. Coughlin with a very handsome travelling clock, on behalf of the Knights. Rev. Father McGuire, Rev. Father Bretherton and Bro. Knight H. Phelan made speeches referring to Dr. Coughlin in eulogistic terms, congratulating him on his appointment, while at the same time expressing regret that it necessitated his removal from Peterborough.

Dr. Coughlin made a modest and affable speech in which he referred to the many pleasant days he had spent in Peterborough, and the kindly relations he had enjoyed with the Knights of Columbus.

"Sister Societies" was the next toast honoured. Rev. Dr. O'Brien was the first to respond, making an eloquent reference to the great work being carried on by the Total Abstinence Society.

The toast was also replied to by R. Sheehy on behalf of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, M. Crough, for the Catholic Order of Foresters, and J. E. Hayes for the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The last toast was that to "The Ladies," whose cause was ably and eloquently advocated by Bro. Knights W. Crowley, J. E. Sullivan and L. Leclaire.

During the evening Bro. Knight H. LeBrun delighted the audience by singing the Marseillaise, with fervour and spirit.

The affair was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

LADIES' AUXILIARY TEA WAS ENJOYABLE

At Least 150 Ladies Enjoyed the Hospitality of the Auxiliary at the Y. M. C. A. Last Evening

The tea given by the Y. M. C. A. Ladies' Auxiliary in the Y. M. C. A. parlours yesterday was a decided success and fully carried out the purpose for which it was held, that is, to interest the ladies of the city in the work which the Ladies' Auxiliary is carrying on in connection with the Y.M.C.A. To many, until yesterday, the nature of this work has been unknown. At least one hundred and fifty ladies enjoyed the hospitality of the auxiliary.

Tea was served in the back parlour of the building, when the guests were received by Mrs. E. F. Mason, President; Mrs. Davidson, First Vice-President, and Mrs. Frank Mason, Second Vice-President, in the front parlour, which was artistically adorned with palms and ferns. The table decorations consisted of pink and white chrysanthemums. Delightful pianoforte music was provided by Miss Gumpricht, Miss Lottie Davidson and Miss Mattie Robertson.

ONTARIO LAW COURTS WAS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Which was Delivered at St. Paul's Young Men's Guild Meeting Last Night by Mr. W. S. Davidson.

VERY INTERESTING AND WELL ATTENDED

There was a good attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's Church last nigh.

The President, Mr. E. S. Clarry, occupied the chair and after routine proceedings a most interesting programme was rendered. The feature of the evening was the very interesting and educative address by Mr. W. S. Davidson, barrister, upon "The Law Courts of Ontario." Mr. Davidson explained at the outset that it would be impossible in the time at his disposal to enter into detail upon the jurisdiction of the respective Courts of the province, but he would give a brief outline of the composition of these courts and describe to some extent the classes of actions tried therein. This he did in a clear and interesting manner. The concluding portion of his address made reference to the legal profession, the speaker claiming that apart from any moral inclinations, but purely from a business standpoint it paid to be an honest lawyer.

Rev. Dr. Torrance in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Davidson for his address, made reference to the manner in which the recent Scottish church question was carried from Court to Court. Mr. G. B. Van-Blaricomb seconded the motion, which was very enthusiastically supported.

During the evening Mr. Kenneth Shook rendered an instrumental selection, Mr. C. N. Brown gave a reading which was much enjoyed and Master Frank Halpany delighted the members of the Guild with two popular recitations.

The next meeting of the Guild will be held on December 4th at the residence of Rev. Dr. Torrance, when the members will be the guests of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Torrance for the evening.

DR. COUGHLIN'S PRACTICE HAS BEEN DISPOSPD OF

To Dr. G. B. Gallivan of N.Y. and Dr. G. C. Leach, who have Formed Partnership

With the retiring of Dr. Coughlin from practice in Peterborough, two other medical men have obtained his practice, and will be found, after Dr. Coughlin leaves the city, at 224 Hunter street. One of these doctors has already had experience in this city. He is Dr. G. C. Leach. Dr. Leach for two years was the house surgeon of the Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, O. He was born in Northumberland County. He is an Arts graduate of the Toronto University, and graduate in medicine from Queen's University, Kingston. Before coming to Peterborough some little time ago he was a practicioner in the Chicago Hospital

Dr. J. B. Gallivan, a native of Kingston, who will be Dr. Leach's colleague in this city, graduated in medicine from Queen's three years ago. He has been resident surgeon at St. John's Hospital, New York City, and is leaving now to take up work in Peterborough. Both doctors are highly recommended as surgeons and physicians, and will no doubt acquire a good practice in this city.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS INTERESTED IN IT

Industrial expansion in Peterborough is getting to be recognized as a normal condition now, and, information to the effect that business and manufacturing enterprises are making extensions is coming to be looked upon as something which is expected.

The latest of the local industries which is feeling this necessity for expansion is the business which for the last few years has been conducted by Mr. E. H. Mann, on Dublin street, in the manufacture of cheese boxes, sashes and doors and other articles in lumber. The announcement is made to-day that this week's issue of the Ontario Gazette will contain notice of the incorporation of the Mann Lumber and Cheese Box Company, Limited, with a capital of $40,000, to carry on the business, which has been for a few years so successfully conducted by Mr. Mann, and which has developed into one of the city's most promising industries.

The business in the past has developed so rapidly that it has been found necessary to enlarge the works, and for this purpose the joint stock company, composed of local capitalists has been formed.

The intention of the company is to instal considerable additional machinery, and to enlarge the output of the factory, which at present employs about twenty-five hands.

The provisional directors are all local men, and the shareholders, a meeting of whom will be held in the near future for the purpose of electing directors, are all men who are interested in local business enterprises.

On Saturday, the Ontario Gazette will contain notice of the incorporation of the company.

The officers of the company have not yet been decided upon, but it is expected that Mr. W. F. Nelson will be the secretary-treasurer.

MISSION CIRCLE HEARD MISSIONARY PAPERS

An Interesting Meeting Held Last Night —Joint Thanksgiving Concert Arranged for Next Month

The regular meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Park street Baptist church was held last night at the church, when Miss Mann presided. Two or three interesting papers on Missions in India were read by members of the Circle, and routine business was transacted. It was decided to hold a thanksgiving concert under the joint auspices of the Mission Circle and Mission Band early in December at the church.

The meeting last night was well attended, and those present evidenced a deep interest in the subject under discussion.

REV. MR. STERLING FOR THE LAKEURST CHURCH

Toronto Man Appointed to Minister to Lakehurst and Bancroft Churches

Rev. J. A. G. Stirling, of Toronto, has been appointed by the Presbytery of Peterborough to the Lakehurst charge, and will commence his duties next Sunday. He will preach at the Lakehurst and Rockcroft Churches. Mr. Stirling comes to this charge well recommended, and the churches which he will serve consider themselves fortunate in securing him.

ANOTHER LIFE RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Mr. Richard Mowry Lived Here 74 Years —Was a Respected Citizen—Death Caused By Heart Failure.

"God's finger touched him and he slept."—Tennyson's, In Memoriam.

Still another old resident was called away in the person of Mr. Richard Mowry, whose death occurred last night about 10 o'clock. The late Mr. Mowry has been ill during the past five weeks, but it was not till a week ago Sunday that his condition was considered dangerous.

The deceased was born 74 years ago in this county and has lived in this vicinity during all those years. For a long time he conducted a machine shop and foundry on the Ashburnham side of the Hunter street bridge, of which there is now no trace, as it has been torn down. His father before him had conducted it and he as the son received it from his parent. The deceased has lived in Ashburnham till about seven years ago when with his family he moved to the west side of the Otonabee.

He was married fifty years ago last month to Mary Sedgewick, also of this county. The late Mr. Mowry has been a citizen of this city who was esteemed and respected by all who were acquainted with him. Mrs. Mowry, his wife, is still living and will mourn his loss, together with their children. These are Mrs. Screinger, of Galt; Mrs. R. S. Smart, of Los Angeles, Cal.; and Misses Maud and Lily, of this city, also Edgar H. of this city. There are besides two brothers, John, of Peterborough; R. B. Mowry, of Gravenhurst, and a sister, Mrs. Kelly, of Santiago, Cal.

The cause of death was heart disease and dropsy.

The deceased was a Conservative in politics and in religion a member of the Salvation Army. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence, 499 Aylmer street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

A. H. STRATTON & CO.

MISS McCLELLAND

The Expert Corsetierre of Bias Corsets will be at our store each day of next week (Nov. 19th to 24th) in order to meet with, and demonstrate to each of our lady customers and their friends the many salient features of Bias Filled Corsets. Those we already know of are:

COMFORT:

No need to dwell upon the discomfort of an ill-made or badly fitting Corset. Every lady knows exactly how annoying it is when the Corset bends at the side and refuses to come back to the original shape. Most straight filled Corsets either bend or break within a few weeks. BIAS FILLED CORSETS will not break or bend out of shape. They adapt themselves to the figure so easily and with such comfort that women who wear them for the first time invariably imagine they are wearing a larger size than usual. Not so, however. It is simply that the BIAS FILLING follows the curves of the body, so that its movements are as free as they would be if the Corsets were not worn at all.

SUPPORT:

BIAS FILLED CORSETS are made in every size and modeled to fit every style of figure. Whilst there are no wide, heavy steels to press on the sides, the BIAS FILLING is scientifically arranged on each size and style to give the most support with the least resistance. Thus, support and absolute comfort are at once secured.

A BOON TO THE STOUT:

After wearing a pair of BIAS FILLED CORSETS not one lady in a hundred will ever go back to the old style of straight filling. More especially will this be so of the stout ladies. No Stout lady has ever known absolute comfort and freedom of body movement unless she has worn a pair of BIAS FILLED CORSETS. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials from all over Canada. The best Corsets ever made with straight filling does not equal the cheapest grade of BIAS FILLED. To sum up, they are admitted to be the crowning point of Corset excellence.

WHAT ABOUT THE PRICE, THOUGH?

Some women don't mind how much they spend on a pair of Corsets, but the vast majority have to be very careful. With this point in view, BIAS FILLED CORSETS are made to sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.50 and upwards.

THE RADIATOR WORKS MAKES HASTINGS A BUSY PLACE.

That Village is Experiencing a Serious House Famine at the Present Time —No Houses Available

INDUSTRY PROMISES MUCH FOR VILLAGE

Special to The Examiner.

Hastings, Nov. 14.—Hastings is experiencing a house famine, which, unless relieved, promises to develop into a somewhat serious matter for the village. There is scarcely a house of any kind to be had in the village, either for sale or to rent, and, with the prospective increase to the population of the village, by reason of the fact that the radiator works will employ a number of men who will have to live here, the situation will be still further aggravated.

The erection of the buildings for the new factory is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that they will be ready for the brick work by the beginning of next week.

Hastings has never, in its history, been in such a satisfactory condition, from an industrial and business standpoint, and there seems to be no reason to believe that it will not continue to make progress in the future as it has done in the last few months.

COATES BROTHERS NOT COMING TO CANADA

The Paisley Works will be Closed and Operations Carried on at the Perth Works

FACTORY HERE UNDER ANOTHER BRANCH

The Glasgow Weekly News, in its issue of Oct. 27th., has the following interesting reference to Coates Carpet Works, which, it was stated was being removed to Peterborough. To Peterborough people it will be no surprise to them to learn that the works which will be established here are not owned by the same branch of the family as those at present in operation in Scotland. The Glasgow News says:—

So many rumours have been afloat recently in regard to the intentions of Messrs. Coates Brothers, Perth, transferring their Perth and Paisley works to Canada, that an authoritative statement will set these rumours at rest. It has been stated that Messrs. Coates Brothers intended to start a branch of their works in Canada, and that their Paisley works were to be closed.

Our Perth representative on Monday had an interview with Mr. Jas. Coates, senior partner of the firm of Coates Brothers. At the outset Mr. Coates explained that the firm had no intention whatever of starting a branch establishment in Canada. Such a project had never even been dreamed of, and the gentleman interviewed charactorised the report as "absolute nonsence."

"It is a fact," proceeded Mr. Coates, "that we intend to close altogether our Paisley works. We find it will be more advantageous for us to confine our attention to Perth. The works at Perth will not in any way be affected by the closing of the Paisley works."

Asked if the action of the firm in deciding to close their works at Paisley was in any way due to the recent strike troubles, Mr. Coates gave an answer an emphatic negative. "There was a strike in the summer time," said Mr. Coates, "but that was all got over, and that in no way influenced us in deciding to close the works. It is purely a matter of business."

KNOX CHURCH HELD A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Good Crowd at Knox Church—Fine Programme Presented—Mr. Shea Presided.

REV. A. BRIGHT WAS IN ATTENDANCE

A very successful concert was held in the Knox Presbytrian Church last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Society of the Church. There was a fairly large number present nearly all the chairs being occupied. The programme was of special merit and many encores were demanded. Mr. D. Campbell was heard twice and encored both times. All his selections were well delivered but especially did he excell himself in his solo "Queen of the Earth" Mr. Allen's vocal solo "A Son of the Desert am I," was one of the best of the evening. The instrumental trios were well received by the audience and were encored, as also the Young Men's Club's instrrumental selections. It was composed of Messrs. White, Lang, McCannon and Campbell, Miss Anderson very ably presiding as piano accompanist. The following programme was presented, Mr. Shea being chairman:—

Chairman's address.
Instrumental selection — Messrs. Cranfield, Holland and Theobald.
Vocal solo—Mr. Allen.
Recitation—Mr. Moore.
Vocal solo—Mr. Duncan Campbell.
Instrumental selection — Young Men's Club.
Vocal solo—Little Miss Margaret Fanning.
Vocal solo—Mr. Mackay.
Instrumental Trio—Messrs. Holland, Cranfield and Theobald.
Instrumental—Young Men's Club.
Vocal solo—Mr. Duncan Campbell.
Vocal solo—Mr. Williams.

Special mention should be made of Margaret Fanning who, although only a very little girl, sang splendidly. She more than captivated the audience. Miss Bullen accompanied her. Mr. Williams kindly took the place of an elocutionist who was unavoidably absent.

After the conclusion of the programme, which was a rather long one, Rev. Mr. Bright moved a vote of thanks to all those who took part in making the concert the success it was. Mr. Campbell heartily seconded him. President Shea likewise added his gratitude. The evening was brought to an end by the singing of God Save the King.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS AT THE POLICE COURT

Usual Number of Drunks—Boy Trespasses on C. P. R.—Hillier Case Remanded

At the police court this morning justice was dispensed by Magistrate Dumble in quite a number of cases. There was, of course, the usual quota of drunks, who drink not unto sobriety. George Harris was the first who pleaded to the drunk and disorderly charge. He was found in the streets yesterday in a conditon that warranted arrest. He was fined two dollars which was paid forthwith.

Wm. Kelly was the next who answered to this charge. He presented an awful appearance. He received a bad cut over his left eye yesterday while intoxicated, and by no means enhanced his beauty in this manner. He likewise had the $2 to add to the city treasury.

Two boys who were remanded yesterday morning were present again to-day. They were charged with taking grain out of a box car on the C.P.R. spur line. The car had been emptied and they were sweeping up the "leavins." Detective Wright of the C.P.R. apprehended them in the act and prosecuted them. The magistrate considered that an example should be made of them as the company had to protect themselves against accidents happening to those who used the tracks. They were trespassing where they were warned to keep away and they were aware of it. In view of this he fined them each $5 to be paid in ten days or 15 days in gaol.

Another interesting case was that of H. H. Hillier who was charged with taking, in the month of May, $600 in goods and chattels from Sarah Hillier. Mr. Kerr appeared for the defendant and did not elect to be tried. Mr. McWilliams who is representing the plaintiff, asked that the case be enlarged for some time. Accordingly it will be heard on Monday morning next at 10 o'clock. Bail was fixed by the magistrate at $1,000.

PLAINTIFF'S SOLICITORS ARE ROGER & BENNET

They will Act in that Capacity in the Suit for Breach of Promise in this City

In the Examiner's announcement of the fact that a writ for breach of promise had been issued, in yesterday's paper, an error was made in stating that the solicitors for the plaintiff were Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr. As a matter of fact the plaintiff has as her solicitors the firm of Messrs. Roger, Bennet & Goodwill.

Tea is the cheapest of beverages, and Blue Label "Salada" at 40c per pound does not cost much more than the cheaper grades, it goes so much further, and then you have the delicious flavour that accompanies tea grown at an elevation of 6,500 feet, at which height above sea-level every pound of "Salada" Blue, Red, and Gold Label is grown.

SAYS PRINCE RUPERT IS SPLENDID HARBOUR

Inspector of Agencies Bredt Returns From Northern Trip.

Victoria, B. C., Colonist.

P. M. Bredt, of Regina, Dominion Government inspector of agencies and foreign colonies, accompanied by Mrs. Bredt, arrived in Victoria yesterday, after attending the New Westminster Fair.

In the fall of last year Mr. Bredt visited the coast for the benefit of health, impaired by too close application to the arduous duteis of his office and made his headquarters in Victoria. The balmy climate of this Island had its customary effect, and in a few weeks Mr. Bredt was sufficiently recovered to make many excursions about the Island taking notes of its conditions and advantages; and among other functions he attended the Cowichan Agricultural exhibition at Duncans, where he acted as one of the judges, afterwards taking a sea trip up the west coast as far as Port Simpson.

"My opinion of Victoria, and its surroundings," said Mr. Bredt, "is sufficiently expressed by the fact that I have taken the earliest opportunity of coming back again to spend my summer holiday with you, and that I have brought Mrs. Bredt this time to share my enjoyment. I have this year repeated my west coast trip, this time extending it as far as Skagway. It is certainly the most picturesque country one could imagine. We were delighted and surprised at its grandeur; it is like several Norways in one wonderful panorama. Among many other changes for the better that I noticed was that of the improved conditions of travel. The boat in which we made the trip was commodious and comfortable, luxuriously fitted with the additional recommendation of good cuisine and attendance, a genial commander, and pleasant and capable officers.

We enjoyed the trip immensely, and were fortunate enough to have as fellow passengers, President Hayes of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. We had thus the chance to visit Prince Rupert. In my opinion it is an ideal location for the terminus and the harbour is unsurpassed on the coast. At present the hydrographic survey is still incomplete, and mariners enter for the first time with natural caution, but once having made the entrance they they say that they would have no fear about entering it at any time. While we were there the weather was very stormy, and there was a heavy sea running outside, but inside it was perfectly calm, the position being well protected from the prevailing winds.

"Certainly," continued Mr. Bredt, there is room there for a great city, and Digby island would make an ideal suburb or summer resort. Communication would have to be by ferry I think, though the dividing passage is narrow, and the distance short, not greater than between North Vancouver and Vancouver city if as far; it would be practically a part of the city.

"There is plenty of activity in evidence at Prince Rupert; houses for the engineers are being rapidly constructed and gangs of men are busy clearing land for the townsite. Already there is a very serviceable wharf, which they intend to extend immediately, and everything seems to point to quick development. . . ."

CANADIAN NIGHT IN THE DEBATING CLUB

An Interesting Meeting is Promised at the Y.M.C.A. To-Night—The Subjects to be Discussed

Every Y.M.C.A. member interested in the history of his own country will do well to attend the fortnightly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club to-night.

Current events will be taken by Mr. H. Cooke, and Mr. Fred Ray will give an address on "The History of Canada."

Every session of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club held this year has been well attended, and the programmes highly edifying.

ST. LUKE'S MEN WILL GIVE TWO THEATRICALS

An Interesting Evening's Programme which will be Presented by Men's Guild in the Near Future

The members of the Men's Guild of St. Luke's Church are preparing an amateur theatrical, which they will give on Thursday, November 29, at the Ashburnham town hall. The two plays which will be presented are entitled "Paddy's Mistake" and "Pat Moloney, a Literary Genius." A musical programme will be rendered in addition. The plays that have been given in the past by the Men's Guild of this church have elicited much approval from those who have heard them, and in view of this fact, this, their latest effort, should and doubtless will be patronized by a large number.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that its position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

STRATFORD MAY HAVE TWO SENIOR HOCKEY TEAMS

Application Received From the Crescents of That City—A Split in Hockey Circles

The Crescent Club of Stratford, has made application through Manager Chas. Farquharson, for permission to place a team in the senior series, if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the Stratford Hockey Club, otherwise the Crescents will play intermediate.

There is a split in the Stratford Club, and the new club has been formed by the disgruntled element. The chances are that the O.H.A. will refuse to give the newcomers a senior charter. There is not enough room in Stratford for two senior teams.—News.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PETERBORO HOCKEY CLUB

Will be Held on Friday Night at the Oriental—A Big Attendance is Expected

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Oriental, when the election of officers and the re-organization of the club will take place. No doubt there will be a big attendance of players and supporters. In view of the success of the team last year and the enthusiasm and interest among the people of the city there seems no doubt that this season will be a banner one in the history of the club.

Two fast basketball games will be played to-night in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, when the Arrows meet the Harriers at 8 o'clock in a Y.M.C.A. league game. At 9 o'clock the Alerts, of Peterborough Y.M.C.A. meet the All Saints' of Toronto, in what will be a fast game. The Alerts were winners of the local Y.M.C.A. league last season and are in good shape for their game to-night.

FOOTBALL GAME CAUSES MANY DEATHS

Some of the Casualities Already Reported This Season.

Sept. 26. — John Cowell Kennedy, aged fifteen, of Troy, N. Y., died from injuries received in practice at Lawrenceville, N. J., where he was captain of the "Prep" school team.

Oct. 4. — Cameron Paulin, aged twenty-one, died from injuries sustained in a practice scrimmage at the University of Toronto, on Oct. 3.

Oct. 12. — W. Glinn Ellis, aged twenty-one, died from injuries sustained in practice at the University of Toronto on Oct. 10.

Oct. 14.—Charles Surdam, of Morristown (N. J.) High School, died of injuries sustained in a game played Oct. 13.

Oct. 23.—Leonard Hammerle, aged 15, died while playing with the South Side High School, Pittsburg, the result of over-exertion.

Oct. 28.—Harry Fulwider, West Liberty (O.) High School team, died of blood poisoning caused by injuries sustained in a game.

Nov. 3.—Leo C. Brown, aged eighteen, half back of the Houghton (Mich.) High School team, died from the effects of a kick above the heart.

EASTERN LEAGUE IS NOW PROPOSED

New Movement in Basketball Circles Which Promises to be a Success.

This morning Mr. Dingman, the physical director of the Y.M.C.A. received a letter in reference to the proposal to form an eastern Intermediate Basketball League. This league, if formed, would probably include teams from Peterborough, Toronto, Hamilton and Dundas, and would furnish the fastest kind of basketball, each of the places named having a number of good teams. A strong team could be picked from the local Y.M.C.A. players. Nothing definite has been arranged yet, but a meeting will be held in Toronto to-night to consider the matter and, if possible, to complete the organization of the league.

The winners of this league would play off for the championship with the winners of the western league.

Event of the season, Carnival Roller Skating Rink Friday Evening. Ten prizes awarded for costumes and skating. Admission 15cts.

BRANTFORD PEOPLE CONGRATULATE LECTURER

Given in that City on Monday Night by Rev. A. E. Langfeldt of this City—"Success" His Subject

The Courier of Brantford, referring to the lecture given in that city on Monday night, by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of this city, says:

The Rev. A. E. Langfeldt of Peterborough gave a fine lecture last night in the Grace church school room. The attendance was very good and the audience was much impressed with what the speaker said. The subject taken by Mr. Langfeldt was: "Success — what it is" In opening he defined very clearly and concisely the meaning of success, after which he dealt with it in the business, social, religious, and married life. The speaker laid every fact very plainly before his audience and held their attention from start to finish. During the evening Mrs. Leeming rendered a solo which delighted her hearers.

CANADA IN LUCK AGAIN.

New Zealand Preference Gives Our Manufacturers Big Advantage.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—In reference to the New Zealand tariff preference to Britain and Canada, J. S. Larke, Canadian commercial agent, reports that in the case of bicycles, wagons, perambulators, fancy goods and toys, hardware, lamps, pianos, platedware and pumps, the United States will have to pay 30 per cent., while Canada and Britain will pay 20 per cent. On footwear the United States will have to pay 33 3-4 per cent. and Canada 22 1-2 per cent. In hops, the United States will pay 9d, Canada 6d; nails, United States, 3s, Canada 2s per cent.; furniture, United States 37 1-2 per cent., Canada 25 per cent.; wall paper, United States 22 1-2 per cent., Canada 16 per cent.; wrapping paper, United States 7s 6d, Canada 5s per cent.; bicycle parts, gas and oil engines, gum boots, printing paper, rails, sailcloth, canvas, surgical and dental instruments, United States 30 per cent., from Canada and Britain free.

PERFECT GRAIN INSPECTION.

Little To Be Complained of In the Methods of Manitoba.

London, Nov. 14.—(C. A. P.)—At the international conference on the subject of American certificates, W. P. Wood of the London Corn Trade Association said:

"In justice to Canada, especially to the Province of Manitoba, we should put on record that, in view of the increasing quantities of grain exported, there was very little to be complained of. I have seen the whole of that inspection, and must say, if human foresight can devise a scheme for perfection, it is realized in Manitoba."

Mr. Wood's opinion is that the appointment of inspectors there by the Government, not the local authorities, is an ideal way of dealing with the subject.

In Sweden the criminal law provides that the capital sentence shall only be carried out in the case of a prisoner confessing the crime with which he is charged.

Citizens Are Opposed To Municipal Heating Scheme

Some Letters to the Examiner on this Subject--"Cold Common Sense" Asks if There is Any Graft.

"REFRIGERATOR" THINKS THERE ARE OTHER THINGS TO CONTIDER

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — It strikes me that it is pertinent to inquire, in view of the suddenly developed interest and enthusiasm of some of our "solid" aldermen, what there is behind it, or in front of it? Where does the pull come in? Are they sacrificing their reputation for common sense and prudence for the sake of a fad which a ten-year-old shool boy would be ashamed to father?

What influence has been brought to bear upon them to cause this sudden adoption of municipal operation?

I could understand it, if it were something for the general benefit of the citizens. If municipal ownership or operation, could develop hot air in pipes as readily as it developed hot air in the aldermen, the thing could be easily done.

It strikes me that the whole thing is either a fad, or an exhibition of the work of the fine Italian hand of pull. Mind, I make no accusation, but I cannot account for such an unaccountable outburst of mis-directed enthusiasm, that has written failure on it in big letters — as big as the heads of some of the splurging aldermen. I should like to be informed what is the nature of the Ethopian who is evidently concealed in the enclosure somewhere. A little cold common sense would be a mighty sight better than so much hot air.

Yours truly,
COLD COMMON SENSE.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — The recent action of our council is so ludicrous, and their sudden enthusiasm for municipal ownership so amusing, their ideas of local necessities so grotesque, that it is difficult to realize we have a council at all.

It sounds more like an impromptu debating society, taking their subject from a hat. However, it throws a little light on real issues, and why they are not dealt with.

The city should employ an "expert promoter" to enthuse our aldermen on real issues, give them a free excursion or two, and then we would own everything in sight.

Our present council is all the evidence required to prove that municipal ownership in Peterborough at present is a risky venture.

However, if this super-heated steam condenses, and they survive this hot-air stampede, return to a normal civic condition, and really want to go into a rational heating business, let them take up the question of gas supply.

Gas is used for domestic purposes all over the city; almost every manufactory requires it. The price is abnormally high, $1.25 per thousand, while in other places it is 75c., with prospects of further reduction.

This is a subject of general welfare, and gas could be supplied for cooking purposes in the humblest home at a lower cost than either coal or wood.

Then there is the water supply, and power questions—but these issues are more than two blocks square, and, therefore, too large for our aldermen.

Public health would be better guarded by some regulations for the systematic collection of garbage. At present we are subject to the tender mercies of the suburban hog-raiser, and if the pigs are not hungry we have to put a clothes pin on our nose, and bury the decaying refuse. But, then, garbage is below the dignity of a steam heated council.

However, this fizzle may mean better men next year.

"Business Man's" injunction will not be needed; there is an injunction due the first Monday in January, that will condense the hottest steam in the council chamber.

Yours truly,
REFRIGERATOR.

Line Of Defence Of Chas. McGill Has Been Disclosed

A Strong Attempt Is Being Made to Involve the Ontario Bank Directors in the Transaction.

THE COCKBURN LOAN AND SOME OF ITS INTERESTING DETAILS

Proceedings to Set Aside Transfer of Property by President—Action Begun at Instance of Ontario Bank.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—A new and sensational turn was given to the Ontario Bank affair yesterday morning when the Ontario Bank issued a writ against the president, Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn to set aside the recent conveyance of certain property from Mr. Cockburn to his wife.

The writ was issued at Osgoode Hall by the Ontario Bank, acting in its own behalf and for all other creditors of the defendant against Mr. Cockburn, president of the Ontario Bank, to set aside a conveyance of property to Mary E. Cockburn, dated Oct. 25th, 1906.

The conveyance was registered the same day and transfers lots four and five and part of lot number three, Bay street.

The bank seeks a declaration that the conveyance "was and is fraudulent and void as against the plaintiff and other creditors of the said George R. R. Cockburn," and also asks for a judgment setting aside the conveyance and directing the said lands to be sold for the satisfaction of the debts and liabilities of the defendant.

The court is also petitioned for a lis pendens.

Messrs. Bicknell and Bain are acting for the bank.

Calls It "Legitimate."

Mr. Frank Arnoldi, counsel for Mr. Cockburn, was questioned with regard to causes that are alleged to have led up to the writ. He replied:

"Mr. Cockburn has done a perfectly legitimate thing. The property was bought with his wife's money, and only as a matter of convenience, placed in his name. It has only now been transferred, that's all. Mr. Cockburn is not to be interviewed in the matter, because that only increases the misrepresentations that have arisen in connection with this case. The property was his wife's, and he had a perfect right to transfer it."

TO INVOLVE DIRECTORS.

Strong Attempt to Prove Connivance With the General Manager.

The cross-examination of Mr. J. G. Langton, for years chief accountant of the Ontario Bank, lasted throughout almost an entire Police Court day yesterday, and incidentally disclosed the outlines of the case for the defence of Charles McGill, ex-Manager of the Ontario Bank. The efforts of Mr. R. E. McKay, who is representing Mr. McGill in these Police Court proceedings, were plainly directed towards proving the connivance of the President and the directors in the series of marginal stock speculations and in the manipulation of accounts. The purpose appeared to be to establish that the acts of Mr. McGill were the result of a certain policy, and that he did nothing unknown to at least some of the directors. This line of defence would appear to be in the direction of absolving Mr. McGill from a charge of theft by possibly admitting the charge that improper statements were issued.

Mr. Langton was on the stand throughout the day for cross-examination, and in several instances Mr. McKay succeeded in securing statements which indicated that the bank's investments in speculative securities and its accounts with New York stock brokers must have been known to some of the directors. Before Mr. McGill came from Peterboro' to be General Manager of the bank the directors were engaged in an effort to maintain the quotations of the bank shares on the market, and according to the evidence of Mr. Langton, Mr. A. E Ames assisted in these quotations so materially as to breed the suspicion in the mind of President Cockburn that Mr. Ames was endeavoring to secure a place upon the board.

Early Ventures Successful.

It was also established by the testimony of Mr. Langton that the condition of the bank when Mr. McGill took hold was anything but enviable, that it had sustained large losses, and that up to 1901 his policy of looking to the stock market for a relief for the bank's difficulties had been successful in adding $200,000 to the bank's assets. This appeared to be the maximum of profits attained under the system of dealing in speculative securities, and afterwards the losses came heavy and fast.

President Cockburn through his counsel, Mr. Frank Arnoldi, K.C., submitted to the Crown Attorney a series of questions intending to explain the impression regarding the purchase by Mr. Cockburn of Ontario Bank shares and the subsequent sale at a profit of some $4,000 to the officers' guarantee fund of the bank. With the permission of the Magistrate these questions were put to Mr. Langton, and it was stated that he had not secured the loan from the bank to purchase the stock, but that the loan was given upon a demand note for other purposes. The main facts concerning the transaction, however, remained unchanged.

Mr. Charles Holland, the predecessor of Mr. McGill as General Manager of the bank, was a witness, and he sturdily maintained that the bank was in sound financial condition when Mr. Cockburn and Mr. McGill came into power. He said that there was no reason for the subsequent reduction of capital, and that there had never been any deals in margins or any "selling short" in the market while he was General Manager. Mr. McKay went over a long list of losses which the bank is said to have sustained just after Mr. Holland's resignation, intending to prove that Mr. McGill had been left a legacy of bad debts extending through every branch of the bank from Montreal to Port Arthur. Mr. Holland expressed great surprise that accounts which he had regarded as first-class had turned out so badly.

MINERS' STRIKE OVER.

Grievances At Fernie Adjusted and Men Go Back to Work.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The local officers of the Crow's Nest Pass Co. have received a telegram from G. G. S. Lindsay, manager, at Fernie, B. C., announcing that the strike has been settled, with Thomas Burke, representing President Mitchell, in the following terms:

"There shall be no discrimination, union men against non-union men, nor refusal to work with them; all men who joined the United Mine Workers of America since Sept. 11, 1906, and signed to deduct dues under article 5 on or after the said date, are released from the said organization, and their signatures to such orders shall be and are cancelled, and they may rejoin and resign at their option; the moneys collected for the union by the company for dues in October from the September pay rolls, shall be paid over to the union; inasmuch as the present check-off order does not last for the life of the agreement, a new check-off order is to be prepared and substituted for it, which will last for the life of the agreement, and this, when signed, the company will accept.

All men to go back to work.

Mr. Burns said that had President Mitchell known all the circumstances he would not have endorsed the strike.

Coal Famine Serious.

Fernie, B. C., Nov. 14.—The coal miners will return to work immediately, and it is hoped the settlement of the trouble will do much to alleviate the coal famine in the Canadian West, which is exceedingly serious.

In Regina, Moosejaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and other towns of Saskatchewan, there is practically no coal, and the situation is very serious. The Lethbridge strike is still in progress.

Kensington Rescue Delayed.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—The steamship Gaspesian reached Quebec yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with 532 passengers taken from the stranded steamer Kensington. Of this number, 520 are from England, who have been engaged to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific. The storm continues in the Lower St. Lawrence and little can be done in the way of attempting to release the steamer. The Rouville will bring up the remaining passengers.

Second Man Arrested.

Woodstock, Nov. 14.—The local police have rounded up a second suspect in the brutal assault and robbery of Mrs. J. F. Casler, a widow. Yesterday James Currie was placed under arrest at New Durham, 15 miles from Woodstock. O'Brien, arrested Monday, has a badly chewed hand, while Currie's face is scratched and disfigured. The assault was committed in darkness and Mrs. Casler cannot give a description of the men.

Mr. Dryden Satisfied.

London, Nov. 14.—(C. A. P.)—John Dryden, member of the committee of enquiry on agriculture and technical instruction in Ireland, sails on the Cedric to-day. He expressed himself as having greatly enjoyed the work of enquiry, and has formed a high appreciation of the possibilities for the agricultural development of the country and the business capacity of its people.

Train Hurled Into Embankment.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—A westbound Missouri Pacific passenger train, while running at full speed, was hurled from the track by spreading rails near Glencoe, 27 miles west of here yesterday, but beyond cuts and bruises all on board miraculously escaped. The entire train plunged into an embankment and the track bed was torn up for 200 feet.

King Haakon Get Garter.

London, Nov. 14.—King Edward last night invested King Haakon of Norway with the Order of the Garter at a special charter held in the throne room of Windsor Castle. The investiture was attended with great pomp and ceremony. Queen Alexandra, as "the lady of the order," whose predecessor lived two centuries ago, was present last night.

Hydro-Electric Secretary.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—R. Clarence Settell has been appointed secretary of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. Mr. Settell was formerly secretary to the chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission.

A Sheer Impossibility.

Bristol, Eng., Nov. 14.—In a speech delivered here last night, Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, said the education bill, as reconstructed in the House of Lords, was a sheer impossibility.

Peterboro Treasurer Resigns.

Peterboro, Nov. 14.—Owing to ill-health, Felix Brownscombe, for 11 years city treasurer and collector of water rates, has resigned.

SOME INTERESTING ANCIENT HISTORY IS RECORDED

Mr. Dumble Makes Valued Addition to the Controversy Concerning the Cobourg Town Hall

METHODIST MAYOR OPENED THE EVENT

Few men in Peterborough are better informed on affairs in connection with the history of Cobourg, than Mr. D. W. Dumble, and to-day he gave the Examiner an interview in which some interesting facts in reference to the controversy as to the date of the erection of the town hall, were given. Mr. Dumble said:

"About the year 1857, the people of Cobourg realized that to have their court house, containing many public offices, two miles out of the town, was a great inconvenience and loss to the town, and an agitation was gotten up to build a new town hall. A public meeting was called, which was largely attended. At the back of the hall was displayed a large picture of a magnificent building, with the union Jack floating bravely from the top. The late Colonel D'Arcy Boulton made one of his characteristic enthusiastic speeches, and closing, pointed to a motto, printed in large letters over the picture, 'Let Cobourg Flourish,'" and the people shouted, "Yes, Let Her Flourish."

"The necessary steps were taken and the contract let to the Burnet Bros., uncles to our citizen, Mr. W. E. Johnston. The foundation stone was laid with imposing ceremony by Sir Allan McNab, Grand Master of the Masons. From Kingston and from all the neighbouring country Masons poured in, and in their regalia made a splendid procession.

"The building was about two years in construction. It is largely built of Ohio freestone. It cost about $100,000, and to-day could not be built for double that sum. The building is as badly laid out inside, as it is beautiful outside. The court room was placed in a dimly lighted half cellar, so low that the floors were later raised four feet. The public hall was very high and the ceiling of this was afterwards lowered to amend the acoustic properties and a horseshoe gallery placed at the end.

"Many of the vaults opened into outside halls, and altogether the internal arrangements were miserable. Cobourg for many years paid eight per cent on her debentures, so that this building cost them $8000 a year.

"In 1860, the building being largely completed, a magnificent ball was given in the splendid hall, in honour of the Prince of Wales, who graced it with his presence.

"Dr. John Beatty was then Mayor of the town, and of course his pretty daughters led in the giddy waltz with the handsome young prince.

"A nice question arose as to the propriety of the Methodist Mayor doing the honours at a ball, and some of the more illiberal ones thought he had committed an unpardonable sin. The building is rather more imposing than the surroundings, and on one occasion a chin-bearded Yankee, looking up at it, exclaimed, 'Yes, by gum, I see the town hall, but whar's the town?'"

MANUFACTURERS TO CONFER WITH COUNCIL

In Reference to the Location of the New Fire Alarm Boxes—Other Matters.

A meeting of the committee of the whole council is billed for to-night, when a number of important matters are to come up, and it is likely that there will be a busy session.

The location of the new fire alarm boxes is one of these, and representatives of the Manufacturers' Association will be present to discuss the matter with the council.

The appointment of a new treasurer is also one of the things to be taken up.

THE TICKET AGENTS WERE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

Messrs. Bunton and McIlroy Report a Splendid Reception to the Canadian Ticket Agents at Mobile, Fla.

CITIZENS OF SOUTHERN CITY'S WELCOME

In a copy of the Mobile, (Ala.) Daily Item, appears a report of the visit to that city of the Canadian Ticket Agents, for their annual convention, which the visitors are announced as having "taken possession of the city after being given by Mayor Lyons," a reception as warm as their climate.

There was the usual entertainment and sight seeing, but the ticket agents did not neglect business. The report goes on to say that it was the most important, largest attended and most profitable convention in the history of the organization and brought forth remarks upon this fact from the president and other officers. When the 128 members answered to the roll call the attendance at all previous conventions of the association had been surpassed.

Representing as they did, all the great railway arteries of the Dominion of Canada, it was a representative gathering; men who come in contact with the great commercial interests of the United States daily. They did Mobile great honour in deliberating here when it is considered that some of the largest cities in this country had urgent invitations before the executive committee when the time arrived for the selecting of the meeting place and this city was chosen unanimously. In return Mobile extended to the members of the association a bountiful supply of the genuine hospitality for which she is noted. There were none who more readily acknowledged that their stay in this city was a most enjoyable one than these big-hearted representatives of Canada.

It has been many a day since a jollier set of men gathered in this city and they were lavish in their praise of Mobile and her people. "Your hospitality is as warm as the climate," they said repeatedly, and was the subject of comment by the officers and brought forth the words: "Hear! Hear!" so often used by the Canadian when anything meets with his approbation.

Mr. Edgar Hooke, of London, secretary-treasurer, read his annual report reviewing the association's progress within the last twelve months, stating that in that period 47 new members had been added which gave the association now a membership of 312, and that every prospect was favorable for it reaching the 300 mark before the next annual meeting. His report was a spirited one and was heartily received. The report of special committees was the next in order, there being only one read.

President Bunton then read his annual address. When he had completed he greatest of enthusiasm was manifest, especially when he reached that portion referring to the reception accorded the party since their arrival in Mobile, saying that "their hospitality is as warm as the climate."

Then followed the address of welcome of Mayor Lyons, who was most hearty in his offers of hospitality.

The election of officers was of special interest to Peterborough, since for the second year in succession a Peterborough ticket agent and popular citizen, was efected to the presidency of the association. Mr. W. L. McIlroy, of the C.P.R., succeeding Mr. W. Bunton, of the G.T.R. who filled the chair last year.

A VALENTIA BOY WHO FELL FROM BARN

John Farrell Met with Serious Injury, Falling Out of Open Barndoor to Ground.

The Lindsay Post says: Yesterday afternoon the ambulance was 'phoned for from Valentia, and last night it brought to the Ross Hospital John Farrell, a young man who has received serious injuries.

On Monday evening last as Mr. Farell and Mr. John Day, his employer, were out at the barn finishing up the evening chores, it is supposed that young Farrell must have taken a weak spell and fallen out of the open barn door to the ground below a distance of eight or ten feet. He struck his head with much force on a water trough in falling. Shortly after he walked back into the barn and said to Mr. Day that he "must have lost his hat," and again that he did not feel well. He was told to go into the house and lie down for a while. On examining his head Mr. Day found evidences of serious injury.

The young lad is now in the Ross Hospital in a low condition.

CANADA, LAND OF THE FREE

From north to south, from east to west—
Throughout our loved Dominion—
We sing the song that we love best,
The song that stands for Union:
In peace, in war, it cheers us on
In love and unity,
And greater yearly swells the throng
That claim our liberty.
The Beaver, Maple Leaf and Oak—
True emblems of our manhood—
Emblazoned on our Union Jack,
Proclaim our freeborn statehood;
And Canada, our home so free,
Upholdeth Britain's hand,
For we are one in liberty—
For liberty we stand.

Then, freemen all, sing of Canada,
Her Beaver, Oak and Maple Tree;
From shore to shore, sing of Canada,
The home land of the free.

From Nova Scotia, New Foundland,
Prince Edward and New Brunswick,
Rise men of mighty heart and hand
To guard our eastern traffic;
Quebec and old Ontario
Shoulder to shoulder stand,
A phalanx firm 'gainst any foe
That dare invade our land.
The prairies of Saskatchewan,
Alberta, Manitoba,
Give hardy scouts and husbandmen—
And years increase their quota:
Columbia and Yukon stand
To ward our western way;
Ungava and old Baffin Land
Command our Hudson's Bay.

Then, freemen all, sing of Canada, etc.

Keewatin and Victoria,
Mackenzie and the Islands,
A rich and varied area
Of min'ral, lakes, and woodlands:
Throughout all Canada the tide
Of immigration flows;
And millions yet, from far and wide,
Shall come where freedom grows.
But, Canada must greater be,
Our commerce spread to northward,
Rich heritage of land and sea
Are ours, if we press forward:
Our Union Jack must be unfurled—
By Canada sustained—
That we may show to all the world
What Canada has gained.

Then, freemen all, sing of Canada,
Her Beaver, Oak and Maple Tree;
From shore to shore, sing of Canada,
The home land of the free.

THEY WILL ESTABLISH A BRANCH OFFICE

Coates Carpet Company will Open Western Office at Edmonton to Handle that End of the Business.

The Canadian Journal of Fabrics in its last issue says: The Coates Manufacturing Co., of Canada, associated with Henry Coates, of the great Paisley, Scotland, firm of Coates Bros., Limited, and J. P. Dunwoodie, another Scotch manufacturer, lithographers, and manufacturers, of carpets, etc., have decided to locate their new works on a site of 100 acres near Peterborough. The factory will be 1100 feet long, two stories high, and will employ 100 hands. Adjoining it there will be a model village for the operatives and their families. An Edmonton firm says that a branch office will be established in that city. An English paper is authority for the statement that the Coates Bros., Limited, of which the above is an offshoot, have decided to close their works at Paisley, Scotland, altogether on account of labour troubles.

THE WEATHER.

A year ago to-day saw the first general snow storm of last winter. Snow began to fall at 8 in the morning and continued with a few interruptions, until late in the evening. Only about four inches fell on the level, but a few cutters were out for the first time. Another fall on 18th much improved the sleighing for a few days. This morning's temperature was 11 above zero; the thermometer is steadily going down, and some of these fine mornings the much dreaded zero will be touched.

POLICYHOLDERS EXPRESSING THEIR WANTS TO COM.

Want a Voice In Management of Insurance Funds.

DESIRE STANDARD POLICY

They Also Ask For Custody by Insurance Department of Securities Held by Insurance Companies as Guarantee of Safety and a Check Upon Speculation in Unauthorized Securities—State Insurance.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The first part of the afternoon sitting of the Insurance Commission was devoted to the hearing of the policyholders' grievances. They were voiced by the vice-president, William Robins, of Walkerville, and William Christie of Toronto, secretary of the Policyholders' Protection Association of Canada.

Should Have Representation.

Mr. Robins insisted on the absolute safeguarding of the policyholders. Already, there had been revealed sufficient signs of departure from prudent management to warrant close investigation and consideration. To attain this safeguard, he insisted that the policyholders should have proper representation in the management of companies as far as the investment of funds was concerned, for at present, the great bulk of the money administered by the directors belonged to the policyholders. The money held by the stockholders was a mere bagatelle as far as any security for the policyholders was concerned, and it was anomalous that the control should be in the hands of men with so small at stake. He suggested that men appointed by the Government should sit on companies' boards as the direct representatives of the policyholders.

Investment Powers.

Mr. Robins would widen the investment powers of the insurance companies, though at the same time he admitted it might be advisable to legislate in regard to the amount to be invested in any one direction.

He admitted, in reply to a question by Mr. Tilley, that he was favorable to reasonable restrictions being placed on the nature of securities taken up.

Mr. Robins also urged that the Government should know absolutely what the investment of companies were, and to that end, the securities should be in the hands of the Government who would then know the exact position of the companies.

The present Government deposit amounted to nothing, and yet, it was used by the companies for advertising purposes.

Standardize Policies.

Mr. Robins added three more suggestions:

1. That life insurance policies should be standardized.

2. That the business of life insurance should be confined to that and that alone.

3. That there should be a limit to dividends paid on life insurance stock.

He wound up by declaring that no company should be allowed to start business unless it could convince the authorities that it was a responsible institution.

Mr. Christie headed his list of suggestions by strongly recommending the standardizing of policies. Notes should not be taken in payment of premiums, as this was the crux of the whole question of heavy expense in getting new business. For while the note were maturing the company was carrying the risk, and this might become a serious problem in the case of a young company.

Distribution of Profits.

Mr. Christie suggested the entire abolition of advances to agents.

Touching on the distribution of profits, Mr. Christie said the 20-year distribution was an injustice. Policies should be clear and understandable. Companies should not be allowed to canvass for risks or estimates. The publication of results would serve the same end.

The Life Officers' Association appeared again before the Commission. Mr. Bradshaw, their secretary, differentiated the British system, allowing freedom of investment and throwing the weight of responsibility on the shoulders of the directors, and the restricted system, which prevails here. While not advocating the British system on the ground that Canada had not the same status as England, he said that there should not be restrictions on investment, of such a nature as to interfere with the remunerative investment of the company.

In the evening the delegates representing the life officers discussed insurance by the state.

Mr. Bradshaw was in favor of it, and thought it would be practicable if kept clear of politics.

T. B. MacAulay of the Sun Life had no objections to a state insurance scheme.

Diamond Dyes

WILL COLOUR ANYTHING Any Colour

The most wonderful helpers in the home to economical dressers are the DIAMOND DYES. They are so easy to use that even a child can dye a rich and perfect colour with them.

DIAMOND DYES make faded and dingy dresses, blouses, capes, jackets, stockings, scarfs, laces and draperies, look like new.

Beware of dyes that claim to colour cotton and wool with the same dye. It is impossible to get satisfactory results from dyes of that character. In DIAMOND DYES, there are special dyes for colouring all cotton and mixed goods, and special dyes are made for all wool goods. Each of the DIAMOND DYE colours is guaranteed to give full satisfaction, when used according to the directions.

Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, Que., for valuable dye book, and card of dyed samples; free to any address.

NO MILITIA FOR THE PROTECLION OF THE AMBITIOUS CITY

Mayor Refuses the Request For Military Protection.

ALSO FOR POLICE ON CARS

Request by Leader of Strike-Breakers For a Uniformed Policeman on Every Car Turned Down—Mayor's Alternative of Responsibility—His Worship Asks Citizens to Refrain From Disorders.

Hamilton, Nov. 14.—After the demonstration caused by the operation of the street cars Monday afternoon, the company was unable to run its cars yesterday, but will start them out again Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock. The company instructed the strike-breakers to take the cars out, but the men were so frightened by the disturbance Monday that they refused unless given police protection. The leader of the strike-breakers appealed to Chief Smith and the mayor for a uniformed constable for every car. The request was turned down.

The Mayor's Position.

The mayor refused to call out militia, "until every means of settlement has failed."

The mayor says: "I would rather assume the responsibility of having a few cars smashed than to have citizens shot down by the militia."

The mayor calls on citizens to refrain from disorders.

There was a small demonstration of strikers when a Dundas car struck a pedestrian. Stones were hurled at the car, but the motorman kept the current on and escaped.

Hit By Train At Crossing.

Brockville, Nov. 14.—Monday evening John Griffin, a prominent farmer of Elizabethtown, while driving across the G.T.R. tracks here, was struck by a freight train. He was found in the ditch with his left arm completely severed from his body at the shoulder.

The horse and rig were carried some distance on the cow-catcher, but the animal was not injured. Griffin will die.

Commons Sat All Night.

London, Nov. 14.—The House of Commons, after sitting all night discussing the land tenure bill, the object of which is to ameliorate the condition of the tenant farmers in England and Scotland, adjourned at 9.40 yesterday morning, thus ending the first prolonged sitting of the new Parliament.

Bank Wrecker Gets Two Years.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 14.—J. R. Zimmerman pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of conspiring to wreck Wooster, Ohio, National Bank in the Federal Court here, and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

Missing Student Found.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Thos. Shannon, the young student at Ottawa University, who disappeared about Nov. 1 from that institution, has been found at Mountain road, St. Benedict, near Chelsea. His father took him home to Belleville last night.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

she writes: "For the past fourteen months I was nervous all the time, and became so run down I was unable to walk across the house without getting dizzy. My friends told me I looked like a living ghost and advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got two boxes and within two weeks I had improved wonderfully and after finishing the fourth box I was completely cured. They are the greatest pills I ever used and I can recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills act directly on the disordered heart and nerves, and restore them to healthy action. They have no equal for reviving and strengthening the heart beat, invigorating the nervous system, and acting as a food for the blood, improving its quality, making it rich and red.

Eat Right and Feel Right

Take Care of Your Stomach and You Will Escape No End of Trouble.

We can't abuse the stomach without paying a penalty. This penalty is most frequently indigestion, with all its accompanying distress. Eat the right kind of food and you will not suffer.

The right kind of food is a natural malted whole wheat food, Malta-Vita, the most delicious, the most satisfying food in the world, always fresh and crisp, containing every food element necessary for the sustenance and upbuilding of the body and the brain.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita. Being a pure grain product it is rich in food elements—all the food elements of the best white wheat grown and the finest barley malt extract—intensely vitalising and easy for even the weakest stomach to digest.

"I had been a sufferer from nervous debility and indigestion for several years, without any benefit or relief from various tonics and other medical prescriptions. Imagine my surprise when, a short time after beginning the use of Malta-Vita, I became aware of its beneficial effects by the gradual disappearance of my long-standing ailment."—P. Gersper, Barnesville, Ohio.

All grocers sell Malta-Vita. Try some with milk, cream or fruit. You never tasted anything so good and you will be glad we told you about it. Ready to eat. Now 10 cents.

STILL SINGS AT 78.

British Veteran Choir Singer Who Took Part In the First Performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

There is singing in the Birmingham Festival Chorus this year a chorister who took part in the first performance of Mendelssohn's "Elijah," when the great composer himself conducted the work, at the Birmingham Festival of 1846.

William Pountney, of the St. Cyprian's Choir, Hay Mills, Birmingham, was a youth of 18 at that time. Coming of a gifted musical family, he had earned the right to be included in the festival choir, and he has taken part in every festival choir save one since that time. When you speak to him he tells you that he still has the remnant of a voice, but the writer has often heard him sound his bottom D in choir work during the last two years, and he can sing a ballad with the tone and vigor of a youth. When Mr. Pountney had his voice tested for this year's festival he told the examiner his age, and was met with the remark, "Well, you may be nearly eighty, but your voice is only forty."

Mr. Pountney has vivid recollections of the rehearsals for the first performance of the "Elijah." The band and chorus, he says, were on a small scale. The band consisted of 125 performers, mostly from London, and the chorus of 283 voices, some of which were supplied by the metropolis. The rehearsals for the festival of 1846 took place in a little chapel in King street which stood upon the site of what is now New street station. The then town organist, Mr. James Stimpson, was the choirmaster, and he received the parts in manuscript, a few being sent at a time. On the Monday previous to Wednesday, Aug. 26, on which the work was formally given to the world, Mendelssohn came to Birmingham and rehearsed the work most carefully with the chorus at the Town Hall.

Describing the enthusiasm of Mendelssohn's reception when he advanced to the conductor's desk, Mr. Pountney says: "It was tremendous; overpowering. His method of conducting was very pleasing. It was simple and unaffected, and when he had to make a correction his face wore a most queer expression. He would rattle his baton against the desk and say pleasantly, 'That won't do, gentlemen; I must have piano here; when you get a fortissimo you can do as you like.'

"I well remember Mendelssohn and Staudigi coming into the committee-room of the Town Hall, and as the latter, who had been specially brought by the composer to create the bass part, took off his peculiar stove-pipe top hat, a whole collection of papers fluttered down upon the floor. Everyone laughed, and the composer seemed in particular to enjoy the incident."

Mr. Pountney can recall the principals of the 1846 performance quite well. Staudigi made a wonderful impression, Mr. Pountney says that he cannot recall any festival singer creating more enthusiasm.

"He was the first and he is the greatest representative of 'Elijah' I have ever heard. His singing of the prologue, 'As God the Lord of Israel Liveth,' created a sensation at the full rehearsal such as I have never witnessed since." And yet Mr. Pountney understands that Staudigi sang the music at this rehearsal at sight.

The tenor was a young English singer, Mr. Lockey. It was originally intended that he should only render the solos in the first part, but Mendelssohn was so pleased with his singing that he asked him to give the whole of the tenor solos. In a letter to his brother Mendelssohn paid marked testimony to Mr. Lockey's sweetness of singing. It was, says Mr. Pountney, a remarkable performance.

Mr. Pountney recalls many notable "Elijahs." In 1852, under Sir Michael Costa, Weiss sang the music, and in 1882 a wonderful singer was cast for the part — Herr Carl Formes. Mr. Santley made his first appearance in 1861, and sang uninterruptedly till 1891, when Mr. Andrew Black took his place. A notable prophet was Signor Foli, who first appeared in 1873.

London's New Mayor.

Sir William Purdie Treloar, the new Lord Mayor of London, is a man of many parts and is most popular with the members of the City Corporation. On election day when his name was proposed it was received with tremendous applause. To all other names the crowd shouted "next," meaning that they were to be set aside until next year. The Lord Mayor is a Cornishman, 63 years of age. He has been a member of the Corporation of the City of London since 1880 and an alderman since 1892. From 1899 to 1900 he was one of the sheriffs of the city and has been a Justice of the Peace in Kent, Surrey and London. He is deeply interested in Egyptian matters, being a director and trustee of T. Cook & Sons, Limited, and is besides an author of some note.

HARVEST CUSTOMS.

Curious One Still Extant In Gloucestershire, and Some Others Obtain In Yorkshire.

In these days the use of agricultural machinery has driven almost all manual labor from the harvest field, and with it have disappeared most of those quaint customs which endeared the season to the farmer as well as to his men.

One old-fashioned Gloucestershire farmer, however, still keeps up as many of the old customs as he can. All his wheat, barley and oats are cut by hand, just as in the days of half a century ago. The first sheaf in each of his wheat fields he has always cut himself, and the binding, or tying together, of it has always been done by his wife.

It was a quaint idea of his own. When the reapers, to the number of three or four, are ready to begin, he appears in the field, armed with a bright sickle sacred to the occasion, with which he solemnly proceeds to cut the first sheaf. Just as solemnly his spouse, who accompanies him, takes up a handful of the newly-cut wheat, and with it ties the sheaf together.

Refreshments are then passed round to the waiting reapers, and, bidding them God-speed in their work, the farmer and his better-half leave them to it. If they make a neat, even stubble they always receive an extra shilling or two for their pains.

Gleaners are rarely seen in the harvest fields now, but there is at least one farm in Herefordshire where the wives and children of the harvesters turn out after the corn has been gathered in to pick up the scattered ears that have fallen.

It is surprising how much wheat a family of three or four industrious children can pick up ear by ear. It must be back-aching work, and cannot be very profitable, but in this instance it is done more for keeping alive an old custom than for anything else.

Every afternoon when there are any gleaners at work the farmer's wife sends out tea and cake for all, which is much appreciated by the workers. When they have finished for the season the farmer adds a bushel of wheat to each collection and pays for the grinding of the grain at the flour mill.

A Yorkshire farmer, renowned for his genuine hospitality, insists on all his helpers attending his harvest supper, though as a rule they do not require much pressing. The tables groan under the load of good things provided, and the guests are invited to eat to their hearts' content.

Part of the meal is the fruit of their own industry, for the bread on the tables is always a special baking of loaves made from the flour of the recently-cut wheat. Of this a loaf is given to each worker when he leaves for home.

Driffield, in the east riding of Yorkshire, is one of the few places in the country were the ancient custom of ringing the harvest bell is still observed. The ringing is to notify the inhabitants of the district that the time has arrived for them to cut their corn.

As soon as the grain has ripened, one of the bells of the parish church rings out at 5 o'clock in the morning the welcome intimation that reaping time has come; the same bell, throughout the harvest, signalizing the fall of eventide by again tolling at 8 p. m. It is an interesting fact that for upwards of fifty years the harvest bell of Driffield was rung by one and the same parish clerk, a record which stands almost unique.

In the town of Richmond, in the same country, a very curious and ancient harvest custom is observed. There, for many years, it has been the practice for the mayor of the borough to present a bottle of wine to the person who first takes into the market a sample of newly-threshed wheat.

Needless to say, the competition for the honor of first comer and the coveted bottle of wine has always been pretty keen, though the recipient has not always been the same.

A Lincolnshire landlord used to make a somewhat similar present, but in this case the present went to that one of this tenants who was the first to start cutting his wheat. The gift, too, was a great deal more valuable; for, instead of a single bottle, it consisted of a whole case of wine.

A Disorderly Parliament.

The New South Wales Parliament is gaining the reputation of being the most disorderly legislative body in the Empire. Blasphemous language is of frequent occurrence, and exchanges like the following are a commonplace of nearly every sitting:

Mr. Thrower said they were prepared to go on. They had all the day before them, and there was nothing to do.

Mr. Levy—Perhaps you haven't. We have."

Mr. R. J. Anderson—"He lives on the game."

Mr. Thrower (hotly)—"You are a liar!"

The Chairman—"Order! Order! The hon. member must withdraw."

Mr. Thrower—"I will withdraw, but decline to be misrepresented by a blackguardly scoundrel like him."

The Chairman—"Order! Order! You must withdraw."

Mr. R. J. Anderson—"I am not the scoundrel you are."

CHEMICAL LOVE SCENES.

Proposal to Stir Up Emotions by the Aid of Chemicals.

If, as the cynics tell us, we are losing our capacity for emotion, the modern druggist can give us back all the outward signs of love, grief, anxiety, despair and exaltation, neatly compressed into tablets and capsules, at so much per dozen.

This was abundantly clear at the Medical Exhibition, which opened at the Horticultural Hall, London, recently. Information gleaned from the mass of scientific "drugdata" in "The Extra Pharmacopoeia," a new work, makes it clear that a love-scene of the following nature is quite possible in the near future:

Romeo's Emotion.

The blase wooer, fearing lest he should betray his boredom and lack of emotion in the course of his avowal, provides himself with portable chemical preparations which will give him a Romeo-like gamut of emotion.

In the doorstep of his ladylove's house he drinks a concentrated solution of glucose, and all appetite leaves him on the spot. He also rubs his face with hydrogenperoxide from a small phial, and before he has fairly got his overcoat off he has developed a most interesting pallor. During dinner he sends away untasted course after course without a pang (thanks to the glucose). He also snaps a glass capsule of chloroform in his serviette before the ladies retire, and inhalation produces most lifelike sighs

Chloroform Sighs.

Later he lures the object of his chemical affections to the conservatory, and something like this happens:

After a few minutes of chloroform sighs, he may venture on any amylnitrite blush (glass capsule broken in handkerchief and inhaled).

"Miss X.," he exclaims—"may I say Ethel?" (At this point it is as well to swallow a few nitro-glycerine chocolate tablets—strength, 1.100th of a grain. The palpitation produced is quite audible and highly recommended.)

"You must have long realized," he continues, "how deeply I admire you." (Chloroform sighs.) "Dare I hope that my presence is not altogether unpleasing to you?" If the lady appears unmoved, a small capsule of the essential oil of mustard should be snapped in the handkerchief. It will cause a perfect flood of tears when inhaled.

Lover Takes Dose.

Weeping copiously, the up-to-date swain continues: "My love for you has driven sleep from my eyes. (Caffeine.) Set my doubts and fears at rest. Will you be mine?"

The lover's next dose depends upon the lady's reply. If it is in the affirmative one or two pills of muira-puama compound will produce a fitting feeling of exaltation, or if it is in the negative an inhalation of a capsule of ethylchloride will produce total unconsciousness and an artistic swoon.

The chief drawback to this form of love-making is that the presence on the spot of a medical man is highly desirable, lest the unskilled self-administration of these drugs should result fatally.

PERSISTENT PERJURY.

British Judge Laments Glaring Untruthfulness In Court.

The British people are said to be the most litigious on earth. Judge Edge declared at the Clerkenwell County Court that in their litigation they are "glaringly" untruthful.

When giving his decision in a case, Judge Edge said, that it disclosed a "distressing amount of perjury," and he then proceeded to call attention to the necessity for an act of Parliament, to "check the glaring perjury that now goes on in the law courts."

"Perjury," he said, "is growing more and more common. It is one of the saddest features in the English life of to-day. People go into the witness-box and take the oath, knowing at the same time that they are going to make a statement which is altogether the opposite of the truth. They do this knowing there is little chance of being punished, and they lie with a coolness and deliberation which are enough to stagger one.

"Recommendations have been made by the judges, but Parliament—I do not refer to the present one more than to any other—seems to think that it is better to let perjury go unpunished rather than risk the chance of an acquittal by a jury.

"How long perjury will be allowed to go on unchecked I do not know," concluded Judge Edge.

Pearl Shells.

The best and most valuable pearl shells are called "chicken shells." They are about three or four years old and for Torres strait shells they bring 8 per cent more, while for western Australia shells they bring 12 per cent more per hundredweight (112 pounds) than first class shells.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

AWFUL CRIME ROSTER.

Long List of Violent Deeds Reported Around Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 14.—Almost simultaneously with the numerous burglaries and cases of highway robbery in this city, comes reports from throughout Allegheny and adjoining counties, of like crimes, accompanied by violence.

At Monaca, Pa., J. W. Pecwman, a motorman, was beaten with a switch bar and thrown from his car by two men.

From McKeesport comes the story of the killing of Samuel Carter, who was shot by William Taylor. The men had quarrelled over a woman.

At Monongahela, Michael Olongo, an Italian boarding house keeper, was robbed by a negro at the point of a gun, while at Butler, S. T. Leebetter, a laborer, was assaulted and robbed, and his supposed lifeless body thrown into a vacant lot.

Ray Litzinger, druggist of Monesso was attacked by a burglar in his home, and in the struggle was cut about the arms and face by a knife. The house of Frank Shutterly, a borough official, was entered and the burglar went upstairs and tried to remove a diamond ring from the finger of Shutterly's son. The young man awoke and the intruder fled.

Lying partly submerged in the waters of the Monongahela River, his throat cut, his head being almost severed, the body of Antonio Patio, 45 years of age, was found.

From Newcastle and Findlayville, Pa., come reports of men found along railroad tracks. At the former place a man was found with a fractured skull beneath a 40-foot trestle. The other case was a dead body found along the railroad tracks.

PRODUCING PIG IRON.

Steel Company Starts One of Their Furnaces At Sydney, C. B.

Sydney, C. B., Nov. 14.—Affairs at the plant of the Steel Co. have taken a decided turn for the better within the past 48 hours. Yesterday one of the blast furnaces was started, coke manufactured from coal brought from Sydney mines being used. The furnace will be producing pig-iron to-day. In a day or two a second furnace will be started, and it is believed that by the close of the week the best part of the plant will be in full operation.

A message was received in the city from Senator Cox. He expressed the hope that when the directors of both companies get together in Montreal to-day that satisfactory arrangements will be made for the carrying out of the work.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. are reported to have received order from the Canadian Pacific Railway for twenty thousand tons of rails.

Sen. Cox Herald of Peace.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—There were signs of peace yesterday instead of the warlike tone which prevailed all day Monday in the steel-coal difficulties. Hon. George A. Cox reached the city yesterday, and soon began the work of endeavoring to bring together the conflicting interests. The opinion prevails that a settlement will be reached to-morrow, on the basis of an increased rate.

DROWNED FROM A SKIFF.

Joseph Bawden of Kingston Falls Out of Skiff.

Kingston, Nov. 14.—Joseph Bawden went out into the harbor in a skiff yesterday afternoon, and about 3.30 the boat was found floating around with his coat and hat in it.

The deceased was formerly editor of The Kingston News, and subsequently studied law, in which profession he has been for many years a practitioner in this city.

When the bondholders of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway arranged that the road should be placed in the hands of a receiver a few years ago, Mr. Bawden was chosen to act in that capacity.

Mr. Mathison Banqueted.

Belleville, Nov. 14—One of the most brilliant social events seen in this city for many years was the banquet tendered last night by the Canadian Imperial Club of Belleville, to Mr. Robert Mathison, who to-day retires from the office of superintendent of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, an office he has held for 21 years. Mr. Mathison retires to take the office of supreme secretary of the I. O. F. Among the diners were several distinguished visitors. Mr. Mathison's speech in reply to "Our Guest" was eloquent and feeling.

Wants to Build Road.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—W. F. Rittenhouse, Chicago, to whose generosity the Government owes the provincial experimental farm at Jordan, had a conference with Hon. Nelson Monteith and Hon. W. J. Hanna yesterday. He wishes to build a model piece of country macadam road from the railway at a point where a station may eventually be established, to the lake, a distance of a mile and a half. He has already built a bridge on the way. He secured figures from the commissioner of good roads, and will arrange to carry out his plans.

Fire on Cunarder Caronia.

Queenstown, Nov. 14.—On the arrival of the Cunard Line steamer Caronia off Roche's Point, at the entrance of the harbor, yesterday, it was reported that fire had broken out on board, but that it was extinguished

BETTER UNDERWEAR

For Family Colds.

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

THE ANNUAL ROMANCE.

They met beside the tossing waves,
This summer lad and miss,
The first eve 'neath the glistening moon
They sat somewhat like this.

The second evening Cupid came,
And life was filled with bliss,
Fair Luna smiled as she looked down
And saw them like this.

October came around, and so
This summer lad and miss
Broke all the tender vows they made,
And then they sat like this.

Arithmetical History.

Mrs. Russell Sage often speaks of the days before her marriage, when she taught school.

In an address that she made last winter before a charitable society Mrs. Sage said:

"That method of giving was not satisfactory, was it? So vague and uncertain were its results indeed that I was reminded of the answer that a pupil of mine once made in a history lesson.

"'How many wars,' I asked this pupil, 'did England fight with Spain?'

"'Six,' she answered.

"'Six?' said I. 'Enumerate them, please.'

"'One, two, three, four, five, six,' said the little girl."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Very Little to Say.

"Yes," said Bragg, "I've decided to have a long talk with the boss and tell him just what I think."

"Is it possible?" replied Knox.

"Why, don't you believe I've got the nerve to tell him what I think?"

"Oh, yes! But if you tell him just what you think how are you going to have a long talk?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Counter Irritant.

"Have you made arrangements to prevent fraud in the election?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I couldn't quite manage that, but I've done the next best thing to defeat the opposition's inquiry. I've made arrangements that'll make their fraud so insignificant by comparison that it won't be noticed."—Washington Star.

Friends No More.

"Do you believe that disease germs are transmitted by kisses?"

"I don't think they are."

"That young man who came to see me last night has a theory that they are."

"Don't you believe it. He was just lying to you to keep you from kissing him good night."—Houston Post.

Taking In the Coin.

"Talking about inventions," said the business man, "I have a little machine in my place that would make me a millionaire if I could only keep it going all the time."

"What is it?"

"A cash register."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Scientists have discovered that the memory is stronger in summer than in winter. Among the worst foes of memory are too much food, too much physical enterprise and, strangely enough, too much education.

Passing of Euclid.

It may perhaps be news to many of our readers that geometry is now imparted to the youthful mind without the assistance of the great geometrician of Alexandria, and that the familiar formula "first four books of Euclid" has now no meaning in examinations at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. For some time past we have been the only European nation that has preserved Euclid as a school book, or condemned the rising generation to learn geometry from a work which, as has been well said, was written for Greek men, not British boys. His antiquated methods, the ruthless adherence to the strict letter of his theorems and problems which was exacted from the neophant, have at last broken down, and so geometry is now taught as a living and applied science, which meets us in all daily emergencies, instead of as an old Greek book, and arithmetic and algebra are being humanised also; the young engineer, with his manifold requirements and limited time, has set the pace. Some of us will say, in parody of Byron, "Then farewell, Euclid, whom I hated so." But others will remember that with all the old gentleman's faults he provided a splendid mental training in deductive logic, and that Sir Alexander Cockburn, before delivering judgment in an intricate case, used to brace his faculties by working through the forty-seventh proposition of the first book.—London Globe.

Result of High Collars.

That high collars tend to produce nervous headaches among both men and women is the most recent discovery of a well-known Viennese physician. Quite accidentally the doctor's attention was directed to the very high and very tight style of collar worn by a patient who was always complaining of headaches and giddiness. The collar was laid aside, thus removing the compression of the neck, and the patient's headaches and giddiness disappeared. Struck by this result, the doctor paid particular attention to this kind of collars worn by his "headache patients," and in very many instances the change to lower and easier-fitting collars brought immediate relief. In the case of women wearing high stiff neckbands it was found that doing away with these had a similarly beneficial result. The doctor declares that nobody with any tendency to headache should wear high collars.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Violins.

Violins vary more with weather than any other musical instrument.

Knighthood.

Knighthood was intended to serve as a mark of distinction for deeds of renown and merit. Knight properly signifies a person who, for his virtue and martial prowess, is raised from the rank of gentleman into a higher class of dignity and honor.

Greatest Alpine Avalanche.

The greatest Alpine avalanche was that which in 1827 swept away the town of Biel and killed nearly ninety persons.

Lord and Lady.

Lord and lady are the modern forms of hlafdian and hlaford, bread giver and breadwinner. The term scarlet is a modification of the Persian word for a bright red, sakarlat, applied to the garmaz, or cochineal, from whose dried body a vivid red dye is obtained.

Elections.

The earliest election of which the numbers polled have been preserved is that at Lincoln, England, in 1547. At this eighty-four "voices" were cast.

Haitian Diplomacy.

Once upon a time a president of Haiti, being in doubt as to how to deal with two Swiss subjects, inquired of his foreign minister, "Has Switzerland any navy?" On being answered in the negative the two Swiss were cast into prison forthwith.

The Alabama.

The famous Alabama was afloat twenty-two months. In that time she destroyed fifty-one vessels.

Sandwich Filling.

A delicious sandwich mixture for afternoon tea or luncheon is made of an equal amount of cold chicken and tongue chopped up very finely in a bowl. To this add a dozen large olives, stoned, and half a dozen hard boiled eggs. Chop this until it is as fine as possible, and then mix in enough mayonnaise to make a thick paste. Spread this upon thin white bread and butter, and you will confess it is as good as it sounds.

THOUGHT COLD WOULD TURN TO CONSUMPTION

READ HOW DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP CURED

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 28th, 1906.

The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs: As I am one of the thousands that have been benefited by your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I thought it my duty to give you a description of my case. "I am 19 years of age and was always in the best of health until last spring when I caught a severe cold by going about with wet feet. It settled in my chest and all the remedies I tried would not stir it. My friends began to fear it had turned to consumption and were advising me to go east and see a specialist. One day my father brought home a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I laughed at the idea of it being any good and refused to take it, and only as a last resource would I. When I had finished one bottle I had only a slight cold left and before I had taken a quarter of the next I was as well as ever I was, if not better, so you can see what a God-send this medicine was to me. I never fail to recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to my friends and they all use it. To show my full appreciation of this remedy I will gladly answer any letters in reference to it. Believe me. Sincerely yours,

Miss Winnifred D. Smith.

Pandora Range

OVEN THERMOMETER. NO "BAD LUCK" BAKING DAYS.

Twenty degrees difference in the temperature of an oven is sufficient to make "Good Luck" or "Bad Luck" in baking many kinds of food.

The heat in the oven of a range not fitted with a thermometer, or worse, fitted with a poor instrument, will easily vary twenty degrees—result is unpalatable, burned or half-baked food, a cross cook and a disappointed family at meal time.

Thermometer fitted in oven door of "Pandora" range has been a proven success for fifteen years, and every instrument is carefully adjusted, and tested by heat, before sending out—the first, best and only thermometer which is of any real value to those who do baking.

"Pandora" range is handsome, economical on fuel and a perfect baker.

Sold by all enterprising dealers. Booklet free.

PLANS FOR CHEAPER POWER ARE UNDER CONSIDERATION

Two Important Conferences In Toronto On Wednesday.

HON. A. BECK GIVES PRICES

Toronto Will Get Power at Not More Than $17.50 Per Horsepower, and It May Be as Low as $14, Including the Sinking Fund — Draft Bylaw For Submission to the People Was Discussed.

Toronto, Nov. 15—Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, yesterday morning made the important statement that electric power supplied to Toronto, from 50,000 down to 25,000 horsepower, according to the quantity required, would not cost the municipality more than $17 to $17.50 per horsepower, 24-hour power, and might be as low as $14 per horsepower. These figures include sinking fund, and are the total estimated cost of electric power to the city. The original figures, which were given in the report of the first commission, were from $16.53 to $17.15 per horsepower, but they did not provide for a sinking fund. The latest figures quoted mean power ready to be distributed in Toronto.

Municipalities Meet.

An important conference took place in Hon. Mr. Beck's office yesterday morning between the chairman and the executive of the Western Ontario Municipalities Niagara Power Union. Prior to the conference there was an executive meeting in the City Hall, where the outsiders were joined by Mayor Coatsworth. They then proceeded to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission headquarters.

The deputation consisted of the following: Ald. J. H. Fryer, Galt, president of the union; Ald. J. W. Lyon, Guelph, secretary; Mayor Coatsworth, Toronto; Mayor F. Clare, Preston; Mayor John Butler, Woodstock; D. B. Wood, Brantford; D. B. Delweiter, Berlin. Engineer P. W. Sothman and Solicitor A. F. Lobb were also present.

In Session Two Hours.

The conference lasted nearly two hours. When it was concluded a statement was given to the press. It was said that the discussion had been as to the details of a proposed bylaw to be submitted to the people, and that, in view of the draft of the bylaw not having been completed, this was all that would be given out about it at present. The conference will resume next Tuesday at 10.30 in the City Hall, when the draft bylaw will be considered.

The statement about Toronto's power was made by the chairman of the commission, who said that the figures of the first commission had been confirmed. He said that London, his own city, would obtain power at a price probably a little lower than $20.

AGAINST NFLD. FISHERMEN.

Newfoundland Government to Issue Writs—British Cruiser's Assurance.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 15.—A colonial fishery inspector, with the Government's lawyer from St. John's, was to issue writs yesterday for the prosecution of colonial fishermen at Bay of Islands and Bonnet Bay for joining American vessels in fishing operations.

The trials will be conducted at both places in order to demonstrate to the fisher folk what the Government's intentions are.

The colonial authorities strongly resent the attitude of the commander of the British cruiser Brilliant, who has assured the fisher-folk that the Anglo-American modus vivendi will protect them.

Steamer Strathmore Wrecked.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 15.—The steamer Strathmore, owned by George Plunkett of Cobourg, is wrecked on Michipicoten Island. The boat is reported to be a total wreck, and the crew in bad shape. A tug has gone to their assistance.

WIND SPASMS, AND SICK HEADACHE

Bileans a Certain Cure.

It is not the food you swallow which does you good. It is the food you digest. When the digestive apparatus becomes deranged, only part of your food is digested, the rest simply decomposes. This causes gas which inflates the stomach, causing belching, pain and sometimes (by pressing upon the heart) palpitation. The foul gas so generated fills the blood with poisons and is carried to the brain. Headache, nausea, dizziness, and sometimes blurred vision results.

Now Bileans correct all these evils. They stimulate the gastric flow, and the stomach is thus enabled to digest all the food taken. They gently open the bowels, so that accumulated impurities are expelled. They purify the blood, clearing it of poisons, etc.

Mr. H. S. Sharkey, Petrolea, Ont., says:—"I suffered severely from sick headache and dizziness, and had a constant mist before my eyes. A friend advised me to try Bileans, and a short course made me feel like a new being. I shall always keep Bileans handy, for they are a splendid household medicine."

Mr. B. Haines, of Shortreed, B. C., says:—Bileans cured my wife of sick headache when other remedies had failed." Bileans are purely vegetable, and entirely superior to older medicines containing mercury, bismuth and other mineral poisons. They also cure liver and kidney troubles, constipation, piles, anaemia, debility, rheumatism, female ailments and irregularities, blood impurities. They tone up the system and enable it to throw off colds, chills, etc. All druggists sell at 50c. a box, or post paid from Bilean Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes $2.50.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 15.—Frederick McRae, a resident of Little Sands, hanged himself yesterday afternoon. He was released from an insane asylum a week ago.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 15.—Myrtle, the 7-year-old daughter of William Neal, who resides near this city, was shot and killed late Tuesday near her home by an unknown hunter.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 15.—The steamer Tartar has arrived at quarantine from Hong Kong, with 700 Hindus. It is feared there will be opposition to their landing at Vancouver.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—John Torrance of Montreal has been appointed delegate for Canada on an important commission to enquire into shipping rings and their effect upon British commerce.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The writ for East Hamilton bye-election will be issued this morning. The nomination day is set for Tuesday, the 27th inst. Polling will take place a week later, Tuesday, Dec. 4.

Sarnia, Nov. 15.—At the Empire Salt Co. Tuesday afternoon, Robert A. Wanless, superintendent of the works, was fitting an iron pipe when he fell from the ladder to the floor, 25 feet. He died yesterday morning.

London, Nov. 15.—The lord mayor of London, Sir William Treloar, and the corporation of the city, gave a luncheon at the historic Guild Hall yesterday, in honor of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway.

Findlay, Ohio, No. 15.—Late yesterday afternoon Prosecutor David admitted that the grand jury had voted an indictment against John D. Rockefeller on the charge of violating the Valentine Anti-Trust Act.

Unionville, Nov. 15.—George F. Stiver, farmer in Markham Township, was found dead in his wagon at the Townline Hotel. The cause was hemorrhage of the brain. He is survived by a widow and large family.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—The report from Vancouver that seven marines were killed near Kamloops by a rear-end collision on the C.P.R. is exaggerated. One of the train crew was killed, two men seriously injured and nine slightly.

New York, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons, and of the woman's branch of the International Medical Missions, died at her home yesterday, aged 79 years.

Woodstock, Nov. 15.—James Currie, arrested early Wednesday morning, near his home in New Durham, on a charge of rape, has confessed to his share in the deed, and has implicated Charles O'Brien, arrested on Monday morning.

New York, Nov. 15.—After four months' continuous hiccoughing Antonio Rugganiello of Port Chester died yesterday in a hospital at that place. He hiccoughed until the last, despite the best efforts of the physicians. He was 22 years old.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 15.—An exceedingly sharp earthquake was felt south and north of this island at eleven o'clock Tuesday night. It was followed immediately by a second shock, which was the heaviest experienced here in many years.

Lindsay, Nov. 15.—John Farrell, a young man of Valentia, Tuesday became weak and fell out of the open barn door to the ground, a distance of about ten feet. It was found that his skull was fractured in two places. He is in the Ross Hospital here in a low condition.

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Chas. Mowry, aged 31 years, and her three children, Homer, aged 6 years; Louise, aged 3 years, and a baby of 6 months, were burned to death early yesterday in their home on a farm at Batavia station, on the Lake Shore Railroad, near here.

St. Thomas, Nov. 15.—Charles Revell, the Dundas man accused of committing an indecent offence upon Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, Wallaceburg, an imbecile, was dismissed yesterday, the physician declaring she was not an imbecile. The police do not know what to do with the woman.

St. Catharines, Nov. 15.—Charles Lahey, who resides on the Old England farm between Thorold and Stamford, when he went home from attending the theatre here Tuesday night found his barns in ruins. A valuable span of horses, sixty tons of hay and all the farm implements were also burned.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 15.—A herd of a dozen caribou on the I. C. R. track, near Moncton, stopped the northbound express. As the train drew near they walked on the track and stood there, apparently too bewildered to move. The train had to be stopped and the whistle tooted several minutes before the line could be cleared.

Myrtle, Nov. 15.—While drawing a wagon load of onions and potatoes to Oshawa over the C.P.R. crossing, at the crossing north of Raglan, John White, was struck and instantly killed Tuesday by the C.P.R. local from Havelock, due in Toronto at 10.25. He was driving a heavy load and could not see the train approaching, owing to the curve at this point.

"Life" Convicts Escape.

Cronstadt, Russia, Nov. 15.—Twenty-five sailors, who were sentenced to hard labor in the mines for life, after having been convicted of participation in the August mutiny, escaped Tuesday night, while awaiting deportation.

They were allowed to visit the baths, under an escort of 16 soldiers, and overpowered and disarmed the guard, killing one man. Only one has been recaptured.

W. C. T. U. Raises Fees.

London, Nov. 15.—The whole morning session yesterday of the provincial W. C. T. U. was taken up by the discussion of a motion by Mrs. Thornley of London to raise the membership fee from sixty cents to one dollar. The motion was finally carried almost unanimously.

At the afternoon session a number of addresses were delivered.

Bond Memorial Fund.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—As a memorial to the late Archbishop Bond, it has been decided to endow a chair of New Testament history in the Montreal Diocesan College, and for this purpose a fund of $40,000, to be known as the Archbishop Bond Memorial Fund, will be raised.

THE FERNIE STRIKE.

Miners Turn Down Agreement With Crow's Nest Coal Co.

Fernie, B. C., Nov. 15.—The settlement of the coal strike arrived at by Manager Lindsey and the board members of the union Tuesday night was most unanimously turned down yesterday by the men, and President Sherman and the board members, Patterson and Burke, left on tonight's train to meet President John Mitchell at Minneapolis to further consider the matter.

There is much uneasiness throughout Alberta towns as a result of the scarcity of coal.

Shot By Montreal Footpads.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Richard Grigg of 345 Parliament street, and Mrs. Grigg left yesterday morning for Montreal, having receiving a telegram that their son, Horace, had been shot by footpads in Montreal the previous night.

The young man, who is about 21, was until 18 months ago with the R. Simpson Co. here, and was sent to the Montreal branch.

It is reported that he was waylaid, and on refusing to give up his valuables, was shot three times.

Dr. Guerin Retires.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—Dr. Guerin announced yesterday morning that he would accept the decision of the Liberal convention, and would not run in St. Ann's, so the nominations yesterday were: St. Ann's, Liberal, J. C. Walsh, lawyer, and Conservative, F. J. Curran; St. Mary's, Mederic Martin, Liberal, and Joseph Ainey, Labor-Liberal.

Seven Years For Jansen.

Port Arthur, Nov. 15.—Judge O'Leary sentenced Waldren Jansen, a Dane, to seven years in Kingston penitentiary for highway robbery yesterday. He, with his brother, had knocked down a man named Mooney between this place and Fort William and robbed him of $60.

C. P. R. CHARGED.

Alleged to Be Giving Coal Preference —Telephone Tariff.

Ottawa, Nov. 15—The Railway Commission has issued orders for the investigation of complaints against the C. P. R., emanating from the west. The allegation is that the preference is given to coal traffic as against the wheat traffic.

The telephone companies have been given three months' extension of time in which to file their tariffs.

Presents For Mr. Mathison.

Belleville, Nov. 15.—The staff and pupils of the Deaf and Dumb Institute said farewell to R. Mathison, the retiring superintendent, yesterday afternoon. Many citizens of Belleville were present.

Mr. Mathison was presented with an address, beautifully illuminated and bound, from the staff, another from the pupils, and another from the members of the Ontario Deaf Mutes' Association, of which he is president.

An address was also presented to Miss Annie Mathison from her Sunday school class.

The recipients made feeling replies.

The City Requires Its Resources For More Important Measures

Another "One of the Three" Aldermen Says Steam Heating Proposition is a Poor Vehicle for Operation on Municipal Ownership Principle.

RATEPAYERS' MONEY WILL BE TIED UP

It will be Required to Purchase Lighting Plant in About Five Years — A Proposal Which Would Not Benefit Most of the People.

"A poor vehicle for municipal ownership" is the opinion of one of the aldermen who, on Monday night, voted against the proposition to take over the district steam heating as a municipal enterprise. To an Examiner reporter who called upon him last night, the alderman in question gave some reasons in support of the stand he had taken on Monday night, and which stand, he emphatically stated, he intends to maintain.

Inadvisable to Undertake It.

Until the night of the meeting he said he had been prepared to support the municipal ownership idea in connection with the scheme in fact, he had gone to the meeting with that purpose in view. After carefully considering the proposition as it was expounded on Monday night, he had changed his opinion and voted as he did, believing that in the best interests of the city it would be decidedly inadvisable to embark upon any such municipal enterprise as proposed.

Had Studied the Problem.

He stated that he had been studying the municipal ownership problem for thirty-seven years and was heartily in favour of public ownership. He believed that the chief thing to be considered in municipal ownership was what would benefit the greater number. For instance, he would be thoroughly in sympathy with a proposition to have the city acquire the lighting system, which would leave the municipality in a position to supply the masses with light at cheap rates. He also was of the opinion that the city should secure water power to enable them to obtain factories to give employment to working men. These things would be of direct and material benefit to the great masses of the citizens.

Would not Benefit the Masses.

No such argument could, however, be drawed in support of public ownership of the heating system. It could not be claimed that it benefitted the masses for the reason that by far the largest proportion of the city's population would not use the system. Only the business places, churches, etc., and a few of the larger residences would use the steam heat. The working man could not entertain the idea of employing such a system to heat his house, because he would have to provide radiators, etc., things which he could not afford to purchase.

Would Tie Up $50,000.

The alderman advanced the further argument against municipal ownership of the system, that it would be tieing up $50,000 of the city's money for years, which would be needed for other far more important enterprises. The Peterborough Light and Power Company's franchise for street lighting will have run out at the end of seven years, when the city will undoubtedly want to go into the lighting business itself. This would likely be laid before the people some time before the expiration of the franchise and would necessitate the outlay of probably $150,000. The $50,000 invested in the steam heating enterprise would hardly be paying interest in that time. In view of the expenditure for the municipal control of lighting, should $50,000 be thrown away upon such a scheme as the steam heating business?

Not More Than 200 Subscribers.

The alderman was of the opinion that at the end of five years there would not be more than two hundred users of the district steam heating system. In Lockport, where the system has been in operation for nearly thirty years, and has, according to the company, been perfected for sixteen years, there are

HANDED NOTE TO CASHIER, THEN LOOTED THE BANK

(Examiner Special.)

Newton, Kas., Nov. 14.—The Midland National Bank in this city was robbed in a most sensational manner yesterday afternoon about 3.15 o'clock. The robber entered the bank, handed a note to the assistant cashier, H. H. Suderman, informing the latter that he proposed to rob the bank, and warning him to make no outcry, levelled a pistol at Suderman.

The robber then compelled him and the bookkeeper, with two customers, one a woman, to go into the bank vault, which he locked. He then rushed to the money drawer, seized a package of currency, said by the bank officials to have contained $1,000, and, pistol in hand, dashed out at the rear of the bank through several offices and past several men into the alley, where he was soon lost to view. The people in the vault were released before any had suffered severely. The robbery was a particularly bold one, as people were entering and leaving the bank, and scores of people were standing in front of the bank. The officers are looking for the robber, but he has probably made good his escape.

ILLEGAL SHOOTING OF DEER REPORTED IN NORTH

Ketchecum Lake Party Returned Last Night From Their Lodge --Gooderham Hunters Killed Deer Out of Season.

LOCAL PARTY SECURED SIXTEEN DEER

The Ketchecum Lake Hunt party returned to the city after a most successful and enjoyable outing at their lodge at Ketchecum Lake. A member of the party gave The Examiner some decidedly interesting information about the club's hunt this year, the practical results of which will be seen to-night, when the spoils of the chase arrive.

Go Sixteen Deer.

The party hunted for eleven days, and in that time succeeded in getting sixteen deer. They did not have an unsuccessful day, that is, they never hunted a day without getting at least one of the fleet-footed denizens of the forest. The deer obtained by the party, which consist of nine bucks and seven does, are splendid animals, and there are some very fine, well-horned heads.

Illegal Hunting.

Pencil Lake, which has usually proved to be one of the best portions of the back country for hunting purposes, had been depleted of deer by a party of hunters from Gooderham, a week before the season. It is stated that between twelve and eighteen deer had been taken out by illegal hunters. The Ketchecum party are determined to prevent such unfair methods, and it is understood that prosecutions will follow and that the case may be aired in the Police Court.

Mr. Stuart Successful.

Mr. Robert Stuart, of the Quaker Oats Co., Peterborough, as usual, secured his full complement of deer. This was due partly to the fact that Mr. Stuart was piloted by the veteran hunter, Mr. Harry Winch, and also to the fact that he is an unerring shot and never fails to bring down the quarry if within range.

Mr. Alexander Simpson, and his son, Theodore, the well-known guides, were in charge of the hunt, and their plans were so carefully prepared and so skilfully executed that not a single blank day was drawn. Mr. Simpson stated, that this was, in a measure, due to the fact that he never had a more vigilant party of watchers on the runways and lakes of Cavendish township.

The Annual Dance.

The annual dance of the Ketchecum Club, always one of the features of the hunt, was held on Saturday evening, November 10, and as usual, the people of the neighbourhood were the guests of the party. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. Among the guests were Miss Violet Simpson, Miss Olive Simpson, Miss Halpin, Miss Foley, Miss Westlake, Mrs. Nelson Windover, Mrs. Chas. Windover and sisters. Good music was provided by an orchestra composed of violin, organ and mandolin. Scotch reels, Highland flings and Irish jigs were brilliantly executed by members of the party, to the great edification and amusement of the gathering. These were given as solo numbers and brought down the house. The gathering dispersed at midnight, after a delightful evening.

The annual collection for the churches of the neighbourhood was taken up on the same night and amounted to $26.50, which amount was given to Miss Simpson, who undertook to hand it over to the proper parties.

Chef was Popular.

The chef of the party was Mr. Archie Jackson, whose cooking was pronounced equal to that of any of the nabobs of the profession who command high salaries in the city clubs. Mr. Jackson, in addition to his good work in the kitchen, was a pleasant, tuneful member of the party, and his good spirits were appreciated by all.

Barns were Burned.

During the time that the Ketchecum Lodge was occupied, the stables and barns of Mr. John Westlake, which were of a substantial character, were burned to the ground together with all his implements, vehicles and farm produce. The loss was a severe one to Mr. and Mrs. Westlake, who are very popular with the hunters of the district, and many offers of sympathy and support have been received. They are re-building at once, and the framework of a substantial new stable is already erected.

Deer Expected To-night.

The deer shot by the party are expected to-night, in charge of Nelson Windover, who is now the occupant of the Cochrane farm and who showed the party every attention.

C.P.R. LOCAL KILLED A FARMER NEAR MYRTLE

Was Crossing the Track with Load of Vegetables When the Engine Struck and Killed Him.

HORSE MET DEATH IN ACCIDENT TOO

While drawing a wagon load of onions and potatoes to Oshawa over the C.P.R. crossing, at the crossing north of Raglan, John White was struck and instantly killed yesterday by the C.P.R. local from Havelock, due in Peterborough at 8 o'clock. He was driving a heavy load and could not see the train approaching, owing to the curve at this point. The train plowed right through the waggon, killing both man and horse. Mr. White was hurled 200 feet. A quantity of the contents of the wagon were carried on the engine pilot into Myrtle, where an inquest was opened in the evening by Coroner Mallow, of Oshawa. Deceased leaves a widow and three young children. He lived one and a half miles west of Blackstock.

TOOK PHOTOGRAPH AT UNVEILING CEREMONY

Late William Switzer Unveiling Ceremony at Omemee was Photographed and Published in 'Woodman'

The Canadian Woodman, the official organ of the Woodmen of the World, this month contains a half tone, reproduced from a photograph, taken at the unveiling of the monument at the grave of the late Wilbert Switzer, at Omemee, which ceremony was attended by a number of the local members of the Order, who also assisted in the proceedings.

ALD. ADAMS OFFERED TREASURERSHIP; MAY HAVE POSITION IF HE WISHES

CITY TREASURERSHIP

ALD. ADAMS

Who was Yesterday Afternoon Offered by Finance Committee the City Treasurership.

Finance Committee Met Yesterday and Offered the Position to Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

GIVEN THE REFUSAL OF THE POSITION

Ald. Adams will in all probability be the next City Treasurer. At the meeting of the Finance Committee, held yesterday afternoon in the city clerk's office, from which, however, the representatives of the press were excluded, the matter of the appointment of a successor to Mr. Felix Brownscombe was discussed, and it is stated that the Committee, after a full consideration of the situation, decided to offer the position to Ald. Adams, who will be thus given the refusal of it, before the claims of any other applicants are considered.

Offered Position.

Ald. Adams was not present at the meeting yesterday, and it is understood that he has made no application for the position soon to become vacant, but it was represented that if it were offered to him he might accept it, and this the committee decided to do yesterday.

Council to Consider It.

It is probable that the matter will be considered to-night at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, and if that Committee favours the recommendation of the Finance Committee, a special meeting of the Council will be held in the near future to accept the resignation of Mr. Brownscombe and make the appointment of his successor.

Ald. Adams Accepts.

To-day the action of the Finance Committee was communicated to Ald. Adams, who signified his willingness to accept the position which had been offered him, and he will enter upon his duties as soon as he can arrange matters in connection with his present position.

He will hold the dual position occupied by Mr. Brownscombe, that of treasurer of the city and collector for the Water Commissioners, the members of that Board having met with the Finance Committee yesterday and concured in the decision of that body in the appointment.

Ald. Adams' salary will be the same as that given Mr. Brownscombe, $1,600 a year.

MAKING SURVEYS FOR NEW C.P.R. LINE IN SOUTH

Mr. D. Hillman, who Made Survey Here is Conducting that for C.P.R. Along Lake Ontario North Shore

COMPANY DETERMINED TO GET BUSINESS

The survey party of the C.P.R., under charge of Mr. D. Hillman C. E., has moved from Port Hope to Bowmanville, having completed the preliminary survey in the vicinity of these two towns. The line, it is stated, will be almost level, and will not anywhere exceed a grade of .3 feet in a hundred. According to the present survey the projected line will strike at the heart of every town on the lake front.

The Route.

The route is given as follows: — Through the town of Trenton it runs considerably south of the present line of the Grand Trunk continuing between the railway and the lake, through Brighton, Colborne to Cobourg, where it crosses the G. T. R. and runs north of it to Port Hope. It leaves that town just north of the present G.T.R. double track and continues close alongside that line to Newtonville, where it is only a quarter of a mile north of the G. T. R. station. It would appear that the C.P.R. is bound to build a good line along the front.

After Business.

As Mr. Hillman put it, the C.P.R. is out for business, and the line will be located to suit the passenger and freight requirements of the country through which it runs.

WILD RICE TRADE IS SATISFACTORY

Mr. W. J. Edmison, Who Handles Large Quantities of this Product is in the City on Business.

Mr. W. J. Edmison, general merchant, of Harwood, is in the city today on business, and is a guest at the National.

Mr. Edmison has a large trade connection with the city, in the line of farm products, viz., grain, potatoes, etc., and at this late time in the season will bring in a cargo of grain next week, weather permitting.

Mr. Edmison is the stand-by of the Indian population residing on the products, especially wild rice, of the above named Indians at prices satisfactory to the parties interested. He has also a plant installed that is necessary for the finishing touches essential to the production of this toothsome edible before being placed on the market.

An old resident suggests that this product of Rice Lake is something that the Quaker Oats Company ought to look into, and if properly handled would be something that would certainly be appreciated by connoisseurs. The plant referred to is the washing of the rice after it is harvvested, slightly roasting it, and after which it is palatable to the young and old, and for puddings it is a treat to all.

Event of the season, Carnival Roller Skating Rink Friday Evening. Ten prizes awarded for costumes and skating. Admission 15cts.

TWO CARPET FACTORIES NOW AND A THIRD MAY YET LOCATE HERE

Representatives of Crossley and Sons and Stoddard and Company Here with a View of Locating Works in Peterboro'

WOULD EMPLOY FROM 500 TO 600 MEN

Peterborough already has two carpet factories, but it appears that the third may come here. Representatives of the firm of Crossley and Sons, of Halifax, England, and A. F. Stoddard & Co., of Elderslie, Scotland, have been in this city within the last few days looking over the place with a view of locating a large works, which they intend to erect in Canada, in this city.

The men who were here were Messrs. Crossley and Renshaw, the respective heads of the two firms mentioned. They stated that it was the intention of the two firms referred to to amalgamate for the purpose of conducting the Canadian branch, and their principal requirement was soft water. Apart from this, however, they were out to get any other inducements that were coming in the way of exemptions from taxation, etc. The firm at first would employ 500 or 600 hands, but in a short time it would double its staff.

What They Manufacture.

The Crossleys make all kinds of carpets, while the Stoddard Company specializes tapestries and printed goods. The above-named gentlemen have held interviews with several prominent business men in this country with a view to gaining information as to the opportunities and capabilities in various districts, and they are very favourably impressed with the outlook in Canada. Their views are as yet quite indefinite, however.

Some Opposition.

Peterborough, however, is not to get this factory without a fight, the fact that within the last few months it has secured two large carpet works evidently arousing some opposition, and other cities are making bids for this works, Toronto claiming to have been able to offer better inducements, while Brantford and Sherbrooke have also been after it.

HOME WHICH INSPIRED "HOME, SWEET HOME"

Examiner Special.

East Hampton, L.I., Nov. 14.—The little thatched cottage which once was the home of John Howard Payne, the author of "Home, Sweet Home," will be destroyed and a church erected on its site, unless the citizens of the place purchase it.

Payne left town when a boy and never returned, but residents have never doubted but that this modest house was in his mind when he wrote the famous song.

THE POLICE FORCE DID QUICK WORK IN ARREST

Took William Primeau into Custody 10 Minutes After Message was Received.

MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF THEFT

To-day, William Primeau, who arrived in the city at noon from Parry Sound, was arrested on a charge of theft, in response to a telegram received by Chief Roszel, asking him to arrest the man and to hold him until an officer from Parry Sound arrived to take him back to that town, to answer the charge upon which he was arrested.

Some Quick work.

The Chief is not in possession of any of the facts connected with the offence with which he is charged, the wire being received during the afternoon, and within ten minutes after he had received the message the prisoner was in the cells, a record for quick work, which is very creditable, in view of the fact that the man wanted was a total stranger, the only means of identifying him being the description supplied in the telegram.

He will be detained until to-morrow, when it is expected that an officer from Parry Sound will be here to take him back to face the charge. The Chief has advised the Chief there of his arrest.

STOCKING FACTORY IS THE LATEST

Mr. W. Larone, of Montreal, Locates Here--Secures Premises on Water St.

Peterborough is to have another industry the prospects for which appear to be bright. The new concern is a stocking factory which will begin manufacturing in a short time. Mr. W. Lavoie, of Montreal, has come to the city for the purpose of establishing such an enterprise here, and has secured the premises at 354 Water street, and will begin operations there. Five machines are being installed by Mr. Lavoie for the manufacture of stockings. The business will not be a large one at first but promises to expand into bigger things.

"AS AN ELECTION CRY, IT MAY DO," SAYS ELECTOR

Speaking of Municipal Steam Heating— Anything to Attract Attention, is Aldermen's Idea

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir, — If the aldermen who are devoting their attention to municipal steam heating, would keep their talents for street watering, street cleaning, and snow ploughing in winter they might do something of a municipal character. Until these little problems are settled, it is useless to say that the people will allow their representatives to commit them to any such scheme as steam heating.

As an election cry, and as a pretence that it owns the whole question of municipal ownership in everything, steam heating may do—till election day. Anything that attracts attention seems to be the aim of some of our aldermen. If they are not careful they will be left at home and some old women and little boys sent in their places.

Yours, etc.,

ELECTOR.

"PAINTING THE TOWN" PLEASED MONTREALERS

What The Herald Says of the Show to Appear Here on Saturday, Nov. 17th, in the Grand

This is what the Montreal Herald of November 6th, says of "Painting the Town," which appears at the Grand on Saturday next, matinee and night, Nov. 17: "Chockful of laughter from start to finish. 'Painting the Town' has yet more than the merely funny element to recommend it. Tastefully staged, full of lively music and charmingly choruses, this pretty comedy held the Academy of Music as in a spell. It has all the best of the familiar devices of the musical comedy. Plan is open. The attraction is billed for the Gerand, Toronto, next week.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD HAVE A LARGE SURPLUS

Mr. C. C. Hodgins, M.P.P., Head Council Commander, Gives Some Figures

Mr. Al. Haskill, clerk of the local Camp of the Woodmen of the World received some interesting statistics concerning the work of the Order from Mr. C. C. Hodgins, M.P.P., of Lucan, the Head Council Commander, who paid a visit to the city yesterday.

The audit which was made up to the first of October, 1906, shows that the Woodmen of the World has a surplus of $203,221.27. The excess of assessment over death losses has been $29,061.56, while the amount paid to the beneficiaries of deceased members was $553,662.95.

The statement is creditable, and must be gratifying to the officers of this order, which is still a young one.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. D. H. Moore is in Omemee today on business.

Mr. W. Cochrane of Montreal, was in the city yesterday, attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Quinn.

Mrs. Callaghan who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Houlihan, of this city, has returned to London.

Mrs. W. Blackwell left this morning for Genoa, Italy, where she will spend some months visiting.

John Giovine, an Italian, who has been a resident of this city for some years, left to-day for his annual trip to England.

Dr. Coughlin left this morning for Belleville to take up his duties as superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, to which position he has been appointed.

Rev. Father Phelan, of Young's Point, delighted his Lindsay friends by spending a few hours with them last evening. He was the guest of Ven. Archdeacon Casey. — Lindsay Post.

M. Laybett, of the American House and Mrs. D. Sullivan, Smith street, have returned from Toronto where they were attending the wedding of Miss Mary A. Sullivan and Mr. Joseph Sullivan, formerly of Peterborough, but now of Toronto. Miss Sullivan is the daughter of Mrs. D. Sullivan.

EXPERIMENTING WITH AN EXPERIMENT.

There are many persons who believe in municipal ownership and operation of public utilities as something desirable and feasible. Little fault is to be found with this, because there is considerable justification for such a belief. There are numerous instances where this principle has been adopted and practised with success, but there are also instances where it has proved a failure, and an expensive one at that. The town of St. Mary's records a deficit of $1,500 last year on the municipal operation of its waterworks and electric lighting systems—two enterprises which should provide satisfactory results—water and light are universal needs. Every citizen requires them, and if St. Mary's could not make a business success of two utilities in such universal demand, how could it hope to escape expensive disaster by fooling with a steam heating system, applied to only a hundredth part of the area of the town? Glasgow is quoted as a city that has made a great success of municipal operation, but even there, there are those who say that the system has not been the success it is reported to have been. Peterborough has made a success of municipal operation of its waterworks system, but that can hardly be described as municipal operation. The Commissioners, who have so successfully managed our waterworks have a free hand and have applied business principles. If the waterworks had been managed in the same manner in which the affairs of the city, generally, have been managed by the City Council, in regard to our streets, especially, should we have as satisfactory results as the Water Commissioners are able to report? They have succeeded for two reasons. They were managing a public utility which is in general demand and of indispensable requirement, and they conducted their work on business principles. In no other way could citizens get a water supply and secure fire protection. It is quite different with steam heating on a "limited liability" scale—applied to a comparatively small area of the city—something the citizens, generally, could not take advantage of — but would have to pay for. Is it, therefore, wise to risk a doubly experimental enterprise and embark in a large and purely speculative expenditure of money, when there are other urgent demands for the use of money that will practically guarantee good results and meet pressing public needs? One of the "hot air" aldermen, in an interview given to an evening contemporary, asserts that steam heating by distribution through street conduits is "altogether past the experimental stage." It may be and it may not be subject to climatic conditions. Upon this point is the dictum of half a dozen aldermen who do not possess the first qualifications for forming an expert opinion upon such a subject, to be unreservedly accepted and form the basis of a scheme involving the speculative investment of from $50,000 to $75,000 of the people's money? In addition to this lack of qualification, they saw the system through the shimmer of "hot air" pumped into them by the interested parties who showed them around. A hard-headed business man who has spent practically his whole business life in connection with steam heating, declares that he would never favour municipal operation of a district steam heating system which is merely in the experimental stage. In the climate of Peterborough, he says, even in well-built houses, the cold creates the troublesome problem of condensation, and he argues that it would be worse in outside conduits, unless buried to an impracticable depth. In fine not one practical man whose opinion would carry weight, outside, of course, of the "nine worthies," can see anything to commend municipal operation of a district steam heating system to ordinary, let alone business, common sense. In a climate like that of Peterborough, the system is not a solved problem. Municipal operation of it has not been tried either. So that the situation resolves itself into this that the aldermen propose experimenting with an experiment. The alderman talking to the Review complains that "the critics of the Council's action have not grasped the point at issue." They have grasped it only too well for the success of the Council's chimerical scheme. They have grasped the fact that under some mysterious influence a section of the Council is exploiting a visionary and impracticable enterprise, to the exclusion of the consideration of legitimate enterprises, which demand all our available cash as well as reasonable credit. As pointed out yesterday, money spent for a filtering plant for the water works is something which affects the interests of every citizen, the health of every man, woman and child within our bounds. The city's lighting contract, though it has some time to run, seems, with power available, upon inexpensive development at the waterworks dam, to be a more promising field of municipal operation to look forward to. The alderman interviewed says that he and his hot air associates on the Council Board, felt the municipality should "own the system and receive the profit from the use of the streets, rather than give the streets, or what little remains to give, to a private company, to make a profit of." This reference to the streets is an unfortunate one. Have the nine councillors shown any great anxiety as to the condition of our streets? It would become them much better to advocate and practice a little rational attention to the improvement of the city streets. The success of municipal operation as applied to our streets, forbids us to expect anything but failure for a steam heating enterprise municipally conducted—it would be literally run into the ground. One can safely venture to assert that the people would infinitely prefer to vote for the spending of $50,000 or $75,000 to pave George street and expend it in a profitable way upon the improvement of our streets — something that everybody would get the benefit of—to expending like sums on a purely problematical scheme to heat a little patch of the city at the expense, very largely, of the vast majority, who could or would derive no benefit from it. The only redeeming feature in the affair is the fact that the scheme will have to be pronounced upon by the people. They will make short work of it, if not of the aldermen—if they offer themselves again—who, to the neglect of duties which lie plainly before them—interject a frivolity like the municipal operation of a steam heating scheme into municipal matters, at a time when the attention of the electors are tied up with dealing at the polls with the records of twelve aldermen and the voting upon seven or eight bylaws.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Perjury seems to crop up so frequently in connection with the investigations into election methods that there seems to be a little difficulty in basing conclusions as to responsibility upon such evidence.

The Democrats have reimported a lot of trust-made U. S. watches sold in England at prices far below the figures charged at home. Reimported they cost the committee $7.98 each: the Watch Trust charges the American purchaser $10.58. It is proposed to use these watches as object lessons on the tariff.

It is reported that the Board of Health contemplates taking a hunting expedition between now and the 15th. They have nothing else to do. They have unloaded the isolation hospital upon the broad shoulders of the city council; they have defined the duties of a sanitary inspector, and they will now go gunning for a man to fill the position.

LOST ON PRAIRIE SHE DIED IN THE SNOW

Trail of Lost Teacher Shows That She Wandered Miles Before Succumbing.

(Examiner Special.)

Denver, Nov. 16.—Searchers have found the body of Miss Laura Scott, the nineteen-year-old school teacher, of No. 1720 South Logan avenuue, who lost her way in the snow east of Parker and was frozen to death. When the body was discovered it was lying upon its back in three feet of snow. The hands were together on the breast as if in prayer.

The trail made by Miss Scott over the snow-covered prairie was fully fifteen miles long, indicating that she had not succumbed for many hours after she became lost. At times the trail was straight for miles, then it would follow almost a circle, and at other times it wold double back upon itself. She frequently stumbled into ruts and deep snowbanks, but she kept up her brave fight for life until her strength was exhausted, and then she sank in the snow after crawling on her hands and knees for some distance, to slowly freeze to death.

The trail of Miss Scott was easily followed, for not a human being or animal apparently had passed over the section she wandered about in for so many dreary, heartaching and death-ending hours since the great blizzard of a week ago. There is not a road a farm-house or fence for miles to break the unending prairie, and the picture that was painted in the young schoolmarm's mind all that long, terrible night must have presented one long chain of horror.

Miss Scott came to the Plainfield district to teach school at the beginning of the present term, boarding with the family of F. H. Parsons, four miles from Parker station. Friday, after school had closed, she went to her boarding place and told Mrs. Parsons that she was going to Parker to spend the evening and perhaps the night with Mrs. Homer Brown, sister of Agent Pennington, of the Colorado and Southern Railroad.

Instead the young woman turned down another road and went for a visit with the family of James Baldorf, who live several miles from the Parsons.

Miss Scott took dinner with the Baldorfs and at dark announced that she would return to the Parsonses. She was urged to remain over night by the Baldorfs, who told her the trip was too long for her at night and in the face of such bad roads.

"Oh, I am all right," said Miss Scott with a laugh. "I am used to rough walking and I am not afraid. I will cut across the prairie and be home in a short time."

That was the last time Miss Scott was seen alive. After leaving the Baldorfs she lost her way and went to her death many hours later.

City Requires Its Resources only about six hundred subscribers.

He thought that Peterborough should allow some other city to do the experimenting with the heating system, from the municipal standpoint. Mr. McKendry himself stated at the meeting on Monday night that he did not know of a place where the municipality controlled the system of his company. Why should Peterborough do the experimenting?

Nothing Against System.

As far as the system itself was concerned, the alderman had nothing to say against the scheme. He thought, however, that a franchise should be given to a private company, with the stipulation that the city should be permitted to take over the system at the end of a number of years if they then thought it advisable to do so. Some of the aldermenm had referred to the three who voted against the municipal ownership of the system, as wanting to give away the streets of the city. He was of the opinion that some of those who took that stand had had more to do with "giving away the streets" than had members of the Council who have not been serving so long.

Would be Snowed Under.

The alderman, in conclusion, stated that he had not the slightest doubt that the proposition would be snowed under if submitted to the people. He had been talking to a large number of the ratepayers and had yet to find one who was in favour of the scheme, which he regarded as extravagant and unnecessary.

An Old Wound Would Not Heal

UNTIL THE BLOOD WAS ENRICHED BY DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD AND THE SKIN HEALED BY

It is sometimes impossible to heal an old sore because of the weak, watery condition of the blood, and this is also frequently the case with chronic eczema or salt rheum. Under such circumstances Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is recommended as a means of restoring the quality of the blood, while Dr. Chase's Ointment is used to heal the raw, flaming flesh.

The cure of an old would as described in the letter below gives an illustration of the splendid results obtained from the combined use of these medicines.

Mr. Chas. Wheeler, Grand View, Man., writes: "I am pleased to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Ointment. I had a very bad leg as the result of an old wound which I received years ago. It seemed impossible to get it healed up. As I was very much run down in health. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and build up the system, while Dr. Chase's Ointment was applied locally to heal up the old sore.

"Ten boxes of the former and six of the latter were sufficient for a complete cure, and I am glad to say I have had good health ever since. It is a year since I discontinued the treatment, so I consider the cure a permanent one."

As a means of curing eczema, salt rheum, old sores and every form of itching skin disease, there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Ointment. By its healing, soothing, antiseptic influence, it cleanses the sores, allays the inflammation, stops the itching, and heals the raw, flaming flesh.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a necessity in every home where its merits are known and is indispensable in the nursery; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 3

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 15.—Developments being favourable again this morning, an extension of improvement resulted in the stock market, but this was taken advantage of to realize, so far as a number of speculative holders were concerned and a natural recession resulted on which purchases were made again for important account and by daily traders in accord with the conservative bull stand. This policy should be continued according to our information and the best advices of large houses is to the same effect. The fundamental position is good and increases in strength while the monetary position seems to us to be improving steadily. The bank deficit has made some operators cautious, but the bank statement is not a true reflection of actual conditions.

St. Paul made a new high again to-day while U.P., S. P., Reading, Copper and the other active issues made substantial advances. We again advise our friends to get some Baltimore and Ohio for a good rise soon. The close was active and strong.

INSTITUTE OFFICERS IN CONFERENCE AT GUELPH

An Important Movement Which May Have Beneficial Effect on Industry of Agriculture in This Province.

LOCAL OFFICERS RECEIVED INVITATIONS

A conference, which promises to have an important bearing upon Farmers' Institutes of this Province, will be held in Guelph, at the Ontario Agricultural College, November 20 to 23. At this conference the presiding officer will be Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture of Ontario, and during the four days meetings, addresses and lectures will be given on topics of absorbing interest to Institute officers and to agriculturalists, generally. The programme shows that the question of dairying will be given an important place in the discussions at the various sessions. In making the announcement of the conference, Mr. Putnam, the superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, says:

With the advances which have been made in Ontario agriculture, and the increasing intelligence of the farmers regarding their vocation, it is necessary that provision be made to give the regular Institute speakers who are to instruct the farmers, and their sons, an opportunity to still better equip themselves for the work in hand. It is also well to afford men who are to attend Institute meetings as Departmental delegates for the first time an opportunity to properly prepare themselves and to start the work with a clear understanding as to the duties before them. Towards this end the Minister of Agriculture has directed the Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes to make arrangements for a conference of those who are to attend Institute meetings this winter.

Officers and members of Institutes and farmers generally are cordially invited. It is desired that those who wish to attend come the first day and remain for the full time. If, however, it is impossible to do this, arrange to come for even one or two days. For those who can remain for only a short time, the afternoon of Wednesday and the whole of Thursday will probably be found most interesting and beneficial. It is expected that a large number will be in attendance.

Those intending to take the course are requested to send their names, addresses, and the time they will be at the conference, to the superintendent.

It will be noticed from the programme that sufficient time is devoted to each topic to allow for discussion, after the addresses. All Institute lecturers should come prepared to take part in the discussions of those topics in which they are especially interested.

Please notify the superintendent if you expect to attend the conference. This is necessary in order that suitable hotel accommodation may be secured. Be sure to get certificate from railway agents at the point or points at which you purchase transportation. If fifty or more are in attendance, return fare will be only one-third of regular fare; if less than that number, the regular two-thirds fare will be charged. A representative of the Eastern Canadian Passenger Association will attend meeting to vise certifidate on November 22.

STRIVE TO CLOSE THE BAD HOTELS

Chicago City Detectives Watch Movements of Shop Girls.

(Examiner Special.)

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Shocking revelations of the character of the traffic carried on in the downtown sections of Chicago by hotels of the class known in New York as Raines-Law hotels were made to the License Committee of the City Council yesterday. The committee is considering an ordinance introduced by Mr. Comerford, the purpose of which is to rid the city of these pretended hotels.

Mrs. Alice F. Bates, Mrs. Louis Greely, Mrs. Charles Henrotin, Mrs. Wilbur Jackman and Miss Lucy Page Gaston, representing the Chicago Woman's Club, the Cook County League of Women's Clubs, and the Women's Legal Aid Society, spoke. They told the aldermen that the fate of thousands of innocent girls was bound up in the regulation of the downtown hotels and that they proposed to see safeguards thrown about them.

Miss Lucy Page Gaston in discussing the conditions surrounding underpaid shop girls made this startling announcement:

"Chief of Police Collins, at our request, recently detailed two detectives to watch a certain downtown store. Their report to him showed that in the course of a week they had traced sixty girls from that one place to the various downtown hotels. They were all accompanied by men. This thing has grown to serious proportions and is scaring the lives of hundreds of hard-pressed girls. These hotels ought to be utterly wiped out."

TWO-CENT FARE CASE.

Mr. Hays in Toronto, But Others Will Appear For Him.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Charles M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived from Montreal in the official train at 4.30 yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hays was accompanied by E. H. Fitzhugh, third vice-president of the company, and F. H. McGuigan, fourth vice-president. M. S. Blaiklock, superintendent of the eastern division, and W. D. Robb, superintendent of motive power, completed the party. The officials were met by W. G. Brownlee, superintendent of the middle division.

Mr. Hays and the third vice-president left immediately, in company with Mr. Brownlee, to inspect the Grand Trunk yards and buildings on the Esplanade.

Mr. Fitzhugh and Mr. McGuigan will attend the police court this morning to hear the case against Mr. Hays for alleged violation on the part of the company to provide a two-cent fare service between Toronto and Montreal.

Wallace Nesbitt, K. C., will appear for Mr. Hays in court, if he has returned from New York.

IT WON'T BE DROPPED.

Cockburn Property Transfer Likely to Go to Trial.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The action of the Ontario Bank against Mr. and Mrs. G. R. R. Cockburn to have set aside the conveyance of certain property upon Bay street was yesterday stated to be practically at an end, but the indications are that it will go to trial. The case arises from the sale of two lots and part of another by Mr. Cockburn to his wife for the sum of one dollar, and the solicitors who are acting for the Canadian Bankers' Association are attacking the sale as fraudulent.

When the information of the transfer became known Mr. Cockburn stated that the property had been purchased upon behalf of Mrs. Cockburn and with her own money, and that the transfer was a legal formality.

A search of the Registry Office discloses the condition that the property was purchased by Mr. Cockburn in 1870, and that the particular part of it the transfer of which is the subject of the suit remained in the name of Mr. Cockburn until after the first revelations of the Ontario Bank's affairs were made known.

KILLED IN EATON'S.

Mrs. Mary Terry Fell Down an Elevator Shaft—An Inquest Will Be Held.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mary A. Terry, wife of Herbert R. Terry, 52 Bellevue avenue, was killed by falling down an elevator shaft in the T. Eaton Co.'s store. Opinions differ as to how the accident happened. Some say she fainted, others say while stepping into the elevator on the third floor her skirt got caught when the door was closed. This pulled her back against the wire guards, which yielded to her weight, allowing her to drop to the bottom. The injuries which caused death were to the head.

The deceased was 40 years old, the mother of two girls and two boys, Mr. Terry is chief engineer for the Toronto Electric Light Co. at the Terauley street station.

Mrs. Terry was purchasing Christmas presents for friends in South Africa.

An inquest will be held to-night.

Syrian Cut to Pieces.

St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 5.—Job Dade, a Syrian, was frightfully mangled in the new paper mill here Tuesday night. The body was found in the chip screen yesterday morning cut to pieces. He fell into the 14-inch conveyor, which carries chips from the chipping machine to the screen where his life was beaten out.

Two Toronto Firemen Hurt.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Responding to an alarm from Box 31 at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Hose 16, from Richmond street Station, and Aerial 1, from Lombard street, came into collision at Church and Lombard streets. As a result, Lieut. Arthur Everist and Fireman Charles Elliott of the hose section are in St. Michael's Hospital with painful injuries to the head and shoulders.

Everist had five stitches in a scalp wound, and Elliott complains of his head paining him.

The horse which pulled the hose wagon had to be shot.

The Lyceum Arcade, where the fire was, was damaged about $50.

CHARIVARIERS SHOT.

Four Young Men Wounded by Newly-Made Irate Benedict.

Brockville, Nov. 15.—At least four young men will have occasion to remember a charivari in which they took part near Bishop's Mills, about 17 miles from Brockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, an elderly couple, were being charivaried on the night of their marriage. The boys were particularly noisy in their demonstration, and though offered money to go away, refused, saying they would return the following evening to continue the performance.

Davis, it is said, warned them to be prepared for the consequences. The gang turned up about 10 o'clock. William Hutchinson knocked on the door, which quickly swung open. As it did, Davis gave him the contents of a charge of shot from his gun. He was struck below the knee, the shot shattering the bone so badly that it is thought he will eventually lose the leg. With the remaining barrel Davis, who is a crack marksman, let drive at the fleeing companions of Hutchinson, three of whom he struck. One man was shot through the hand and the others on different parts of the body, but not seriously.

MESSRS. GRAFTON MAKE GENEROUS OFFER.

Will Donate $5,000 to City of Hamiltan for Information in Connection With the Sanitarinm There.

CONTRIBUTION BY LOCAL BUSINESS MEN

Mr. J. B. Grafton, of Hamilton, the senior member of the firm of Grafton & Co., of this city ,and his son, Mr. J. J. Grafton, have made a most generous offer to the City of Hamilton. It is told in the following article in the Hamilton Times:—

Mr. W. J. Southam, Jr., Secretary of the Hamilton Health Association, this morning received a very important offer from Messrs. J. B. and J. J. Grafton, which will be of interest to all. The letter explains itself:

W. J. Southam, Secretary Hamilton Health Association, Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I understand that a plan has been brought out for an infirmary for the sanitarium to cost about $3,000. To bring it down to the price I also understand that a good many things were left off that would add greatly to its usefulness, namely:

A fine verandah to the south; a nurses' kitchen, where special foods could be prepared for very sick patients, such as hot drinks, etc.

Mr. J. B. Grafton and I wish to contribute something of this kind to the sanitarium, and we are also willing to give $5,000 to erect such a building.

Now if these plans could be improved upon, enlarged and conveniences added to it so as to make this building come to $5,000, we would ask the privilege of contributingg it.

If it is the wish of the board and association that it should be started at once, that will be quite satisfactory, and a cheque for $5,000 will be forwarded to you as soon as you request it, to be devoted towards the building and infirmary for the sanitarium.

Yours truly,
J. J. GRAFTON.

SAID FAREWELL TO MOST POPULAR BANK CLERK

Mr. J. A. McPherson, Formerly of This City, Honoured on Leaving Lindsay to Live in Toronto.

The many friends in this city of Mr. J. A. Mcherson, who for some time was on the staff of the Bank of Montreal here, will be interested in the following taken from the Lindsay Post, indicating, as it does, the fact that Mr. McPherson was popular in Lindsay, as well as in this city:

"A numerous and jolly gathering of young men, chiefly bankers, assembled at the Benson House, on Monday evening last to bid farewell to a fellow financier, Mr. J. A. McPherson, who has occupied the position of teller at the Bank of Montreal. 'Mac' has been transferred to the Toronto branch of the above bank, and is accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends. His bank companions presented him with a handsome travelling bag, which was neatly mounted by Forbert and Forbert."

SAW MILLERS' CASE AT OSGOODE HALL

Mr. D. O'Connell of this City Acting in an Interesting Legal Tangle in North Bay Trial

The Toronto Globe, of to-day has the following legal note, which will be of interest to many persons in Peterborough:—

Still v. Hastings.—D. O'Connell, (Peterborough) for plaintiff, appealed from judgment of Mabee, J., at the trial at North Bay, withdrawing from the jury and dismissing an action for the alleged malicious prosecution of plaintiff by defendant upon a charge of theft of lumber. Plaintiff is a saw miller in the district of Parry Sound, and defendant a lumber dealer. There was a negotiation between them for an exchange of lumber, and the real question between the parties, as contended by plaintiff, was whether or not there was in fact an exchange of lumber between the parties and this question should have been put to the jury, and the Judge should not, without putting this question and others, have ruled that want of reasonable and probable cause was not shown. R. McKay, for defendant, contra. Reserved.

SIGNAL CLASSES ARE AUTHORIZED

And Will be Held in This City During the Months of March and April of Next Year

Ottawa, Nov. 15th. — Garrison classes of instruction in signalling have been authorized to be held in St. John, N.B., in March and May; Halifax, N.S., in April and May; Peterborough in March and April; Kingston in April and May; and Ottawa in January and February.

These classes which will not exceed a period of six weeks, will commence upon dates fixed by the officers holding the higher commands. One officer and non-coms. will be detailed by the Assistant Adjutant General of Signalling, as instructors for each class, and he will make the necessary arrangements for examinations at the termination of the period. Officers and non-coms. will be allowed to attend the day classes should vacancies exist and draw pay and allowances.

The evening classes will be confined to members of the active militia, without allowances.

PETERBOROUGH LADY THE ONLY COMPLAINANT

In the 27 Years R. Mathieson was Head of Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville

Mr. R. Mathieson, who is retiring after 27 years' service as superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville, was given a farewell dinner on Tuesday night, and in his address, in reply to a toast, of which he was the subject, he referred to the only complaint which had been made during the 27 years. Speaking of it, he said: "During the 27 years I have been at the Institute, only one complaint has been made. A lady in Peterborough, because five years ago I would not dismiss a faithful nurse —who was with us for fifteen years —for an alleged offence I judged unfounded, was the complainant. Afterwards the same lady sent us another little one to care for. Also, because the same lady, staying at the Institution with her two children, being late for the ordinary breakfast, did not think what was given them was good in quality or sufficient in quantity.

WANTS A NEW CROSSING AT MURRAY ST. CORNER

North End Citizen Thinks Concrete Crossing Should be Laid at This Corner This Fall—His Reasons.

A citizen who lives in the north end of the city has a complaint to lay against the action of the Council in laying concrete crossings on the back streets of the city, and allowing George street to remain as they have been for years. He referred to the crossing at the corner of Murray and George streets, crossing George, and pointed out that it was in a disgraceful condition, a hole in the centre of the road making it dangerous for pedestrians to cross the street in the dark, and he suggested that, since, in the summer particularly, this crossing was used a great deal by persons visiting Victoria Park, the Board of Works take into their consideration the advisability of laying a concrete crossing at this point, in case the work on crossings has not been suspended for the season.

LAST DAY FOR TAXES AND MANY ARE PAYING THEM

By To-Night a Comparatively Small Amount will Remain Unpaid, Says Tax Collector Green

This is the last day of grace for those unfortunates who have to pay taxes, the second installment of city fees being due to-day. The tax collector states that during the last few days the money has been coming in very well, and there will not be a large sum left unpaid after to-night. The inclination on the part of the ratepayers to pay their taxes within the time limit indicates a prosperous condition, so far as the wage-earners of the city are concerned.

The portion of taxes left unpaid after to-night will be the hardest to collect. This is the invariable experience of the collector, but he does not anticipate any particular trouble in gathering it in.

THE MANUFACTURERS HONOUR THEIR PRESIDENT

Mr. W. C. Ackerman One of the 230 Subscribers to Complimentary Banquet to C. E. Ballington at Montreal on Tuesday.

UNITY OF ALL THE CANADIAN SECTIONS

Mr. W. C. Ackerman, of this city was one of the 200 subscribers to the banquet tendered by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to the retiring president of the association, Mr. C. C. Ballentyne, at the Canada Club, on Tuesday night. The gathering was, in many respects one of the most notable in the history of Montreal, a city where perhaps more interesting gatherings have been held than in any other city in Canada. A large number of the leading manufacturers of Canada attended the banquet which was also graced by the presence of a number of the ministers of the Crown. In his reply to the toast in his honour Mr. Ballentyne gave utterance to sentiments which will find echoes in every Canadian breast. In part he said:—

"If there is any one principle which the association has stood for, and which during my term of office I am endeavouring to emphasize, it is the fact that we should encourage in Canada a broad Canadian citizenship, hand in hand with hearty national sentiment.

"What has been accomplished in the way of uniting the scattered provinces of our great country and establishing a community of interests between business men in every portion of it, to say nothing of the strong imperial sentiment which radiates beyond our own shores, may never to fully put into words; but it is enough to say that at a time when Canada needed self-reliance, when her people had wearied themselves of looking to Washington for commercial favours, this association rose above the difficulties of the hour, and has instilled into its own members and the Canadian people as a whole, those principles which have done so much to make us what we are to-day."

AN INTERESTING CONTEST BETWEEN Y.M.C.A. BOYS

Black and White Teams will Engage in Contests Until Dec. 1st—The Teams and Leaders

A novel contest for new members is now now in the Y.M.C.A., in the Boys' Department. It will run until 12 o'clock on December 1st, there being two sides, Black and White, captained respectively by M. Turner and Grant Potter.

Every dollar counts a point, and the side securing the larger number by the date mentioned wins. A banquet will conclude the contest.

Every boy who brings in ten points will be given a skating rink ticket for 1906-07 free.

The sides are made up as follows:

Black — M. Turner, G. Freeland, M. Adams, G. Cross, Harold Hill, V. Mitchell, Holland Hill, A. Bravender, P. Stock, A. Gilbert, B. Lees.

White — G. Potter, H. Payne, S. Pringle, H. Lees, D. White, V. Miller, C. Bartlett, H. Wallis, A. Ackerman, H. Matthews, and W. Fortye.

APPLE SAUCE IS SERVED ON CHARLOTE STREET

Runaway Collides with Load of Apples—Barrel Emptied on the Street

A lively runaway occurred this afternoon which caused some excitement at the time. A farmer's hay rack was standing in front of the Fuel and Cartage Company's office on Charlotte street when as the owner was starting off, the horses took fright at something, probably the electric car, which had passed. They dashed out Charlotte street, but the farmer had them well in hand when, unfortunately, he dropped the right line, and the horses bounded away again. They swerved to the left, as the other check was gone, and at the corner of Lewis and Charlotte streets they crashed into another farmer's rig that was going east on Charlotte street. This rig belonged to a Springville farmer and was loaded with three barrels of apples. The shock upset the last barrel into the street, strewing apples all around. The Springville man's shaft was also smashed. When the two wagons met, the driver of the team which was doing the runaway stunt was hurled into the muddy street, where he lit on all fours. Although somewhat bruised he got up and started after his team and wagon which had started again and were well on their way out Charlotte street. They were watched till they disappeared beyond Park street. It was learned later that they turned at Boswell avenue still going at a 2.27 1-2 clip. In the meantime the Springville farmer made the best of the accident and unhitched his horses, taking them to a nearby stable. He gathered up some of his apples, nearly all of which had been spilled over the road, and took his wagon to be repaired. The small boys, as usual, were on the job and picked up the apples.

ACT OF VANDALISM AT HASTINGS

Hallowe'en Pranks Which May Yet Result Seriously for the Perpetrators of the Deeds

The Hastings Star says: On Hallowe'en some parties as yet unknown, entered the Separate school, through a window, and committed an act of rowdyism that should be severely dealt with, if the perpetrators can be found out. Besides leaving obscene writing on the blackboard, they overturned the stove, pulled down the pipes, and stole a small sum of money from the teacher's desk, and left a dead animal in it. It was supposed this was the work of the small boys, but it is our own personal opinion that it was the work of boys who are no longer at school, and every effort should be made to bring them to book.

MISS McCLELLAND

The Expert Corsetierre of Bias Corsets will be at our store each day of next week (Nov. 19th to 24th) in order to meet with, and demonstrate to each of our lady customers and their friends the many salient features of Bias Filled Corsets. Those we already know of are:

COMFORT:

No need to dwell upon the discomfort of an ill-made or badly fitting Corset. Every lady knows exactly how annoying it is when the Corset bends at the side and refuses to come back to the original shape. Most straight filled Corsets either bend or break within a few weeks. BIAS FILLED CORSETS will not break or bend out of shape. They adapt themselves to the figure so easily and with such comfort that women who wear them for the first time invariably imagine they are wearing a larger size than usual. Not so, however. It is simply that the BIAS FILLING follows the curves of the body, so that its movements are as free as they would be if the Corsets were not worn at all.

SUPPORT:

BIAS FILLED CORSETS are made in every size and modeled to fit every style of figure. Whilst there are no wide, heavy steels to press on the sides, the BIAS FILLING is scientifically arranged on each size and style to give the most support with the least resistance. Thus, support and absolute comfort are at once secured.

A BOON TO THE STOUT:

After wearing a pair of BIAS FILLED CORSETS not one lady in a hundred will ever go back to the old style of straight filling. More especially will this be so of the stout ladies. No Stout lady has ever known absolute comfort and freedom of body movement unless she has worn a pair of BIAS FILLED CORSETS. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials from all over Canada. The best Corsets ever made with straight filling does not equal the cheapest grade of BIAS FILLED. To sum up, they are admitted to be the crowning point of Corset excellence.

WHAT ABOUT THE PRICE, THOUGH?

Some women don't mind how much they spend on a pair of Corsets, but the vast majority have to be very careful. With this point in view, BIAS FILLED CORSETS are made to sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.50 and upwards.

Lindsay Man Struck Rich Find In Cobalt Silver Mine

S. S. Ritchie's Romance in the North Country Interestingly Told—Left Lindsay Some 12 Years Ago for New Ontario.

INTERESTED IN THE TEMISKAMING AND HUDSON BAY MINES

The Lindsay Post has an interesting story of the experiences of a former citizen of that town, in the Cobalt region, where he has been engaged in mining operations, and, apparently, made a success of it. Mr. Ritchie, the gentleman referred to, is quite well known in Peterborough, in view of which fact the article describing his experiences in the land of silver will be read with considerable interest here. The Post says:—

"As it is not generally known that Lindsay (through a well known citizen) is rather intimately connected with the early and present history of the now world famous town of Cobalt, in New Ontario, the facts will no doubt prove of interest to our readers. Twelve years ago Mr. S. S. Ritchie sold out his dry goods business here and removed to New Ontario with his wife and family of nine boys. He took up land at the head of Lake Temiscaming, the site of the present town of New Liskeard. At that time the population of the future New Ontario centre comprised Mr. Daivd Murray and family, who had removed from Haliburton County a couple of years previous, and they occupied the only dwelling within miles—a log house 10x12 ft., with bark roof.

Had Faith.

"Mr. Ritchie and his gang of boys speedily erected a fairly comfortable shanty, and then engaged in the logging business, disposing of their cut to Ottawa lumbermen. The father carried on considerable trading among the Indians of the district, and from time to time picked up or was shown samples of minerals which convinced him that some day a great find would be made. This opinion was shared by Indian Agent Burwash, and as a result a syndicate—the Temiscaming and Hudson Bay Mining Company, a name very familiar in mining circles to-day—was formed, the intention being to "grub stake" prospectors, white and Indian, and send them out to hunt for deposits.

'In the meantime the builders of the Ontario and Temiscaming Railway—the people's line—were pushing construction northward, when something happened—an event that attracted the eyes of capitalists everywhere to a hitherto unheard of part of this great province—the section referred to by Premier Whitney in his pre-election addresses as "the land of the stunted poplar." LaRose, a blacksmith employed with the leading gang of graders, shied a hammer at a prowling fox one morning, and when he went to pick it up (the hammer of course—he missed the fox), he noticed a bright streak in the rock from which his tool had rebounded. In this fashion was the richness of Cobalt discovered. LaRose is said to have disposed of his claim to Messrs. Timmins and Dunlop for a comparatively small amount of cash and a few shares of stock. In a few weeks the "boom" was on and locations were being taken up at a rapid rate.

"Realizing the importance of the "find," Mr. Ritchie and some other leading shareholders in the T. & H. B. Co. held a hurried meeting, made a call on the stock issued, and sent an agent to Cobalt to pick out a couple of likely looking claims. Prospectors started work on these, but as weeks passed by without a discovery being made on the property the hopes of the shareholders dwindled and many opposed any further expenditure, believing the LaRose find was simply a "pooket." Mr. Ritchie, however, was not dismayed, and as the family holdings represented 1,365 shares of the original 7,700, by combining with a few others of stout heart and strong faith he was enabled to call a further assessment of 20 per cent. for development work, payable in instalments, expended and not a flake of silver to show for it, the Company's prospectors, Messrs. Cameron, White and McKwan (the latter an old Yukon miner) discovered the Silver Queen mine, now known to be one of the richest in the camp. The prospectors were working for a grub stake and 20 per cent. of the profits of any discovery made, but not realizing the full value of their "find" they later on disposed of their interests to the company for $80,000, payable in instalments.

"This piece of good fortune enabled the company to borrow all the money they needed in order to become producers, and soon men were at work opening up the vein. In the meantime another block of 350 acres—part leased and part patented—was secured, and prospectors were sent upon the property. Two months later the company shipped a 20 ton car of ore from their Silver Queen mine to a New Jersey smelter, and returns were in the neighbourhood of $39,000. The news set the camp on fire, so to speak, and in a week the company's shares jumped from 50c. to $50, and were hard to get at that figure, because most of the holders realized they had a good thing and decided to sit tight and hold on—the result of a first dividend of $2 a share. Development work was continued and for a time a "fault" in the vein caused great anxiety. At a depth of 40 feet and down to 75 feet the vein seemed to "pinch out," and work was prosecuted all winter with disappointing results. When the 75 foot level was reached the workmen "drifted" east and west and tapped a wonderfully rich vein, which widened as they progressed. Then the hearts of the shareholders waxed glad within them, for they realized that they had struck the true vein and that perhaps inexhaustible wealth was theirs. The rich ore taken out was stored, the company deciding to hold it for a time in order to see if more satisfactory terms could not be made with the smelting company, which allowed very little for some of the valuable minerals associated with the native silver.

"The splendid showing made attracted the attention of capitalists and the company received during the early summer many tempting offers for their property. No attention was paid to these bids until lately, when we understand the Consolidated Mines Company, representing the Rockefeller interests, secured the property at a price in the neighbourhood of a million. It is reported on good authority that the company were idued to consider the offer by the discovery of a number of rich veins on other portions of their property located in the very heart of Cobalt. The block adjoins the Silver Queen property, and is surrounded by such famous ore producers as the Nipissing, McKinley & Darroch, Buffalo, Ttetheway, Hudson Bay Extended and Argentile, and is close to the celebrated Foster and Timmins (LaRose) properties.

"Last winter the Toronto World estimated the value of the Temiscaming & Hudson Bay Co. holdings at ten millions of dollars. It will be remembered that the company's last dividend was at the rate of 1,000 per cent.—a record-breaker—and there are no shares for sale at any price."

MUCH INTEREST IN THIS LADY'S VISIT

Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, a Native of this Section, is well known in Peterboro' where She is Related.

Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, a picture of whom appeared in yesterday's issue, who is about to lecture in Peterborough, is a Canadian who has earned well-wide renown by her lonely journey across the unknown wilds of Labrador, in 1905. Her husband had attempted this previously in the interests of the magazine "Outing," in company with Mr. Dillon Wallace, who graphically described the perilous journey, and Mr. Hubbard's death through starvation, in the well known book, "The Lure of the Labrador Wild.'"

The difficult object thus unsuccessfully attempted by the husband, was accomplished by the enterprise and endurance of the wife.

Mrs. Hubbard will give Peterborough the distinction of opening her Canadian tour as a lecturer here, her presence having been secured by personal influence.

Her appearance here will be a matter of public interest, inasmuch as this woman explorer is a native of this district, having formerly lived near Rice Lake, where her family still survives. From here she went to New ork city, where she married Mr. Hubbard some few years ago. One of Mrs. Hubbard's sisters married Rev. Mr. Roberts, late Baptist missionary near Bridgenorth, and resided here after his death. Another sister is the wife of Rev. J. B. McColl, Methodist minister of Wellington, Prince Edward County.

Mrs. Hubbard will go from Peterborough to Ottawa, where she is to lecture before the Canadian Club, on Wednesday, 21st, and thence to Toronto to address the students of McMaster University, on the 23rd inst.

THE CONVENTION AT GALT CLOSED

A Successful Gathering of Anglican Young People, which was Attended by Local Representative.

Galt, November 14. — The convention which opened on Tuesday evening in Trinity church, Galt, under the presidency of the Lord Bishop of Huron, was concluded to-day.

The chief business of the day was the reading of papers on different phases of the association's work. Rural Dean Ridley of Galt, gave the address of welcome. With him on the platform were the Ven. Archdeacon Sweeney of Toronto, the Ven. Archdeacon MacKenzie of Brantford, Rev. Canon Brown of Paris, president A.Y.P.A.; Rev. C. R. Gunne, Clinton, secretary-treasurer of the association.

The movement which was inaugurated in London in 1902, has extended throughout nearly the whole of Canada, and taken a foothold in the United States. In the Diocese of Huron alone, there are 72 different branches.

All Saints' Basketball Team Defeated Alerts Last Night

Defeated Local Team In a Loose Game—Score was 57-39—Best Team Won—Harriers Defeated Arrows in Preliminary Game by 47 to 42—A Close Game.

A great deal of interest was shown in the basket ball games, played in the Y.M.C.A. "Gym" last night. The All Saints' team, from Toronto, were billed for a hard game with the Alerts, of the local "Y." As a preliminary go the Harriers and the Arrows had a lively contest, the former team winning by the close score of 47 to 42. They lined up as follows:

Arrows.		Harriers.
	Backs.
Richardson		Richardson
Dobson		McDonald
	Centre.
Darling		Dobbin
	Forwards.
Cressman		Best
Miller		Robertson

The game was hotly contested, and was marked by the close checking of both sides. The Arrows were the favourites with the crowd, and in the second half played a very fast game. Mr. J. Lang refereed and gave every satisfaction.

In the other game the All Saints team won by the score of 57 to 39. The game was very loose; the local boys did not check hard enough, and the game was also inclined to be rough. The All Saints boys played a steadier game than the locals, and also had them beaten in shooting. The Alerts at times displayed their true form, and pulled of some brilliant plays. To specialize the stars of both teams would hardly be fair to the rest as they all played in good form, and the locals were close to All Saints for some time. Mr. Roper, formerly connected with the local association, gave general satisfaction as referee.

The line up was as follows:

All Saints.		Alerts.
	Centre.
Cook		Laing
	Forwards.
Darlington		Staunton
Ingram		Yelland
	Backs.
Hoare		Fitzgerald
Wilson		Green
Fullerton

At the conclusion of the game the All Saints team was banquetted, by the locals and a very enjoyable time was spent.

Peterborough Rugby Club Is In Urgent Need Of Assistance

Season Has Not Been a Success Financially and a Deficit Stares the Management in the Face--Who Will Contribute?

Now that the rugby season is over as far as this city is concerned, the management of the Peterborough Rugby Club are face to face with the unpleasant fact that the season has not been a success, financially, and that funds are urgently needed at the present time. The travelling expenses have been heavy and the gates at home small, which accounts for the existing deficit. The patronage afforded the team has not been as good as they deserved for their game showing throughout the year. They were not favoured with any too much kindness on the part of the weatherman in their games at home, and this undoubtedly was responsible, to some extent at least, for the comparatively small crowds which greeted the team on their home appearances.

Although the team is tied for last place in the senior series, they have shown that they are by no means outclassed by the other teams of that series. They have played a plucky, uphill game all through, but their horse-shoes seemed to have disappeared, for luck was not theirs. They have given all the teams in the senior series hard games. The Argonauts were lucky enough to get away with their games with the locals. For the greater part of both struggles it looked as if Petenborough would win, and with an ordinary share of luck they undoubtedly would have done so. For the first half of the game at Hamilton, too, they held the redoubtable Tigers in a way that disgusted the chrysanthemum - adorned, megaphone - voiced members of the Bluff City's Rooters' Club. They have done much to bring Peterborough into prominence as a live sporting circle, and have advertised the city far and wide. Fighting against adverse circumstances all the way through, they have stuck manfully to their guns and finished out the schedule. Man after man was hurt as the season progressed, and had to quit the game, but there was always someone willing to fill the vacancy, and the thought of defaulting never once entered the heads of the management or players.

Now they are short of funds, and it is to be hoped that for the good of the game in Peterborough, the citizens will readily respond to the call for assistance that is likely to be issued to them in a few days. To those who in former years have lent financial assistance to the club, and who have not done so this year, this appeal is especially addressed. Some there are who have already done nobly in helping the team, and to them the management extend hearty and sincere thanks. To those who have not yet been called upon, the opportunity is at hand to contribute assistance when it is most needed, and their donations will be thankfully welcomed by the management.

For a limited time, you can have a pair of $5.00 fine imported worsted trousers, made to your measure for $3.95, or a $6.00 pair for $5.00. Also a regular $22 fine Melton overcoat to order for $18. Suits to order, regular $20 or $21 for 17 and 18 dollars. Speak quick.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR FAST HOCKEY

Kingston Will Probably Enter Senior Team In O.H.A. This Season—Might Play Here

It is reported on good authority that Kingston will have a senior hockey team this year in the O.H.A. For many years this has been advocated, and at the present time there seems to be no doubt that the plans of a number of esthusiasts will materialize. If Kingston goes into senior hockey her team will surely be heard from, as there are a number of good local men who can be secured.—Kingston Whig.

If Kingston goes into senior hockey it is quite probable that the team will be grouped with the Peterborough's team, which arrangement would be an assurance of some fast games.

HOCKEY CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

Some Important Business is to Come Up and There Should be Large Attendance.

All lovers of hockey are asked to remember the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club, which will be held to-morrow night in the Oriental Hotel at eight o'clock.

The election of officers, receiving reports, discussion of what series the club will enter this year, and other important business, will come up and there should be a large attendance of players and supporters.

HOCKEY TO BE POPULAR IN ONTARIO THIS YEAR

Many New Teams Will be Entered in the O. H. A.—Northern League to Affiliate with Big Association.

Hockey will boom in Ontario this year. The prospects are that the O. H. A. will have a larger membership during the coming winter than ever before. The latest clubs to apply for membership are St. Thomas intermediates and the Island A. A. A. juniors.

The Northern Hockey League has decided to affiliate with the big governing body.

THE PETERBOROUGH TEAM'S GOOD RECORD

Toronto News Publishes Picture and Historical Sketch of Team Which Won Six Championships.

SOME BRILLIANT PLAYERS LEARNED HERE

The News last night contained a photographic reproduction of the Peterborough rugby team, which played last Saturday in Toronto, with a short sketch of the history of the club, which has won four Ontario championships and twice held the Dominion championship.

Referring to the record of the team, the News says:

"This season is not the only one in which the Peterborough rugby team has finished at the foot of the ladder in the Senior O.R.F.U., that position having been occupied two years ago, the team's first experience in senior company. But the record of the local team has not always been as inglorious, the Intermediate O.R.F.U. championship having been held by it for four years, while twice the Canadian honours were won, and once the team were runners-up."

Some of the best players in rugby to-day have either learned the game, or played it here, and, in reference to these, the News has this to say:

"Some rugby players, who have since made their mark in the game in other cities, learned the game here in the early days. R. F. McWilliams, Victor McWilliams, Hal. Burnham and Rev. Mr. Bushell being players of some reputation.

"It was in 1900 that A. W. McPherson, who for the last three years has played with 'Varsity, learned the game in Peterborough, and in that year Will Crowley, who is one of the best all-round athletes in the Province, first came to the front as a rugby player. Hal. and Murray Kennedy, both of whom played this year with 'Varsity, were former members of the Peterborough team, as was also Frank Burnham a member of 'Varsity, of last year. And it might well have added that Ben Simpson, the mainstay of the back division of the Hamilton Tigers, was a Peterborough boy, and had played on the local team.

MICHIGAN'S STAR PLAYER SUSTAINED BROKEN LEG

Michigan's Chances Thereby Will be Appreciably Lessened—Curtis Will be Out of the Game.

Ann Arbour, Mich., Nov. 14th. — Michigan"s last hope of successfully coping with Pennsylvania next Saturday in the big East v. West game on Franklin field, was shattered this afternoon when, in the last moment of play in a listless scrub game, Captain Joseph S. Curtis, left end, the heaviest and strongest man on the Wolverine team, had his leg broken in attempting to circle left end on a wide swift run.

As Curtis started on the run, the third of a series by which he was trying to enliven the 'varsity play, and produce a score for the regulars, Langley, scrub left end, came at him hard and low. Twice before he had tackled Curtis. He intended to get him again. He dove low, his shoulder struck Curtis' shins, and the big captain turned a somersault over the tackler.

There was a distinct cracking sound that could be heard above the noise of the play. At hearing it, the laughter to which the spectators had been excited by the crudities of the play all through the game, froze on their lips. At sight of the scrubs throwing their headgears to the ground, and the old "M" men calling frantically to Trainer Fitzpatrick, the onlookers were horrified. A rumour spread that Curtis had broken his neck. It looked as though he had fallen on his head. His body lay inert on the ground.

Trainer Fitzpatrick called for a doctor, and Drs. Waldron, Darling and Blair, among the spectators, responded. They found on short examination that Curtis' leg was badly shattered. An ambulance was called and the captain taken to the hospital while his team-mates went sobbing from the field. Langley, who made the play gave himself up to uncontrollable grief and had to be laid from the gridiron.

RUGBY.

The Lindsay Post says: The transferring of J. A. Macpherson, of the Bank of Montreal, to Toronto, will mean a loss to the local Bankers' seven. Last year "Mac" played a star game at cover-point in the town league, and did much towards helping his team to win the league championship honours. Macpherson was a good sport and was well liked by the boys of Lindsay.

TEN MILLIONS IN FIGHT.

Government Confirms Holders of the O'Brien Mine in Their Title, But Get Royalty of 25 Per Cent.

Toronto Nov. 15.—This is about how a consent judgment given yesterday by Mr. Justice MacMahon figures out:

To O'Brien and associates $7,500,000
To the people of Ontario.. 2,500,000
To Timmins, McMartin & Dunlap 0,000,000

The parties to the suit were the people of Ontario, through the Attorney-General, and Messrs. J. and M. J. O'Brien, Arthur Ferland, W. C. Chambers, W. B. Russel, R. A. Galbraith, E. K. Russel, and Thomas Hebert, to set aside the claim of the defendants to some 140 acres of land at Cobalt, known as the O'Brien mines, and valued by conservative judges at ten million dollars. The Crown's claim in effect was that the affidavits of discovery of mineral were false, and that no discovery such as was claimed by Hebert, the French-Canadian prospector, had actually been made.

The Crown now abandons this contention, and agrees to give a clear title to the owners of the mine. In return the Province will receive 25 per cent. of the value of all ores mined after certain deductions mentioned.

Big Cobalters say the Government made a disgraceful surrender, and they will be heard from when the House meets, through their friends.

We are informed that Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will positively be the last four days of the closing-out sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock in Peterborough. The National Salvage Company, of Toronto, who are now in charge of the S. J. Sheridan stock say that they do not wish to move a dollar's worth of the merchandise away from Peterborough on account of cost of shipping and drayage; that they have invoiced the entire stock at about 35 per cent. less than the original wholesale cost, which means a saving to the public of more than one-half of the usual selling price of the goods. The people of Peterborough and vicinity are benefitting greatly by this closing-out, quit-business sale, as never heretofore have our people had such an opportunity to save money on wearing apparel such as this salvage sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock is now affording the public. The underwear, shirts, hats and so forth, will long be remembered as the most gigantic four days' selling of merchandise ever attempted in Peterborough, Ont. Extra preparations have been made for the big crowds who will attend during the last four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and big Saturday, the last day of the sale, November the 17th. The National Company say they will keep the S. J. Sheridan store open the last day of the sale, Saturday, November the 17th, until mid-night in order to accommodate the vast crowds wishing to take advantage of this tremendous sacrifice. This is positively the last notification. Act quickly: but four days more to outfit in clothing, underwear, shirts and hats, caps, etc., for the next five years, at prices less than actual cost of the raw material. Come quickly and secure your share before the sale closes, Saturday night, Nov. 17th.

SOME CONFLICTING STORIES ARE TOLD IN ELECTION CASES

Testimony of Witnesses in Bribery Case Differed.

JOHN H. EDWARDS FAINTS

Aged Man Was Giving His Evidence When Dramatic Incident Occurred—J. G. Pritchett's Method of Manipulating Affairs in West Huron Shown Up — Deputy Returning Officer Denies It.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The investigation into corrupt election methods, begun with an enquiry into the London bribery charges, and afterwards branching out so as to cover a much wider field, is to be concluded on Wednesday next. On the adjournment yesterday till the 21st inst., the crown gave Magistrate Denison the assurance that the proceedings would on that date be brought to a close.

The greater part of the testimony yesterday was a relation of events during the McLean-Holmes election in West Huron in 1899, where J. G. Pritchett admitted having instructed deputy returning officers in ballot-switching.

A Perjury Charge.

One result of the day will probably be the swearing out of a perjury charge against William H. Gundry, deputy-sheriff of Huron County, who acted as a deputy-returning officer, and whose testimony clashed strongly with that of several other witnesses. The court advised that the charge be laid, and Mr. DuVernet said last night that he was laying the matter before the Attorney-General's department, and that he believed the department would probably be guided by what the magistrate had said.

Drove With Pritchett.

Gundry was called upon by his friend, a Mr. Torrance, to act in the latter's stead as deputy returning officer. Torrance was taken suddenly ill, and was forced to impress Gundry into the service at the last minute.

Gundry drove out to the polling booth, distant about seven miles from Goderich, in company with Pritchett, who seems to have been a suspicious character in the eyes of most of the other election workers.

On the way the two stopped at Torrance's home to secure the ballot box and the necessary papers. Torrance swore that he had objected to Pritchett acting as clerk, because he had already appointed another man, but Gundry said, under oath, that no conversation was held on this point.

Denies He Switched Ballots.

Pritchett swore that Gundry had switched at least three ballots, but the latter stated that this was a deliberate lie.

Messrs. Dr. Glidden and Peter W. Curry swore that they took exception to the ballot box being on the floor. Gundry said that no ballots were placed in the box while it was on the floor; that so soon as the poll opened the box was placed on the table and remained there.

In several minor particulars the evidence of the other witnesses disagreed with that of Gundry, though the others were not so tenacious as at first of their recollections under cross-examination.

Aged Man Faints.

John H. Edwards, an aged man, who had also served as a deputy, created a somewhat dramatic incident by tottering on the stand while being closely examined by Mr. DuVernet, and swaying over the railing. He was led from the court, and his evidence, thus abruptly ended, was not afterwards continued.

Several witnesses told stories that pointed towards marked irregularities in the handling of ballots by Deputy-Returning Officer Farr.

HIDE CASTRO'S DEATH.

Report That Venezuelan Government Thus Keeps Itself In Power.

Fort de France, Martinique, Nov. 15.—The Dutch cruiser Kortenaer arrived here Tuesday from Willemstad, Curacoa, and reported yesterday that at the time of her departure from Curacoa it was rumored there persistently and generally believed that President Castro of Venezuela was dead, but that his death was being concealed by the Venezuelan Government in order to maintain itself in power.

The Kortenaer has received orders to hasten her preparations to put to sea again, and to leave Fort de France for La Guayra, Venezuela, if the death of President Castro is confirmed.

The French cruisers Jurian de la Graviere and Duguay Troulin are off this port.

KILLED T. R. KEYES.

Louis Polvin Sentenced to Three Months For Careless Shooting.

North Bay, Nov. 15.—The first conviction in Ontario for careless shooting, occurred yesterday in the North Bay district court.

Louis Polvin and Joseph Belair, uncle and nephew, were found guilty of manslaughter of Thomas R. Keyes, son of James A. Keyes, a St. Catharines solicitor, who was shot in mistake for a bear in the woods near Sudbury on Sept. 20, by the younger prisoner, at the instigation of the uncle.

Polvin was given three months, and Belair was let off on a suspended sentence.

Hon. R. W. Scott's Sister Dead.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Miss Eliza Scott, aged 84, sister of Hon. R. W. Scott, died yesterday morning.

LOSS OF DOG LEADS TO WISH FOR DEATH

Believed that Disappearance of His Dog Brought Him Ill-Luck

New York, Nov. 14. — Joseph H. Brown, who also is known as Joseph H. Cooper, was taken yesterday to Roosevelt Hospital, a prisoner, having, the police say, attempted to take his life by gas asphyxiation.

Brown, who lived with a friend, Jerome Voelkel, at No. 390 Ninth avenue, has been despondent three or four weeks over, it is believed, the disappearance of a pointer dog, which belonged to a furniture moving man for whom Brown worked.

The dog disappeared about a month ago and shortly afterward Brown was discharged. Since then he has been wandering around trying to obtain employment, but has failed to get any.

Friends say he worried at being discharged so soon after the disappearance of the dog, thinking it was a reflection on his honesty.

He returned home late on Friday night and went to his room, where he took a piece of rubber tube from a gas stove, and, after adjusting one end of it to a gas jet, put the other in his mouth and turned the gas on.

His friend, Voelkel, smelled the escaping gas about 3 a.m., and found Brown unconscious.

FIFTEEEN INJURED IN A G. T. R. WRECK

Broken Rail Cause of a Bad Spill Near Woodstock—Feared That Some Deaths May Result.

(Examiner Special.)

Woodstock, Nov. 16.—A broken rail caused a wreck on the Grand Trunk just inside the city limits this morning. Fifteen persons are injured, and it is feared some will die. The train due here at 4.16 a.m. was late, and running fast to make up when the accident happened. The engine and tender got across the break, but the baggage and express cars and three coaches left the rails. One of the coaches rolled down an embankment, while the others were torn from their trucks and thrown across the tracks.

The injured were promptly removed to the General Hospital.

OBITUARY

MRS. ARCH. MORTON.

On Thursday evening, the 15th inst., Alice Ann Buck, the beloved wife of Mr. Arch. Morton, passed away at the family residence, Lundy street. The deceased had a protracted illness, the result of a tumorous growth, which developed about ten months ago, and which the best medical skill failed to eradicate.

The deceased was born in Otonabee and was the daughter of the late George Buck, of Asphodel. She was married to Mr. Morton, thirty-one years ago. Six children were born to this union, of whom two died in infancy. Two sons have since deceased; the last one, George, died in January of this year. These circumstances combine to make the taking away of the mother, so soon after, particularly trying to the family and relatives, who will have the sympathy of the public under their bereavement.

The late Mrs. Morton was esteemed for the faithful discharge of her home duties. She was a member of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and the regularity of her attendance to her devotional duties was quite marked.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 17th, at 2.30 p.m.

THE LAROCQUE PARTY NEARLY HAD A FOREST FIRE

A Lighted Match Was the Cause of the Trouble—Party Made Heroic Stand Against the Flames.

MR. LOUIS HOUDREY SHOT BLACK BEAR

Mr. Louis Houedry, of the Larocque hunting party, returned to the city last night, and reports that the party had a most enjoyable outing in the north. They were successful in securing six fine deer and a large black bear, which was shot by Mr. Houedry himself. The party occupied as a lodge a building formerly used as lumber camp by the Dickson Company at Stoney Creek.

One of the most exciting incidents in connection with the hunt was an incipient forest fire, which threatened to do great damage. A number of the party were engaged in shooting at a mark, and one of them carelessly threw a lighted match to one side. Before the party realized that anything was wrong, the grass and bushes were blazing fiercely and it seemed as if the fire would spread to the adjacent pine woods. The party made a heroic stand against the flames, however, and succeeded in extinguishing them before they spread very far. A number of them were badly singed in doing so, and some had their clothes ruined.

Mr. Houedry ran across the bear by accident, and was almost on top of it when a ferocious growl made him aware that he was not the only inhabitant of the forest. The animal was soon despatched, and Houedry returned to the camp in triumph.

Wolves were several times heard by the party, although they did not catch sight of any. Further evidence of their presence was several times found in the shape of their tracks.

The remainder of the party, which is composed of J. B Larocque, Wm. Gore Deutah, Geo. Williamson, Albert Greenwood and John Alexander, will return to-night, bringing with them the deer and the bear shot by Mr. Houedry

ASSESMENT ROLLS WERE PASSED AND CONFIRMED

Court of Revision Granted Two Appeals Last Night—W. H. Robertson's Assessment Reduced

The Court of Revision held another meeting last night when there were present, Sheriff Hall, Chairman; Wm. Langford and H. Rush.

W. H. Robertson appeared to say that he had been over-assessed for s. Simcoe, e. George pt. 1. Judgment was given that Mr. Robertson's assessment should be reduced by $540.

The request that John Hoben be restored as tenant of s. Edinburgh, w. George street, pt. 2, was granted.

The assessment rolls as revised were passed and confirmed.

ILLEGAL TRAPPING OF BEAVER IS REPORTED

Two Whitby Trappers Arrested and Fined $60 Each for Trapping Beaver and Muskrat.

Mr. Dan Blea, the Deputy Game Warden at South River, in the Parry Sound district, reports that he recently arrested two white trappers, who had eleven beaver skins and a number of muskrat skins. This is the close season for muskrats, while the close season for beaver does not expire for several years. The trappers were tried at Sundridge, and fined $60 and costs each. Several of the beaver skins were of "kittens," just old enough to make their skins valuable.

ANOTHER FAST RUNAWAY WAS REGISTERED TO-DAY

Horse Ran Away on Reid Street—Was Frightened by Edison Car—Damaged the Rig

Another exciting runaway occurred this morning when the delivery horse of Mullen Bros did a fast stunt. It was standing on Reid street this morning at 7.30, when the electric car passed and the horse took it into its head to run away. It dashed up Reid street to Sherbrooke street; east on Sherbrooke to Water street and up Water street to the corner of Charlotte where the rig was upset and the horse brought to a standstill. The box was jolted off on Reid street when the horse was starting out. The exact distance is not known but that the horse can go some is a proved fact.

PEARY HAS ARRIVED AT LABRADOR

North Pole Explorer at Chateau Bay, Safely, and will Start for Sydney To-day—Bad Weather Delayed Him.

Examiner Special.

Halifax, Nov. 16.—A despatch from Chateau Bay, Labrador, announces the arrival there at 6 o'clock last night of the Arctic steamer Roosevelt, with Commander Peary on board, which has been delayed by heavy weather further up the coast. The steamer is fog-bound at Chateau Bay and is expected to sail to-day for Sydney.

CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN; MISTAKE MADE

William Primeau is Released on Receipt of Message from Parry Sound Stating Charge was Withdrawn.

To-day the Chief of Police received a telegram from the Chief of Police of Parry Sound, stating that the charge of theft against William Primeau had been withdrawn, and asked him to give Primeau his release.

Nothing further has been learned beyond the announcement of the fact that the charge had been withdrawn, the probability being that some mistake was made when the message was sent asking for his arrest.

As soon as the Police Magistrate gives his consent Mr. Primeau will again be given his liberty.

REMAINED AT LAKE FOR MORE THAN FIVE MONTHS

Mr. Hopkins, of Boston, Returning Home —Always the Last to Leave.

Mr. M. Hopkins, and Miss Hicks of Boston, and party, who have been at Stony Lake for the past five months this season, were in the city last night, on their way home. Mr. Hopkins is always the first at the lake, and the last to leave there. He is very enthusiastic over the beauty of the life in the wilds, and never fails to spend nearly half of each year at Stony Lake.

The steamer Stoney Lake went up to Stony Lake yesterday to bring down Mr. Hopkins and his party, which included Mrs. Dr. Claris, of Buffalo, who has been spending the last ten days at Boscobel, while her husband hunted with the Buffalo party around Deer Bay. Dr. and Mrs. Claris are guests at the Oriental to-day.

AN OBLIGATORY DRESS

The Only Correct Coat for Any Day Function.

The full frock coat, or "Prince Albert" was first brought into popularity by Prince Albert, consort of the good Queen Victoria, who occupied in his day somewhat the position in regard to fashion that King Edward does now.

For day dress, for day weddings, receptions or functions and especially for church and Sunday wear, the full double breasted frock coat is the only correct dress for men. It is obligatory.

Semi-ready frock suits of fine black cheviots, are sold in all the Semi-ready Wardrobes at $25, $30, $35, according to quality of cloth and silk linings. The Semi-ready frock coat for full is conservative and modest. The shoulders are square and of natural width. The coat falls just below the knee.

Cressman's have all the new Semi-ready styles, and the exclusive agency for Peterborough and district.

You have No Reason for Not Using

Zutoo

Some people think that all headache cures are alike—that they all undermine the health, even if not perceived at the time of taking them.

Well, we'll admit that the drug cures do this, but that is no reason why you should not take Zutoo.

Zutoo is a harmless vegetable remedy. One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda that our grandmothers used to take to settle the stomach, when they had sick headache. And there is nothing better.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

There is absolutely no reason why you should not use Zutoo.

If you suffer from headache there is every reason why you should.

Taken in time, two tablets will ward off a headache. Taken later, they will stop it in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time.

If you are using a drug remedy, why not discard it?

Zutoo will cure just as quickly and will save you the penalty, that all must sometime pay, who take the drugs which these cures contain.

If you will give Zutoo one trial, you will never take any other headache remedy again.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

At the next meeting of the City Council, there will be no excuse for further neglect in dealing with the question of the erection of an Isolation Hospital for Peterborough. The Board of Health has presented its ultimatum in the form of plans, modified to meet the City Council's ideas of the reasonable cost of such a building. It has, with the modified plans sent to the council, placed the burden of responsibility upon that body. The Board, in its advisory capacity, has done all it can do, and now it remains for the City Council to act. Since this action is compulsory, or can be made compulsory, what need is there for further delay? The hospital must, if the Board of Health insists, be built, and the fact that it is needed, in the interests of the public health, calls for very prompt action. As time goes on, judging by the past, the expense of building will not become less, and it promises to become greater. This consideration, coupled with the fact that the public interests demand the provision of an isolation hospital, makes the wisdom, and duty, of proceeding promptly with the work, more clear and binding. We are, fortunately, free from an epidemic of contagious disease, but it would be too much to expect that we can be guaranteed continued immunity. In the event of such a possible, but it is hoped, not probable, outbreak, we should be prepared for any emergency of that kind. If we are compelled, or liable to be compelled, to erect an isolation hospital, we should do it now. The absence of it is a peril — it involves the dearest interests of our citizens — the health and proper care, and, perhaps, life of the inmates of our homes. A single death that could be traced to the absence of the care and treatment a hospital can only give in special circumstances, will place a fearful responsibility upon those who are charged with the duty of providing such an institution. There is no profit, but much danger, in delay.

FAIRNESS TO ALL.

The question of the revision of the tariff, will come up at the meeting of Parliament, in special session, which takes place on November 22nd. It is pretty certain that this revision will be made upon the lines which have marked the wise and cautious methods adopted by Mr. Fielding in respect of former revisions. While our great industrial interests naturally demand special legislation in their interests, it is not to be forgotten that the great mass of the people have rights to consideration. The demand that the Canadian tariff be raised to the level of the burdensome United States tariff, might benefit special interests, but would it benefit the mass of the people, who, with the prevailing high prices, even in the face of high wages, have enough difficulty in making ends meet? As John Bright once said, "there's not a man who labours, and sweats, for his daily bread, not a woman in a cottage, who strives to make her home happy for husband and children," who has not as vital a personal interest in the incidence of tariff taxation as the wealthiest manufacturer. The tariff, as revised in 1897, and subsequently, has permitted the manufacturing interests of the Dominion to flourish, as they never flourished before; and any tariff revision that is made should, while fairly assisting industrial enterprise, not lose sight of the great mass of our population, the consumers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Toronto Grand Jury has discovered that the jail is not a fit place to live in. Nothing original in this—many a rogue has come to the same conclusion.

This is indeed the growing time; even Cobourg has taken a spurt. Her population is increasing — and if it continues to do so the lakeside town may, after a time, grow up to the capacity of her palatial town hall.

Why, asks the Hamilton Times, should the property of 50,000 people, or 100,000 people, be mortgaged to furnish power at less than commercial figures for 50, or even 100 users? The same question, changed to meet the different conditions, might well be asked in Peterborough, to wit: Why should the property of 15,000 people be mortgaged to furnish heat to a few favoured users in the centre of the city?

At a meeting of temperance workers held in Toronto Junction, to take measures to prevent the adoption of a bylaw to repeal local option, one of the speakers, a clergyman, expressed fear of the restlessness of the people due to the inadequacy of hotel accommodation. This, says the Brantford Expositor, is a phase of the question which ought not to be overlooked in local option campaigns elsewhere. So far as possible, any anxiety as to the maintenance of adequate hotel facilities should be removed.

Mr. Beck, says the London Advertiser, will scarcely appreciate the paragraph in the Toronto News, which implies that that he intends to flunk on the power question, and wants an excuse for getting out of Provincial politics. In addition, Mr Beck is too astute a politician not to be aware of the cross-currents in the Conservative party in London. His entrance into the Federal arena would spread more dismay in the Conservative ranks than in the Liberal ranks in this city. This may surprise the Toronto News, which pretends to be thoroughly posted on political conditions in London; but there is not a local Conservative worker who does not know that the statement is true, and why it is true.

Everything seems to be relative, even honesty, as a quality — it must be compared with the temptation. Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, president of the Ontario Bank, represented Canada as commissioner at the World's Fair, Chicago. His expense bills, in their detailed honesty, amused even the members of the House of Commons. These contained a record of every personal expenditure, even to a five cent shoe shine. That was a dozen years ago. Then the temptation had not come, but under other conditions, Mr. Cockburn's ideas of honest accounting, in respect of responsibility, seem to have been rather radically revised.

THE ROY STUDIO

The Old Country financial journals are beginning to take a more active and intelligent interest in the mineral and other resources, of this country. The London, Eng., Financier, has been writing a series of articles to his publication on the riches of the Cobalt region, and in one of them presents the following conclusions:

That the whole future of the Cobalt camp rests upon the question whether the value of the ore continues in depth.

That Prof. Hidden, F.G.S., of the Nipissing Mine, confirms this.

That so far there is no reason to believe that the richness will not continue at depth.

That mines in Saxony, where the geological conditions are similar, have been profitably worked at 1500 to 2000 feet.

That what is wanted is a smelter in Canada.

The latter condition emphasizes a real need. We should provide that no minerals nor anything that can be converted into refined or practically finished form, should be allowed to leave the country in a raw condition.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, of Windsor, N. S., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and female trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles.

Mrs. Laura Emmons, President Loyal Home Workers, Walkerville, Ont., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM,—I am enjoying such good health that I feel it a duty to write and thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for more than five years with functional troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge and weakness which no amount of medicine, diet or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound, however, reached the root of my trouble, cured me and made me strong, healthy and well. I want to say to every suffering woman, don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free to all. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

SPECIAL SERVICES ARE PROPOSED

They Will be Held in March when Evangelist Torrie will Give His Services to Park Street Baptists.

Last night the quarterly business meeting of the Park street Baptist church was held, with the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and reports were received from the Sunday school, weekly offering secretary, church treasurer and the Building Fund Commmittee. Trustee Buntin volunteered to assist any of the members who were willing to bank up the church building preparatoryt o winter, on Saturday afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid ask permission to deposit and control the disposition of their own funds, which was granted. These funds will be used for carpeting and furnishing the new church. The auditors, Miss Edith Gillespie and Mr. H. L. Brace, were requested to present a report on the finances at the next meeting.

It was decided not to hold special services until March, when Evangelist Torrie will be secured to conduct them. A series of cottage prayer meetings will be commenced in the second week in December, and the week of universal prayer will be observed in January.

An earnest desire was expressed for a deeper spiritual life in the church and a more aggressive policy.

COUNTY FARMERS WILL STOP RAISING HOGS

Claim Grain is Too Expensive to Feed Hogs to Sell at Less Than 6c. Per Lb.

Farmers oif the townships of Smith Douro and Dummer are up in arms against the low price of hogs. Mr. W. A. Stabler, a local buyer was through these townships this week and he states that almost every nine farmers out of ten intend going out of the hog raising business unless $6 per cwt. is realized. They cannot afford they claim, to raise hogs when the price of grain is at present so high.

During the past week hogs have taken a slight raise and are now selling at $6.70.

On Tuesday Messrs. Stabler, Howden and J. Thornton shipped 755 hogs which were sold in Toronto yesterday. Mr. Stabler shipped 333 head of cattle to the Western Cattle Yards at Parkdale, Toronto.

Almost Crazy With Headache
EXHAUSTED NERVES, INDIGESTION PALPITATION AND SLEEPLESSNESS—AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE EFFECTED BY

Many a woman has experiences similar to those of Mrs. Edwards, though it may be that few suffer so keenly. You find yourself a frequent sufferer from headache, little things worry and irritate you, digestion fails, you cannot rest or sleep, gradually you become weaker and more discouraged and look forward gloomily to approaching prostration or paralysis.

Cure can only come when the richness is restored to the blood and vitality to the nervous system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 32 McMurray street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—"For five years I suffered more than words can tell from nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and exhaustion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in agony until I fell exhausted and unconscious. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would palpitate. My greatest suffering was caused by dreadful pains in the head, neck and back and all this was in spite of the best efforts of three leading doctors of this city.

"For the past nine months I has used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for a considerable time I have not experienced a headache, or any of the symptoms mentioned above. From a mere skeleton this medicine has built me up in flesh and weight, until I am strong and well and am thoroughly restored to health."

This great food cure is radically different to the medicines that are usually used for nervous diseases, for, while they stimulate tired nerves to over-exertion, or, by narcotic influence, soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lastingly beneficial results.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A SATURDAY MORNING STUDY ON THE BIBLE

New Departure in Connection with the Work of the Y. M. C. A.—"Men of the Bible."

A new idea along the line of Bible study for boys will be launched at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday morning, under the leadership of Mr. Evert Dingman, physical director.

The boys in the Junior Gym. Class will assemble on the floor at 9 o'clock, in their gym. suits, when the Bible study will be conducted. A study will be taken up each Saturday in this way on "Men of the Bible."

The building will open at 8.45 o'clock to allow the boys time to dress. The study concludes at 9.30, when the Gym. Class begins. All members of the class are asked to be present on time.

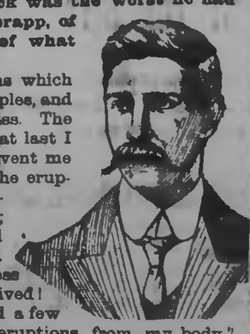
SORE BACK



"The doctor told me my back was the worst he had ever seen," said Mr. Alf. Lillierapp, of Walthamstow, when telling of what Zam-Buk had cured him.

"It was covered with eruptions which came in the form of headless pimples, and spread until my back was one mass. The itching at night was so bad that at last I had to have my hands tied to prevent me scratching myself and making the eruptions bleed. I took internal medicines and tried various salves; but in vain. One night I read about Zam-Buk and bought a box. Well I hardly know how to express my gratitude for the benefit I derived! That first box gave me relief and a few more cleared the pimples and eruptions from my body."

Similar eloquent testimony comes from Manitoba.

Mr. R. J. Burgoine, of Harding, says :—"I had some very bad sores on my heel but Zam-Buk cured them in a few days. It also cleared my chest of an unsightly eruption."

ZAM-BUK NEEDED IN EVERY HOME.

Zam-Buk should be in every home. It cures cuts, burns, bruises, scalds, chilblains, cold sores, chapped hands, floats ulcers, eczema, running sores, abscesses, may be safely applied to the delicate skin of babies and cures teething rashes. It also eases the pain of piles. It is good as an embrocation, and excellent for rheumatism and sciatica. All druggists sell it at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

SCAVENGING LIKELY TO BE PERFORMED BY THE CITY

Ald. Elliott Fathered the Idea at Last Night's Meeting of the Council and Was Favourably Received.

WORK WOULD BE OFTEN AND WELL DONE

Ald. Elliott introduced a proposition last night at the Committee of the Whole Council, that should meet with the approval of the citizens.

It was a proposition that the scavenging and garbage gathering of Peterborough should be done by men in the employ of the city and under the direction of the council and the Board of Health.

Ald. Elliott in introducing the subject stated that roughly speaking, there were 3500 houses in the city, and of these 2000 were not connected with the sewers. It cost most of these people on an average of $4 a year to have their premises cleaned up and then it was rarely done right. He proposed to have the work done by the city, and charge each householder $2 whose premises were not connected with the sewer. The work, if done under the sanitary inspector, would be done satisfactorily, and systematically, and this was of much importance from a sanitary point of view. The revenue created by the charge for the service would be sufficient to easily pay for the service and help to pay the salary of a sanitary inspector as well.

Those whose premises are connected with the sewer will not be charged so much, probably $1.

The proposition was very favourably received by the council, who seemed to be unanimous that it would be a good thing.

On motion of Ald. Wilson, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, the matter was referred to the Fire, Water and light Committee.

WHICH MAKES BUSINESS GROW?

An Article Must Have Superior Merit to Back Up Publicity.

"Our business for the first six months of 1906 shows an increase of over $200,000," said Charles E. Slater, President of the Slater Shoe Company.

It was Mr. Slater who asserted positively at the beginning of the year that he was opposed to any increase in the tariff on shoes, and he held that a good shoe which made its goodness known need have no fear of American competition. This substantial increase for the first half year in the sales of Slater Shoes would go to prove his contention in his own particular case. The Minister of Finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding, asked a shoe man, "Why don't you advertise like Slater does?" Mr. Slater says, "Why don't you make shoes like Slater does?" R. Neill, exclusive agent, Peterborough.

COBOURG OBJECTS TO THE NEW C. P. R. LINE

Belief That it Will Spoil the Town if it Runs Through the Residental Section as Proposed.

The Cobourg Post says:—

The Canadian Pacific Survey party working in Cobourg for the past couple of weeks has about completed the preliminary survey work.

The line as projected will hardly meet with the approval of the people of Cobourg, however much they may wish for the C.P.R. connection and will be very damaging to the town from a summer resort standpoint. The projected line, according to the present survey, will pass through the southern portion of the town, practically cutting off the town waterfront which is considered by many to be the best asset of the town.

SOUTH MONAGHAN MAN'S NEW CEMENT POSTS

An Invention Which Promises to Bring Fame to Mr. Joseph Clarke of That Township in the Future.

There is said to be nothing new under the sun, but Mr. Joseph Clarke of South Monaghan, has invented a new fence post, a combination of cement and iron, that is, if not new, at least most useful and lasting. He has patented it and has had many inquiries from large corporations such as the railways, with a view to using it. It is cement underground, with an iron post, and is indistructible and neat in every particular. We are sure Mr. Clarke will perpetuate his name as the inventor of such a useful article.—Millbrook Reporter.

WEDDING BELLS

BLOW--ROGERS.

Norwood, Nov. 16. — On Wednesday last at the residence of Mr. Daniel Rogers, in this village, his daughter, Jessie, was married in the presence of a numerous company of friends, to Mr. Cecil Blow, formerly of London, England. The ceremony was performed at half past seven by the Rev E. W. Pickford. The bride was attired in white, with the appropriate orange blossoms in her hair. Afterwards the company sat down to a sumptuous banquet, and spent an enjoyable evening. The numerous gifts in china, silver, etc., of various designs, such as will be found useful in housekeeping, attested to the good will and esteem of the friends of the bride and groom. The happy couple will reside on Belmont road.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION WAS RATHER QUIET ONE

Two Young Men Appeared Before Magistrate Dumble—No Prosecutions.

This morning's Police Court was rather quiet. There were two young men in the prisoners' box. One was a young man who is wanted in Parry Sound on a theft charge. He was remanded until to-morrow, when his accuser will arrive from the Sound. The other was a young man who stole two articles from his employer. He was not prosecuted, as his employer did not wish to do so, and Magistrate Dumble, desiring not to have anything recorded against the young man, allowed him to go. He seriously advised him to lead a clean life, and the law was giving him a chance now, instead of marring his character.

SOME KIND WORDS FOR ARCHDEACON WARREN

Editor of St. Luke's Parish Magazine Regrets His Departure from This County —A Faithful Minister.

While we rejoice at the recognition given to Ven. Archdeacon Warren by the Bishop in recommending him to the office of Missionary Inspector of the Diocese, we regret very much at his leaving our neighbourhood. He was always a very welcome visitor of St. Luke's, whose rector and congregation fully appreciate and know his excellent qualities of heart and mind as a minister and a man.—St Luke's Parish Magazine.

DRUGGISTS MUST BE CHARY

They Sell all Kinds of Hair Preparations, and Fear to Discriminate.

Druggists sell all kinds of hair preparations, and as a rule they are wisely chary of giving preference to any particular one, but many of them have come out plainly for Newbro's Herpicide, the new treatment that absolutely kills the dandruff germ. H Swarnell & Son, Champaign, Ill., say: "One customer of ours who did not have a hair on top of his head when he began to use Herpicide, now has a fair start towards a good head of hair. We believe Herpicide to be by far the best preparation of its kind on the market." Hundreds of similar testimonials from everywhere. Sold by leading druggists. MANVERS MAN LIVED EIGHT YEARS PAST CENTURY

Late Mr. Thomas Lees Was One of the Pioneers of Victoria County, Settling There when it was a Virgin Forest.

REACHED REMARKABLE AGE OF 108

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder has the following interesting information in reference to the life of the late Thomas Lees, of Manvers, who had reached 108 years of age:

Mr. Thomas Lees died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Paul, lot 9 con. 12, Manvers, on Sunday morning, November 11, at the remarkable age of 108 years. Deceased had been in his usual good health and able to walk about, till Friday evening. The late Mr Lees was born in Wicklow County, Ireland, whence, with his parents, he went to Carlow County, and in the year 1831 they came to Canada, the voyage to Canada occupying seven weeks and three days.

For a short time he worked at blacksmithing in Quebec, and afterwards went to Montreal, still working at his trade. In 1832 he worked his way to Little York, now Toronto, where he married the widow of Geo. Stevens, of Carlow, Ireland. Shortly after his marriage, and in the same year he came to Ops township, in the county of Victoria, then a forest. He travelled on foot from Toronto, and carried his flour, pork and potatoes and bake pan. He cleared a little spot on the concession of Ops. His companions were wolves and bears. In nine weeks he returned to Toronto, and spent a winter at the blacksmithing.

With his wife, he again left for his home in the forest. They put in their crop with a hoe. Afterwards he went to Cobourg and worked at his trade for a man named Connell, coming home in the winter to chop. He again worked for two years as blacksmith for John Colum, of Cottingham, now Omemee.

He carried on his trade for several years, and also worked his farm, which was increased to 200 acres. His wife died in 1881, aged 84 years. Twelve years later his son, Richard, died. He was a Methodist in religion, and a member of the Loyal Orange Association. Until recently he was in excellent health, able to walk without a stick, and could drive to Lindsay to do business.

BROTHERHOOD WORK AND ITS PROGRESS

Some Interesting Facts Concerning the Advances Made by This Organization in Canada—3,000 Members Here.

Mr. F. W. Thomas, the travelling secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who has been a frequent visitor to Peterborough, in an interview at Montreal gives some interesting information concerning the progress of that organization, which will be learned with pleasure by the many friends of the Brotherhood in this city.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew is now in its 23rd year. It has a membership in the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, South Africa, Australia, China, Japan, West Indies and Mexico. There are some 13,000 members in the United States, and 3,000 in Canada, and there is an energetic forward movement now on in both countries, requiring the constant services of six travelling secretaries in the United States and two in Canada. Over 260 chapters are working in Canada, spread from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the lads of the church of England, in 60 chapters, are actively at work in the Junior Department. Thirty leading laymen constitute the Dominion Council, under the presidency of Mr. James A. Catto, of Toronto, and the head office is situated in that city. The first travelling secretary in Canada was Rev. W. B. Heeney, a graduate of the Diocesan Theological College, who was followed by the present official, Mr. Fred W. Thomas, of Toronto, who was appointed January 1, 1904. For nearly one year Mr. Thomas had the assistance of Mr. W. G. Davis, of Hamilton, as assistant travelling secretary, and on October 1st, of the present year, Mr. John A. Birmingham, of Vancouver, was appointed Western travelling secretary, covering the section from Winnipeg to the Pacific Coast. During the year, $2,318 was contributed toward the extension work in Canada, and considerably over $13,000 was paid in towards the same object in the United States.

BARNARDO HOME GIRLS LEAVING FOR PLACES

A Party of Nine Young Girls Left the City This Morning for Their New Homes—Not Many Here Now.

This morning a party of Barnardo Home Girls left "Hazel Brae," for homes which have been secured for them in Ontario. This morning's party consisted of nine girls. Of the party which arrived at the Home some weeks ago from England, and numbering about one hundred, it is understood that very few are now left, the greater number having been placed throughout the province in homes, where they will be well looked after.

EDUCATIONAL SERMONS TO BE PREACHED ON SUNDAY

Rev. Dr. Reynor, of Victoria University, will Speak on the Educational Enterprises at George St. Church.

On Sunday sermons will be preached in the George street Methodist church by Rev. Dr. Reynar of Toronto, on educational matters. On both services on Sunday offerings will be taken in aid of the educational enterprises of the Methodist church of Canada.

Rev. Dr. Reynar is one of the professors in Victoria University, and is, therefore, in a position to speak, with some degree of authority on educational matters.

DEPLORES INDIFFERENCE OF CITY PEOPLE IN RELIGION

The monthly issue of St. Luke's Parish Magazine, says:—The Rector is much pleased with the good attendance at the cottage meetings on Wednesday nights throughout the country districts. As many as 55 have been present. What an example and a contrast, when compared with the utter indifference and carelessness of our city people in this matter.

PRESENTATION MADE BY HIS FELLOW-WORKMEN

Mr. F. J. Howitt Honoured by Members of C. G. E. Test Department Last Night.

IS TAKING A POSITION IN MONTREAL

An interesting event took place in the Test Department of the Canadian General Electric Company's Works on Thursday evening, the 15th inst. The staff requested one of their number, Mr. F. J. Howitt, to remain for a few minutes after the conclusion of duties. When all were assembled, Mr. S. W. Cammiff read the following address:—

To Mr. F. J. Howitt:

Dear John,—Having learned with regret of your intended departure from our midst, we wish to take advantage of this opportunity to express our appreciation of your comradeship during the time you have with us, and to wish you every success in your new field of labour.

During the few months you have been with us your genial disposition has won for you the true friendship of your fellow workers, and no doubt your unfailing devotion to the interests of the company has merited for you its high esteem.

We are pleased to learn that you have bettered your position, but we hope you will not forget the friends you are leaving behind, and will often be able to find a "short circuit" back to Peterborough.

As a slight token of esteem we wish you to accept this pair of cuff-links, and hope they will serve to remind you of the many friends you are leaving behind in the Testing Department of the C.G.E.

H. A. Hamilton, John W. Jardine, W. G. Hall, H. J. Fairweather, S. W. Cammiff, J. L. Dolin, H. F. Hall, W. Hatton, E. Lappe, J. W. VanNorman, E. M. Hooker, R. S. Cotton, J. C. B. Baldwin, J. Lawes, N. E. Bell.

The recipient was somewhat embarrassed at first by this pleasant mark of the personal esteem of his fellow employees. With his usual deliberation, however, Mr. Howitt made a brief and forceful reply, appreciative of their kindness. He thanked them for the sentiments expressed in the address and for the handsome present which accompanied it. The seven months which he had spent among them had been fruitful in many ways, and he was glad he could carry away with him pleasant recollections of his associations with them as workmen. He hoped to improve his position as an electrician in Montreal, where he had secured a position which gave better promise of advancement in his work. He assured them all that he would not be unmindful wherever he went, of his genial fellow workmen in the Canadian General, of Peterborough.

Mr. Howitt leaves for Montreal on Saturday morning on the 8.30 G.T.R. train.

INVESTMENT PROVED A PROFITABLE ONE

Twenty-Five Cents Spent in Want Ad. Resulted in Recovery of Handbag, with Money and Railway Tickets.

LOST — THIS MORNING BETWEEN Brock street and Porter's butcher shop a small black hand bag, in which was a purse containing $25, and two railway tickets, one from Peterborough to Toronto and the other from Toronto to Norwich. The finder will receive a reward by leaving at A. W. Cressman's. 3d114—1639

The above advertisement appeared yesterday in the want ad. column of the Examiner, and it produced results. Within half an hour of the time the Examiner went to press, the hand bag was returned to this office, and the honest young man who found it was referred to Mr. Cressman, who rewarded him well for his honesty in so promptly returning the property to the owner.

This is another proof of the value of the advertising columns of the Examiner. Of course it is not always possible to recover lost articles. The persons who find them are not always honest, unfortunately; but if the article happens to fall into the hands of an honest person, as that lost yesterday did, the chances for their recovery through the medium of the advertising columns of the Examiner, are good.

It is not necessary to accept the statement of this paper for this either, the results speak for themselves. In this particular case the investment of twenty-five cents proved a profitable one. You can figure out for yourself what percentage it paid.

As has been stated, all articles lost and advertised for, are not returned. The Examiner for the last few days has been advertising for a fur muff which was lost, and if anyone finds it a favour would be conferred by leaving it at this office, since the lady who lost it is very anxious to recover her property.

MILK VENDORS MUST TAKE OUT LICENSES

They will Be Served With Notices to This Effect—By-law Comes Into Force On December 1st

The milk vendors of the city may shortly expect to receive from the City Clerk notice to the effect that bylaw comes into force on December 1, and that they are expected to take out licenses before that time. The matter came up at last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, and it was moved by Ald. Wilson, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Clerk be instructed to send notices to every milk dealer in the city to this effect, and also that the police should have authority to enforce the bylaw. It is important that the dealers should act at once, as they are liable to penalties.

"LOVE AND SORROW" TITLE OF ADDRESS

Captain Hurd Spoke in the Salvation Army Barracks Last Night.

The Salvation Army Barracks contained a large audience on the occasion of Capt. Hurd's address. The Captain is the Financial Secretary for the East Ontario Province, his chief duty being the care of the Army's Missionary Boxes in this district. The captain greatly pleased his hearers by the beautiful service entitled "Love and Sorrow." It was in fact a vivid description, with the aid of stereopticon views thrown on the canvas, of the Army's development. He began with the first meeting 40 years ago by General Booth, at Mile End. The General delivered his first address on a soap box to a crowd of fallen men and women. His popularity gradually increased and the social side of the Army developed. A very suggestive slide was that which depicted the Army as the rescuer of the abandoned. It was compared to a life boat going to the rescue of a distressed ship. "Throw Out the Life Line" was sung while this picture was thrown on the screen. Captain Hurd then dealt with the gradual development of the Army up to the present day, and with the work it was doing.

Brigadier Hargrave and Col. Gaskin, the General Secretary, will be at the Barracks on Saturday and Sunday.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB TO SECURE ACCOMMODATION

Committee Appointed to Look After the Securing of Necessary Funds For That Purpose

The Methodist Young Men's Club met last night with the president, Mr. Geo. Robertson, in the chair, and a good attendance of members present. A report was received from the committee appointed to secure accommodation for the club, which recommended quarters on George street. After discussing the report a committee was appointed to raise sufficient funds to enable the club to secure the desired rooms and to start in operation.

AWFUL EXPERIENCE IN GULF OFF MATANE

Severe Storm in St. Lawrence Gulf—Almost Shipwrecked—Sounds Like Fiction.

MR. S. M'DONALD TELLS STORY OF IT

The Canadian press have related, with more or less truth, the incidents in connection with the grounding of the Dominion Liner Kensington. One of the passengers is at present in this city, and in an interview with The Examiner, he gave a detailed account of the trials and hardships of the third-class passengers. To one who has not suffered shipwreck in any shape or form, the real truth of their experience is hardly apparent.

Mr. S. Macdonald, who was one of the passengers, and who has secured employment in Peterborough, formerly lived in London. With his wife and two children, he embarked at Liverpool on the steamship Kensington on November 1. The voyage was a very stormy one from the beginning. When some time at sea the steering gear gave out, and a return of 200 miles had to be made in the face of a severe snow storm. Continual gales prevailed throughout the whole trip. Before land was sighted a very bad storm was encountered, which, however, cleared up on Sunday morning, November 11, when near land.

Aground.

That Sunday emerged bright and clear after continual bad weather, and when, about 8 a.m., after breakfast was over and everyone happy and expectant, the ship was felt grating on a reef. It was about 300 yards to land, and just off Matane. As the atmosphere cleared up it was seen that the Kensington had gone half a mile to the danger side of a large buoy. The passengers immediately understood what had gone wrong, but caused no disturbance or panic. It was learned that about ten feet of water had leaked into the well of the vessel, and afterwards into the hold.

Gaspesian Signalled.

About two hours afterwards, the Gaspesian, a small coasting steamer, with a capacity for 150 passengers, was sighted and signaled for aid. It was finally arranged to take on board the third-class passengers, numbering about 500. It can be easily understood how crowded the passengers must have been. A batch of stewards were put aboard the Gaspesian, with a quantity of provisions for two meals. The best places on the boat were given to the women. The dining-room, smoking-room and all the available sheltered places were given them. The officers and crew acted nobly and deserve much praise for giving up their cabins to the women and children. Every one of these rooms was positively packed. To obtain sleep, one woman would lay on the floor, while others stood and thus took their turn. There was not even sufficient room for the women. The men were bestowed in the hold, or, as Mr. Macdonald termed it, the hole, for he claimed it was nothing else. Here they stretched themselves on barrels of codfish, with which the vessel was laden. The sanitary conditions were revolting in the extreme. He had never witnessed the like. The men suffered intense cold during a terrific north Atlantic storm of snow and sleet. The Gaspesian stood off Matane from Sunday at 1 p.m. until Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Storm Arose.

While on the Gaspesian, a violent storm arose. It snowed and rained and froze, combining to make a terrible time for the little coaster. The captain steered for a little cove and dropped the anchors, remaining anchored for 24 hours. The captain, who has had an experience of 30 years, declared that he had never witnessed such a storm. The passengers gave themselves up for lost, and it is due to the fact that the anchorage was firm that the vessel was not lost. Although in imminent danger, the crew preserved extreme calm and acted as heroes. The Englishmen influenced the foreigners, who at first became excited. Added to the cold and storm was hunger. As only two meals had been provided for there was hunger on all sides. The first meal was given on Sunday night, consisting of a sandwich of Chicago meat and a little tea. On Monday morning the second was handed out, consisting of half a slice of bread and a little marmalade, while a few received tea. The women and children suffered terribly for want of milk and other necessities. From Monday morning until 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon no food was partaken of at all, while but little had been had on Monday. Some potatoes were found in the hold and each passenger received one. The officers of the Gaspesian acted as gentlemen, doing everything in their power to alleviate the distress and suffering. Their vessel was five days overdue and their food supply was already exhausted, so they could offer no assistance. During the storm they acted as heroes, standing at their posts in the teeth of the terrific gales.

Becomes Calm.

Early on Tuesday morning the storm had spent its force and gradually the weather cleared. The captain, as soon as possible, weighed anchor, to the cheers of the passengers, and set sail with all speed for Quebec, where the authorities had a good dinner awaiting those on board. Many of the men who were in the hold are now suffering from colds. Mr. Macdonald is one of them. He said that during the storm, which lasted 24 hours, while he lay on the codfish barrels, he was so benumbed with the cold that he thought he was freezing and could not help himself.

Second Steward Erickson, a Swede, acted nobly. He found a little flour among the stores and made pancakes for the children. The passengers were greatly pleased with this and materially demonstrated their appreciation.

Adjutant Pinchen, of the Salvation Army, who was in charge of 300 immigrants whom the Army were bringing over, gave up his cabin to Mrs. Macdonald, who was very ill. Throughout, the adjutant acted nobly, as, indeed, did all. When one considers the position of the Gaspesian, he cannot but admire the bravery and fortitude of the officers and passengers. Mr. Macdonald says that he could never imagine such circumstances as they suffered under without the actual experience.

Mr. Macdonald is an upholsterer, and lived in London. He has been engaged by Mr. Comstock, where he will begin work as soon as he has fully recovered from the effects of his sea journey. He arrived in Peterborough Wednesday evening, on the 5.10 train from Quebec. He and his family are very thankful, as are all the passengers for their safe deliverance from the perils of the north Atlantic storm.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR THE CITY

The following is a communication which the Examiner received this morning, and which is given verbatim:—

A NEW INDUSTRY FOR OUR CITY
CAPITAL $1,000,000.

"A valued correspondent has brought to our notice the information that a company of enterprising gentlemen, from Patagonia, whose names, for the present, are for obvious reasons withheld, are about to place before our much respected City Council, a most novel and useful contrivance, styled "A device for extracting sunbeams from cucumbers." The company will give the most unbounded assurance of good faith and prove by their officers, who will shortly appear in person before a committee of the Whole Council in secret session, that in their native land, also at Cape Verde and the Aleutian Islands, the project is one the City should be proud to secure. It is confidently believed our city fathers who possess inspired wisdom, will lose no time in sending out several deputations at a cost not to exceed $1,000, each, to see how the trick is done, and to ha, a Hi—Oi— Ti— (words blotted here.—Editor.) Our correspondent also states that the Company does not purpose to instal its own plant. Oh, dear no! But just for a proper consideration provide the cucumbers and our intelligent council, at least nine of them (he does not think much of the others.) will during these dark and gloomy days of November take prompt action, and very properly, for another coporate body though slow of foot might "put on a sprint and get the plum." He also assures us a by-law will without doubt be submitted to the qualified ratepayers at the general election in January, for $50,000, and will certainly carry. He predicts that the nine wise men on our City Board will certainly be re-elected to stay — — — — (words again blotted, but no doubt something quite flattering was intended.—Editor.)

"Our correspondent seems much elated over the circumstance that we will be the first sunless and frosty city in Canada to be favoured both with the above scheme, and that other much talked of and known as "subterraneous heating for public streets," and he may refer to these subjects again.

"In the meantime he subscribes himself,

"FRIGID FEET."

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 16.—The stock market broadened further to-day under the influence of the continued ease in the money market, despite the superficially unpromising outlook for the bank statement to-morrow, and the buying may be said to have been of the best character. Of course, reactions may be expected from time to time. They should be embraced as opportunities, and not neglected. The standard issues, like United States Steel, U. P., Amal. Copper, Reading, Smelters and So. Pac. should be bought. The industrials, it is said, will be given attention now.

Baltimore & Ohio began its march upward to-day, gaining two points. New York Central was strong, and Copper rose two. In the afternoon Great Northern and Nor. Pac. grew active and rose violently, carrying the whole market with them. The close was active and strong.

YOUNG'S POINT PARTY GET THE LAWFUL NUMBER

Fourteen Deer and a Bear Were the Spoils From Long Lake by These Old Reliable Hunters

The Heard-Duvall party of Young's Point returned home last night after their annual two weeks' hunt at Long Lake. They had excellent success, getting 14 fine deer for a party of seven. Mr. Richard Heard, the captain of the party bagged a huge bear, making their hunt one of the most successful in the history of their northern trip. They found the deer fairly plentiful and did not have to hunt very much to obtain the required number.

Doctor's said Female Trouble.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "For eight years I suffered from Kidney Complaint, and until twelve months ago doctors' said I was suffering from 'Female Trouble.' Last November (1905), I was seriously ill, resulting I believe from kidney troubles. Finding doctor's medicine doing me no good, I persuaded my husband to purchase one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, after having read of a case somewhat resembling mine. I commenced taking them according to directions (not taking the doctor's medicine), and on second day a swelling commenced in my feet, legs and body. The following day I was so changed and swollen my husband, in alarm, hastened to Mr. Johnson's drug store, who told him to tell me he thought the pills were drawing something out of the blood, and to keep on taking them. I did so and after taking them a week, the swelling disappeared leaving me with a complexion free from pimples, tired, weary feeling gone, constipation, from which I suffered for years, gone, pain in the back, gone, and a general feeling of joy and light heartedness, I have not felt since a child, took place in me.

My sister-in-law (Mrs. Bryan), seeing the action of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the change for good they accomplished in me, sent for a box and they completely cured her. When there is an opportunity of telling people what Doan's Kidney Pills did for us, we always take advantage of it, and tell them to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, for sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

PRINCETON HOCKEY TEAM MAY PLAY HERE

Want to Arrange Games with Local Team About Last of the Year—Visitors will be Fast Aggregation.

If arrangements can be made satisfactorily, it is probable that the Princeton University Hockey team will be seen on the ice here this coming season. A letter has been received from the secretary of the club, stating that a tour of Canada is being arranged for this season, and games in Peterborough would like to be arranged for on Dec. 31st, Jan. 1st and 2nd.

The letter states further that the team this year will consist of the same players who were on it last year, with the exception of one man, whose place is being taken by an exceptionally strong player. The team's showing last year was so good that this year they expect to win the Intercollegiate championship, at New York city, so it can be seen that at any rate the writer has the opinion that the team is a fast one.

In view of the fact that none of the large American colleges have ever sent hockey teams to Canada it is thought that this team should prove a good drawing card here. Nothing has, of course been done about the matter yet, and it is possible that the visitors may be looking for a larger guarantee than the local club will be willing to give them.

WANTS SUPPORT FOR THE OWEN SOUND CANDIDATE

For the Executive Committee of the O. H. A.—R. J. Brebner, the Club's Candidate on that Body for this year.

The Owen Sound Hockey Club has written the Peterborough Club, through its secretary asking for the support of the latter in the election of Mr. R. J. Brehner, of that town to the Executive of the O.H.A.

The letter represents Mr. Brehner as a man of good executive ability, which together with his long experience in hockey, both as a player and a manager, should, the club thinks, qualify him to fill the position to which his home club would like to see him elected.

THE TIGERS SHOULD WIN TO-MORROW'S BIG GAME

All Things Taken Into Account the Jungle-Terrors Should be Winners as Usual.

There is great excitement in local rugby circles over the game in Hamilton on Saturday between the Tigers and Montreal, and it is likely that a number of the enthusiasts will take in the game. Speculation as to the result of the game is rife, and both sides have many supporters here. Montreal seems to be the favourite in the betting, but, looking at it from all sides, Hamilton should win. On their past form they have shown themselves as a wonderful team. Under George Ballard they have developed science and team play that should more than counterbalance the speed which Montreal is said to possess behind the line. The easterners' back division is remarkably fast, of that there can be no doubt. They have several men who can sprint 100 yards in close on to ten seconds. But somehow, it seems impossible to see Craig, Molson or anybody else running sixty yards through the Tiger team as the Montreal backs have grown accustomed to do with their opponents in the east. It is not likely that he Canadian rules will bother Hamilton very much. The Tigers have a big trio for scrimmage, and most of the players are familiar with the scrimmage game, and will therefore be right at home in Saturday's struggle. In addition to this, the Tigers will be playing on their own grounds, with thousands of enthusiastic supporters in the stand, enough to encourage any team to play the game of their lives. The Tigers have not been beaten in four years, and although the betting figures are against Hamilton, the Mountaineers should bob up in the same old way, winners as usual.

WILL GET RETURNS OF THE RUGBY GAMES SATURDAY

Tiger-Montreal and Varsity-Queen's Games Reports Will Be Bulletined at the Oriental

The Oriental Hotel will receive by special wire to-morrow afternoon the returns of the Tiger-Montreal rugby game at Hamilton, by quarters, and also of the game at Toronto, between Varsity and Queen's. The betting on the game at Hamilton is even, neither team's supporters being willing to give odds, but both are confident of winning, though they admit that the score is likely to be close. The enterprise of Mr. Graham in getting these reports will be appreciated by those who are interested.

There promises to be a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club, to be held to-night at the Oriental at 8 o'clock. Some important business is to come up, including the election of officers, the appointing of delegates to the O.H.A. meeting, etc.

Although there is plenty of material here for a fast intermediate sever, it is said that the hockey club will not put a team in the O. H. A., owing to not being able to make satisfactory rink arrangements. Barrie Examiner.

YOU FELLOWS who pay your good money for good clothes, have a look at ED. HUFF'S advertisement in another column. You'll find that he makes the highest type of clothing, handsomely tailored and perfect fit warranted or you needn't take them. Try on evenings. For a limited time, you can have a pair of $5.00 fine imported worsted trousers, made to your measure for $3.95, or a $6.00 pair for $5.00. Also a regular $22 fine Melton overcoat to order for $18. Suits to order, regular $20 or $21 for 17 and 18 dollars. Speak quick.

Thousands Are Securing their Winter Clothing at Less Than Manufacturer's Wholesale Cost.

We are informed that Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will positively be the last four days of the closing-out sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock in Peterborough. The National Salvage Company, of Toronto, who are now in charge of the S. J. Sheridan stock say that they do not wish to move a dollar's worth of the merchandise away from Peterborough on account of cost of shipping and drayage; that they have invoiced the entire stock at about 35 per cent. less than the original wholesale cost, which means a saving to the public of more than one-half of the usual selling price of the goods. The people of Peterborough and vicinity are benefitting greatly by this closing-out, quit-business sale, as never heretofore have our people had such an opportunity to save money on wearing apparel such as this salvage sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock is now affording the public. The underwear, shirts, hats and so forth, will long be remembered as the most gigantic four days' selling of merchandise ever attempted in Peterborough, Ont. Extra preparations have been made for the big crowds who will attend during the last four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and big Saturday, the last day of the sale, November the 17th. The National Company say they will keep the S. J. Sheridan store open the last day of the sale, Saturday, November the 17th, until mid-night in order to accommodate the vast crowds wishing to take advantage of this tremendous sacrifice. This is positively the last notification. Act quickly; but four days more to outfit in clothing, underwear, shirts and hats, caps, etc., for the next five years, at prices less than actual cost of the raw material. Come quickly and secure your share before the sale closes, Saturday night, Nov. 17th.

"BUSINESS MAN" IS GIVEN CALLS BY MR. M'KENDRY

District Steam Heating Company's Head Replies to Letters in the Examiner

REFERS TO INTERVIEW WITH ALDERMAN

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Without wishing to enter into newspaper controversies, with regard to the merits of district heating, we still must refer to a gross error made in your issue of the 14th inst. In an interview published with one of the aldermen who voted in the minority, on Monday evening last, he is quoted as saying that the writer made the statement that "eight per cent. of the population of Lockport was served by the heating plant in that city." What I did say was that eighty per cent., and over, of the people were served, and I am quite sure that none of the alderman would knowingly misrepresent any statements made. If really eight per cent. were served, his comments would be upheld, but as it is, I wish merely to correct the error. With the questions of whether a franchise shall be granted to a company, or whether the city shall take over the plant, and operate it, we have no opinions to offer, and if we had, would not presume to enter into the debate. If the citizens of Peterborough do not now decide to have a plant, they will assuredly demand one later on, because from a sanitary, labour-saving and economical standpoint, there simply is no comparison between the now and the old methods.

The more the system is investigated, the more it will appeal to unbiassed judgment.

May I now refer to the letters of "Business Man"? The first letter "Business Man." The first letter was a fair presentation of facts from beginning to end. Take his quotation of the price of steam in Chatham. No such price as he gave has ever been quoted, nor such system of measurement has ever been used. We have over the signature of all the users of heat in Chatham, letters as strong as the English language can make them, stating that the steam heating company was a boon to Chatham, and the service is most satisfactory as to price, convenience and comfort. Last winter was the first of operation.

The company started with ten takers; at the close of the season thirty-two buildings were served; since then applications have been pouring in, the only trouble being to accommodate all who apply as rapidly as the demand calls for.

As I said, with the arguments for civic control or against, we have no word to say, but we make this offer, that if you will introduce the writer to "Business Man," this company will pay all his expenses to any town or city of the hundreds now using district steam heat; then let him through your paper or another give his experience, and we shall be delighted to abide by that. No man's opinions are worth while without investigation. The more our system is investigated by unbiassed and intelligent men the better we like it, and we shall be happy to give any citizen, or body of citizens, every opportunity to make such investigations. Can you suggest anything fairer?

Yours truly,
J. N. McKENDRY.

Toronto, Nov. 15th.

In justice to the gentleman whose interview is referred to in the above letter from Mr. McKendry, it is fair to say that the latter, at the very beginning of his letter, seems to have misapprehended the situation. The alderman referred to did not state that Mr. McKendry had said that "eight per cent. of the population of Lockport was served by the heating plant of the city." This statement was made by the alderman himself, and was based on calculations made from figures quoted by Mr. McKendry, in his address to the Committee of the Whole. What Mr. McKendry actually said was that eighty per cent. of the buildings in that section of the city served by the steam heating plant were using the system, with the truth of which statement no one found fault, or objected to.

Taking the number of buildings in the city, and the number heated by the central steam plant from Mr. McKendry's own figures, the alderman with whom an interview was given, made the calculation that about eight per cent. of the total number of buildings in Lockport were served by the plant.

FIRE ALARM BOX TO BE PLACED NEAR EACH FACTORY

As a Result of Conference Between Manufacturers' Association and the Committee.

COUNCIL WILL DEAL WITH THE MATTER

As a result of the conference between the Committee of the Whole and representatives of the Manufacturers' Association last night, one of the new fire alarm boxes will be near each of the factories of the city. A deputation from the manufacturers waited upon the Council to lay before them their views on the subject and to point out why they thought such a step would be advisable. The members of the Council seemed to be in thorough accord with them upon the subject, and it is probable that their request will be carried out by the Fire, Water and Light Committee when it comes up before that body again.

The manufacturers stated that it was of vital importance to them that their property should be protected, as far as possible, from danger of fire, and they thought that they should be granted their request.

The deputation was composed of Messrs. J H. Larmouth, secretary of the association; W. H Denham, of the Quaker Oats Co.; E G. Patterson, of the C. G E. Co.; G. P. Preen, of Brintons, Limited, and Jas. English, of the English Canoe Co.

Mr. F W. Doan and Chief Rutherford were also present.

Mayor Beat said that the meeting had been called for the purpose of hearing the views of the manufacturers upon the location of the new fire alarm boxes.

Ald. Adams stated that most of the alarms came in by telephone, and as most of the manufacturers had watchmen and telephone connection with the firehall, the Committee didn't think it was necessary to place them in the immediate neighbourhood of factories.

Mr. E G. Patterson said that the manufacturers were vitally interested in the protection of their factories. They had supported the proposal to build a new firehall. The deputation represented all the factories and the Retail Merchants' Association. They thought that an alarm box should be placed at every factory. The first few minutes of a fire made a great difference. They thought that if there was not enough money for this purpose they should provide enough. They did not want the residential section to be endangered, but thought that an alarm box should be near every factory. In regard to the system, the manufacturers thought that the alarm should ring the number of the box. All the factory managers had the same views on this subject.

Mr. Preen stated that he agreed with Mr. Patterson's views Personally, he would like to see an alarm placed at the gate of his factory.

"But that's outside the city limits," remarked the Mayor.

"That's the trouble," agreed Mr. Preen. "We are prepared to pay the expense of the line as far as the box is in front of our property. Lock street would be satisfactory for this purpose."

Before the deputation retired the desired location of some of these boxes was discussed by the meeting. It was decided, for instance, that the box that was to have been placed at the corner be placed near the C. G. E gate, and that a box be located at the corner of Quaker and Hunter streets.

To save time it was decided to refer the matter of the location of the new fire alarm boxes back to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and the deputation was assured that their request would be carried out by that committee.

Mr. Robt. Fair, of the Retail Merchants' Association was unable to be present but through Ald. Wilson stated that he was entirely in sympathy with the request of the Manufacturers' Association, that an alarm should be placed at every factory.

Ald. Tovey suggested that a light be placed over each fire alarm box. This should be green or some other distinctive colour so that they could be seen a long distance at night. The suggestion was looked upon as a good one.

MET THE CASE.

No. 37.

I had won the girl and she'd said "yes,"
When I said to my chum, "Would you ever guess
That soon I'll take to myself a wife,
And make her happy all my life?"
"Allow me to congratulate," he said,
Then slowly and thoughtfully shook his head.
"I am afraid 'twill be very hard to find
A house just suitable to your mind,"
But I picked up the Examiner last night,
And I think I saw in it an ad. that might Perhaps suit both my purse and taste—
Not too high a rent—my money to waste.
I know of one who hunted the town,
Till his strength was gone and his spirits down,
But this ad., I know, is just what I need—
I wonder more people this paper don't read!
When my marriage in this paper is printed
You may guess, for sure, my pleasure's not stinted.
But come around and see us, when out walking, my lad,
Just give us a call, I'm sure we'll be glad,
You will see how cosy and happy are we
In the little house advertised, that you didn't see.

A LUMBER COMPANY'S OPERATIONS

Thompson Company Will Take Out 3,000,000 Feet This Season in Methuen and Belmont Townships.

The Havelock Standard says:—In conversation with Mr. James Thompson, president of the Thompson Lumber Company, he informed us that he has over 75 men at work in four camps in Methuen township, and on a recent visit north 10,000 logs were already on the dumps. One camp is situated at Jack's Creek, near Stony Lake, with Mr. Joseph Chase in charge; one at Trout Lake, with Mr. John Wood in charge; one at Bog Lake, with Mr. Noah King in charge; and one at Clear Lake, with Mr. Henry Melville in charge.

Last year the company took out about 2,000,000 feet, 1,300,000 of which was cut at the Campbellford mill. This year they hope to take out about 3,000000, feet, and in addition to their own cut the company is buying logs from settlers all the way from Chandos to Belmont.

GAS COMPANY SHOULD NOTIFY THE CONSUMERS

When Supply is to be Shut Off—Lady in the City Has a Complaint to Make Against Company

To-day a lady living in the western part of the city, with a vigour and emphasis characteristic of the sex, under strong provocation, complained, and it would seem with good reason, of the action of the Gas Company, in shutting off the gas without a word of warning. She depends upon gas for domestic purposes, and any housekeeper can understand the situation and the lady's cause for vexation. This lady also complains that on previous occasions the gas has been shut off without notice, which would admit of providing some substitute. She also points out that the officials of the Water Works when, as is necessary, the water has to be shut off in the operation of making repairs or connections have the courtesy, fairness and business method of giving due notice so that consumers by making provision beforehand will not be subjected to unnecessary and preventible inconvenience. The lady feels greatly incensed against the Gas Company—not so much for shutting off the gas which may be necessary in the prosecution of their work, but for their rudeness and lack of courtesy in not notifying consumers of their intention, so that provision for some other form of fuel might be made. It would cost nothing, the lady submits, to give such notice, which is only a reasonable recognition of the rights of consumers by whose patronage alone the gas or any other corporation providing a public utility, can do business and make money.

LOCAL PRESS PRAISED BY CHURCH MAGAZINE

St. Luke's Parish Paper Says Peterborough Papers Give Hearty Support to Work of Churches.

In connection with Dr. Symond's visit it is only right that we should heartily thank the local evening paepr for their spacious and interesting accounts both papers have given of the Sunday Service and Monday evening's entertainment. No place can be found in Canada where the press gives a heartier, or even as hearty a support to the work of the Church as here in Peterborough.—St. Luke's Parish Magazine.

NEW LUMBER COM'Y ELECTED THEIR OFFICERS

The Mann Lumber and Cheese Box Company, Ltd., Shareholders Met Last Night.

MANY ENLARGEMENTS BEING PLANNED

Last night a meeting of the shareholders of the newly organized Mann Lumber and Cheese Box Company, Limited, was held at the office of the company, when the officers of the company wore elected.

It was decided to constitute the provisional directors into a board of temporary directors, the permanent board to be elected at a meeting, to be held at some future date. These directors, therefore, will hold office in the meantime: Messrs. E. H. Mann, W. J. Allison, W. Shaw, W. Harstone, R. G. Ritchie, W. H. Down, and A. E. Dixon.

The officers elected were:
President—E. H. Mann.
Vice-President—W. Harstone.
Secretary—W. F. Nelson.

Mr. A. E. Dixon is the solicitor of the company, which promises to develop into one of the most prosperous and largest in the city.

The intention of the company is to enlarge the plant in the near future and greatly increase the output of the factory, which in the last few years has grown rapidly. A large quantity of new machinery will be purchased and installed, and with this addition to the plant the company will be in a position to manufacture many new lines which it is at present unable to handle, but the manufacture of which would materially increase the profits of the concern.

The Electrical World announces the invention by a resident in Paris of an applicance known as the "electric thermophile." It consists of a light battery to be carried in the pocket, and an arrangement of wires attached to an ordinary suit of clothes, which will keep the wearer warm and do away with the necessity for an overcoat out of doors or a fire at home.

AN ASPHODEL FARMER'S DISCOVERY

Found an Elk's Horn While Working on Farm of Mr. Small—A Relic of the Early Days When Elk Were Plentiful.

The Norwood Register says:—Mr. Robert Small of Asphodel, while harrowing on his father's farm on the 7th line of Dummer a short time ago unearthed what appeared to be a large root, but upon closer examination it was found to be the horn of a deer, evidently the antler of an elk, as it is not flat like that of a moose. These animals were once quiet common in North America, but are now rarely seen except in the Arctic regions. The horn is two feet six inches in length, and has three or four projecting snags or branches, which have been partly broken off. This interesting specimen has been placed among our antiquarian relics.

A RUSSIAN HEROINE IN BOY'S GARB

Fled on Board Ship at Odessa and Made Her Escape in That Way.

Examiner Special

London, Nov. 16.—Disguised as a boy, Miss Simboff, a Russian revolutionary worker, has arrived in London as a stowaway in a steamship from Odessa. She is a singularly handsome young woman, and it is remarkable that her masquerade was not detected.

She relates that the police in Odessa organized a search for her. Of this she was made aware through friends. The house in which she was hidden was watched, and she was beginning to despair of any chance of flight, when the plan which she so resolutely carried out was conceived.

"Within a few minutes," she said to-day, in describing her escape, my long tresses were snipped off and I dressed myself in man's attire. Toward midnight I ventured out of the house, and made my way without being suspected to the docks.

"There I found the ship, and managed to slip aboard unnoticed. I found a place to conceal myself, and remained there two days. On the third day a man who came to get some ropes found me and dragged me before the captain.

"The skipper was an Englishman. I could not understand what he said, but I easily guessed from his angry gestures that his language must have been as crimson as his face was.

"I was sent to the bunkers, where I was required to trim coal. But this was too hard work by far for me, and I fainted. Thereupon I was sent into the engine room, where my duty for a whole week was to clean parts of the machinery. This was more like a woman's work, and I did not mind it.

"Finally I was set to work at knocking paint from a bulkhead with a chipping hammer. In the last few days of the voyage I qualified as a painter.

"Nobody on board the ship suspected that I was not really a boy, except one sailor, a Russian, who told me he would keep his own counsel, and he did."

HELD UP AS A JOKE; ONE LIFE WAS LOST

Auto Party Runs Over a Companion While Making a Dash for Liberty.

Examiner Special.

New York, Nov. 17.—A hold-up by six men in an automobile in Central Park west early to-day cost one of the automobilists his life. He was run down by the big touring car when the hold-up men were making a dash for liberty and so severely hurt that he died in a hospital soon afterwards without regaining consciousness. The dead man was Wiggo Brandt, a chauffeur, 31 years old.

The police believe the hold-up was intended merely as a prank by half a dozen chauffeurs who were returning from a ball in Harlem. On account of the death of Brandt, however, they are now searching for the other occupants of the car and arrests are expected to follow.

The victims of the hold-up were Milton Roblee, formerly owner of the Hotel Belle Claire, his friend, W. G. Chittick, and a cabman, who was driving the two men to their homes. They were at Seventy-first street when an automobile containing six men appeared, travelling south. As the machine neared the cab, the automobile stopped and three of the six men jumped out. Two of them jumped on the box of the cab, while the other ran to the horses' head. The cabman's cries for help brought a policeman, and as the three men in the automobile saw him coming they shouted a warning to their companions. The latter then made a rush to get into the automobile, and two of them had succeeded in doing so when the big machine was sent away at a jump. Brandt, who was standing on the step, was thrown heavily to the ground and died without giving any information about his companions.

Crippled Inmate of Almhouse Finds Himself With $50,000 Which he Does Not Know How to Use.

Examiner Special

Matteawan, N.Y., Nov. 16. — Theodore Post, aged 62, a crippled inmate of the almshouse here, yesterday fell heir to $50,000 by the death of a relative. Post says he doesn't want to leave the almshouse, doesn't care for the money and has no idea as to what he will do with it.

The consumption of tea in England increases every year. In 1870 the consumption was one hundred and seventeen million pounds, and in 1906 it had increased to two hundred and fifty-nine million pounds. In Canada, since the introduction of "Salada" Tea, the consumption of tea is increasing in a like ratio.

CARNIVAL OF CRIME HOLDING SWAY IN PITTSBURG

Superintendent of Police McQuade Issues Warnings to the Citizens—Tells Them How to Protect Their Lives.

FRESH EVIDENCES OF LAWLESSNESS

"When you fight with a professional thief or burglar you are battling with an insane man. Few of them will hesitate to take life to gain their ends. They believe they are only protecting themselves when their victims give battle."

"Don't come downstairs after a burglar unless you have a gun and can shoot well. Be sure there is no light near you, or you will offer yourself as a target. Above all, tread stealthily and make sure of your man. But never search unless armed and prepared to use your weapons."

This is the advice that Superintendent of Police, Thomas R. McQuade has given the citizens of Pittsburg, and it was considered necessary by reason of the fact that the "Smoky City" is at present and has been for some little time, apparently in the hands of an organized band of thugs and murderers. The whole city is in a state of terror, and the situation is said to be getting more serious every day. In a circular which Mr. McQuade has issued he further says:—

"If a man holds a revolver at your head don't fight unless you have excellent chances. Remember the man is a maniac. Give him what you have, and get him later if possible. To fight in the face of a levelled revolver in a thief's hands is almost suicidal.

"The best plan is to have a police whistle and sound it from your bedroom window. If not that, open your window and shout for assistance. Call the police. That is the safer plan. The burglar downstairs is crazy.

"Do not hide your revolver under your pillow when you go to bed. The burglar will get your gun the first thing when he comes to your room. Put it under your dresser or under the bed, and lie still. When the burglar leaves then get your weapon and get him as he is leaving. If you don't hide your gun, the burglar will take it as well as your valuables. Don't fight unless you have the advantage. Human life is dearer than riches, but the professional burglar thinks otherwise and will not hesitate to take it."

More Deeds of Violence.

Pittsburg was confronted again to-day by deeds of lawlessness, which intensify the terror of this crime-ridden community. A prayer made by the Rev Dr. David R. Breed was echoed in the hearts of all citizens.

"Oh, Lord, help the policemen of Pittsburg to protect the lives of her citizens," was the invocation of Dr. Breed this afternoon at the funeral of Harry Firth Smith, who was murdered in his home by a burglar on Sunday morning.

To the record of crimes was added to-day a daring attempt at abduction made within a block of police headquarters; a detective held up and robbed by a woman in the street, and the chase by citizens of a burglar who was discovered and fired upon, and the attempted strangling of a woman. It is known that the police are not reporting all the crimes which are being committed.

WELLMAN AIRSHIP TO CARRY NINE TONS

He is Now Hard at Work in Paris Constructing Baloon for Polar Trips.

Examiner Special.

Paris, Nov. 16. — Now that Commander Peary has returned from the Arctic regions without having reached the North Pole, the only expedition known to be preparing to seek the pole next year is that of Walter Wellman, who is now here. There are other expeditions in the field, but none of them have the pole as an objective.

Wellman is hard at work with his preparations for next year's expedition. Work has begun at Asnieres, a suburb of Paris, on the erection of a large workshop, in which his airship, "America," is to be reconstructed during the coming winter. After study of all the latest balloons, including the Lebaudy, built as an aerial cruiser and scout for the French army, and the Maj. Parseval ship in Berlin, designed for the German army, Wellman has decided on a plan of reconstruction designed by himself with the assistance of his engineers.

The new airship, he believes, will mar a distinct advance in aeronautics, as applied to geographical explorations. It will have a total lifting force of more than 18,000 lbs. and will carry, in addition to its crew of five men, and a fully equipped sledging expedition, 6000 lbs. of petroleum for the 80-horsepower motor. Wellman says that Peary has fully demonstrated the impracticability of reaching the pole by the old method of sledging with dogs, and declares his confidence that he himself will succeed with his balloon.

900 CELESTIALS HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

All Records of Tourist Chinese Broken by Number Going Home to Spend Christmas.

Examiner Special.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 16.—All records of an exodus of Chinese to attend the New Year's festivities in their native land were broken recently with the departure of about 900 Celestials for the Orint on the steamship Empress of Japan. The largest number which ever left this port before on one steamer went out on Oct. 30th, last year, on the Japan. On this occasion she took 655 Chinese home.

Local Chinese to the number of about 425 were registered out on the Japan. The remainder came from all parts of the United States, and a special train bringing over 300 of them reached Vancouver from Montreal.

$1,060,000 OF RELIEF FUNDS STOLEN

Fully This Sum Said to Have Been Misappropriated—100 Government Detectives Working on the Scandals.

Examiner Special.

San Francisco, November 16. — The Chronicle says: A new investigation is progressing in the course of developments in the local graft scandal. It now appears that many sums of money, large and small, that were sent from different states to San Francisco, for the relief of the sufferers from the calamity, never reached the relief committee. Some of these amounts which aggregated a large sum, were mailed to the care of Mayor Schmitz. F. J. Henley, Detective William Burns, and about one hundred government agents, are making an investigation.

It is probable that $1,0000,000 of relief funds were stolen, and never reached their destination.

There will be some satisfaction to the citizens of Peterborough in the knowledge that the $100, which was contributed by this city, did not share the fate of the gifts of many of many other municipalities, since no money was sent, the city's contribution being in the products of the American Cereal Company, which could not be very easily stolen.

ELOPES WITH COACHMAN AND OUTWITS AUNT

Wealthy Heiress Elopes to Marry Coachman—Miss Howe Worth a Million.

Examiner Special.

Chicago, November 17. — Emma Bachman Howe, 19 years old, and heiress to an estate worth more than $1,000,000, has eloped from Chesterton, Ind., with Wm. Jensen, a coachman. The runaways are supposed to be in Chicago.

Miss Howe is the adopted daughter of Miss Frances Howe, owner of much valuable Chicago real estate and of a magnificent country estate at Chesterton. The young woman met Jenson while visiting in Chicago a few days ago. When her guardian found that they contemplated marriage she at once returned with her to Chesterton.

Jensen followed to-day and drove with his sweetheart from Chesterton to Valparaiso, where they are believed to have taken a train to Chicago. The elder Miss Howe discovered their flight and followed as far as Valparaiso, where she lost the fugitives.

The younger Miss Howe is a grand-daughter of a frontiersman named Bailey, who married a squaw. A daughter of this marriage wedded an Englishman named Howe, and Miss Howe is his daughter.

THE OLDEST CHIPPEWA INDIAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Shaweno Last of the Chippewas of St. Mary's River, Dead.

Special to The Examiner

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 17.—After a life of 80 years Mrs. Louis Shaweno, one of the last of the picturesque Chippewa Indians who made the valley of the St. Mary's river famous in years gone by, is dead, on Sugar Island, where she was born. She was buried in a little grove on Baie de Wasig, near her home.

Mrs. Shaweno was the oldest Chippewa Indian living in the Lake Superior country. Her husband was the chief of all the Chippewas now living, although their organization has practically ceased to exist, owing to the inroads made by the whites, who have settled up the country rapidly in the past few years. His father was one of the parties to the treaty made in the early days of the country when the land came into possession of the whites. Mrs. Shaweno leaves five children and many other relatives.

A BIRMINGHAM GIRL KIDNAPPED IT IS FEARED

Man who Claimed to be in Love With Her Followed Her About and Belief is That he Abducted Her.

FANNY FENNEL'S ODD DISAPPEARANCE

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 16.—Pursued from Denver to Birmingham by a strange man who claimed to have fallen desperately in love with her at first sight last August, when she and her mother were traveling in Colorado, Miss Fannie Fennell, 18 years old, mysteriously disappeared from her home between midnight and 5 o'clock, and her mother, Mrs. J. H. Sidebottom, firmly believes she was kidnapped.

The frantic mother made a report of the case to the police and turned over to them a batch of unsigned letters which she said her daughter had received. The first of these letters came on September 27. In it the writer said he had first seen Miss Fennell in Denver and at once became madly in love with her; that he had followed her to Birmingham and had determined to marry her, or else murder her so she could marry no one else. The mother said her daughter fainted when she read this threat and daily lived in terror of her unknown lover, whose name she never knew and whose face she never saw.

On the fateful night Miss Fennell retired as usual. Just before midnight a gentle tapping was heard on the front door. A member of the household went to the door and saw a hack standing in front of the house, but no one was at the door. The hack hurried away. This morning an examination of Miss Fennell's room showed that she had slept in her bed. On a chair were her clothes and under the edge of the bed were her shoes and stockings but the girl herself was missing. A pane of glass had been removed from the window by cutting out the putty, and it is believed entrance was effected in that manner, as the window is but a few feet from the ground. As none of the young woman's clothes were missing except the night garments, which she wore, it is thought that her kidnapper brought clothing for her with him.

The police have found a man who saw a hack in front of the house two hours after midnight, and a report from Ensley, a suburb, says a strange man, with another person, apparently a young woman in man's clothing, passed through that city to-day in a hack. A notes was found on the front porch of the girl's home, addressed to her mother, and saying: "I have Fannie at last and there will be no need of you trying to search for her, as I am going to Europe with her. I stole her for love, not for money. I will take good care of her."

The note was unsigned.

130,000 Homes are Warmed and Fed from the Happy Thought Range

The idea that for an ordinary dwelling "one stove is enough" originated in the superior cooking and heating capacity of the Happy Thought Range. Few rural homes find need of a heater where they have this magnificent range. No stove inventor ever embodied so many good ideas all in one stove as did the designer of the Happy Thought. The arrangement of drafts, the construction of the grate, the circulation of hot air around the oven, the corrugated oven-lining, the ability to heat water and keep it hot are points that put the

HAPPY THOUGHT RANGE

in a class by itself. It can heat the whole dwelling in winter, while in summer the fire can be checked immediately after cooking, thus keeping the house delightfully cool. 130,000 housekeids are now using it both for cooking and heating, and from all reports they would not exchange for any other stove in the world. Ask your dealer about it. Every Happy Thought burns coal or wood. Send to us for an illustrated catalogue—free.

BLOOD DISEASED MEN

If you ever contracted any blood disease you are never safe unless the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Have you any of the following symptoms? Sore throat, ulcers on the tongue or in the mouth, hair falling out, aching pains, itchiness of the skin, sores or blotches on the body eyes red and smart, dyspeptic stomach, sexual weakness—indications of the secondary stage. Don't ruin your system with the old fogy treatment—mercury and potash—which only suppresses the symptoms for a time only to break out again when happy in domestic life. Don't let quacks experiment on you. Our New Method Treatment is guaranteed to cure you. Our guarantees are backed by bank bonds, that the disease will never return. Thousands of patients have been already cured by our New Method Treatment for over 20 years. No names used without written consent.

Mr. E. A. C. writes: "Your remedies have done me more good than Hot Springs and all the doctors and medicines I had previously tried. I have not felt any of those pains or seen any ulcers or blotches for over seven years and the outward symptoms of the loathsome disease have entirely disappeared. My hair has grown in fully again and I am married and happy."

Crimson Blind

BY FRED M. WHITE

Author of "Tregarthen's Wife," "The Robe of Lucifer," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by R. F. Fenno & Company.

"Very little. I never met him, if that is what you mean. But I heard that he had done something particularly disgraceful. Why do you ask?"

"Nothing more than a mere coincidence," Henson replied. "It is just a little strange that you should mention his name here, especially after what had happened last night. I suppose that, being an American, you fell in love with the Rembrandt. It was you who suggested securing it in its place, and then preventing my little jest from being successfully carried out. Of course you have heard that the print was stolen once?"

"The knowledge is as general as the spiriting away of the Gainsborough Duchess."

"Quite so. Well, the man who stole the Rembrandt was Dr. Hatherly Bell. He stole it that he might pay a gambling debt, and it was subsequently found in his luggage before he could pass it on to the purchaser. I am glad you mentioned it, because the name of Bell is not exactly a favorite at the castle."

"I am much obliged to you," said Chris, gravely. "Was Dr. Bell a favorite once?"

"Oh, immense. He had great influence over Lord Littimer. He—but here comes Littimer in one of his moods. He appears to be angry about something."

Littimer strode up, with a frown on his face and a telegram in his hand. Henson assumed to be mildly sympathetic.

"I hope it is nothing serious?" he murmured.

"Serious," Littimer cried. "The acme of audacity—yes. The telegram has just come. 'Must see you to-night on important business affecting the past. Shall hope to be with you some time after dinner!'"

"And who is the audacious aspirant to an interview?" Chris, asked, demurely.

"A man I expect you never heard of," said Littimer, "but who is quite familiar to Henson here. I am alluding to that scoundrel Hatherly Bell."

"Good heavens!" Henson burst out. "I—I mean, what colossal impudence!"

CHAPTER XXIX.

Chris gave Henson one swift searching glance before her eyes dropped demurely to the ground. Lord Littimer appeared to be taking no heed of anything but his own annoyance. But quick as Chris had been, Henson was quicker. He was smiling the slow, sad smile of the man who turns the other cheek because it is his duty to do so.

"And when does Dr. Bell arrive?" he asked.

"He won't arrive at all," Littimer said, irritably. "Do you suppose I am going to allow that scoundrel under my roof again? The amazing impudence of the fellow is beyond everything. He will probably reach Moreton Station by the ten o'clock train. The drive will take him an hour, if I choose to permit the drive, which I don't. I'll send a groom to meet the train with a letter. When Bell has read that letter he will not come here."

"I don't think I should do that," Henson said, respectfully.

"Indeed! You are really a clever fellow. And what would you do?"

"I should suffer Bell to come. As a Christian I should deem it my duty to do so. It pains me to say so, but I am afraid that I cannot contravert your suggestion that Bell is a scoundrel. It grieves me to prove any man that. And in the present instance the proofs were overpowering. But there is always a chance—a chance that we have misjudged a man on false evidence."

"False evidence! Why, the Rembrandt was actually found in Bell's portmanteau.

"Dear friend, I know it," Henson said, with the same slow, forgiving smile. "But there have been cases of black treachery, dark conspiracies that one abhors. And Bell might have made some stupendous discovery regarding his character. I should see him, my lord; oh, yes, I should most undoubtedly see him."

"And so should I," Chris put in, swiftly.

Littimer smiled, with all traces of his ill-temper gone. He seemed to be contemplating Henson with his head on one side, as if to fathom that gentleman's intentions. There was just the suspicion of contempt in his glance.

"In the presence of so much goodness and beauty I feel quite lost," he said. "Very well, Henson, I'll see Bell. I may find the interview diverting."

Henson strolled away with a sigh of gentle pleasure. Once out of sight he flew to the library, where he scribbled a couple of telegrams. They were carefully worded and related to some apocryphal parcel required without delay, and calculated to convey nothing to the lay mind. A servant was despatched to the village with them. Henson would have been pleased had he known that the fascinating little American had waylaid his messenger and read his telegrams under the plea of verifying one of the addresses. A moment or two later and those addresses were carefully noted down in a pocket-book. It was past five before Chris found herself with a little time on her hands again. Littimer had kept her pretty busy all the afternoon, partly because there was so much to do, but partly from the pleasure that he derived from his secretary's society. He was more free with her than he had been with any of her sex for years. It was satisfactory, too, to learn that Littimer regarded Henson as a smug and oily hypocrite, and that the latter was only going to be left Littimer Castle to spite the owner's other relations.

"Now you run into the garden and get a little air," Littimer said at length. "I am feeling you a lot too much. I am afraid you are a most insinuating young person."

Chris ran out into the garden gaily. Despite the crushing burden on her shoulders she felt an elation and a flow of spirits she had not been conscious of for years. The invigorating air of the place seemed to have got into her veins, the cruel depression of the House of the Silent Sorrow was passing away. Again, she had hope and youth on her side, and everything was falling out beautifully. It was a pleasanter world than Chris had anticipated.

She went along more quietly after a time. There was a tiny arbor on a terrace overlooking the sea to which Chris had taken a particular fancy. She picked her way daintily along the grass paths between the roses until she suddenly emerged upon the terrace. She had popped out of the roses swiftly as a squirrel peeps from a tree.

Somebody was in the arbor, two people talking earnestly. One man stood up with his back to Chris, one hand gripping the outside ragged bark of the arbor frame with a peculiarly nervous, restless force. Chris could see the hand turned back distinctly. A piece of bark was being crumbled under a strong thumb. Such a thumb! Chris had seen nothing like it before.

It was as if at some time it had been smashed flat with a hammer, a broad strong, cruel-looking thumb, flat and sinister-looking as the head of a snake. In the centre, like a pink pearl dropped in a filthy gutter, was one tiny, perfectly-formed nail.

The owner of the thumb stepped back the better to give way to a fit of hoarse laughter. He turned slightly aside and his eyes met those of Chris. They were small eyes set in a coarse, brutal face, the face of a criminal, Chris thought if she were a judge of such matters. It came quite as a shock to see that the stranger was in clerical garb.

"I—I beg your pardon," Chris stammered. "But I——"

Henson emerged from the arbor. For once in a way he appeared confused, there was a flush on his face that told of annoyance ill suppressed.

"Please don't go away," he said. "Mr. Merritt will think that he has alarmed you. Miss Lee, this is my very good friend and co-worker in the field, the Reverend James Merritt."

"Is Mr. Merritt a friend of Lord Littimer's?" Chris asked, demurely.

"Littimer hates the cloth," Henson replied. "Indeed, he has no sympathy whatever with my work. I met my good friend quite by accident in the village just now, and I brought him here for a chat. Mr. Merritt is taking a well-earned holiday."

Chris replied graciously that she didn't doubt it. She did not deem it necessary to add that she knew that one of Mr. Henson's mystic telegrams had been addressed to one James Merritt at an address in Moreton Wells, a town some fifteen miles away. That the scoundrel was up to no good she knew perfectly well.

"Your work must be very interesting," she said. "Have you been in the Church long, Mr. Merritt?"

Merritt said hoarsely that he had not been in the Church very long. His dreadful grin and fog voice suggested that he was a brand plucked from the burning, and that he had only recently come over to the side of the angels. The whole time he spoke he never met Chris's glance once. The chaplain of a convict prison would have turned from him in disgust. Henson was obviously ill at ease. In his suave, diplomatic way he contrived to manoeuvre Merritt off the ground at length.

"An excellent fellow," he said, with exaggerated enthusiasm. "It was a great day for us when we won over James Merritt. He can reach a class which hitherto we have not touched."

"He looks as if he had been in gaol," Chris said.

"Oh, he has," Henson admitted, candidly. "Many a time."

Chris deemed it just possible that the unpleasant experience might be endured again, but she only smiled and expressed herself to be deeply interested. The uneasiness in Henson's manner gradually disappeared. Evidently the girl suspected nothing. She would have liked to have asked a question or two about Mr. Merritt's thumb, but she deemed it prudent not to do so.

Dinner came at length, dinner served in the great hall in honor of the recently arrived guest, and set up in all the panoply and splendor that Littimer affected at times. The best plate was laid out on the long table. There were banks and coppices of flowers at either corner, a huge palm nodded over silver and glass and priceless china. The softly shaded electric lights made pools of amber flame on fruit and flowers and gleaming crystal. Half-a-dozen big footmen went about their work with noiseless tread.

Henson shook his head playfully at all this show and splendor. His good humor was of the elephantine order, and belied the drawn anxiety of his eyes. Luxurious and peaceful as the scene was, there seemed to Chris to be a touch of electricity in the air, the suggestion of something about to happen. Littimer glanced at her admiringly. She was dressed in white satin, and she had in her hair a single diamond star of price.

"Of course Henson pretends to condemn all this kind of thing," Littimer said. "He would have you believe that when he comes into his own the plate and wine will be sold for the benefit of the poor, and the seats of the mighty filled with decayed governesses and antiquated shop-walkers."

"I hope that time may long be deferred," Henson murmured.

"And so do I," Littimer said, drily, "which is one of the disadvantages of being conservative. By the way, who was that truculent-looking scoundrel I saw with you this afternoon?"

Henson hastened to explain. Littimer was emphatically of opinion that such visitors were better kept at a distance for the present. When all the rare plate and treasures of Littimer Castle had been disposed of for philanthropic purposes it would not matter.

"There was a time when the enterprising burglar got his knowledge of the domestic and physical geography of a house from the servants. Now he reforms, with the great advantage that he can lay his plan of campaign from personal observation. It is a much more admirable method, and tends to avert suspicion from the actual criminal."

"You would not speak thus if you knew Merritt," said Henson.

"All the same, I don't want the privilege," Littimer smiled. "A man with a face like that couldn't reform; nature would resent such an enormity. And yet you can never tell. Physically speaking, my quondam friend Hatherly Bell has a perfect face."

"I confess I am anxious to see him," Chris said. "I—I heard him lecture in America. He had the most interesting theory about dogs. Mr. Henson hates dogs."

"Yes," Henson said, shortly. "I do, and they hate me, but that does not prevent my being interested in the coming of Dr. Bell. And nobody hopes more sincerely than myself that he will succeed in clearly vindicating his character."

Littimer smiled sarcastically as he trifled with his claret glass. In his cynical way he was looking forward to the interview with a certain sense of amusement. And there was a time when he had enjoyed Bell's society immensely.

"Well, you will not have long to wait now," he said. "It is long past ten, and Bell is due at any moment after eleven. Coffee in the balcony, please."

It was a gloriously warm night, with just a faint suspicion of a breeze on the air. Down below the sea beat with a gentle sway against the cliffs; on the grassy slopes a belated lamb was bleating for its dam. Chris strolled quietly down the garden with her mind at peace for a time. She had almost forgotten her mission, for the moment. A figure slipped gently past her on the grass, but she utterly failed to notice it.

"An exceedingly nice girl, that," Littimer was saying, "and distinctly amusing. Excuse me if I leave you here—a tendency to ague and English night air don't blend together."

CHAPTER XXX.

It was the very moment that Henson had been waiting for. All his listlessness had vanished. He sprang to his feet and made his way hurriedly across the lawn. Dark as it was, he slipped along with the ease of one who is familiar with every inch of the ground. A man half his weight and half his age could have been no more active.

He advanced to what seemed to be the very edge of the cliff and disappeared. There were rocks and grassy knolls which served as landmarks to him. A slip of the foot might have resulted in a serious accident. Above the gloom a head appeared.

"That you, Merritt?" Henson asked, hoarsely.

"Oh, it's me right enough," came the muttered reply. "Good job as I'm used to a seafaring life, or I should never have got up those cliffs. Where's the girl?"

"Oh, the girl's right enough. She's standing exactly where she can hear the cry of the suffering in distress. You can leave that part of the drama to me. She's a smart girl with plenty of pluck, but all the same I am going to make use of her. Have you got the things?"

"Got everything, pardner. Got a proper wipe over the skull, too."

"How on earth did you manage to do that?"

"Meddling with Bell, of course. Why didn't you let him come and produce his picture in peace? We should have been all ready to flabbergaster him when he did come."

"My good Merritt, I have not the slightest doubt about it. My plans are too carefully laid for them to astray. But, at the same time, I firmly believe ght Waists Match Suit Materials. The Side Plaited Skirt Worn.

Skirt waists to be worn with suits are made of materials exactly matching the suit fabric. Messaline, radium, chiffon cloth and crepe waists are to be more used in this connection than elaborate lingerie blouses.

There is a return to favor of the skirt with closely laid small side plaits firmly stitched and pressed until the surface fits like a glove over the hips.

The new color for traveling costumes is a shade of grayish green seen in men's light overcoats. This carried out in covert coating makes a very neat costume, and every item of the toilet is chosen by the well dressed woman to correspond with it.

cents a yard. It comes in beautiful dark colors and has a fancy border about four inches wide. The flannel is so wide that six yards will make a dressing gown. One pretty piece is of dark blue with a dull tan figure in it, the border a conventional design in dull blue, tan and dull red.

Velvet coats with cloth or satin skirts are to be worn this winter for dress occasions.

A fetching red hat for a little girl has a flat crown of velvet with a full floppy brim of gray plaid silk. The revived vogue of the plaited skirt retains the decorated front panel, which is conspicuous in nearly all of the new skirts. The woman with last year's skirt to renovate will find fresh perplexities. The skirts are a little shorter and very full at the hems.

The natty walking suit seen in the picture is of green prunella cloth. A princess effect is obtained with straps of velvet ribbon which holds the plaits in at the waist. The Eton is strapped with cloth and inset on the double breasted front with braided velvet. The buttons are also of velvet.

CARE OF THE BABY.

A mother's work and worry in caring for the little ones is greatly lightened if she has on hand a safe remedy for the cure of indigestion, colic, sour stomach, constipation, diarrhoea, simple fevers and the other little ailments that are apt to come to children suddenly. For these troubles Baby's Own Tablets are better than any other medicine. They are mildly laxative, prompt in their action and a few doses usually leaves the child in perfect health. They do not contain an atom of opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm—and may be given with equal safety to the new born infant or the well grown child. Mrs. Reginald James, Fenaghvale, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and find them unexcelled as a medicine for children. They promote sleep and general good health." Huge Roses a Millinery Feature. Serviceable English Walking Hats.

Held in place by a single great rose is a popular method of placing the ostrich plume on fall hats.

For every day wear there is a return to favor of the little English walking hat of soft felt simply trimmed with folds of ribbon around the long, narrow crown and stiff wings or a rosette on one side holding up the rim.

As a general thing, narrow and close fitting rims mark the street hat, the felt brims being turned up at one side and faced with velvet, either plaited or plain. Two birds nestling their heads together in love bird fashion are put on, one inside and one outside the crown.

One thing to remember in the new millinery is that there is less bandeau—less up and down—and the one that is used reaches well around into the front of the hat.

Most attractive are the amber hatpins, buckles and necklaces. This golden colored substance, though, has to be worn with care, as there are few gowns on which it looks well.

The hat illustrated is of mode silk beaver. It is one of those artistic, becoming shapes that prettily frame the face. A wreath of exquisite pink roses encircles the crown.

Origin of Toasts.

The proposal of a health in an after dinner speech dates back to mediaeval times. At that time the loving cup was used at every banquet. It was filled to the brim with wine and in the center was placed a piece of toasted bread. The cup circulated the table, each one present taking a sip of the wine. When it came back to the host he drained the remaining wine and ate the piece of toast in honor of all the friends assembled at his table.

The ancient Greeks, the Romans, the Assyrians and the Egyptians drank each other's health at dinner, but post prandial oratory was not adopted until modern times. The Greek toast was, "I salute you; be happy;" that of the Romans, "I drink your health."—What to Eat.

Sore Teeth and Sore Eyes.

A Scotch surgeon recently called attention to the connection between an uncared for mouth with carious teeth and a form of eye disease. He describes three cases, in each of which the teeth were in very bad condition. The gums were soft and spongy, bleeding easily, while tiny drops of pus could be pressed out from their margins. The breath had a sour smell and the complexion was of a muddy, sallow tint. In caring for these cases the first step was to purify the mouth and put the teeth into good condition. Such procedure, together with suitable tonics and local eye treatment, brought about a perfect recovery.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Hats Have Lost Their Absurd Tilt. Sling Sleeve—Black Much Worn.

The hat of the season has very little tilt and instead of the trimming at the back forcing it up at an absurd angle there is very little tilt permitted at all, the trimming which still remains well massed at the back under the brim being brought down over the hair in a way quite as becoming to the average woman as the tilt was trying.

It looks as if the draped chiffon veil would be worn all winter, but the high winds have not begun yet. Already it is more fashionable to catch the whole veil at the nape of the neck with a fancy pin.

The sling sleeve is the latest idea from Paris. The name comes from the drapery itself. When the arm is slipped through it, it has the appearance of a sling.

Black is to be in high favor for both day and evening. It is prominent in every material—serge, panama, voile, crepe de chine, radium, net and gauze. The pretty blond or high colored brunette may rejoice in the happy consciousness that she will look her best this season.

Bright plaid ribbon is used for belts, and Roman stripes for the encircling of dainty waists is modish.

The gown seen in the cut is of black broadcloth. The skirt has the Parisian sweep length, and the coat is a jaunty little basqued affair trimmed with panne velvet and dull gold braid.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Is a Woman Happier Married?

Of course she is. Could there be any question among right thinking folk? In these days it is rather fashionable to deride marriage. Even married people themselves occasionally scoff at the "holy state," and unmarried folk try to find advantages in single blessedness, independence, freedom, loss of anxiety and such delectable things. At the bottom of the hearts of most of us, however, we are quite certain that the married person is the happier being, and woe indeed is the ultimate end of the woman who refuses to take upon herself the responsibilities of matrimony because she would be independent and free.

Not, of course, that one would advise any member of our sex, no matter how poor or old or friendless, to get married for the sake of home or companionship or any mundane reason like this. Marriage, if it is to be successful, must be dictated by true love and nothing else. At the same time there are women who fancy that they can do well without it. The troubles are not worth the pleasures which come in its train, and they think they are happier unmarried and will be so to the end of time.

Poor sisters, they forget that there is something after all in the old saying about love making the world go round; they forget that the old maid, however fresh and up to date, must still live something of a stunted life. No! Again one says the woman is happier married, provided she choose rightly, and for choosing there is no better method than the old fashioned, perhaps somewhat forgotten, one of love.

A Post Card Stand.

This handy little article is intended for standing on a writing table and to be used for holding post cards, or another way of utilizing it, and perhaps a better one, is to make it a receptacle for those important letters that require not to be forgotten and that are so easily forgotten unless they are kept prominently in front of us. For the making of it use a piece of stout cardboard or thin wood about seven inches long by five wide. This is covered with cloth, and a cord is sewn all around the edge, and a piece of elastic sewn across the front in the position shown in the sketch and under which the letters or cards can be slipped. The back is made in the same manner as an ordinary photograph frame and can be hinged on by means of a piece of cloth glued on to the top of the support and the back of the stand.

MILLINERY MODES.

Grapes a Smart Trimming of the Season.

As a general thing the winter milliner is to exercise her ingenuity in trimming felt hats. The felt "shape" is almost universal, and the good old days have returned when hats were trimmed and not made. This is true even of the dress hats, which have flowers, fruit and feathers loaded on plain felt shapes. For instance, one of the prettiest hats of this class was a black felt in slightly oval shape, the brim surrounded with beautiful pink velvet and silk roses and a large white feather pointing backward. It also was bound in black velvet for half an inch over the brim, which is one of the little finishes to be used a great deal.

The millinery openings are displaying the latest fashions from Paris, and one of the modish trimmings seen on the smartest hats for the winter are the grape clusters. They come in various dull tones and in the hat shown are in three tones, light to dark mahogany. It is a blocked French felt model in watteau color (pinkish mahogany). The hat is of the pale tone, with trimming of velvet ribbon bows in the dark shade.

Pronunciation.

How does your teacher instruct you to pronounce the word humor? Does he or she say that the "h" should be sounded or that yumor is the right way? It is strange how the authorities differ about this word. Webster's International, the Standard and the Century dictionaries all say that the "h" should be sounded, by preferance, but they give yu-mor as a secondary pronunciation. Worcester prefers yumor, but allows the "h" sound. Of fifteen authorities quoted by Worcester ten prefer yu-mor. It is worthy of note that Webster's Dictionary, in the edition of 1856, calls yu-mor a grossly inelegant pronunciation, and yet the later editions allow it. This shows that the yu-mor pronunciation has been growing all the time, which may reasonably be attributed to its euphony and ease of utterance.—Exchange.

Woman's Health

Every woman may be attractive. Bright eyes, pink cheeks and red lips are her nature-given right. A sallow skin, lack of animation, low spirits and weak nerves may be avoided by the use of Beecham's Pills, a remedy that well deserves the confidence of every woman. Again and again they have proved to be invaluable at those recurring times when so many women feel debilitated and suffer from nervousness, headache and depression. It is wonderful the way these pills assist nature and relieve the sufferer.

Every woman who values health and good looks should become a user of

Talks on Orange Meat

(THE PURE FOOD)

Never touched by human hands.

From the time the wheat is unloaded from the steamers, until you open the package in your own dining room—human hands never touch Orange Meat. Sifting, brushing and washing the wheat—steam cooking—malting—flaking and toasting—filling the cartons—carrying and packing—everything is done by machinery.

So careful are we to insure Orange Meat being not only clean but with all its rich, nutty flavor retained, that each package is lined with specially made mercerized paper.

Pandora Range

A Ventilating Oven that Ventilates.

There is only one practical way of ventilating a range oven and that way has been adopted in the Pandora—is an actual, positive, working feature and not a mere talking point.

Fresh air is drawn from the outside through small vents into the oven while the odors and cooking fumes are forced by the fresh air out through small vents into the smoke flues, and up the chimney.

Roasts cooked in a Pandora oven retain their sweet, natural flavor, entirely free from cooking odors, absolutely unmixed with any foreign flavor. Puddings, cakes, bread, meats, etc., are always light, fresh and free from mixed odors or flavors.

In the Pandora range you get all that scientific study, practical experience, skilled workmanship and an immense and finely equipped plant combined, can produce—the highest possible attainment in range perfection.

Ask your local dealer to show you the Pandora range, or write to us for free catalogue before buying any other.

ENGLAND

Almost within the shadow of the General post office in Liverpool there stands in a by-street a small house, which the causual observer would think untenanted. It is a temple—the temple where the extreme sect of Mohammedans, the "Al Ahmedians," meet annually. Early recently the door of the house was thrown open to the eagerly awaiting worshippers. Each one offered up a different prayer, but the Babel was soon stopped by the entrance of the high priest, followed by two junior priests who carried a silver tray, on which rested an ordinary bird-cage of common wood. In the cage was a dove. The high priest was clad in a skirt of black watered silk, and a tunic of brilliant scarlet. On his head was a wrapping of spotless white silk, adorned with many sparkling jewels. He took his stand upon the altar and raising his hands towards heaven exclaimed in the Tamil language, "Ekkei!" The congregation, now standing, bowed their heads, and the high priest slowly turning his back and facing the altar placed both hands on the cage. Opening the door of the cage he held the bird in his left hand, and from the folds of his robe he drew with his right a long shining stiletto. Quickly the two junior priests hastened to the vestry, and returned with a deep-bottomed silver dish. On bended knees they held it before the high priest, who, facing the congregation, asked, "Dokkei!" "Atari!" cried the audience, in tones of intense excitement. With one stroke the gleaming stiletto severed the head of the dove from the body. The living sacrifice was complete. Once more the audience bent down in prayer, and the organ playing a triumphant tune, the high priest and his two juniors retired to the vestry. As the vestry door clanged to the audience one by one went out. Each believed that by the slaying of the sacred dove his or her sins for the past twelve months were forgiven.

The old astronomical clock at Hampton Court Palace, which has gone continuously for very many years without stopping, has suddenly ceased to keep time. The circumstance is of interest as there is a tradition at the palace that the clock had not stopped from any accidental cause for over a century. The present clock is a restoration of the original clock erected about 1540, when Henry VIII., and Queen Catharine Howard, lived at Hampton Court. A clock that originally belonged to the Queen's apartments at St. James' palace was removed to Hampton Court in 1835, and put in the place of the old clock, which was laid aside in an outhouse of the palace until 1879, when the board of works ordered its re-erection in its original position. The clock is wound up weekly and this occupies half an hour.

The discovery of what purports to be another Rembrandt picture is announced from Manchester. Its fortunate possessor is Mr. John Bolton, a licensed victualler. Mr. Bolton has been an art enthusiast and collector from his youth upwards. Eight months ago Mr. Bolton rescued from a squalid retreat a canvas five feet six inches by four feet in size. It was so thickly covered with dirt that the figures could hardly be recognized. He had it restored, and now both he and the restorer are firmly convinced that it is a genuine Rembrandt. It depicts the Biblical scene in the 22nd chapter of St. Matthew, in which Christ tells His interrogators to "render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's."

An example of red tape is supplied from Lincolnshire, where the parishioners of Horsington applied to the Horncastle Guardians, for permission to pull down a dilapidated cottage and sell the material. This was given, but the local government board on being asked for its sanction directed a further parish meeting to be held to give its consent to the sale. This meeting was held, and a poll of the parish demanded. The materials of the old cottage are estimated to realize 1 pound clear, but the cost of the poll was 3 pounds, to say nothing of the delay and official correspondence over this trivial matter.

An extraordinary incident occurred in the bay north of Blythe, in Northumberland, a few days ago. Just before dusk the coastguard at Cambois reported to Blyth that a schooner, under full sail, was heading for the beach, and on the vessel striking about four minutes after, put out in a small cobble and boarded her. They found that the small boats were missing and that no one was on board. The ship's papers, which were found, showed that she was on a voyage to Lowestoft. She was in ballast, there being a small quantity of cement in the hold.

A shorthand named Dolman had an extraordinary experience in the Northampton Quarter Sessions recently. He was indicted for arson, but the grand jury threw out the bill. The clerk, however, mistook the return for a true bill, and when the case was called on Dolman pleaded guilty. The recorder pointed out the serious nature of the crime, but said that in consequence of Dolman's previous good character he would consider the sentence. After the court adjourned the clerk's mistake was discovered, and Dolman was set free.

A widower living in a village near Cambridge, recently advertised for a wife, as follows: "Advertiser (widower), desires to find good wife. She must be Church of England and a communicant, aged from 40 upwards, able to build her own house, as advertiser is in possession of good one. No encumbrances. Advertiser feels himself very lonely in the world, through what could not be avoided. God's will be done on earth, and in heaven. None need apply except in own hand-writing."

The medical officer at Stoke-on-Trent workhouse has reported to the guardians a self-sacrificing act on the part of two inmates. He said that a patient in hospital had a bad leg, and skin grafting was the only remedy, but he was so weak that the necessary skin could not be taken from his own limbs. Two other patients, named Crane and Challinor, however, agreed to give skin from their own arms.

The record price for a stuffed bird is perhaps $2,100, which has just been paid in London for a specimen of the extinct great auk. This rare avis, once plentiful in the sub-Arctic regions, has become extinct within the last one hundred years. Its eggs are much sought after as curios, and usually fetch about $500 each at auction.

SCOTLAND

The Fife Hunt ball at Cupar Fife a few days ago had a tragic ending, one of the dancers, Miss Helne Ava Campbell, elder daughter of Sir Archibald Campbell, Bart. of Gibliston, dying in the cloakroom after the last dance. Miss Campbell was not particularly robust, having suffered from a heart affection, but she set out on the ten-mile drive to Cupar Fife with the Gibliston House school was disclosed recently at Dunfermline, Fife. Three miners from the village of Kelty were fined for neglecting the education of their sons. At a former court the excuse had been given that the boys were attending a private school, and a remit was made to Mr. George Henderson, head-master of Wellwood, to examine the boys on their educational attainments. In his report, Mr. Henderson said that in none of the cases was education sufficient. In two hours daily at the so-called private school, the teacher attempted to give individual attention to his pupils, who were huddled together in the oddest manner. Of eleven scholars, one was semi-blind, two dull of hearing, and two had chest disease.

A rare example of filial faithfulness was recorded at a recent meeting of the Dundee poor relief authorities. A widow, aged, 92, was reported to have been maintained voluntarily by her three sons, all of them septuagenarians, one of whom, a working cooper, wrote to say that he and his brother were still in work, and intended to contribute towards their mother's maintenance. The board commended the aged sons for their conduct, and granted the old dame 2s and a loaf per week.

The extraordinary increase in cases of drunkenness in Glasgow is seriously exercising the City Fathers, who are beginning to fear that the city is fast losing her proud claim to be the world's model municipality. The complete failure, owing to the high cost of the homes for inebriates has revived the proposal to utilize the Isle of Shuna, in West Highlands, as a compulsory home for habitants, but no definite plan has been fixed.

Because his mother refused to give him a halfpenny recently, Jacob Wilkinson, aged 10, threw himself into the River Nith, at Dumfries. Two boys jumped in to his rescue, and though he at first resisted their efforts, they succeeded in bringing him to the bank.

IRELAND

The existence of an extraordinary party, feeling well and in buoyant spirit. She danced only a few times, preferring to sit out and enjoy the company of friends, and watch the gay throng. Once during the evening she had a slight indisposition, but recovered in a few minutes. The band had just started the music of the last dance, when Miss Campbell, who was sitting in the ballroom, fell forward in a fainting condition. Two medical men, who were in the room, carried her to the cloakroom and did all that was possible, but she never regained consciousness.

The remarkable spectacle of a Court of Inquiry sitting and taking evidence in a graveyard, among the tombstones, was witnessed recently at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Cork. A Cork man named John Sullivan died intestate in Seattle some years ago, leaving property valued at over £200,000, and several commissions were issued by the Superior Court of Washington for the taking of testimony in Cork and elsewhere of Irish claimants to the estate. Permission was obtained from the owners of the cemetery to open a particular grave, and the gravediggers commenced their gruesome task. After going down three or four feet they brought to the surface breast plates alleged to have been on the coffins containing the remains of the parents of the late John Sullivan. These were carefully photographed. The coffin containing the remains of Hannah Callaghan was next taken up and laid by the side of the open grave. The remains of four other persons were also brought to the surface and arranged in a heap with four skulls in the background. These were photographed and an inventory made by the shorthand-writers present.

One of the largest landed properties in the County Limerick, that of Count De Salis, has just been sold under the Land Purchase Act, the representative of the landlord and tenants having agreed to the terms of sale. These are 23 years purchase on second term, 20 years on first term rents, and 23 years' purchase of non-judicial rents. The interest on the purchase money is arranged at 2 3-4 per cent., all arrears of rent to be wiped out save the current year to be paid. The untenanted lands on the property, comprising some 450 statute acres, are to be given over to the Estates Commissioners for distribution among the small farmers and labourers of the localities affected. Bonfires were lighted on the hills to celebrate the agreement.

A man has applied to the Mullingar (West Meath) Guardians for a wife to be chosen from among the workhouse inmates. He wrote to the board:—"I am sure, gentlemen, I would be able to choose a good suitable woman out of the number under your charge. What I want is a good cooker and washer, who would be generally useful. I am able to earn 12 shillings weekly, so that she would not be afraid she will ever be hungry. Hoping, gentlemen, you will give this appeal your earnest attention, and you will greatly relieve the monotony of a poor lone man during evenings of the coming winter."

Remarkable evidence of the change taking place in the agricultural industry of Ireland is afforded by the statistics for 1905 just issued by the Irish Department of Agriculture. Though the crops of beans and roots fell considerably, the reduction was more than compensated by the remarkable increase in the growth of corn. Thus the yield of wheat in 1905 was 37.6 per cent. greater than in 1904, and that of barley 31.1 per cent. greater. The figure for pease was 40.3 per cent. higher on the year, and that for beetroot 20.1 per cent. Flax also showed an increase of 16.4 per cent.

A terrible struggle for life just experienced in mid-Atlantic by two men was reported by the Cunard Liner Umbria, at Queenstown. While on her way from Port Royal to New York, the timber barquantine Nelson E. Newbury encountered a heavy gale and soon turned turtle, four of her crew being instantly drowned. The remaining two, however, despite the raging sea, clung to the floating deck, and converted it into a raft, on which they lived without food for four days, when, they were rescued by the steamship Edga, bound from New York to Hartlepool.

A tragedy was investigated at Carrickfergus, Co. Antrim, recently. An artilleryman, Samuel Johnston, was charged with the wilful murder of a comrade, named Robert McCabe. The men were in the same company, and a difference arose about a pair of trousers. Johnston took some liquor, and after being put to bed by his comrades, rose, fixed a bayonet on his rifle, and fatally stabbed McCabe.

Mr. J. J. Blackwell, contractor on the James Bay Railway, has returned for a few days. He reports the counrty for 30 miles north of Parry Sound good for nothing — only rocks and odd streams.

Mr. D. W. Dumble spent the greater part of Saturday at the sale of the Bradburn estate property. The reserve bid was not reached and no sale was made. Mr. Dumble cannot understand why, as he considers our village one of the most desirable spots in Ontario to live in.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church on Sunday were of the most interesting and profitable kind. Rev. Mr. McTaggart of Toronto, is a forcible and eloquent speaker and could not fail to arouse the most thoughtless. The musical part was especially fine. Miss Moore, contralto, vocalist, delighted every averyone in her selections, while the choir of the church great improvement under the direction of Gordon Wright, late of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

The New Scale Williams Piano

This great instrument is an entirely new piano—the result of years of evolution in piano-building. It is declared by artists and music-lovers all over Canada to meet every artistic musical requirement.

The Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge

is a distinctive New Scale Williams feature. A brilliant yet mellow and sympathetic tone of wonderful carrying power is procured through the use of this bridge, which is cast in the plate in one solid piece. Results that have been despaired of for years by piano-makers are attained at last through this exclusive New Scale Williams patent.

It Didn't Happen

The enviable position attained by the New Scale Williams in the esteem of particular musical people is not the result of chance. The best brains, highest scientific knowledge and experience and skill of an exceptionally high order have been employed for years in experimenting, testing and discarding until a piano could be produced that would be really great and compare to advantage with other great pianos either in Europe or America.

SCOTT & HOGG

PORT ENTERPRISE OF LIVERPOOL EXTENSION.

Great Public Work on the Mersey which Rivals Anything in the World—Estate Valued at $149,546,060.

LESSONS FOR THE CANADIAN SHIPPERS

A single system of docks, governed by one dock authority, represents an expenditure of upwards of $150,000,000. From this one may form a conception, if but a vague and imperfect conception, of the capital required in one definite sphere, as exemplified in a limited geographical area, for carrying on the work necessary in connection with a portion of the world's commerce.

The Mersey Docks and Harbour Board, whose accounts for the year ending the 1st of July last have been received by various public authorities and corporations on this side of the Atlantic, is the governing authority of the greatest dock system in the world. It is a public trust created by Parliament, but absolutely independent of Government control. The estate under its direction is £29,909,212 in value. Parliament has granted it borrowing powers under various enactments for the construction of docks that represent £31,899,890 sterling. The revenue received from all sources last year amounted to £1,720,199, the larger part of it coming in one form or other from the shipping tonnage that visited the port, which last year reached an aggregate of 16,147,856 tons.

The great port of Liverpool did not spring up in a day. The record of port dues and tonnage dates back to 1752, and a perusal of the summary shows how steadily the port has developed year by year until it stands to-day in the foremost place in the empire of commerce.

The shipping managers on this side of the Atlantic who are in the habit of visiting Liverpool bear testimony to the efficiency of the dock system and to the excellence of its management. Differences of opinion there have often been as to the expediency or wisdom of adopting a particular policy, but never any as to the character of the administration.

In looking at the aggregate investments in docks and other port facilities on the Mersey, there might be a tendency on the part of some to undervalue what has been done on this side. Mr. Girdlestone, for instance, who manages a very much smaller dock system at Bristol, gave freely of advice and opinion as to what remained to be done in Montreal; and gave but little credit for what has been accomplished. But even the Bristol and Avonmouth system grew with years, and while the delays in the execution of the harbour scheme here are to be regretted, and one who honestly compares the port facilities of to-day, with what the port facilities were in the past, bearing in mind that the work of development is still in progress, cannot help being impressed with the progress. When that work is completed it will provide not inadequately for the present necessities of the shipping, both regular liners and tramps that engage in commerce here. As the trade of the port expands, so, no doubt, will the facilities for handling it. The expenditures on harbour equipment, both on the St. Lawrence and the Atlantic seaboard, may seem small by comparison of Old World ports but it is to be remembered that the dock systems of Liverpool, London and Bristol represented the steady effort of successive generations in response to the demands and exigencies of the times. The report on harbour conditions presented by Mr. Brault at the meeting of the Chambre de Commerce yesterday, showed that a good deal of costly work is embraced in the present scheme for the benefit of the trade of this port, and that there is still difficulty in securing harmony among men who are all actuated by a desire to do their best for its progress. It is possible to derive a crumb of consolation as well as encouragement by reflecting on what time has done elsewhere.—Montreal Herald.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Soiled and limp straw hats in white and cream colour can be nicely cleaned and stiffened by washing in a weak solution of oxalic acid Rebuth by reason of the good acts move all trimming. Dissolve one or two tablespoonsful of oxalic acid crystals in a bowl of warm water. Wash hat thoroughly, using a nail brush. Rinse well in two clear waters and dry in sun and air. Men's hats are particularly easy to clean, as are all chip, Milan and stiff straws. In the case of coloured straws that look faded and are limp, try washing in warm ivory soapsuds with brush.

Fly-specked mirrors should be washed first with cold water and then polished with a chamois which has been dipped in alcohol.

Mice are very fond of pumpkin seeds, which may therefore be used as bait in mouse-traps with satisfactory results.

It is possible to freshen stale cake by steaming it for about an hour, and then leaving it in a hot oven for a few minutes. Yesterday's rolls may be made palatable by heating in the oven until they become hot. When eaten warm they are delicious.

A cracked egg may be boiled by placing a teaspoonful of salt in the water. This prevents any of the white from boiling out of the crack.

The blemish may be removed from a rusted article by soaking it in kerosene oil for a while. The oil loosens the rust so that it may easily be scraped off.

Flies may be kept away from gilt frames by going over the latter with a soft brush which has been dipped in a pint of water in which three or four onions have been boiled.

When buying eggs at the market, select those whose shells are rough. A smooth, glossy shell is a sign that it has been in the nest too long.

If a teaspoonful of glycerine is mixed with every pound of fruit used in making jam it will obviate the danger of crystallization, which is the bane of the thrifty housewife.

If metal teapots are not used for some time they are apt to become musty and to give the tea a peculiar flavour when used again. This may be prevented by dropping a lump of sugar into the pot before putting it away.

Varnish the linoleum three times a year and it will last three times as long as it would without the coats of varnish.

To clean ivory hair brushes, dip half a lemon, from which you have used the juice, into fine salt, and rub the spots with this, wipe it off at once, and dry quickly, or otherwise the ivory will be discoloured by the damp.

When milk has to be boiled, and there is fear of its burning, a good plan is to boil rapidly a little water—just enough to cover the bottom of the pan—before putting in the milk. This will prevent the milk from burning, however fierce the heat over which it is cooked.

When the handles of steel knives become loose or come off, they can be easily be mended with resin. Pour a little powdered resin into the handle of the part of the knife which fits into the handle, until it is red-hot, then thrust it quickly into the handle, and when it is cool the handle will be found to be firmly fixed.

After frying onions, pour a little vinegar into the frying-pan, let it get hot, and it will remove all smell from the pan.

The white of an egg, well beaten with quicklime and a small quantity of very old cheese, forms an excellent substitute for cement when wanted in a hurry, either for broken china or old ornamental glasswork.

When making soup or stew with old vegetables, add one teaspoonful of sugar, which will sweeten them and make them taste like new.

When making a boiled pudding, don't forget to make a pleat in the cloth at the top of your basin, so as to allow the pudding room to swell.

When pouring cream from one vessel to another, to prevent it from sticking, first rinse the vessel out with a little milk.

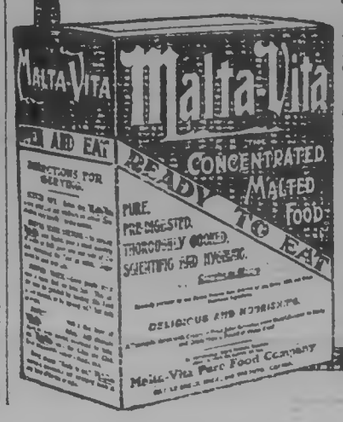
To keep sponges soft and white, wash them in water with a little tartaric acid in it, then rinse in plenty of cold water. Take care not to put in too much tartaric acid or the sponges will be spoilt.

Malta-Vita

"The Perfect Food"

Same Big Package
Same High Quality

Now 10 cts.



Malta-Vita "The Perfect Food," malt life as its name implies, stands for that intense vitality that results from the daily use of a food skilfully prepared from the whole of the wheat, of which, after being cooked, each kernel has been subjected to the searching digestive action of the diastase and other enzymes of barley malt. This makes it a "predigested" food of highest nourishment value, which explains the remarkable results obtained in cases of nervous debility, deranged stomachs and constipation. Besides, it is the best food to eat.

"We have used several boxes of Malta-Vita and think it the finest food we have tried yet. Having used different kinds, we find Malta-Vita has a flavor which excels all others. We had almost despaired to find something our baby could eat without being distressed. He had, since birth, been a constant sufferer from constipation and a general derangement of the stomach and bowels. Since we began feeding him Malta-Vita he has improved wonderfully in health and is entirely cured of constipation. In fact, myself and husband realize a great benefit since using the food, as we have suffered from general debility. We find it gives life and tone to the entire system." Name given on request by Malta-Vita Pure Food Co.

MALTA-VITA is a food with a "taste." It does not belong to the tasteless variety of "flaked foods" and too great credit cannot be claimed for Malta-Vita on account of the fact that it contains its own sweetening agent—maltose always being present in a proportion exceeding eight per cent and sometimes ten per cent. This is healthy, digestible sugar, formed by the action of the malt diastase upon starch and it causes the stomach no inconvenience. This is not the case with flaked foods that are sweetened by cane sugar, beet sugar, maple sugar, boiled cider, glucose or grape sugar, as all these cause acidity in the stomach and are seriously injurious.

WESTERN CITY ALMOST CUT OFF BY FLOODS

Portland, Oregon, Almost In a State of Isolation.

RAILWAYS AT A STANDSTILL

Bridges Washed Out and Torrents Carry Away Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property—Nine Steamers Leave Portland to Round Up Broken Sawlog Booms in the Raging Cowlitz River.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16.—Portland last night was cut off by floods from Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham, Spokane and every point north and east of Kelso, Wash. The rainstorm that swept over the Northwest Pacific coast Wednesday night has created a condition under which railroads are at a standstill, or greatly interrupted. Flooded rivers have washed out bridges and wagon roads are impassible.

The only trains that entered Portland yesterday were from the south: trains from the north are stalled in and about Seattle and Tacoma, and trains from the east over the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co. tracks are stalled by a landslide at Bonneville, and passengers will be brought here by boat.

Rushing Raging Torrent.

A despatch from Kelso, Wash., says a raging torrent is rushing through the lowlands in that vicinity, carrying away thousands of dollars' worth of property. The Cowlitz River, which began to rise rapidly Wednesday, jumped to 20 feet above low water mark yesterday morning, and the big 800-foot drawbridge that spans the stream between Kelso and Catlin, unable to withstand the terrific strain, broke from its fastenings early yesterday.

Nine steamers have left Portland for the Cowlitz River to recover booms of sawlogs that broke loose near the headwaters of the river. The Williamette River, in Oregon, at points above Portland rose rapidly yesterday.

SEALS FATE OF CHINESE LABOR.

Bucknill Report On Chinese Vice In South Africa.

London, Nov. 16.—Both Houses of Parliament last night debated the unpleasant subject arising from the recent unauthorized publication of the contents of the Bucknill report, which gives the results of an enquiry into the conditions of Chinese labor in South Africa, and which reveals the systematic practice of unnatural vices in the Chinese compounds there.

Winston Spencer Churchill, Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, replied on behalf of the Government. He said it had been decided not to publish the Bucknill report, because it was unprintable and because the evidence upon which it was based had been obtained confidentially.

The revelations of the Bucknill report, although they did not bear out the statements alleged, nevertheless disclosed a condition of affairs sufficiently unhealthy and unnatural to seal the fate of Chinese labor. It was a matter, however, that should be left to South Africa, which was on the eve of responsible Government.

ITS EFFECT IN IRELAND.

Estates' Commissioner Opposes Importation of Canadian Cattle.

London, Nov. 16.—(C. A. P.)—W. F. Bailey, estates commissioner, before the congested districts of Ireland commission, said the free importation of Canadian cattle would have a disastrous effect on small farmers of South and West Ireland, whose capacity to pay rent or annuities under the Land Purchase Acts would be seriously impaired.

After a time, however, it was probable their condition and the condition of the country would be improved, as more attention would be paid to tillage. Dairy farmers, who breed small graziers, would also suffer, while large graziers who bought to fatten would benefit.

Questioned by Sir John Colomb, Mr. Bailey said Scotch buyers found the Irish seller at present had practically his own way.

Systematic Robbery.

Warsaw, Nov. 16.—A small band of terrorists attacked the Vistula Railroad depot at Suchedniow yesterday morning, killed a gendarme, blew up the safe, got a cosiderable sum of money, and then marched off in military order. Cossacks are pursuing them.

Hockey Player Injured.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Nelson Gross, the stalwart coverpoint player of last year's O.H.A., senior champians of this town, while sandpapering a contact wheel of the 500 k.w. motor at the W. G. & R. factory, his hands slipped and rubbed against the wheel, burring both of them on the palms and back half way to the elbows. He also received a shock which rendered him unconscious for some time. It will be several weeks before his hands will be healed, but he expects to be all right by the time the hockey season opens.

Tolmie Marches On Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The Tin Plate industry proposed to be established by the promoters in the new factory at Morrisburg, will find their chances of a protective duty lessened by the monster petition that was presented to the Cabinet in Ottawa yesterday. Ten big rolls of signatures, representing over 10,000 farmers of Canada, were laid before the Ministers by the delegation of farmers, headed by the newly-elected John Tolmie of Bruce.

Graft Investigation.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—An investigation of graft charges, made by Henry Luck against D. D. O. England, superintendent of the public parks board, will be commenced at 10 o'clock this morning, by a special committee.

England is charged with drunkenness and general incompetency. The investigation promises to be sensational.

PREMIER NOW OWNS SILVER PROPERTY

But What Is the Government Going to Do About It?

FAMOUS HARGRAVE CLAIM

Rumors That a Settlement of Dispute Will Be Made—It Is Said That, Though Government Has Legally Title, Hargrave Is Still In Possession—History of Property—Statement by the Premier.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—On Wednesday the people of Ontario came into possession of a very material interest in the famous O'Brien mining property near Cobalt, and it is anticipated that this interest of the Province will yield $2,500,000. In view of this fact men who have followed the development of the silver camp are wondering why no such vigorous action has been taken with regard to the Hargrave property, which is also claimed to be one of the big things of Cobalt. Last year the Government took action against Edward C. Hargrave of Detroit and the White Silver Mining Co., of which he formed a part, to have the titles to the lands set aside on the ground of an alleged fraudulent discovery. The property throughout was commonly known under the name of Hargrave. The action came to trial in June of this year before Chancellor Boyd, and the Government were successful. That judgment of Chancellor Boyd gave the Government possession of a property quite as valuable as any one of half a dozen Cobalt mines, apart from the Nipissing. The amazing thing about the whole affair is that nothing has been done to follow it up and make some use of the property for the Province.

Negotiations For Settlement.

It is over four months since the Government secured the legal title to this immensely valuable land, but inquiry yesterday revealed the fact that the original holders are still in possession. The statement was made at the time judgment was given that the defendants would appeal, though as yet no appeal has been entered. The defendants' lawyers say that the evidence at the trial has been purchased, making one step towards the appeal, and that the case will be heard in January in all probability.

It has been hinted that negotiations are in progress similar to those which resulted in the settlement of the O'Brien case, where the syndicate gives the Province a 25 per cent. royalty on the ores shipped out, but this the Government denies. It is contended by some mining men that the points in the two cases are quite dissimilar, in that the O'Brien syndicate were in possession of their property and there was no judgment against them, while Hargrave is in possession of the White Silver Mining Co. property, though the people of the Province have the title. Doubtless plenty of bidders would come forward were the Province to assume its rights and put the property up at auction. It is asserted that only upon the assumption that powerful political influences are at work can the inertia of the Government be explained. The question is now being asked what big Conservatives are at work keeping the wheels from going around in the Hargrave case.

Premier Whitney's Statement.

Premier Whitney, in response to questions put to him yesterday afternoon by the newspaper men at the Parliament buildings respecting the settlement in the O'Brien mining case, made the following statement: "Mr. Ritchie, K.C., who acted so successfully for the Government in the Hargrave mining case, acted also for the Government in these two cases against O'Brien and others. He has been engaged on the case for some time, and examined the defendants under oath at great length, and thus found out the answers they would make to the charges made by the Crown when the case came on for trial. The onus of establishing these charges by legal and preponderating evidence to the satisfaction of the court was on the Crown. In view of all the evidence that the Crown counsel found would be presented at the trial by both sides, he advised that negotiations be had with a view to a settlement. As a result of these negotiations the settlement ultimately arrived at was deemed to be a very satisfactory one for the province, and he recommended the same to the Government. He then went into the matter very fully with the Cabinet, and it was decided that the terms of the proposed settlement be accepted.

What the Government Receives.

"The defendants are to bear all the costs and the expenses of mining; the Government bears no part of that cost, and receives 25 per cent. of the ore at the pit's mouth. This, of course, is much better than a 25 per cent. interest in the mine. In making a settlement of a law suit one has to bear in mind not only what one thinks or suspects may be the true facts, but also whether the same can be satisfactorily established by the evidence which is available and which can be accepted by a court.

"During the trial of the Hargrave case and after it had proceeded for a time the trial judge intimated to the counsel for both parties that he considered it to be a case where the parties ought to confer and see if a settlement could not be arrived at. They held a conference, but could not come to terms."

Action to Recover Land.

The Hargrave case mentioned by the Premier was one in which the Government took proceedings to recover from Mr. Hargrave and other Michigan mining men a lease of about 120 acres of land in the Cobalt district, known as the Hargrave-White mine. The Government claimed that an alleged discovery of one Hanes, on the strength of which the lease was granted, had not been made, that being an impossibility, because at the time the discovery was alleged the ground was covered with several feet of snow. Judgment was given for the Government, and the leases to the land, it is claimed, were cancelled. The case is being appealed by Mr. Hargrave. There was a report amongst mining men yesterday that it had been settled on the same terms as the O'Brien case, but this was not confirmed. Hon. Mr. Foy, who was questioned about the story, said there had been no arrangement for a settlement, and so far as he was aware no proposition for one since the conference on the advice of the trial judge, when the case was being tried. Hon. Mr. Cochrane also said he knew nothing of any proposed settlement.

THE HAMILTON STRIKE.

Conferences Arranged and Hope For Settlement Is Bright.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—There is a slight chance of the strike on the street railway being settled this morning. Through the efforts of Mayor Biggar the Ontario railway and municipal board is bending all its energies towards the settlement.

The board and the mayor met the executive of the union yesterday afternoon and asked the men to draw up a proposition.

The men did this and submitted the proposition to the mayor and the board last evening at 8 o'clock. It was discussed for some time, and the men withdrew, while Col. Gibson and J. C. Hawkins and the board conferred on the men's proposition.

The company's proposition will be laid before the men at 11 o'clock this morning.

The peace negotiations are being carried on behind closed doors, and nothing will be made public until the negotiations are completed.

Cars Did Not Run.

At the request of the Ontario railway and municipal board and Mayor Biggar the street railway did not try to operate its cars yesterday in a hope that a settlement would be reached.

Chief Smith announced that his constables will not be used any more to ride on the cars as guards.

Col. Gibson assured the board that the company was ready to operate the system, but would defer to the wishes of the board and municipal authorities. He was not opposed to unions, but he did not think any one should be brought from Detroit to interfere between the men and the company. He said the company would take back some of the men now on strike, but would draw the line at the eleven men he accuses of walking out to prevent the company from getting enough men to put the new schedule into effect.

Halifax Gets Mails.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—Halifax has got the C. P. R. Empress steamship mails. It was announced here last evening that the Empress steamers will leave St. John, N. B., on Friday afternoon, fortnightly, on the arrival of the C.P.R. express leaving Montreal on Thursday evening. They will then proceed to Halifax for the mails, leaving that port Sunday evening, on the arrival of the C.P.R. Friday train from Montreal. On the steamers' arrival at Halifax inward, they will land mails and then bring passengers on to St. John, N. B.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

Rapid changes of temperature are hard on the toughest constitution.

The conductor passing from the heated inside of a trolley car to the icy temperature of the platform—the canvasser spending an hour or so in a heated building and then walking against a biting wind—know the difficulty of avoiding cold.

Scott's Emulsion strengthens the body so that it can better withstand the danger of cold from changes of temperature.

A BLESSED OPPORTUNITY.

God gave me something very sweet to be mine own this day,—
A precious opportunity, a word for Christ to say;
A soul that my desire might reach, a work to do for Him;
And now I thank Him for this grace,
ere yet the light grows dim.

No service that He sends me on can be so welcome aye,
To guide a weary pilgrim's feet within the narrow way;
To share the tender Shepherd's quest,
and so by brake and fen,
To find for Him His wandering lambs,
the erring sons of men.

I did not seek this blessed thing; it came a rare surprise,
Flooding my heart with dearest joy,
as, lifting wistful eyes,
Heaven's light upon a dear one's face shone plain and clear on mine;
And there, an unseen third, I felt was waiting One divine.

So in this twilight hour I kneel, and pour by grateful thought
In song and prayer to Jesus for the gifts this day have brought,
Sure never service is so sweet, nor life hath so much zest,
As when He bids me speak for Him,
and then He does the rest.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

S. S. LESSON.

Lesson VII., November 18.—Jesus before Caiaphas.—Matt. 26; 57-68.

Golden Text—"He is despised and rejected of men."—Isa. 53; 5.

NOTES.

The Place and the Time—The palace of the high priest in Jerusalem; early in the morning of Friday, April 7, A.D. 30.

Between the Lessons.—After Judas had betrayed his Master, Peter, in the impetuosity of his love, drew his sword and struck off the ear of Malchus, a servant of the high priest. Jesus commanded Peter to put up his sword, and, by His omnipotent touch, healed the servant. He then declared that if He desired He could call more than twelve legions of angels to His help, but if He did this the Scriptures would not be fulfilled. He had reference to the prophesies which foretold His death. If He called upon heaven for deliverance and escaped from the hands of His enemies, these divine predictions would not be fulfilled. But the fact that He could thus have summoned help and been freed shows that His death was voluntary. He "laid down His life." Jesus asked His enemies why they came against Him with swords and staves as if He were a thief. At this point His disciples all forsook Him and fled. The Saviour was then led away for trial to Annas, who was a very influential ex-high priest, the father-in-law of Caiaphas, who had been appointed high priest by the Roman procurator about A. D. 18. Annas questioned the prisoner, and then sent Him bound to Caiaphas, who was the high priest at that time, after one of the officers had struck Him with his palm.

CRITICAL NOTES.

57. To the house of Caiaphas. The words "thee house of" are supposed to satisfy the last clause of the verse. Jesus was first led before Annas, a former high priest, a man of great influence and father-in-law, to Caiaphas, for a preliminary hearing, Caiaphas being probably present. Thence He was taken to an unofficial meeting of the council under the presidency of Caiaphas. John 18: 13, 24; Acts 4: 6. Probably Annas and Caiaphas occupied apartments in the same palace. The high priest, Caiaphas "was high priest that year." John 18: 13. At this period high priests were made and deposed for political and ecclesiastical reasons. Where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. For the purpose of holding a meeting of the Sanhedrin.

63. The court. The open area around which on all sides the chambers of the palace were built. It was "within" and access to it from the street was gained through a doorway. Mark 14: 54; John 18: 16. The officers. Minor officials, including probably the Levitical guard. John 18: 3, 18.

59. The whole council. A meeting of the Sanhedrin. This was a night session; but during the hours of darkness the council could not legally pronounce decisions. Hence, though an examination was now conducted and evidence secured, the court postponed formal action until morning. "As soon as it was day" they went through the forms of law, repeating the questions that had been found to draw forth the answers upon which a sentence of death could be based. Luke 22: 66-71.

60. During the night session they sought false witness against Jesus, but found it not. Found none to their purpose. Afterward came two. A sufficient number. Deu. 19: 15. But even this testimony did not fully agree. Mark 14: 59.

61. Jesus had not said, I am able to destroy, but "destroy" ye; i. e., if ye destroy "this temple." Neither had he said, build, but "raise up", choosing the word which might refer to the erection of a building, or to the resurrection of the dead. The witnesses were false in that they, wittingly or unwittingly, misrepresented. They made Jesus speak slightingly of the temple, and claim superhuman or even divine power, a working "without hands," in reference to it. Compare Matt. 27.40; John 2:19.

63. But Jesus held his peace. Dignified silence was an intentional rebuke of these contemptible proceedings. The court was not seeking information, but a pretext. I adjure thee by the living God. The ecclesiastical head of the nation put Jesus on oath.

64. Henceforth. From the time of my death onward. The Son of man. Daniel had foretold that one like unto a son of man should come with the clouds of heaven, and receive universal and everlasting dominion. Dan. 7.13, 14. Sitting at the right hand of Power. "The power of God." Luke 22. 69. An allusion to Ps. 110:1. Coming on the clouds of heaven. To judgment, Matt. 24: 30, 31; 25: 31-36. The "sitting at the right hand" of God is continuous, the "coming on the clouds" is a single act; but the two are related parts of a process, and the process regarded as a unit begins at the ascention of Christ, and goes on from that date.

65. Rent his garments. Tore a slit in his outer garments from the neck downwards. He hath spoken blasphemy. For he claimed Messianic attributes and prerogatives which belong to the divine sphere.

66. What think ye? The opinion of the council is asked. Worthy of death. The penalty of blasphemy. Lev. 24: 16.

67, 68. Having covered his face (Mark 14: 65), they smote him, saying, Prophesy unto us, thou Christ; who is he that struck thee? Use thy supernatural powers to detect the offender.

WITH THE SAGES

The true man casts his word, his deed, day by day into the humming world outside, and finds afterwards—if the word be true and the deed brave enough—that these have become mighty co-workers. What he says now is, may be, in itself no true or stronger than what he said twenty years ago, but how much farther it carries!—John Brierley.

Aim at perfection in everything, though in most things it is unattainable; however, they who aim at it, and persevere will come much nearer to it, than those whose laziness and despondency make them give it up as unattainable.—Chesterfield.

It is not ease but effort—not, facility, but difficulty, that makes men. There is, perhaps, no station in life in which difficulties have not to be encountered and overcome before any decided measure of success can be achieved.—S. Smiles.

He is the wisest and happiest man, who, by constant attention of thought discovers the greatest opportunity of doing good, and breaks through every opposition that he may improve these opportunities.—Doddridge.

There is no road too long to the man who advances deliberately and without undue haste; there are no honours too distant to the man who prepares himself for them with patience.—Jean de la Bruyere.

The ordinary employment of artifice is the mark of a petty maid, and it almost always happens that he who uses it to cover himself in one place uncovers himself in another.—Rochefoucauld.

We have not wings, we cannot soar,
But we have feet to scale and climb,
By slow degrees, by more and more,
The cloudy summit of our time.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Some of thee best lessons we ever learn we learn from our mistakes and failures.—The error of the past is the wisdom and success of the future.—Tryon Edwards.

A Fisherman's Bible Class.

The founders of Christianity were fishermen, fishing for a living on a miniature sea, the Sea of Galilee. Jesus knows the fisherman's heart, hopes and habits as no man knows them. The history of Jesus and his disciples is inseparably associated with fishermen and the Gospels are an inexhaustible storehouse suited to the needs of fishermen. Here are some Bible incidents arranged to catch the fisher lad's attention, as prepared by a Hull, Eng. worker among the boys:

God's care of a small craft, Ex. 2: 1-15.

Steering by a star. Matt. 2.

The first Bethel, Gen. 28:10-22.

The fisher lad's mother prays, Matt. 20:23.

The "Syrian" in distress taking assistance from the "Little Maid." 2 Kings 5.

The foreigner who took a fisherman as pilot. Acts 10:1-33.

Going aloft to make the land. Deut. 34.

Home again and safe in harbour, Ps. 107:21-31.

A man overboard, and who saved him, 14:22-33.

A fish that paid the taxes. Matt. 17:22-27.

The boy who gave up his two fishes, John 6:1-14.

Fishermen well paid for the loan of their vessel, Luke 5:1-11.

The look that broke a fisherman's heart. Luke 22:54-62.

The runaway who went back to his master, Philem. 1.

No bread in the locker. Mark 8:10-21.

Adrift, Luke 15:11-24.

Fishermen asleep in their watch, Luke 22:39-52.

A Christian in a storm. One praying soul on board. Acts 27.

The fisherlad's mother's prayer, Matt. 20:20-25.

The Master's first walk with fishermen, John 1:35-51.

The Master's last walk with fishermen, John 21.

All carried away, but holding on, Job 1.

Hove to in a storm. Ps. 46.

The fishing towns of Galilee, Matt. 11:20-30.

God's care of an outcast lad, Gen. 21:10-20.

Mind your helm, 1 Kings 3:5-15.

Light in the binnacle, Ps. 119:9-11, 105.

Trim the lamps, Matt. 25:1-13.

Insured, Ps. 121; John 3:16.

A sharp lookout, Luke 1:9-10.

A friend on shore, John 21.—Toilers of the Deep.

The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture

At the English Church Congress, which assembled at Barrow on Oct. 2, the first subject of debate was, "Historical Criticism of the Bible." No special interest was awakened, though Prof. Flinders Petrie showed that the recent discoveries in Egypt and Sinai tended to confirm the historic character of the Old Testament narratives.

The Rev. C. H. Johns, lecturer of Assyriology at Cambridge, argued that thee evidences of this study go to establish the genuineness of the Hebrew scriptures. Prof. Burkitt, Norrisian professor of divinity, maintained that in every age historical criticism is forced upon men so that each man shall form for himself a true and living conception of Christ, and of the conditions in which Christianity arose.

Canon Knowling showed the shifts to which extreme critics are driven in order to get rid of distasteful doctrines. The unexampled character of our Lord and His teaching, said he, are a problem which baffles all the critics. We are told to read the New Testament as we should read any other book. But, I ask you, what other book has ever been treated as this book?

In the discussion which followed, all the speakers defended the older criticism. The Rev. Leighton Pullam made some terrible revelations of the unbelief which exists among the Protestant pastors of Holland, Switzerland, France and Germany.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Always Stops the Cough

It combines the potent healing virtues of the pine tree with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines of recognized worth, is absolutely harmless, prompt and safe.

A cough is caused by the presence of phlegm in the throat and lungs, and continued coughing is liable to distend the bronchial tubes, congest the lungs and produce inflammation or hemmorhage.

A neglected cough can have but one result. It leaves either the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

A single dose of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

will stop the cough, soothe the throat and heal the lungs.

Read what Miss Nettie A. Seeley, Ashland, N.B., says: "I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, for I have found it a very valuable remedy for coughs. My mother has used it in our family for a long time and whenever any of them get a cough, mother will say: 'I will have to get some Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for I know it is good, and always stops the Cough when nothing else will.'"

Insist on getting Dr. Wood's as it is the genuine, put up in yellow wrapper. Price 25 cents at all dealers. 3 pine trees the trade mark.

PETERBOROUGH SATURDAY NOVEMBER 17 1906

The visit of the Officials of the Quaker Oats Company to Peterborough, will, it is believed, result in the erection of enlargements to the mills here. The flour mill will probably be considerably increased in capacity.

At the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club held in the Oriental Hotel last night, it was decided to enter a team in the senior series of the O. H. A., for the first time in many years. The prospects are reported good. Mr. Alex. Elliott was elected President.

Mr. Edward Packert, of this city, has in his possession a copy of the original translation of the Bible by Martin Luther, and it is believed to be the only copy in Canada, if not in America. It is a very valuable book.

A New Flour Mill For The Quaker Oats Company Is Now Said To Be Probability

Further Enlargements to Mills of the Compeny Here—A Result of Recent Visit of Executive Officers of the Company.

FLOUR BUSINESSS HAS GROWN RAPIDLY

Probable Mill Will be Erected To Handle Export Business of Company in Flour —Good News.

That the Quaker Oats Company will, in the near future, commence work on a large extension of their works in this city is an opinion which has, apparently, much ground for its consideration as a probable indication of the intention of the company.

As The Examiner stated a few days ago, the presence in the city of a number of the executive heads of the company, with Mr. Stuart, the treasurer, was taken to mean that the company had practically decided upon the erection of an addition to the plant here.

Enlargments to Plant.

This supposition is strengthened by subsequent developments, and, while it is understood that no definite announcement has been made yet, it is said that the company, as a result of a conference among the officials held recently, has practically decided to enlarge its elevator and increase the capacity of the flour mill here.

A Gratifying Success.

Since the company embarked in the manufacture of flour, some few months ago, the success of that branch of the business has been most gratifying, the quality of the product being such that orders have been coming in more quickly than the present mill, with its facilities, can handle expeditiously.

The business of the company in other branches, too, has been increasing very rapidly, and, even with the addition recently made to the works, it is found that space is becoming limited again, and some measures will have to be taken in the near future.

An Export Trade.

The popularity which the Quaker flour has attained so quickly after its introduction on the market is a matter which the company has every reason to feel gratified at, and the citizens as well, since it will undoubtedly mean that as a result of the success of this branch of the business on a comparatively small scale, the company will decide to go into it more extensively, and, while at the present time only a domestic business is done in flour, an export trade will be developed, and the dream of a mammoth flour mill located here by this company will be no longer a dream, but a reality.

An announcement of the plans of the company in regard to the extensions to its works here will be awaited confidently by the citizens.

Steamers Broke Ice To Reach The City To-day

Monarch and Water Lily Had Some Difficulty in Getting Across Rice Lake This Morning —Navigation Closing

To-day will practically end the season of navigation, so far as Rice Lake and the Otonabee river, are concerned.

This morning two steamers, the Monarch and the Water Lily, came up from the lake ports, but their voyage was not an easy one by any means, and it was feared at times that they would not be able to get through the ice.

Backed Across Lake.

The Monarch came from Gore's Landing and she had to come the greater part of the way across Rice Lake astrn first, in order that the action of her wheel might break the ice, which was this morning formed quite thick across the lake.

The Water Lily came from Harwood, and she, too, had to break ice all the way across the lake. Both steamers carried good loads of passengers, who took this, which will probably be the last opportunity this season of taking a trip to Peterborough by steamer

A Good Season.

Both boats will return to-night, and the Lily will come back to Peterborough again to-night, and go into winter quarters here. The past season has been a very satisfactory one for the steamers on the Rice Lake route, and they can all afford to lay their boats up for the winter.

ALMONTE PEOPLE HEARING THINGS AND ARE ALARMED

Almonte, Nov. 17.—That Almonte may be due to become the centre of a sensation shortly, is a matter that few of its inhabitants are aware of, although, individually, an imaginary catastrophe has impressed itself on some of their minds. Within the last fortnight or so, business men in the vicinity of Mill and Bridge streets, have been not a little surprised to suddenly hear a window or door shaking, as though by some unseen hand, when just as suddenly it would stop and all would be normal again. At first this was noticed in the offices and mercantile establishments at the East side of Mill street, but gradually it became noticeable to a large number of the residents of the town.

A Doctor on the Carpet.

At the next meeting of the London Board of Health Dr. Hutchinson, the medical health officer, will be on the carpet in regard to a supposed smallpox case, which he attended, and it is alleged subsequently billed the party for $50 for professional services. The case came to the at of the board some time ago but was deferred. The doctor claims that he was quite within his rights in the matter.

Otonabee Man Had His Jaw Bone Broken

George Robertson Met With Peculiar Accident in North Monaghan Yesterday Afternoon — Pulley Fell on Him

Yesterday afternoon Mr. George Robertson, an Otonabee carpenter, met with a rather painful accident which will necessitate his ceasing work for some time. He was doing some carpentering work on some buildings on Mr. Whitfield's farm, North Monaghan when a pulley broke and fell on his face. His jaw bone was broken giving him great pain, so that it was impossible to have him removed to his home in Otonabee.

A doctor was called last night and the injured man is getting along as well as possible under the circumstances. He was removed this afternoon in the ambulance to his home about two miles from the city.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF UNUSUAL INTEREST CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. McIvor, of Shallow Lake Married Fifty Years Ago—Many Relatives Present.

THEY FORMERLY LIVED NEAR KEENE

The Wiarton Echo of a recent date contains the following account of an annual event, which should be read with interest by the people of this district, inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. McIvor spent the early years of their married life in the vicinity of Keene:

"The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McIvor, Shallow Lake, was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday, October 24, being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Quite a number of relatives and friends spent a very pleasant afternoon and evening. The esteemed couple have lived in the neighbourhood for over forty years and have won the respect and good-will of everyone. Among the guests was Mrs. J. Steele, of Ripley, who acted as bridesmaid fifty years ago, and Mrs. McIvor's only sister, Mrs. D. D. Henderson, and niece, Miss Susie Henderson, of Lang. There were also present two others, Mrs. L. D. McLeat, of Paisley, and Mrs. Robert Miller, of Lang, who attended the former wedding. The family, consisting of Mrs. Wm. Latta, of Whitemouth, Man.; Mr. Wm. J. McIvor, of Burgoyne; Mrs. Wm. Bulmer, of Idaho, U. S.; Mrs. Wilson Lennox, of Wiarton, and Mrs. Stephen Storer, of Park Head, were all present, except Mrs. Bulman. There are living, twenty-four grand children and one great-grandchild, quite a number of whom were present. Those present testified to their esteem by the useful and costly presents received. Guests were present from Manitoba, Peterborough, Shields, Paisley, Burgoyne, Allenford, Wiarton, Park Head and the immediate vicinity."

A Martin Luther Bible In Possession of Mr. Ed. Packert

A Most Interesting Book, the Only One of Its Kind in America, Owned by Peterborough Man—Handed Down for Generations.

ORIGINAL TRANSLATION OF SCRIPTURES

There are very few homes in the city where there is not a Bible, but it is safe to say that there is only one home which can boast of the possession of a copy of the original translation of the Scriptures by Martin Luther.

An Interesting Volume.

This interesting book is owned by Mr. Edward Packert, who lives at 220 London street, and he prizes it so highly that, though he has been offered large sums for it on different occasions, he has steadfastly refused to part with it. The chances are that it will keep it and that his descendants will receive it from him, as he was placed in possession of it by his parents, who in turn received it from their forebears. This precious book has been in the possession of the Packert family for more than 370 years, the ancestors of the present members of the family having bought it shortly after its publication in 1533, after Luther had been engaged in its translation for twelve years.

Buried the Bible.

To preserve it for that length of time has been no easy matter, however, for on one occasion, during the religious troubles, this Bible was buried for about twenty years to preserve it, at a time when a search was being made for all the Luther Bibles, with a view of their destruction. The result of its burial in the earth is evident, some parts of the book showing a tendency to decay, but this has been timely prevented by clever repairing.

This Bible is interesting because of the fact that in all probability it is the only one in existence in Canada, and, in all probability, on the American continent. Mr. Packert is stating that in his travels, and he has

FOOLISHNESS COST THIS BOY HIS FINGERS

Gordon Graham, a Lakefield Youth, Lost Three Fingers in Saw Mill—Fell Against Revolving Saw.

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, Nov. 17.—On Thursday afternoon a bad accident took place at the lath mill in the Cavandish Lumber Company's mill here, when Gordon Graham, aged 14 years, son of Mr. Chas. Graham, lost the first second and third fingers of his right hand. It appears that the young lad was fooling with another employee, when his hand came in contact with the revolving saw, the result being the loss of three fingers. Dr. W. A. Baker dressed the injured member, and it is probability the hand will be of little use to him in future.

THE LOCAL BANKS ARE SHORT OF COPPERS

An inconvenient Corner in Coins of this Denomination Seems to be Experienced in Local Banking Institutions.

OTHER CITIES SAID TO BE IN SAME FIX

That there is a scarcity of coppers in the city, is a fact which the banks are finding out to their sorrow. Nearly all the local banks are in sore straits for one cent pieces, and the trouble is aggravated by the fact that the banks in other cities are in the same position.

Corner in Coppers.

If the corner in the copper market continues those who hold them will be able to command a premium on the face value. Applications have been made to Ottawa, but this failed to bring belief, because there is such a demand from all parts of the province for coppers that they cannot all be filled.

No Explination Offered.

As to the cause for this somewhat remarkable situation, no one seems to be able to offer any satisfactory explanation. All that anyone knows is that it is practically impossible to get the coins, and where they have gone is a mystery. Anyone who has a stock of coppers these days is considered fortunate.

A Terrible Cattle Disease Has Shown Itself In Durham County

Powmanville, Ont., Nov. 16. — That terribly fatal disease among cattle known as Symptomatic Anthrax, or Black Quarter, has already caused the death of one valuable milch cow in the dairy herd of John and Mark Munday, extensive farmers in West Darlington in this county.

Others May Die.

Other animals on the farm have alarming symptoms, so that Dr. R. Young, the Dominion veterinary inspector, has ordered animals which die to be burned, and the rest of the herd vaccinated to-day, or as soon as the vaccine arrives which was telegraphed for yesterday.

The disease was promptly diagnosed by the local veterinary, Dr. F. H. S. Lowery, who was first called to see the animals.

Farmers Alarmed.

Owing to the character of Anthrax neighbouring farmers are greatly alarmed over this outbreak, lest it may spread, as the Government does not pay any portion of the loss as they do in the case of some very virulent disease, such as glanders in horses.

WILL CALL A PASTOR TO SUCCEED REV. MR. SCOTT

Report of Committee will be Presented at Murray Street Baptist Church Tomorrow Morning.

ONLY ONE NAME WILL BE SUBMITTED

The committee appointed by the congregation of the Murray Street Baptist Church to take up and deal with the question of securing a successor to the present pastor, who will leave Peterborough at the first of the year, will, it is expected, present their report to-morrow morning, after the regular service.

A Decision Reached.

The committee, which comprises the deacons of the church, have had the matter under advisement for some time, and it is understood that an agreement has been practically arrived at, and that at the meeting, which will be held to-morrow morning, they will report that, subject to the approval of the congregation, a call will be made to one of the best preachers in the Ontario and Quebec Convention of Baptists. This gentleman was in attendance at the recent convention which was held here, and, at that time he was approached on the question as to his willingness or otherwise to accept a call to Peterborough.

Call to be Extended.

It is likely that his name will be the only one submitted to the congregation to-morrow, and if the latter approves of the action and recommendation of the committee the call will be extended.

HIS LORDSHIP WILL NAME RECTOR OF LAKEFIELD

Bishop Will Have Four Names Submitted to Him by Representatives of the Congregation To-day

THOSE WHO WILL BE CHOSEN FROM

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, Nov. 17.—A meeting of the congregation of St. John's Church, was held last night, when the question of the selection of a successor to Ven. Archdeacon Warren was under consideration. Four names were decided on and they will be submitted to the Bishop to-day, when the latter will, in all probability make an appointment from the four names submitted to him.

The Names Chosen.

Those decided on at the meeting last night were:—Rev. J. Fanning, of Markham; Rev. J. H. Feney, of Omemee; Rev. W. J. Creighton, of Bobcaygeon and Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, of Windsor.

Either of these four gentlemen will be acceptable to the congregation, the wish of which will be laid before the Bishop to-day by the Wardens and the lay delegates.

An Important Business Evolution Is Recorded

Firm of Robt. Fair & Co. Converted into Limited Liability Company—Sketch of Progressive Business and Personnel.

GROWING BUSINESS DEMANDED CHANGE

"Robert Fair & Co., Limited," is the concrete expression of a commercial evolution, resulting from the expanding business of R. Fair & Co., representing for nearly a quarter of a century one of our leading general drygoods establishments. The name of Fair in connection with high-class and reliable drygoods is as familiar as household words throughout this county and district. The operations of the business have grown to such magnitude, the departments and their multiplication have proceeded to such a degree as to make individual management and supervision too onerous a task for one man.

An important business change is the conversion of R. Fair & Co. into a limited liability company—"Robert Fair & Company, Limited"—incorporated under the Ontario Joint Stock Companies' Act, with a capital of $75,000. Under this arrangement, Mr. Fair has included in the partnership Mr. George R. Browning, who has been associated with the business for the past four years, and Mr. J. F. Moore, recently of Napanee, both brimful of energy and progressive ideas, and valuable practical experience in the business. These three gentlemen practically form the Board of Directors, and active members in the conduct and management of the business of the company.

Mr. Robert Fair is president and general manager, while the other two directors will assume the management of important departments. Miss Belle Thompson, who has for some time been connected with the business as accountant, and has, by

RESIDENCE RULE IN O.H.A. CHANGED TO AUGUST 1ST

Important Amendment Passed at Annual Meeting of the Association To-day in Toronto—Other Business

PETERBOROUGH CLUB TO PLAY SENIOR

Special Staff Correspondence

Toronto, Nov. 17. — The annual meeting of the O. H. A., opened here this morning, with the largest number of delegates in the history of the association. Mr. D. Darroch, the president of the association, occupied the chair, and in his annual address referred to the splendid work of the association for the past year, and congratulating the teams which won the championships, the Berlin team in the senior series, the Peterborough team in the Intermediates, and Port Hope, in the Junior Series.

Reports.

The address was adopted, after which the reports of the secretary, Mr. W. A. Hewitt, and the treasurer, Mr. A. W. McPherson, were presented and also adopted.

At the morning meeting the officers were not elected, but some amendments were discussed and adopted, the most important being that which made the time limit for residence, August 1st, instead of Oct. 1st.

Change Residence Rule.

An amendment was passed giving the executive authority to change the residence certificate of any player, if circumstances warrant it, but not instructing them to do so.

The following new clubs were admitted to the association: Toronto Granites, Young Torontos, Simcoe, Cannington and Waterloo.

Peterborough Club's Application.

No action was taken at the morning session in reference to the application of the Peterborough club to the senior series. This and other matters were left over until the afternoon meeting. It was not anticipated, however, that there would be any objection to their admission.

Later.

The members of the executive elected this afternoon are Messrs. Gould Edwards, Wetlaufer and Short,

ONE BLIND EYE.

The Toronto News exhibits a mighty solicitude for the purity of election methods, but for an independent journal it stops surprisingly short of carrying its anxiety, as a disturbing element into the Conservative party. It most insistently—in its editorial columns, in its cartoons, in its funny columns — calls for the head of Hyman. In doing this it is within its rights. Under certain influences men see double; under the influence of independence the News sees half. It sees the enormity of the evils revealed by the investigation into London election methods—as practiced by the "Grits" and therefore demands Mr. Hyman's resignation. There is reason to believe that similar, if not greater irregularities have been practiced in the Conservative interests in London. Yet the News is not growing hoarse in calling for investigations. Judge Coulter in pronouncing judgment in the Orwell Hotel case in East Elgin, expressed the opinion—based upon judicial knowledge of the facts—that the retirement of Mr. Hepburn, the Liberal candidate, was due to a conspiracy, in which an official of the Conservative Government was concerned, to blacken his character on the eve of the election. The success of Mr. Marshall, the Conservative candidate, was almost palpably due to corrupt influences much more reprehensible than the mere payment of money as a bribe. But we have not heard the News demanding investigation, or demanding the resignation of Mr. Marshall. As a newspaper it did not, that we have noticed, even live up to its privilege of printing a report of the judgment which revealed the alleged conspiracy that gave the Conservative candidate his victory. If the News wished to hold the balance of political independence with due judicial impartiality it would make some slight effort to give both sides. It has pretty thoroughly rung the changes on Hyman's resignation and it might now give some attention to Mr. Marshall's case. But that course does not seem to commend itself to the News—the megaphone for 'Grit' wrong doings—the soft pedal for "Tory" "inadvertencies."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A measure is to be introduced at Ottawa during the approaching session of the Dominion Parliament, providing for an eight-hour day on all Dominion Government works. This is the law at Washington, but in Canada even a nine hour day on Government works is not required by law. A city corporation employee or a Government works employee, can do as little work in eight hours as he can in ten.

Miss J. Kelso, superintendent of Neglected and dependent children, is to speak in Chicago on Curfew Laws. If he favours them and wishes to quote Ontario as a striking example he won't convince anybody. Curfew bylaws have been a dismal failure and of about as much use as a bylaw to prevent a mother kissing her baby. The evils such bylaws are intended to lessen or remove, cannot be over-come by bylaws which cannot be enforced. The only way to meet these evils is to bring parents to a sense of responsibility in respect of their children. If home influences and restraint cannot be exercised and practiced, the outlook is hopeless.

In the United States, the worship of money as the supreme good — the summum bonum of human achievement — has made coveteousness, which is idolatory, a national sin. Every man feels it his duty, or at least his interest, to make money, the means being at once the greater and the lesser consideration — the latter, from a moral point of view. With robbers, in the form of trusts, with every man, generally speaking, enacting the Ishmalitish instinct in regard to gain, is it any wonder that a depraved man takes to burglary, and, that he comes to regard the acquisition by means no more morally wrong than that employed by scores of millionaires, as legitimate, to his perverted moral sense.

In view of Judge Coulter's charge from the bench that there was a conspiracy between the license authorities of East Elgin, and a hotelkeeper to ruin the reputation of Mr. Hepburn, who was at first the Liberal candidate in that constituency, the protesting of Mr. Marshall's election, the Manitoba Free Press thinks, should be welcomed. The scandal resulting from the conspiracy, forced Mr. Hepburn to retire in the height of the campaign, and gave the Conservatives an easy victory. In the light of Judge Coulter's finding, the electors of the constituency might render a different verdict, if given an opportunity. A villainous election trick of this character is even worse than buying votes.

A correspondent asks the Winnipeg Free Press to decide whether Canada is a nation. "In the strict sense," explains the editor, "Canada is not a nation. A country which cannot amend its own constitution, cannot make treaties with foreign nations, and whose legislation, in theory, at least, is subject to the review of outside authorities, cannot be regarded as a nation, in the proper sense of the word. In practice, however, Canada is completely self-governing."

It is about as difficult to define the relations of Canada to nationhood as to decide definitely when a girl becomes a woman, or a lad a man, and the difficulty is not important so long as either one possesses the attributes and capacities womanhood and manhood. Whether or not Canada has all the ear-marks of a nation, in essence and in fact, whether her imperial and international relations are considered there is ample justification for her being catalogued as a nation.

FORESTRY POLICY NEEDED.

It will be a most unfortunate thing for this Province if the policy of systematic reforesting inaugurated by the late Liberal Government, abandoned or neglected. A lapse into negligence or indifference even for a few years would permit destruction and deterioration which a generation of care could not atone for, and the Government should see the necessity of continuous effort under the best possible direction and guidance. The late Government were by no means premature in moving to establish the forestry policy on sound modern principles, that the growth of each year might restore the growth destroyed by cutting, thus insuring a permanent supply. Delay in this matter will result in much lost ground which can be regained only at great expense and with serious difficulties. We have great areas until for agriculture, but eminently suited for reforesting, and these should be utilized to their full capacity. The effect of permanent forest areas on the rainfall and on the permanence of natural irrigation is also a matter of great importance. But with the experience of other nations and adjacent States before our eyes it is not necessary to advance arguments in favour of adopting or continuing the policy established by the late Government. The American Lumberman, in commenting on the resignation of Dr. Judson Clark, makes some disinterested comments that should be well considered by the Government:—

"The course of the present Ontario Administration as regards forestry has been distinctly reactionary, and the treatment Dr. Clark has received, followed by his resignation, marks the abandonment of anything like a practical forestry policy in dealing with public lands. Last year Thomas Southworth, Director of Forestry, to whose researches and recommendations are mainly due the creation of a system of forest reserves, and Dr. Clark were transferred from the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines to the Agricultural Department, thus removing them from the sphere in which their services were more particularly needed. While something is being done in connection with the reforestation of farm lands under the direction of Prof. Zavitz of the Agricultural College at Guelph, Ontario, there is now no trained forestry official in connection with the administration of the public lands."

This is not a matter on which there is room for party differences. Liberals and Conservatives are equally desirous of the adoption of a policy that will improve the opportunities which are speedily passing. The only danger is from neglect, indifference, or incompetence. When Dr. Clark's retirement was announced The Globe insisted that his place be filled with the best man available. As a rule a Government needs no urging from opponents in the providing and filling of places, but in this instance, although every delay involves serious loss, there seems to be no inclination to make a decided move. The University Commission recommended that a staff of at least three be appointed to give forestry instruction and assist in the practical work of reforestration. It was understood that Dr. Clark was to be Professor of Forestry, and having that position in view he declined an offer from Yale. From a financial point of view his present position with a private lumbering corporation is far better than either, but the Province has lost by his good fortune, perhaps by the indifference or neglect of those in authority. It is necessary for the Government to make a practical move in this matter. Every year of delay will mean the loss of a year's growth on an extensive area that should be producing a permanent crop of timber.—Globe.

HELP OTHER HOSPITALS.

Brantford Expositor.

The holding of the Poster Show, for the purpose of raising funds for the purposes of the John H. Stratford Hospital, makes an appropriate time to repeat the statement that the smaller hospitals are not aided by the Provincial Government as they ought to be. The Toronto General Hospital has been liberally aided (with Provincial money), even in the matter of promoting a new building, but none of the other hospitals have received aid for construction purposes, and most of them are not able to make the ordinary revenues and expenditures meet. The Expositor calls attention to this matter, not for the purpose of complaining of the liberality extended to Toronto, but rather to urge that other hospitals should be more liberally dealt with. Hospitals, in common with other public institutions, feel the general increase which has taken place in the cost of living, as well as in the cost of everything else, and now that the Provincial funds are in a robust state, those who have the management of such institutions should have their load lightened as much as possible.

AN AMERICAN'S VIEW.

New York World.

Canada proposes a new tariff schedule under which the United States will be able to send across the border little else than raw materials. The hope of the Dominion Government is that Americans will thus be forced in order to secure Canada's trade to build factories in Canada.

Our friends up north have learned well all we had to teach them about the tariff way to treat their neighbours. We may scarcely complain when they begin to follow the teaching.

In our commercial dealings with the Canadians we have failed not only to be neighbourly, but to be sensible in our own behalf. Their great western wheat fields invite our farmers. We do nothing to save our millers. Their period of growth into the great-nation class is beginning. We do nothing to make ourselves to them a "most-favoured nation." Their awakening to new energies is as pronounced as that which excites our wonder in the East. We do nothing to show that we appreciate its importance.

It is not for lack of prophets that we stand with nothing done. Warning voices were many before Sir Wilfrid Laurier came over the border to tell us himself that "the twentieth century belongs to Canada"

A NEW BRIDGE OR THE OLD ONE TO BE REPAIRED

Board of Works Considered Problem Last Night But Took No Action in the Matter.

At the Board of Works Committee meeting last night the question of the repairing of the Smith street bridge or of building a new one was referred to by the chairman. An estimate of the cost of a new bridge had been submitted by the City Engineer and he considered that the interest alone would be sufficient to put the bridge in a good state of repair. In a few more years there might be new developments, he thought to necessitate a different class of bridge than the one proposed and he believed it would be wiser to wait.

Ald. thought that a new bridge could be constructed now while the old one still remained and thus the patrons of that highway might not be hampered in their business. No action, however, was taken on the question last night but it will come up again for discussion at some future date.

PROVOST MACKLEM TO PREACH AT ST. LUKE'S

Will Conduct Both Services in That Church To-morrow—Rev. Mr. Langfeldt Suffering from Bronchitis.

To-morrow Rev. Dr. Macklem, Provost of Trinity University, Toronto, will be the preacher at St. Luke's church at both services, the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt being unable to take the services because of a severe attack of bronchitis, from which he has been suffering for the last few days.

QUICK TURN PROVED DECIDEDLY COSTLY

Resulted in Broken Shaft, Dashboard and Spring - Farmer Escaped

A farmer driving a team attached to a democrat made a quick turn on Charlotte street near the White House to-day, and now he is wishing he had taken more room. The wheel cramped as he steered his horses around and the wagon turned over, breaking both shafts and throwing the driver out. He escaped with a cut on one hand but the wagon was a wreck. Both shafts were gone, the spring was broken and the dash board shattered.

Entertained Comrades

Mr. Wallace Madill entertained a number of his fellow members of the 57th Band Friday night at an enjoyable King's birthday dinner at the Palace Restaurant. The affair was marked by songs and informal speeches, and Mr. Madill's hospitality was greatly enjoyed.

York

Sparkling Water ("SPARKS") is ideally pure spring water charged with purified carbonic gas. Its constant use as a beverage will surely give you a better digestion, a stronger stomach, and healthier blood. No water you ever drank is quite so refreshing, so zestful, so wholesome.

York Sparks quite lacks the salty taste common to imported charged waters; it does not change flavor in the slightest when mixed with spirits, but improves their taste while diluting their strength.

Nervous Prostration

IT IS WORRY THAT KILLS, NOT WORK

Work without worry usually tends to prolong life. On the other hand, worry, with or without work, is fatal, because it uses up what the Doctors call the "Lecithin," a phosphorized fat which is the chief constituent of the brain and nervous system—a waste which, if not stayed in time, means complete nervous wreck. The evident moral is "don't worry"—advice easy to give, and in these days of stress and strain practically impossible to take. The alterstive is: find some way of replacing the wasted Lecithin—the phosphorized fat. This absolutely essential element will be found in its most perfect, palatable and assimilable form in a emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hosphorus (phosphorized fat) together with Iron, the recognized blood builder —making FERROL the ideal nutrient it claims to be.

FERROL

For the prevention or treatment of nervous prostration FERROL is absolutely unequalled—it is safe, sure and speedy.

The formula of FERROL is freely exposed, consequently

Jerking of the Limbs

"Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I could not sleep, had no appetite, hands and feet were cold, my digestion was poor andd I had jerking of the limbs. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves." — Mr. W. Branton, Victoria street, Strathroy, Ont.

Almost Crazy With Headache

EXHAUSTED NERVES, INDIGESTION PALPITATION AND SLEEPLESSNESS—AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE EFFECTED BY

Many a woman has experiences similar to those of Mrs. Edwards, though it may be that few suffer so keenly.

You find yourself a frequent sufferer from headache, little things worry and irritate you, digestion fails, you cannot rest or sleep, gradually you become weaker and more discouraged and look forward gloomily to approaching prostration or paralysis.

Cure can only come when the richness is restored to the blood and vitality to the nervous system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 32 McMurray street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—"For five years I suffered more than words can tell from nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and exhaustion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in agony until I fell exhausted and unconscious. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would palpitate. My greatest suffering was caused by dreadful pains in the head, neck and back and all this was in spite of the best efforts of three leading doctors of this city.

"For the past nine months I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for a considerable time I have not experienced a headache, or any of the symptoms mentioned above. From a mere skeleton this medicine has built me up in flesh and weight, until I am strong and well and am thoroughly restored to health."

This great food cure is radically different to the medicines that are usually used for nervous diseases, for, while they stimulate tired nerves to over-exertion, or, by narcotic influence, soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lastingly beneficial results.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BUSINESS MEN'S GYM. CLASS OPENS

First Class Will be Held on Thursday Next at the Y. M. C. A.—A Popular Class

Every well-regulated Y.M.C.A. has a Business and Professional Men's Gymnasium Class. Where such a class is held it is usually the most enjoyable of the association.

Here the business man forgets for an hour his cares and becomes a boy again. The class work is specially arranged for such a class who do not wish for violent exercise. Recreation is the big feature of it.

The organization of the class was delayed until the hunting season was over. It will start next Thursday, Nov. 22nd, at 5 o'clock, p.m.

Mr. Dingman the physical director was most popular with the Business Men's Class in Berlin, which he conducted last year.

The business men are asked to get ready so that there will be a large class to start out with on Thursday next.

LAST COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING OF THE YEAR

Will be Held on Tuesday, Nov. 27—House of Refuge Reports Will be Received.

County Warden Johnston was in the city to-day and has made arrangements for the last Council meeting of the year. It will be held in the County Treasurer's office on Tuesday, November 27, and will be the winding-up meeting of the season's business, particularly in connection with the House of Refuge.

KNOCKER CLUB'S CONCERT A SUCCESS

Assisted by Some of Best Talent in the City—A Large and Apreciative Audience—Success in Every Way.

One of the best concerts that have been held in the T.A.S. Hall was that of last evening which was under the auspices of the Knocker Club. This club which is composed of young men was kindly assisted by some of the best talent in the city to whom the club is deeply grateful. There was a large crowd present that expressed their appreciation by frequent encores. The programme was very long but the audience did not give signs of weariness.

The following programme was presented:—

PART I.

1.—Instrumental, Messrs. Theobald, Cranfield and Holland
2.—Vocal ... ... Mr. D. Campbell
3.—Instrumental ... ...Mr. L. Mendel
4.—Vocal ... ...Mr. E. Crowe
5.—Instrumental ... ... Miss Trombly
6.—Vocal ... ...Mr. W. Williams
7.—Instrumental, Messrs. Theobald, Mendel, Cranfield and Holland
8.—Comic ... ... Mr. R. Fell
9.—Vocal ... ...Mr. D. Campbell

PART II.

1.—Burlesque, Prof. Paderwaskee and Coloured Troupe
2.—Vocal ... ...Miss L. Hallihan
3.—Instrumental ... ... Mr. F. Clarke
4.—Comic ... ... Mr. Geo. Lynch
5.—Trick Banjo ... ...Mr. W. Dundas
6.—Vocal ... ... Mr. W. Williams
7.—Instrumental, The Misses Doherty and McCabe

God Save the King.

To comment on the players individually it might be said generally that they all did splendidly. However, they deserve some mention other than a general one. Mr. Duncan Campbell sang in his usual excellent style. He appeared twice and received encores. Mr. Campbell is a favourite with local audiences. He was ably assisted by Miss Anderson who accompanied him. Mr. Louis Mendel of the Conservatory of Music more than pleased the audience with a mandolin solo. Mr. Mendel was recalled. He was accompanied by Mr. F. Clarke, who also played a banjo solo which was much enjoyed.

Mr. Ed. Crowe sang in his usual popular manner. Teddy had to respond to an encore. A very funny number was that of Mr. Fell. He rendered two comic songs which certainly made a hit. Mr. W. Dundas, in his trick banjo specialty played in a splendid manner. Mr. Dundas is well known in this city as a banjo artist. "Beauty Sleep" rendered by Miss L. Hallihan was one of the best numbers of the evening. She responded with a sweet song from the "Madcap Princess" entitled "The Beautiful Isle of the Sea." Miss M. Doherty was her accompanist. Mr. George Lynch likewise caught in with the audience. George needs no introduction on any local programme. He was heartily encored. Mr. W. Williams rendered two splendid songs in good voice. He was also recalled. Miss Trombly, a pupil of Miss A. Doris, executed a difficult piano selection in a skilful manner. Misses Doherty and McCabe played a spirited duet in their usual finished style. Messrs. Cranfield, Holland and Theobald in a mandolin piano trio were well received and encored.

The burlesque by seven young men was a laughable affair and considering their inexperience they did well. It was a number that served to relieve the monotony of the musical numbers.

Those who took part appeared on the stage and closed the evening by singing God Save the King.

Considering that the programme was undertaken by juveniles, it is of much congratulation to them that they were so successful in securing the above talent to assist them. They wish to again express their gratitude to all those who appeared and to the management of the T.A.S. for their kindnesses and for the use of the hall.

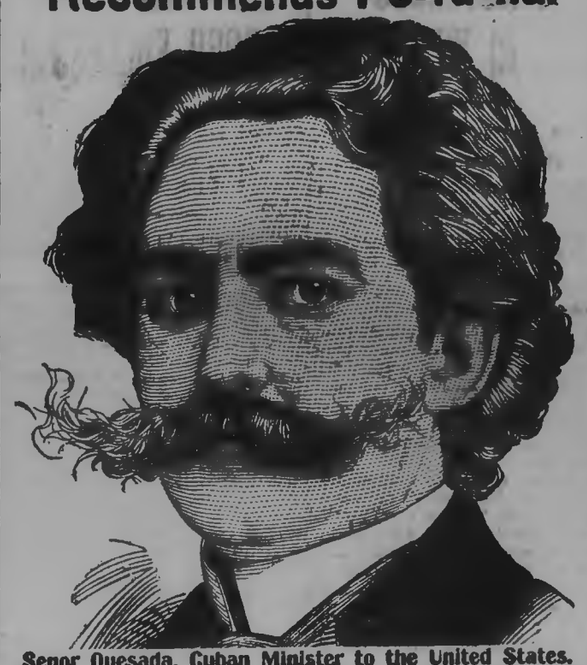
CUBAN MINISTER TO THE U. S.

Recommends Pe-ru-na.



Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States.

Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States, is an orator born. In an article in The Outlook for July, 1899, by George Kennan, who heard Quesada speak at the Esteban Theater, Matanzas, Cuba, he said: "I have seen many audiences under the spell of eloquent speech and in the grip of strong emotional excitement, but I have rarely witnessed such a scene as at the close of Quesada's eulogy upon the dead patriot, Marti." In a letter to The Peruna Drug M'f'g. Co., written from Washington, D. C., Senor Quesada says:

"Peruna I can recommend as a very good medicine. It is an excellent strengthening tonic, and it is also an efficacious cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—Gonzalo De Quesada.

Mr. Will A. Hoffman, Hagerstown, Ill., writes:

"I gladly give my testimonial with the thousands of others who have been cured by the use of Peruna.

"I had catarrh of the head and throat. I took cold easily and was dizzy-headed.

"I was all rundown and hardly able to work at all when I began using Peruna.

"But, now, after using it about six months I am well and strong."

There is no remedy in the world which has proven so popular for catarrh as Peruna. It has been used for more than thirty years and cured thousands of cases as proven by our testimonials.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

PRINCE ALBERT MOST PROSPEROUS IN WEST

Mr. Wm. Anderson, of North Monaghan, Recently Returned From Trip the North West.

THAT PART OF WEST MAKING PROGRESS

Of the Peterborough County residents who have been in the Canadian West this year, none have come back more enthused with the possibilities of that section of the Dominion than Mr. Wm. Anderson, of North Monaghan, who, a few days ago, returned, after having spent some months at Prince Albert. According to the statements of this gentleman, and he should be a competent judge by reason of his intimate knowledge of what constitutes a successful agricultural community, Prince Albert district is destined to become one of the most prosperous of all the farming districts in the great West, which is saying a great deal, because the admirers of the different sections naturally hold the opinion that their particular section is the most favoured, and destined to be the greatest.

A Successful Season.

Mr. Anderson owns a farm in the Prince Albert district, and was in the West during the harvest, superintending the work of saving the crop which, in view of the fact that it was the first year's crop and sowed late, was highly satisfactory; so much so that Mr. Anderson found all his doubts as to the adaptability of that section to farming pursuits dispelled, and, while he will still live in Peterborough County, where he has a splendid farm, he will work his western farm as well.

Prince Albert has not been much in the eye of the eastern public until quite recently, one of the reasons being the fact that it was a considerable distance from the main line of the C.P.R., and consequently somewhat difficult of access. The policy of the C.P.R. has, according to Mr. Anderson, been to secure the settlement of the lands adjoining their main lines first, leaving that contiguous to the branches until later. Prince Albert has been in this position, that it was the terminus of the branch line and was situated several hundred miles north of the main line of the Transcontinental Railway.

Two Railways.

Recently the C.N.R. has made connections with Prince Albert, the main line of that railway passing through it on the way to Edmonton and the mountains. The advent of this new railway has awakened new life in the town, which has, during the last two or three years, been growing rapidly until now it has a population of more than 5,000, with a steady monthly increase. The citizens are confident that it will only be a matter of a very short time until they will be able to boast of a population of 10,000, and judging by the progress that is being made at the present time, their optimism is justified.

A Timber District.

Prince Albert has not to depend on its farming industry for its prosperity, the fact being that, while it is not generally known to easterners, there are a number of very rich timber resources contiguous to the city, and lumbering operations are being carried on extensively. The extent to which these operations are conducted is intimated by the fact that in the city there are no less than 1,200 men employed in lumber mills, while several hundred more are, of course, given work in the woods.

Some Characteristics.

Like every other western town, Prince Albert has visions of the future, and if these dreams come true it will have all the other cities west of Winnipeg faded into insignificance. The circumstances to which the citizens look to bring this condition to a reality are the facts that the district has the best mixed farming land in the Northwest, that it has never known a crop failure, that it has plenty of wood, hay and water, essentials in a farming section; that it has a good market, that it is becoming recognized as the business centre for the great northern region of the Province of Saskatchewan, that its success does not depend upon the prosperity of the farming industry alone, the lumbering industry contributing not a little to its present satisfactory condition.

Unlimited Power.

The city has some power possibilities, too, Mr. Anderson stating that the Saskatchewan River at this point is capable of developing power in almost unlimited quantities, the belief being that there is sufficient available water power to develop electricity to supply all that would be required in a city of 200,000 population.

After Franchises.

There is no street railway at present in operation in the city, but the fertility of the field for this enterprise seems not to have escaped the capitalists, because there are at present no less than four applications for street railway franchises, but the city has not as yet given any of them the right to conduct this branch of enterprise, and it may be taken up as a municipal venture, the cities in the West having an inclination to control the public utilities of the municipality.

Taken altogether, Prince Albert seems to have a particularly bright future before it, and it will not surprise those who have visited it to see it one of the best cities in the West in the near future.

EAGLE LAKE HUNTING CLUB MEET WITH GOOD SUCCESS

Returned Last Night from the North with a Dozen Deer and Stories of the Great Hunt.

FINE IMPOSED FOR SHOOTING FAWNS

The Eagle Lake Hunt Club returned last night from the regions of the tall timbers, with a well-filled game bag. They were successful in getting a dozen of the antlered monarchs, and nine out of the twelve wore the antlers. The deer were on exhibition at Mr. George Fitzgerald's carriage shop this morning, and were as fine a lot as have came into the city this fall. There was not a single fawn among them, owing to a law passed by the club to the effect that any hunter of the party who killed a fawn would be assessed ten dollars.

The weather throughout was the best the club has experienced in many years, and, with the exception of a couple of days, was ideal for the nimrods. There were no accidents and no sickness among the party in the two weeks' hunt, and Captain Gunsolus says that they had the grandest time in the history of their annual hunt.

The annual King's Birthday dinner was the event of the fortnight. Mr. D. W. Dumble, from the Ketchegum Hunt Club, was a visitor, as well as Game Warden Clarkson, who stayed over night. Mr. Clarkson proved to be a jolly good fellow, and the club hope that they may again be favoured with his company in years to come. The celebration was a grand one, and the camp for a few hours, resounded with the songs of the many soloists. Stories of the chase, of course, were prominent on the programme, and a most delightful time was spent. There was a rumour afloat in the city that one of the party strayed too far from the camp, and was forced to spend the night alone beneath the tall pines. It appears, however, that this was unfounded, everything having passed smoothly along. Coming out yesterday the hunters found many of the northern lakes frozen over. At Roddy's Narrows they had to slide their canoes on the ice to the foot of Gull Lake, and on this account were somewhat delayed in reaching the city.

The party consisted of Capt. Gunsolus, George Fitzgerald, Charles Westlake, Rich. Sheehy, Harry Evans Jas. Evans, Geo. Mitchell, London, Llewellyn Hall and Mark Dobson. They were joined after a few days by the moose hunters, Jack Cottingham and Albert Mitchell, who had spent a few days in Northern Ontario.

CONTRACTOR SHEEHY EXPLAINS CEDAR ST. SEWER

Says That it Cannot be Completed This Year on account of Muddy Bottom and Quicksand.

CITIZENS WANT HOUSES CONNECTED

The Board of Works met in a short session last night, when a number of matters of more or less importance were cleared off the slate. The first question considered was a complaint from a number of citizens on Cedar street with regard to the unfinished sewer in course of construction by Contractor Sheehy, who had begun to refill a trench which had recently been opened, and in which no pipes had been laid. The matter, after being duly considered, was left in the hands of the City Engineer to investigate.

Those present were Chairman Hicks, Ald. Tovey, Johnston, McIntyre, Adams, Elliott, Graham, and the City Engineer.

The City Engineer had informed the Chairman that Contractor Sheehy had ceased work on Cedar street in connection with the sewer in the course of construction there. Mr. Geo. Lang, who has erected a new residence there, was present, and stated that he wanted sewer connection this year, as his plans had been made to that end.

A letter from Mr. Sheehy was read by the chairman, stating that there was a quicksand bottom in the sewer, and on account of the muddy bottom, which froze as soon as it was thrown out, he believed that if the work continued there was every indication that the street would be blocked during the winter.

Mr. Sheehy himself was present, and personally explained that the water running down the sheeting and mixing with the quicksand made it impossible to lay the sewer correctly. His men had opened about 250 feet of trench, which could not be built now, so he had to refill it to prevent the street from being blocked. He said it would be impossible to connect Mr. Lang's house this fall, and the best he could do was to conclude the work early in the spring.

After a short discussion, it was moved by Ald. Tovey and Graham, that the matter be left in the hands of the City Engineer to investigate and report to the Committee on the advisability of continuing the work according to contract. The motion carried.

SNOW PLOWING TO BE DONE AS USUAL

Contracts Will be Let to Only Efficient Men and Street Commissioners Will Look After Surplus Snow.

The contracts for snowploughing will be let the same this year as last. This was the conclusion arrived at last night by the Board of Works Committee but it is quite possible that in the near future the city will have exclusive control of the ploughing of the snow from the city's streets. The suggestion was made that each year the city should take over a number of extra districts each year until finally the whole matter would rest with the corporation.

Ald. Elliott considered the best plan to follow was that now in vogue—to let the contracts as usual and in the have the snow shovelled off.

case of a big storm to have the Street Commissioners make arrangements to

The chairman suggested that the Fire, Water and Light Committee arrange that the city horses be utilized to absorb some extra districts and that more horses be purchased for the purpose. He believed that when tenders were called for, that the committee should take extra pains in selecting the men to do the work.

It was moved by Ald. Adams and Johnston that the tenders be let according to the old plan and carried.

It was suggested and seemed to meet with the approval of the committee that the city should take charge of the work, gradually enlarging the number of districts under its control.

THE ROLLER SKATING CARNIVAL WAS A SUCCESS

Veery Large Crowd at the Charlotte Street Rink Last Night—Skates Were Gone Early.

SOME SPLENDID COSTUMES WERE WORN

One of the most highly successful carnivals ever held in Peterborough was that which took place last evening at the Charlotte Street Roller Rink.

That roller skating is popular in Peterborough there is certainly no doubt, as was evidenced by the large crowd of both skaters and spectators which was in attendance last night. All the skates were reserved, and early yesterday afternoon there were none to be had. Many were disappointed last night to find that they could not get skates.

There was a large number in costumes and the make-ups were really beautiful The prizes were keenly contested, and much credit is due Mr. Gliddon and Drs. McFall and Bridd for the very efficient manner in which they acted as judges.

The following is a list of those who won prizes:

Best dressed lady in fancy costume—1st, Miss V. Logan; 2nd, Miss M. Logan.

Best dressed gentleman in fancy costume—1st, Mr. W. H. Mellis; 2nd, Mr. A. W. Spenceley.

Best dressed lady in comic costume—Miss J. A. Sollitt.

Best dressed gentleman in comic costume—Mr. M. Bennett.

Ladies' best representation of Canada—Miss Hazel Craig.

Gentleman's best representation of Canada—Mr. W. Caldwell.

Mr. L. M. Brooks won the gentlemen's skating contest, and Mrs. H. Lee, the ladies'.

Among those who were in fancy costume and the characters they represented were:

Evaline Gurein—Spanish Lady.
Clara Guerin—Milkmaid.
Ina Spilsbury—Twilight.
Irene Craig—Canada.
Nora Corrin—Diamond Queen.
Norman Logan—Belle of New York.
M. McGrath—Topsy.
Florence Doughty—Shepherdess.
Mrs. S. Thomas—Canada.
J. A. Sollitt — Aunt Diana and Baby.
Venie Logan—Princess.
Violet Stevens—Highland Lassie.
Gladys Storey—Starlight.
Hazel V. Craig—Western Girl.
C. Spenceley—Dolly Varden.
H. Pentland—Dawn.
A. Gooding—Poppy Girl.

W. H. Mellis—Marquis de Quincy.
Fred Hickey—Side-tracked.
J. Vannetto—Twilight.
W. Fitzgerald—Knight of the Red Cross.
J. Bernstein—Farmer from Iowa.
Cecil Kylie—Mrs. Dooley.

The management wish to thank the people of Peterborough for their generous patronage, and and for the excellent order maintained during the evening. There was not the slightest disturbance, a fact which is highly creditable to the people of Peterborough. Thanks is also extended to the gentlemen who so efficiently acted as judges.

The 57th Regiment Band provided excellent music during the evening.

GIRLS' GUILD CONCERT A GRATIFYING SUCCESS

Young Ladies of All Saints' Church Gave an Interesting Programme Last Night "Ugliest of Seven" was Amusing.

The Girl's Guild of All Saints' church, entertainment last night in the Sunday School room was a gratifying success. The attendance was large, and the members of the Guild and others who contributed to the programme are to be congratulated upon the quality of the entertainment provided. "The Ugliest of Seven" an amusing comedy presented by a number of young ladies and gentlmen proved to be as humourous as its title would indicate, while the other features of the programme, including the fan drill were equally well executed and the evening, as a whole was a most interesting one. A number of musical numbers were contributed by young lady members of the organization under which the entertainment was held.

BRANTFORD MAY YET BEAT THIS CITY OUT

In the Race for the Third English Carpet Factory which May Locate in Peterborough—Representatives Visit That City.

NO ANNOUNGEMENT OF PLANS MADE

Brantford must have impressed the two representatives of the carpet factory people who are intending to locate in Canada, very favourably, the men having returned to that city for a second conference with the civic authorities in reference to the establishment of their factory there. These same men were in Peterborough, and it is possible that they will be here again, in case they do not decide definitely to locate in the west. The Expositor, recording their last visit says:—

The Messrs. Renshaw and Crossley, the gentlemen representing the English carpet manufacturing industry were in the city yesterday and were accompanied by Mayor Waterous in looking over several available sites for the establishment of a Canadian branch of the industry. Soft water is one of the essential requirements in the carpet manufacture, and is used extensively in the dyeing and cleaning processe. The water here is said to have been found very satisfactory, for the purposes of the industry. The representatives in question have been making a tour of inspection throughout the province. The gentlemen have made no announcement as to their intentions, although it is evident Brantford is held as one of the most likely places for the establishment of the new industry.

MARTIN LUTHER BIBLE IN POSSESSION OF MR. PACKERT

been over the greater part of America he has never seen one like it, nor has he even heard of one.

A Valuable Book.

Even from a typographical standpoint, outside of its value on account of its sacred character and its antiquity, it is a very valuable book, and if it were manufactured in these days when the printing art has attained such perfection it would cost hundreds of dollars, so that its worth, from this standpoint alone can be imagined when it is remembered that it was printed more than 370 years ago, when the art of printing was in its infancy. It is profusely illustrated, almost every one of the several hundred pages containing an illustration of scenes described in the Old and New Testaments.

Some Pictures.

At the front of the Bible there is a whole page illustration, a group picture of the members of the Luther family with the inscriptions as follows:—

Martin Luther, born in 1483, died in 1546.
John Luther, his father, died in 1530.
Margaret Luther, his mother, died in 1531.
Magdalena Luther, daughter, born in 1529, died in 1542.
Catherine, his wife, born in 1499, died in 1551.

An illustrated group of Adam, Eve, Noah, Abraham and Moses, occupies one page, while the following five contain histories of each. Many of the incidents of importance in the Old Testament are pictured, while the same may be said of the New Testament.

At the beginning of the New Testament is a large full page engraving of Christ, picturing Him in the different stages of life from the cradle to the grave. Each testament contains pictures of the writers of the several books, with an historical sketch of each, while at the back of the book may be found much interesting information concerning the sixteenth century, and its relation to the translation of the Scriptures, in which work Luther was engaged.

Was Patriotic.

Luther's patriotism is evidenced by the fact that at the back of the Bible he gives a list of the names of royalty at the time the translation was made. It need hardly be stated that the book is printed in the German language, and it can readily be read by Mr. Packert, who, while he is of German descent, is a Canadian by birth.

In this connection Mr. Packert tells an interesting story. An old German who had learned that he had in his possession a copy of Luther's Bible, came to see him and to ask if he could borrow it. He pleaded hard to be allowed to secure the loan of the book, but Mr. Packert had to refuse his request, having made a rule never to allow the book out of his house, and the old man was so affected that he cried like a child, his desire to be able to read the Bible in his own language being so great.

The Bible is voluminous, measuring 15 inches long, 10 inches wide and 3 inches thick. For its size, however, it is very light, the great age which it has attained, doubtless accounting for this fact, the moisture having been thoroughly dried out of its pages and cover, which is of wood, covered with leather, and fastened by two brass clasps.

Luther's Sermon.

One of the most interesting features of the Bible is a sermon to Christians, by Martin Luther, and this sermon gives those who are able to read it an idea of the belief by the Christians of those days. Each Testament is furnished with an index and dictionary, the former occupying a page in itself, divided into five columns, the first for abbreviations of the name of the different books, the second for the name of the author, third for the name of the book, the fourth for the number of the chapters in each book and the fifth for the number of the page on which each respective book may be found.

The life history of Luther is given, and in it the difficulties and hardships which he underwent in order to carry out the work which he had undertaken, are graphically told.

Luther's Assistants.

Although the bulk of the work of translating the Bible was done by Luther, he was by no means alone in the work, having had the assistance of a number of scholars of note, many of them holding high positions in royalty. Among them were John S. Staberti, Solomon D. Blassans and John Michael Dilherrns.

Nevelss to say Mr. Packert prizes this book very highly, both on account of its antiquity and for its associations He has received many good offers for it, but has refused to part with it.

Mr. Packert has been in Peterborough not quite two years, now, coming here from Stratford, though he has lived in a number of places in the United States, having spent some time in Mexico.

Any Inexperienced Person Can Dye Successfully With

DIAMOND DYES

There are no mysteries about the use and handling of DIAMOND DYES. The directions given on each package are so concise and simple that the dyeing of a dress, costume, blouse, jacket or suit of clothes is made easy and pleasant work.

We are aware of the fact that some ladies are badly disappointed after a trial of dyeing work. The reason is obvious; they unfortunately have used some make of worthless dyes foisted on them by some unscrupulous dealers.

A child that can read can dye any article successfully with DIAMOND DYES. These world-famed dyes are put up by experienced chemists, which accounts for their uniformity in quality, strength and brilliancy. When you buy DIAMOND DYES you get the world's best dyes.

Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., for a valuable dye book and card of Dyed Samples; free to any address.

WRIT FOR DAMAGES TO BE CONSIDERED

Committee Appointed by Board of Works to Confer with Mrs. Condon's Solicitors

The question of the writ for damages issued by Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon on behalf of Mrs. Condon against the City of Peterborough was considered last night by the Board of Works Committee. It will be remembered that some time ago Mrs. Condon fell on the sidewalk on Dixon street, which is claimed to have been a defective one, and sustained some severe injuries. After discussings the matter last night it was moved by Ald. Elliott and Johnston that the chairman of the Committee and the City Solicitor be a committee to confer with the plaintiff's solicitor with a view to settling the question.— Carried.

WEDDING BELLS

ANDERSON--RUMBLETON.

At Cobourg, on November 14th, a quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. George Rumbelow, father of the bride, when his daughter, Emily Matilda, was united in marriage to Mr. James Duncan Anderson, son of Mr. Daniel Anderson, of Douro, by the Rev. Wm. Beattie, of that town.

The bride was handsomely attired in a costume of cream crepe de chine, trimmed with chiffon over lace, and duchess satin ribbon. She was attended by her sister, Annie, who wore a costume of blue silk, trimmed with chiffon over lace, and duchess satin ribbon. The groom was assisetd by Mr. Richard Clegg of Glasgow, Scotland. The happy couple left at three o'clock for points west. The bride's going away dress was of blue silk. They were the recipients of a number of valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside in Douro.

OBITUARY

HAROLD COOK.

Word has been received in the city of the death in Midland, on Thursday, of Mr. Harold Cook, brother of Mr. Wm. Cook, of Peterborough. Deceased had only been seriously ill for a short time, heart disease being the cause of death. He was 52 years of age, and was a former resident of Peterborough, leaving here twenty years ago to go to Midland, where he had resided ever since.

His loss is mourned by a wife and two children, living in Midland. Four brothers and two sisters also survive. They are William, of Peterborough; John, of Harwood; Garrett, of Midland; Samuel, of Kenora; Mrs Whalen, of Parry Sound, and Mrs Vanatta, of Midland.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon in Midland. Messrs. William and Fred Cook are in Midland for the purpose of attending the funeral.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that its position does not exactly correspond with the other.

How important it is that if these muscles tire and you have headaches and require Glasses, that your Glasses suit your eyes—our long experience makes us experts and able to fit you correctly.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 17.—Despite the heavy profit-taking that went on in U.P. on the opening bulge, and a weakening tendency later, exceptionally good buying was manifest, and when shorts attempted to cover in the second hour the very sharp rise followed in which the early gains of about a point were more than doubled.

Canadian Pacific was strong and rose three points easily. The general list was big and broad again and those who wished to take profits found a ready market for anything. The buying of Copper was especially good and the Steels made further improvement. The Kansas & Texas issues advanced further. Baltimore & Ohio rose steadily.

The bank statement was better than expected and this encouraged the bull interests who took hold and closed the market strong at near the best of the day. While a reaction is probably not far off, we would buy the good issues on any such development. The London market was very strong to-day in the American section which showed large gains. Foreigners were reported large buyers here to-day.

VERY LARGE MARKET WAS THIS MORNING'S

Market Flooded With Beef, Pork and Fowl—Abundant Supply of Almost Everything—Lamb Was Scarce

There was an unusually large market this morning. There was an abundance of everything. The farmers were out in full force with their produce and now that things are fairly quiet about the farm there was a general rush of farmers to the market this morning. Especially in the inside market was there a large number of buyers and sellers. Every available space was occupied and the long tables of fowl, butter and eggs was a very pleasing sight. There was a great quantity of fowl on hand as well as butter, but eggs were rather scarce. Despite the heavy market of fowl the farmers' wives still demand high prices for their produce. On the outside market which was also the largest in a long time, there was an oversupply of beef. Half the number of wagons on the market contained beef and the wonder is how the sellers disposed of it, for beef was not at all in demand. Fresh lamb was most sought by the townspeople and there was scarcely any to be had. What there was for sale was quickly disposed of. There was plenty of fresh pork. There was also a good supply of apples. Snows were sold for $1.25 a bag mostly, though some had the audacity to ask $1.50 a bag or $3.00 a barrel. There are many buyers who said they would rather do without snow apples than pay $1.50 a bag. Tallman Sweets sold at $1.10 and Greenings at 90 cents. Potatoes remain at 90c to $1.00 a bag. There were many loads of hay for sale and the usual price of $14.00 was asked. There were a couple of loads of wood. $6.00 was asked for a load of mixed elm and birch. The following is the price list:—

Potatoes, per bag		to	1 00
Apples, per bag	90	to	1 50

PULLMAN CARS IN A DITCH

Day Coach Also Leaves Rails But None Were Killed.

EIGHT PERSONS INJURED

Chicago-New York Express on G.T.R. Train In an Accident Near Woodstock, Ont.—Escape of the Passengers, With Injuries to a Few Only, When Possibilities Are Considered, Is Miraculous.

Woodstock, Nov. 17.—With three-quarters of an hour lost time to make up, the Chicago-New York express on the Grand Trunk, bowling along at 50 miles or more an hour, was derailed about one and one-quarter miles west of Woodstock at 4.45 o'clock yesterday morning.

The locomotive did not leave the tracks, but the coaches did. A day coach and a Pullman went over the embankment into the ditch, and the former turned over, yet not a single fatality has to be recorded, not even a very serious injury. The escape of the passengers, when the possibilities of the wreck are realized, borders on the miraculous.

The derailment occurred just west of the C.P.R. diamond. The cause is not yet ascertained.

The Injured.

The injured are:

Edward Wilkinson of Toronto, brakeman, back injured.

Frank McCormick of Toronto, conductor, bruises and shock.

Charles Hicks of Buffalo, knee injured.

Mrs. Hicks, three ribs broken.

J. R. Smith of Rochester, scalp wounds.

Mrs. Smith, hip injured.

Edwin Skinner, Lapeer, Mich., head cut.

Peter Jorgenson, Memphis, Neb., left hand badly lacerated.

All the injured were in the day coach, when the accident happened.

GAS KILLS MISS WRIGHT.

Parents May Not Live — Two Sons Were Dazed.

Deseronto, Nov. 17.—Gas escaping during the night was the cause of death by suffocation of the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright of this town.

The family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, two sons and one daughter, aged about 21, retired as usual Thursday night, the two sons sleeping in the upper flat. Yesterday morning the boys were around the house but appeared to be dazed through inhaling the gas, and it was 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon before they recovered sufficiently to realize the condition of the rest of the family.

A doctor was immediately summoned, but when he arrived he found the daughter had been dead for some time; the father and mother are now in a very serious condition, with but slight hopes of their recovery. An inquest will be held.

Crushed in Brick Machine.

Brantford, Nov. 17.—Edward Gains, colored, was killed yesterday afternoon instantly while working on a brick pressing machine in the Brantford Brick Co.'s yards. The man climbed up the machine in order to see how many forms there were still to be pressed, and fell, his head being crushed between a lever and a support on the machine. No one saw the man fall. He was found very shortly afterwards and was dead.

Fatal Fall on Stairs.

Quebec, Nov. 17.—Henry Morgan, merchant tailor, Monday evening at the St. Louis Hotel, had mounted the sixth step of the stairs when he lost his balance and fell backwards. He died at midnight from concussion of the brain.

Fatally Hurt In Hunt.

Ingersoll, Nov. 17.—Word was received here yesterday that Henry Herron of Avon, a short distance from here, who was injured while hunting deer near Burks Falls, was not likely to recover. Mr. Herron belonged to the Black Creek Hunting Club, of which several Ingersoll men are members.

Chas. Mallroy's Jump to Death.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Despondent over the death of his wife, Charles Mallroy, aged 35, and employed by the Canada Foundry Co., jumped off the C.P.R. bridge in Rosedale, near the Reservoir, early yesterday afternoon. The drop would be about 50 or 60 feet and death must have been instantaneous. He leaves four young children.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—With the statement that a criminal combination had not been shown to exist, Justice Teetzel in the assize court yesterday dismissed the charge of conspiracy to defraud the city, on which four firms of furniture dealers were being prosecuted. These firms were: The Chas. Rogers & Sons, Limited; the Office Specialty Co., the Canadian Office & School Furniture Co., and G. N. Reynolds & Co. There were only two witnesses heard—Manager Wildman of the Office Specialty Co. and W. B. Rogers.

Amelioration For Jewry.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17. Premier Stolypin's organ, The Russia, yesterday published a long article, apparently intended to prepare the way for the promulgation of the reforms in the condition of the Jews.

DOUBTS CONFIRMED AS TO THE CRISIS

During Chas. McGill's Holiday Trip to New York and Saratoga.

BOOKS SCANNED IN ABSENCE

How the Directors Met Crisis Which Then Confronted Them on Report of Suspicious Clerks—History of the Last Days of the Ontario Bank Before Crash Came—N. G. Bank Inspection.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—The last days in Ontario Bank history, days intervening between the time of the complete realization by the directors that a crash was inevitable, and the fateful morning on the stock exchange when the collapse of the shares conveyed to the world the knowledge, hitherto jealously guarded, within the inner circles, were made known to the public at large for the first time yesterday in the proceedings before Magistrate Denison.

Frank H. Pope, chief clerk of the head office, and most trusted of all the staff by the general manager, since it was he who was assigned by McGill to deal with his correspondence while the manager was absent, gave to light that which had, up till then, been a hidden chapter.

Crisis Confronts Directors.

It was on Sept. 1, that the directors, or some of them, at least, were confronted with a crisis in the affairs of the bank. To the emergency meeting called purely on the initiative of Mr. Pope and Transfer Clerk Chenoweth, there came Directors Flett, Harcourt, Curry and Walton. President Cockburn and Director Donald McKay were absent from the city.

If Manager McGill had not taken any vacation last summer, it is more than likely that the Ontario Bank would still be holding up its head among banking institutions. There would have been no break in the market price, no closing of the doors, and no absorption into the Bank of Montreal. Mr. McGill would still be manager, and would be free to come and go, not permitted to move about solely by virtue of $100,000 sureties.

A Holiday Investigation.

But Mr. McGill took an extended holiday during July and August, and while he was at New York and Saratoga, investigation was being made of certain large accounts in his security ledgers. For months back, Messrs. Pope and Chenoweth had nursed suspicions that had been aroused through casual glances into the accounts. In the absence of the manager, they had time and opportunity at their command.

What they discovered confirmed their belief that all was not well under the consulship of Charles McGill. A number of New York brokerage firms were debited with large amounts, had been for years; yet there was nothing to show that any securities were held, or that interest or dividends had been paid. The sums totaled well on to a million dollars, and included $485,500 debited to Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., and $229,000 to Cuyler, Morgan & Co.

The Directors Astounded.

The directors professed themselves astounded, and would not believe. The Government report for August was prepared for signature about Sept. 10. It was agreed that it must be signed, or a premature collapse would ensue. The directors would only acknowledge suspicion, and required verification. Donald McKay had been kept in ignorance of the situation because it was thought it would prove too heavy a blow, and he signed the report, unaware, so Mr. Pope declared, of any possible falsification.

Then came a conference between the board and McGill, of which no details have come out, the writing off of $816,000 as "bad debts," and the subsequent developments.

Bank Inspection N. G.

Robert B. Caldwell, inspector of the Ontario Bank for years, was examined at length, and the significant facts drawn forth that there had been practically no inspection whatever of the head office books. Before two annual meetings, at least, the inspector asked McGill to allow him to look over the books. The manager put him off with excuses, and Mr. Caldwell reported so to Mr. Cockburn, who promised to see McGill. But, apparently, nothing was done.

The whole trend of Mr. Caldwell's inspection indicated that the system of bank inspection is of the lowest order, and some ironical comments were made thereupon by the court, who suggested inspection by the Government.

MIX PIGWEED WITH GRAIN.

Russian Peasants In Sore Straits to Offset Pangs of Hunger.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17.—The crop reports received here from 71 provinces and districts of Russia show the yield of wheat to be 15,059,000,000 pounds and rye 38,255,000,000 pounds, which is 9,598,000,000 pounds below the average.

In several of the interior provinces the peasants have taken to their beds for days at a time, in order to weaken the pangs of hunger, and are mixing their scanty supply of grain with pigweed to make more filling for bread.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE
The Original Remedy that "kills the Dandruff Germ."

THE HUNTERS CAME TOO LATE!

Their Faithful Dog pointed out the True Remedy to prevent Baldness but the hunters came too late—Chronic baldness is incurable.

HERPICIDE A "HAIR SAVER."

Newbro's Herpicide saves the hair by destroying the germ or microbe that is now known to be the cause of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. In chronic baldness the hair follicles are completely atrophied, causing the scalp to shrink and shine; little can be done in such cases except to save the remaining "fringe" and this is well worth saving, for it offers some protection against the cold.

The "Hair Grower" is a fallacy. It requires but a slight knowledge of Anatomy to know that the hair gets its life and strength from the hair-papilla at the bottom of the hair follicle, and the papilla in turn gets its nourishment direct from the blood; therefore nature is the only true hair grower. There are enemies of hair growth that cause hair loss and baldness. Invisible microbic growths enter the sebaceous glands, situated at the top of the hair follicles (Dr. Sabouraud, of Paris, says the microbe usually enters the scalp in youth) where one colony after another is established, until finally, after months and sometimes years, there is dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The Sebum also solidifies, causing dry, lustreless and brittle hair. Destroy this microbic growth with Newbro's Herpicide and protect the hair against re-infection, and it will grow as nature intended.

A Healthy Hair.

Newbro's Herpicide is a Twentieth Century Remedy. Its mission is to teach new rules for scalp cleanliness, new rules for hair preservation and to supply a germ destroying solution that will enable careful persons to have beautiful and luxuriant hair. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide, and if it does not do MORE than we claim for it, your dealer will refund your purchase price. As a hair dressing it is truly exquisite, on account of its dainty and refreshing odor, which is characteristic. It contains no oil, grease or sedimentary substance, neither does it stain nor dye the hair.

STOPS ITCHING OF THE SCALP ALMOST INSTANTLY.

WHAT A LEADING DRUGGIST SAYS: Herpicide has been a success with us from the start, owing to two considerations. First, because it is essentially a meritorious article and does the work that is claimed for it and every bottle sold makes a friend, who publishes the glad tidings to other friends, and an endless chain is thus created for Herpicide.

Secondly; You fill your contracts to the letter and treat your Agents squarely and cleverly, and every Agent in turn takes pleasure in pushing the goods for your personal account. We have never sold a proprietary article which was more satisfactory.

THE INDIAN RIVER CHEESE FACTORY ANNUAL MEETING

Will be Held at the Factory on Tuesday, Nov. 27th—Mr. Sommerville to Give Address

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Indian River cheese factory will be held on Tuesday, November 27, at the factory, when the business for the past season will be wound up, and the cheques for the milk supplied by the farmers will be paid over to them.

Mr. N. G. Somerville, of the cool curing station at Brockville, will be at the meeting and will give an address on the subject of cool curing, a matter which is becoming of greater importance to the dairymen of this district all the time.

All the patrons of this factory are invited to attend this meeting, which will commence at 1.30 p.m.

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR

Mrs. Eaton Recovering, Although Her Physician Said She Might Drop Dead at Any Time.

MRS. ROBT. EATON

"The Doctor told me I had heart disease and was liable to drop on the street at any time, says Mrs. Robt. Eaton, of Dufferin, Ont.

"My trouble began four years ago with a weak heart. I was often afraid to draw my breath, it pained me so. I was bothered with nervousness, shortness of breath, dizziness, loss of appetite, smothering and sinking spells, and could not sleep.

"Sometimes a great weakness would seize me and I would have to lie down to keep from falling. My hands and feet would seem to go to sleep and a sort of numbness would come all over me and perhaps immediately after the blood would rush to my head and a series of hot flashes would envelop me.

"I took all kinds of medicines, but kept gradually growing worse until about eight weeks ago, when I began using Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill. From the start I improved, until now my appetite has returned, I can sleep well, and have no nervousness, dizziness, palpitation, faintness or any of my other troubles. They have all entirely disappeared. I feel much stronger, look better, and altogether Anti-Pill has made a new woman of me.

"I am entirely cured and cannot say too much for this wonderful remedy. I would most heartily recommend Anti-Pill to anyone suffering as I did."

Senior Hockey Decided Upon At The Annual Meeting

Peterborough Hockey Club Organized for the Season at an Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night—Secretery Reports Credit Balance.

Senior hockey for Peterborough this season, was the decision reached at the annual meeting of the hockey club last evening.

The meeting, which was held in the Oriental, was attended by over thirty lovers of the game, and great enthusiasm was displayed. The

FRED A. CLARKE,
1st. Vice President.

prospects for the season are decidedly bright. Six of last year's team are still available, and there are a number of new men in the city who will round out the team. With a seven in the senior series the people of Peetrborough may rest assured that they will see great hockey here this season.

The president, Mr. W. E. Wasson, was in the chair, and after the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, the secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. G. Graham, presented his report for the season, which was a most creditable one.

He stated that the club played 16 games last season, winning 14 and losing 2. He then gave the scores of the various games played last season. The receipts were $2950.54, and the expenditures were $2932.04, leaving a credit balance of $18.60. The thanks of the club are due to Mr. N. E. McWilliams and others, who had assisted the club during the year, by helping to secure much needed funds.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers then took place, resulting as follows:—

Patrons and Patronesses — Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hatton, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. G. Denne, Mr. and Mrs. (Dr.) Bradd.

Hon. President—W. E. Wasson
President—Alex. Elliott.
1st Vice-Pres.—Fred A. Clarke.
2nd Vice-Pres.—T. W. McDonough.
Sec.-Treasurer—C. G. Graham.
Executive Committee — R. M. Glover, W. F. Crowley, Dr. Wightman, J. T. McCabe, Geo. Lynch.

The next business to be taken up was to decide in which series the team would play. Mr. R. M. Glover said that the feeling had been to play senior hockey, or none at all, and he moved that the team make application to enter the senior series. This was seconded by Mr. T. W. McDonough, and was unanimously carried.

C. G. GRAHAM,
Secretary-Treasurer.

The suggestion was made that Peterborough should have another team either an intermediate or junior, but it is not likely that such a step will be taken. At any rate, last night's meeting did not take any action in the matter.

Messrs. A. W. McPherson and F. Whitcroft, were appointed to represent the club at the annual meeting of the O.H.A., which is being held in Toronto to-day. They go unpledged so far as supporting any particular candidate is concerned.

Some discussion took place as to the desirability of holding a minstrel show, or some other entertainment for the purpose of raising funds. It was suggested that a hockey match on roller skates should be arranged, and this matter was on motion left with the new executive to deal with.

Before the meeting dispersed a vote of thanks was passed to Messrs N. E. McWilliams, Archie Moore and Jas. Hamilton, for the assistance they rendered last season in helping to place the team on a sound financial basis.

Votes of thanks were also passed to Mr. Wasson, the retiring president, and secretary-treasurer Graham for the faithful and energetic performance of their duties, and to Mr. George N. Graham for the use of the Oriental parlours for meeting purposes.

LOCAL NIMROD SHOOTS RUSTY STOVEPIPE

Mistook it for a Red Deer Among the Shrubbery—Will Take to the Woods Again Next Year

A good story of the hunt told at the expense of a local nimrod is going the rounds of a number of the late camps. The nimrod in question, was present on his initial tour among the tall timbers of the north. He was assigned a watch and given strict instructions to point his rifle at nothing but deer, but it made no difference whether the stags were moving or stationary. He believed in his ability to "plink" the fleet footed animals as he had often struck the bull's eye in the shooting gallery down street. He had also seen a number of dead deer but had never laid eyes on one in its native haunt.

Nearing the runway assigned him he heard or thought he heard a rustle

W. E. WASSON.
Honourary President.

among the leaves and shrubs a few rods distant and with a heart beating so loud that he almost mistook the sound fort he patter of a deer"s feet in the distance approached by stealth the unsuspecting animal which was so soon to become his prize.

Peering through the shrubbery he caught sight of something red and instantly there loomed up big, before him, a great red buck with magnificent antlers. With quivering aim he made certain of the game and breathlessly pulled the triggger. Instantly something fell and created a noise similar to one which a person might hear in a tinsmith shop. On examinating the spoils he found—not a deer—but an old rusty stove pipe which had apparently braved the wind, sun and storms of many years.

A partner of the hunt hove in sight in time to see the disgusted face of his nimrod friend and it was in this manner that the story has leaked out. Needless to say the young hunter came back empty handed, but is determined to again try his fortune another year in the haunts of the red deer.

HOCKEY

There are prospects for a very fast senior series in the O.H.A. this year and now that Peterborough has decided to play senior the people may be certain of seeing an A1 brand of hockey. There will be Peterborough, two Toronto teams, Midland, Berlin, Preston, Woodstock, and Stratford at least with the prospects of many more Western teams entering the race.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT AT C.G.E. WORKS TO-DAY

Mr. Geo. Perrot Narrowly Escaped Death---Was Injured by Falling Porcelain---Is a Foreman of Machine Shop

Another accident happened at the C.G.E. Works this morning when Mr. Geo. Perrott was injured by a porcelain which with a number of heavy glass articles were being conveyed in a box by the crane in the machine shop.

Mr. Perrott is a foreman in the machine shop and had a very narrow escape from death. Had the whole box fallen on him instead of a few feet away, he would surely have been killed. Mr. Perrott is to congratulated that he was not more seriously injured.

SHOULD PROCEED TO GET LICENSE AT ONCE

There is a Lengthy Process to go Through Before they will be Granted.

The milk by-law comes into force on December 1st, just two weeks from today and the dealers of the city have to go through quite a process before they will be given a license which they must procure before the first of December in order to sell milk after that date. It would therefore well for them to apply to the city clerk at once to avoid confusion.

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Dingman, Morganston, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in bed the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

Thousands Are Securing their Winter Clothing at Less Than Manufacturer's Wholesale Cost.

We are informed that Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will positively be the last four days of the closing-out sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock in Peterborough. The National Salvage Company, of Toronto, who are now in charge of the S. J. Sheridan stock say that they do not wish to move a dollar's worth of the merchandise away from Peterborough on account of cost of shipping and drayage; that they have invoiced the entire stock at about 35 per cent. less than the original wholesale cost, which means a saving to the public of more than one-half of the usual selling price of the goods. The people of Peterborough and vicinity are benefitting greatly by this closing-out, quit-business sale, as never heretofore have our people had such an opportunity to save money on wearing apparel such as this salvage sale of the S. J. Sheridan clothing stock is now affording the public. The underwear, shirts, hats and so forth, will long be remembered as the most gigantic four days' selling of merchandise ever attempted in Peterborough, Ont. Extra preparations have been made for the big crowds who will attend during the last four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and big Saturday, the last day of the sale, November the 17th. The National Company say they will keep the S. J. Sheridan store open the last day of the sale, Saturday, November the 17th, until mid-night in order to accommodate the vast crowds wishing to take advantage of this tremendous sacrifice. This is positively the last notification. Act quickly; but four days more to outfit in clothing, underwear, shirts and hats, caps, etc., for the next five years, at prices less than actual cost of the raw material. Come quickly and secure your share before the sale closes, Saturday night, Nov. 17th.

CANE FROM ABANDONED BATTLESHIP

Mr. Benj. Cooney Has Stick Made From Woodwork of Battleship "New Orleans"—The Result of Peace

Mr. Benj. Cooney came into The Examiner office to-day, the proud possessor of a gold-headed cane with a history. It was received yesterday from his niece, Miss Horton, of Watertown. The cane was the property of her late father. It was made from the keel of the United States man-of-war 'New Orleans." This ship was built at a place called Dexter, near Watertown, for use on Lake Ontario against Canada in the war of 1812-13. Just as it was about ready to be launched, peace was d eclared, and the hull was never put into the water. About sixteen or seventeen years ago the hull was sold and the timber used for house-building. Mr. Cooney's cane was made from part of the keel. He enjoys a little pleasantry in the shape of a pun over the situation. It was due to peace that he now owns a piece of a ship intended for war purposes.

STARVED BY ANAEMIA.

Health Restored by the Rich Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands and thousands of young girls throughout Canada are literally passing into hopeless decline for the want of the new, rich, red blood so abundantly supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are distressingly weak, pale or sallow, appetite fickle, subject to headaches, dizziness, are breathless and the heart palpitates violently at the least exertion. The doctors call this anaemia—which is the medical name for bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood—they cure anaemia just as surely as food cures hunger. Here is a bit of the strongest kind of evidence:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and nothing else saved my two daughters when doctors had failed to help them." This statement is made by Mrs. Joseph Martel. St. Oliver street, Quebec. She adds:—"My daughters are aged respectively twenty-two and twenty-three years. For two years they suffered from the weakness and distress of anaemia, and had I learned of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills earlier, it would not only have saved me money, but much worry and anxiety as well. Both girls were as pale as a sheet. They suffered from headaches, poor appetite, and grew so feeble that they could hardly go about. They were under a doctor's care, but did not improve a bit. I disquired of ever seeing them in good health again, when a friend called my attention to Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Soon after they began the pills there was an improvement in their condition and in less than a couple of months they were again enjoying good health, active robust girls. I am so grateful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for my children that I strongly recommend them to every mother who has a weak, pale faced boy or girl."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do only one thing, but they do it well—they actually make new, rich blood. They don't tinker with symptoms. They act on the bowels. They simply change bad blood into good blood and thus strike straight at the root of such common ailments as headaches, sideaches and backaches, indigestion, anaemia, nervous exhaustion neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis, and the special, painful secret ailments of growing girls and women. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH LAST NIGHT

Forty-three Candidates Confirmed by Bishop Sweatman of Toronto

A BEAUTIFUL AND SOLEMN SERVICE

A ceremony, beautiful in its solemnity, was performed last evening in St. John's church when forty-three candidates were confirmed by His Lordship Bishop Sweatmen of the Diocese of Toronto. His Lordship although but recently recovered from illness appeared in good health although he has not entirely regained his strength. The ceremony is one of the most impressive and the candidates, most of appeared in good health; he whom are adults, and very influential citizens, gave evidence of appreciation of the true nature of thei occasion.

They assembled in the school house and proceeded to the church just before the service was begun, and occupied the front seats. The church contained a large and reverent congregation, most of whom were relatives and friends of the candidates. After a short evening prayer the candidates were presented to the Bishop at the chancel entrance by the Rector. His Lordship as customary, asked whether they were fully prepared for the step they were going to make. The rector, Canon Davidson stated that on examination he had found them thoroughly acquainted with the significance of the step they were taking. The Bishop then gave an address. He did not go into details of confirmation as the candidates, from the examination papers, gave evidence of a thorough knowledge of the subject. His text was from the 8th chap. of the Acts of the Apostles. He dwelt upon the history of confirmation from its institution by the Apostles and its purport at the present time. He urged the candidates to remain faithful to their principles and to take a broad view of their privileges and duties. The address was a beautiful one and did not fail to impress all present.

After the Bishop's address the candidates arose and were asked by his Lordship as to the ratification of their baptismal promises. A solemn prayer was then offered invoking the assistance of the Holy Spirit, after which the candidates came forward for individual confirmation kneeling in front of the Bishop who sat before the altar. During this the most solemn part of the service, the choir sang expressively "Come Holy Spirit," and "Just as I Am, Without One Plea." The whole service was most edifying and impressive. The offering was very liberal and went towards the St. Alban's Cathedraf fund.

After the ceremony the candidates returned to the school house where they were congratulated by their friends. They will receive Holy Communion at 8.30 to-morrow morning. The ladies were very becomingly dressed in white, while the gentlemen wore small white bows in the lapels of their coats. Rev. E. A. Langefeldt was prevented from assisting on account of illness.

Bishop Sweatman will go to Lakefield for confirmation there on Sunday evening. The next district he will visit will be in Haliburton and he will return to Bethany.

Thankoffering Fund Will be Left Open Until Sunday to Allow Further Contributions to be Made

The Harvest Home Thankoffering Fund at the Park street Baptist church will be left open for to-morrow, in order that those who were prevented from attending the services last Sunday, and were therefore unable to make their offerings may have an opportunity of bearing their share. Over fifty envelopes have not been returned yet, and it is expected that the already large offerings will be considerably augumented by the envelopes returned to-morrow.

The subject for the sermon at night is a live question, "The nature of the new Birth and how it is effected." At the close of the sermon four men will be baptized which will be followed by the Lord's supper, when they will take first communion.

ler associations with the public, become so well and favourably known, will be the secretary of the company.

There will be no change in the principles of the methods which have contributed to the immense success of the business of R. Fair & Co.. However, the growing character of the business of the establishment, the increasing importance of every department, and the general growth of the magnitude of the business, have made it necessary to enlarge the resources and divide the responsibility so as to concentrate individual attention upon every department, with a view of meeting the demands of the public more adequately and completely and satisfactorily.

Successful Business Career.

The past business career of R. Fair & Co. has been an unbroken march of successful advance. In its relations to the purchasing public it has come to be regarded as an establishment with a well-earned reputation for reliability of method and dependable wares. It has earned a sterling reputation for quality and square dealing, enterprise and resourcefulness of supplies. These have not only made "Fair's" a household word in Peterborough city, county and surrounding counties, but those who have gone to the far West from this district have carried its memory and name to the West, so that no small share of the business of the firm comes from orders of former customers of R. Fair & Co. in almost every Province of the West, who have not had their dependence upon the reliability of the firm disturbed by distance, nor impaired by time.

Such is the business heritage, such the business reputation to which 'Robert Fair & Co., Limited," succeeds. In view of so important a change in constitution and personnel, it will be well to more formally introduce the active members of the company to the public, to which the change means as much as it does to the business itself.

Mr. Robt. Fair President.

Mr. Fair, who is known by name, and face, to thousands, in his business constituency, was born in the township of Cavan, near Millbrook, and enjoys the advantage of having had a successful retail business xperience of 31 years, of which nearly 25 years have been spent in Peterborough. In 1876 he succeeded to the thriving general store business of Mr. Hugh Waddell, South Monaghan, which he conducted with much success for seven years, during ix of which he was postmaster and township clerk. After that he ac- an interest in a Port Hope drygoods business. Soon after — in 1883 — Mr. Fair purchased the general store business of the late T. Bradburn, Peterborough, which he has since conducted with so marked a degree of success. The premises then assumed, have been so improved and extended to meet the demands of a rapidly growing business, that they would not be recognized as the same as were occupied in 1883. They now constitute one of the completest and most elegant drygoods business homes in the province — one of the best equipped and best stocked, with a most promising future.

Mr. Geo. R. Browning Director.

Mr. George Robert Browning, a member of the syndicate, was born in Ashford, Kent county, England, and came to Canada 17 years ago. He thoroughly learned the drygoods business in Sherbrooke P. Q., and Montreal. Four years ago he joined the staff of R. Fair & Co. He has always been connected actively with the drygoods business, in the best houses of the country. Under the new regime, Mr. Browning will be manager of the Carpets and House Furnishings Department, and assistant general superintendent. He has become very popular with the large clientele of the establishment.

Mr F. J. Moore, Director.

Mr. James Flemming Moore, the new member of the firm, who comes to the city with a fine reputation as a drygoods expert, is a native of Downpatrick, County Down, Ireland. He learned his business in the thorough old country manner, with Robertson, Ledlie & Ferguson, of Belfast, one of Ireland's largest wholesale and retail general drygoods firms. Since coming to Canada Mr. Moore was connected for five years with the Hudson Bay Company's store in Calgary. Later he managed the R. Barfatt estate, Port Hope, till it was wound up. He then became manager of Madill Bros.' drygoods business, Napanee. After two years in that position his ability and capacity secured his association as a member and director of one of the most important drygoods corporations in the province, "Robert Fair & Co., Limited." He will have charge, as manager, of the dress goods and silk department, and of the dressmaking branch. He will also have charge of the window dressing and interior decorations of the establishment, and will be associated with Mr. Browning in the management of the advertising department.

This new arrangement of personnel and forces will go into effect about the first of February, 1907. Both of the new associates of Mr. Fair are practically in harness with him now.

So much space has been given the change in business constitution of the old established home of the Golden Lion, because it is a matter of live interest to the purchasing public, who are concerned in goods of unimpeachable reliability, and honourable and advanced business methods.

At the annual meeting of the Montreal Street Railway Company, Wednesday, the proposal was submitted by the Board of Directors to increase the capital stock to $9,000,000 by the issue of 20,000 preference shares of par value of $100 each, at a premium of 75. It was unanimously adopted.

OTTAWA, ONT.

232 Cooper St., Jan. 8th, 1906.

You know what fearful trouble I have had all my life time from constipation. I have been a dreadful sufferer from chronic constipation for over thirty years and I have been treated by many physicians and I have taken many kinds of proprietary medicines without any benefit whatever. I took a pill for a long time which was prescribed by the late Dr. C. R. Church, of Ottawa. Also for many months I took a pill prescribed by Dr. A. P. Rogers, of Ottawa. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally I was advised by Dr. Rogers to try "Fruit-a-tives", and after taking them for a few months I feel I am completely well from this horrible complaint. I have had no trouble with this complaint now for a long time, and I can certainly state that "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine I ever took that did me any positive good for constipation. I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to the public as, in my opinion, it is the finest medicine ever produced.

(Signed)

JOHN COSTIGAN.

102

IN THREE MONTHS "Fruit-a-tives" did what Doctors and drugs failed to do in THIRTY YEARS.

"Fruit-a-tives" cured the Hon. John Costigan of the worst case of chronic Constipation that the leading physicians of Ottawa ever saw. "Fruit-a-tives" gave this famous statesman what he had not had for 30 years—perfect health.

Mr. Costigan gives the credit where credit is due—to "FRUIT-A-TIVES"—the one remedy that can, and does, cure Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives

OR FRUIT LIVER TABLETS

are the only remedy in the world really made of fruit. Juices of fresh Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes are so combined that the well known medicinal action of the fruit is increased many times. Tonics are added, and the whole pressed into fruit liver tablets.

"Fruit-a-tives" owe their wonderful power, and their wonderful success, to the fact that they are made of fruit—that they ARE fruit, INTENSIFIED.

It is the medicinal principles of fruit that can restore the great eliminating organs—the Kidneys, Bowels and Skin—to their normal condition. That is why "Fruit-a-tives"—made of fruit—cure Constipation and cause the bowels to move naturally—correct all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Skin Troubles—and build up the entire system.

If you are suffering as the Hon. John Costigan did—CURE YOURSELF as he did—with "Fruit-a-tives."

WILL MANUFACTURE "KORN KRISP" IN FEW DAYS

Peterborough Cereal Co. Ready to Commence Making This New Breakfast in Less Than One Week

RAW MATERIAL FROM SOUTHERN STATES

The Peterborough Cereal Company will be ready to commence the manufacture of their new ceral product, "Corn Krisp," about the middle of next week, it is expected.

The machinery for this new branch has now been practically all installed, and those in charge of that department are confident of being able to commence operations in the very near future. Corn Krisp is a breakfast food different from anything being made in Canada at the present time, and the company expects that it will be very popular here, as a similar product, made in Battle Creek, Mich., is in the United States.

It is made from Southern sweet corn, and the raw material is all imported from the Southern States, the company securing a special millers' freight rate on the grain used for this purpose.

Mr. Collier, of the Peterborough Cereal Company's office in Toronto, is in the city to-day and states that business in the sales department, of which he is in charge, is prosperous. He has two demonstration booths in the T. Eaton store, in Toronto, and finds it a good advertisement of the Company's product.

OPERA COMPANY FORCED TO CANCEL THE MATINEE

All the Scenery Could Not be Transferred in Time to Put on Afternoon Performance

The "Painting The Town" company arrived in the city this morning and were to have given a performance this afternoon. On account of so much scenery, which had to be transferred from the station to the opera house, they were forced to cancel the matinee engagement. They are, however, prepared to present the great musical hurrah to-night.

NON JURY SITTINGS OF HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

Opens Next Wednesday Before the Honourable the Chief Justice of Common Pleas.

ONLY THREE CASES ON THE DOCKET

The autumn non-jury sittings and winter Assizes of the High Court of Justice open on Wednesday, November 21, before the Honourable the Chief Justice of Common Pleas. The docket up to the present is a light one, only three cases having been filed by the Clerk of the High Court of Justice. The following are the statements of claims and defence of the interested parties:

Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. vs. Cavanagh.

The plaintiffs, the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co., claim that the defendant, Timothy Cavanagh, being a shareholder in the above-named joint stock company, refused to pay various calls of 10 per cent. each upon the stock of the company. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant is indebted to them to the amount of $500 and interest thereon. The plaintiffs further claim the amount of $50, being balance on goods delivered to defendant, and also claim $15 for unreturned packages.

The defendant denies that he ever was or is a shareholder in the plaintiffs' company, or that he ever subscribed for shares therein. As to the sum of $50, mentioned in the claims above, the defendant brings that sum into court to satisfy the plaintiffs claim in that behalf. The defendant denies any indebtedness to the plaintiffs in respect to the $15 mentioned for packages, or for any interest, as set forth in the claim. H. A. Ward, of Port Hope, for the plaintiffs, and R. E. Wood for the defendant.

Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. versus Richardson.

The second case is one similar to that mentioned above. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant, being a shareholder in the company, has neglected to pay various calls of 10 per cent. upon the stock of the company, except the amount of $270, paid over at three different times. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant is indebted to them to the amount of $238.81, being the balance of the said calls, with interest, and also claim a balance on goods sold to defendant, of $820.25, and, for packages. $240.75.

The defendant denies that he ever became a shareholder, as alleged, in the said company, and that calls were ever made on him. He claims that he paid the plaintiffs the full amount of his indebtedness on or about the 22nd day of April, 1905, and since that date had no further dealings with them. He also claims that he returned all the company's packages. H. A. Ward, of Port Hope, for the plaintiff, and Peter White, of Pembroke, for the defendant.

McCaw versus Nichols.

The plaintiff, Jas. McCaw, is a horse and cattle dealer in Bancroft village, and the defendant, Nathan Nichols, a horse dealer in Lakefield. The plaintiff claims that on June 10, 1905, he purchased from defendant the stallion, 'City Keswick," for $365. An agreement, he claims, was drawn up whereby the amount was to have been delivered to him at Lakefield on July 16, but the defendant refused to deliver the said stallion to him, but retained the same. The plaintiff therefore claims the sum of $500 as loss and damage sustained by not receiving the stallion, the costs of the action, and such further and other relief as may seem proper under the circumstances.

The defendant claims that he sold the stallion to the plaintiff, but the latter did not call when he agreed to do so, and the animal died on or about the 16th day of July through no neglect of the defendant. Porter & Carnew, of Belleville, for the plaintiff, and O. A. Langley, of Lakefield, for the defendant.

ANOTHER TRAVELLER IS HOME FROM THE WEST

Mr. Herman Thompson Spent Almost a Year in Souris, Manitoba—Will Remain Here

Mr. Herman Thompson arrived back from Souris last night where he has spent the past seven or eight months and to-day is busily engaged shaking hands with many of his friends. He is now staying at the Munro House with his wife, and after spending a few days with friends and relatives in South Monaghan will return to the city to reside. He will be warmly welcomed to his old home in Monaghan where his parents now reside.

CANADIAN NORTHERN TO BUILD LINE NEAR HERE

A Third Railway will in all Probability be Built to Connect with Peterborough in the Near Future.

MANY BRANCHES IN ONTARIO PLANNED

It begins to look as if Peterborough were to have a third railway. The Canadian Northern Railway has recently made application to Parliament for the right to build a number of branches in Ontario, and one of these new branches will undoubtedly pass through or near this city. The applications for lines in Ontario for this company are as follows:—From Washago westerly to Lake Huron, near Kincardine; from Arnprior southerly to the St. Lawrence River, between Kingston and Brockville; from Pembroke southwesterly to Lake Ontario, between Toronto and Belleville; from Toronto-Ottawa line northwesterly to Georgian Bay, near Collingwood or Owen Sound; from Toronto-Ottawa line westerly passing through or near Toronto, Hamilton or London, to Windsor, with branches to St. Thomas and Barrie, and a branch or loop north of Toronto; from Niagara River River northwesterly, passing through or near Hamilton to Lake Huron, near Goderich; from Lake Erie west of Port Colborne, northerly, passing through or near Brantford or Berlin to Georgian Bay; from a point near Washago to the Georgian Bay, east of Collingwood; from Montreal-Ottawa line north of Montreal, westerly, to connect with the authorized line in the County of Leeds or Lanark.

INCORPORATION IS NOW GRANTED

For the Mann Lumber and Cheese Box Company, Limited—Head Office and Works in Peterborough.

The Ontario Gazette of this week contains notice of the incorporation of the Mann Lumber and Cheese Box Company, Limited, of Peterborough. The capital stock of the company is $10,000 and the head office of the company will be located in Peterborough, where the manufacturing operations will be carried on. The shareholders and provisional directors are all Peterborough capitalists. Reference has already been made in The Examiner to this, the latest of Peterborough's industrial concerns to be incorporated into a joint stock company.

THE FROCK COAT SUIT.

A New York Artist Delineates the Correct Style for Men.

In the book, "Manners and Modes for Men," there appears a reproduction of an oil painting by a New York artist, showing the front and back of the new frock coat as produced in the Semi-ready tailoring. Frock suits, silk-faced, are sold for $25 and $30.

Frock coats are the bete noir of most tailors, for few of them can give the easy flow and yet retain the correct fit. It is easier to make a tight fitting garment than an easy fitting one.

The Semi-ready Overcoats are worth seeing, too, particularly the new French Chesterfield in the $25 and $30 patterns of "Semi-ready."

Cressman's have all the new styles and the exclusive agency for Peterborough and district.

MR. WEBB WILL GIVE A DECISION SOON

As to Whether He will Accept Call to Murray Street Baptist Church Has Not Decided Yet.

Examiner Special.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Rev. J. R Webb said he has not arrived at a decision regarding the call to Peterborough, and absolutely refused to indicate either one way or another, whether he would accept it. He expressed his pleasure at receiving a unanimous call to the church at Peterborough, and said he would make a definite announcement probably this week.

A PETERBOROUGH MAN'S SUDDEN DEATH

Mr. John Harley Passed Away in Quebec After Short Illness---Was Former G. T. R. Agent Here.

Word was received in the city today of the sudden death in Quebec of Mr. John Harley, a former Peterborough man, and a son of Mrs. E. Harley, of Charlotte street. No details of the death have been received here beyond the fact that he died suddenly. During his residence in Peterborough, few men were better known than the late Mr. Harley, and word of his death will be received by his many friends here with deep regret. He was at one time agent for the Grand Trunk Railway, and was a very popular young man. He was connected with sporting matters, too, and for some years held the office of secretary of the hockey club.

Deceased was about 37 years of age and was inspector for the London Life Insurance Co., travelling between Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec, his death occurring in the latter city.

The body will be brought to Peterborough, and the funeral will take place on Wednesday morning to St. Peter's Cathedral and the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

GEO. MATTHEWS CO. WILL ERECT ADDITION

An Extra Story will be Added to Their Establishment Next Spring—For Manufacturing Purposes.

In view of the great expansion of the business of the Geo. Matthews Company, the officials have found it necessary to enlarge the capacity of their already extensive establishment. Next spring will see another large addition built and the company now are making their preparations for it.

They have purchased a large quantity of lumber from the Peterborough Company's mills which is now being brought over in flat cars to be ready for the commencement of the work of extension early in the spring.

It is announced that the company intend raising the present main building one story. They have already a building three stories in height, so that by the addition of an extra story they will be increasing their capacity one-third.

The addition will be for the purpose of manufacturing which recently has been on the increase at this well-known establishment.

MUNICIPAL STREET AND DOMESTIC LIGHTING

Peterborough Light and Power Company Submits Offer to Sell Out Their business to City—Will Supply Power.

OFFER INCLUDES THE GAS BUSINESS

The city has now an opportunity to embark in the business of street and domestic lighting, as a municipal enterprise. To-day the Mayor received a letter from the manager of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, in which the company offers to sell to the city its business, and if it is secured the city corporation will then be in a position to go into the municipal lighting business.

The Offer.

The letter, which makes the formal offer is as follows:—

Peterborough, Nov. 19, '06
To the Mayor and Council of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—The Peterborough Light and Power Company, Limited are prepared to dispose of their business and to give the City the first opportunity of acquiring the same at cost, free from all encumbrance.

If the City will purchase the business the Company will furnish the City with power at $15.00 per H. P. sufficient to provide for the present business and extensions of the lighting system for three years on the usual terms.

The Company will further agree to furnish the City with an additional 500 H.P. on the usual terms for manufacturing purposes at $15.00 per H.P. for three years as part of the above offer.

The City may terminate such power contracts at any time on giving three months previous notice in writing of its intention to do so.

Yours truly,
Signed. J. H. LARMONTH,
Manager.

Will Supply Power.

This offer does not include the power generating plant of the company, as will be inferred from the letter, but power will be supplied by the company to supply the lighting both on the streets and in dwellings and business places. It will also be noticed that the offer included the option on 500 horse power of electric energy for manufacturing, which the city may have at $15.00 per horse power per year.

In addition to the electric lighting and power business the offer includes the gas end of the business, too.

The Price.

As to the price which the city will have to pay for the business, there is, of course, no information of a definite character available, but it is understood that the company will ask what was originally paid, in the neighbourhood of $200,000, and in addition, the cost of the improvements made to the equipment since this company secured the business. No estimate has been made of this but it is understood to be considerable.

Municipal ownership and operation of the lighting franchise of the city is now before the council in a practical proposition, and that body will probably deal with the offer at a special meeting, which will be called in the near future.

EXAMINER SCORED "BEAT" ON A TORONTO PAPER

It is not often that The Examiner sounds its own praises in respect to its news service; it prefers to allow its readers to do that, but on Saturday an achievement was accomplished which is considered worthy of reference. So far as this paper has been able to learn, from consulting its exchanges this morning—they include papers from all the cities in Ontario—The Examiner was the only paper to publish a report of the annual meeting of the O.H.A., outside of the Toronto papers, and it even scored a "beat" on one of them, publishing the result of the election for the Executive Committee, which that one did not have.

Nothing of any importance in the way of news, either local or foreign, is allowed to escape, if it is within the range of human possibility to secure it, and with this paper's facilities for obtaining news, its readers may be sure of getting all the latest happenings.

$10,000 IN TAXES YET TO COME

Collector, However, Does Not Anticipate Any Difficulty in Collecting It---$112,721.65 Already Paid.

Mr. W. J. Green, tax collector, reports that there is still on the roll uncollected the sum of $13,121.03. Of this, however, a considerable sum will be written off the roll, at the authorization of the council for remissions, etc., and all that will be left to actually collect will be about $10,000, which is about the same proportion as in former years. The total taxes on the roll for 1906 were $125,742.68, and of this $112,721.65 has been collected, $18,134.47 of the second instalment, and $94,487.18 prior to the time that the second instalment was due.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case." Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyers, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham gives free advice to women; address in confidence, Lynn, Mass.

UNIQUE POLITICAL SITUATION

There seems to be a prospect of a merry war in East Hamilton, over the provincial bye-election, beyond the lively wont of such interim contests. The Conservatives have nominated Mr. J. J. Scott, K. C., as their candidate, and his campaign has been opened with a very lively curtain raiser. In his opening address he vigorously attacks the Whitney Government on the head of its prison labour policy, and of the removal of the Normal College from the Ambitious City. The unity of the party is further evidenced by the attitude of the Spectator, a thick and thin, right or wrong, supporter of the Conservative party and policy. Here is a sample of the appeals made by the Spectator:

"A vote for Scott is a vote for the abolition of prison labour contracts.

"The Whitney prison labour contract has done no harm to honest labour, so far; but it must go.

"Mr. Scott is just as anxious to have that prison labour contract cancelled as Mr. Studholme is, and is more able to get it done."

The situation reveals a peculiar state of affairs in the Conservative Cabinet family. Hon. Mr. Hendrie, the member for West Hamilton, takes credit for having fought the obnoxious prison labour contract, but was overborne by his colleagues. The Whitney Government must be strongly wedded to prison labour principles, and, incidentally, strongly opposed to the interests of honest labour, when a member of the Cabinet takes the extraordinary position of publicly justifying his action in repudiating the acts of his colleagues. If this condition of strained relations continues, it is bound to become more strained. If the Spectator, Mr. Scott and Mr. Hendrie, do not do some strong swallowing, we may expect a rather pretty row in the Conservative family in East Hamilton. The Whitney Government is placed in a most humiliating position when its policy is publicly antagonized by its party candidate, its party organ, and its colleague. It is probable that just such a situation has never previously developed in this country.

JUSTICE WILL BE DONE.

The division of the terra incognito, known nominally as Keewatin, among the clamouring provinces of Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan is creating no little interest. Manitoba claims practically the whole of this district. Saskatchewan wants enough to give her access to the only acknowledged good port on Hudson Bay, Churchill; while Ontario's claim is tantamount to this. It is held by some authorities that Ontario has little justice in her claim, since, as it is argued, the judgment of the Privy Council, adding 73,732 square miles of territory, satisfied the legitimate claims of this province. There is, however, no ground for undue solicitude. But Ontario is concerned in the matter on really economic grounds. We are pushing a provincial railway to Hudson Bay, and being thus practically in earnest in the matter of development, and not merely sentimental, we are concerned in such an addition to our territory as will permit us to take full advantage of access to Hudson Bay. This will include access, and a controlling right, or right of equal access to the only practical port on this great inland sea. It seems that the matter may be amicably arranged and that such a partition of the territory among the three provinces concerned, made, as will give all equal rights of access to Churchill. A glance at the map shows that this can be done without much difficulty. The matter, however, can be safely left to the arbitrament of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. As a native of a neutral province, Quebec, which has no territorial interest in the proposed partition, he may be counted upon to approach the subject with an open mind. Moreover, as a Canadian, above everything, his well known sense of justice, will lead him to do what is best in the interests of the several provinces, in relation to their place and importance in the confederation. We may well have confidence that justice will be done in the premises.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

The London Standard in speaking of corrupt political methods in Canada says: "We rejoice to note, in fact, that the whole press of the Colony, Liberal as well as Conservative, is, on the side of the angels." This may be true to a certain extent. But the Standard, if it were on the ground would see that Liberal journals condemn political corruption in the abstract and that Conservative journals content themselves with condemning alleged political corruption on the part of Liberals and turn a blind eye to the politically corrupt acts of their own party. Investigation by the authority of a Conservative Government is righteously energetic in unearthing "Grit" corruption, but suffers a surcease of zeal when the political corruption of Conservatives comes into the field of the searchlight. A Pritchett comes into court and tells his story of Liberal wrong doing and he is hailed by Conservatives as a new-risen angel of purity. But when the same Pritchett asserts that the had been doing ballott switching in the interests of Conservatives for twenty years, he is scoffed at as a perjurer and a scoundrel. Everything depends in this connection on their point of view.

WHEN MACAULY SPOKE.

(Whitty's Parliamentary Retrospect.)

What can be the matter? Doors open, members rush out; members are tearing past you from all points, in one direction—toward the House. Then wigs and gowns appear; they tell you with happy faces their committees have adjourned; and then come a third class, the gentlemen of the press, hilarious. Why, what's the matter? Matter! Macaulay is up. You join the runners in a moment. It was an announcement one hadn't heard for years; and the passing of the word "Macaulay's up" emptied committee rooms now as before it emptied clubs. The old voice, the old manners and the old style — glorious speaking. Well prepared, carefully elaborated, confessedly easyish, but spoken with perfect art and consummate management, the grand conversation of a man of the world confiding his learning and his recollections and his logic to a party of gentlemen, and just raising his voice enough to be heard through the room.

As the House filled he got prouder and more oratorical; and then he poured out his speech with rapidity, increasing after every sentence, till it became a torrent of the richest words, carrying his hearers with him into enthusiasm, and yet not leaving them time to cheer. The great orator was trembling when he sat down; the excitement of a triumph overcame him, and he had scarcely the self-possession to acknowledge the eager praises which were offered by the Ministers and others in his neighbourhood.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

What with a street railway strike, and a strike of the Whitney Government supporters, Hamilton is having a lively sort of experiance.

Mr. Whitney declared with suspicious heat that there was stupendous audacity in the statement that there were strained relations and hot words between him and Hon. Adam Beck. We may expect something similar in the way of forgetfulness in connection with the East Hamilton bye-election situation.

The Ottawa Journal says that "in East Hamilton, where the death of Mr. Henry Carscallen left a vacancy in the Ontario Legislature, the first contested bye-election will occur since Mr. Whitney attained power." The Journal forgets the victory of Mr. E. J. B. Pense, of the Whig, in Kingston. Perhaps the Journal means that East Hamilton will be the only bye-election where there will be real fun.

Brockville Recorder.

Toronto has a greater number of election crooks and grafters than any city in Canada, and members of the Tory machine have been sent to jail very recently in that city for vote-plugging in municipal elections. Why, over Magistrate Denison, the innocent, insists on making Toronto the birthplace of the conspiracy now being investigated. He refused to allow even London the honour of being called the home of the plot, but in a legal deliverance attached that distinction to Toronto. From Toronto, too, were sent out the famous instructions of 1896, a sworn copy of which the Recorder has in its possession now.

So far as Brockville is concerned, its elections of recent years have not been questioned, and the intelligence and integrity of its people are not inferior to that of the electors in any constituency in Canada, Toronto and Ottawa included.

Hamilton is considering the question of acquiring and municipalizing its street railway. This may be an effective way of breaking a strike, but it may and may not prove to be expensive one. If, however, the railway is to be placed directly under Aldermanic control—managed as the Water Works in that city is managed by a committee of the Council—the Herald newspaper will vigourously oppose the acquirement of the road by the city. It says that under such control there would be danger of the road being operated "as a huge political machine." It advocates turning over the operation of the road to an independent commission, very probably like that which so successfully manages our own Water Works system. It seems to come to this that municipal operation of public utilities can only be successfully done by non-municipal management — by a commission of capable business men, with back bone and honesty enough to apply business principles to the discharge of their duties.

HEARST PAID DEAR TO LOSE ELECTION

Admits Having Spent More Than Quarter of a Million Dollars in Election Alone Not to Speak of Nomination.

New York, Nov. 19.—William R. Hearst, who was candidate for Governor on the Independence League and Democratic tickets, has filed with the Secretary of State, at Albany, a statement showing that he spent the sum of $256,378.22 in his efforts to win the election. Not since the law requiring candidates for public office to file a list of their expenses went into effect a number of years ago, has anyone, seeking the favour of the voters, admitted the spending of one-tenth of this sum for election purposes.

Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for Governor, who was elected, spent, according to his report, only $618.55, which would represent something like eight cents for every one hundred votes cast for him, as against over thirty cents cost to Hearst for each individual vote the latter received.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK THE SUBJECT OF FINE ADDRESS

Delivered Last Night at St. Andrew's Church by Mr. Thos. Yellowlees, of Toronto—Kingston Convention.

24,000,000 PEOPLE STUDY S.S. LESSON

Large congregations attended St. Andrew's church, at both services yesterday. Rev. J. G. Potter preached in the morning, and Mr. Thomas Yellowlees of Toronto, Extension Secretary, for the Ontario Sunday school Association, addressed the congretion in the evening.

Mr. Yellowlees is a forceful and intelligent speaker, and his address was interesting and instructive. He spoke at length on the recent Sunday school convention at Kingston, and of the great work the Ontario Sunday school Association was carrying on. The association was first organized in 1856, and during the last fifty years it has been doing great work in assisting in carrying on the work for which the Sunday school was intended. The first Sunday school in Canada was started in 1811, by Rev. Wm. Smart, in Brockville. The association consisted of members of every denomination and each year conventions were held in different towns and cities. This year the convention was held in Kingston, and was most successful. The speaker referred to the duties of the Sunday school officers and teachers. The great work was the bringing of the young boys and girls to the Sunday school, and also keeping them interested in Sunday school work, as they grew older. These boys and girls were the ones that were to take the places of the teachers and pastors of the future.

Mr. Yellowlees said there were 24 million people who studied the same Sunday school lesson every Sunday. He would like to see more of the Bible and less of the lesson helps in use in the Sunday schools. He said he knew of some Sunday schools were the lesson helps were used by both teachers and scholars exclusively. The place for the lesson help was in the home—not in the Sunday school. The teacher should study the lesson from the help during the week, and the Bible should be used in the Sunday school. The scholars should be carefully and faithfully trained in the Sunday school so that when the time came for them to go out into the world to fight life's battles, their parents would not feel anxious on their account. Parents should take up the study of the Bible with their children in the home. There were numerous methods of appealing to the children, and these methods should be undertaken by the teachers, and thus keep up the interest of the children in the work.

Mr. Yellowlees in closing, referred to the great success God had given them in their work in the past, and there was still a great work to be done. He hoped all would endeavour to help this work by giving themselves up to it, and also with their prayers and means.

OBITUARY

PATRICK McAULIFFE.

A sad death occurred early this morning at two o'clock, when Patrick McAuliffe, the son of Leonard McAuliffe of Emily, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, of peritonitis. The deceased was but 15 years of age, and has been ill but a short time. He has lived for many years with his uncle, Mr. Thos. Murray, at 111 Rubidge street. His father, a brother, at home, and one in Saskatchewan, and a sister, Mrs. A. Costello, of this city, remain to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning from Mr. Murray's residence, 111 Rubidge street, at nine o'clock, to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery, Ennismore, for interment.

With the exception of Rome, Venice is probably richer in public monuments than any other city in the world. Historic buildings or fragments of such edifices number 2,680.

A FOURTH CASE FILED FOR NON-JURY SITTINGS

Carton versus Wilson Will Come Up Before High Court.

Since Saturday morning another case has been filed which will come up at the non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice this week. This makes the fourth case on the list, and the only one in which local people are wholly interested. The following are the statements of claims and defence in the case of Carton versus Wilson:

The plaintiff in this case is Charlotte Carton, the wife of Geo. Carton, of this city, and the defendant Herman Wilson, a resident farmer of the township of North Monaghan. The plaintiff claims that by an instrument in writing, dated March 24, 1906, the defendant offered to sell to the Trent Valley Sugar Provision & Cold Storage Co., Limited, for $6,000, parcels of land in North Monaghan, which offer the company duly accepted in writing. The plaintiff, by an instrument, later received the rights and interests of the lands from the said company, and requested the defendant to carry out his offer, which he refused to do. The plaintiff therefore claims to have the said agreement specifically performed, the costs of the action and such further or other relief as the nature of the case may require.

The defendant alleges that the offer mentioned, if made, which he does not admit, was made without the defendant, or any other person receiving any consideration therefor from the plaintiff, her assignor, The Trent Valley Sugar Provision & Cold Storage Co., Limited, or any other person, and the same was wholly without consideration, and the instrument in writing containing the said offer was an informal document and without seal, and that the offer was revocable and subject to be withdrawn by the defendant at any time before the acceptance thereof by the said company. He also claims that he gave notice, withdrawing the said offer by letter before the said offer was accepted. He further alleges that the offer and acceptance were wholly incomplete and did not fully describe the subject matter of the same, and did not contain the names of the contracting parties. A. P. Poussette will act as the plaintiff's solicitors, and O'Connell and Gordon for the defendant.

He enjoys relating the story of his birth, which has been handed down by his parents. He was born in North Monaghan about half a mile from the place where he now lives, and although there were many forests then lumber was scarce, and in his early days he was rocked in a sap bucket, for the want of a cradle.

MUSICAL SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S YESTERDAY

At Matins in St. John's Church yesterday a new full anthem was sung well by the choir, viz., "Rejoice ye" Lane. Both tenor solos were finely rendered by Mr. George Chandler.

At Evensong Mr. H. Morphet was heard to great advantage in Brigg's solo "Hold Thou My Hand", which harmonized well with the Rector's sermon to the newly confirmed members of the congregation.

H. H. HILLIER HEARD BY MAGISTRATE THIS MORNING

He was Committed for Trial at the Next County Sessions to be Held in December—Mrs. Sarah Hillier, Plaintiff.

BOY STOLE CARDS FROM BOOKSTORE

At the police court this morning a case of special interest was heard by Magistrate Dumble. Mrs. Sarah Hillier charged Henry H. Hillier with the misappropriation of goods and chattels belonging to her to the amount of $600. Messrs. Dennistoun, Peak, Kerr and Stevenson represented defendant and Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for plaintiff, while Mr. Wood represented the Crown.

Mrs. Sarah Hillier, relict of the late Jos. Hillier, was the first witness examined. She stated that there was insurance of $1,000 in the Canadian Order of Foresters, Court Peterborough, made payable to her in 1903. She received a cheque for this sum. Mr. H. H. Hillier came with representatives of the Court when they paid the cheque to her. She gave the cheque to Mr. Hillier to deposit for her in the Ontario Bank. Mr. Hillier went away and cashed the cheque, and she received about $283 to be used for funeral expenses and ready money. Also received extra cheque for funeral expenses of $30 from Court Peterborough. Mr. Hillier did not receive a bank book or anything else. She thought he had deposited the balance to her credit. He paid for coal and had it sent to Mrs. Hillier's residence and also a violin for her daughter. She made application at the Ontario Bank last April and was told that there was no money there to her credit. She then asked her brother-in-law for her bank book and he replied that she would not get a d— cent from him, and that it she mentioned it he would blow her brains out.

Mr. Peck questioned witness as to her disposal of the money she received from Mr. Hillier. She explained that she put about $100 in the Ontario Bank, and then helped to keep her family by sewing. The balance of the money she thought was to remain in the bank to be used when it was only necessary to use it. Regarding the disposal of the cheque when she first received it, Mr. Hillier had asked her what she intended to do with the cheque, and she replied that she was not well enough to go down town. He argued that it should not be left in the house and she said that it would not hurt if left in the house. Mr. Hillier said that in case of fire she would lose it, and finally she asked him to place it in the bank. She did not understand the banking customs and did not think that Mr. Hillier could place her cheque in the bank in his name.

Thomas Yeats, accountant in Ontario branch of Montreal Bank, was next called. He has been employed there about 13 months. He produced a savings bank deposit slip that he had found in the May vouchers of the bank. Mr. Dean, the teller had received it and it amounted to $750, and was endorsed by the initials H.H.H. Beyond what the books show, witness knew nothing of the transaction.

W. W. Warren Dean, formerly a clerk in the Ontario Bank until 19th of March, 1906. He was savings teller in May, 1906. Recognized deposit slip produced as one he had made out in the month of May, 1906. He also recognized Mr. H. H. Hillier as the man who opened the savings account designated by the slip produced. It also showed that a Foresters' cheque on the Standard Bank had been made in favour of Mrs. Sarah Hillier for $1,000, $250 of which had been paid to her and the rest deposited by Mr. H. H. Hillier. As far as he could recollect Mrs. Sarah Hillier was with Mr. Hillier when the cheque was cashed.

Mrs. Hillier was recalled. She said she deposited $100 in her own name, it being part of the money received from H. H. Hillier. This she received back again from the bank in cheques. Mr. Hillier also paid for a tombstone. Mrs. Hillier was not sure what sum she had received from the defendant.

Mr. Yeats was again called. He had made a search in the bank and was unable to find a savings deposit in Mrs. Sarah Hillier's name. He produced, however, a deposit slip of a current account of $100 which she had made on May 11th, of 1902, and there was also a small deposit made by her in August of the same year.

The Magistrate considered that from the evidence presented a case was made out against the prisoner and he therefor committed him for trial.

Mr. Hillier was released on $400 bail.

Jos. Shearer was charged with having stolen post cards from A. H. Stratton & Co. The young lad has a bad record for his years. House-breaking and stealing on several occasions have been charged against him and he was placed with the Children's Aid Society at one time. He could not be let go because of his history, and the Children's Aid Society would not receive him, accordingly Mr. Dumble remanded the boy till four o'clock to-day when Mr. Dennistoun could be present.

NINETY BAPTISMS IN THE PRESENT PASTORATE

An Excellent Record for the Park Street Baptist Church.

Six persons received the Hand of Fellowship and were welcomed into the Park street Baptist church yesterday. Four men were baptized and from the dressing room came the echo of the much loved hymn, "Oh Happy Day When Jesus Washed My Sins Away." This totals exactly 90 baptisms during the present pastorate which began three years last June. There was a large congregation present, the platform and school room being used. The service was solemn and impressive. The young people will have charge of the service this evening. Public service will be held on Wednesday with the pastor in the chair.

AUTHORIZES CALL TO A MONTREAL PASTOR

Rev. John R. Webb, Invited to Become Pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church at End of the Present Year.

PREACHED IN PETERBOROUGH BEFORE

After the morning service at the Murray Street Baptist Church yesterday the congregation remained at a special meeting, called to receive the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of a successor to Rev. Mr. Scott, who will leave Peterborough about the first of the year for Bolivia, where he will enter missionary work in the interests of the Baptist Church.

Committee's Report.

The committee, through its chairman, Mr. W. Aldridge, presented a unanimous report recommending that a call be extended to Rev. John R. Webb, who for the last nine years has been pastor of the Point St. Charles Baptist Church, Montreal. The report was adopted by the congregation, the members of which were unanimous in their desire to have Mr. Webb for their next pastor.

Has Preached Here.

About two years ago, at the time that Mr. Bastow left Peterborough, Mr. Webb preached here, and at that time he was approached with a view of his acceptance of a call to Peterborough. It was, however, decided to extend the call to the present pastor, who accepted.

At the time of the recent convention Mr. Webb was again approached in reference to his acceptance of a call to this church at this time, and it is understood that a reply was given which encourages the committee to hope that it would be accepted. Pursuant to the action taken by the congregation yesterday, the committee will take the matter up again with Mr. Webb, and it is probable that a reply will be received in the course of a few days.

A Successful Pastor.

Mr. Webb is looked upon as being one of the most successful preachers in the Baptist Church, and the congregation will consider itself fortunate if it secures him for the next pastor. Prior to his pastorate in Montreal, Mr. Webb had a church in Ontario. He is a strong preacher and has done splendid work in the church where he has spent the last nine years.

CEMENT CO. UTILIZED 1850 LOADS CLAY

Stopped Importing Blue Clay Last Week --Season Busy One for the Company.

Last week the Lakefield Cement Company stopped importing blue clay from Lily Lake, in Smith township. The past season, it is understood, has eclipsed all former ones, the company having received about 1,850 carloads of the clay, an amount somewhat greater than that of 1905, which indicates the advance in the business of that flourishing firm.

It is understood that this season was the last in which blue clay will be brought from Lily Lake, the company having purchased a farm in Otonabee, near the Drummond station, which contains a quantity of the clay necessary.

A RICH COPPER MINE IN OPERATION NEAR MADOC

Eldorado Mine Daily Producing Copper Matte, which is Being Sent to the United States for Reduction.

ROMANTIC STORY CONNECTED WITH IT

Copper mining is likely to develop into an important industry in the Hastings mining district, according to the following from the Marmora Herald, a paper which is recognized as an authority on mining matters:

As everyone knows there is no mining of greater importance to a district than copper mining. This is because copper is none too plentiful for the increasing demand for it in commerce, and consequently the high price that prevails for copper.

Hastings county seems to have nearly every mineral on the list, and now has a good copper mine in full blast. The mine is located a few rods west of the C. O. track at Eldorado, making it most convenient for shipping and communication. This is an advantage of very great moment in mining and means that a low grade ore could be handled successfully where more remote locations would mean heavy transportation charges.

Eldorado is historic mining ground because it was here that gold was first discovered in Hastings, and created a tremendous excitement at the time. The original gold mine where the discovery was made is but a short distance to the north, and is lying idle, and, judging from the tangle the title of the property is in, will likely remain so.

The copper mine at Eldorado was at one time an iron mine, out of which Mr. Arthur Coe, of Madoc, the owner, at one time mined and shipped large quantities of hematite ore. It is at the bottom of one of these pits that the copper mine shaft is located. The shaft is 40 x 8 feet and is now down 140 feet. No drilling has yet been done as the sinking of so large a shaft gives material enough for the smelter at present worked.

The vein is seven to eight feet wide. The ore is chalco pyrite, a combination of 35 per cent. iron, 35 per cent. sulphur, and copper in pure state. Samples from the mine run from 25 per cent. to 30 per cent., and even as high as 80 per cent.

On the whole the ore will average 7 per cent., which is considered pretty rich in copper.

Three air drills are used for breaking, which is done by the night shift, and the hoisting follows through the day. In 24 hours from 30 to 35 tons are mined, hoisted and smelted.

The smelter is of intense interest. It is almost impossible to get away from the beautiful colours in the furnace as when it is in full blast there is every beautiful hue of the rainbow. The slag runs out in a liquid stream of red fire, and is then drawn away in iron slag pots, which are mounted on iron trucks. When poured down the dump at night the light can be clearly seen at Madoc, seven miles distant.

The last shipment of matte was made on October 26, containing 56,000 lbs., of 43 per cent. copper, and the market price was 22 cents for pure copper. This was the product of 20 days. Another car will be ready for shipment about the 26th of this month. It is shipped to Delemere Refining Company, New Jersey.

PROSPECTS OF RAILWAY PLEASES THEM

What the Orono People Think of the Railway Prospects

The village of Orono has, in the past, not enjoyed railway communication, and the prospect of the branch of the Canadian Northern touching that place, has raised the spirits of the villagers, evidence of which is found in the following Orono correspondence to the Newcastle Independent of the last issue:

The gang of Canadian Northern surveyors, are all quartered at our Temperance Hotel for the winter, and of course, ye unbelievers, we expect the construction gang upon their heels. Hark ye! do ye not hear the whistle, and see the dark cloud of smoke, ascending over Mount Tom? If not, hats off, and ears to the ground, and hear the rumblings of the iron horse approaching through the darkness of scepticism and unbelief, which has hitherto bound us in the Egyptian darkness of Noxville.

What will a railway do for Orono? Well, now, what won't it do? Just pause to think over the expense of hauling coal, and delivering apples, our hogs, our cattle; also our bus and expense rates, saving nothing of our mail kept back for days by snow blockades. Why, we can then sport another newspaper, another temperance house or two, a High School, electric lights, canning factories, etc. Then look at what we will pull in from all the construction works made necessary by the railway. Really, it means in short, our emerging from Noxville into T O R O N T O with the t's knocked out.

RELIGIOUS CHANGES PREDICTED FOR CANADA

Greatest Problems of Christian Civilization to be worked out in this Country Says Dr. Raynor.

POPULATION SOON TO BE 150,000,000

"The Dominion of Canada is unquestionably destined to become the field in which the greatest problems of Christian civilization are to be worked out," was a statement made by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Reynar at the George Street Methodist Church last night. Dr. Reynar is the Dean of Arts in Victoria College, Toronto, and yesterday conducted both services at George Street in the interests of the educational work of the Methodist Church. Large congregations greeted the reverend doctor both morning and evening, and many appeared to be taking a deep interest in the work of education.

In the evening he founded his discourse on the 9th, 10th and 11th verses of the first chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Philippians, dealing particularly with the words "And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment."

Practical Religion.

The first verse of the epistle tells to whom it was addressed — the Philippians, men who were converted and who had religion in their souls. There are many, said Dr. Reynar, who think that when they have religion they have everything necessary to a life of enjoyment, and believe they have everlasting salvation for their souls. But when a man of this character, who imagines he has nothing more to do, is met with, it shows he has not a religion worth having. He has friends, a country and a family to strive for. The love which the apostle speaks of and which, if one possesses, no cannot sit down and be happy. To get religion is not the end of a person's life; it is just the beginning, and there is no use getting religion if no use is made of it. Love, which is the fulfilling of the law, is a living, growing thing, and it must do something for the beloved and must suffer for the sake of itself. If a man loves Jesus he will study His words and ponder His gifts without waiting to be told about it.

Zeal With Prudence.

Love in its very nature must abound more and more; it cannot live alone any more than a live coal. How to do aright the work love prompts us to do is where the knowledge of religion comes in. To serve the Master, said the speaker, we must follow the instructions given by the apostles, for which we must search the Scriptures. No Christian man, he said, ought to be able to sleep quietly if he knows that his brother or sister is suffering and needs assistance. There never was a time in the history of this country when more knowledge and tact is needed to promote the good than at present. Too often good feelings and good intentions work mischief. The greatest crime in the history of the world — the crucifixion of Christ—was committed through ignorance. In the Master's words, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do," this ignorance is illustrated.

Another class of fanatics come near wrecking the reformation by going beyond knowledge and almost thwarting one of the greatest and best changes the world has ever experienced. The Puritans brought reproach on themselves on account of their excessiveness in laying down their religious principles.

A Great Future.

A spirit of love abounding in knowledge and judgment, is the only thing that can be a benefit to us. We therefore need the most careful and finest types of teachers to mould the opinions of the young. If such a precaution were taken, said the doctor, in two generations in this country the real character of Canadians would be such that the exposures seen in the daily press would be eliminated. He believed that the Dominion of Canada was unquestionably destined to become the field in which the greatest problems in Christian civilization were to be worked out, and prophesied that in 150 years' time the population of the Dominion would be 150,000,000. We should therefore act in the present so that the future generations may look back upon our work and say that we have done our duties well.

During the service solos were well rendered by Miss Chasty and Miss Irene Gray.

MR. J. H. SIMMONS HOME FROM THE WEST

Thinks He Will Return Again in the Spring—Metallic Roofing Business Good at Regina.

On Saturday night Mr. J. H. Simmons, of Simcoe street, returned home after two or three months' stay at Regina, in the Northwest. Mr. Simmons has been working at metallic roofing in the West, and reports that business there is good. He will remain here for the winter, but expects to move to the prairies again next spring.

PLEASURES ARE NOT FORBIDDEN BY RELIGION

Rev. H. M. Manning's Sermon to Young Men at Charlotte Street Church Last Night—Some Pointed Truths.

EXTREMES OF SOCIETY MEET IN CRIME

"Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth • • • but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment."

The pleasures of young men and their relation to the Christian life were dealt with last night in a sermon preached by Rev. H. M. Manning, in the Charlotte street Methodist church, to one of the largest congregations the church has ever held. The sermon was a special one to young men,p reached in response to a request from the Y.M.C.A., in connection with the week of prayer for young men, inaugurated by that association.

Proper Pleasures.

Pleasures which are helpful and which were characterized as pleasure of the Lord, where compared with forms of pleasure which had a tendency to deprave those who participated in them, and the fact pointed out that there was a great deal of misapprehension among young men in reference to religion, a general impression having been gained, apparently that to become a Christian one had to deprive oneself of the pleasures which youth enjoys. In his sermon the reverend gentleman combatted this idea, pointing out that the Bible commended pleasures of youth, participated in, however, in a way which would prove beneficial to the participants.

The Foundation.

The text from which the sermon was preached was Ecclesiastes, 9; 11: "Rejoice, O young man in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment." The words of the text, the speaker thought, constituted a warrant for reasonable pleasure on the part of the young man, but at the same time it was a warning that if he carried his pleasures beyond those sanctioned by the Word of God, he would be brought to judgment. It is the undeniable right of young men to rejoice in their youth, but it is also of the first importance to them that they should consider the excesses which the buoyancy of their natures may lead them.

Religion and Pleasure.

Referring to the relation of religion to pleasure the speaker thought that God did not will that religion should make one morose; the principles of religion were not at variance with the nature God has given us. The great reason why young men so often stand aloof from religion is because of a misconception of God's truth on this particular question. They do not understand the position of the Bible on the matter of pleasure, because they so seldom study it thoughtfully. To the majority of young men who are not Christians, the Bible is in a very objectionable sense, a novel to them.

Wholesome Pleasures.

Some characteristics of the pleasures of the Lord were given. They were pure and they were elevating. Physical pleasures of a pure character were very desirable. "It's a great thing," the speaker remarked, "to be able to do the work of two men, and to do more than you are paid for doing. Physical strength is a splendid asset for a young man to start out in life with, and will help him in every way."

The pleasures of the Lord are such such as will help a young man in his work in life. After indulging in them he will not arise in the morning feeling that he has not enough energy to enable him to carry on his day's work, and will not rob his employer by being unfit to do his work.

Special Vice Attacked.

The use of tobacco and cigarettes was condemned, as sensuous pleasures, and, while the speaker did not say that no follower of the Lord used them, he did believe that young men would be much better without them. Liquor was condemned in the strongest terms, and was characterized as a pleasure which no young man should indulge in.

There is such a thing as devilish pleasure; pleasures which are so degrading that they can be called nothing else, and there are persons for whom these things have a fascination and pleasure. It was, the reverend gentleman remarked, rather a strange thing, too, that in these pleasures the two extremes of society met. In what is called the best of society there is to be found gambling in its worst form, adultery and seduction, while in the very lowest society these same vices were prevalent.

The young man's independence, his ability to do largely as he wishes, in which respect he is the most favoured class in the world, was referred to, and the sermon was concluded with an appeal to young persons to do themselves the best service by accepting religion as their standard of life.

LUMBER CO. ENLARGING ITS BUILDINGS

Peterborough Lumber Co. will Erect a 20 ft. addition to the Main Mill—A Larger Carriage will be Installed.

As soon as the season's operations can be no longer carried on at the Peterborough Lumber Company's Mills, it is understood that an addition will be made to the already extensive plant. At the northern end of the main mill an addition 20 feet in length will be erected so that a carriage larger than the one now in use may be installed. The carriage will be a steam fed one and will replace the old friction operated one.

The reason for this extension is the increased demand for the company's material which is now going to all parts of the province so that to meet the many orders a more efficient carriage had to be installed.

The work of erecting the new building, it is expected, will be begun when the water on Little Lake has frozen as the mill will not be closed down until then.

LATE MRS. ARCHIBALD MORTON LAID TO REST

Large Funeral from the Family Residence on Saturday Afternoon—The Pall Bearers.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Archibald Morton took place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence on Lundy street, to the Little Lake cemetery. A large number were present, including many relatives from eastern townships, to pay their last respects to the deceased lady, and to listen to the impressive funeral services conducted by the Rev. Mr. Manning of the Charlotte street church.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Andrew Buchanan, Robert Buchanan, A. Archibald, John Hart and Joseph Lundy.

VISITORS AT BARRACKS YESTERDAY

Special Addresses by Col. Gaskins and His Wife and Brig. Hargrave—Visit was a Grand Success—Returned To-day.

Yesterday was of special importance to the local branch of the Salvation Army on account of the visit of Col. and Mrs. Gaskin, of Toronto, and of Brigadier Hargrave, of Montreal. They arrived in the city on Saturday and were extended a hearty welcome at the Saturday night meeting. At the Sunday meetings large gatherings filled the Barracks and the visit of the officers was a great success in every way. In the morning Col. Gaskin gave a fine Holiness address, taking his lesson from the Epistle of St. Paul to the Ephesians, 3rd chap. 8th verse. In the afternoon he again spoke, taking his text from the 8th Chapt. of St. Paul to the Romans. These services were well attended and Col. Gaskin proved himself to be a very able and eloquent speaker.

The evening service was opened by Mrs Gaskin, who gave a fine introductory address. The feature of this meeting, however, was Col. Gaskin's speech. He chose as his text the 18th verse of the 12th chapter of St. Luke, "And He said, this will I do. I will pull down my barns and build greater and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods." The Colonel gave a beautiful address on this text, and touched his hearers by the forcible manner in which he gave his interpretation. After his speech Brig. Hargrave brought the meeting to a close.

Messrs. Leader, Gandy, Brown and Gray sang a very fine quartette entitled Eternity. The visitors were extended a hearty invitation to return at any convenient date in the future.

They returned to their respective headquarters at Toronto and Montreal this morning. The collections received were very substantial and in all respects the visit was a great sucess.

TEMPERANCE WILL BE DISCUSSED TO-NIGHT

At Meeting of the Young Peoples' Society of St. Andrew's Church—A Good Programme Prepared.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Young People's Society to-night in St. Andrew's Church, the question of temperance will be discussed. A good programme has been prepared and will be presented. A number of addresses will be given on the subject under discussion. All the young people of the church are invited to be present.

A POSSIBILITY.

That Became a Fact and Pleases Many People.

A. R. Lewis, M.D., in a lenghty article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says, concerning hair: "It's deterioration is a constant source of worriment to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by "fake" hair restoratives. The wish that a hair preparation will "fill the bill" is father to the fancy that it is likely to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does "fill the bill." It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE MEETING FOR MEN

An Interesting Gathering was Addressed by Rev. Dr. Crothers at Y. M. C. A. Yesterday Afternoon.

A continued increase in attendance has been a pleasing feature at the men's meetings at the Y.M.C.A. this season.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. Dr. Crothers addressed the large gathering of men on the subject "Why Pray?" He gave a practical and convincing presentation of the subject, and was listened to with marked interest by those present.

Mr. Wm. Shea presided and Mr. J. F. Thornton led the song service.

Miss Helen Davies sang "Crossing the Bar," in her usual good voice. Messrs. C. B. Thornton and A. Callendar sang "There's a Friend in the Homeland." Both numbers added much to the impressiveness of the meeting.

FARMERS WANT CHANGE IN THE MARKET HALL

Present Lavatory System During the Winter Unsatisfactory to Them—Are Advocating a Change.

The market farmers who come to this city on Saturday's are already advocating a change in the lavatory system in the market hall for the winter. At present the water works freezes up at the first cold weather and the lavatories are of little use afterwards. The farmers, speaking to the Examiner this morning in reference to the matter suggested dry earth closets, which they claimed might be installed at a small expense to the market hall commissioners and which could be removed at any time. At any rate they think some change of the present system should be made before the cold weather comes.

NO HALLOWE'EN PRANK BUT WILFULL MISDEED

Mr. Robt Innes' Gate is Again Taken and Police Should be Placedon Trail of the Offenders.

The removal of the gate of Mr. Robt. Innes, Rubidge street, on Hallowe'en does not seem to have been a mere boyish prank. Through the Examiner Mr. Innes learned the whereabouts of his property which was restored to its normal position. On Saturday night the gate was again taken and its present whereabouts is as great a mystery to Mr. Innes, as the motive which prompts such an outrage. He feels very greatly annoyed and is willing to give a liberal reward for the conviction and punishment of the persons guilty of such an act of vandalism. The authorities should take some decided action in the direction of protecting the property of citizens from not merely mischevious, but, as in this latter instance, malicious meddling

THEANO AND WINONA AT THE BOTTOM

Probable Loss of Two Fine Upper Lakes Steamers.

2,000 TONS OF STEEL RAILS

Wreckage Picked Up Causes Fears That Simla May Also Have Gone Down—Theano Sank at the Entrance of Thunder Bay—Winona Ran on a Shoal—Their Crews Got Off Safely.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 19.—The Algoma Central steamer Theano with a cargo of 2,000 tons of steel rails for the Grand Trunk Pacific at Fort William was sunk three miles from Thunder Cape.

The boat struck a small island while trying to make the harbor Friday night, and being washed off by a heavy sea, sank in deep water.

The crew succeeded in getting off in lifeboats, and reached Port Arthur in safety.

No Trace of Vessel.

Port Arthur, Nov. 19.—No trace of the steamer Theano could be found by a party who went out to the scene of the wreck yesterday morning on the Whalen. Only floating oil and bubbles coming to the surface of Lake Superior indicated the spot where a wreck had taken place. The steamer, with her cargo of rails, had gone to the bottom of the lake. At that point the water is 17 fest deep, and there is no likelihood of the boat being recovered.

Simla May Be a Wreck.

The tug Bowman, sent out to search for the crew, came across a large amount of wreckage, portions of which were painted green. As the steamer Simla was green striped it is believed that she was wrecked.

MacKay Boat Ashore.

Owen Sound, Nov. 19.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon that the new steel freight carrier, Winona, of the R. O. & A. B. MacKay line is ashore on Duck Island, south of Manitoulin Island.

The Winona, which is off the dry dock only a few weeks, having met with a similar misfortune about six weeks ago, left Owen Sound on Friday evening at 5.30 o'clock, bound for Fort William with a cargo of cement. In a blinding snowstorm early Saturday morning, the Winona went ashore on one of the Duck Islands, about 190 miles from Owen Sound. The big steamer landed well up in shallow water.

Bow Badly Broken In.

After some time the boat pulled off with her own power, but the bow was found to be badly broken in and the forward compartment filled with water. In this condition the boat sought shelter, and in a small bay the bow of the boat was beached. With a change in the wind the steamer would be in a critical position.

Some of the crew reached the mainland and went to Providence Bay, 45 miles distant, where they notified the owners in Hamilton. The Winona is a new boat, having been brought out from the old country early in the summer. She is in charge of Capt. Dix.

The storm, which is raging on the lakes at the present time, is the worst of the year, and a number of vessels are in shelter here.

A telegram was received here yesterday by the wife of Capt. Pearson of the steamer Theano, ashore at Thunder Cape, Lake Superior, advising her of his safe arrival in Fort William.

TO NULLIFY THE MODUS.

What Violation of Bait Act Costs Two Fishermen.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 19.—Two colonial fishermen, Du Bois and Crane, who shipped aboard the American herring vessel Ralph Hall Nov. 8 outside the three-mile limit, were tried Friday before a magistrate at Bay Islands.

The men were charged with having on Nov. 12, in violation of the Bait Act, put herring on board the Ralph Hall. They were convicted and fined $500 each, with an alternative of serving three months in prison. Counsel for Du Bois and Crane gave bond for the men and an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court, before which the case will be argued next month.

The Colonial Government expects this prosecution will result in stopping Newfoundlanders shipping on board American vessels and will therefore nullify the modus vivendi.

A WOMAN'S BACK WAS NOT MADE TO ACHE

Thousands of Women suffer Untold Misery Every Day with Aching Backs That Really have no Business to Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life.

It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

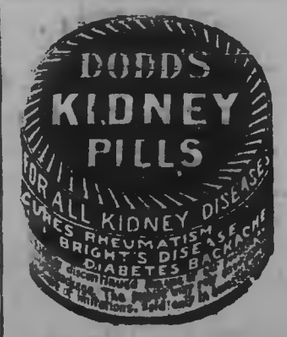
Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from Kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills

will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

Mrs. Thos. Craig, Almonte, Ont., writes: "I was doctoring for six months for kidney trouble and my back was so lame I had to lie in bed. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and in one week I was able to walk with very little pain, and in five months my back was as strong as ever.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.



BOMB FOLLOWS MASS IN CATHEDRAL

Attempt to Wreck Great Temple of Roman Catholicism.

EXPLOSION IN THE BASILICA

Worshippers in Thousands in World's Most Famous Church, St. Peter's Cathedral, Rome, Were Thrown Into Panic by Explosion of Anarchist's Bomb — Immense Space Obviated Disaster.

Rome, Nov. 19.—A bomb was exploded in St. Peter's yesterday. The edifice was crowded and an indescribable scene of confusion followed. There were no fatalities.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the dedication of the basilica to St. Peter, and it was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Holy relics were exposed, and a large number of the faithful attended the services.

The last mass had just been concluded when the explosion occurred, and only one canon, who had not quite finished, remained at the altar of St. Petronilla.

Tremendous Roar.

As the canon turned to bless the communicants, there was a tremendous roar, which echoed throughout the lofty arches of the immense dome like a thunder clap. At the same time a dense smoke spread throughout this portion of the basilica and a strong odor of gunpowder filled the air. Confusion and panic at once seized the people.

Chairs were overthrown, making the confusion more serious. Men and women fled, stumbling in all directions, and the screams of children and cries of anguish were heard on all sides, and for a few moments it seemed as if nothing could obviate a grave disaster.

The vast size of the church, however, gave room for the crowd to scatter, and at the end of a few moments the people were surging toward the doors, excited and nervous, but orderly.

No One Hurt.

As soon as the smoke cleared away a hasty examination showed that nobody had been hurt in the crush, and, furthermore, that no one had been wounded by the explosion. Calm was gradually restored and people returned to view the extent of the damage.

It was discovered that the bomb had been placed under a scaffolding which had been erected to facilitate repairs to the roof exactly over the celebrated tomb of Clement XIII., by Canova.

Pope Hears Report.

The Pope was engaged in his regular noon hours devotions when the bomb went off. He heard a muffled sound, which surprised, but did not alarm him. Monsignor Misciatelli, sub prefect of the apostolic palaces, and Monsignor Bisleti, major domo of the Vatican, at once hurriedly entered the pontiff's chamber. They were so pale that the Pope immediately asked: "What has happened?"

"Do not be alarmed, Holy Father," was the answer, "a bomb has exploded in the basilica, but fortunately there are no deaths to deplore, and no one has been wounded."

The pontiff asked anxiously if the church had been injured. On being reassured he fell on his knees, saying he must implore mercy for the misguided perpetrator of the deed.

A three days' service of praise will be celebrated in all the churches in expiation of this offence to religion.

Third Outrage.

This bomb explosion makes the third anarchist outrage in Italy in four days, the other two being the murder of Prof. Rossi in Naples Saturday, and the explosion of a bomb in front of the cafe Aragno in this city on Nov. 14.

GRAND TRUNK WRECK.

Four People Injured, Two Seriously, In Derailment At Georgetown.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Four people were injured, two of them seriously—four cars were derailed and the front of one locomotive was considerably smashed up in a wreck on the Grand Trunk at Georgetown at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. The damage is estimated at between three and four thousand dollars.

Conductor John Armstrong, Allandale, and Brakeman H. Scheever, Allandale, of No. 83, were seriously injured and taken to the Guelph Hospital. Brakeman Fred Peters, Stratford, and Fireman R. Muirhead, Stratford, received slight cuts and bruises.

Brakeman Killed Near Meaford.

Meaford, Nov. 19.—Frank Coleman, a brakeman on a Grand Trunk freight train, was instantly killed by striking his head on an overhead railroad bridge on the old line of the Grand Trunk here about 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Deceased was about 24 years of age and an Englishman, the only relative in this country being an uncle living in Bracebridge.

ELECT THE UNIONIST.

North Armagh Turns Down Independent Orangeman.

Dublin, Nov. 19.—W. Moore, Unionist, formerly member of Parliament for North Antrim, is elected to represent North Armagh by a majority of 2,796 over Mr. Crawford, Independent Orangeman. Mr. Moore succeeds the late Col. Edward James Saunderson.

HOPE IS ABANDONED; NO SETTLEMENT

Hamilton Street Car Strike Looks Like Long Fight.

DISTURBANCE ON SUNDAY

Rotten Eggs and Stones Thrown at the Cars—Rail Placed Across Tracks, and Mob Chases Cars Into Barns—Forty Police Disperses Gathering — Another Request for Militia Refused by Mayor.

Hamilton, Nov. 19.—With the withdrawal of the Ontario railway and municipal board Saturday evening, all hope of settlement of the street car strike has been abandoned for the present.

The company yesterday notified Mayor Bigger that it would start its cars out at 8 o'clock Monday morning. The mayor told the company that it would do so at its own risk, as the police had to have a little rest and they could not be on duty again until 10 o'clock.

The company also made another demand for the calling out of the militia. The mayor again refused to do so. The company says that it will insist upon the soldiers being called out, and will probably apply to Judge Snider.

In spite of what the mayor told the company, the policemen said last night that they had been called out for 8 o'clock in the morning.

Although the cars were not molested much since last Monday, the disorders were renewed yesterday, and the cars were chased into the barns. Near the corner of Locke and King streets a rail was placed across the tracks and spikes were thrown along the York street tracks.

The cars started out about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and ran until they were chased in at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rotten eggs and stones were thrown at a car near the corner of James and Main streets.

The strike-breakers and detectives, ten in number, armed with clubs, stopped the car, stepped off, and, with vile epithets, dared the crowd to come on. The detectives tried to catch those who had thrown the missles, but the guilty ones were swallowed up in the crowd of about 2,000 that, quickly collected. The leader of the strike-breakers dashed up to the scene in a buggy and ordered his men to get back on the car and take it out of the crowd. The whole police reserve of forty men was called out to disperse the gathering.

Jack O'Connor, Harriet street, 19 years of age, was arrested on the charge of throwing a brick through a car window. The alleged offence was committed in front of the city hall.

FILL TOWNSHIPS RAPIDLY.

Veterans Take Advantage of Government's Land Grants.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The three townships in the district of Algoma, Carnegie, Hoyle and Murphy, which were set aside a short time ago for occupation under the lands grants to veterans, have been entirely taken up to the number of 440.

The other three townships in Rainy River, Hartman, Revell and Bucke, set aside at the same time, are also nearly fully allotted, and applications are coming in so rapidly that a few days will fill them likewise.

The appropriation of $50,000 for the redemption of land grant certificates having been exhausted, an interim appropriation of $25,000 more has been made, and this also is well on the way to being exhausted.

Prisoner Jumps From Train.

North Bay, Nov. 19.—Donald Ford, arrested for bigamy, whilst being conveyed from Montreal to Brandon, in the custody of Constable Brownlee of the Manitoba police, regained his liberty by jumping from C.P.R. train No. 1 Saturday night, just after leaving North Bay.

Ontario Bank Commission.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The commission to go to New York in connection with the Ontario Bank enquiry will consist of Crown Attorney Corley, Frank Arnoldi, K.C., and Robert McKay, counsel for McGill. They leave in ten days to examine the accounts.

All the Connaughts Coming.

London, Nov. 19.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian Associated Press understands the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia will accompany the duke to Canada who goes as inspector-general of forces, not as a prince of the blood royal on tour.

ECONOMY.

Of course there are other good points about "SURPRISE" Soap besides the way it makes work easy, and one of the best is the economy of it.

"SURPRISE" is a pure, hard soap, and it takes only a little to do a big lot of work. Some people who use it say they don't know which wears the best, the soap or the clothes they wash with it.

And it's just as good for general housework as it is for the laundry; in fact, there is n't a thing washable that can't be cleaned with "SURPRISE" Soap, better, easier, and cheaper than it could be done in any other way.

When this is understood most everybody is surprised that "SURPRISE" costs no more than common soaps.

DEATH OF SENATOR VIDAL.

Was Prominent In Church Work In Sarnia For Years, and He Was An Active Prohibitionist.

Sarnia, Nov. 19.—Hon. Alexander Vidal, a member of the Canadian Senate since 1873, died at his home here yesterday afternoon. He had been failing during the past two months. The funeral will take place on Wednesday.

Hon. Alexander Vidal was born in Berkshire, England, Aug. 4, 1819, being the eldest surviving son of Captain R. E. Vidal, R.N. The Vidal family came originally from Spain, removing to England in the seventeenth century. He was educated at the Royal Mathematical School, Christ's Hospital, London, accompanied his father to Canada in 1834, settling in Sarnia, Ont., the following year. Married, December, 1847, Catherine, eldest daughter of Captain W. E Wright, R.N., of Moore, Lambton County. He practiced the profession of civil engineering from 1843 to 1852, and was manager of the Sarnia branch of the Bank of Upper Canada from 1852 till the failure of that institution in 1866. He held the same position in the service of the Bank of Montreal from that time until 1875, when he resigned.

His Political Career.

At the first general election following Confederation in 1867, he was an unsuccessful candidate against the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie for the House of Commons; again in 1872 he was defeated. He represented the St. Clair division in the legislative council from September, 1863, until the union. He became a Senator at the call of Sir John A. Macdonald, Jan. 15, 1873. He was a man who took a general interest in the affairs of his community. He had been lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian militia, county treasury of Lambton, president of the Y.M.C.A. at Sarnia in 1878. The temperance cause claimed a great deal of his energies in late years, and he was a central figure in the Dominion alliance for the total suppression of the liquor traffic, of which organization he was a past president. Senator Vidal was a member of the Church of England till 1843, when he joined the Presbyterian Church, and has represented the Sarnia Church in the general assembly.

He is survived by four sons and two daughters.

"SAVINGS"

In Harvest time the farmer gather the fruits of his labours and lays by a portion for the winter—the time when all is going out and nothin. coming in. This suggests the opportunity to all wage-earners and others of taking advantage of their "harvest time" (that is their earning period) to lay by a portion of their income for "life's winter" when the earning power ceases and expenses continue.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

ALL LOOKED ALIKE TO PETERBOROUGH TEAM

Some Kind Words for the Peterborough Hockey Team from the Officers of the O. H. A. at the Annual Meeting.

SAY THEY SHOULD DEFEAT SENIORS

In their addresses and reports at the annual meeting of the O.H.A., held in Toronto on Saturday, the president and secretary of the association referred to the splendid record made by the Peterborough hockey team last season, in winning out the Intermediate championship of the association. Referring to the Intermediate series the president said:—

There were thirteen districts in the intermediate series, the group winners being the Brockville Invincibles, Peterborough, Uxbridge, Milton, Welland, Berlin II., Stratford II., Goderich, Alliston, Parry Sound, Sturgeon Falls, Gore Bay and Orangeville. In the second round Alliston, Sturgeon Falls, and Gore Bay defaulted. In the north and east all teams looked alike to the fast Peterborough team, which defeated everything in sight, viz, Brockville Uxbridge, and Parry Sound, in turn. Milton beat Welland, but went under to Berlin, who defeated Orangeville earlier. Goderich won from Stratford and Berlin, but in the finals were defeated by Peterborough, who thereby won the championship.

In the report of the Executive Committee, which was presented by the secretary, Mr. W. A. Hewitt, the following paragraph concerning the intermediate series appears:—

In the intermediate series there were 46 teams competing in the 13 districts. The championship was won by Peterborough, who defeated Goderich in the finals by six goals. The first game was played at Peterborough, the home team winning by 10 to 3. In the return game at Goderich, Goderich won by 5 to 4, so that the Easterners carried off the championship by a total score of 14 to 8. Peterborough played particularly fine hockey, and should have been in the senior ranks, as they were superior to most of the senior teams in the association. The champion teams of the different districts were as follows:—No. 1, Invincibles, Brockville; No. 2, Peterborough; No. 3, Uxbridge; No. 4, Milton; No. 5, Welland; No. 6, Berlin II.; No. 7, Stratford; No. 8, Goderich; No. 9, Alliston; No. 10, Parry Sound; No. 11, Sturgeon Falls; No. 12, Goree Bay; No. 13, Orangeville.

TWO BASKETBALL GAMES ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A Double Header will be Played Again This Week—Deep Interest in the Series of Games.

Two more games in the Y.M.C.A. league will be played on Wednesday night, November 21st, in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium at eight o'clock when the Alerts meet the O.T.C. and at nine the Harriers and Tigers come together. The Tigers are a new team in the league this year, and are playing fast ball. They gave the Alerts a close chase in the first game this season, and expect to make the fast Harriers team go the limit to win. The games this year are attracting great interest and large crowds. Silver collection will be charged.

On Friday night at nine o'clock a postponed game between the Tigers and O.T.C. will be played. No admission will be charged for this game.

RUGBY.

Varsity's defeat by Queen's on Saturday was a big surprise to local followers of the game. The sooner McPherson gets back into the game, the better will be Varsity's chances for the intercollegiate honours.

• • • •

The Tigers will have to play the Intercollegiate champions for the honours and judging by the magnificent playing of all the College teams, they will have to exert themselves more than they did in the Montreal game to win out.

• • • •

It looks as if the title Hogtown should be transferred to Hamilton. Even Toronto would not think of annexing the championship of all three series in the O.R.F.U., as Hamilton apparently will do. It looks as if the Tigers had obtained a corner on rugby players.

• • • •

Argonauts II. were defeated by the Tiger intermediates on Saturday by 23-0. Bluffville seems to be the Oarsmen's hoodoos.

• • • •

Ben. Simpson, according to the Globe was the best man on the field in Saturday's game at Hamilton. That paper says "Simpson was easily the best man on the field. His punts were responsible for most of the scores and his long run in the last period for 60 yards, practically broke Montreal's heart."

BEN SIMPSON'S KICKING WON GAME FOR TIGERS

Local Boy Largely Responsible for Hamilton's Great Victory on Saturday.

The Examiner's forecast of the result of Saturday's big Dominion championship game between the Tigers and Montreal at Hamilton, was correct, the Ambitious city team winning by 11-6, after a hard game in which Dave Tope, the clever Tiger full back had his leg broken. Peterborough shares in the glory inasmuch as Ben Simpson, a local boy, won the game for the Tigers by his magnificent punting. On one occasion he booted the ball 65 yards for a point. Here's to the Tigers and Ben Simpson.

HIGHER PRICES CHARGED FOR SKATING TICKETS

At Port Hope Rink the Price Goes Up 50c—The Reasons Given for the Increased Prices.

The Port Hope Guide of Saturday said:—"It will be noticed that in the advertisement of the Skating and Curling Rink Company, the price of season tickets have been advanced 50c. over last year's prices. One of the directors informed The Guide representative this morning that the prices charged last year were the lowest in the Province and for this reason the increase had been made. We have grave doubts as to the correctness of this statement."

HOCKEY

Now that the Peterborough Club has organized preparations for the season will begin at once. Training quarters will be secured probably at the Y.M.C.A. and the team will proceed at once to get in shape so that they will be ready when Jack Frost presses the button. The matter of securing quarters has been referred to the Executive and they will lose no time in dealing with it.

• • • •

Arrangements will be made early to secure the first game of the season with either McGill or Queen's, probably the latter. The Queen's team generally open the season here and both teams have begun to look upon it as a matter of course. As past president Wasson remarked on Friday:—"The only way we have of trying out our team is to play Queens.

• • • •

A suggestion was made Friday night by a well known local hockey man, that should be favourably received by the O.H.A. It is to the effect that a bank clerk who is transferred by his bank after the 1st of October to another town, should be allowed to play with the town from which he has been moved. This would be sufficient evidence to the O.H.A. that he has not been moved for the purpose of playing hockey. Year after year bank clerks have been barred out of the game through no fault of their own. A measure such as proposed would prevent this state of affairs and at the same time serve the purpose of the O.H.A. in preventing the tourist proposition.

CURLING

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Charlotte street rink parlours.

TURF.

And now that winter is close at hand and winter sports are in the minds of all those interested. It is high time that the turf club was doing something to promote ice-racing this year. Most of the towns interested in this form of sport have arranged dates for such races and it is up to the local turfmen to get busy.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

PAINTING THE TOWN.

One long laugh was the result of the musical hurray, "Painting the Town," which was presented at the Grand on Saturday evening. It was one of the funniest comedies ever seen here, and combining, as it did, elaborate scenic effects and bright and tuneful music, was certainly an ennui antidote. Some of the situations were very exciting and laughable, Leonard and Halliday undoubtedly "caught on" with the audience. The opening song, "All Aboard," was very good, as was "Moon Dear." In fact the music was all rather catchy. Mazie King, as a soubrette, pleased the audience throughout, but especially in "La Dance des Harlequines." The last act was perhaps the best.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 19.—Compared to previous sessions, the stock market boiled with bullishness to-day, and notwithstanding heavy speculative realizing, it was well sustained, with an increase of outside buying and by the increased pool activities in specialties, which policy is likely to continue with recessions brought about by the occasional overweight of stocks, but with the best policy that of buying the standard issues whenever sott.

The whole list was broad, and, with the lone exception of Smelters, enjoyed good advances. The features were St. Paul, C.P.R., U.P., Copper, Reading, Atchison, and New York Central.

In the last hour the call rate was run up to 9 per cent., which brought about quite a reaction, closing the market under the best of the day. We advise the purchase of S.P., B. & O., Steel common, and Copper, believing they will sell materially higher.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARCELLUS O'DETTE.

A very sudden death was that of Mrs. Marcellus O'Dette, who died this morning at 10 o'clock after a very short illness. Deceased was 74 years of age and was born at Gatineau, Point, below Ottawa. She had enjoyed the best of health until Friday, when she was taken suddenly ill with paralysis, which caused her untimely demise this morning. She was married 52 years ago at the place of her birth to Marcellus O'Dette, who predeceased her two years ago. Together they moved to Peterborough about 40 years ago, and had lived here ever since, residing for a long time in the southeastern part of the city, where they were widely known.

Their children who are still living are John A., Chicago; John Baptiste, Peterborough; Mrs. G. B. Cullen, Columbia, Pa.; and Mrs. Wm. O'Brien, Waterford street, with whom the deceased had been living.

As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

STOMACH TROUBLES

To wrong action of the stomach and impaired digestion a host of diseases owe their origin.

When the food is imperfectly digested the full benefit is not derived from it by the body, and then stomach troubles start to appear.

Thus you become thin, weak, nervous and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snap and vigor are lost and in their place come dullness, dizziness, loss of appetite, depression and langour. The great point is to get the stomach back into good shape again so it can properly digest the food, and the easiest, quickest and best way to do it is by the use of

Miss Lizzie Furlotte, Jacquet River, N.B., writes: "I was very much troubled with my stomach and did not know what to do. I consulted several doctors, got medicine from them, but all to no purpose, and was constantly growing worse. One day I had the good luck to meet with a friend who had been troubled in the same way as myself. My friend told me of the wonderful cure Burdock Blood Bitters had made with her and advised me to try a bottle. I did so, and what a happy change the first bottle made. I took two more and am completely cured, and I shall ever sing the praises of B.B.B."

Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

MANY CANDIDATES WERE CONFIRMED BY BISHOP

Solemn and Impressive Ceremony at All Saints' Church Last Night—Edifice Crowded to the Doors.

SPLENDID ADDRESS BY HIS LORDSHIP

The beautiful and solemn ceremony of confirmation was performed at All Saints' church last evening, when twenty-five candidates were confirmed by His Lordship Bishop Sweatman, of Toronto.

A very large congregation was present, including many friends and relatives of the candidates; so large indeed was the attendance that the accommodation of the church was severely taxed, many having to sit in the chancel and vestry. The congregation, as well as those who were confirmed, seemed to enter into the true spirit of the occasion, and the services throughout were of a most impressive character.

The candidates entered the church in a body just before the service commenced, and occupied the front pews. After shortened evening prayer, His Lordship delivered a most inspiring address, which could not fail to have a good influence upon those who were to make the ratification of their baptismal vows.

Soldiers of Christ.

In beginning he informed the candidates that they were to be soldiers of Christ, and as such should not be ashamed to confess Him and bravely fight under His banner. They were being called to a life-long warfare, and to a fighting church, the church militant. There were three principal foes which they would have to fight — the world, the flesh, and the devil. Of these, he regarded the world as the worst. If the flesh carried, it was usually through the world. They were to constantly fight against the world.

On first thoughts, this seemed very natural. They had to live their lives in the world; God had placed them there. But they were to remember that the world was not the same as when created by God. Sin had entered into it, and marred it. Sometimes the world was taken to mean the very symbol of everything that was hateful. It was not the material earth that was referred to, but the spirit and temper of the world. It might seem an invisible foe—an unreality—but there was nothing so real as the conflict with the world. As they tread the footsteps of Jesus Christ, and tried to follow His example, they would find themselves in conflict with the opposition of the world. Many people knew nothing of that conflict. They swam with the tide.

Dangers of the World

His Lordship passed on to discuss some of the dangers of the world. In the first place it was hard to understand the world as a foe. It approached with the smiles of a friend, and with all the blandishments of a lover, but under the surface their deadliest and most secret foe. The world would always seek to capture their heart and affections.

There were two obvious ways in which the world sought to do this. The first was through its pleasures. Harmless recreation was a necessity, and His Lordship stated that he was not going to suggest that they make a catalogue of those pleasures which it was harmful to indulge in. A better way was to watch their hearts, and see whether indulgence in pleasure, however harmless, had the effect of making them dislike holy things. They were to be on guard, and declare war against the love of the world.

The world seeks to obtain a hold, not only through its pleasures, but also through its business. People are called upon to make a living in the world, some for themselves and households. There was a danger that they would become so engrossed with the cares and business of life, as to forget, and to have no time for religious duties. The speaker instanced the care of Martha, whose work prevented her from sitting at the feet of her Lord, as did her sister.

The Cost of Service

They had also to guard against the fear of the world, the talk, and the sneer. Those who bore the cross had to expect contempt from the world. The cross and the scorn and sneer were daily antagonists. They would have to fight against this fear; many a cowardly renunciation of Christ, many a downward step, had been taken through fear of the world. They were to try to be brave and were never to be driven from a position which they knew was right, nor to a denial of their Master.

They had also to fight against the sorrow of the world. Some of them had not experienced this yet, but they would if their lives were prolonged. The sorrow of the world had a deadly effect upon spiritual life. One could scarcely pick up a newspaper without reading of two incidents of people taking ther own lives. Suicides were nearly always the effect of the unsanctified sin of the world. His Lordship advised the candidates to have grace to resist its influence, and no matter how God called them to suffer, never to lose their faith and trust in Him. The fight was a lasting one; they could never expect to take ease. It was uncompromising, resistance and warfare. They must never expect to lay down their arms.

Help Promised.

His Lordship next referred to the encouragement that was given to the candidates. St. John spoke at length on the subject of overcoming the world. They started the fight with the world uppermost, but might hope that with determined resistance the conditions might be reversed, and they could rise superior to the world, its love, and fear, and sorrow. "Whosoever is born of God overcometh the world." They could become His children by spiritual blood, and might rejoice that as they were born of God they might overcome the world. There was only one thing that could make them them sons and daughters of God, i. e., the possession of the spirit of God within. It should be the concern of their lives to pray that they might continue to enjoy His indwelling spirit.

His Lordship closed his address by referring to the rewards which were promised to him that overcometh. He pointed out that the seven messengers mentioned in Revelation each carried a message of reward to those that overcame.

After the address the ceremony of confirmation was proceeded with, and proved as usual, solemn and impressive. Each candidate came forward for individual confirmation, kneeling before the Bishop.

Those confirmed last night will receive holy communion on Sunday next at the 11 o'clock service.

"UNDERTOW'S" AUTHOR IS WELL KNOWN HERE

Popular Work by Galt Minister Likely to Have Wide Sale in this City—The Story Told.

"THE UNDERTOW." — This is the title of one of the newest copyright books out, and is already classed among the latest selling books of the period. It is the story of a minister, being written by Rev. Mr. Knowles, of Galt, who is familiar to many in Peterborough, he having lectured here, and his father some years ago carried on a dry goods business on George street. "The Undertow" shares the same good qualities which made "St. Cuthbert's" a popular success. It is easily read, warm-hearted: its author has facility indescribing human nature; and his work is thoroughly natural and spontaneous. "The Undertow," as was the case with the author's first novel, is slightly melodramatic. Mr. Knowles' hero is a young minister. Stephen Wishart finds a pretty girl of somewhat remarkable character in distress in London. They both find help from the Salvation Army, the work of which is described at length, with an account of personal interviews with General Booth. Stephen and Hattie are married before his return to Canada. But Stephen, who is called to a charge in Hamilton, conceals the fact of his marriage. His wife joins him and he conveys an impression to his associates that he had married her in New York on her arrival. Afterwards she leaves him, and it is during his search of his wife that his character is redeemed. "The Undertow" is on sale at Stratton's Bookstore.

TICKET AGENTS HAD GREAT TRIP TO THE SOUTH

Peterborough Delegation Returned Home on Saturday Night and Tell of the Tour of the Agents.

MR. W. M'ILROY ELECTED PRESIDENT

Mr. Wm. McIlroy, C. P. R. ticket agent, and Mrs. McIlroy, Mr. W. Bunton, G.T.R. ticket agent and Mr. R. M. Roy returned on Saturday night from the tour and annual meeting of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, which was held this year at Mobile, Alabama. It is significant to note that Peterborough evidently stands high in the eyes of the ticket agents of Canada. For two years the highest honour in the gift of the Association has been given to two Peterborough gentlemen who are, it would seem, as respected and popular with their fellow ticket agents as they are with the citizens of Peterborough, which is saying a good deal. Last year Mr. Bunton was elected President of the Association, and at the meeting this year the same honour was given to Mr. McIlroy.

Most Enjoyable Trip.

The latter when interviewed by the Examiner this morning, stated that the trip had been a most enjoyable one, and was thoroughly appreciated by all. The party numbering 220 including ladies, left Detroit on Wednesday, Nov. 7th, on a special train made up of eight handsome Pullman sleepers. They travelled on the Wabash Railway to St. Louis, where breakfast was taken and several hours' spent in the city. Leaving St. Louis on the Mobile and Ohio Railway, the party went to Cairo, Illinois, for supper. That night they left for Mobile, passing through the country where raged the big storm which recently swept the State of Alabama. The damage done according to Mr. McIlroy was not as great as reported, although the destruction to the trees was dreadful. The trees are mostly pine and are tapped for turpentine about three feet from the ground. This had the effect of weakening them at that point and when the gale swept down upon them they snapp off like pipe stems. The damage at Mobile was not great, although several ships were thrown up on shore.

A Pretty City.

Mobile, according to Mr. McIlroy is a very pretty city of 50,000 people, who could not do enough for the visiting ticket agents. All the clubs in the city were thrown open to the visitors and the freedom of the place was theirs. Their hospitality was fully up to the standard that is looked for among Southern people.

The Annual Meeting.

Here the annual meeting was held at which the retiring president, Mr. Bunton, delivered an address, in which his reference to the hospitality of the people of Mobile was warmly received. At this meeting, too, Mr. McIlroy was elected President of the Association. One of the amusements provided at Mobile was a street car ride which gave the visitors an opportunity to see the many beauties of the city.

Stopped at Pass Christian.

The party left Mobile on Sunday night for New Orleans on the Louisville and Nashville Railway, stopping at Pass Christian, Alabama, en route. This is a well known pleasure resort, situated on the Gulf and is a most beautiful place. Here the party found roses and other descriptions of flowers in bloom everywhere. Pass Christian is noted for its oyster fisheries and the party were given an opportunity to see the many oyster smacks at their work of gathering the bivalues. The smacks are allowed to drift slowly where the beds are dragged in search of the oysters. Some very beautiful drives are found at Mobile, the roads being lined by magnificent oak trees of great age, which bear scarcely any resemblance to our northern oaks, being covered with moss.

New Orleans Visit.

That night the party went on to New Orleans, where the entire collection of visitors were quartered at the new St. Charles Hotel, a magnificent hostelrie. On Monday morning a reception was tendered the visitors by the Mayor of New Orleans, who extended to them the freedom of the city. The afternoon's programme included a street car ride around the city, stopping at many places en route. In the evening the entire party were treated to an excellent band concert at Brooks' Palm Gardens, where the famous Brooks Band, numbering sixty musicians, rendered a most enjoyable programme.

Impressions of the City.

Tuesday morning was left open, most of the visitors taking advantage of the opportunity to make shopping tours around the city. Canal street, the magnificent business thoroughfare of New Orleans attracted much attention. The street is three times as wide as George street and not less than seven street car tracks. Every street car in the city, after traversing its line, has to come to Canal street, so that one could not get lost in New Orleans if he remained on a car, as he must eventually get back to the central street. It is on this street that the famous Mardi Gras Carnival is held, and on those occasions all street cars and vehicles are barred from the street.

The climate of New Orleans was a pleasant surprise to the visitors. On the day the thermometer registered 85 degrees, and the next morning the weather was as good as that which we are enjoying in Canada just now.

A Sugar Plantation.

On Tuesday afternoon a large revenue cutter was placed at the disposal of the party, who were taken eighteen miles down the Mississippi to visit a sugar plantation, an experience that was greatly enjoyed by the Canadians. Here they saw the sugar cane being brought in from the fields, placed in carriers, taken into the sugar mill and then come out in the form of granulated sugar. Luncheon was served on board the cutter, after which the party returned to New Orleans at 6 o'clock.

Off for the North.

After a farewell supper at the St. Charles Hotel, the ticket agents left New Orleans for their return journey to the north at 9 o'clock. On Wednesday morning some hours were spent at Birmingham, Alabama, the great iron-producing centre of the United States. Twenty years ago Birmingham was nothing but a cornfield; now, with its suburbs, it has a population of 100,000 people. Coal and iron are found there, it would seem, in unlimited quantities.

Lookout Mountain Visited.

The next stop was made at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and proved one of the most interesting visits of the trip. This is one of the noted battlefield of the Civil War, and here was waged the famous battle of Lookout Mountain. The party were taken to the top of the mountain on an inclined railway and had supper at Lookout Inn. The mountain is 2,300 feet above the level and the party found themselves up among the clouds.

Spent Day at Cincinnati.

Leaving Chatanooga at 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, the Canadians reached Cincinnati Thursday morning and spent the day sight-seeing there. Detroit was reached at 8.30 a.m. on Friday morning, and the party dispersed for their respective homes. They had thoroughly enjoyed their trip, but at the same time were thoroughly convinced that there is no place on earth like Canada.

A Great Trip.

Mr. W. Bunton, the [illegible] ticket agent, stated to the Examiner that the outing was a most successful one and had been greatly enjoyed by every member of the association.

SOME RECENT CHANGES IN G. T. R. CONDUCTORS

Mr. Mercer Now Conductor on Toronto Flyer—Mr. G. H. Adams in Charge of Toronto Mixed—Mr. McMullen at Allandale.

Some changes have recently been made in conductors on the G. T. R. branches from this city. Mr. Walter Mercer, formerly of Lindsay, but well known in the city, has taken the conductorship of trains No. 18 and 19, known as the Toronto Flyer. Conductor Daniel McMillan, formerly of this train, has gone to Allandale to act in the capacity of instructor of rules there.

Mr. Geo. H. Adams has taken charge of No. 27, the Toronto mixed.

OVERCOATS

The Overcoat is the distinguishing feature of a man's attire.

It proclaims him careful or careless of his dress, and it is always the thermometer of his wardrobe.

If there is one thing in which we excel it is Overcoats.

Nothing but the best makers' best productions are good enough for us, and even then, the Coats must be made to conform to our ideas.

It seems almost useless to quote a price on an Overcoat, without showing the coat at the price.

The price means nothing, while the Coat means everything.

WE HAVE THEM

in styles to suit the tastes of the most particular dressers. From the neat, shapely french-back to the extremely stylish Paddock and for the more conservative fellow we have the Long Overcoat with the vent in the back and cut with a little more shape than last year's coat.

We are showing a very pretty line of Knitted Vests, most suitable for Fall and Winter wear, and at moderate prices.

RAN ACROSS ICE AND CAUGHT LILY

Harwood Man made a Daring Dash for Departing Water Lily at Rice Lake on Saturdry.

An event which probably has never been duplicated in these parts is reported to have happened at Harwood on Saturday morning. The steamer Water Lily was leaving the wharf on its regular Saturday trip for Peterborough. The usual quota of farmers were on board and the boat had made about fifty yards into the lake. It was partly armoured to assist in breaking ice which had formed over the whole lake. The vessel was rather slowly advancing when a young farmer rushed down on the wharf only to find the boat gone and he a few minutes late. The boat could not turn around and would have had to back up the whole distance. Someone on the Lily, however, shouted out to run across the ice. The farmer hesitated for only a second and getting a good start on the land he dashed over the sixty or some odd yards and reached the boat and safely climbed on board. The passengers hardly realized what had happened and gazed in wonder at the ice the young man had covered. They had never heard of such an event, much less witnessing it. It was a very venturesome feat and might easily have ended less fortunately.

A Friend Told Me About Bu-Ju

THE GENTLE KIDNEY CURE

Hundreds of people, who have been cured of Kidney Trouble by Bu-Ju, were first induced to try this wonderful remedy by friends who had themselves been cured. The sales of Bu-Ju are daily increasing, because everyone who takes them is benefitted—and these in turn, tell others. So the good news is spread.

Here is what a Pictou man says about Bu-Ju :—

"I have used Bu-Ju with great benefit to myself, and cheerfully recommend to all who, I think, are suffering from Kidney Troubles and Rheumatism.

"I think Bu-Ju the best remedy made."

Yours sincerely,
JAMES MILLS.

HAD NOT SEEN EACH OTHER FOR ALMOST 40 YEARS

Mr. Malcolm Isbister Travels Thousands of Miles Around the World to Visit His Brother in Peteeborough.

VISITOR FROM FAR AWAY NEW ZEALAND

Mr. Jacob Isbister, 200 London street, has been enjoying a visit from his brother, Mr. Malcolm Isbister. That does not seem to be a remarkable statement, but there are a number of rather unique circumstances in connection with Mr. Isbister's visit that makes it of more than ordinary interest. In the first place, the two brothers have not seen each other for nearly forty years, and, in the second, Mr. Malcolm Isbister has travelled many thousands of miles to see his brother in Canada.

From Far New Zealand.

His home is in the land of the Southern Cross, to be exact, in the far-away island of New Zealand. Here he has lived for 25 years, and, therefore, may be expected to speak fluently and intelligently of the existing conditions in that country. Such an Examiner reporter found to be the case when he called upon Mr. Isbister yesterday, at the home of his brother. The visitor from the southern seas talked of his home in the south and of his long journey to reach his home in Scotland, and then to visit his brother, in a most interesting manner.

Good Country for Young Men.

Speaking of New Zealand, he said that as far as he had been able to learn, there was no better country in the world for a young man to settle. There were plenty of opportunities for young men there in every walk of life. This was Mr. Isbister's first visit to Canada, and he was greatly struck with its resemblance to New Zealand. The Land of the Maple Leaf was more like the southern island, than any other country he had encountered in his travels, in its climate, as well as in other features. The weather which we are enjoying in Canada just now is very similar to that of New Zealand in its winter season. The summer in the south however is rather warmer than that of Canada, the thermometer often ranging as high as 90 or 95 degrees, while in some sections it has gone to 100 degrees.

Mr. Isbister is a native of the Orkneys, the island group situated at the north of Scotland, and went to New Zealand twenty-eight years ago, settling at Central Otago in the township of Ophir. He is a carpenter and a joiner by trade and has been very successful in the southern country, where he now owns several large farms. These are worked by men in Mr. Isbister's employ, while he devotes his attention to the cares of his business in Otago. He reached New Zealand just at the close of the wars between the Maiori, the native inhabitants of the country, and the incoming English. Of the natives Mr. Isbister speaks in terms of the highest praise. They are very intelligent, and have quickly become civilized. "The Maiori," said Mr. Isbister, "are the best race of blackmen ever discovered, and do not give the slightest trouble."

In reference to the government of New Zealand, Mr. Isbister stated that he believed that the form of government found there was the most advanced of any in the world. Municipal and government ownership were the principal features.

Speaking of Canada he stated that he had been most favourably impressed by the general conditions of the country, and in this respect he was inclined to compare them with those of his own country. One thing he stated he had been forcibly struck by was the comparative absence of policemen from the streets of Canadian towns. This was different from New Zealand.

A Long Journey.

As has been stated, Mr. Isbister's journey was a long one. He left Wellington, New Zealand, on the 23rd of July last, and with the exception of one month he has been travelling ever since. He was nine weeks on the boat on which he embarked from the southern island. This was the steamer, "Oswestryring," belonging to an Australian steamship company. He spent a month in the Orkneys, visiting his home there. Then he set sail across the Atlantic, to pay a brief visit to his brother in this city, whom he has not seen for forty years, during which period Mr. Isbister has been in Canada. Sailing from Wellington Mr. Isbister rounded Cape Horn, passing through the Straits of Magellan, and visiting the southermost places of the world. Stops were made at Monte Video, in the Argentine Republic, and other South American ports on the Atlantic coast.

Circuit of the Globe.

Mr. Isbister arrived in Peterborough on Tuesday of last week, and left last night, so that his visit was but a brief one, in view of the long journey he had to undergo. He spent several days in Lakefield with one of his sisters, Mrs. James Pidgath, whom he has not seen for nearly four decades, besides visiting Mrs. Pidgath will meet Mr. Isbister in Toronto, for which city he left yesterday on the C. P. R. train.

He will return home by another route, crossing Canada and sailing from Vancouver. When [illegible] this trip is completed, he will practically make a complete circuit of the world,

TRAVELLER LIKES THE STEAM HEAT

W. S. Laughton Tells of Its Operations in Lockport—Says It works well There so Far as He Knows.

Mr. W. S. Laughton, who travels for the Hudson Bay Knitting Company, of Montreal was in the city, yesterday, on business for his company, and may decide to make his headquarters here in future. Mr. Laughton travels over the territory east of Toronto, to Ottawa, and believes that Peterborough would be the most desirable place for him to make his home to cover the district mentioned. As a result it is understood that he will locate here and will handle his business from this city. Before coming to Canada this time, Mr. Laughton, who is, however, a Canadian, having been born and raised in this country, lived in Lockport, N.Y., in which city the firm he travelled for had its factory, and he is an enthusiastic believer in the benefits of the central heating system, proposed to be established in this city, and stated to the Examiner that in the factory owned by the firm for which he was employed it was used and gave good satisfaction, the heating being always ready when it was required and the annoyances incidental to furnaces were obviated.

He was of the opinion that Peterborough would not regret having given the system a trial, in case satisfactory arrangements could be made.

A HEAVY SEASON'S CUT OF LUMBER

Cavendish Co's Mills at Lakefield Closed After Most Successful Season's Operations.

On Saturday night the Cavandish Lumber Company closed their mills at Lakefield for the season, the first that these mills have been operated by this company, and the season has been a most successful one, the cut of lumber being very large, and work has been carried on with singularly few mishaps, the mills running very smoothly. The cut of logs this winter will, it is expected considerably exceed that of any former year in the history of this company or its predecessor, and consequently it is expected that the net season's work in the mills will be more extensive than it has been during the past season.

PORT HOPE PIONEER DIED IN HARNESS

Late John Harcourt Passed Away There Suddenly Yesterday—Was Highly Respected Resident.

Port Hope, Nov. 19.—After a lingering illness, Mr. John Harcourt, one of Port Hope's pioneers and most respected citizens, passed away last night in his 82nd year. Deceased was born at Armagh County, Ireland, and with his parents settled in Hope township, near Port Hope, in 1831. For the past 38 years he resided in Port Hope and had charge of the Government Weather Signal Service. He was the oldest member of Home Circle No. 4. In politics he was a Conservative. He attended St. John's Episcopal Church. In 1849 he was married to Miss Margaret McCluskey, of Hope township, by whom he is survived, together with six sons, Joseph, Cobourg; Matthew, Detroit; George and Richard, C.P.R., Toronto; John V., Grand Trunk agent, Port Hope, and Will J., Detroit, and three daughters, Mrs. W. Kerr, Cobourg; Mrs. E. T. Hamly, Port Hope, and Miss Margaret, at home.

COL. SANDERSON AND HIS LIKING FOR A FIGHT

He Loved It for the Fight's Sake—Interesting Stories of Life of Man for Whom Local Orange Lodge was Called.

HIS PARLIAMENTARY CAREER MARKED

Col. Sanderson, after whom the Orange Lodge of that name, in Otonabee was called, was, in his lifetime, a decidedly interesting character, as the following despatch, giving incidents in his eventful life, will show:

Colonel Sanderson—the title came from his early associations with the North Cork militia, and stuck to him through life—was one of the liveliest men in Parliament. His name will be associated with the Home Rule agitation at its most interesting period. He fought when others would have compromised. His strong voice touched with brogue, long arms, and tall, spare frame were ever at the service of the House when the cause of the landlords required a champion. And he never minced his words.

"That reminds me," he once said, "of an incident with Mr. McKadyen. I called him a ruffian. I was asked to withdraw. I replied, 'Well, I will modify it. I will call him a murderous ruffian.' The scene that followed beggared the zoological gardens. I ultimately compromised matters by saying that Mr. McKadyen was an excited politician."

At the back of the bitterest things he said against his opponents was the sense that he was fighting for the love of it, seeing a head and cracking it like a typical Irishman.

It was in August, 1880, that Colonel Sanderson invented a phrase which stuck for a long time in the throats of the Irish party. Twice called to order by the speaker, he managed to crap out his belief that the probable government of Ireland under Mr. Gladstone's act would be "government by jail-birds." Mr. Davitt having said that it would be completely in the hands of the suspects whom Mr. Forster locked up in 1881.

But the Irish were not the only victims of his rapier-like thrusts. He once caused a storm of dissent and cries of "Withdraw" and "Shame" by saying that he wished Mr. Gladstone in a "higher sphere." When the interruptions had ceased, the colonel blandly explained that he referred not to heaven, but to the House of Lords.

Apart from his Parliamentary career, which began as early as 1865, Colonel Sanderson was a man of varied attainments. He could paint a picture and sail a boat, and build a craft, too. As a certificated member of the Institute of Naval Architects, he would boast with laudable pride that he could lay down and construct a full-rigged ship. In 1897 he made and presented to the Kaiser a model of his own yacht, the Afreeta, which had beaten two yachts constructed by Watson for the German Emperor.

BLACK BURGLAR WHO PREYS UPON WOMEN

Detroit Police are After a Housebreaker who Has Persistently Caused Trouble.

(Examiner Special.)

Detroit, Nov. 19.—Detectives are scouring the city for a big negro who has created a reign of terror among certain houses on both the east and west sides. He is described as being tall and heavy, with lowering features and a short mustache. At one place he is said to have beaten a girl in the endeavour to rob her of a pair of diamond earrings, while at Annie Burgess' house, 86 Second street, he was only frightened away Wednesday night by Mrs. Burgess' screams for help.

Late Wednesday night, Irene Davis, a boarder at Mrs. Stewart's, of First street, reported to the police that her room was entered early in the evening while she was taking a bath and jewels to the value of $372 stolen. Among the articles reported missing are solitaire diamond ring, value $150; enamelled and diamond ring, $100; opal and diamond ring, $35; plain band ring, $7; bracelet, $30; locket and chain set with diamonds $50. Her purse containing a gold watch and $25 in bills lay on the dresser in a small box near her jewelry, but in his hurry the thief overlooked it.

It is thought that the burglar gained entrance to this place by climbing on the roof of an adjoining building, forcing a window and unlocking the door back. Detectives Brooks and [illegible] handling the case, found a sheet [illegible] this morning in the [illegible] of First street, and [illegible] sheet iron bar that had been [illegible] in forcing the window screen. Several of the [illegible] have been visited by the robber and in one or two instances he was [illegible] from the premises before his [illegible] when threatened with [illegible] silver.

PULLMAN PROFITS GAIN ENORMOUSLY

Stockholders' Earnings in Eight Years 434 Per Cent. of Principal.

(Examiner Special.)

Chicago, Nov. 19. — With Corporation Counsel Lewis bombarding them with demands for the payment of $5,000,000 in alleged evaded taxes the stockholders of the Pullman Company met in Chicago yesterday and quietly sliced up a $26,000,000 stock "melon." It was voted to capitalize that amount of the company's $27,000,000 surplus and to issue the stock to the stockholders without cost, thus bringing the total capital of the company up to $100,000,000.

This free stock distribution is equal to 36 per cent. of the present outstanding capital, which amount to $74,000,000.

The city's demand for taxes consisted of a formal notice served on the stockholders that they will be liable individually for their shares of the assessment which Colonel Lewis is endeavouring to induce the board of equalizers to impose on the $26,000,000.

Expressed in percentages the cash received in eight years has been equal to 116.44 per cent. of the principal. The market value of the gift stock has been equal to an additional 317.77 per cent., or a total of 434.21 per cent. in eight years. This is an average of 54.27 per annum.

CHEESE FACTORIES INSTAL COOL, CURING ROOMS

Mr. Publow Says Quality of Canadian Cheese This Year Was Best in History — Due to Interest of Patrons.

The Canadian Dairyman in its last issue says:—Chief Dairy Instructor G. G. Publow visited Peterborough recently and drove out to inspect Central Smith factory which has been installing a splendid cool curing room. Mr. Chittick, of Trewern, also is installing a curing room. Mr. Publow stated that the cheese exported from Canada this year has been better in quality than ever before. Very few have been rejected. He believes that this is due in a large measure to the increased interest taken by makers and patrons in the improvement of their factories. The quantity of cheese made this year has been somewhat less than last owing to the dry weather.

The Samaritans

By C. B. LEWIS

Miss Duella Mims, as her cards read, was an elocutionist and quite willing to help others over the same road for pay. So long as her ambition was kept within bounds and her prices were not too steep her native town of 5,000 inhabitants supplied a fair number of pupils, and the local press now and then referred to her in a way that was pleasing.

One unfortunate day Miss Mims decided that elocution such as hers should have no limits. The village boys who fell into the frog pond decided that if it was good for him it ought to be good for the whole United States. Miss Mims reasoned after the same fashion. She collected her bills, packed her trunk and set out for the metropolis, and never was a young woman more sanguine.

In a week she was surprised. In a month she was tired. In two months she had decided to drop elocution and look for a place as a typist and stenographer. Her mind was fully made up on this point, and yet she could not let go of elocution with a bang. She must part from it by degrees and make the parting less painful.

Miss Mims sat at the open window of her boarding house and dallied with elocution. In her well modulated voice she went over three or four of her choicest gems and then brought out "The Wanderer."

She had always made a hit in this. It was about a lovely girl who left her village home for a great city, and after using up all her money and pawning everything that her uncle would advance on she committed suicide, and the landlady found her dead when she went in to collect her week's rent in advance.

In elocuting this pathetic appeal Miss Mims had to simulate discouragement, sorrow, grief, appeal, resignation and several other things calculated to arouse human interest, and she had an audience without knowing it.

On the floor above was a young man who had been in the boarding house almost as long as she had, but they had not been introduced and had taken very little interest in each other. He was the audience on this night. Miss Mims' voice floated up to him, and he listened and became interested. Gradually he found his sympathies aroused. From what he could make out she was clean discouraged and ready for the deadly fumes of charcoal. She was even hungry for food at that moment, and there was no one in the great city to whom she could turn.

The young man was deeply affected. Here was a case right under his nose where sympathy and cash were required, and only that evening he had dodged the landlady when he came in. He was perturbed and upset for a few minutes, but finally reasoned it out that if the poor girl stuck to her programme and died it would save her being disappointed in love in the future.

When a long silence had followed her tearful appeal to heaven he brought out a manuscript and began to read aloud. He was no elocutionist. He might have been one had he not become a dramatist at an early age. The manuscript in his hands was a play written by himself. It is needless to give it a name, but it may be said to have been pathetic. It had a hero, and the hero went through trouble enough to swamp a canal boat within five miles of Troy. He kept hoping and hoping, but it was no use. As soon as he came in sight of a good thing it vanished. He hung on and hung on until the beef trust made its last raise, and then he starved to death with the same dignity that he had lived.

What the dramatist was reading was the soliloquy of the hero when he had abandoned all hope and decided that mince pie was no longer for him. The reverie of the elocutionist below was broken by his reading and raving. She listened, and tears of pity came to her eyes. She had thought the world was harsh to her, but here was a worse case than hers. She hadn't gone hungry yet, but here was a young man literally starving to death. She had heard him say that even the mice had abandoned his room and that, unable to find another morsel of food, the cricket no longer sang for him.

Miss Mims did what a practical young woman should do under the circumstances. The hour was not late, and she put on her hat and went downstairs and hunted up a delicatessen store and bought some smoked tongue and crackers. These would keep the spark of life in the young man over night, and next day things might turn for the better with him.

When the dramatist had concluded reading his hero's soliloquy—it was the millionth reading—his thoughts turned once more to the young woman below. He still had a couple of dollars left and he could not see her die for want of sustenance. In handing in the sustenance he would also hand in his sympathies and encouragement. If he found her obstinately determined to die he might even promise her a leading part in his comedy drama when it was finally put on the road.

He did the only sensible thing he had done since he spelled down a country school and got the idea therefrom that he was born for a dramatist. He put on his hat and went down and went to a saloon. He bought a bottle of beer and from the remains of the free lunch he gathered up some cheese and pretzels. Beer, cheese and pretzels, as he had read in a medical magazine, will keep a young woman alive for a whole week after she has determined to die.

The two Samaritans did not happen to meet at the door of the boarding house or on the stairs. They went to their rooms for a moment and then emerged on the errand of mercy. They met in the lower hall. The dramatist was the first to speak.

"My dear Miss Mims—you see I have heard your name," he began—"I have learned quite by accident that you are in a bit of trouble and need a friend. I have here some beer and cheese and pretzels, and if you could manage to make them do for a lunch this evening we will talk matters over in the morning."

"You—you are also in trouble, I learn," she stammered in reply. "I have some smoked tongue and crackers here, and if you can get along with them this evening"—

"My dear Miss Mims"—

"My dear Mr. Davis"—

"You surely don't think I'm starving?"

"And you can't think I have fasted all day?"

They sat down on the stairs and compared notes and soon got at the right of things and then sat down on the window seat at the end of the hall and formed the two lunches into a trust. As they ate and drank they learned each other's history. When they had finished she asked:

"How long have you been trying to place your play before the public?"

"Five years," he sighed. "How long have you been trying to get the people of this town to elocute?"

"Two months," and she sighed as well.

"Miss Mims," said the dramatist as he sought to take her hand, "I have known you but a brief half hour, but during that time"—

"Yes!"

Then the landlady appeared and said that altogether too much gas was being used throughout the house and it must be cut off in the halls; also that it was against the rules of the house to leave cracker crumbs around.

Next morning Miss Mims got a place with a hardware firm, and two days later Mr. Davis was seen bareheaded and with a pencil over his ear in front of a shoe store where they sold manufacturers' samples only—every pair warranted as represented or money refunded. The elocution, the dramatic, the sentiment, were there, and the landlady is expecting an announcement any evening.

Mixed Metaphors.

A minister said to his congregation, "Brethren, the muddy pool of politics was the rock on which I split."

An orator is credited with a peroration in which he spoke of "all ranks from the queen sitting on her throne to the cottager sitting on his cottage."

"My client acted boldly," said the counselor. "He saw the storm brewing in the distance, but he was not dismayed. He took the bull by the horns and had him indicted for perjury."

A Hindoo journalist, commenting on a political disturbance, said, "We cannot, from a distance, realize the intensity of the crisis, but it is a certain thing that many crowned heads must be trembling in their shoes."

An old negro woman whose needs were supplied by friends never failed to express her gratitude in original language: "You is powerful good to a pore ole 'oman like me, wid one foot in de grabe an' de oder a cryin' out. 'Lawd, how long, how long?'"

No one could imagine what a speaker meant when he said, "Biddy, diddy" and then stopped and after a moment of confusion said, "Diddy, biddy," and then, with a scarlet face and coldly perspiring brow, gasped out, "Diddy, biddy, biddy doo?" Then he had to sit down and rest awhile before he could say, "Did he bid adieu?"—Christian Register.

Reason.

Reason, reason as much as you like, but beware of thinking that it answers to everything, suffices for everything, satisfies everything. This mother loses her child. Will reason comfort her? Does cool reason counsel the inspired poet, the heroic warrior, the lover? Reason guides but a small part of many, and that is the least interesting. The rest obey feeling, true or false, and passion, good or bad.

Taking Him Down.

"Crittick was pleased to say that my play had few equals as a bit of realism," remarked young De Biter.

"He said even more than that," said Pepprey.

"Indeed?"

"Yes," he added, "and positively no inferiors."—Exchange.

CDD COURTS MARTIAL.

Solemn Farces That Have Been Enacted in the British Navy.

It is a rule in the British navy that when a ship is cast away or otherwise lost a court martial must sit in order to apportion the blame. Sometimes these courts really try and condemn those that are held to be responsible. At other times their duties are, from the very nature of the catastrophe, more or less nominal.

Thus, when the Serpent was lost off the Spanish coast, a court martial assembled and solemnly "tried" three ordinary bluejackets, the sole survivors, although they of course had no more to do with the error in navigation which led up to the catastrophe than the man in the moon.

A similar solemn farce was enacted after the loss of the Captain in the bay of Biscay, when 483 officers and men lost their lives. In this case a gunner named James May, one of the eighteen who escaped from the wreck, was the nominal "culprit." The verdict was that the loss of the ship was due to instability and faulty construction. This really amounted to a vote of censure on Mr. Cowper Coles, the designer, but as he went down with the ungainly monster he had created he was beyond the reach of either blame or praise.

On another occasion a small "middy" of thirteen years of age was put upon his trial, and once, it is said, a court martial assembled on a cat, which chanced to be the sole living thing found aboard a derelict frigate.

LIVING SECOND HAND.

It Is Quite a Common Thing In New York City.

Half the people of New York live second hand—that is, they dress second hand, furnish their houses second hand and wear secondhand jewelry.

There are stunning looking young women who wear nothing but Paris gowns all the year round. They cannot afford to go to Paris for such clothing, and they won't have anything that isn't "good style." They dress almost entirely out of the secondhand stores on Sixth and Seventh avenues, where anything from a hat to a pair of silk stockings is offered for sale at a third its original value. They would rather appear a trifle shabby and very effective than brand new and "shoppy."

One woman noted for her "good style" and richness of apparel buys all her frocks at a secondhand establishment and then has them dyed black to make them look new. A little bride who hates that new look which the average bridal suit possesses fitted out her entire apartment through advertisements of sales of secondhand furniture by private parties. Everything from her sideboard to her rugs looks like a family heirloom. There are many articles published in the papers and magazines on "How to Live Well on Nothing a Year," but the New Yorker could write a whole volume on "How to Live Swell on Nothing a Year" if he chose to.

A Queer Fact About Vision.

In the eye itself certain things may go on which give us wrong sensations, which, although not truly illusions, are very much like them. Thus, when we suddenly strike our heads or faces against something in the dark we see "stars," or bright sparks, which we know are not real lights, though they are quite as bright and sparkling as if they were. When we close one eye and look straight ahead at some word or letter in the middle of this page, for example, we seem to see not only the thing we are looking at, but everything else immediately about it and for a long way on each side. But the truth is there is a large round spot somewhere near the point at which we are looking in which we see nothing. Curiously enough, the existence of this blind spot was not discovered by accident, and nobody every suspected it until Mariotte reasoned from the construction of the eyeball that it must exist and proceeded to find it.

Hit It.

"You can't guess what sister said about you just before you came in, Mr. Highcollar," said little Johnnie.

"I haven't an idea in the world, Johnnie."

"That's it. You guessed it the very first time."

For the Man Who Works at a Desk

Not Doctors, But the Right Kind of Food is What He Needs.

You work at a desk and you are shut up in an office all day long, your brain overworked, your body absolutely idle. You get "out of sorts" and your meals don't please you and what you eat doesn't agree with you.

Maybe you think you are sick, but you aren't. You need one of two things—exercise or better food, or both.

It may be impossible for you to get the exercise. It's the easiest thing in the world to get the right kind of food. Ask your grocer for Malta-Vita.

This famous food is the whole of the wheat, thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with finest malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, which quickly converts the starch of the wheat into maltose,—malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort. The malted wheat, rolled into little flakes, is baked under such intense heat that when it comes from the great ovens, every flake is crisp, brown Malta-Vita—the most delicious food in the world. Always ready to eat.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita and it's good three times a day. All grocers sell it. Now 10 cents per package.

NASTURTIUMS.

Lightly lov'd, and coldly nam'd,
By the roses' glory sham'd;
Left, with penury of songs,
To enrich some barren wall,
And receive no thanks at all;

In thy burning loveliness,
I behold the fire and stress
Of that beauty, mix'd with life,
Whence such splendor hath its birth,
Like the fairest things on earth.

Wine-dark petals, amber-freak'd,
Orange cups affus'd and streak'd,
Lin'd with primrose, vein'd with red—
Fitting vessels every one
For the ichor of the sun!

Thou shalt drape the poor man's fence
In thy royal opulence:
And, where roses rarely come,
Filling some dark court with flame,
Have, like them, thy meed of fame.

EPIGRAMS OF ENGLAND.

Dr. Emil Reich Says Chamberlain Is England's Greatest Man.

Society, beautifully begowned, rubbed shoulders with a crowd of students at the Regent street Polytechnic recently, when Dr. Emil Reich delivered the first of a series of lectures on the History of Imperialism, taking as his first subject, "Is Great Britain the Heir of Ancient Rome, of Greece, or of Both?"

The Hungarian philosopher kept the largest audience he has had this year extremely interested. Some of his pregnant epigrams were:

The question has been frequently asked, whether history repeats itself. The answer is that history does not, but historians do.

Had you not had such a neighbor as the French to fight you would have remained puny.

The Romans excelled in one thing, Roman law is like Greek wit; it is finished, it is complete, it is perfect. It settles things in no time.

When law in England becomes so complicated that no judge can decide it, they have recourse to Roman law.

The Romans did not believe in boards. Boards are useless. Committees are farces. The world is not run by virtue, by character, by money, or by value, but by authority.

If a man has no authority he is nowhere.

The Premier is the uncrowned King of England pro tem.

The Americans are all foreigners.

The Liberals are fond of peace with honor, the Greek principle. The Tories are fond of grabbing, the Roman principle.

Strauss and modern German music are a misfortune.

In English music you prefer the pauses.

A very prosperous nation is unmusical.

The man who has no office and no health, Mr. Chamberlain, is the greatest man in this country, one way or another.

The party system is the soul of empire, and as long as England can produce personalities it may do foolish things, but that will not matter.

In brief, Dr. Reich proved that Great Britain is more Roman than Greek.

Jane's Financial Embarrassment

By HELENA SMITH-DAYTON

"Violets!" sniffed June, opening the lavender box with none of the enthusiasm she usually displayed on such occasions. "Of course it never would have occurred to the extravagant unknown admirer to send 50 cents' worth of postage stamps instead!"

Jane glanced toward her desk, where a neat pile of brown envelopes stared her reproachfully in the face.

"An entire week's work held up because the brilliant young writer, Jane Gaylord, lacks the necessary postage!" she groaned. "As it's all timely stuff—and special orders—I may as well destroy it unless it goes today. I may as well give up looking for that check and do something desperate." Jane paced up and down the apartment trying to think of a method to obtain the trifling sum at once.

"Ask your mother for 50 cents to see the elephant jump the fence," she repeated for the hundredth time. The silly jingle refused to be dislodged from her head. "There I go again. If it were only $50 I could hustle around and get it—but 50 cents!" It seemed as if a mocking voice echoed, "To see the elephant jump the fence!"

"Of course," she went on sarcastically, "I might waylay little children and steal the pennies from their moist palms, or I could make these violets into small bunches and sell them on the street corner—flower girl in a tailor suit and Paris hat would be a novelty! There must be some way of raising 50 cents without selling my possessions. I never approved of getting the pawnshop habit—it's hard to shake, once acquired. I don't like to let a little fifty-cents-to-see-the-elephant get the best of me.

"Why, I won't need another penny until my check comes. My board is paid in advance, and before anything is due there'll be lots of checks. But I must have 50 cents to see"—

Jane stopped impatiently, and, as if the narrow confines of her own room were stifling her, she opened the door and stepped into the hall. She paused as voices from the upper landing floated down to her. She always paused when she heard Peter Gleason's deep tones.

"Here's a dollar," he was saying. "Run over to Carter's and buy me three or four magazines. Haven't seen one for a month, so anything you get will be new to me. And you may keep the change, John."

"Thank you, Mr. Gleason," came John's squeaky answer. "I'll be back with 'em in a jiffy." He came down the stairs two at a time.

"John!" called Miss Gaylord softly. "I'm on an errand for Mr. Gleason, but when I get back"—

"Yes, yes! It's about that!" she interrupted. "I want you to do me a particular favor, John. It's all right, but rather unusual. I have some new magazines—the very ones Mr. Gleason would like. I've more than I can read. It would save you a trip out in the storm—the magazines are really just as new as you could buy at the store. Would you—buy them from me?"

It was out at last. Jane never had felt so shy of any one in her life as she did of the astonished little hall boy.

"Sure, Miss Gaylord," he said without hesitation. "I'd do anything for you. It's on the level, ain't it?"

"Yes, John, strictly on the level," she answered, with a little laugh that suggested tears.

"Have 'em ready when I come back," he whispered.

"You are a dear boy!" cried Jane.

She fled back to her room in a panic of nervousness at what she had done. She selected several magazines of recent issue and was back at the door long before the return of the boy.

"If I was back with the books too soon he'd get on to it," was his naive explanation.

"And, John," she pleaded in a voice that shook, "please give him this box of violets. Don't tell him who sent them. But he has been so ill, poor man! You see, it will give good measure for the 50 cents."

John nodded wisely and took his way upward.

"Good boy, John," she heard Gleason say a moment later. "Couldn't have made a better selection myself. Violets too? No name given? You won't tell? Very well if you promised not to, of course."

Back in his study Gleason tossed the violets carelessly on a table already loaded with flowers and took up a magazine eagerly.

"I hope my little Jane has a story in this month," he said, scanning the table of contents. He passed his own name, but Jane's was not there. He took up another, and again was he disappointed, but in the third magazine Jane's name headed the list. He was turning to her story when a sheet of paper fluttered out. On the closely written page his own name caught his eye. Naturally he read every word, though it was obviously part of a letter.

"You remember," it ran, "how I used to rave about Peter Gleason and his work? Strange that he should come to board at Mrs. Stuart's and be taken so ill almost immediately after—and that I should have the privilege of assisting his trained nurse when he was unconscious. Yes, he is all I imagined him—and more. If you must know the worst, I—no. I can't write it to even you, Mollie. But put romantic ideas out of your head, just as your silly old Jane must, for Peter Gleason is indifferent, and I'm very busy, as usual. But"— That was all.

"Bless her!" whispered Peter over and over. "And I thought her too wrapped up in her work to give me a thought. Helped to nurse me, did she? Mirabile, Jane! And she must have sent these magazines—and the violets! And John, the scamp, never told me! But, on the other hand John is such an honest little chap he wouldn't have kept that 50 cents. If he really bought them, how came that letter between the pages of a magazine from Carter's?"

Then in spite of himself a doubt flashed into his mind. Was it a clever ruse—was the letter placed there by design? Peter was not cynical, but there had been so many traps laid for him! Slowly he placed the paper on the coals in the grate and watched it burn.

"If she didn't intend me to see that, it would break her heart if she knew. And when I tell her I love her she might think it was only pity because I had discovered her secret. I won't believe it was a plot, little Jane!"

Two days later a timid tap came at the door of Gleason's study.

"Ja—Miss Gaylord!" he cried enthusiastically. "Why haven't you been up to see an invalid before this? Such rank neglect!" He took her hand and refused to let it go for some moments. "Aren't you sorry?"

"Here's your 50 cents," she began desperately. "My check just came and"— Looking up suddenly, she met his questioning eyes. Recklessly she explained the humiliating details of the transaction. "I would so gladly have given them to you," she ended up, with a scarlet face. "And I shall be very unhappy unless you take the 50 cents."

Peter was radiant. Unconsciously Jane had vindicated herself from suspicion regarding the letter.

"But you sent violets," he reminded.

"I sent the violets along to take the curse off," she admitted, "but some one—I know not who—sent them to me first."

"Merely to take the curse off?" he queried. "Not because you had a little sentiment for the invalid? Then you deserve to be punished with the truth! I sent those violets to you!"

"Oh!" cried Jane, hiding her face. "Oh!"

"But hereafter," he said sternly, "I want the right to furnish your blessed postage stamps!"

"Oh!" murmured Jane.

Wise Ostrich.

The stock illustration of what a fool will do is the habit which ostriches have of sticking the head into the sand, leaving the body exposed, but the author of "The Gold Diggings of Cape Horn" says that this habit does not seem foolish to one who studies the ostrich in its desert home. On the contrary, it is nature's wise provision for the safety of the bird in a region where hiding places are scarce. The male ostrich hatches out the eggs, looks after the brood, keeps his eye open for men, beasts and birds, and sounds a loud snorting, warning call when he sees an enemy. The brood, when warned, fades out of sight. Each chick squats motionless, its head in the sand and its body so near in color to that of the sand and scant herbage as to deceive even an experienced hunter. Its body looks like a gray desert bush, and the gauchos—the cowboys of the pampas—when searching for young ostriches examine every bush within many rods of the spot where a brood disappears. Often what seemed a bush is found to be in part or wholly a young ostrich. With its head up the bird would be at once detected. With its head in the sand it often escapes even the keen eyed fox.

Whistler Tamed a Russian.

When James MacNeill Whistler went to Venice to make those fourteen famous etchings of his he became so intoxicated with its beauty that he made seventy pastels first, leaving his etchings till the last few days. These pastels made a tremendous sensation. All the art world of Venice was carried away with enthusiasm excepting a Russian painter, who declared them tricks, betting a basketful of champagne he could paint six not to be distinguished from them. Mr. Whistler amiably gave some of his paper and six pastels, which were finally mixed up with those by the Russian and submitted to a jury which had seen none of them. Mr. Whistler's pastels were unmistakable, and the Russian lost. A few days later the two met on the Rialto, and Mr. Whistler laughed a little about the bet. The Russian was furious. "You forget, sir," he said, "that I'm a Russian, and if you scratch one you find a Tartar underneath." "Oh, no, you have it wrong," said Mr. Whistler; "you have it wrong. I scratched an artist and found an amateur."—Philadelphia Record.

Written on Glass.

Miss Harriet Auber's beautiful lines, "Our Blessed Redeemer, Ere He Breathed," were written by the authoress on a window pane in her house at Hoddesdon. A dealer in curios tried to purchase this interesting and peculiar manuscript from the owner of the house after the death of Miss Auber in 1862, but he was unsuccessful. The pane of glass was subsequently stolen, and it has never since been found or its fate discovered.

Centuries ago Theodulph, bishop of Orleans, while in prison at Metz composed the hymn, "All Glory, Laud and Honor," which he wrote on the window of his cell. As the usual Palm Sunday procession passed through the town the emperor heard sounds of singing proceeding from the prison. He thereupon liberated the bishop, whose hymn was afterward regularly used on each succeeding Palm Sunday as a processional, the choir taking up each quatrain and the public joining in singing the chorus.

Not Quite a Tempest.

A young gentleman with an unmusical voice insisted upon singing at a social gathering.

"What does he call that?" inquired a disgusted guest.

"'The Tempest,' I think," answered another.

"Don't be alarmed," said an old sea captain present. "That's no tempest. It is only a squall and will soon be over."

If You Wore Them Last Winter This Is No News to You —

"Klingsole" Made for Men and Women

People who wore "Daisy" Rubbers last winter will wear them again this winter, even without reading our ads. For no amount of talk about "Daisy" Rubbers tells so much as a season's wear of the rubbers themselves. The good service they give under the test of every day ruff-scuff hard usage, in all kinds of bad weather,—that's what shows the honesty that backs "Our Daisy" advertising. But even that test doesn't tell why there's double wear in every pair—though it proves there is. It's a simple matter of using toughened honest rubber in the right way, in a factory that's as modern as the idea of honest quality is ancient.

You'll hardly know you've got rubbers on when you wear the Klingsole,—they are so light in weight. But they will outwear common rubbers that are twice as heavy. Klingsole Rubbers don't heat the feet; they can't slip off until you want them off—and then a touch removes them. Made in the right toe shape for the shoes you wear

Trinity and the Land It Occupies Valued at $12,500,000.

Trinity church is valued at $12,500,000. This estimate includes the land occupied by the churchyard. It is in the most valuable part of New York, if not in the most valuable division of property in the world.

St. Paul's church is valued at $5,500,000.

Grace church, at what was once described as the head of Broadway, is valued at $950,000.

The First Presbyterian church, on Fifth avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, is valued at $750,000.

St. Mark's church, on Second avenue, an old landmark in that neighborhood, is valued at $275,000.

The Marble Collegiate church, Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, is valued at $2,000,000.

The Church of St. Paul, the Apostle (the Paulist church), at Fifty-ninth street and Columbus avenue, is valued at $700,000.

The West Presbyterian church, on West Forty-second street, is valued at $450,000, St. Thomas' at $1,700,000 and the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, 9 and 11 West Fifty-ninth street, at $1,000,000.

The valuation of the Temple Emanu-El is $1,530,000, of St. Patrick's cathedral $3,000,000, of the B'nai Jeshurun synagogue $300,000, of the Temple Beth-El, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-sixth street, $1,300,000, of the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Fifty-sixth street, $700,000 and of the Christian Scientist church, Central Park West and Sixty-eighth street, $300,000.

Caste in the Churches.

There was often too great a separation between the rich and the poor in our churches, said the Rev. Principal Henderson, of Bristol, at the Baptist Union's Conference at Huddersfield. Was it justifiable, he asked, to reserve all the time and energy of the most attractive servants of Christ to certain congregations? Was it quite certain that wealth should command what were presumed to be the choicest ministries? Material resources, also, should be applied where there was most need for them. With reference to the multiplication of rigidly separated sects, he said that if any apostolic letter were in these days to be addressed to the "Church of God in Huddersfield," he feared it would be returned as "insufficiently addressed."

At the concluding meeting Dr. Clifford, after referring to the remarkable speech of the Bishop of Birmingham at the Church Congress, he said, "Let all destroy the caste spirit in the churches. The temper of our time is essentially a temper of freedom, resistant of everything in the shape of tyranny over the intellect or the life of man."

GROWING OLD WHILE YET YOUNG

What a number of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case.

There are thousands of females all over our land, broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with disease peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young.

From early morn till late at night they have been on the go year after year, attending to the household duties. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, weakness, dizziness, sleeplessness and many other troubles follow. What a woman wants is something to build up the system and for this purpose you cannot equal

The Leading Specialists of America. 25 Years in Detroit. Bank Security.

Nine out of every ten men have been guilty of transgression against nature in their youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant he may be. The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only escape from its ruinous results is by proper scientific treatment to counteract its effects.

The DRAINS, either by nightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated, the blood must be purified, the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed, the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. We invite all the afflicted to call and consult us confidentially and free of charge. Cures Guaranteed or no Pay. ELEANOR ...AND THE... GRAFTER

By Harriet Batchelor Bradner

The day Eleanor Beverly had been in her position as Cornwell's secretary six months something happened. The political boss of his precinct, McWilliams, having made an engagement over the telephone, paid the young lawyer a visit at lunch hour, when the place was practically deserted.

Having carefully closed the door behind him, he settled his huge bulk in a chair and came at once to business.

"Mr. Cornwell, we need your support in the coming election," he began impressively. "If a man of your sterling worth comes out for our candidate it will settle the vote of the majority."

"Impossible!" returned Cornwell decidedly. "As I have repeatedly told your agents, I do not approve of your selection and cannot conscientiously vote for him. As to the influence of my decision, you greatly overestimate it."

"See here, Cornwell, we've got to have you with us. Lipper is all right. Man, you're prejudiced—unjustly prejudiced. Why, he's the most inoffensive fellow—harmless as a kitten!"

"That's my opinion of Mr. Lipper exactly," observed Cornwell, smiling grimly—"inoffensive, harmless, unable to say 'no;' a weak fool in the hands of unscrupulous politicians."

"Hey? What's that about unscrupulous politicians?" McWilliams' bulging eyes glared savagely. "This ain't no subject to be treated without gloves."

The two men looked into each other's eyes for the space of a second, the one angry and uncomfortable, the other calm and undisturbed. Then McWilliams leaned forward and began in a confidential undertone:

"Look here, Cornwell, I don't mind confessing to you that we're up a stump. Lippers is a regular frost, but if we fail to elect him there'll be no end of money lost."

"Which a good natured alderman, once elected, will see to returning, of course," interrupted the lawyer dryly.

"I'm glad you catch the drift of my remarks so quickly." McWilliams' smile was comprehensive and bland.

"Yes, I follow you perfectly, but you haven't my sympathy." Cornwell looked him straight in the eye. "Mr. McWilliams, you knew before you came here that I wasn't open to bribery!" And he settled back in his chair.

The boss of the precinct emitted an ugly smile. Fumbling in an inner coat pocket, he drew out an envelope and extracted from it a canceled check.

"I tried to persuade you gentle," he said. "Now we'll see what pressure can do." And, still holding the smile, he handed Cornwell the check.

"Well, what of it?" he asked after a brief examination.

"What of it!" exclaimed McWilliams in exasperation. "What of a check for $5,000 to you from Hendricks—Hendricks, the grafter?"

The young man flushed angrily. "And so you purpose to show this as proof that Hendricks bought me in some deal for $5,000?" he said, the color creeping away from his lips as he recognized the false position into which the presence of the check forced him. "Mr. McWilliams, you know better than that!" Even the well seasoned boss shrank a little from his anger.

"Some time ago Mr. Hendricks hurriedly entered my office and begged me to lend him $5,000 in cash to close out a real estate deal, as he said. He explained that the owner was leaving immediately for the west and, as it was after banking hours, refused to receive a check. As you know, we handle a great deal of ready money here, so I gave him the amount he wanted and took his check for $5,000. Had the light subsequently thrown on his character illuminated Mr. Hendricks at the time I would unhesitatingly have refused his request. This, Mr. McWilliams, is the explanation of that check—facts with which you are doubtless already acquainted."

"Indeed! Let me advise you, my friend, to remember your vote while it is possible." The politician's tone was insultingly familiar. "This little fairy tale would sound rather flimsy before a jury, I fancy," and he crossed his feet leisurely and brushed an imaginary speck from his broad knee.

Cornwell rose stiffly to his feet. His eyes were dark with anger, and his muscular hands clasped and unclasped in an effort of self control.

"So your plan is to frighten me into submission, eh?" he said, his voice ringing with contempt. "Well, it won't work. I don't scare worth a ——, even at a charge of bribery!" and his fine lips curled.

McWilliams leaned back in his chair, his pudgy thumbs hooked in the armholes of his waistcoat. "Who'll prove your story to a jury?" he asked insolently. His eyes narrowed to furtive slits. "Who'll prove it, I say?"

"I will," answered the ringing voice of a girl—"I will!"

With a violent exclamation of irritation, the grafter sprang to his feet, and Cornwell, wheeling, looked straight into the shining eyes of Eleanor Beverly, who stood just within the door.

"I knocked, but, hearing no sound, supposed no one was here," she said to him breathlessly. Then her eyes traveled to the other man, and she spoke:

"You are the grafter McWilliams. I have been waiting for you to come."

"You surprise me."

"I expect to surprise you still further," Miss Beverly replied easily. "Mr. Cornwell," she continued quickly, "two months ago I sat behind this man and a friend of his on a trolley."

McWilliams lunged forward, his eyes predatory and threatening.

"They both had been drinking and were talking rather loudly. I heard them speaking your name and laughing over a trick the other man had played on you—a trick that put your honor in their hands. They spoke of the check"—Cornwell set his teeth, and his eyes blazed—"and told how they expected to use it as a weapon over your head in the election. I listened—because I knew I could help you."

"Why didn't you tell me of this before?" Cornwell asked eagerly. "Why did you keep it to yourself?"

"I—you," the girl hesitated, her lips trembling in embarrassment, "you had so much to worry you at the time that I—I thought I could watch alone," she finished hurriedly. "Nothing could be done till he"—pointing—"made the first move." Looking at the man she had protected for a sign of approval, she saw in his eyes a look that sent a quiver of joy into the secret places of her heart, making the warm blood surge into her cheeks.

McWilliams looked fixedly into her radiant eyes, and his own face slowly flushed.

"There was a time once when if the girl had loved me—or, well," and he shook his huge shoulders helplessly. "Cornwell, it was a dirty trick. If the apology of a man like me amounts to anything, I do so humbly. It was this young girl who saved you a very bad season—she kind of reminds me of the other one—and I see that you've got sense enough to appreciate it. I wish it was you that was on the ticket. Well, I won't keep you from tellin' her any longer," and he went out and closed the door behind him.

STILL HOLDING THE SMILE, HE HANDED CORNWELL THE CHECK.

TO PREVENT BRONCHITIS or CONSUMPTION

Do not neglect a cold or cough no matter how slight as the irritation spreading throughout the delicate lining of the sensitive air passages sooner or later will lead to fatal results.

If on the first appearance of a cough or cold you would take a few doses of you would save yourself a great deal of unnecessary suffering.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other pectoral remedies.

It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucous, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations.

Miss Belle Campbell, Long River, P.E.I., writes: "For some time I was troubled with bronchitis. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. So I procured three bottles but it only took two to cure me."

Be careful when purchasing to see that you get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark and the price 25 cents at all dealers.

PRACTICAL PICTURES.

Odd Parlor Ornaments and a Very Substantial Dinner.

There is a practical minded millionaire who has invented a substitute for valuable pictures which it is hoped will not commend itself to others. He has had a large number of bank notes framed, and these are hung upon the wall where the pictures should be.

In the drawing room is one frame that contains a bank note for £100,000, and he says: "There is the money in case I find a picture which is sufficiently valuable to pay that price for it. Meanwhile the note tells its own tale and saves me from explaining to my visitors that 'this picture cost so much,' as most other rich men do.

"The chief pleasure of these collectors appears to arise not from the beauty of the work, but from the cost of it; then why not have checks or bank notes for a large sum hung on the walls, as I do? Besides, I find that it is much more interesting to my visitors, for most of them look long and carefully at the bank notes who would but glance at the work of art."

This eccentric man gave a dinner on the same principle. In the soup plates there was no soup, but sovereigns; for fish were served five-pound notes, for game checks and for sweets shares in a thriving company, and there was not a guest who did not enjoy this entertainment more than any he or she had ever before been present at.—London Truth.

Dean Swift on Spelling.

Dean Swift roundly denounced the poets of his day who had introduced the "barbarous custom of abbreviating words to fit them to the measure of their verses." Swift instances "drudg'd" and "disturb'd" as mortal offenses. The custom so introduced had begun to dominate prose. Another cause—borrowed, Swift suggested, from the clipping process—which he held had contributed to the maiming of the language, "is a foolish opinion advanced of late years that we ought to spell exactly as we speak; which, besides the obvious inconvenience of utterly destroying our etymology, would be a thing we should never see the end of."

Risks in Railway Journeys.

The idea that the man who goes on a railway journey takes his life in his hand and is rather more likely than not to meet with an untimely death at the first curve the train negotiates is scarcely borne out by the fact that the chances against any one passenger meeting his death on the railway are 36,000,000 to 1. This immunity from disaster reflects considerable credit upon the companies, but still more upon engine drivers and signalmen, whose skill and care are the main factors in the safety of the passenger.—London Court Journal.

New York city boasts the oldest structure on the hemisphere. It is the Egyptian obelisk in Central park, first erected as an offering to the sun god by Thotmes III. Moses saw it when it was old, for it was constructed more than 1,000 years before the Christian era.

Bloomers.

The bloomer costume was first worn by Mrs. Bloomer in New York in 1849.

Order of the Bath.

The Bath order of knighthood is found in the earliest ages of the English sovereigns. It derived its name from the circumstance that bathing constituted one of the principal features in the installation of knights.

Japanese Fishermen.

The net used by Japanese fishermen for yellowtail, bonito and tunny is sometimes several thousand feet in length. The seine nets are sometimes three miles long.

Finger Rings.

People who want their rings to last well should not wear them under gloves. The constant friction of the gloves wears the tiny points that hold the stones in place, and the result is that the stones fall out unless they are closely looked after.

High Priced Poetry.

Sannazaro is said to have received a prize of 66,000 golden crowns from the Venetian citizens for a six line poetic eulogy of their city in the sixteenth century.

Reverend.

The title "reverend" was until the sixteenth century addressed to many others besides clergymen, such as judges and eminent writers, but from that time its use has been strictly confined to the clergy.

Africa.

Of Africa's area of 11,500,000 square miles Great Britain owns 2,700,000 and France 3,800,000, including Madagascar.

Oldest Chemist's Shop in England.

The oldest pharmacy in England is the quaint and conspicuous shop occupied by E. W. Lawrence on the east side of the market place, Knaresborough. The shop was established in 1720.

Grindstones.

The strength of a grindstone appears from recent tests to vary widely with the degree of its wetness or dryness, stones that are dry showing tensile strengths of from 140 to 186 pounds per square inch, but after soaking overnight breaking under stresses of 80 to 110 pounds per square inch.

Balaklava.

Balaklava, famous for the battle fought there, is a fishing village eight miles from Sevastopol.

Puss.

"Puss," a name bestowed on every cat in this country, originated in "Pasht," given by the Egyptians to the sacred cat which they worshiped because they thought its eyes were like the moon.

BILEANS

• WIN A MINISTER'S PRAISE

Bileans win praise from all quarters because of their sterling merit and their wonderful cures. Purely vegetable, free from all trace of alcohol, made in the finest laboratories in the world, suitable to the most delicate constitution, mild in operation yet searching out and removing the causes of disease—that is why your friends speak so highly of them. Ask any one who has tried them. Better still, write for a free sample box and prove them yourself. Conditions below.

A WIFE'S EXPERIENCE

Mrs. A. M. Jeff, of Frankley, says:—"Liver and stomach disorders reduced me to a terrible plight. I had dizzy fits, and feelings of fainting weakness. Food caused pain so acute that I actually pined myself to prevent it. My tongue was coated, my head ached, there was always a bad taste in my mouth. I was constipated and felt dull, weak and miserable. My condition became so serious that my husband feared my days were numbered. Then Bileans were introduced, and from the first they worked like a charm. They corrected the liver and stomach—the root causes of my illness. The pain after food ceased, food was digested, the acute constipation was removed and the bowels became natural in their operation. Then the headaches, bad taste in the mouth and the dizzy spells left me and in a few weeks Bileans restored me to health.

"So wonderful was their effect on me that our minister said 'It is your duty to write to the company and tell them what great benefit you have derived.'"

Bileans Cure:—Headache, biliousness, indigestion, female ailments and irregularities, piles, rheumatism, blood impurities, eruptions, and they tone up the whole system. All druggists sell at 50 cents a box, or from the Bilean Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

THEY CURE Constipation

Butler and the Students.

During one of his warmest political campaigns Benjamin F. Butler was advertised to make a speech in a town hall situated near one of the smaller New England colleges. Some of the students of the college who did not sympathize with Butler in his political aspirations agreed to have a little fun at his expense. As a preliminary move they decided to wait until after the time for beginning the meeting and then go in a body to the hall, march in together, making as much noise as possible in securing seats and thus compel the speaker to pause in his remarks. Then a series of various interruptions was arranged, to be started at different times upon the signal of a chosen leader. General Butler had been speaking for ten minutes when the hall door opened and about forty students entered and marched down toward the platform. They kept perfect step, and the steady tramp, tramp made it impossible, for the speaker to go on. Quietly waiting until they had all taken their seats, Butler said, with a smile, "It is perfectly evident which end of themselves these young men can use best." There were yells of laughter and hearty applause from the audience, and no further attempts to interrupt the speaker were made by the students.

The Spirit of Dancing.

Times and manners change. The customs of London, ancient and modern, greatly differ. Says the London Times regarding mediaeval days: "Dancing was a passion with everybody. From the queen to the milkmaid, all the women danced; from the king to the craftsman, all the young men danced. They danced in the streets whenever it was possible, which was one of the reasons why May day was so joyous a festival. The more courtly people had dances dignified and stately, such as the danse au virlet, in which each performer sang a verse, and then they all danced around, singing the same verse in chorus; the Pas de Brabant, where every man knelt to his partner; the danse au chapelet, where every man kissed his partner; they danced together, singing minstrels' songs; they danced in the garden, they danced in the meadow, they went out at night to dance, with tapers in their hands; they danced to beautiful music played by an orchestra. Where is the dancing spirit now, where the mixed kissing? When did Merry England die? When did it begin. Was it ever so?"

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act, as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Addition to Parliament Building," will be received at this office until Monday, November 26, 1906, inclusively, for the construction of an addition to the Parliament Building at Ottawa.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,

HIS AUTO ROMANCE

o o o

By FABIAN CARLETON

Davenport left his machine chug-chugging at the curb and sprang up the steps. Two or three of the rocking chair contingent smiled as they saw him coming, but Mrs. Neville sat quietly in the shady corner where she had established herself.

"Kittie went over to the lake with Mr. Thornton," she said as Davenport approached. "I don't think she understood that she had an engagement with you."

"She didn't," he admitted ruefully. "I thought I should have to run up to town today and said I wouldn't be over. How long since they started?"

"It was only ten minutes ago. You must have passed them if you have come from the avenue."

"I can catch up with them," was the comfortable assurance. "I can beat that old machine of Thornton's."

"This is a new one," smiled Mrs. Neville. "I think he said it was a forty horsepower machine."

"I'll run over anyway," said Davenport, gritting his teeth. If Thornton

"I'LL TELL THEM YOU'RE COMING."

had brought a new machine down it showed that he meant business. Kittie Neville was passionately fond of automobiling. Howard Davenport's had been the fastest machine on the beach. It was the auto that first attracted Kittie's attention. Afterward Howard liked to think that he had gained her favor, but Kittie did not wear her heart upon her sleeve to be lightly won, and he was as uncertain as on the first day that he realized that he loved her.

Now Thornton, with his more powerful machine, might have an opportunity to make all of the running. He disliked Thornton anyway. He was a braggart and a boor, but he was rich, and he could have a dozen big machines if he wanted them.

It was with a sore heart that Howard headed for the lake, the usual objective point for pleasure seekers. It was fifteen miles inland, and those who did not possess autos took the trolley ride that was one of the features of the seaside resort.

There was a new automobile in the shed as Davenport ran his car alongside, a huge green thing that suggested power in every line. Kittie's coat lay on the back seat of the tonneau, if that were needed to identify the rival of the little touring car in which they had had such good times, and Davenport gritted his teeth as he passed it on his way to the porch.

Thornton was there and greeted him with a boisterous shout as he came up the steps.

"How long did it take you to come out?" he bawled. "We made it in eighteen minutes."

"I did not do as well as that," Howard admitted. "The road is heavy after the rains."

"I didn't notice it," bragged his rival, "but then, you see, with my car we can take any road at top speed. Sit down."

He made way for Davenport at the table with ostentatious courtesy, and though Howard knew that his only object was to continue his boasting, he dropped into the seat beside Kittie.

The frank welcome in her glance reassured him somewhat, and in spite of Thornton's ponderous dissertations on the superiority of the imported car he was sorry when it was time to be starting back if he wished to be in time to dress for dinner.

He had gone perhaps five miles when, with a tremendous tooting, Thornton in the green car dashed past him. "I'll tell them you're coming," he shouted over his shoulder as he passed. Howard winced. It was hard to have victory rubbed in like that. The fact that Kittie was sitting in the tonneau and not in front was some satisfaction, but

It was with white lips that he threw on a higher speed and started forward.

Half a mile beyond the road turned sharply, and as he slowed down for the curve his heart gave a leap as he saw ahead of him the big green car at one side of the road partly overturned.

Kittie, looking very white, sat beside the fence, while Thornton busied himself about the machine.

"I can't understand this!" he shouted as Davenport drew up. "I never have seen anything like this happen before."

He pointed to one of the rear wheels. The tire had been completely opened as with a knife.

"You must have picked up a barrel hoop," suggested Davenport. "It might have stuck to the mud guard."

"That's so," admitted Thornton. "I thought it might have been cut on purpose, only the cut is too new. We never could have come five miles with that cut. I wish you'd have some one sent out with a new tire. My chauffeur can come out in the old machine."

"I'll be glad to," was the willing response. "Anything else?"

"You can take me in, if you will," said Kittie, coming forward. "It will make me late for the hop tonight if I stay here."

Howard jumped to the door of the tonneau, but without waiting for assistance Kittie climbed into the front seat and settled herself comfortably in her accustomed place. Davenport followed her and started slowly forward.

"We'll tell them you're coming!" shouted Kittie back over her shoulder, quoting the words he had used a few minutes before to Davenport.

"I suppose it's mean to rub it in," she said as the machine began to move faster and she settled herself more comfortably, "but he gloated over you when he left you behind."

"I can't understand how his accident happened," said Howard in puzzled tones. "It was such a clean cut. If he had picked up a piece of glass it would have made a puncture. This sliced the tire right around."

"If you'll promise not to tell I'll tell you something," offered Kittie. "I had a knife that I bought for Billy in my pocket, and I had it out looking at it. My arm was resting over the side of the car, and I am afraid that it accidentally struck the tire."

"You had a time reaching around the mud guard, didn't you?" laughed Howard, with a happy ring in his voice.

"I didn't do it on purpose," she declared stoutly. "It was an accident. Why should I want a breakdown?"

"I was hoping that perhaps it was because you wanted to go back to the hotel with me," he said.

"Huh!" said Kittie indignantly. "I'm sorry I told you if you are going to put on airs like that."

For a few minutes she sat silent, then almost unconsciously, as if thinking aloud, she murmured, "I thought it would just make a puncture."

"The wheel was going too fast," he explained. "It cut all the way around."

"And I lost the knife," she said. "It was torn right out of my hand."

"I'll get another for your brother," he offered. "There's something else I'd like to get."

"What?" she asked.

"A ring," he explained. "A ring with a diamond in it. I've been wanting to buy you one for a long time, but today I was afraid that the big car was going to win the day."

"I'd marry you if you didn't even have a motor cycle," she declared. "You didn't suppose that mattered, did you?"

"I was trying to make up my mind whether anything mattered," he confessed.

"I think it does," said Kittie softly.

WATER IN TURKEY.

Must Meet Many Conditions to Be a Perfect Beverage.

"Turks are extremely particular," writes a traveler, "in regard to the quality of the water they drink and are willing to be at much trouble and expense to obtain water of the kind they prefer. To be a perfect beverage water must issue from a rock, fall from a height, be of medium temperature, flow rapidly and copiously, taste sweet, spring in high and lonely ground and run from south to north or from east to west. The excellence of any water is accordingly determined by the number of these conditions it fulfills. It is remarkable how much pleasure Turks find in visiting a famous spring in the country, to spend the whole day beside it under the shade of trees, doing little else than drink carafe after carafe of the water as the elixir of life. Resorts of this description abound on the shores and in the valleys of the upper Bosporus under such names as the Water of Life, the Silver Water, the Water Under the Chestnut Tree, the Water Beside the Hazels. The spectacle of the great gatherings there on Fridays, arrayed in bridal colors, seated tier above tier on the terraced platforms built against the green slope of the hill, the women above, the men below, all in the deep shade of the branches meeting overhead, forms a picture beyond a painter's power to reproduce.

ARTIFICIAL WARMTH.

Its Use an Inherited Habit and a Sign of Luxury.

With the big, restless, energetic world outside of this tropical belt, however, the matter of keeping warm is ever present, troublesome and expensive, throughout half of each passing year.

As a matter of fact, the world of humanity dwelling in stoveland never has been in all the ages really and comfortably warm in winter. It is largely our own fault. Mankind is the only animal which employs fire in the effort to survive the cold of the winters. The hardy lower animals do not need it, however much their luxuriously enervated representatives, the dog and the cat, may enjoy it when they have a chance.

Ancient man only got himself rid of his provident coat of hair and his sufficent latent heat when he began to loaf around the family cooking stove and absorb the intoxicating comfort of artificial warmth. This faraway ancestor is responsible for the fact that the present day human being, outside of the belt aforesaid, is obliged to keep close to a thermometer registering nearly or quite 70 degrees F. from October to May, besides which he must needs wear extra clothing. This also is an inherited habit.

A traveler west once asked a half naked Indian in midwinter how he managed to stand the weather. The Indian replied: "Your face no got a coat. It no cold. Indian face all over." —National Magazine.

VIRTUE IN COPPER.

The Metal Is a Death Dealer to All Disease Germs.

"Copper is a marvelous preventive of disease. If we returned to the old copper drinking vessels of our forefathers, typhoid epidemic would disappear."

The speaker, a filtration expert, took a copper cent from his pocket.

"Examine this cent under the microscope," he said, "and you will find it altogether free from disease germs. Examine gold and silver coins, and you will find them one wriggling and contorting germ mass. Yet copper coins pass through dirtier hands than gold and silver ones. You'd think they ought to be alive with micro-organisms. But no. Copper kills germs. Diphtheria and cholera cultures smeared on a copper cent die in less than two hours.

"They have many cholera epidemics in China, but certain towns are always immune. These towns keep their drinking water in great copper vessels. Travelers have tried to buy these vessels, for they are beautiful, but the villagers will not sell them. They have a superstition that their health and welfare depend on their retention. I wish all superstitions were as true and salutary as that."

The Joke Was on the Students.

When Dr. Nathan Lord was president of Dartmouth college he used to drive about in a dilapidated, old fashioned contrivance. The students became tired of seeing the concern and, though Dr. Lord knew of this, he clung to the old calash. One night a group of the young men hauled the thing out of the shed where it was kept, took it several miles down the road toward Lebanon and hid it in a spot where it was concealed by dense foliage. They were just about to depart, well satisfied with the tiresome job, when the curtain which completely enveloped the front of the calash was suddenly pushed aside and the well known face of President Lord appeared. "Now, gentlemen," he said, "you may draw me back again."

Homes Under the Ground.

In the salt district in Cheshire, England, the brine has been pumped so continuously out of the earth that the land has settled very considerably. The houses naturally sink with the earth, and in some of the streets in Northwich only the roofs are visible. The houses are inhabited, although the rooms are underground. In a great many cases additional stories have been added, so that by living in the upper rooms the residents may have some light and air. The roadways sink, too, but are kept up to the proper level by the government.

He Laid.

"Don't waste your time in clipping off the branches," said the woodman to his son, "but lay your ax at the root of the tree." And the young man went out and laid his ax at the foot of the tree, like a good and dutiful boy, and then he went fishing. Truly there is nothing so beautiful as filial obedience. —Strand Magazine.

One View of It.

"But if she makes all her own dresses I should think she'd be a good wife for you. It shows she's industrious and sensible."

"Not for me, thank you. It simply shows how poor her father must be."

Strenuous efforts have been made in times past to stamp out smoking. Among the rules of an English school in 1629 it was laid down that "a master must be a man of grave behavior, neither papist nor Puritan, no haunter of alehouses and no puffer of tobacco." In Turkey, where the pipe is now omnipresent, former sultans made smoking a crime, and offenders were punished by having their pipes thrust into their noses, while in Russia a royal edict ordered the noses of the smokers to be cut off.

THE FRENCH HUSBAND.

Always, as a Rule, Anxious to Do the Agreeable Thing.

The French husband has a faculty that amounts almost to a genius for bestowing the delicate attentions which cost little except the exercise of a modicum of tact and thoughtfulness, but which carry joy to every true woman's heart. He not only thinks to take home to her often (in the absence of the means to make a larger offering) a ten cent bunch of violets, pinks or roses from the flower market or the itinerant flower vender's barrow on his route, but he presents them gallantly with the compliment and the caress the occasion calls for, and this makes them confer a pleasure out of all proportion to their intrinsic worth.

He remembers her birthday or fete day with a potted plant, a bit of game, a box of bonbons, a cake from the pastry cook's or a bottle of good wine. He is marvelously fertile in expedients for making the time pass quickly and agreeably for her. He has a thousand amusing and successful devices for helping her to renew her youth. He projects unique and joyous Sunday and holiday excursions. He improvises dainty little banquets. He is a past master especially in the art of conjuring up amiable mysteries and preparing charming little surprises. And in all these trivial enterprises he vindicates the old French theory that true courtesy consists in taking a certain amount of pains to so order our words and our manners that others "be content with us and with themselves."

The American husband is particularly solicitous to do the proper thing; the French husband to do the agreeable thing.—Independent.

A Bright Short Play.

"What I want is a bright short play," said Toole to the amateur who had brought him a six act drama. "How do you mean—a short, bright drama?" asked the author. "Can you give me an idea?" "Oh, yes," said Toole, "here's one. It's direct and leaves much to the imagination. It is in one act. When the curtain goes up two persons are discovered on a sofa, one a pretty young woman, the other a nice looking young fellow. They embrace; neither of them says a word. Then a door opens at the back and a commercial traveler enters. He wears an overcoat and carries an umbrella. You can tell at once by his manner that he is the husband of the young woman. At least that would be the inference of every intelligent playgoer. The husband takes off his coat, draws from his pocket a heavy revolver and in the midst of the silent embrace of hero and heroine fires. The young woman falls dead. He fires again and the young man is similarly disposed of. Then the murderer comes forward, puts on a pair of eyeglasses and proceeds to contemplate his sanguinary work. 'Great heavens!' he exclaims. 'I am on the wrong floor.'"

When Schooling Was Cheap.

The head master of the fashionable school as he sat in his office said:

"At Eton, the famous English school, where some boys spend $10,000 or $15,000 a year and where it is hardly possible to get through on less than $1,500, it only cost, in Queen Elizabeth's time, $25 annually." He took down a little book.

"This is a copy," he said, "of a manuscript, still preserved in Devonshire, that gives the Eton expenses of the two sons of Sir William Cavendish. Among the items are: 'Mending a shoe, 1d.; an old woman for sweeping and cleaning the chamber, 2d.; a breast of mutton, 5d.; a small chicken, 1d.; "Aesop's Fables," 4d.; two bunches of candles, 1d.; a week's board, 5 shillings.' The total minimum expenses of an Eton boy in 1514—board, tuition, everything—were $25 a year."

Adopting an Heir In Japan.

The custom of adoption is universal in Japan, where it is practiced to keep a family name from becoming extinct. Indeed, there is scarcely a family in which it has not at some time or other been observed. A person who has no male issue adopts a son and, if he has a daughter, often gives her to him in marriage. A youth or even a child, who may be the head of a family, occasionally adopts, on the point of dying, a son older than himself to succeed him.

The Harshness of Orators.

American political orators are often charged with being unduly harsh to the other side. The following extract from a speech of the late Earl of Shaftesbury, published in his memoirs, shows that if our stump speakers exhibit harshness they come honestly by it. The noble earl thus described and prophesied: "When Gladstone runs down a steep place, his immense majority, like the pigs in Scripture, but hoping for a better issue, will go with him, roaring in grunts of exultation."

Noah's Advantage.

Mrs. Noah was complaining that her clothes looked as if they had come out of the ark.

"On the contrary," returned her spouse, "they have just come across the water."

Herewith he congratulated himself on the cheapness of imported gowns.

TRAPPED IN CABINS DOWN TO DEATH

Forty-Three Passengers of the Steamer Dix Are Drowned.

NO TIME FOR THE LIFEBOATS

Only Thirty-Six of Human Cargo of Puget Sound Craft Are Rescued—Collided With Jeanie In a Smooth Sea—Listed, Righted, Then Sank Stern First—Accounts of Captains Mason and Lermon.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 20.—The steamer Dix, Capt. P. Lermon, bound from Seattle to Port Blakeley with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki Point, shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday night, after having collided with the steamship Jeanie, Capt. P. H. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Co.

Forty-three passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing, and thirty-six were saved. The Dix is a total wreck. The Jeanie was not injured in the least. The master of the Dix was saved.

The collision occurred while the Sound was almost as smooth as a mill pond, and after the boats had been steaming within sight of each other for a quarter of an hour.

The Jeanie was backing when she collided with the Dix, and the impact was very slight. The Dix was struck abaft of amidships on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first.

No Time For Lifeboats.

There was hardly time to launch life rafts or boats before she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into the water; women screamed and officers and men called orders that could hardly be heard above the din. The passengers from the Dix who could swim made their way to the sides of the Jeanie and were dragged aboard. The Jeanie was not moved until after all who had reached her had been hauled aboard. Then she cruised about picking up several who managed to stay above water. It was after 10 o'clock before the Jeanie left the scene of the catastrophe and steamed to the Virginia street dock with her thirty-nine survivors.

Along Converging Lines.

The Jeanie of the Alaska Coast Co. had finished unloading at the Great Northern docks at Smith's Cove, and had started for Tacoma shortly before 7 o'clock, just about the same time the Dix left the Flyer dock for Port Blakeley.

There were no passengers on the Jeanie. The Dix was making the last trip of the night and was well-filled with passengers.

When within about two miles north of Alki Point the two vessels were within a short distance of each other, steaming along converging lines.

Capt. Mason's Story.

"I got away from Smith's Cove a little before 7 o'clock, and laid a course for Tacoma," said Capt. Mason. "I had no passengers aboard. I saw the Dix headed for Port Blakeley and signalled to her. Soon she came up astern of me and started directly across my bows.

"I signalled to the engineer for full speed astern, but we could not get out of the way in time. The Jeanie was backing a little when we struck her well abaft of amidships. The shock did not seem enough to have injured an ordinary launch. The Dix listed heavily to starboard, righted herself and then sank stern first."

Capt. Lermon's Account.

Capt. P. Lermon, master of the steamer Dix, told the story of the collision after arriving at Seattle. He was shaking with the cold, his eyes still dilated with the horror of his experience.

"I don't know how it happened," he said. "Charles Dennison, mate of the boat, was at the wheel. We were just about two miles due north of Alki Point, and running at the usual speed. It was a fine, clear night, and the water was like a millpond. I had seen the lights of a steamer on our starboard quarter some time before, but had not paid any attention to them. I went below to collect the fares. The boat was crowded. There were seventy passengers, and it was quite a task to get all the fares. I had been on that run for thirteen years and knew almost everybody aboard.

Trapped In Cabins.

"When I was in the ladies' cabin I heard the bell signal to stop. I knew something must be wrong, and hurried forward. Just as I got on deck I saw the bow of a vessel loom up on the starboard side, and almost instantly she struck us. The jibboom crashed through the Dix just aft of midships, and heeled her over like a top. She lay there for a minute or two with the water rushing in and all over. I was thrown against the deckhouse. For an instant the breath was knocked out of me, and I was almost paralyzed. The steamer lay on her port beam for what seemed like two minutes, and then keeled back to starboard. There was another rush of water, cries and screams of men, women and children. From below came awful sounds. Many of the passengers were penned there and could not possibly escape. The Dix's bow began to lift and her stern went slowly down until the bow was standing straight half out of the water. For an instant I clung to the railing. The sight filled me with horror. Lights were still burning and I could see people inside the cabin.

Indescribable Despair.

"The expressions on their faces were of indescribable despair. They fought desperately to gain the deck, and their shouting and cries were awful.

"People on deck slid off into the water, went down shrieking and desperately clutching at the water or at the Jeanie, which still loomed only a few yards away.

"Some of the passengers who had been on deck at the time of the collision, jumped to the rigging of the Jeanie's bowsprit, and in this way clambered up to safety. When the Dix began to go down I leaped into the water and managed to keep myself afloat. All round were floating heads and we watched the Jeanie as she slowly came towards us and dropped boats which moved here and there picking up men in every direction. Finally a boat came to me. I had been in the water about 10 minutes. When we were taken on board the Jeanie I found that thirty-six of our seventy-nine people, passengers and crew, had been saved. The rest were drowned.

Left Not a Ripple.

"There was no sign of my little steamer. She was gone completely, and before we left there was not even a ripple on the surface to mark the spot where the terrible tragedy had occurred.

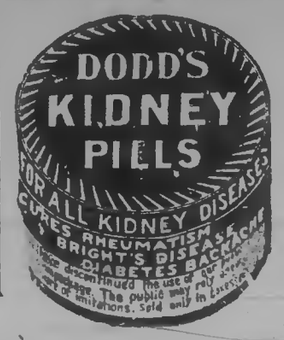
"I don't think she was very badly damaged by the collision. It was the heeling over on her port beam that caused her loss. She filled with water as soon as she went over, and that took her down.

"As to the cause of the accident, I cannot say. I was not on deck and don't know or understand how it happened. This is the first accident that has happened on any ship of mine since I have been running on the Sound."

Capt. Lermon is a well-known navigator and has the reputation of being one of the ablest Sound pilots leaving Seattle. The Dix sank in 100 fathoms of water. The Jeanie, the Government launch Scout, and several tugs have gone to the scene of the wreck to search for bodies.

More Steamers Blown Ashore.

Fort William, Nov. 20.—In the same terrific gale which drove the Canadian steamer Theano on the rocks and totally destroyed her, the Canadian steamer Strathcona and the American steamer Phillip Minch were also blown ashore. Both crews are safe. The Minch may be a total loss. She is owned in Cleveland. The Strathcona is owned by the Hamilton & Fort William Navigation Co.



COURTNEY ISSUES A CAUTION

Ex-Deputy Minister of Finance Makes Important Address.

DANGERS TO BE AVOIDED

Is This Country Going Too Fast?--Indications of a Change—Healthful Signs of an Awakening of Citizens to Their Responsibilities In Public Affairs Noted—Time to Call Halt—Duty of Present.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—The address to the Canadian Club yesterday afternoon on the Finance Department of Canada by Mr. J. M. Courtney, C.M.G., ex-Deputy Minister of Finance, possessed more than ordinary interest to the four hundred members who attended the weekly luncheon. It placed before the members of the club and the public generally the results of nearly forty years of practical experience and intelligent observation, and the suggestions and caution which it contained, coming from such a source, cannot but be worthy of careful consideration. The gathering was presided over by President Irish, and at the conclusion Mr. D. R. Wilkie voiced the unanimous opinion of his fellow-members when he said that he knew of no public official who had done more to elevate the public service or who retired after many long years of service more honored and more esteemed.

Mr. Courtney, in opening, referred to the fact that he had served under every Prime Minister and under every Finance Minister in Canada since confederation, save one, Sir Alex. Galt. When he entered the public service of Canada in 1869 the revenue of the Dominion was about $13,000,000; last year it was over $80,000,000, six times as great.

Indications of a Change.

Dealing with the subject of expenditure, Mr. Courtney pointed out that every item of the $31,000,000 is sanctioned by Parliament, which represents the people, and in no country in the world have the people such control as in Canada. He spoke of the indifference of electors to the financial question, which was responsible for the failure of members to oppose appropriations for public works. "I am not blaming this Government or any Government, nor do I blame all electoral districts, but as long as the average voter considers that the great impersonal thing called Parliament is created to find money to be spent in his own locality, so long will the present conditions exist. But I see signs of a change. I think recent events will make thoughtful people sit up and think, and I believe the day is fast coming when members will be sent to Parliament who will consider that a great trust has been placed in their hands to be used for higher things than securing votes of Parliament," said Mr. Courtney, amid applause.

Time to Call a Halt.

Three sets of people were concerned in the public expenditure—the givers, the finders and the spenders. Certain classes of expenditure, properly regulated, are eminently desirable to be made, as, for instance, the bringing into the Dominion a good class of immigrants, the working out of the schemes connected with agriculture, the watching over our forests, all productive expenditures which should be encouraged. He could even allow that in the recent great development there may be excused a little swagger and extravagance; but, allowing all this, he was afraid Canada was spending too much. It seemed to him that Mr. Gladstone's favorite formula might be adopted. Canada out of its abundance might redeem its indebtedness or might reduce its taxation, or it might, without adding to its debt, pay for its great national works.

Duty of the Present.

At the present time every effort should be made to save. There are large maturing liabilities to be met of loans made some 25 or 30 years back, and it will require all the wisdom of the Government to meet the future and preserve our high credit. For these reasons he thought that expenditure should be critically scanned, and that a halt should be called in many instances. Mr. Courtney uttered a word of caution regarding the possible danger to Canada that might arise from the undue exploitation of foreign capital in developing Canadian interests. It behooved Canadian financiers to be careful in floating Canadian enterprises abroad, and, above all things, to keep Canadian credit at a high level.

CURRY AND O'BRIEN COMMITTED

Woodstock Men Charged With Assault and Rape Held.

Woodstock, Nov. 20.—James Curry and Charles O'Brien were sent up for trial yesterday on the charge of committing assault and rape on Mrs. Casler, and of stealing several articles from her house. Both entered pleas of not guilty.

Mrs. Casler, who is a widow, was attacked at her house on the night of Nov. 7, and the arrest of Curry and O'Brien followed several days later. Mrs. Casler positively identified the the prisoners as the men who assaulted her, Curry had scratches on his face, and O'Brien had a wound on his knuckle, and the evidence of Mrs. Casler, that she scratched the face of one of the men and bit the hand of the other, seems to give importance to these facts. The articles stolen were identified.

Sentenced to Hang.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Yesterday morning Fred Heyk, the Galician, found guilty of manslaughter, was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment by Judge Howell.

Macri, an Italian, found guilty of the murder of a fellow-countryman was sentenced to hang on Jan. 15.

Killed In Landslide.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 20.—A big landslide has occurred at Knight's Inlet. Several Americans were killed.

Wm. Nixon Attempts Suicide.

St. Catharines, Nov. 20.—Wm. Nixon, an employe of the Welland Vale Works, who resides in Merritton, is in the hospital in a serious condition. Nixon was married only about two months ago to a young lady in this city, but did not get along very well with her on the subject of religion, he being a Roman Catholic and she a Protestant. Sunday they had a dispute on the question of going to church. Nixon went into the garden and shot himself with a 32-calibre revolver. He aimed for the heart, but struck below it.

Crow's Nest Strike Settled.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers yesterday said that whatever the difficulties existing between the operators and miners in the Crow's Nest Pass bituminous coal fields of British Columbia, they are all over now, and that the men will go back to work.

Seven Bullets Were Required In Order To Despatch This Bruin On Warpath

Mr. R. C. Strickland and Assistant Had a Narrow Escape from Death While Inspecting Timber in the Woods.

ATTACKED BY A 400 POUND SHE BEAR

Winchester Bullets Flattened on Bear's Skull — An Exciting Experience Which the Lakefield Men Had.

She That Was

Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield, has returned from an expedition of inspection of some timber areas in the northern part of this county. He is very glad to get back alive, or, at least, unclawed and unscalped, and also to bring back with him a beautiful pelt of a gigantic she-bear as a trophy of his marksmanship and a reminder of a very exciting quarter of an hour.

The Bear Details.

To a representative of The Examiner, Mr. Strickland tells an exciting story. Accompanied by an assistant, he had reached a windfall of timber, an almost impenetrable network of intertwisted boughs. During their difficult progress their ears were saluted with a low, ominous growl. The assistant remarked that it was a dog, but Mr. Strickland scented bear; and he was right. The next moment, from behind the shelter of the upturned roots of a pine, emerged a huge she-bear, and she rushed towards the intruders with gleaming eyes and open mouth. Of course, both were armed with rifles —Winchesters—which some hunters say should not be trusted in contact with a bear. But there was no time to think of this. Both men fired at the head of the rapidly-advancing and enraged bear, and both bullets found a billet in her head; but this hardly checked the progress of the now thoroughly rabid animal. Another pair of bullets had the effect of temporarily checking the on-rush, but it needed a third volley to put the feminine ursa major out of business. Not trusting rashly, however, to appearances, Mr. Strickland, with as long a pole as he could conveniently get, proceeded to administer a test poke upon the anatomy of the bear, while his assistant stood ready with cocked rifle, in case of inconvenient development of vitality. In response to the poke there was some slight stir of the prostrate carcass, and another bullet gave the coup de grace. The bullets were afterwards found, and some of them were quite flattened against the skull without having penetrated it.

A Startling Sequel.

The dead bear was a huge one, weighing about four hundred pounds. This weight is an estimate, for the carcass was left in the woods to feast the wolves. Owing to the desperate tangle of the windfall, it was impossible to think of removing the body. The pelt was removed. While Mr. Strickland was ripping up one of the bear's legs, which the assistant was holding, standing with its back to the uprooted tree from which the bear had made its sally, suddenly a well-grown bear cub developed an interest in the post-mortem on the maternal remains, and when Mr. Strickland first saw her the cub's snout was within three or four feet of his assistant's legs. It is unnecessary to say that the skinning operations were temporarily suspended, and the rifles, kept charged conveniently near, were found convenient in another sense, and the filial fidelity of the cub was rewarded with a brace of bullets.

The Spoils of the Hunt.

Having thus escaped being made bear meat by the skin of their teeth, the impromptu hunters devoted their attention to the skinning of the bear. The pelt was borne in triumph to the camp, five miles distant, and thereby has a tale, for ursa major is provided with nothing more than a nominal caudal appendage.

REPRESENTATIVE OF BIG CARPET FIRM HERE

Mr. A. Mallinson, of John Crossley & Sons, Halifax, Eng., in the City —The Firm May Come Here.

MR. MALLINSON BECLINED TO TALK

Mr. A. Mallinson, the Canadian representative of John Crossley and Sons, Limited, the big carpet firm of Halifax, England, was in the city to-day on one of his semi-annual visits to Richard Hall & Sons, the only local firm upon which he calls. The Crossley firm, it will be remembered, is the one which, it is understood, will shortly open a branch in Canada. In this connection, Peterborough has been mentioned, and a representative of the company was here a short time ago, and, it is understood, formed a very favourable opinion of this city from the viewpoint of a manufacturer. The Crossley firm employs 5,000 hands at their big factory in England, and the Canadian branch, although small at first, will develop into a large concern. This will be necessary, as the firm manufactures six varieties of carpets, including Brussels, Axminsters, Wiltons, and tapestries.

Mr. Mallinson was seen by an Examiner reporter this morning in reference to the location of a branch in Canada. He stated that he was not prepared to discuss that subject at all, as he was not in a position to be able to speak freely concerning the plans of the company. More than that a representative of the company had been in Canada for the purpose of looking for a site for a branch of the firm, he would say nothing.

Mr. Mallinson has been coming to Canada in the interests of his firm for eighteen years, making two visits each year.

METHODISM TREATED AT EPWORTH LEAGUE

Meeting was well Attendeed— Delegates to Convention

The regular Epworth league meeting of the George street Methodist church, was of more than usual interest last night. Rev. Dr. Crothers gave an address on Methodism, treating of its early history, its growth, both in the old world and the new, and its present state.

Also at the meeting last night Mrs Lewis and Miss Edna Armstrong were appointed delegates to attend the Missionary Convention in Toronto this week. The convention begins on Thursday.

SOUTH MONAGHAN RESIDENTS WERE HONOURED

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher, of That Township Made Presentation of Clock on Eve of Their Departnre.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION MADE

South Monaghan must be a fat land. Its farmers are in the habit of amassing their pile early and retiring to take their ease in the city. The last addition to our citizenship from this fertile township is Mr. Walter Fisher, who has taken residence in Peterborough at 493 Water street. Mr. Fisher has not only been a prominent farmer but a prominent member of the Methodist church for 22 years. During eighteen years of this time he has been a member of the Quarterly Board, fifteen years a steward and for ten years recording-steward of South Monaghan Circuit. On the occasion of his departure there was left at his residence at Bensfort a handsome clock accompanied with the following address:—

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher,—

Dear Friends,—It was with much regret that we heard some time ago of your decision to leave our neighbourhood, and now that your removal has taken place we desire to express our deep consciousness of loss.

In all departments of church and social life you have occupied leading positions and have proved worthy of the trust reposed in you.

Your Christian lives so free from ostentation and parade and so full of cheerful service to others have given great strength to our church, and your absence from our public worship and business meetings will reveal a serious loss.

As a slight token of esteem please accept this clock, and we hope that you will frequently visit old church and life long friends, and that at last we may all gather in the Heavenly Father's Home.

Signed in behalf of the Bensfort Methodist Congregation.

Bensfort, November 6th, 1906.

Mr. Fisher wishes to take this means of recognizing on behalf of himself and Mrs. Fisher, the kindness of his old neighbours, and associates in the Methodist church, to thank them for their beautiful gift and to express his appreciation of the kindly sentiments conveyed in the address.

It is to be mentioned that Mrs. Fisher was specially honoured by her fellow workers by being presented with a life membership in the Women's Missionary Society of South Monaghan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are warmly welcomed to the ranks of Peterborough citizenship.

WILL FINISH INSPECTION OF HORSES IN COUNTY

Mr. William Collins has received a telegram from Mr. A. R. Westervelt, stating that Messrs. Clark and Irving, the horse experts, who were here some weeks ago, inspecting horses, and who did not complete their work then, would return tomorrow night on the Belleville train and would on Thursday finish their inspection of the horses of this district.

Mr. Collins will arrange for these men to complete their work, the majority of the horses yet to be inspected being in North Smith.

15,000 VOLTS PASS THROUGH BODY OF YOUNG MAN

Frank Cowing Instantly Killed by Electric Current at Raven Lake Cement Company's Works.

HE WAS INTENDING TO TAKE A REST

Examiner Special.

Lindsay Nov. 19.—A shocking accident occurred early yesterday morning at the large works of the Raven Lake Portland Cement Company, a few miles north-east of the northern village of Victoria Road, when Frank Cowing, an employee, was instantly killed by coming in contact with a live wire.

It appears that Cowing had thrown a buffalo robe down on the cement floor, intending to enjoy an hour's rest. While in the act of lying down he threw his foot across a live wire charged with 15,000 volts, which supplies the power for the running of the whole cement plant, and was instantly killed. His left hand lying on the cement floor, caused a direct current.

The Coroner was called in but an inquest was deemed unnecessary. The body passed through town this morning to his home in Hamilton, where his wife lives.

PETERBOROUGH LADY DIED IN BROOKLYN

Late Miss Sloan, was Daughter of Late Rev. J. W. Sloan, Former Methodist Minister Here.

Word has just been received in the city of the death in Brooklyn, N.Y., on Saturday last, of Miss Ella Sloan, a daughter of the late Rev. J. W. Sloan, who at one time was stationed in Peterborough. The late Miss Sloan was quite well known in this city, where she had many friends who will learn with deep regret of her death.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from the Cavanville station, of the C.P.R., on the arrival of the morning train at 11 o'clock, and will proceed to Millbrook for interment.

Miss Sloan had for some time been living in Brooklyn, where she followed her profession as a nurse. During her recent illness, which resulted in her death, her aunt, Miss Robertson, of Toronto, was with her.

Gained 10 Pounds.

"I was ill run down so that I could not do my own work. Everything that I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work and feel like a strong different person." — Mrs H. A. Loynes, nurse, Philipsburg, Que.

Traffic Is Growing On The Trent Canal

Lockmaster McFarlane, of Lovesick, Gives Figures of Traffic Through That Lock During the Past Season.

788 Craft Passed Through—5,400 Passengers on 27 Excursions—Great Quantities of Lumber and Logs.

Lockages in 1898, 175.
Lockages in 1906, 788.
5,400 persons passed through locks on steamers.
41 different steamers using the lock.

Mr. William McFarlane, the lockmaster at Lovesick, was in the city to-day, and gave some interesting statistics in reference to the season's record of lockages, to the Examiner. The past season, as will be seen from the figures submitted by Mr. McFarlane, has been by far the busiest in the history of the canal, the number of steamers and other craft going through the lock being considerably in excess of that of any former season.

Traffic Grows.

In the comparison of the lockages for the years between 1898 and 1906, one is given a good idea of the steady growth which canal traffic has made. It will also be seen by consulting the figures supplied that a large passenger traffic is developing, the number of passengers estimated as having been on the steamers locking through the Lovesick lock this year, being 5,400.

The detailed figures for the lockages of 1906, as given by Mr. McFarlane, are as follows:

No. of steamers	538
No. of barges	115
No. of rafts	135
Total	788

There were during the season 27 excursions, the average number on each being 200, giving 5400 persons as having been through this lock during the season. Forty-one different steamers were registered at the lock.

Lumber and Timber.

A considerable quantity of lumber passed through, too, Mr. McFarlane stating that no less than 100,000 feet of lumber went up, and 60,000 down; while 1200 cords of wood passed down in addition to several scows of hardwood, including oak, elm, beech and maple. Two scow loads of hogs went down, and one, up. For the Cavendish Lumber Co., 30,000 pieces of timber went over the dam at Lovesick, and for the Dickson estate no fewer than 70,000 pieces is the estimate.

The Record.

The record for the years from 1898 to 1906, is as follows:

1898	175 lockages
1899	260 "
1900	302 "
1901	415 "
1902	526 "
1903	629 "
1904	668 "
1905	749 "
1906	788 "

Lock Closed.

The lock at Lovesick closed for the season on Thursday, and during the winter months some minor repairs to the lock and dam will be effected. There is, however, very little necessity for repairs, Mr. McFarlane keeping the lock in good working condition.

Water Level.

The average height of water in the upper reach at Lovesick for the past season has been as follows:

May 4, 7 feet 7 inches.
June 4, 7 feet 1 inch.
July 4, 7 feet 8 inches.
August 4, 6 feet 11 inches.
September 4, 6 feet 9 inches.
October 4, 6 feet 4 inches.
November 4, 6 feet 7 inches.

DIAMOND LODGE HEARD SATISFACTORY REPORTS

From Committee in Reference to the Recent 5th of Nov. Concert—Interesting Meeting Last Night.

Diamond Lodge, L.O.L., held an unusually interesting meeting last night. The attendance was large, and the reports of the committees appointed to arrange for the recent concert on November 5 were most encouraging, and as a result a considerable sum will be added to the funds of the lodge. Reference was made to the fact that Dr. Sproule refused to accept any remuneration for his services during his recent visit. The brethren were raised to the Royal Arch Purple Chapter, Rev. A. H. Brace acting as chaplain.

NO BANK FAILURES AMONG THE CHINESE

It is one hundred years since the failure of a bank in China, said a bank examiner. More than nine hundred years ago, in the reign of Hi Hung, a bank failed. Hi Hung had the failure investigated, and to his indignation found it had been due to reckless and shady conduct on the part of the directors and the president. Hi Hung at once issued an edict that the next time a bank failed the heads of its president and directors were to be cut off. This edict, which has never been revoked, has made China's banking institutions the safest in the world.

STEEL SUPPORTS FOR PONTOONS ON LIFT LOCK

New Method of Laying Up Lift Lock Will be Employed This Year—No Timber Supports Any More.

WATER WILL BE LEFT IN CANAL, TOO

To-morrow a staff of about twenty men, from the Montreal Bridge Works, Montreal, will be here to lay up lift lock for the winter. This year a different method will be used in preparing the lock for the winter, from that employed last year, and it is expected that the new departure will be a decided improvement over that in use formerly.

Instead of having the pontoons resting on a framework of timber, as has been the custom in the past, during the winter, a steel framework has been built, at Montreal and it is expected to arrive to-day. To-morrow the men will be here to place it in position.

To Protect Lock.

By using this steel support it will not be necessary to run the water out of the canal below the lock, and it is also designed to protect the lock itself against possible injury. In the case of timber supports it is represented that there is a danger of them springing and the pistons may be broken off, a contingency which is practically impossible with the steel supports.

Mr. Grant, the Superintending Engineer has recommended this method and it has been adopted.

Water in Canal.

In connection with the upper and lower reaches of the canal this winter a different policy will be pursued, too, from that in the past. The water will be allowed to remain in the canal during the winter, and it is believed that this, too, will be an improvement over the policy pursued in the past, that of emptying the reaches for the winter months. At any rate this winter the water will be left as it is at present, and time will demonstrate which is the better course.

COUNTY BRIDGES WERE INSPECTED YESTERDAY

County Engineer Says the Evans Bridge Is An Excellently Constructed One.

Yesterday morning the Bridge Committee of the County Council, accompanied by the County Engineer, Belcher, visited the new Evans bridge in Otonabee and in the afternoon the Keene bridge, both of which have recently been completed. The members of the Bridge Committee present were Warden Johnston and Councillors Buck, Stinson, Carey and Moloney, Chairman.

The Committee was well pleased with the work, and the Engineer, although his report has not yet been presented, was heard to say that the Evans bridge was one of the best constructed he had ever seen.

His report of the work of the contractors will be made out this week and presented to the council at their meeting next week. Until then it will be impossible to learn whether the work has been done satisfactorily or not.

A Narrow Escape From Electrocution

Two Employees of Peterborough Light and Power Co. had Thrilling Experience Yesterday Afternoon on Pole on Street.

Stanley Spence was His Companion in Danger—A Close Shave from Sudden Death on Water Street

Messrs. Joseph Denno and Stanley Spence, two line men in the employ of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, had a thrilling experience yesterday afternoon, which they would not care to repeat, but from which they escaped comparatively uninjured. They were working at the top of a pole near the corner of Smith and Water streets, and in some manner a short circuit was formed by two wires. The whole top of the pole suddenly seemed to burst into flames. Spence almost fell to the ground, but managed to grab the pole again lower down. To the spectators it appeared as if he were going to fall to the ground, but he saved himself. Denno had his coat almost burnt off, but was otherwise uninjured.

The accident was a most thrilling one and gave a number of eye-witnesses a few moments of anxiety before it was seen that the men had escaped uninjured.

A PETERBOROUGH MAN'S PROMOTION

E. W. Cox Appointed Vice-President of Canada Life Assurance Co.

Mr. E. W. Cox, a former resident of this city, has recently been given an important position with the Canada Life Assurance Company. The Toronto Globe of to-day has the following reference to the promotion:

The Canada Life Board of Directors yesterday appointed Mr. E. W. Cox, General Manager of the Company, to be Vice-President.

Mr. Cox has been for over twenty years—in fact, during his whole business career—actively identified with the Canada Life, first as agency cashier, then successively Agency Manager, Branch Manager, Assistant General Manager, and for four years General Manager of the Company.

The death some months ago of Mr. F. W. Gates, who had for many years held the office of Vice-President, left an opening for this promotion, which had been earned by long, continuous and able service to the Company. Mr. Cox's friends—and they are legion—will congratulate him on his promotion.

GOES TO SCOTLAND TO GET FORTUNE

Mr. James McKenzie Left To-day to take Possession of an Inheritance Left Him by His Father.

Mr. James McKenzie, who for the past number of years has been a resident of Peterborough, left on the noon C.P.R. train to-day for Montreal, where he will take the Allan liner Sicilian for Dingwall, Scotland, where he will claim a fortune left him by his father, who died some little time ago.

Return to Scotland.

Mr. McKenzie was notified in October last of his father's death, and also of the fact that he had been left a snug little fortune, which he has now gone to claim, after an absence of more than 21 years from home. His present intentions are to settle in Scotland, amid the scenes of his boyhood and enjoy what he considers a well-earned rest. During the many years that he has spent in Canada, Mr. McKenzie has passed through a number of varied experiences, but his sojourn here has not been unpleasant, and he has formed many associations which have been sources of enjoyment to him, and which he leaves with regret. Mr. McKenzie has for some time now been employed at the Little Lake Cemetery, and prior to that time was with the Peter Hamilton Co., Limited, from which firm he carries a strong letter of recommendation, as well as one from Mr. Frank Wise, superintendent of the Cemetery Co.

His many friends here will join in wishing him a safe voyage, a pleasant realization of his expectations, and a sure return to the land of his adoption.

A LOYAL SUPPORTER.

In very many ways, Mr. Whitney does not measure up to the magnitude of Sir John A. Macdonald, but he has secured apparently that which Sir John claimed was an especial desideratum — a follower who would not only support him when he was right, but stand by him when he was wrong. Mr. Scott, the Conservative candidate in East Hamilton, has denounced Mr. Whitney's action in removing the Normal College from Hamilton, as a foul wrong, but he openly refuses to promise to try to undo the outrage, and he will not censure Mr. Whitney nor the Government for it. The late Mr. Carscallen stood by the Government's pretty staunchly, but he never would have been guilty of such abject sycophancy and pliability as a tool of party. One would have thought from Mr. Scott's attitude that he was prepared to give the Government an uncomfortable quarter of an hour over the Normal College question, but it seems that he is willing that Hamilton should prostrate itself in the dust in the person of its representative, and permit the Whitney Government to walk over it. It is no surprise that where Mr Scott is known, no stock is taken in the sincerity of his denunciation of the Central Prison contract, which permits prison labour to compete so disastrously with honest labour. The labour party has a candidate in the field in opposition to him. One doesn't often get a Conservative candidate or politician to take an honest interest in the welfare of labour — by classes, not the masses, for him.

THE STRAIN.

Prof. G. M. Wrong, of the University of Toronto, who recently visited this city, in a letter to the London Spectator, declares that Lord Alverstone's action in the Alaska boundary award did more towards breaking up the British Empire than anything else that has happened during the last quarter of a century. No doubt the action referred to coming upon the back of other similar instances of what Canadians consider a sacrifice of their interests, has resulted in a straining of the bond that unites us with the Mother Country. But that the action referred to by itself is in danger of breaking this bond is to be questioned. In the interests of imperial unity, however, it is not perhaps safe to subject the acquiescence of Canada in measures hostile to her own interests, and derogatory to her self respect to too great a strain. We are prepared to make reasonable and necessary sacrifices in the interests of the general welfare of the Empire, but we cannot be expected to constitute ourselves a buffer in perpetuity between United States greed and Downing street compliance, with the general certainty of being squeezed in a most uncomfortable and undignified manner. Prof. Wrong is very largely justified in asserting that since the Alaska award he has had excellent means of observing — "the tone of our most thoughtful youth towards Great Britain, and I am obliged to admit, with deep regret, that distrust, often anger, are now to be found where not many years ago they were wholly wanting." This is unfortunately too true. It is to be feared that the feelings of resentment which are now finding expression have long been smouldering under a layer of unquestioning loyalty. Canada is well contented in general with her relations to the central imperial authority, but if the conditions that justify that contentment are subjected to undue violence, they cannot always be expected to be as satisfactory as they have been, from a passive point of view, in the past. Canada has become too big to be a mere pawn, upon the international board. We can stand a good deal in the way of patronizing airs on the part of John Bull, but we are disgusted of our feelings and it becomes hard to bear with smiling equanimity.

WHAT CANADA NEEDS.

Preaching on "Conditions in Canada, and their Cure," in the American Presbyterian church, in Montreal last Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Johnston said that the decline in personal and family religion was the cause of the prevalent corruption in political and commercial life. What a country threatened by materialism needed, was a three-fold remedy: First, a poet speaking in a tone different from the man on the street, as Kipling's "Recessional" recalled England to a sense of her dependence on God, at a time when the country was aflame with ideas of her greatness. The second remedy was a statesman who was not afraid to utter the name of God, and insist on the obligation of the moral law, alike on nations and individuals. Such men as John Bright and William Ewart Gladstone had left a wholesome and helpful influence on political life in England. The last remedy was preachers whose souls were open, and who were not afraid to deliver their message.

This is all very beautiful, and the sermon, of which it is a summary, was doubtless a thrilling spell of eloquence. But it is to just such sermons as this that we owe a great deal of the theoretical Christianity of the present day, which has the form of godliness, without the power and spiritual essence. If the Gospel were thundered from the pulpit with the fearless directness, which made Felix tremble under St. Paul's eloquent preaching, the hearts of man would be touched and moulded to better conditions. What, perhaps is needed is less essay, and more gospel sermon, from the pulpit. Rev. Mr. Johnston puts a poet as the first need to secure moral regeneration; next a politician; putting in the third place the Gospel, which is all in all. If the power of the Gospel were brought to bear upon the masses effectively, the statesmen of the country would have to be good. Ministerial moonshine in the pulpit, with parsons purring pretty platitudes, can never take the place of the regenerating glow of the Gospel fire from lips touched as with a live coal from the altar. Canada may need a prophet in the form of a poet, but its greatest need is the preacher of the Gospel. Get the heart right and the man is right, with the man right the statesman will be right. The politician cannot make bricks without straw. He cannot successfully practice corruption without material. Transform the material, and corruption in politics ends.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Senator Vidal, of Sarnia, who died on Sunday in his 88th year, will be much missed by the temperance workers of the country. He was devoted to the cause and gave much of his time and energy to it. His activities in the cause were exercised at a time when temperance had not been so extensively prostituted to the service of political ends as in recent years. He served the cause because he believed in it, not because his services would be particularly beneficial to a party.

APPLE CROP REPORTS.

The latest report of the apple crop of the United States is that the yield reaches 36,120,000 barrels. This is 12,625,000 barrels more than the 1905 crop. The estimated crop in New York state is 4,900,000 barrels, or larger by 1,000,000 barrels than the production in any other state. The estimated New York crop equals the crop in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee combined, and if equally distributed to the people of the state, would give half a barrel to each man, woman and child. In view of the large crops in New England and Central States, and Nova Scotia, the dealers in Canadian centres are loath to speculate. The prices so far in the old country have been well maintained in view of the large visible supply available for export. The shipments to Germany will be curtailed this season, owing to the imposition of a duty of 65 cents a barrel on apples from the United States, and of about $1.50 per barrel on Canadian apples by the German Government. From present conditions the shipments to the British markets from America this year will be heavy, amounting probably to 2,000,000 barrels. The total Ontario crop is estimated at approximately 500,000 barrels, or abou. 26 per cent. less than a year ago. The crop was damaged by wind storms in the fall and hail during the summer months.

Three thousand five hundred barrels of Canadian apples offered for sale at Liverpool on November 6, met with a good demand at 13s to 17s 6d for ordinary description and 21s 6d for fancy qualities.

RECEPTION TENDERED TO DR. COUGHLIN

Staff and Teachers Promised Support —Words of welcome From Prof. Denys.

Belleville, Nov. 19.—(Special.) — The inaugural reception was tendered to C. B. Coughlin, the new superintendent and principal of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, here to-day, when the staff and pupils assembled in the chapel. Professors Coleman and Denys escorted the new superintendent in. Dr. Coughlin spoke briefly, but pointedly. He promised to be a friend to all who did their duty zealously towards the institution. Professor Coleman, senior member of the staff, and Professor Denys assured Dr. Coughlin that he would find in their silent little kingdom as loyal a staff and school as men and women of honour and heart could be. In the past all religious views were respected, and they would be in future. Professor Denys closed his words of welcome by saying, "The King is dead; long live the King." Queen is dead; long live the King."

Any Inexperienced Person Can Dye Successfully With

DIAMOND DYES

There are no mysteries about the use and handling of DIAMOND DYES. The directions given on each package are so concise and simple that the dyeing of a dress, costume, blouse, jacket or suit of clothes is made easy and pleasant work.

We are aware of the fact that some ladies are badly disappointed after a trial of dyeing work. The reason is obvious; they unfortunately have used some make of worthless dyes foisted on them by some unscrupulous dealers.

A child that can read can dye any article successfully with DIAMOND DYES. These world-famed dyes are put up by experienced chemists, which accounts for their uniformity in quality, strength and brilliancy. When you buy DIAMOND DYES you get the world's best dyes.

Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., for a valuable dye book and card of Dyed Samples; free to any address.

SUES PARSON FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Wants $25,000 From Him — Says He Offered to Marry Her.

Baltimore, November 19th. — The Rev. Edward E. Waltz, 70 years of age, formerly of Herford Baptist church, Baltimore, now stationed at Williamsport, Pa., was sued to-day by Miss Susie Wheeler, a young woman, for $25,0000 for alleged breach of promise to marry. Miss Wheeler offered in evidence the following letter, which, she says, the pastor wrote her:

"When I visited you I did not go on a wife hunting expedition. Yet my longing desires for a home of my own, my sense of utter loneliness and the famishing desire of my heart for some one to love, who would love me in return, and thus fill the aching void of my life, led me to decide that at the proper time when I could and would meet the proper woman, I would marry again. After my first visit to you, involuntarily, and without any forethought, the feeling was impressed on my mind, "There is your destiny —Susie Wheeler is to be your wife." I have a heartful of love, which I offer to you."

NOT TO CALL SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL

Light and Power Co's Offer According to Mayor Will Be Left Until December Meeting.

ALD. M'WILLIAMS' VIEW OF PROPOSAL

Ald. McWilliams, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council, when seen by The Examiner this morning in reference to the offer of the Peterborough Light and Power Company to dispose of their electric lighting and gas business to the city, stated that he held the same views in connection with the proposal as he did in regard to the municipal steam heating proposition. He felt, however, that the bringing of the lighting and gas business under municipal control was more important, inasmuch as more people used these commodities than would take advantage of the steam heating system. With the latter proposal, however, it would be necessary to secure much information before any definite steps were taken to acquire the business.

The Mayor's View.

Mayor Best this afternoon stated that he had nothing whatever to say about the offer of the company, and refused to discuss the proposition at all. When asked if it was his intention to call a special meeting of the Council to deal with the matter, he replied in the negative, and stated that unless a meeting was called earlier for some other reason, the matter would not be discussed until the regular meeting of the Council on the first Monday of December.

THUGS TERRORIZE PITTSBURG WOMEN

More Outrageous Attacks in That City.

Examiner Special.

Pittsburg, Nov. 20.—Three outrageous attacks on women, as a result of Pittsburg's carnival of crime, were reported to the police to-day.

Early Thursday evening Miss Jeanette Brownlee, of North Braddock, started to go to Swissvale to pay a premium on an insurance policy. On the way she was confronted by a negro, who snatched her purse, and when she screamed, threw the contents of a vial of carbolic acid in her face. She fell unconscious just as two men approached and the negro fled in the darkness and escaped. Miss Brownlee is in a very serious condition, her face, neck and hands being badly burned.

Last evening while Mrs. P. G. Foley, of Haslett avenue, Lincoln place, was alone in her home, there was a knock at the side door, and when she opened it a man with a handkerchief tied about his face pushed past her. Mrs. Foley screamed and the man felled her with a blow with a heavy cane. She was found unconscious on the floor half an hour later by her husband on his return home. The man had ransacked the house, securing $8 in money and some silverware.

Miss Margaret Nichols was returning to her home in McKeesport early last evening when she was confronted by a masked man who attempted to take her pocketbook. The girl struggled and screamed and Councilman A. J. Kemp ran to the spot, but the robber had fled.

This afternoon George Grady, wanted by the police of Sharpsburg for alleged connection with six different hold-ups in the last ten days, was arrested at the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street by four constables and two policemen. Grady put up a stiff fight against the six officers, but was finally overpowered and dragged to the Central Station. Before reaching the station Grady apparently unconscious, suffering, as it appeared, from an epileptic fit. He seemed to be in such a serious condition that he was hurried to a hospital and placed in a private room. The two physicians who were with him left him for a moment to get some medicine, as Grady appeared to be dying. When they returned Grady was gone.

The chorus girls of the Jefferson de Angelis opera company, playing at the Nixon Theatre, have notified the manager that he must provide them with sleeping apartments in the theatre, as they are afraid to go home alone after the night performances. It was impossible to allow the girls to sleep in the theatre and so male escorts were provided for them.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 20.—Developments this morning were conducive to a strong market and despite repeated attempts in the morning on the part of the professional element to depress the list, it successfully resisted the pressure, and although irregular, gave evidence of good support and undertone.

We believe the market should be bought on all these soft spots for as it hardens it will again creep higher, perhaps by specialty movements. The large interests are bullish, and are said to have been pleased with the manner in which realizing sales were accepted for outside account on an experimental rise.

Illinois Central, Gen Electric, Amn. Locomotive and People's Gas were the features, all scoring large gains. In the afternoon the rate for call money was run up to 10 p. c. and much of the early gains were lost. On the decline the market became very dull while Rock Island was shoved up. The close was dull and a little heavy.

Side Entrance.

—In order to provide additional seating accommodation for the lecture in St. John's school house tonight, the entrance will be at the side instead of at the front, so that those attending will enter by the door at the east side of the building, which will be open for that purpose.

Allowed to go.

—Jos. Shearer appeared before Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon, and, after carefully considering the matter, the Magistrate allowed him to go once more on suspended sentence. He warned him that if he ever appeared before him again he would receive the full limit of the law.

Give Your Brains a Chance.

—We are now receiving fancy golden finnan haddie, oiscoes, kippered herring, white fish, sea salmon, salmon trout and our famous Long Island oysters. Also Labrador herring, boneless cod, etc. These are all very fine and appetizing. S. A. OKE, 376 George street. Machine 'phone 18; Bell 'phone 18.

Street Railway Change.

—The conductors and motormen of the local street railway have again been moved from one route to another, as is usually done every three months. Those passengers who have become used to certain motormen and conductors will miss them now, because the company, for their own reasons, have moved them to a new route.

Teaching Opticians.

—J. W. Browett, Dr. of Optics, whose permanent address is 402 Huron street, Toronto, left for that city this morning. This gentleman will deliver a course of lectures to opticians in Bolton and Collingwood, before returning to Peterborough. The orders for spectacles given the specialist will be forwarded through Messrs. McDermid & Jury. The date of return to Peterborough will be announced through the papers.

Almost Crazy With Headache

EXHAUSTED NERVES, INDIGESTION PALPITATION AND SLEEPLESSNESS—AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE EFFECTED BY

Many a woman has experiences similar to those of Mrs. Edwards, though it may be that few suffer so keenly

You find yourself a frequent sufferer from headache, little things worry and irritate you, digestion fails, you cannot rest or sleep, gradually you become weaker and more discouraged and look forward gloomily to approaching prostration or paralysis.

Cure can only come when the richness is restored to the blood and vitality to the nervous system by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 32 McMurray street, Brantford, Ont., writes:—"For five years I suffered more than words can tell from nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and exhaustion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in agony until I fell exhausted and unconscious. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would palpitate. My greatest suffering was caused by dreadful pains in the head, neck and back and all this was in spite of the best efforts of three leading doctors of this city.

"For the past nine months I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for a considerable time I have not experienced a headache, or any of the symptoms mentioned above. From a mere skeleton this medicine has built me up in flesh and weight, until I am strong and well and am thoroughly restored to health."

This great food cure is radically different to the medicines that are usually used for nervous diseases, for, while they stimulate tired nerves to over-exertion, or, by narcotic influence, soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lastingly beneficial results.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. W. J. Puffer, Norwood, was in the city to-day.

Mr. J. J. Kearns, representing the American Technical Society of Chicago, is in the city for a couple of weeks demonstrating an educational work.

Miss May Batley has returned to Orillia after having spent a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) E. A. Langfeldt, at St. Luke's rectory.

Mr. A. B. Spellman, of the Clarendon House, Hastings, was in the city to-day. He reports progress in village affairs and general business encouragingly brisk.

Mr. Norman Brown, of the Bank of Montreal, Peterborough, is home on a two weeks' leave of absence. He is on the sick list.....Mr. J. C. Stinson, Peterborough, was in town to-day. Mr. N. P. McLean, Peterborough, was in town to-day, a guest at the Benson House.—Lindsay Post.

CALLED OUT MILITIA TO STRIKERS

Toronto Dragoons Are to Protect the Hamilton Cars.

RESULT OF A CONFERENCE

Between Mayor Biggar of Hamilton, Magistrates Jeffs and Moore and Sheriff Middleton Behind Closed Doors—Car Windows Shattered and Two Lady Passengers Injured by Missiles Thrown.

Hamilton, Nov. 20.—To-night will see the Toronto Dragoons quartered in Hamilton.

Yesterday afternoon when the company notified Mayor Biggar that it would operate its cars last night the mayor asked it not to do so as he thought it would only invite trouble and the police were not strong enough to give adequate protection.

The company was at first obdurate and the mayor summoned two justices of the peace, Magistrate Jeffs and W. C. Moore, as the statute provides that the mayor and two justices of the peace may call out the militia. Sheriff Middleton was also present at the conference, which was held behind locked doors.

Agreed to Send For Dragoons.

It is understood, however, that they agreed to send for the dragoons. The company finally backed up, however, and consented not to operate after nightfall until to-day, and on that understanding the call for the militia was delayed until to-day, it is said.

Another conference has been called for to-day, and it is thought that if the call for the dragoons has not already been sent in, they will be sent to-day, so that the soldiers will be here in time to protect the cars and keep order to-night. It was decided that mounted troops would have a better effect in keeping order than infantry.

Car Windows Shattered.

Although the cars were taken into the barns before dark yesterday, there were two serious disturbances and car windows were shattered with iron balls, stones and bricks. The most serious trouble occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the corner of Barton street and Sanford avenue. A large crowd collected to hoot at a car and a brick was hurled through a window.

Two ladies who were riding in the car were painfully injured. One of the victims is a teacher at the school near the Jockey Club. She was struck in the face by the brick and the flying glass. Another lady was also wounded by glass. The special detectives on the car were unable to detect the culprit.

Yesterday at noon a car was derailed at the corner of Barton street and Sherman avenue. The windows were all shattered by iron balls and stones, but no one was hurt.

At the meeting of the board of health last evening the sanitary inspectors were given instructions not to use the cars during the strike.

TRAGEDY IN WARSAW.

Street Attack and Attempt to Rob Frustrated With Two Deaths.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 20.—A daring terrorist attack was made in the streets yesterday on a collector of the Government alcohol stores, who was escorted by two policemen.

The terrorists killed one soldier, wounded the collector and seized a bag containing $1,000. The remaining soldier fired wildly, killed a passerby and wounded another, whereupon the terrorists dropped their booty and escaped.

The two leaders of the band of revolutionists and 20 others implicated in the train robbery at Rogow Nov. 8, by which the revolutionists secured a sum of money, said to amount to $650,000, have been arrested. They all belong to the Polish Socialistic party.

Parry Sound Jubilant.

Parry Sound, Nov. 20.—The arrival of the first Canadian Northern Ontario train here at 3.50 p.m. yesterday afternoon was the signal for general rejoicing on the part of the inhabitants. The population turned out en masse to meet the train. The local military band behaved themselves nobly in their efforts to make the welcome as uproarious as possible. Whistles blew, horns tooted, and the crowds cheered with great energy. The same reception was met with at all stations en route and especially at Beaverton, the principal station between Toronto and Parry Sound, where the occasion was celebrated by a holiday.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—There was no demonstration at the Union Station when the first train pulled in at 2.30 p.m. Very good time was made in the journey down, and Conductor Anderson had about 100 passengers.

Niagara Power In Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Yesterday afternoon in presence of a party of officials of the Electrical Development Co., the Toronto Electric Light Co., and the Toronto Street Railway Co. the switch was "cut in" and the Niagara electric current passed into the transformers. Both lines were operated with equal success. It is expected that in two or three days 10,000 to 15,000 horsepower will be in the city for distribution by the Toronto Electric Light Co., and that the Toronto Railway Co. will receive a supply for emergency needs.

Mr. Pardee to Move Address.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The address in reply to the speech from the throne with which His Excellency the Governor-General will open the third session of the tenth Parliament of Canada on Thursday next, will be moved in the Commons by Fred F. Pardee, member for West Lambton. Mr. Marcil of Bagot will second the address in French.

Five Vacancies In Senate.

Ottawa, Nov. 20. The death of Senator Vidal makes the fifth vacancy in the upper House. The other vacancies were caused by the demise of Senators Black and Church in Nova Scotia, and Wark and Dever in New Brunswick.

DYING ALL TOO SOON.

Sad Fate of Michael P. Laffey of Ottawa Who is to Come Into a Million Dollars 16th Jan., 1907.

New York, Nov. 20.—The automobile drivers' strike ended early yesterday. The men gained an increase in wages.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 20.—Practically the entire business section of Fayette, Miss., was destroyed by fire last night, entailing a loss of about $75,000; partly covered by insurance.

Perth, West Australia, Nov. 20.—An earthquake occurred at 3.20 o'clock yesterday afternoon along the whole coast from Albany to Shark's Bay. The disturbance was very severe at Perth, Busselton, Geraldton and Marble Bar.

Brampton, Nov. 20.—Geo. Abbott, one of the prisoners who escaped from the Brampton jail two weeks ago, was returned to that institution on Sunday morning by Constable Rutledge of Streetsville, who discovered him in a barn on the farm of A. Sandford, near Cooksville.

New York, Nov. 20.—Yesterday Policeman O'Brien was attacked by a man who said he was Charles Douglass of London, Ont., and on being searched $567.10 in Canadian bills was found in his pockets. He said he was a farm hand, and wanted to be killed when his money was taken from him.

Brantford, Nov. 20.—At the inquest held last night on the death of Edmund Gaines, who was killed on Friday last, in the Brantford Brick Co.'s yard, by a form-presser, a verdict was returned that Gaines came to his death through his own carelessness and exonerated the employers from all liability.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 20.—Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, D.D., of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Rochester, is condemned to suspension from the Church as a result of the decision of the Protestant Episcopal Court of Review, which the decision of the lower court that Dr. Crapsey should be suspended for alleged heretical teachings.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Michael Patrick Laffey, formerly of Ottawa, but lately employed in a livery establishment, is dying. He is heir to one million dollars, which he was to receive under his parents' will when 21 years old, 16th January, next, and was to have been married shortly to Miss Marguerite Barron, 202 Nicholas street, Ottawa. The dying man was one of the unfortunate passengers in the C.P.R. train wreck, near Kamloops, last week. He was on his way to visit his fiancee. The young man has had an adventurous career, and, having exhausted the funds provided for his education, he has battled with the world for a living since he was 14 years of age.

BOB COOK AMUCK.

Vanquishes Orangeville Police Force—Slashes a Constable and Puts Two Others on the Run.

Orangeville, Nov. 20.—Yesterday afternoon three constables undertook to arrest Bob Cook, a notorious character, and widely known as "Fighting Bob."

He was to appear at Grand Valley three weeks ago for creating a disturbance at the fall fair, but refused to comply with the summons, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Two garnishee papers were also out against him, and as he was passing through this town with his threshing outfit, Bailiff James Morrison served these papers, whereupon Cook at once trampled them into the mud and rode on.

Chief Speers was notified, and together with High Constable Hughes and Night Constable Halbert attempted to arrest him. Cook immediately showed signs of fight. The constables were apparently getting the best of the tussle, when Cook managed to draw a large knife from his overcoat and slashed Constable Halbert, inflicting a terrible wound in his left arm. Having one arm disabled, Cook made a pass at Constable Hughes' neck, but fortunately missed. Failing in this he resorted to the throwing of stones, and did effective work on Constable Hughes, who was also the recipient of a few well aimed kicks. The constables finally returned up town, being powerless to defend themselves further, as all were unarmed.

Cook then continued his journey, and was seen last evening as he was boarding a westbound train. He is credited with the threat he would never be taken alive.

Police all along the line have been notified and it is understood the town will offer a reward for his capture.

Horace Grigg Dies of Wounds.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Horace W. Grigg, who was shot by an unknown man on Tuesday night in Harold avenue, died yesterday morning in the General Hospital. Death occurred in the presence of his mother, who had come from Toronto. A little after three yesterday morning Judge Desnoyers was summoned, and Mr. Grigg, in the belief that he would yet recover, made an informal statement as to his having been held-up by a man whom he thought was a negro, and shot, but no formal ante mortem declaration was made, and death ensued shortly afterwards.

"REGINA IS THE BEST CITY IN WEST:" A. J. GIBSON

Peterborough Man in Real Estate Business in Saskatchewan's Capital Tells of Great Progress Made.

GROWS FROM 2645 IN 1902 TO 10,000

From a population of 2,645 in 1902 to 10,000 in 1906 is the record of Regina, the new capital of the Province of Saskatchewan, and it is hard to believe that any Canadian city can beat it. Mr. Arthur J. Gibson, of the firm of Wilson and Gibson, real estate brokers of Regina, a former Peterborough boy, has returned from the West, and will remain in the city for a time, at least. To The Examiner he tells a wonderful story of progress as it relates to the city of Regina.

Future Assured.

He believes that no city in the West has made such advances as Regina, and, judging by the present activity, this progress, which he states is not in the nature of a boom, but a steady growth, augurs well for the future of the city.

The last season has been a very prosperous one for the farmers in the Regina District, the crops have been excellent and prices have been high. Threshing is now practically completed, and all they have to do now is to realize on the work of the past summer, which they are doing, and the results seem to be quite satisfactory.

A Great Wheat Section.

The district in the vicinity of that city has developed during recent years into a splendid wheat growing section, and it has been settled as thickly as many of the best sections in Ontario. There are no free homesteads to be had anywhere in the Regina district, everything having been taken up, and the land is now under cultivation.

Assessment Growth.

In the city itself, however, the greatest progress has been made, and in proportion to the growth in population, the assessment of the city has increased, the figures in 1903 being $1,226,000, while in 1906 the assessed value of city property had increased to $7,083,979, a record which few, if any, cities in Canada can equal.

Wealthy Corporation.

The corporation is also said to be the wealthiest municipal corporation in Canada, the city owning property which, at the prevailing property value is worth three-quarters of a million dollars. During the last year half a million dollars have been spent on the streets, and in spite of this large expenditure or money the tax rate is only 15 mills on the dollar. Regina is the only city in the Province which has payed streets and granolithic walks, and as a result of this favoured position the citizens naturally look upon themselves as a little more progressive than those unfortunate enough to happen to live in some of the other cities in the Province.

Parliament Buildings.

Work has been commenced on the plans for the new Parliament Buildings, which will be erected just outside the city limits at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars. The site has been selected, and it is expected that in the early spring actual work on their construction will be commenced.

Real Estate Active.

Mr. Gibson, during the three years that he has spent in Regina, has become westernized to a considerable extent, and in respect to his enthusiasm, he is a thorough western man. For the last year he has been in the real estate business, which he has been very successful in, having sold a quantity of western lands to Peterborough capitalists, and the investment has proved satisfactory.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY OPENING MEETING

An Interesting Gathering of Collegiate Institute Society Held Yesterday Afternoon at Y. M. C. A.

The Philomathean Society of the Collegiate Institute held a very interesting meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at the close of school yesterday afternoon.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read, approved and adopted. Then followed the auditor's report in which several suggestions were made as to the manner of transacting the Society's business in the future.

The President next called for any business to be discussed.

Accordingly Mr. Allan Munro moved that the constitution be amended by striking out the word (three) in article five, subsection one, and substitting the word (two.) This amendment of the constitution would provide for a meeting of the Society every two weeks instead of every three. He said that the purpose of the Society was to encourage public speaking and debating, and therefore they should have more meetings in order to give all the pupils a chance.

The motion was seconded by Miss Fessenden

The question was voted upon and carried by a large majority.

Miss Edith Connor then favoured the audience with a piano solo which was well rendered.

The next on the programme was the reading of a journal by Miss Katie Leary, which had been prepared by Miss Crane, Miss Burnett and Mr. Edward Mann. They mentioned that several years ago a paper called "The Collegiate Echoes," had been edited, but it had disappeared suddenly, as too much work was involved for some of the pupils. At a recent meeting of the executive it was decided to have another paper, and to have at least the first read at a meeting of the Society. They also expressed their regret at the departure of Mr. Jeffries, and hoped that certain rumours which were in circulation regarding the loss to Peterborough of another teacher had no foundation, adding: We "rather bear those ills that we have; than fly to others that we know not of."

The next in the paper was a very interesting and instructive sketch of the life of Mary Queen of Scots, composed by Miss E. Kells.

A delightful piano solo was then given by Mr. K. Shook, one of the gentlemen of the Collegiate endowed with a musical talent.

As the reading of the journal had not been completed, Miss Leary then read the remainder. This part contained a somewhat humourous sketch of Professor Boomer and his Scientific inventions, such as, seedless apples and the culture of lighted bees which could produce twice as much honey as the ordinary bee. Several other interesting subjects were also discussed in this journal.

Miss M. Halpin favoured the audience with a recitation entitled "The Marquis of Lorne."

A lively piano solo which was enjoyed by all, was rendered by Miss M. Mann.

Mr. Hodgson then gave a pleasing and profitable criticism of the meeting. He said he was glad that the Society would, in future, meet every two weeks. He thought the auditor's report was excellent, her suggestions being good, and he stated that as the treasurer had numerous books to buy in connection with her office, she should be remunerated. He was very much pleased at seeing the paper revived, and was delighted with the work done in that line. He said that the journal just read was a credit to the editorial staff, and to all those who had taken part. He was sure that reading the journal at the meetings would create a deeper interest in the members of the Society.

The meeting was then brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

A RICE LAKE GUIDE IS VISITING IN THE CITY

Mr. Ed. Young, of Harwood, Here After a Successful Season's Work at Rice Lake Resorts.

Mr. Ed. Young of Harwood, the genial and well-known, all-round sport, came up on the steamer Water Lily, Saturday, and is spending a well-earned holiday in the city.

Mr. Young is one of the up-to-date guides on Rice Lake, a fisherman and duck shooter of repute, and one of the stalwarts on the well-known Harwood football team.

Mr. Young's achievements are appreciated all the more from the fact that he labours under the disadvantage of having only one arm to work with, more power to it!

ELEVEN MILLION FEET SEASON'S CUT OF LUMBER CO.

Mr. Cresswell, Superintendent of Woods Operations for Cavendish Lumber Company Says Season Has Been Satisfactory.

450 MEN AND 40 TEAMS AT WORK

The Lindsay Post of yesterday said: Mr. Wm. Cresswell, of Peterborough, superintendent of the Cavendish Lumber Co., (successors to the Dickson Co.), was in town the other day for a few hours. In conversation with the Post, Mr. Cresswell said the season could not well be more favourable for cutting than it has been up to the present. The ordinary citizen connects the commencement of work in the lumber limits with the first good fall of snow after the advant of real cold weather, but the fact is that usually when this comes the season's cut is already about half done. For instance, the Cavendish Co. has had over 300 men at work for three months, and to-day there are 450 men and 40 teams employed in the five camps in Anstruther township, east of Cavendish township, while the cut of timber has reached eleven million feet out of an expected total of twenty millions. The wages paid range from $20 to $30—an average of about $4 higher than last year.

EX-ALD. CLINKSCALE'S FATHER PASSES AWAY

Was One of the Pioneers of the County of Peterborough—At One Time Lived on Farm in Township of Otonabee.

Ex-Ald. and Mrs. Clinkscale returned to the city last night, after having been in Haliburton attending the funeral of the late William Clinkscale, father of Mr. Robt. Clinkscale, who passed away on Thursday last, at the age of 82 years. Deceased was one of the pioneers of Peterborough County, where he lived, after his arrival from Scotland, where he was born, until 30 years ago, when he went to Haliburton and had resided there ever since. During the time that he lived in Peterborough County he was farming in the township of Otonabee, and he will be remembered well by the older residents of that township.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon from the homestead to the cemetery at Haliburton village, and was attended by a very large number of friends of the deceased, who gathered to pay their last tributes to his memory.

And Wolfe Street Wharf will be Quiet Again Until Spring—Evidence of Cessation of work on Water.

Some of the crew of the well known and reliable steamer, Water Lily, were noticed meandering up George street this morning with their little grips, which event is significant of the fact that the winter season is upon us and that the Wolfe street wharf will not know the pleasant meetings of the patrons of the steamboats for several months to come.

MRS. HUBBARD TELLS OF TRAVELS IN LABRADOR

First White Person who Penetrated the Wilds of the Ungava District—Story of Husband's Death

HAS GIVEN NAMES TO MANY PLACES

Peterborough is honoured to-day by the visit of Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, the first white human being who ever penetrated the heart of the yet scarcely explored peninsula of Labrador. Mrs. Hubbard is a lady well known to the province as well as to the people of Peterborough as one of Canada's heroines who has performed a great work of exploration in the wilds of Labrador where her husband a few years before, lost his life for the same cause.

Her maiden name was Mina Benson, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Benson, with a sister and brother, still reside where she was born in Hamilton township, in the County of Northumberland near the little village of Bewdley, lying on the shore of Rice Lake. She has been visiting at her home for a few days, coming to the city last night. To-night she will give a lecture at St. John's school room — the first she will ever have delivered in Canada. Before coming to Bewdley she spent some time in Williamstown, Mass., to which place she went after her tour of exploration through the great district of Ungava.

This morning Mrs. Hubbard was seen by an Examiner reporter who listened to a most interesting report of her journey from Northwest River Post on Groswater Bay to Ungava Inlet in the north of the district.

A 600 Mile Journey.

Mrs. Hubbard left Halifax in June, 1905, with a determination to complete the journey across the great eastern peninsula which her late husband had contemplated and in which he died. From Halifax she went by steamship around Newfoundland to Hamilton Inlet on the eastern coast of Labrador and sailed through to Groswater Bay towards the interior. Here with four guides a thoroughbred Cree Indian, a Scotch and Russian Indian and a half bred Eskimo, she left Northwest River Post in canoes for the trying trip northward through unknown territory. The whole journey lasted five months, but the tour across Labrador only two, being a distance of some 600 miles.

An Exciting Trip.

The journey northward and especially to the height of Land, was a most exciting and dangerous one. The rapids were frequent and it was often by the merest chance combined with the great skill of the guides that the voyage was made in safety. Another important event was the witness of one of those rare scenes — the migration of a herd of caribou. One herd near the height of land, contained about 1000 animals. Their course is most erratic, but from their first movements one would suppose that they were migrating eastward.

The Course Taken.

From Grand Lake, upon which Northwest River post is situated, Mrs. Hubbard followed the Nascaupea river, and on through numerous small lakes and rivers to the height of land. This was the most difficult part of the journey, as the rapids had to be ascended and many portages had to be made. Of the two months about 43 days were spent on this uphill journey, while the remainder of the trip, from the height of land down the George river to Ungava Bay, was completed in 17 days. For 350 miles the party never met a single human being. Two tribes of Indians were then met with —the Montagnais and the Nascaupee. The former, even the little children, wore the crucifix, but there was no sign of religion among the latter. The homes of the Indians were constructed in Indian fashion, and the old skin wigwams were much in evidence.

Plenty of Provisions.

Mrs. Hubbard left Northwest River post with 750 lbs. of provisions, which together with the game, consisting of caribou, fish, ducks, geese, partridge and other game found in abundance was quite sufficient to sustain the party on their journey to Ungava Bay.

The country through which they passed was principally a rocky desert, studded with stunted larch and spruce, and caribou moss. The southern part of the district, however, is more rich in plant life and trees in abundance are to be found there.

The George River, which empties into Ungava Bay, is a large stream. At the mouth it is about three miles in width, and when affected by the tides, it is very much wider. Its source is Lake Hubbard, named after Mrs. Hubbard herself. In fact, almost all the lakes and rivers through which the party passed, were named by Mrs. Hubbard, and these names and the places they represent are clearly shown on a map prepared by her, and which was shown the Examiner this morning.

The Late Mr. Hubbard's Tour.

The journey of the late Mr. Hubbard was also explained by his wife. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan, and had always been interested in the work of exploration. He had always a desire to explore Labrador, and in 1903 left with Messrs. George Elson and Dillon Wallace, the latter being the author of that well known book, "The Lure of the Labrador Wild," which he subsequently wrote.

Mr. Hubbard went out as a representative of Outing Magazine, for which he had intended to write. He followed the Susan River from Grand Lake, instead of the Nascaupee River, the mouth of which was obscured by islands. In this way he and his party became lost and followed the wrong course. For three months they travelled reaching what is now known as Mount Hubbard, and saw the Michikamau Lake, were however forced to retrace their steps on account of their provisions running out, and it was on this return journey to Grand Lake that Mr. Hubbard became ill and died. Mrs. Hubbard did not pass near the remains of her late husband, which were buried where he died, but went farther west of that spot.

The lecture to-night will no doubt be an interesting one, as she is thoroughly acquainted with the subject of her address — the land of Labrador. To-morrow night she will lecture in Ottawa under the auspices of the Canadian Club and on Friday night she will be in Toronto at McMaster University.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD A DEVOTIONAL SERVICE

Large Gathering of Park Street Baptist B.Y.P.U. Held Last Night—Young Ladies Read Thoughtful Papers.

The B.Y.P.U. of the Park Street Baptist Church is taking on new life. The young people rallied last night in large numbers and a most interesting meeting was held. The Vice-President, Mr. Albert Lukpin, was in charge of the meeting, which was of a devotional character, several musical selections being given, and two carefully prepared papers were read by Miss Edith Johnston and Miss Lulu Buntin. These papers were the first efforts of the young ladies along these lines and were much enjoyed, giving evidence of much thought having been given to their preparation.

ENJOYABLE EVENING SPENT AT ST. LUKE'S

Joint Meeting of Women's Auxiliary, of Anglican Churches, Addressed by Miss Cartwright, of Toronto.

PROFITABLE ADDRESS ON MISSIONS

The Women's Auxiliaries of the Anglican churches of this city held a joint meeting at St. Luke's Sunday School last evening. A large number of ladies were present as the occasion was one of special importance. Invitations had been extended to all the sister branches of the city by St. Luke's Woman's Auxiliary. Owing to the illness of the rector, Mr. Langfeldt, and of the senior president, Mrs. Boswell, Canon Davidson, on invitation kindly presided. The feature of the evening was an address by Miss Cartwright, of St. Hildas' College, Toronto.

In introducing Miss Cartwright, Mr. Davidson spoke very favourably of her work and also complimented the Girls' Branch of St. Luke's, and also the branch formed recently at St. John's, on the good work they were engaged in. No society had done such noble work as the Woman's Auxiliary, in spreading literature, and sending missionaries out to preach the Gospel to the heathen. Canon Davidson said that it was a great pleasure to have Miss Cartwright present and there was no doubt but that she would leave a good impression upon those who did not belong to any organization.

Miss Cartwright in addressing the assembly, stated that it was a great pleasure to her to address such a large audience of young ladies. It was her first opportunity of addressing a joint meeting in Peterborough and especially so many young women who were interested in the work.

There were three important points to consider from the members' standpoint:

1.—Why are you a member? What does it mean to you?

2.—So many make excuses because they are not members.

3.—When asked to join, one often says "There is no use, I cannot do anything to assist."

You become a member for the purpose of working for the Lord Jesus Christ. You have all a right to be a member. Missionary work began in Jerusalem when Christ said "Go ye to all nations and preach the Gospel," and why should not young ladies obey His command? If you believe the articles of Christian faith and resolve to renounce the devil and all his works and to be obedient, you create a new duty which belongs expressly to the Woman's Auxiliary.

Again every lady should recognize that it is her duty to be a member. Such excuses as not being able to assist by sewing are not valid. One has not to be able to sew only to be a member. There are many other methods of helping. To pray for missions, learn all you can about the work, these and many other are means of being a useful member. Some are so indifferent that they come late and do not care whether they are present for prayer or not. That is one of the important things. Great things are accomplished by prayer and by praying for the work and those who are devoting their lives to it, much good is done by bers of the Auxiliary. If the meetings are dull it is the members' fault, but there is no reason that they should be dull. Every member should strive to make them as interesting as possible.

Regarding the poor excuse that is sometimes offered that "I cannot do anything," the speaker said there was no one so poor or ignorant that they could not be of help. One way is to have a mission box in your room and when something occurs for which you are thankful drop a coin in the box and you will soon find that this is a happy way and an easy one of helping in the missionary work. Many girls spend money thoughtlessly on ice cream and ribbons and forget this method of giving assistance. Always remember the monthly subject for prayer also your thankoffering and prayers for workers. November 30th being St. Andrew's day, it is a day for prayer and intercession for missionaries and their work in all lands. The Women's Auxiliary members should try and interest outsiders in the work, read their leaflets carefully and lend them to others. Miss Cartwright gave other good advices to industrious members. She closed her excellent address by saying that God had placed a duty on all the members, that they should pray that more missionaries might be sent out to preach the Gospel to the heathen nations.

Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot, President of St. John's Women's Auxiliary, moved a vote of thanks to Miss Cartwright for her helpful words and expressed her opinion that it would be beneficial to the women of Peterborough. She also thanked St. Luke's branch for their thoughtful invitation to be present. Mrs. Landerville, President of St. Luke's Girl's Auxiliary, seconded the motion.

Canon Davidson called on Mrs. Morris, of St John's, Miss Rush, the new president of St. John's Woman's Auxiliary, and Mrs. W. J. Scott, of St. Luke's Junior branch, to give short addresses. Canon Davidson closed a very profitible evening with prayer. Refreshments were served during the evening, and at this period Miss Cartwright was introduced to the members personally, and kindly answered many questions that were asked of her.

TO COMMENCE WORK IN THE SPRING

Park Street Baptist Church will be Erected Early Next Year

Work will in all probability be commenced on the new church which will be erected to replace the present Park street Baptist church, in the early spring.

It is understood that the increase in membership during the past few years has been such as to warrant the congregation undertaking the work of erecting the new edifice at an early date. In fact if those who wish to attend the church are to be accommodated it will be necessary to provide greater seating capacity, the church being filled to overflowing at almost every service, and the problem of providing accommodation is one which is becoming increasingly serious to the leaders of the church, and particularly the pastor, who, while he is gratified at the great progress which the church is making, is feeling some anxiety as to what disposition is to be made of the new members who are coming into the church almost every week.

Membership Growing.

Since Mr. Brace came to Peterborough the membership has increased nearly one hundred, and others will be received in the near future. The financial problem is one which it is expected will be quite easily solved. The members of the church are entering into the project with enthusiasm, and when the time comes the pastor is confident that the money will be forthcoming.

Bread was dearest in England in 1800, when it reached 45 cts. a quarter loaf, and in August, 1812, when it was 8 cents.

Eyes Worth Having

Did you ever stop to think that with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body.

As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service.

Three pairs of muscles control the movement of each eyeball.

The two eyeballs move exactly together. Would you know the effect of their not working together—press your finger against one, so that its position does not exactly correspond with the other.

Peterborough Curling Club Held Their Annual Meeting

Officers Elected For the Coming Season—Mr. T. F. Matthews the New President—Large Number Was Present and a Lively Meeting Was Held

Marked with much enthusiasm and attended by an unusually large number, the annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club, which was held in the Charlotte Street Rink last night, was without exception the best annual meeting in the history of the club. The club room contained more than half a hundred members besides a number who intend entering the curling field this winter for the first time, all of whom displayed a deep interest in the business transacted and lent their assistance to propagate the success of the meeting.

During the past few years the rapidly-spreading game has taken a deep root in Peterborough, but the club this season is certainly destined to eclipse all past efforts. A strong Membership Committee has been elected, which will make special efforts to bring others into the fold, and especially the young men. The great feature of the curling season, the annual bonspeil, to which all curlers in the district look forward to with interest, will be held again this year as usual. This event will be held in February, and a committee was appointed last night to make all necessary arrangements, so that it will undoubtedly be the successful function as usual.

Record of Games.

A new departure from other years will be a register in which a record of all games, the winners and losers of them and the dates upon which they were played, will be recorded systematically, so that the club may at any time know the standing of the various rinks.

Club in Good Standing.

The financial statement, as read by Secretary-Treasurer R. M. Waddell, showed a small balance to the credit of the club in the bank and indicated that it was in a most flourishing condition, prepared to begin the season with a vim. The fee for senior members this year will be the same as usual, $6 per season, but for junior members under 21 years of age the fee has been reduced to $3. This was done with a view to getting more of the young men of the city into the game.

The New Officers.

The important feature of the evening was the election of the new officers and committees, which occupied a considerable part of the time. The retiring president, Mr. Thomas Brightman, occupied the chair. His efficiency as president was recognized and he was advanced to the position of honourary president. The new president is Mr. T. F. Matthews, who occupied the vice-president's chair last year, and with him at the head of affairs there is every assurance of the success of the club. The secretary-treasurer of the past year was re-elected unanimously.

The Business Transacted.

The first business done was the reading of the minutes by the secretary, which were adopted. The membership and receipts during the past year were the greatest in the history of the club, there being 22 more paid members this year than last. cial report showed that the mem- The secretary's report also referred to the removal from the city of two prominent past skips, Col. E. B. Edwards and F. H. Dixon.

Mention was also made of the fact that Mr. W. E. Talbot had put up four boxes of cigars for rink competition, which announcement was enthusiastically received.

The election of officers next took place and resulted as follows:

Honourary President—Thos. Brightman.

President—T. F. Matthews.

Vice-President—C. Rutherford.

Secretary-Treasurer—R. M. Waddell.

Executive Committee — R. Neill, G. H. Giroux, J. S. Knapman, W. G Ferguson.

Auditors — Geo. Morrow and Mr. Yates.

Chaplain—Rev. Wm. Major.

The president and W. G. Ferguson were appointed representatives to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association.

The secretary and Angus McIntosh were appointed to keep a register of all games played at the rink during the season.

The following were appointed a Membership Committee: Jno. Camerport at the next meeting; Geo. Giroux, D. Hall, T. Brightman, R. Neill, T. S. Medd and R. Winch.

The following are the Schedule Committee, who will be asked to report at the next meeting; Geo. Giroux, A. McIntosh and J. S. Knapman.

The question of holding a bonspiel was next considered, and it was unanimously decided to hold one in February. A committee, consisting of J. S. Knapman, H. R. H. Kenner, R. M. Waddell, W. Mollroy, Geo. Giroux, A. McIntosh, Thos. Rutherford and W. J. Thompson, was appointed to look after the arrangements for the bonspiel.

The Tankard skips for the season will be Thos. Rutherford and Jas. Connell, and the District Cup skips W. Mellroy and C. E. Frost.

The question of whether the club would make a change in the present 14-foot rink next came up for discussion. Some favoured retaining the present, and others a change to the 12-foot rink. The problem, however, was left over until it was ascertained on what kind of ice the district matches for the tankard would be played.

A communication was read by the secretary from the Montreal Curling Club, extending an invitation to the rinks of the locals to attend the great bonspiel in that city in January, celebrating the centenary of the club. The question was set aside for discussion at another meeting.

A committee consisting of A. McIntosh, R. Winch and A. Moore was appointed to look after the welfare of the new members.

The Membership and Executive Committees met after the meeting adjourned, and will meet again on Monday, December 3, when the election of skips will take place.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

On Friday Night—Officers Will Meet To-night to Make Preparations.

To-night a meeting of the officers of the City Hockey League will be held at Fred. Clarke's store for the purpose of making preparations for the coming season. All last year's officers are requested to be on hand at 8 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the league will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Oriental.

HOCKEY

Belleville Ontario.—According to latest "dope" habit in this city a strong team of juniors will be placed in the O.H.A. the coming season. It will be made up of a majority of the boys who were here last winter, with a few other good ones. There will also be an independent team of intermediates, the players on which will include several well known local men and some new comers of excellent reputation.

• • • •

The O.H.A. has made the residence rule August 1st, which means that a man who comes to a town after that date is barred out of hockey for a year. Pretty soon a player won't be allowed in O.H.A. matches unless he plays in the town in which he was born. But it will certainly give the "tourists" the skidoo sign. There are not many towns which can afford to import hockey players as early as the end of July. Some of them have found it hard to bring them in with the oysters in September. Now watch Belleville get "real mad."

• • • •

Prospects for the City League are said to be exceedingly bright. There are a number of new teams who may enter as well as most of last year's sevens.

• • • •

Now with the hockey season so near at hand it is time for Belleville to make its annual attack upon the O.H.A. The sleepy town enthusiasts will never forget the year when they were punished by that body for the offences they committed against the amateur rules of the association. Although hockey is dead in Belleville the people of that city never forget to howl at the ruling body. "Lest we forget" may evidently be the motto adopted by the people of the Bay City.

POE FAMILY GREAT FOOTBALL MEN; A RECORD

Mr. Arthur Poe of this City Won Championship for Princeton for Two Years in Succession

OTHER MEMBERS OF THE SAME FAMILY

The Buffalo Courier in a recent issue contained an interesting article on the rugby prowess of the Poe family, one of the members of which, Mr. Arthur Poe, is a resident of Peterborough at the present time, and during this season spent considerable time in coaching the local rugby team. The Courier says:—

Football talent often has been discovered to run in veins. It seldom is that one brother of a family is a good player without his brothers proving football ability in more or less degree. There have been many pairs who have played together on the same teams and many more stars who have followed older brothers to college.

Great Family.

By far the greatest family of football players were the well-known Poe boys who brought honours to Princeton for many years. This great Nassau recruiting fleeld was the family of John P. Poe of Baltimore, who himself graduated from Princeton in 1854 and was a powerful athlete. Decendants of the poet Edgar Allan Poe, the six boys thus inherited a rare combination of physical prowess, dash, daring, and wits enabled them to make football history.

S. Johnson Poe, the oldest of the boys, played his game for the Tigers in 1882 and 1883, was a brilliant open field runner, and started the pace for spectacular playing that his younger brothers kept up. He was a fast man and knew his game and attracted attention by his remarkable physical capacity and skill in the fine points of the game.

Finest of the Year.

Edgar Allan Poe, second to appear on the Princeton field, was the finest lightweight player of his day. He played in '89 and '90. He was sub quarter in '89 and got his chance in the Harvard game when an injury to "Snake" Ames put him into the game and acting captaincy. How he took the team in the second half that year and changed the score from Harvard 15, Princeton 10, to Princeton 41, Harvard 15, never will be forgotten by Tiger pigskin enthusiasts. "Peter" Poe, as they called him, turned out to be the best general of the times and his advice still is sought for by the Tiger elevens of to-day.

Joe P. Poe, Jr., was the third of the great sextet. He played football at 138, but he was a brilliant enough dodger and tackler to be the star of the orange and black elevens of '91 and '92. "Johnnie the Coach," as he was nicknamed, was a La La La Willie at the flying tackle game on which the whole Poe bunch was strong. He could make a running dive 15 feet and land his man, and the momentum he gained this way made a dead stop as good as a 200 pound lineman. Johnnie Poe had one of the best heads in the family and was a strong advocate of abundant fundamental practice.

Nelson Poe was Princeton '97. He played as a Tiger in '94, '95 and '96. He played quarter and half and possessed the same tackling and running ability of his older brothers. He was on the varsity his whole four years at college.

Arthur's Great Record.

The best known and most spectacular of the Poes, was Arthur Poe,'00, now a resident of Peterborough. He played his great games in '98 and '99, and both years by individual work won the eastern championship for his team. This has been won before by a single star play, but never in the history of the war of shoeleather on spheroids has one man been able to win two championships in such a manner. On November 12, 1898, in the game with Yale by a brilliant dodging run in the open field he carried the ball ninety-eight yards for the winning touchdown. In '99 he practically repeated the performance. Again in the deciding game of the eastern championship series again against Yale, he broke loose round the Eli end and scored on a long run in the last two minutes of play.

The baby of this football family was Gresham Poe. Gresham could not overshadow the work of his brother predecessors, but he was known throughout his college career for the same brilliancy of play which his older brothers had exhibited.

The Poes were all light, and even Arthur, the heaviest of the tribe, never got out of the forties. Graham weighed 135 and the other four boys were in the early forties. The secret of their success was their devotion to the fundamental principles of the game, and it would be hard to find players to beat their consistent accuracy of catching and passing the ball, careful tackling, and knowledge of their teams and their signals. They all liked the end jobs, though occasionally a Poe played in the back field. The quick starting and clever dodging ability of the Poes beat many a more beefy man out of a job with the orange and black.

FOOTBALL BURSTS LIKE SHOT FROM A GUN

Crowd Thought a Murder Had Been Committed.

The Sons of Belial football team, composed of the senior class of Yale, went to Mount Carmel to meet the heavy Mt. Carmels. Neither team was able to score, because after the game had gone about 15 minutes of the first half an unforseen accident took place. The halfback of thee Belials had got around the end and was sprinting for the Mt. Carmel goal. Between him and the coveted posts crouched the giant fullback of the Mt. Carmels. The two met with a crack like a pistol shot. The Yale man fell to the ground.

A roar went up, "He shot him. Don't let him get away," and the crowd surged on the field. The fullback stopped just long enough to see his victim stretched on the ground and to take one glance of the oncoming crowd. Then he turned and beat it. Over fences and stone walls he ran. Over stone walls pursued the crowd. The next lot was a swamp. Into the swamp plunged the fullback. On the brink hesitated the crowd unappeased, crying loudly, "Lynch the murderer!"

Some of the avengers went back to the field to see how the victim was enduring the shot. He was found lying on the ground quite exhausted — not from blood, but from laughter.

Near him lay a sodden heap of leather, all that remained of the football. The Mt. Carmel strong man had tackled the ball, which blew up with a loud report. Delegates sent back from the field of battle called the assailant out of the swamp, but the game stopped there, as there was no unexploded ball around.

"BURY ME AS I AM NONE WILL INQUIRE"

Woman of 60 Leaves This Message and Kills Herself in Syracuse.

There will be no inquiry for me. Bury me as I am and with as little publicity as possible, and let the enclosed defray the expenses as far as possible.

Syracuse, Nov. 17.—After leaving these directions and $23.71 in an envelope addressed to the Coroner, a well-dressed elderly woman was found dead in her room at No. 137 Gifford street by Mrs. Alice Stevenson, who conducts a rooming house at that number. The gas was turned on.

A small suit case was found in the room, containing the handbag, in which were several envelopes. One was addressed to the Coroner, and contained the note relating to the disposition of the body, and also the money. There were a numbers of other articles in the case, including wearing apparel and a few tickets, but nothing which would lead to the identity of the dead woman. The detectives took the suit case to the police station after making a careful examination of the room.

Mrs. Stevenson said that the woman had given her no name, and that she did not hold any conversation with her except in the matter of business.

It was apparent that the woman had come there with the intention of committing suicide and laid careful plans to conceal her identity.

She was apparently between sixty and sixty-five years old and was 5 feet 7 inches tall. Her hair is gray and she has false upper and lower teeth. The suicide was clothed neatly in a black dress and wore a circular pin at her throat containing five pearls set in gold. Her hair was held up by large brass hair pins. Her hands were soft and white and the lines of her face are delicate and refined.

The shoes, which were left by the bed, were purchased at Marshall Field's in Chicago.

OVERCOATS

The Overcoat is the distinguishing feature of a man's attire.

It proclaims him careful or careless of his dress, and it is always the thermometer of his wardrobe.

If there is one thing in which we excel it is Overcoats.

Nothing but the best makers' best productions are good enough for us, and even then, the Coats must be made to conform to our ideas.

It seems almost useless to quote a price on an Overcoat, without showing the coat at the price.

The price means nothing, while the Coat means everything.

WE HAVE THEM

in styles to suit the tastes of the most particular dressers. From the neat, shapely french-back to the extremely stylish Paddock and for the more conservative fellow we have the Long Overcoat with the vent in the back and cut with a little more shape than last year's coat.

We are showing a very pretty line of Knitted Vests, most suitable for Fall and Winter wear, and at moderate prices.

Peterborough's Lion Share In Harnessing Niagara Falls

Gigantic Undertaking Now Completed—Electric Energy Transmitted Effectively Eighty Miles.

Canadian General Electric Company Provided Sinews of War, all Machinery and Equipment.

We in Peterborough have become so accustomed to electricity, in the form of both development and manufacture, that new achievements, in this sphere of industrial science, excites less wonder than in other places not the home of the greatest of Canadian electric production establishment.

The stupendous enterprise of harnessing the mighty flow of Niagara, and subjecting it to the work of providing electricity in practically unlimited potentiality, and transmitting that energy through eighty miles of space, successfully achieved, as shown in Toronto yesterday, is worthy of special notice, and of particular local interest, since a Peterborough establishment was concerned in supplying the machinery and appliances which made this possible. The Niagara Falls Electric Development Company of Ontario developed the power, through the medium of the Canadian General Electric Company's works, in Peterborough, which supplied all the machinery and appliances in use to this end. It supplied the gigantic 10,000 horse-power generators, the great transformers, the switch-board, etc., etc., and the Toronto branch of the company provided the transmission lines, so that the Canadian General supplied all the machinery and necessary appliances, that have made possible one of the greatest electrical achievements of the age. The following more detailed reference to this enterprise, reprinted from the Toronto News, will be read with interest:

The successful test of Niagara power in Toronto last night marks the long-hoped-for consummation of what must take first rank in the field of industrial enterprises in Canada.

The little group of chiefs of industry who at last realize their dreams, can now see the success of years of persistent effort, of nerve-racking anxiety, of splendid faith. Few who are not intimately associated with the enterprise can justly estimate the tremendous difficulties which have had to be overcome—difficulties of engineering and of finance.

Courage and Foresight.

It required singular courage and unusual foresight and a high quality of generalship, to undertake and carry to completion, a work which may, without any exaggeration, be described as the most remarkable engineering triumph on this continent. The interesting of capital alone, was a task which made the shrewdest of our financiers sweat for many a day. The authorized bond issue was $10,000,000, of which $5,000,000 has been issued, about $2,000,000 having been placed in England. The remaining $3,000,000 was placed in Canada, and it is significant that to hasten the digestion of this block of bonds, and as an added inducement, the company gave a bonus of stock with the bonds sold in Canada, ranging from nearly par to around 55. All the stock was disposed of in Canada, and it speaks well for their abilities as far-sighted financiers, that the promoters floated the securities in the face of the difficulties which threatened.

The Engineering Difficulties.

But the difficulties in financing the great venture were as nothing to the

HUMAN BANK'S STUNT

A New York despatch says:—
"Policeman John J. O'Brien, of the West Forty-seventh street station, captured a human bank this evening. O'Brien was standing on the corner of Fifty-sixth street and seventh avenue, which he was approached by a very short and broad young man, who looked him over with much interest.
"'Move on!' he commanded. 'Move on!'
"Instead of moving on, the stranger pulled out a knife and began to carve up O'Brien's uniform. After a long struggle, O'Brien got his man to the station house.
"The surprise came when he was searched. There was a roll of bills in every pocket and several pounds of change distributed among the lot. When the count was over, there was $567 10 on the desk in front of the sergeant.
"The human bank said that he was Charles Douglas, of London, Ont., and that, after working all his life on a farm, he had come to see New York. He was locked up on a charge of assaulting an officer."

BOARD OF TRADE TO DISCUSS QUESTION OF FILTRATION

Special Meeting will be Held in Near Future to Talk Over Question of Purifying City Water.

COMMISSIONERS WILL NOT TAKE ACTION

The Board of Trade will, it is expected, hold a meeting in the near future, when the question of filtration of the water supply of the city will be discussed. This is a question which the officers of the Board of Trade have been considering for some time, and, in the belief that it is a matter in which the public are interested, the President will call a meeting at which the members of the Board will have an opportunity of expressing their views.

It is not considered probable that the City Council or the Water Commissioners will take any action just in the matter in the near future. The expert who was secured to give a report on the cost of filtration, stated that he had never been asked to figure on a plant in any place where the water was as good naturally as that with which Peterborough was supplied, consequently, in view of this statement there is no particular anxiety felt by the Commissioners on the matter. If the water was as good as that there could be no very urgent necessity for a filtration system being installed at a cost approaching $100,000.

However, no final conclusion of a discussion of the question by the Board of Trade, and it is probable that the members of that body will have some interesting views to offer in reference to the proper preparation of the water supply of the city.

FEROCIOUS LYNX SHOT NEAR THE CITY

Mr. John Londergan was the Lucky Man Animal Will be Brought to City.

Examiner Special.

Douro, Nov. 21.—A remarkable capture for such a civilized and southern community was effected here this morning. A ferocious looking lynx about the size of a large collie dog was shot and killed by Mr. John Londergan, of Douro. The animal was first seen near the Indian River cheese factory by Mr. Frank Devlin. It did not show very much fight and was easily treed from which vantage point it was brought to earth by Mr. Londergan. The residents of Douro in the vicinity of the place where the animal was found will breathe more easily now since they are assured the beast is dead.

The prize will be taken to Peterborough and placed on exhibition.

YOUR WILL POWER.

Every Day a Man Has the Chance to Prove His Strength of Purpose.

When a man enters a store he knows what he wants, and if he has that quiet strength of purpose he gets what he wants.

If a man goes into a store to get a pair of shoes or a Semi-ready tailored suit he proves his will power when he insists, like the man from Missouri, on the "Show-me" policy. Make the clerk show the label and price on the garment or article.

Semi-ready tailoring would not have its reputation for goodness if it had not been earned by excellence. The Semi-ready Label is sewn on the inside of the pocket of every genuine Semi-ready garment.

Cressman's have all the new Semi-ready styles and the exclusive agency for Peterborough and district.

As illustrating the excellence of the paper which is made from unused linen scraps upon which Bank of England notes are printed, it is stated that when one of these notes is twisted into a rope it will sustain a weight of 35c pounds.

KEEP your eye on This Space for R. A. Elliott & Co's change of Adv. for next week, in the meantime read the following it will do you good:—

One Ingredient of

Zutoo

Is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless.

If you knew what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as Soda.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women —Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention.

Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some derangement of the organs. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years and the ablest judges agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to medicine.

Read the convincing testimonials of Mrs. Oakes and Mrs. MacNamee.

Mrs. J. P. Oakes of Prince of Wales Hotel, Head of St. Margaret's Bay, near Halifax, Halifax County, Nova Scotia, Canada, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After what your Vegetable Compound did for me, I am a firm believer that it is a wonderful medicine, and that any woman who is troubled with any of the ills we suffer from should try it and she will soon be convinced of its worth. Six bottles changed me from a peevish, despondent, sickly, ailing woman to a sweet-tempered, healthy one, who rarely ever has a pain now, and who before was rarely without one. As a regulator, strengthener and a tonic, I think it has no superior and I certainly endorse it."

Mrs. Anna R. MacNamee of corner Queen and Wellington Streets, Kingston, Ont. writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done all the good in the world for me. I suffered with irregularities, backache and severe pains all through my body, and was very nervous and blue. I think I used a dozen different kinds of medicines, some prescribed by the doctor and some recommended by friends, but one bottle of Vegetable Compound was worth more to me than all the other medicines put together. My general health began to improve as soon as I began to use the Compound, and in three weeks I was a perfectly well woman."

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the female organs, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. No other medicine in the world has received this widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse to buy any substitute.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it. Her advice and medicine have restored to health innumerable women. Address, Lynn, Mass.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

There is no finality in human achievement. We reach one goal, and a new condition, or problem, crops up. We have been a long time getting a county House of Refuge. Now, that we have it, our county legislators are confronted with the problem of how to use it—upon what terms that will be fair to all the townships, patients will be admitted and the expense of their maintenance provided for. There is difference of opinion among the councillors on the subject. Some are in favour of the maintenance of inmates by a general county rate, without reference to the number of inmates sent by any particular township; some are in favour of a pro rata arrangement, by which each township shall contribute, in some definite proportion, according to the number of inmates sent, and the length of their stay. By this arrangement, it is evident that as townships in the county are situated in relation to each other, the burden will fall largely upon the poorer townships, those least able to pay. It is claimed that some of our northern townships have been sacrificed, with nobody particularly to blame, for the benefit of the front townships. The lumbering industry, which, during its height resulted in building up Peterborough town, making it a valuable market centre, and thus contributing to the prosperity of the nearby townships, especially. The lumbering industry is, locally, largely a thing of the past, and while it has enriched Peterborough and the neighbouring townships in the manner indicated, it has left the northern townships in straitened condition. With the removal of the timber crop, the usefulness of the soil pretty well disappears, and farming operations are carried on with great difficulty, and scant success. While the front townships are flourishing as the result of conditions provided by the northern townships, the residents of the latter live a hard struggle. Under these circumstances, some members of the council think that it would be no hardship to maintain inmates in the House of Refuge by a general county rate. By this means the townships would all pay in proportion to their ability, and those less able would, to a certain extent, be compensated for the sacrifice involved in yielding their best crop—the timber crop—for the enrichment, and permanent benefit, of Peterborough and the adjoining townships. It is further argued that, as the House of Refuge was built by the levy of a general tax, a precedent has been established for the maintenance of inmates on a similar principle. The council will meet in a short time to consider the matter, which, it is hoped, will be dealt with in a generous and equitable spirit, with less desire to exact the pound of flesh, than to deal fairly with the townships less able to bear a large expenditure. But whatever course is adopted, there is no necessity for its being adopted hastily. We have waited a long time for the House of Refuge, and a little further delay in deciding upon a mode of maintenance of the inmates will work no great harm. If the council cannot readily agree upon a fixed and permanent policy, they might decide upon a temporary modus vivendi, to permit of the more mature consideration and adoption of a plan, which, while it may involve a little give and take, will not impose an undue burden upon any section of the county.

PETERBOROUGH'S SHARE.

Toronto is raising a lusty cackle over the successful transmission of Niagara Falls electric energy to that city. The event justifies the jubilation. The carrying of electric energy developed at Niagara Falls which, till now, have, since creation's dawn, been thundering in magnificent inutility, over eighty miles of copper spun space, is an achievement worth being proud of. The matter has a special interest to us in Peterborough. We have always been proud of the Canadian General Electric Works as a great industrial establishment, but our reasons for taking pride in them have been intensified. It was our electric works which provided the machinery and appliances for the development of the power. Our home establishment furnished the gigantic generators, which, to use the formula our American cousins are so fond of employing, are the largest in the world. The local Works also furnished all the other necessary appliances in connection with the great work. We are therefore legitimately entitled to share in the natural rejoicing the successful completion of so stupendous a work invites. Toronto is inclined to assume patronizing airs towards Peterborough, but in this case it owes whatever benefit—and it is great—it will derive from the electrical development referred to, to Peterborough the home of a great industrial enterprise, which not only we, but the Dominion at large, have every warrant to regard with feelings of pride.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When one considers what strenuous means Great Britain employed to win her colonies, even justifying the expedient of buccaneering, one cannot think that she is unwilling to maintain a navy to protect her colonial empire. Britain is doubtless also willing to wait for the colonies to contribute to the maintenance of her navy, till they are a little stronger on their feet, and have further advanced in a development of their resources, which means bread and butter, and the sinews of trade to the Mother Country.

The Mail and Empire has the following:

Hon. Charles Hyman has been in London for two or three days consulting his political friends, as to the course that he should pursue with reference to the recent revelations in the courts. The Minister of Public Works is worried over the publicity given to machine methods pursued at his bye-elections. At times Mr. Hyman's friends say, he is disposed to brazen it out. At other times he becomes disheartened over the situation, and does not know what to do. It is quite expected that his resignation will be in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's hands before Parliament meets.

The above encourages the belief in spiritualism — that departed spirits take an interest in earthly affairs. One can easily fancy the ghost of Ananias hovering over the pen which recorded the above rot. If every word in the above should by any chance be true, it is false from the Mail's point of action, for it has no means of knowing the correctness of the concoctions it has provided.

Pills and Piles.

A prolific cause of Piles is the use of cathartics and pills of a drastic, violent nature, which is always followed by a reaction on account of the resinous, drying properties they contain.

There are other causes, but no matter what the cause or what the kind of Piles, Mr. Leonhardt's Hem-Rold can be relied upon to cure—to stay cured.

It's an internal remedy that removes the causes of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Suppurating Piles.

A guarantee goes with each package containing a month's treatment. It can be obtained for $1.00 at druggists', or The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

In the Transvaal during 1905 record amount of coal was produced, the total for the year reaching 2,606,799 tons of 2,000 lb., valued at $4,231,360. The average value per ton of this coal was $1.54.

CONSTIPATION CLOGS THE BOWELS

No other cause produces so much sickness as constipation, and therefore it is dangerous to allow the bowels to become clogged up. Bad blood, dyspepsia, headaches, biliousness, boils, pimples, and piles, are all caused by constipation.

Avoid all of these troubles by the use of

nature's remedy for all diseases of the stomach, bowels and blood. It acts on the bowels and promotes their free and regular action, curing constipation and all troubles which arise from it. It has been on the market for over thirty years so you are not using a new and untried remedy. B.B.B. has cured thousands of others and will cure you. Mr. B. Woodcock, Nashwaak Bridge, N.S., writes: "For over two years my wife was troubled with constipation. She tried several physicians but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was completely cured and is to-day in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of B.B.B.

More than one best?

When you ask your grocer to send you the best flour, he sends you—his best. When you know the best flour and order by the name, the choice is not left to the grocer. Many grocers handle as their leader. They have found it the safest flour to recommend because its results are sure and its purity is unquestioned. If your grocer's best is not Royal Household, insist on his getting it for you. The benefit will be mutual.

Royal Household Flour

NON-JURY SITTINGS OF HIGH COURT OPENED

Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. Versus Cavanagh the First Before Justice McMahon.

ONLY FOUR CASES ON THE DOCKET

Before Mr. Justice McMahon, the autumn non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice, opened shortly after one o'clock this afternoon. As the cases were not of very great local importance, only the parties interested, together with the court officials and the members of the bar were present.

The following members of the bar were present: Messrs. A. P. Poussette, R. E. Wood, Geo. Edmison, D. O'Connell, G. Gordon, John Green, H. A. Ward, of Port Hope, R. M. Dennistoun.

The first case called was that of the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Company versus Timothy Cavanagh, hotelkeeper, Peterborough. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant being a shareholder in the above-named joint stock company, refused to pay various calls of 10 per cent. each upon the stock of the company. The plaintiffs claim that the defendant is indebted to them to the amount of $500 and interest thereon. The plaintiffs further claim the amount of $50, being balance on goods delivered to defendant, and also claim $15 for returned packages.

The defendant denies that he ever was or is a shareholder in the plaintiffs' company, or that he ever subscribed for shares therein. As to the sum of $50, mentioned in the claims above, the defendant brings that sum into court to satisfy the plaintiffs claim in that behalf. The defendant denies any indebtedness to the plaintiffs in respect to the $15 mentioned for packages, or for any interest, as set forth in the claim.

A. P. Poussette and H. A. Ward are acting for the plaintiffs, and R. E. Wood for the defendant.

Mr. Alex. Elliott, the president of the company, was the first witness called for the plaintiffs, and to Mr. Poussette stated on in September, 1903, he entered into an agreement re the organization of the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Company. He remembered that Mr. Cavanagh agreed to take five shares of stock in the company. He explained to the defendant the nature of the agreement. He had sent a notice to the defendant that allotment of stock had been made, and distinctly remembered sending notices of calls upon the stock of the company.

At the time of going to press the case was still in progress.

Complicated Derangements

OF LIVER AND KIDNEYS BROUGH THIS MAN ALMOST ENDLESS SUFFERING, BUT CURE CAME WITH USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

By following the advice of Mr. Wilson, the writer of this letter, many a man and many a woman, has been saved from suffering, and the dreadful fatality of diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Mr. John Wilson, a retired carpenter, who has lived in Welland, Ont., for thirty years, writes: — "Some years ago I was attacked with kidney trouble and I became so run down and emaciated that my entire appearance was suggestive of physical decline. As time went on the complaint grew worse and became complicated with liver trouble. I had had pains across the back and up the spinal column, had bad spells with my heart, pain under the right shoulder, bilious headache about half the time, indigestion, fever and restlessness at night, and depression of spirits.

"At times I was incapacitated for work and had spent probably one hundred dollars in different medicines, with no perceivably results. Doctors' advice proved like wise of no avail.

"Finally on the advice of a friend I began taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and in a short time the bad symptoms began to disappear and by the time I had used five or six boxes I was enjoying better health than I had in many years, all of which is due to the virtues of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"Since my recovery I have advised others to profit by my experience. Some have done so and are well, while others did not and have succumbed to this dreadful disease. I am a living witness to the value of this great medicine and I am full of enthusing in imparting the good news to others who are afflicted as I was."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure the most complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys because of their direct and combined action on these filtering organs. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HOPE FOR THE SICK.

MRS. HENRIETTA MARSH

A VICTIM OF LA GRIPPE.

Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, 769 W. 16th St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Ass'n, writes:

"I suffered with la grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna.

"I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I gave that truly great remedy a trial. I will never be without it again."

In a letter dated August 31, 1904, Mrs. Marsh says: "I have never yet heard the efficacy of Peruna questioned. We still use it. I traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee three years ago, where I found Peruna doing its good work. Much of it is being used here also."—Henrietta A. S. Marsh.

Mr. Denno is an employee of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, and the man who had the thrilling experience was Mr. Joseph Dignault.

MR. JAS. MONTGOMERY HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Was Thrown From a Truck with Mr. Wm. Adamson — They were Severely Shaken Up.

An accident which might have had more serious results was that which happened to Mr. Jas. Montgomery this morning. He was working out in the west end and started to come to town on Mr. Wm. Adamson's truck. The latter in turning around turned very shortly and upset the rig. Both occupants were thrown off Mr. Montgomery in some way getting his leg caught between the axle and a brace and in this manner was dragged a considerable distance. Mr. Adamson firmly held the reins and to this alone does Mr. Montgomery owe his safety. The horse started to gallop, but was caught by one who were nearby. Had it begun to kick Mr. Montgomery would have undoubtedly been killed. It was a narrow escape and as it was Mr. Montgomery had his legs badly bruised and was rather shaken up. Mr. Adamson escaped uninjured.

426 GEORGE STREET,

TO BE TRANSFERRED TO VANCOUVER

Mr. George Easton, one of the Stars o The Peterborough Rugby Team to Leave City.

Mr. George C. Easton, teller in the Bank of Montreal here, is transferred to the bank's branch in Vancouver, B.C. He will be succeeded by Mr. T. Seeley, of Edmunston, N.B. Mr. Easton's many friends, while congratulating him on his promotion, will regret his removal from Peterborough, where, during his residence since last January, he has made a host of friends. His place in the field of sport will be hard to fill. He kept the ball rolling in rugby. He shines conspicuously as a half, though as a heady and speedy rugbyist he is the whole thing—no half measures for Bobby, when an opponent wants to get by him. He is also an enthusiast in dinghy sailing, and a dab at hockey, having held a prominent place on the forward line of the Bankers' seven last winter.

OLD KEENE BRIDGE TIMBER REALIZED $35

Annual Meeting of the Township Sunday School Association—Other Keene News.

Examiner Special.

Keene, Nov. 21.—Mr. Fred English, Ottawa, is in Keene on business in connection with the estate of his brother, the late Robert English.

About thirty-five dollars was realized for the lumber of the old wooden bridge which was sold by auction Monday.

The annual meeting of the Township Sunday School Association was held in the Methodist church, Keene, on Monday. Two sessions, an afternoon and evening, were held. Mr. Samuel Armstrong, the retiring President, occupied the chair at the afternoon session, and at the evening session Mr. P. T. Pilkie, the newly appointed President, acted as chairman. The speakers were Mr. Yellowlees, of Toronto, Provincial Secretary, who conducted a conference on Sunday School Work in the afternoon and spoke on work that has been done and is being done by the Sunday School in the province and Mr. Lees, County Public School Inspector, who gave addresses on Teacher Training and Echoes of the Kingston Convention. The following officers were elected:—

President—P. T. Pilkie.

Vice-President—W. Borcland.

Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Laura Bennet.

Mr. H. Bonnycastle Dale, who has spent the summer and autumn at Mr. James Ashburn's popular resort "Oak Lodge" left for Toronto last week.

Mr. Wm. Campbell, who was seriously ill with a relapse of typhoid, is, from latest reports, much better.

SIX HUNDRED MILES THROUGH WILDS OF LABRADOR

Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard's Thrilling Story of Her Expedition Through the Perils of the North Land.

COMPLETED HER HUSBAND'S WORK

Amazed alike at the story of how the pluck and determination of a Canadian woman had carried her over what seemed insurmountable difficulties, and at the word paintings of a land that is scarcely known to the civilized world, a very large and representative audience listened spell-bound in St. John's Sunday school room last night while Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., the well-known explorer, gave a graphic recital of her six hundred mile journey across the wilds of Labrador.

A Thrilling Story.

The story, as told by Mrs. Hubbard in eloquent language, was a thrilling one and held the attention of the audience from start to finish. The heroine demonstrated that in addition to her other qualities, she has all the characteristics that go to make up a successful lecturer. The possessor of a good voice, she is as well forcible and true in her descriptions, and combines the eye of an artist with the ability to make others see what she herself has seen. As a result, the audience lived for two hours in a country of rocks and stunted trees, foaming rivers and beautiful lakes, rushing rapids and magnificent waterfalls. Peterborough, as well as the rest of civilized Canada was entirely forgotten while Mrs. Hubbard's hearers travelled with her across a land of which they had previously known practically nothing.

Well Known Here.

Peterborough people are naturally greatly interested in Mrs. Hubbard, inasmuch as she was born in Hamilton township, near Rice Lake, and only a few miles from this city. She is therefore well known to many people of the district.

As she entered the lecture room it was pleasing to note that she was received with enthusiastic applause, the audience gracefully rising to show their welcome.

Geography of Labrador.

In beginning, Mrs. Hubbard made a brief reference to the geographical conditions of Labrador, which, she stated, of all regions was the last and least explored. Lying north of the 54th parallel, it was 900 miles in extent from Hudson Bay on the west to the Atlantic Ocean on the east, and 800 miles from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Hudson Straits. Here were hundreds of miles of wilderness. The land is an irregular plateau, cut by valleys down which run great rivers, carrying to the sea, water from the myriad lakes of the interior.

Earlier Discoveries.

The lecturer then went on to speak of earlier discoveries made in Labrador. Previous to the sixties, knowledge of the country had been confined to the reports of Hudson Bay traders. Unfortunately, however, their findings were not recorded and much of the information was lost. In 1838, John McLean, a Hudson Bay Company's trader, discovered Grand Falls on the Hamilton River. In 1857, Dr. R. Holmes, an Englishman, also reached the Grand Falls, but was compelled to turn back. In 1892, two expeditions from the United States succeeded in reaching the same point. One of these was from Bowdoin College and the other in charge of Henry G. Byrant, of Philadelphia. More than anyone else Mr. A. P. Lowe, a director of the Geographical Society of Canada, had been successful in his explorations of Labrador, and had done much to lift the darkness which surrounded the country.

Mr. Hubbard's Ill-fated Trip.

Mrs. Hubbard passed on to speak of the ill-fated trip of her late husband, whose unfinished work she has succeeded in completing. With two companions, he left Northwest River post on Groswater Bay, on a canoe trip to the interior, intending to explore and map out two rivers, the Northwest and George, the latter on the northern slope of the plateau. Misled by information gained at the Northwest River post, they took the Susan River from Grand Lake, instead of the Nascaupee, and found themselves lost in a maze of waterways. They had, however, gotten in sight of their objective point, Lake Michikamau, when they were forced to begin a retreat, which her husband did not survive. Overcome by utter physical weakness as he was, he was able to write a message that was a more triumphal victory than the carrying out of his plans would have been.

Determined to Complete Work.

The determination to accomplish what he husband had intended to do came suddenly to Mrs. Hubbard. One day in January, 1905, she was sitting at a writing table in her home at Williamstown, Mass., feeling that she could do nothing and wishing that she had been a man. The thought had never occurred to her that she could do anything. Suddenly, however, something seemed to thrill her whole being. It came as a sudden illumination of darkness, and it meant "Go to Labrador."

Preparations for the Start.

That night she began to make preparations for the trip. Everything was completed at the end of May, and on the 16th of June she set sail from Halifax for Labrador, arriving at the Northwest River post on the 25th. The task of unpacking and repacking the outfit took some time, and it was not until June 27 that the start was finally made, with all the Northwest River men on hand to see the party off.

750 Pounds of Provisions.

They had two 19-foot canvas-cover canoes and carried 750 pounds of provisions. These were made up of 392 lbs. of flour, 200 lbs. of bacon, 60 lbs. of sugar, 13 lbs. of tea and 12 lbs. of chocolate. The party consisted of Mrs. Hubbard, George Elson, who had been with her husband, and three other guides, a thoroughbred Cree, half-bred Russian Indian and a half-bred Eskimo. All of these were expert hunters and canoemen.

The Start Made.

At 3.30 o'clock on June 27, the little party set out into the wilderness, and in a few minutes had rounded a bend in the river and left behind the little post. "It did not seem at all strange or unnatural," said Mrs. Hubbard, "to be there. In fact, it came with a sense of relief, and I was only too glad to be gone."

After an hour's paddle, Grand Lake, a large sheet of water forty miles long and four or five miles wide, was reached. She had been uneasy about this lake as it often grew so rough that it was impassable for canoes. Fortunately for the party, however, the day was a beautiful one, the lake was ruffled by scarcely a ripple, and they were enabled to make good progress, travelling until 9 o'clock at night, when the first camp was pitched at Silver Pine Lodge.

An Early Start.

At 4 o'clock next morning they were on the water again and that evening were safe across the lake and had reached the Nascoupee River. Here the party encountered the first of the many rapids that were destined to give them many thrilling and anxious moments. Canoe poles had to be shaved ready for use. These were seven or eight feet long and when tipped with iron looked as if they were meant for heavy work, as indeed they were. Mrs. Hubbard gave a vivid description of how Jobe, the Cree Indian, piloted the canoe through the many rapids. One could almost see the sturdy Indian as he stood in the stern with his long canoe pole, steadying the boat as she swept along in the grasp of the merciless current amid rocks and shallows that unceasingly threatened the destruction of the frail craft.

The First Mishap.

All went well until Monday of the next week, when the first mishap occurred, rapids of more than usually dangerous appearance were reached and while Mrs. Hubbard walked around, the men tried to take the canoes up. In doing so one of the craft upset and the Cree almost lost his life in the river, while some of the articles of cargo were lost, including axes and frying pans.

The rapids became so bad that the party left the river and after going a short distance up a tributary, struck across country for Seal Lake, their first objective point which was reached on July 17th.

The Nascaupee Again.

Here the party again entered the Nascaupee, but navigation was a great deal easier, and rapid progress was made for fifty miles. Then the river narrowed down between the hills and became so turbulent that it became necessary to leave the waterway and make a long portage across the country for nine miles before coming back to the stream. For the next seven miles they traversed the most picturesque part of the river, finding several beautiful water falls which were named Maid Marion, Gertrude, Isabella, etc., by Mrs. Hubbard. The scenery was magnificent, the rock being of a rich red brown and the islands and shores wooded with spruce and covered over with moss.

The Land of Lakes.

The lake country of which Mrs. Hubbard had heard much from her guides was at last reached, on Aug. 5th. For forty miles there was a succession of lakes spread over the country through which the party travelled until they finally arrived at their second objective point, Lake Michimakau. This body of water is a large one, 100 miles in length and 25 miles wide at its broadest point. The little canoes seemed very small on such an expanse of water. Here Mrs. Hubbard gave a most vivid word picture of the beauty of the lake at sunset.

The Caribou Migration.

On Aug. 8th, the party came upon one of the most remarkable scenes that they witnessed on the trip, nothing less than the caribou migration of which much has been heard. Paddling along the west shore of the lake they saw the antlers of caribou over the boulders which strewed the shore. On landing some thirty caribou were seen. Mrs. Hubbard wanted to obtain a picture of the herd and some of the men volunteered to carry out her request. They accordingly started to get to leeward of the animals, but came back shortly with wildly excited eyes to say that there were 300 caribou in sight. The number, however, proved to be many thousand and the spectacle was a thrilling one. Mrs. Hubbard attempted to obtain a photograph of the herd, but could not get close enough to do so.

First Across the Height of Land.

The extremity of Lake Michimakau was reached at last, and Mrs. Hubbard stepped ashore, the first of the white races to cross the divide. The height of land was passed and then the party went into camp, where the George River runs from Lake Hubbard.

Passing down the George River the signs of Indians became more and more common, but not until they had gone fifty miles was a Montagnau's Camp reached. They had gone nai's camp reached. They had gone til that time had not seen a human being, save the members of their party.

The Montagnais.

Mrs. Hubbard gave a most interesting description of their reception by the women of the Montagnaus. The men were all at Fort Davies obtaining their winter supplies.

Then the journey down the George River continued. It was the 17th of August and Mrs. Hubbard was eager to reach Ungava as she knew that the Hudson Bay Company's steamer was to leave there during the last week in August.

The Last Stages.

The last stages of the journey down the swift St. George were described by the lecturer most graphically. On the ojurney a village of the Nascaupee Indians was visited. Ungava Bay was reached on August 26, and then Mrs. Hubbard found that the ship was not expected until the middle of September. She did not, however, arrive until the 19th of October, by which time the party, including Mr. Ford, the Hudson Bay factor, had given up hope of seeing her that year. Rigoulet was reached on November 1st, and Mrs. Hubbard finally once more set foot in "God's country," as she termed civilized Canada.

Stereoptican Views.

A most interesting feature followed when a series of stereopticon pictures were thrown upon a canvas. These were from photographs taken by Mrs. Hubbard during her eventful journey, and served to reveal Labrador to the audience as it was revealed to the adventurous little party in the summer of 1905. There were views of many of the rapids, rivers and lakes encountered by the party, as well as scenes in camp and on the trail, the Montagnaus and Nascaupee Indians, etc. Following Mrs. Hubbard's thrilling story of her exploit, the pictures were most fascinating.

Vote of Thanks Passed.

At the conclusion of the address, a resolution congratulating Mrs. Hubbard upon her achievements, and thanking her for her splendid lecture, was unanimously passed on motion of Col. H. G. Rogers, seconded by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, both of whom paid a tribute to the determination and bravery of the heroine of the lecture.

Mrs. Hubbard was also presented with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Prior to the lecture, Mr. Devey's orchestra rendered several selections in finished style and were received in finished style, which were received with much applause.

The Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's, under whose auspices the lecture was given, are to be congratulated and thanked for their success it having. Mrs. Hubbard give her first Canadian lecture before a Peterborough audience. Mrs. Hubbard, who, during her visit in Peterborough, was the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Boucher, will lecture in Ottawa to-night before the Canadian Club.

Mrs. Hubbard Thanked.

After the lecture a delegation from the Young Peoples' Association, waited upon Mrs. Hubbard at the residence of Dr. Boucher, and expressed to her the warm appreciation of the society. Mrs. Hubbard assured them of her thankfulness, for the splendid reception given her which would cause her to always remember Peterborough. While she might have larger audiences, she did not expect one so enthusiastic.

Before the lecture, Mr. R. J. Devey's orchestra rendered a splendid programme in delightful style. The orchestra is composed of Mr. George Howarth, violin; Mr. J. Butcher, flute; Mr. C. Wesley, cornet; and Messrs. H. Nicholls and R. J. Seney.

Their programme was as follows: March, "Austria"..... Nowotny
Overture, "Bohemian Girl"..... Balfe
Waltz, "Whisper, and I shall Hear" Piccolomini

HAVE YOU INSURED YOUR SKIN?

A Northwest farmer died recently from blood poisoning following the prick of a rusty nail. A tin tack on which he trod penetrated a Chicago boy's toe, and he died later from lockjaw. Both these deaths could have been averted if a box of Zam-Buk had been handy. The air is full of poisonous germs and microbes which settle on wounds, and — and what? If left to go their own way they set up festering, suppuration, and frequently blood poison. If Zam-Buk is applied these harmful germs are killed and the wound is healed.

One of the greatest living chemists has proved that Zam-Buk has more power to kill harmful microbes in wounds than crude carbolic acid, and it does it painlessly. A little Zam-Buk applied to a cut, a sore, a burn, or a bruise, which breaks the skin, prevents the wound from taking the wrong turn, and speedily heals it.

Mrs. Bright, of Johnstone, N. B., says: "I got my finger poisoned by a prick from a needle, and as it got very bad I applied some old-fashioned remedies. It continued to get worse, and I then tried Zam-Buk. This both cleaned the wound and healed it, and soon all trace of the injury was gone."

In cases of cuts, burns bruises and other injuries Zam-Buk is the best "insurance." It is equally good for eczema, chronic ulceration, ringworm, scalding sores, abscesses, inflamed patches, running sores, bad leg, old wounds, etc. Also for chapped hands. Of all druggists, at fifty cents a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Six boxes for $2.50.

SUPPORT OF CITIZENS GLADLY ACKNOWLEDGED

St. John's Y. P. A. Thank People of Peterborough for Attendance at Lecture.

The Executive of the Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's Church, wish to gratefully acknowledge the large and kindly support received from citizens generally in connection with Mrs. Hubbard's lecture last night.

From the first our society recognized the opportunity and privilege of giving a reception to our distinguished guest which should be worthy of her and of this city which she has honoured in opening here her Canadian tour.

Through the wide and warm co-operation extended this object has, we think, been achieved, which will be a matter of satisfaction to our citizens generally, and Mrs. Hubbard has expressed to us her hearty appreciation of Peterborough's enthusiastic welcome.

In spite of the necessarily large expenses of this enterprise our society was able through the patronage given to increase the Lecturer's stipulated remuneration, believing that in doing so we were carrying out the wishes of our patrons.

On behalf of the Y.P.A. of St. John's,

CHAS. H. REID,
President,
LILY M. WESLEY,
Secretary.

LOCAL MARKETS ARE ON THE DECLINE

Market Tolls Becoming Lesser Each Year —The Corner Groceries Partly to Blame.

The markets of the flourishing city of Peterborough are on the decline. This is a peculiar state of affairs which although at a first glance seems improbable is nevertheless the truth. During the past 20 years the city made wonderful strides in almost every department, but the markets have been degenerating year after year so that at the present time, it is stated, the receipts have been reduced to almost one-third of what they were a score of years ago.

The market clerk informed the Examiner yesterday that two years ago the tolls amounted to $200.00 more than during the same period of the present season. In a few years it is predicted, that a market clerk will be unable to make a living collecting tolls.

Has a Picnic.

Clerk Lee states he remembers when it would be useless for one man to attempt collecting the market toll on market days. Now, however, he can do it quite conveniently himself and has a picnic at that.

Residents of the city who have not yet grown old, remember distinctly times when it would be impossible to drive across the market square on a Saturday morning, so many were the buyers and sellers thereon.

Reason for the Decline.

There are a couple of reasons advanced for this startling condition—the corner grocery and outside scales. Citizens can easily obtain all the green goods, vegetables, etc., they may require from the various groceries apart from the business centre of the city at practically the same cost as if they came to the market for them.

A number of private scales have been installed in various parts of the city where the farmers, who have sold their produce before entering the city, may weigh their goods at less cost than by going to the market. For these reasons combined with "the customer" trade fewer country people attend the market place and thus the tolls are decreasing. To charge higher fees would only have the tendency of further degenerating the size of the markets which are already small enough.

ARRESTED A CAVENDISH MAN FOR ARSON

Sole of a Burnt Rubber Found Near Scene of the Fire—Spent the Night From His Boarding Place.

To-day High Constable Cochrane left for Gooderham, Haliburton county, to bring to the city for trial John Cochrane, of Cavendish, who is charged with burning Mr. John Westlake's barns a couple of weeks ago.

A telegram sent by Crown Attorney Wood to Constable Kennedy of Gooderham, yesterday, had the effect of causing his arrest, and he will probably be brought to the city by the County Constable to-morrow to be tried before County Magistrate Edmison this week.

Suspicion is said to point strongly towards Cochrane, who, at the time was staying at Mr. Windover's residence. About midnight, it is stated, he arose from his bed and was not seen again until about 4 o'clock the following morning.

Further alleged evidence which will be brought against him are the facts that the sole of a burnt rubber was found at the scene of the fire, and that the prisoner lost a rubber about that time.

Mr. Westlake lost 22 tons of hay and a number of hens. The horses were extricated from the burning building with difficulty.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE WILLIAM HANBIDGE

Who Died Recently from Injuries Resulting From Kick From a Horse.

The following tribute to the late William Hanbidge has been handed the Examiner by an Otonabee correspondent, for publication. It will be remembered that Mr. Hanbidge's death resulted a short time ago from injuries caused by a kick from a horse:

A gloom is cast over our neighbourhood. The grim reaper, Death, has again visited us, and removed from our midst one whom we all not only respected, but loved and esteemed, for his ever-ready helping hand. His bright, cheery face was never seen to wear a frown, for he possessed what few can boast of, complete command of his inward emotions, and lived to enjoy and improve his environments. In the choir, Sunday school, and Young Peoples' meetings he was ever on hand, not wishing to have the uppermost seat, but trying rather to help others to be something, and to aim for higher and nobler things than the petty trifles of this life. While we feel a sense of loneliness and grief, our deepest sympathies go out to the members of the home, of which he was a loving son and brother, sharing and helping to lighten all their cares and burdens. We cannot help but think of the happy reunion of friends who have so recently passed away, of the bright, beaming countenances of his dear cousin there to greet him, who scarcely six months ago was taken away. May his life be a pattern for us all, so that when we are called we may be able to say, like Willf: "As for myself, it is all right; God knows I have tried to serve Him."

REGULAR MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S MEN'S GUILD

Two Papers Were Read, One by Mr. F. E. Kerr and the Other by Mr. R. Barrowman.

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild was held last night in the Guild room. There was a good attendance, considering the inclemency of the weather, and the meeting was very successful.

Mr. F. E. Kerr read an interesting paper on the New Spelling Reform. In his remarks he was in favour of the new system of orthography. He discussed its advantages and disadvantages, and generally made his paper very interesting.

Mr. R. Barrowman followed with a paper on the life and work of Matthew Arnold, the critic and poet. This paper was also a good one, and dealt thoroughly with the subject. The members held a general discussion of the two papers, which was a profitable feature of the evening's programme.

THREE FUNERALS THIS MORNING AT ST. PETER'S

Mrs. O'dette's Remains Were Laid at Rest—Funeral of Patrick McCauliffe to St. Martin's Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Marcellus O'Dette, whose death occurred on Monday, took place this morning. The cortege left the family residence on Waterford street, and proceeded to St. Peter's cathedral, where mass was celebrated. The church was almost filled with the friends of the deceased, who was very popular with the older residents of the city. The pall-bearers were her brothers, Harry and Michael Richea of this city, and Louis Richea, of Bracebridge, Baptiste O'Dette of this city, and John O'Dette, of Chicago, her sons, and Mr. William J. O'Brien, her son-in-law, of this city.

Mrs. G. B. Cullen of Columbia, Pa., a daughter of the late Mrs. O'Dette, was also present. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, one of them being a large wreath from the employees of the Peterborough Canoe Co.

Following the late Mrs. O'Dette's funeral was that of Mr. John Hurley, who died in Quebec. A third funeral took place a little later, being that of the late Patrick McAuliffe. After the funeral services at St. Peter's, the remains were taken to St. Martin's cemetery, Bonismore, where the body was interred.

MR. JAMES FULLER'S SUDDEN DEMISE

Passed Away This Morning at Eight O'clock After a Very Short Illness—Funeral on Friday.

There is a Reaper whose name is death
And with his sickle keen,
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath,
And the flowers that grow between.

The sad death occurred this morning of Mr. Jas. Fuller at eight o'clock, after a very short illness. Mr. Fuller's death has come as a shock to his many friends who have but learned of his sudden attack of paralysis on Saturday morning last. The late Mr. Fuller was born in Turnbridge, in the County of Kent, England, 68 years ago. His father the late Henry Fuller, was a prosperous merchant of that place. The late Mr. Fuller was highly respected as a citizen of this city and will be missed by a large number of friends. He was a member of the Methodist church and a Conservative in politics. He leaves, besides his wife, four sons and three daughters. They are Hugh, Percy and Arthur, of this city, and Mortimer, of Minnesota, and Mrs. J. A. Tully, Mrs. A. E. Metheral, of this city, and Miss Edith at home. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, 123 Chamberlen street, to the Little Lack Cemetery.

CHURCH A HOUSEHOLD BLESSING THE SUBJECT

Church Notes from St. Andrew's—The Young People's Society Issue Invitations.

'The Church a Household Blessing," will be the subject of an interesting study in St. Andrew's Prayer meeting to-night at 8 o'clock.

The teachers and officers of the Sunday School will meet at 8.45.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. Mr. Potter will continue the discourses in the Book of the Acts of the Apostles, and will discuss the question "How God Uses the Wrath of Man."

The Young People's Society has issued a very attractive invitation for its meetings on Monday nights, and has arranged most interesting and suitable subjects as well as appointing very efficient leaders for each meeting. Last Monday night Mr. John Hart and Mr. Gerrard carried through one of the most successful meetings held this season.

ANNUAL MEETING ALL SAINTS' GUILD

Officers for Coming Season Elected—Much Interest Displayed by the Men in the Work of the Guild.

The annual meeting of All Saints Men's Guild was held last night in the school room of the church. The meeting was largely attended and much interest was displayed in the work which is before the Guild this winter.

Rev. Wm. Major addressed the men last night on "The Work of the Guild in connection with the Parish." His address was a most helpful one, laying before the young men their various duties. A general discussion was afterwards conducted, demonstrating that much activity will be displayed this year.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—H. Roberts.
Vice-President—W. Runnett.
Secretary—H. Arnsby.
Treasurer—W. E. Hillhouse.
Executive Committee—Messrs. G. Coleman, J. D. Manley, G. L. Maughan, C. Lacheur and N. E. Bell and the officers.

The Guild proposes holding an open meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 4th and in January in connection with the anniversary of the church, it will give a concert, the feature of which will be a mock trial. The Guild will meet again next Tuesday night.

That pain in the Back is Kidney Trouble

GIN PILLS WILL CURE IT

A strain or severe cold, or a dozen other causes may have started it—but the Kidneys are at the bottom of it. Backache (especially in the "small" of the back) means Kidney Disease. Plasters and liniments give some relief but they never cure. Lots of people with swollen hands and feet, are treating themselves for rheumatism, when, in fact, their sick kidneys are causing the pain and swelling. GIN PILLS cure that pain in the Back every time, because they cure the Kidneys.

OTTAWA, March 17th, 1905.

I had the honor of being appointed assistant artist to the chief artist of London "Black and White" to accompany him three years ago to China to help him get pictures of the Boxer Uprising. That is a hard country on the kidneys. I came back very much troubled, and have been so ever since. My attention was called to Gin Pills; I have taken two boxes, and can positively say that I have never felt better in my life.

H. MANLEY.

If you have tried plasters, liniments and doctors, save your money and try GIN PILLS, FREE. Write us your name and address, and in what paper you saw this offer, and we will send you a free sample box of GIN PILLS. These famous Pills for Sick Kidneys are sold by all druggists at 50c a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

SOME OF MR. M'GILL'S BIG DEALS

Margined a Million Dollars of Stocks On August 2.

JUST BEFORE THE EXPOSURE

Brokers' Statements Show That Ex-General Manager of Ontario Bank Was a Heavy Plunger Right Up to the Last—$100,000 Found In New York Is Saved to Shareholders—Figures Tell Tale.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—If the Ontario Bank has now come to the end of its independent existence through the process of absorption, it cannot be said that its decline and fall was due to any timidity on the part of Manager McGill in the latter days. So much was made clear and apparent at the close of the proceedings yesterday in the evidence for and against Mr. McGill, before Magistrate Denison.

Mr. McGill has probably never been suspected of being a mere dabbler in stocks, one who took an occasional "flyer" in Wall street, for the mere zest of sport. But, on the other hand, it is safe to say that few outside of his firm of brokers, had any proper conception of the magnitude of the stock market coups that were essayed by the general manager.

Played For Huge Stakes.

Up till the end, or within a few weeks of it, McGill continued to play for huge stakes, as shown by the August and September statements of Charles Head & Co., submitted as evidence in court by Hon. A. B. Morine, acting for the Bankers' Association. It may have been desperation, or it may have been cold calculation and cool nerve, but at any rate, the results were fairly staggering.

On Aug. 2 last, through Head & Co., securities to the par value of $1,105,-553.14 were bought by McGill's orders. The amount of margin advanced or applied from other stocks or bonds held by the firm was not shown, but must needs have been a substantial sum.

Figures Tell Own Tales.

The statements told their own tale. Besides the huge sum above mentioned, here are other typical entries of purchases.

Aug. 6, $873,393.75, Aug. 23, $221,643, Aug. 24 $163,800, Aug. 27 $92,450, Aug. 28 $444,250, Aug. 29 $214,393.75, Aug. 29 $203,512.50, Aug. 30 $490,800, Aug. 30 $111,825.

Following are some of the sales of blocks of stock, as recorded: Aug. 2 $361,197, Aug. 3 $325,898, Aug. 6 $731,-884, Aug. 20 $299,740, Aug. 23 $465,383, Sept. 4 $392,510, Sept. 11 $124,000, Sept. 13 $142,555, Sept. 14 $199,270.

$1,391,810.16 In Securities.

The August statement showed securities carried to the amount of $1,391,-810.16, comprising no less than 20 different kinds of stocks. By the end of September, through a process of unloading, the holdings were reduced to $689,042.70.

As a matter of fact, there is an asset of from $70,000 to $80,000 in securities carried by Head & Co. for the bank, or rather, for McGill, in whose name the account appeared. This information, which should prove interesting to shareholders, was obtained from A. D. Braithwaite of the Bank of Montreal, who has charge of Ontario Bank affairs. His visit to New York in search of assets resulted in the discovery that there would probably be a surplus of that amount from the account after realizing on the securities held by that firm, and that the surplus from Cuyler, Morgan & Co. would probably be about $15,000.

A $100,000 Asset.

Thus, there is an asset of from $90,000 to $100,000. The other accounts, those of Marshall, Spader & Co., Randolph & Co., and Thomas Denny & Co., have, apparently, been wiped out.

The investigation was adjourned till Thursday next, after which date, so the crown attorney stated, further adjournment would probably be required for the visit of the commission to New York, to collect the evidence of the brokers and discover exactly what the assets of the bank there may be.

Mr. McKay considers a good point has been scored in Mr. Braithwaite's flat assertion that the advances to the brokers could not have been construed by the entries in the bank's books as loans.

Other witnesses during the day were F. H. Pope, A. E. Hagersman, A. P. Choate, Harry M. Kelso, Cecil Lloyd, H. S. Swallow, J. B. Beaty and Transfer Clerk Chenoweth was heard.

WHAT TO-DAY MAY SEE.

Men Agree to New Arbitration But All Must Go Back—Strike Fatality At Hamilton.

Hamilton, Nov. 21.—The street railway strike will either be called off by noon to-day or else the militia will be called to protect the cars, which will be operated at night.

Yesterday morning Mayor Biggar got the company and the men to renew peace negotiations. The men made a signed agreement to submit all their grievances as they existed before the strike to a new arbitration on the condition that the company agreed to take back all the men.

This agreement was handed over to Mr. Hawkins last evening, and he promised to submit it to Col. Gibson. Col. Gibson was too ill to consider the matter, but it is expected that the company will give its answer this morning.

First Strike Fatality.

The first death caused indirectly by the strike occurred yesterday. Last Tuesday afternoon T. B. Fairchild tried to board an H. & D. car. There was a crowd on the street, and Mr. Fairchild raised his cane above his head and struggled up the car steps. The conductor, believing that Mr. Fairchild was bent upon attacking him, threw him off the car. He was crushed between a car and a passing lorry, and died of his injuries yesterday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. D. R. Dewey, 218 Herkimer street. An inquest was opened last evening and adjourned till Nov. 23.

GOT A PAIN IN YOUR BACK?

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. You perhaps pay no attention to it. Backache is caused by imperfect action of the kidneys, in fact, is the first sign of kidney trouble to follow.

The kidneys, proper, are composed of a close network of fibrous tissue, interlaced with tiny elastic fibres. Their object is the excretion of the uric acid, and other poisonous matter composing the urine, from the blood.

They are continuously at work to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of kidney trouble, but do not suspect it.

Some of the symptoms are: A feeling of weakness in the small of the back, sharp pains in back, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the feet and ankles, urinary troubles such as supressed urination, excessive urination, cloudy, thick or highly colored urine, etc.

Mr. J. L. Whiting, Osnabruck Centre, Ont., writes: "I suffered for two years with kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back, hips and legs. I could not sleep and had a poor appetite, I took four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the pains left me, my appetite returned and I now sleep well. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

A MONTREAL BYE-ELECTION WHICH HAS LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. Martin, a Nephew of Mr. H. LeBrun, Labour Candidate in St. Mary's Division.

There are two Federal bye-elections in Montreal to-day — in St. Ann's and Ste. Mary's Divisions. In the latter Mr. Martin, a nephew of Mr. H. LeBrun, is the Labour candidate. In reference to his candidature the Montreal Star says:—

In St. Mary's the complexion of affairs has changed within a couple of days. The Labour candidate seemed in danger of being defeated, as his opponent is a union man, and stands well with working men generally. The advent of Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.P., has created quite a boom for the Labour candidate, however, and his chances seem better. The result, however, is yet in doubt, and both contestants may reveal surprises.

PETERBORO'S LION'S SHARE IN HARNESSING NIAGARA

feats of engineering required in the actual construction of the plant. To build a coffer dam 2,200 feet long, which unwaters eleven acres of river bed, over which the water had been 26 feet deep, and flowing like a gigantic mill race, was in itself an achievement of a high order. To one who walks along that coffer dam, who feels the smashing impact of the sea-green waters as Niagara forever hurls its white-maned chargers at the solid masonry, who watches the angry sparkle of the waves as they race along the stubborn stone, who watches the river heave up great masses of water and toss them in treacherous play against the impudent barrier, there comes a very deep and humble respect for the brain that conceived and the skill that constructed that first and most necessary work of fencing off the mighty waste of turbulent waters from its accustomed path.

Most awe-inspiring, however, is the great wheel-pit, with its twin tail race tunnels which unite, after 1,000 feet of separation, in one great tunnel nearly 2,000 feet long, 26 1-3 feet high, 23 feet wide, with a waterway of 452 square feet, along which water will run with an estimated velocity of 26 feet per second.

And this is about 160 feet below the level of the river!

To see is to wonder if it is so, or only a quaint and grotesque dream—that the brain and hand of man can bridle and guide the mightiest water power of the world. But Niagara power was delivered in Toronto last night.

Through Storm and Stress.

Too much credit can hardly be ascribed to the group of men who, through storm and stress of financial difficulties, and through the well-nigh insurmountable obstacles of engineering, have carried to triumph the great enterprise which was their ultimate desire, and the key to their many associated enterprises. Practically the same group of men are in control of the Electrical Development Company of Ontario, Toronto Electric Light Company, Toronto & York Radial Railway Company, and the Canadian General Electric Company. The prosperity of each of use or sale of power. The successful these corporations depends on the development and transmission of Niagara power is the key to the general prosperity of this whole group of related and interdependent companies. The splendid achievement is the reward of years of hard work, constant effort, persistent faith, financial skill and acumen, coupled with rare courage and business sagacity. This is one of the great works which really make a country, and the men who had for months together a haunting fear that some prank of the mighty river would sweep away the whole work, may now take pride in a useful and lasting work for the industrial progress of Canada, and a corresponding advantage to their own futures.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR A HAVELOCK BRAKEMAN

Alex. Watson Fell from Van—Havelock Personal News

Examiner Special.

Havelock, Nov. 19.—Mr. Jas. H. Moore, of Lakefield, formerly of Havelock, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. Geo. Buchanan attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Geo. Whitten, of Deseronto.

Mr. Robert McMillen, of Niagara Falls, is spending a few days with his parents here.

Miss Ethel McBurney, who has been visiting friends in Peterborough and Lakefield, has returned home and her many friends are pleased to see her much improved in health.

The members of the Presbyterian church, Havelock, will hold their annual dinner and concert on Wednesday, Nov. 28th. An excellent programme will be rendered by outside and local talent.

Mr. Alex. Watson, a C.P.R. brakeman here, had the misfortune to fall off a van, while lighting lamps. The van was shunted heavily by an engine causing him to fall to the track, breaking some small bones in his feet. He would have been run over had he not jumped quickly from the track.

MORE DEER THAN CATTLE IN COLORADO

That State was Never So Full of Game as it is at the Present Time.

Denver, November 19th. — Colorado has more wild deer now than any other state in the union. There are as many wild deer in this state as cattle. The laws protecting them from the reckless and greedy slayers have made a great increase in their numbers, and hunters who have visited their haunts this season make the most enthusiastic reports.

W. S. Kincaid, general superintendent of the fish hatcheries, killed one of the biggest bucks ever brought to Denver. The animal weighed 275 lbs. There are eight points on one of the horns and seven on the other. C. L. McFadden, the taxidermist who mounted it, said it was the largest he ever saw.

H. H. Zeitz, who has just arrived from a hunting trip, said he saw 200 bucks in the mountains about 75 miles north east of Newcastle. He went past the Sleepy Cat mountain. In Blanco, Routt and Garfield counties the hunters say they never saw so many deer before. In 1899 when the body of the game law went into effect, the deer were scarce, because they had not been protected. Under the first law the open season lasted nearly three months, and there was no protection enough. But in 1900 an amendment was made, shortening the open season to sixteen days, as it stands to-day. A hunter is allowed to kill only one deer and that must be a buck with horns and at least one year old.

There is no season at all on elk, and they are increasing rapidly.

MR. HAROLD ARMSTRONG WITH OTTAWA

Former Peterborough Player Will Start Season as One of Thirteen Men with the Ottawa Hockey Team.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—So far as can be ascertained at this early date, the Ottawa Hockey Club will start practice with not less than thirteen men. Harold Armstrong, the big Smith's Falls defence player, will be here in a few days, together with Percy LeSueur, the Smith's Falls goal-keeper. The latter will be the regular custodian for the Ottawas, and it is probable Moore and Armstrong will fight it out for the point position. Besides the regular forwards, it is probable Bob Harrison and Alf. Young, the two Victoria players, will be seen wearing red, white, and black this season. Neither man will admit he is going to play, but their intended presence with the ex-Stanley Cuppers is now common talk. They are both speedy skaters and beautiful stick handlers and figured among the most prominent forwards in the Federal League last winter. Besides these two men there will be Tom Smith, Hamby Shore, and Billy Hague. This will make the personnel of the team as follows:—

Goal—LeSueur and Hague.
Point—Moore and Armstrong.
Cover—Pulford.
Forwards—Alf. Smith, Westwick, McGee, H. Smith, T. Smith, Shore, Harrison and Young.

This certainly gives the local team one of the most formidable lot of men from which to work a line-up in the E. C. A. H. L.

ANOTHER SOCCER GAME BEFORE SEASON CLOSES

Construction Team of C. G. E. and Quakers May Come Together on Saturday.

Apparently there will be another Association football game in the city before the season closes. The Construction Company's team of the C.G.E., would again like to meet the invincible Quakers and it is probable a match will be arranged for Saturday if weather permits. The last game here was played at the Peterborough Autumn Exhibition between the above teams for the Hall trophy, when the C.G.E. team were defeated, but they now believe they can trim the Quakers. If the latter team can be gotten together, the game will be played on Saturday afternoon at 3.30.

HOCKEY

The newly elected executive of the Peterborough Hockey Club will hold its first meeting to-night in the Oriental at 7.30 o'clock to make preparations for the season which is close at hand. Some important business is to come up and it is important that there should be a large attendance at this meeting.

* * * *

The officers of the City Hockey League will meet to-night at 8 o'clock at Fred. A. Clark's store to make preparations for the season. All officers are expected to be present.

BELLEVILLE STILL RAPS THE LOCAL TEAM

Criticizes the Expenditure of the Peterborough Hockey Club Last Year.

What do you think of this rap from the Prince of all Hammer Sheets, the Belleville Intelligencer:—

"At the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club it was shown that last winter the club took in $2,950.51, and spent $2,932.04. No other evidence is needed to prove that the Peterborough Hockey Club is a purely amateur concern. Let no one dare to say after this that there are any paid players on the Peterborough club. What's a little matter of $3,000? Why, they'd spend that much on chewing gum and hockey sticks."

This from a town which has had to be summarily punished on several occasions by the O.H.A. Peterborough's record is an absolutely clean one. Not only have they never done anything to merit the ban of the O.H.A., but they never even had to defend a protest. Belleville's only amusement during the hockey season is knocking Peterborough, but hammering, like charity, begins at home, and there is enough in Belleville to keep the anvil chorus busy.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, Nov. 21.—Further attempts were made by the professional element to bring about a depression in the stock market this morning in continuance of the movement started yesterday afternoon, but the raids only produced fractional recessions without the appearance of any stock other than a little liquidation stop-orders, which were soon apparently cleaned up. The absorption at concessions continues to be at the best, according to our reports, and we favour the bull position.

Several features were submitted for consideration in the morning papers, but the underlying situation is too strong to permit of more than temporary influences from superficial factors. In the afternoon the market hardened under the lead of Reading and B.R.T., with C.P.R., Copper and Rock Island making large gains. The close was firm.

TURNER AND SONS' DO NOT WANT CARE OF AMBULANCE

A Letter from Firm Says That They Think Either Messrs. Comstock or Belleghem Quite Capable.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—We noticed in your issue of yesterday, where some person suggests that we be given the contract for the care of the Dan Spence Ambulance.

While we wish to thank the person for manifesting so much confidence in us, we wish to say, that we think either Messrs. Comstock or Belleghem are quite capable of looking after it in a first-class manner. Something of a more hustling nature than driving an ambulance suits our firm better.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for this space, we are,

Respectfully yours,
J. J. TURNER & SONS.

OMEMEE YOUNG MEN WANTED JOBS

Came to Peterborough on Saturday but were Disappointed in Their Efforts.

(Examiner Special.)

Omemee, Nov. 20.—A large number attended Peterborough markets on Saturday.

Mr. Wm. J. Lamb was home from Peterborough for over Sunday.

There is now being held active rehearsals for the Temple of Fame in aid of the Public Library on November 30th.

Rev. Mr. Petrie, of Belleville, very satisfactorily filled the Presbyterian pulpit on Sunday last and is one of the possible candidates for the charge now vacant.

The Bible Society meeting was largely attended in the "Anglican Church" on Sunday evening last. Addresses were given by Revs. Toney, McCullough, resident ministers and Mr. Jardine on behalf of the Presbyterian Church. The reports read showed good and liberal assistance here, the lady collectors being most earnest and enthusiastic.

A number of our young men went to Peterborough on Saturday to seek employment on public works or lumber shanties, but returned disappointed. Our boys do not like idleness.

Mr. Wyley, of Toronto, is opening up a drug store in Mr. Geo. Morrison's store.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup absolutely in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking and it gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. William McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto.

A desperate battle took place at the abbey of the Holy Ghost, in Sicily, between monks and a band of brigands who attempted to raid the monastery. The monks were armed with rifles and finally repulsed the invaders.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETINGS ARE ARRANGED

Programmes Have Now Been Prepared for the Meetings in West Peterborough.

SPECIAL CALL TO ALL THE DAIRYMEN

The programme of the annual winter meetings of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, has been arranged, and everything is now in readiness for the meetings.

Lakefield will be the first place visited by those who have been appointed this year to do the lecturing. The meeting will be held there on Monday, December 3rd.

The following is the programme of lectures at Lakefield:

Dairy cattle judging at 1.30 p.m.
Address in hall at 2.30 o'clock.
1—President's address.
2—Subject, "Growing clover, and how to save it." Address by H. Glendenning, Esq., Manilla.
3—Subject, "The Breeding and Handling of Heavy Horses." Address by J. G. Clark, Esq., Ottawa.
4—Other local gentlemen are being invited to speak, and every one is requested to take part in the discussion at every meeting.

The Woman's Farmers' Institute will hold a meeting in the Foresters' Hall in the afternoon at 1.30.

Joint evening meeting at 7.30, with Women's Institute:
1—Chairman's opening address.
2—Subject, "Country vs. city life." Address by Mr. Clark.
3—Subject, "Our Institutes, and how to make them interesting." Address by Miss Maddock, of the O. A. College, Guelph.
4—Subject, "Farm conveniences," Address by Mr. Glendenning.

A grand entertainment, vocal and instrumental will intersperse the addresses. This is being provided by the ladies of the Women's Institute and a rare treat may be expected.

The other meetings are as follows:

Peterborough Meeting.

Tuesday, Dec. 4th, at 1.30 p.m.
1—President's address.
2—Subject, "Growing red and Alsike clover for seed." Address by Mr. Glendenning.
3—Subject, "The Production and handling of Milk." Address by Mr. Clark.
4—Subject, "Hygienic and Economic Values of Food." Address by Miss Maddock.

North Monaghan Town Hall.

Evening of same day at 7.30 o'clock.
1—President's address.
2—Subject, "Grading up the dairy herd." Address by Mr. Clark.
3—Subject, "Simple home remedies, without recourse to the patent medicine man or the doctor." Address by Miss Maddock.
4—Subject, "Beautifying the farm home." Address by Mr. Glendenning.

Further information may be had by application to the president, Mr J. N. Telford, or the secretary, Mr. William Collins.

A Special Call.

A special invitation has been given to the dairymen of each district to attend a meeting of the Farmers' Institute at a given point to select a man of their choice as a candidate for election on the board of directors, at the annual meeting of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, to be held in January, 1907. Heretofore this district has not been directly represented by a local director on the board, hence the importance of a large attendance. The subject of "Dairy Instruction and Sanitary Inspection of Factories and Creameries," will also be taekn up by the delegates. All who are interested in dairying are invited to attend, and take part in the discussion. As the question of pure milk has been agitated very largely for some times in the city, the officers request the citizens to attend and see if they cannot receive some benefit from the discussion that will take place at the time. The delegates are thoroughly prepared to handle the subject as they are specialists on that line.

The meeting will be held in the city council chamber on Tuesday, December 4th, at 1.30 p.m.

OVERCOATS

The Overcoat is the distinguishing feature of a man's attire.

It proclaims him careful or careless of his dress, and it is always the thermometer of his wardrobe.

If there is one thing in which we excel it is Overcoats.

Nothing but the best makers' best productions are good enough for us, and even then, the Coats must be made to conform to our ideas.

It seems almost useless to quote a price on an Overcoat, without showing the coat at the price.

The price means nothing, while the Coat means everything.

WE HAVE THEM

in styles to suit the tastes of the most particular dressers. From the neat, shapely french-back to the extremely stylish Paddock and for the more conservative fellow we have the Long Overcoat with the vent in the back and cut with a little more shape than last year's coat.

We are showing a very pretty line of Knitted Vests, most suitable for Fall and Winter wear, and at moderate prices.

RE WILLIE TAYLOR'S NEW ARTIFICIAL LIMBS

Both the Lad and His Mother Declare Them to be Satisfactory in Every Respect.

CERTIFICATE IS GIVEN TO THAT EFFECT

The public, who took so practical an interest in the misfortune that befel the lad, Willie Taylor, in the loss of both legs, and who contributed so liberally to the fund for his relief, will be gratified to learn that the artificial legs purchased for the boy by the committee appointed to administer the fund, have proved to be all that could be expected. Last night Willie Taylor and his mother met the committee at the Examiner office, and were asked as to the utility of the limbs procured for the lad, and voluntarily gave the following certificate:

(Copy) Nov. 20, 1906.

The artificial limbs which the committee appointed by the Examiner, purchased for me, have been tried by me, and are satisfactory in every respect.

(Signed) WM. TAYLOR,
(Mrs.) P. TAYLOR.

MR. KYLIE'S SHOE ADS. PRAISED FROM ABROAD

Expression of Opinion by an Expert in the Shoe and Leather Journal.

The November issue of the Shoe and Leather Journal bestows its expert's praise on the advertisements of Mr. John Kylie, which appear in the Daily Examiner. The journal reproduces a recent ad. and gives its criticism as follows:—

"It is business-like, suggestive and attractive. The cut is a good one for the purpose. The head-line, also, is attractive and suggestive of facts which should interest shoe buyers. The reduction sale idea is played up prominently, and is put into concise and readable shape. The idea of giving a number of leaders with prices is a good one and conducive to greater interest in the ad."

MR. YELLAND'S REPLY TO ANNONYMOUS TRADUCER

Resents the Invasion of the Privacy of a Citizen by Scurrilous Scribbler.

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I notice a scurrilous letter in The Review of last night into which my name is lugged with gratuitous impertinence. I had not intended to notice the writing of a man who has not the courage to face a fellow citizen with such a charge, over his own name. If I were in public life and had ambitions in regard to the mayoralty, there would be some excuse for such a dastardly attack as The Review permits "Spectator" to make. I have tried always to do my duty as a law-abiding citizen. I served the town as a councillor for thirteen years and was never defeated in a contest for that position, but voluntarily retired. Those who know me know that whatever my failings may be, cowardice, moral or otherwise, is not a quality of my character. Since "Spectator" has joined my name with Mr. Moore's, I may say that it was the people themselves, and Mr. Moore, who had thought he was the best man for mayor they would have elected him. If "Spectator" is writing in Mr. Moore's interest, and with Mr. Moore's knowledge or approval, he is taking a poor way to make his path smooth for the mayoralty. I have had no ambitions in the direction of the mayoralty, but if "Spectator" wishes to provoke a fight he is taking the best way to rouse the fight in me—by scurrilous abuse of a private citizen who has retired into private life. If he wishes a trial of strength between Mr. Moore and myself—if he goads me enough he might force me into the field—I would not shirk the issue from any fear of the result. I have beaten Mr. Moore in a square fight, and I am still young enough to believe that I might do it again. Anyway, I shall not allow a scurrilous scribbler to abuse me in print without resenting it. I believe the people of Peterborough have enough sense of fair play and common decency to refuse to sympathize with cut-throat methods such as I have referred to.

Yours truly,
WM. YELLAND.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germ.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. No Sleep For The Kidneys.

Old people are especially liable to Kidney and Bladder Irritation. The organs are weakened by age. This starts up inflammation—blood is not properly purified as it goes to the kidneys—and the bladder is unable to retain the urine properly. There is a constant desire to urinate day and night—and sound, restful sleep is unknown.

Bu-Ju
gives the vigor and strength of youth to kidneys and bladder. It soothes and heals the irritated surfaces—tones up the organs—enables them to do their work easily and naturally—and cures all kidney troubles.
